EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette."

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

MAXWELL AND LANDGRAF.

The Two Murderers Hanged at St. Louis—Scenes at the Scaffold.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11.—At a few minutes before 11 o'clock Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, the murderer of Charles Arthur Preller, fell asleep in his cell at the jail and rested quietly until 2 o'clock. He then awoke and sat up, looking haggard and fully realizing the fate that awaited him. A ray of hope was brought to him by his attorney, John P. Martin, who received a telegram from his partner at Jefferson City saying that the British Minister at Washington had sent a telegram to the Governor asking a respite. At an early hour in the morning Brooks gave to the press this address:

TO THE PEOPLE OF ENGLAND:

My English countrymen will doubtless remember the great boasts that have now and at all times been made by the American people in regard to the fair and just way in which they treat all people. I am satisfied that you are not acquainted with the unlawful, unjust and unfair way in which I have been treated, since you are accustomed in England to see justice administered impartially in the courts. An examination of the courts in my case will show that the prosecution resorted to every unfair means in their power—even to crime itself, for they procured a check to be forged, had the man arrested who presented it, and placed him in jail, and afterward the prosecution placed him on the witness stand to testify. His evidence was a tissue of lies from one end to the other. In fact, upon the witness stand, he said he would lie as far as he considered necessary, and the prosecution said in open court that they had paid $50 for said services. This is one specimen of the boasted American justice. This is only one of the means used by the prosecution and, had I time, I could give you numbers of them. The trial has been denounced as a travesty on and a miscarriage of justice by the leading lawyers here. Proof that one of the jurors said he was going on the jury to convict was presented to the Governor. The British Government interfered and requested an inquiry, but it was refused by Gov. Moorehouse on the ground that he had no right to grant it, and upon the fact as to the prejudiced juror, which we laid before the Governor, he said that the fact did not amount to anything. So I am made to suffer the penalty of the law without having a fair trial as is guaranteed to everyone by the state constitution. The prosecution states in the papers that the Governor ought to disregard the request of Great Britain on the ground that I was an Englishman, and that Great Britain had taken no notice of the United States interfering in the O'Donnell case tried at the Central Criminal Court. HUGH M. BROOKS.

A 8.47 Sheriff Harrington preceeded by a detail of police, entered the inner yard of the jail, and the Sheriff entered Brooks' cell, where he and Landgraf had been placed together, and announced that the final moment had arrived. Brooks paled and pulled his finger nervously. His was the first death warrant read and he stood up and heard his doom calmly. While his arms were being pinioned Brooks bit his lower lip and gulped several times. Landgraf received the warrant and pinioning as stolidly as a man well could. The procession to the scaffold was then formed, Father Tihan walking between Brooks and Landgraf, preceded by Sheriff Harrington and his deputies, and followed by the police, reporters and witnesses. As Brooks passed through the inner yard he walked firmly but slowly. There was a wonderful change from the apparently unconcerned man puffing a cigarette and the one en route to his death. His face looked pinched and drawn, of ashen hue, and his eyes were swollen. He glanced about him piteously, his lips twitched and his appearance was calculated to awaken the pity of even those who were finally convinced that he ought to die. Landgraf looked and moved like a log, with a half smile and half sneer on his face. There was no time lost in reaching the scaffold, which the condemned ascended without assistance. Father Tihan read the prayers. Brooks was then asked if he had anything to say, and in an almost inaudible tone responded "No." Landgraf merely shook his head. The black caps were being drawn when Landgraf slipped backward, but promptly recovered. There was an awful look of despair on Brooks' face as the cap hid it from view and his knees showed weakening. The nooses were adjusted quickly and at 8.56 the drop fell. Landgraf never moved nor did a muscle twitch. Not so with Brooks; when he fell his breast heaved convulsively and his limbs were drawn upward while the spectators were shocked by a stream of blood pouring down the right side of his coat, which was afterwards found to have been caused by a cut on the nose inflicted by the rope in some way. Landgraf was pronounced dead in 14½ minutes. Brooks' struggles continued for 14 minutes, when he, too, was pronounced dead by the attending physicians. Landgraf was cut down at 9.12, Brooks at 9.15. The bodies were removed to the morgue and photographed, after which the post mortem was commenced. It was stated by the physicians that the neck of each man was broken.

Henry Landgraf was hanged for killing his sweetheart, Annie Tisch, in a fit of jealousy.

The history of Brooks' crime is well known.

THE WORLD OF LONDON.

LORD SALISBURY'S MANSION HOUSE SPEECH.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Lord Salisbury, usually the most cautious and even pessimistic in his views of foreign affairs, has suddenly become confident of peace. The object, he declared yesterday in the Mansion House, of all the rulers of the world is to secure uninterrupted peace. Even Bulgaria promises peace, at least so far as external appearances go. Lord Salisbury's words on this ever-burning Bulgarian question are remarkable, and many even hint at a new understanding between the great powers. The principal statesmen of Europe are beginning to think that the best thing to do with Bulgaria is to leave it alone. He answers for England, an assurance which will delight the soul of Lord Randolph Churchill, who indeed may claim Lord Salisbury as a convert; he answers, though less positively, for Germany and Austria. He hopes that this let-alone policy will suit Russia, as he has the right to after M. de Giers' declaration that Russia has washed her hands of Bulgaria, though of this Salisbury makes no mention. By way of encouraging her to persevere in this path of doing nothing, he pays a handsome compliment to Russian valor and Russian policy. Hopes, too, spring in his mind from the recent interview between the Emperor of Russia and the German Emperor, whom Lord Salisbury persists in calling the Emperor of Germany, which he is not. His speech will be hailed all over Europe as an assurance against any fresh disturbances of the eternal eastern question at present.

One black spot Lord Salisbury left untouched—France. None of the recent French news is good. The strikes which at first were thought local are extending, and with them the spirit of disorder. Yesterday's performances in Paris are more or less disquieting because the riots at Gen. Eude's funeral were carried on in remote quarters, and ended in no loss of life.

Paris is seething with reckless discontent. It is the attitude of the ministry which is reassuring. Floquet has been counted on by the communists not as a partisan of disorder, but as likely to tolerate demonstrations sure to end in disorder. They have found out their mistake. The police were handled yesterday with as much firmness as if Ferry, not Floquet, had been prime minister. Troops would have been used if wanted. The mob has another much-needed lesson to think over.

France, moreover, is trying to make trouble at Massowah, where she has no interests to protect and no apparent object but to thwart Italy. Her jealousy of Italian influence in the east is ever acute. But a note of warning comes from Berlin.

The Parnell Commission Bill passed the third reading yesterday, but not without some slight amendment in the interest of Mr. Parnell and his friends.

Labouchere bestowed his final blessing upon the measure, which he calls "The Times' protecting bill."

Sexton, in a few effective sentences, announced that the Irish members would neither support nor oppose the third reading. They walked out and the minority of 66 against the bill was composed entirely of Gladstonians.

Other Irish matters fill even a larger space for the moment. What Lord Salisbury said on Ireland at the Mansion House was brief, but included the interesting statement that within twelve months boycotting cases have diminished from 4800 to 1300.

The Ridley inquest brought O'Brien once more to the front as a martyr. He told Ridley that he was firmly convinced he had been taken to Tullamore to be buried alive there and be murdered. There was some cross-examination about O'Brien's famous suit of clothes, but how they were smuggled into prison is a mystery. O'Brien's evidence as a whole was to the effect that Dr. Ridley, treated him as kindly as he dared, but that Dr. Ridley, the governor of the jail and other prison officials were all in terror of the prison board at Dublin.

Chamberlain, according to one of his Birmingham friends, sent yesterday to The Times for publication the promised correspondence with Parnell. Nothing, however, appears this morning.

The naval operations are beginning to arouse the British public. Now that the blockade has been broken, both at Beerhaven and Loughswilly, the British posts are being carried, British seaports captured, and British commerce in danger. The fact that the capturing fleet is British this time only modifies the alarm. The point is that fleets of superior force have failed to seal up the fleets they were blockading. The argument is that they would equally fail in preventing the escape of French fleets in time of war. Greenock, Aberdeen, Hartlepool and a dozen other towns have fallen; London itself is supposed to be in peril. Meantime part of the pursuing fleet has arrived at Plymouth, and part is disabled. The manœuvre by which Admiral Tryon broke the blockake is thought by naval experts extremely clever. G. W. SMALLEY.

The Fisheries Debate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—In the Senate today Mr. Frye gave notice that on Monday he would move to go into open executive session immediately after the morning business and so from day to day next week until a conclusion was reached in the Fisheries Treaty. Mr. Call, who was to speak on the treaty, said he was not prepared to do so today and suggested that the matter go over to Monday, which was agreed to.

THE FORESTERS CONVENTION.

A Busy Day in the High Court and Important Business Transacted.

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—At the session of the Foresters' High Court yesterday, these officers were elected: High Court Ranger—A. A. Milne, Kingston; High Vice-Chief Ranger—A. H. Backhouse, Aylmer; High Secretary—J. B. Halkett, Ottawa; High Treasurer—T. G. Davy, London; High Physician—John McConnell, M.D., Toronto; High Counsellor—W. R. Hickey, Bothwell; High Auditors—James Watt and David Miller, Toronto; High Chaplain—Rev. W. Walsh, Ottawa; H.J.S.—Thomas Lawless, Hamilton; H.S.W.—T. Moore, Kingston; H.J.W.—H. Pratt, London; H.S.D.—A. G. Pittaway, Ottawa; H.J.—Dr. Oronhyatekha, London; H. Marshall—Geo. Spence, Cobourg; H. Conductor—W. Heeney, Hamilton.

The Committee on the State of the Order presented their report. It informed the convention that during the year the association had prospered greatly. The increase during the twelve months ending June 30, 1887, was 4841. This was thought to be very large, but the increase for the twelve months ending June 30, 1888, was 6699. The death rate for the year was only 5½ per thousand of the membership. The order was congratulated upon its healthy financial condition. At the present there was $100,000 in the treasury.

A motion to ask the Supreme Court to change their next place of meeting from Thousand Island Park to Kingston was carried.

The convention adjourned about midnight.

Grand Lodge I.O.O.F.

BARRIE, Aug. 10.—The annual session of the Grand Lodge I.O.O.F. concluded its labors to-day. In addition to the officers elected yesterday the following were appointed: Grand Marshal, Thos. Colby, Toronto; Grand Conductor, J. A. Young, Thamesford; Grand Chaplain, Rev. T. W. Jolliffe, Bradford; Grand Guardian, John Turner, Chatham; Grand Herald, A. W. Cameron, Ottawa.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

Lord Salisbury's Speech in the House of Lords on its Second Reading.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—In the House of Lords to-day, Lord Salisbury moved the second reading of the Parnell Commission Bill. In recent years, he said, the agitation in Ireland had gone on two parallel lines; one party professed to act constitutionally, the other party was connected with crime, intimidation, mutilation and murder. These organizations had been professedly a part, but they worked for the same ends. They had the same friends and enemies, and injured the same persons. An impression had arisen that they were really not so far apart as they seemed to be, and that there was complicity or a connection between them. The Times had published that opinion and supported it by an array of apparent facts. This excited a scandal as a breach of privilege of the House of Commons, which body refused to treat it as such, or to enter into a conflict with the press. Still it was desirable that means be provided to dissipate the scandal. Ordinarily, people accused of complicity tried to clear themselves legally, but the gentlemen incriminated refused to take that course, although the Government offered them every assistance in its power. The matter was allowed to rest until the O'Donnell trial, which changed the scandal from resting merely on newspaper statement to a statement made by responsible counsel in a court of justice. Still the gentlemen incriminated did not seek redress, alleging that they distrusted British juries. If they thought they could not obtain justice in England they could have sued in Ireland, but instead of adopting that course they reiterated their demand for a committee of the House of Commons. The Government considered the House incapable of furnishing an impartial tribunal where so much personal and political feeling was involved and thought it better to again resort to an inquiry by a commission, a course which had proved successful in cases of the Board of Works, the Sheffield outrages and the charges of corruption.

Baron Herschell (Lib.) indignantly repudiated Lord Salisbury's insinuation upon his (Herschell's) late colleagues for having taken in the House of Commons a course which, holding the views they did, they were bound to take. The Commission Bill was unfortunate in its origin, scope and object, and in the incidents connected with its passage through the House of Commons.

Vienna Pessimists.

VIENNA, Aug. 10.—The newspapers of this city do not share Lord Salisbury's hope of the maintenance of peace. They consider his reference to Russia and Bulgaria as subtle irony.

Another M.P. Convicted.

DUBLIN, Aug. 10.—James O'Kelly, journalist and member of Parliament, was to-day convicted at Boyle, of making speeches inciting to intimidation and boycotting and sentenced to four months' imprisonment without hard labor.

THE JARVIS-CAMPBELL SCANDAL.

The Principals Once More on Canadian Soil Living in a Hotel at Windsor.

DETROIT, Aug. 11.—About three weeks ago high society in Canada was shocked by the escapade of two members of the upper ten—the elopement of George Jarvis, son of the late Sheriff Jarvis, of Toronto, with Madeline Campbell, the wife of a well-known Torontonian. The woman left a husband and the man a wife and children, and came across the border landing at Cleveland. They soon found they had made a mistake, for they were arrested and jailed and stood a fine chance of being convicted of a serious offence and suffering the penalty therefore. However they secured their liberty on bail, and took the first opportunity to leave for parts unknown.

After his very unsatisfactory experience with Cleveland, Justice Jarvis concluded to get back to the Dominion. Accordingly some ten days ago he landed in Windsor, and has been living there quietly with Mrs. Campbell ever since. Up to yesterday afternoon they had been staying at the Crawford House, but after dinner yesterday they moved over to the Manning House. On the register is inscribed "G. Wilkie and wife, Boston." Inquiry at the Crawford House elicited the information that the pair had left there of their own free will and had settled in full, that no fault was found with them or their behavior. At the Manning House nothing was known of the pair. A reporter called at the Manning House last night, and sent a request for an interview with Jarvis. It was early in the evening, but Jarvis sent word that he had retired and could not see anybody until the morning.

Jarvis has been recognized by several residents of Windsor, and is fully aware that his indentity is discovered. To an acquaintance whom he recently met face to face, he said he had no excuses to make and didn't intend to go home. His wife's people had not treated him well, he said, and he wanted no more to do with them. He intended to remain in Windsor until he got his property straightened out and then he proposed going to Europe. His father is dead, but the estate is not yet settled up. When it is, Jarvis will come into for about $100,000, on which he expects to live right royally. Jarvis is receiving financial help from friends in Toronto.

The Big Raft.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 10.—The monster raft from Joggins, N.S., passed this harbor at 9.30 o'clock this morning. It was going three miles an hour.

The Davey Family Again.

OSWEGO, Aug. 10.—Young Will Davey, who is at present awaiting his trial for burglary and grand larceny in the jail here, and who a few nights ago left that institution without making his adieu to the officers who assisted in returning him to incarceration, belongs to a family formerly domiciled at Campbellford. His sisters will be remembered as the two girls arrested in St. Paul, while attired in male habiliments. Lillie recently turned up in Hamilton, and was sent to the penitentiary for a term for vagrancy.

Yellow Jack at Jacksonville.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Five new cases of yellow fever were reported at Jacksonville, Fla., to-day.

Killed His Wife with a Baseball Bat.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 10.—WM. Anderson killed his wife with a baseball bat yesterday on account of alleged infidelity.

Business Disasters.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number for the United States 205 and for Canada 28, or a total of 233 as compared with 216 last week and 221 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the failures numbered 180, being 151 in the United States and 29 in Canada.

AN AUSPICIOUS OPENING

THE JULY STATEMENT OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

An Increase in the Former of over $600,000 and a Decrease in the latter of nearly $250,000.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—The statement of revenue and expenditure for the fiscal year ended June 30, made up to July 31, shows the total receipts on account of the consolidated fund to have been $36,143,991 and expenditure $35,539,191, leaving an apparent surplus of $604,800; but the accounts for the year are not yet closed and these figures will no doubt be considerably changed when the final balance is struck.

The new fiscal year opens most auspiciously, the revenue and expenditure for July being as follows:

Customs	$1,713,812
Excise	531,184
Postoffice	180,000
Public Works (including railways)	318,000
Miscellaneous	58,755
Total revenue	$2,807,337
Expenditure	2,539,727
Surplus	$267,610

This is an unusual showing for July, as, on account of the semi-annual payment of subsidies to the provinces being made in advance of the first of this month and over $1,000,000 interest falling due, the month generally shows an excess of expenditure over receipts of from $500,000 to $750,000. Last year the shortage on the first month was $569,504.

The increase in revenue over the same month last year are:

Customs	$176,105
Excise	145,011
Public Works	260,204
Miscellaneous	29,276
Total	$610,596
Postoffice (decrease)	10,340
Net revenue (increase)	$600,256
Expenditure (decrease)	236,857
Total	$837,113

A net increase in revenue of over $600,000 and a decrease in expenditure of nearly $250,000 is a sufficiently satisfactory showing for the first month of the fiscal year.

To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain notice of W. D. Perley's being called to the Senate.

E. A. Beeker, President of the Cracker Fertilizer and Chemical Company of Buffalo, N.Y., is here examining Canadian phosphates with a view to utilizing this fertilizer on the works at Buffalo.

It is stated that Gen. Middleton has decided to appoint a board of inquiry to examine into the guards difficulty.

Fire at Stratford.

STRATFORD, Aug. 11.—About midnight on Thursday night a double frame house on Albert-street, occupied by Ald. T. J. Douglas and J. E. Starks, was destroyed by fire. The loss is covered by insurance—$15,000 on the building in the Imperial and $1,100 on the contents in the Perth Mutual.

Murder at Caughnawags.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—An Indian at Caughnawags named Michel Jacob quarrelled with his wife. He plunged a knife into her throat and struck her on the head with an axe, cutting her skull open and killing her instantly. He fled to the woods. The murderer is 25 years of age.

To Be Gazetted To-Day.

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—The Ontario Gazette of to-day will contain the appointments: Junior Judge Merrill of Prince Edward, local master; E. H. Long, police magistrate of Waterford, without salary; M. C. Brown, police magistrate for Simcoe (Norfolk), without salary; E. A. Wismer, Essex Centre, notary public.

An Orillian Poisoned at Vancouver.

ORILLIA, Aug. 11.—A month ago Ronald Birchard a young man 22 years of age, who was employed in Cook & Son's drug store here for two years, left for Vancouver, B.C., where he had secured a position in McDowell's drug store. Yesterday his friends in town were shocked when the following telegram was received: "Birchard poisoned himself last night. What will I do with body?" The poisoning is supposed to be accidental. He was very popular here. His parents reside in Beaverton.

Mr. Bowell Will be Married Next Week.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 21.—Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, will be married next week to Mrs. Stevenson, widow of Edward Stevenson. The ceremony will be performed privately, after which the couple will leave for British Columbia. The bride is about 40 years of age.

Big Fall Wheat Crop in the West.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The Advertiser says: As far as Western Ontario is concerned, the general harvest is well advanced, and a great deal of the fall wheat crop has already been thrashed. In view of the gloomy forebodings of the spring the yield appears to be unusually abundant, and the quality of the grain excellent. A turnout of 30 to 35 bushels to the acre of good, remarkable grain, and has been reported, means well-filled graneries and well-lined pockets for the farmers should the prices stiffen up. Generally speaking the prospects indicate a lively trade for London and vicinity this fall.

The Montreal East Election.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—HON. Mr. Laurier arrived in the city yesterday at noon, was met by Mr. David and proceeded to St. Lawrence Hall, where he was closeted part of the afternoon with his friends for the purpose of choosing a candidate for Montreal East. Mr. Laurier left for Toronto last evening. He believes that the writ for Montreal East will not be issued until December unless the Conservatives have their candidate chosen.

McDermaid Again Missing.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—The officers of the Law and Order League were non-plussed today when they were informed that Archibald McDermaid, one of their detectives, was again out of town. Gales, another detective of the League, states that McDermaid endeavored to induce him to leave the city until the cases now pending have fallen through for lack of evidence. McDermaid said he could make it worth $200 to Gales to take a trip to the country.

A Long Island Murder.

FLUSHING, L.I., Aug. 10.—Maggie Jones, a colored girl 18 years old, was murdered at Creedmore last night. The crime is supposed to have been committed by Emma Fletcher, a white woman 50 years of age, who applied for lodging last night saying she had walked from Winfield. The murdered girl offered her a bed which she accepted. Miss Jones' head was split open with an axe. The Fletcher woman has been arrested.

The Belle Wilson Sunk.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 10.—The Belle Wilson of Picton sank last night abreast of Thunder Bay, seven miles from shore. The crew were picked up by the M.M. Drake.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—For the week ending Aug. 4 the traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk Railway were:

Passenger train earnings	$142,900	$147,425
Freight train earnings	217,511	225,579
Decrease 1888		$12,593

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 11, 1888.

EMIN PASHA.

Of a man who is receiving a great deal of attention in the civilized world, and fears for whose safety led to the last journey of Stanley into Africa, the Montreal Gazette gives the following information:—If anything would give support to the theory that the White Pasha, whose sudden apparition caused such excitement some time ago, both on the scene of it and throughout civilization, was General Gordon redivivus, it would be the obstinacy with which Emin Bey resisted all proposals to return to Europe till he had accomplished his work. Of course few believe that there is any basis of fact in the hypothesis. It is barely not impossible that the hero of Khartoum escaped from his enemies, whose pride would, in that case, impose silence both as to the fact and as to his whereabouts, if known. There is, really, however, no necessity for the supposition of Gordon's survival to account for Emin Bey's firmness, which is characteristic of him as the same quality was of Gordon under whom he served his African apprenticeship. Gordon was made Governor of the Equator in 1876, when Dr. Schnitzer came under his notice. A native of Prussian Silesia, after completing his education at Neisse, whither his father, a merchant, had removed from Oppeln, where Edward was born in 1840, and at the universities of Breslau and Berlin, he had no sooner taken his medical degree than he showed a strong desire to travel in unfrequented regions. A leading motive was his love of natural history, and what has proved a deterrent to many—the difficulty of oriental tongues—was to him a mere trifling barrier which he found no difficulty in surmounting. So in 1864 he went to Turkey, and in company with Hakki Pasha he journeyed through Armenia, Syria and Arabia. After nine years' absence he returned home, then started again for Turkey, where he resided for two years before setting out for Egypt. When in 1878 Gordon was made Governor of the entire Soudan, he gave Emin Bey charge of the Equatorial province at the time sadly disorganized. He at once set to work to restore order, justice and contentment, and though the task seemed so hopeless that most men would have been discouraged by it, he labored with such zeal, tact and success that in the course of a year it seemed an entirely different country. He got rid of the disreputable officials who had preyed upon the people, brought something like equity into the system of taxation, made war against the slave traffickers. His skill as a physician stood him in good stead, as, like most semi-civilized nations, the Soudanese greatly admired the healer of disease. His courage, diplomacy, wise administration, knowledge of men and practical measures for improving the condition of his people, won him the confidence of the population. He made the province self-supporting and had a good surplus in his treasury. From 1878 to 1884 only six steamers had brought supplies, and after the blockade of Khartoum in 1884 he had to depend entirely on himself. It was not till March, 1886, that he learned what had happened during his time of forced seclusion, and recognized the sad fulfilment of his own forebodings uttered in a communication to the Times long before. He declined to leave his province, however, preferring to await a posperous future in which he had full faith. He has always been full of a naturalist's enthusiasm as to the resources of the country and the possibilities of trade with Europe. His journals are full of interest both as to the equator, the people and his own experiences. The name which he chose means "faithful" and "Emin Pasha" does honor to the title.

HARVEY.

Correspondence of the Review

TOWNSHIP COUNCIL.—The Harvey Council met at Thomas Flynn's on Aug. 6th pursuant to adjournment. The members were all present. The minutes were read and confirmed. A by-law was passed, signed and sealed to provide for levying the rates and taxes for 1888:—County purposes $761.69; township purposes $852; School Section No. 1, $200; S.S. No. 2, $310; S.S. No. 3, $259.28; S.S. No. 4, $233.50; No. 6, $150, and No. 8, $940. Wm Irwin was appointed collector of rates and taxes for 1888. A grant of $25 to S.S. No. 6 was made, provided the Government grant an equivalent for school purposes. The following orders were drawn on the treasurer in favor of the parties named as follows:—

Wm. Spafford, work on roads and to pay others	$30 00
Daniel Adams, for work on road	20 00
Daniel Ward, for work on depot road	10 00
Harold Page & Co., for desk for clerk's office	15 00
Charles McIlmoyle, for drawing up desk	1 25
Samuel Guthrie, for work on road	1 50
James Tate, for work on road	7 71

On motion passed, the Council adjourned to meet at the Town Hall on the first Monday in October next.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

WHAT'S the racket? Those 5 lb. caddies of Tea at the Pantry, are the best thing in town. Try one. 82tf.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Caught in a Trap.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—An accident happened on the C.P.R. in the Woodstock yard, which resulted in a serious injury to George Prodgers, a young man employed as a brakeman. The train on which he ran is the local freight which does most of the shunting in the London and Woodstock yards, and between 9 and 10 o'clock the crew heard a cry while shunting. When the train was stopped the young man was seen to crawl out from between the cars. He explained the accident by stating that his foot was caught in the frog. A doctor was immediately summoned. Prodgers was placed on a bed in the caboose and brought to London Hospital. His right ancle is broken and the leg crushed at the knee. His arm is also crushed.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Apes of Gibraltar.

Gibraltar is the sole European locality in which the Brabary ape is found in a wild state. These animals, reduced a few years ago to less than a dozen individuals, have of late greatly increased in numbers, and, being strictly protected, are very bold and fearless. The fig trees in the gardens suffer so much from their depredations when the fruit is ripening that it is found necessary to employ men to scare them away. The Barbary partridge, though plentiful on the rock as well as on the opposite African coast, is, like the monkey, found nowhere else on the European continent.—Home Journal.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN,

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15.000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10,00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00

2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

Weather Probabilities.

Light to moderate winds. Fair and cloudy, with light local rains Not much change in temperature.

The Cricketers' Victory.

They have achieved no mean thing, the Peterboroughs. They have played a match as gentlemen and cricketers. They have have defeated a capital club in good shape and making good play. The batting was was superb and the fielding well sustained, while the bowling was effective and destructive. The field was admired, and especially those who wore cricketing suits made from golden lion flannels, so soft and cosey looking.

A Feeding Bellows.

Messrs. Jackson & Co. have made for St. Paul's Church organ a large feeding bellows, eleven feet long, with two square French feeders. The bellows will be placed in the basement of the church and will be run by the engine. They will supply wind to the bellows now used, and by this means a steady supply will be obtained and all shaking caused by the pumping of the organ will disappear. Mr. Jackson informs us that these are the first bellows of the kind put in in Canada and that with them one stroke of the engine will be as good as three. They will be put in position at the end of the week and until then will be on exhibition at the factory.

Close of the Grand Lodge.

Dr. Bell, Deputy Grand Master and Grand Master elect for 1889-90, and the remainder of the delegates from town, accompanied by the Norwood and other delegates, returned by the Grand Trunk noon train to-day. They report the session as being one of the most interesting they have ever attended, owing to the very large amount of legislative work done and the extraordinary changes in the constitution, two of which were the doing away with widows' annuities and the new mode of electing officers. The nominations now take place on the last day of the Grand Lodge session, and the officers are elected by the Past Grands, who vote in their own lodges at the last meeting in June. If there should be no choice made, the representatives elect the officers at the Grand Lodge meeting.

Gone North.

Several of the members of the Seabright cricket team went north to-day to enjoy a week of camping. The remainder of the team left for New York in their special car.

SUCCESSFUL.

It is often asked, "How is it that H. S. Griffin & Co. have been so successful in building up a first class trade in such a short time?" Strict attention to business, buying in the best markets and keeping a superior class of goods is the secret. Mr. Griffin's brother is at present visiting the English and French markets and shipping to H. S. Griffin & Co. the choicest goods that can be procured for the trade.

Personal.

Mr. G. W. Morgan Jr. and Mrs. Morgan, of St. Thomas, formerly residents of Peterborough are in town visiting friends. Mr. Morgan is now on the road representing a Detroit drug house, one of the largest on the continent.

Mr. David Wallace, of Toronto, formerly book-keeper of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co., was in town to-day. He has been spending a few days at Stoney Lake.

Notice of Visit.

Mr. P. H. Morris, from the establishment of B. HONORS TO A MASON.

W. Bro. J. Alexander presented with a Past Master's Jewel and Complimentary Address.

On Friday evening a very pleasant gathering met at the Masonic Hall comprising brethren of Peterborough Lodge No. 155 and Companions of Corinthian Royal Arch chapter 36, to recognize the departure from town of W. Bro. Jas. Alexander, who for some years past has been an active and esteemed member of both bodies. Much regret was expressed that the pleasant associations of years should be severed while it was hoped that the move would prove advantageous for Bro. Alexander. The meeting was called to order at 9 o'clock with W. Bro. H. Rush W. M. of Peterborough Lodge in the chair, who read the following address and formally presented W. Bro. Alexander with a handsome and valuable Past Master's jewel, one of the most beautiful of the many decorations in the order.

To W. Bro. James Alexander, P.M., Peterborough Lodge No. 155, A.F. & A.M., Second Principal, Corinthian R. A. Chapter, No. 36:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—On the eve of your departure from Peterborough, your numerous Masonic friends and admirers take this occasion to have a few parting words with you in order to give expression to our warm personal respect for you as well as to give voice to our general regret at having to take leave of you after so many years of pleasant intercourse.

Your career amongst us during the past twelve years, both as a brother Mason and as a citizen of our town, has attracted to you many warm friends and well wishers, all of whom have had ample opportunity of attesting your qualities of character. We have admired your affability and frankness of manner, your fair-minded disposition, generous deportment, and intelligent zeal for the welfare of your brethren and companions and it is these that have contributed so largely to knit us so closely together and renders separation now so difficult to contemplate.

We congratulate you on your removal to a new field of more active work where your faithful discharge of your duties will open the way to improve your position in life, and trust that happiness and success may always attend you. Please convey to Mrs. Alexander our kindest regards, coupled with our earnest prayer that the rays of heaven may continue to shed their benign influence around you and your family.

As a souvenir from your Peterborough brethren and companions, and as a small token of their personal regard for you, we ask you to accept this Past Master's jewel, trusting you may be long spared to wear it. (Signed) H. RUSH, W. M.,
(on behalf of Peterborough Lodge, No. 155)
R. A. MORROW, First Prin. Z.,
(on behalf of Corinthian R.A.Chapter No.36).

W. Bro. Alexander made a brief and feeling reply and thanked his brethren and companions for the honor done him and for the proof of confidence and good feeling which their address and jewel implied. He spoke of his connection with the order in town during the last twelve years and mentioned how it had proved a source of personal support and encouragement. To brethren of the lodges in town he was indebted for many kindnesses, and their gracious act on the eve of his departure would ever remain with him a green and pleasant memory, while the beautiful jewel would be a constant reminder to him of his duty as a Mason to all brethren at large and particularly that of Peterborough lodges.

After complimentary remarks by several brethren the meeting adjourned with hearty wishes for future property of W. Bro. Alexander.

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET.

Peterborough Defeats the New York Seabrights by Ten Wickets.

The long expected and much talked of cricket match between the celebrated Seabright Club of New York City and the Peterboroughs, took place on the P. A. A. A. grounds on Friday afternoon, and as the result showed our cousins from across the border have considerable yet to learn before they will be able to defeat teams of the calibre of Peterborough.

The day was all that could be desired and the attendance was the largest seen this season on the home grounds. Many ladies were present and all evinced great interest as the match progressed.

It was an enthusiastic audience, but at the same time it was an impartial one, good play on either side being quickly observed and applauded.

Between innings luncheon was served by the ladies in the pavilion and as may be imagined the twenty-two hungry cricketers did ample justice to the tempting and satisfying spread.

Captain Sam. Ray for the local team won the toss and, of course, elected to bat. Stratton and Montgomery were sent in to face the bowling of Absolom and Watson. The old stand by, Jimmy, was soon clean bowled and Logan went in. Run getting was lively for a time until Stratton was prettily caught for a well played for 10. Ray followed and joined Logan and between them the score rapidly ran up. Logan was retired for 22 and Ray for 40. Macdonaid's 29 and Rogers' 18 were the others who obtained double figures, the innings netting 142, a large score.

The Americans followed, and succeeded in amassing 81, of which Barton, by magnificent cricket, contributed a half century. Butler (prof) 11, was the only other player who made any stand.

Being over 60 behind it became necessary for the visitors to follow their innings. On the first essay some of the best bats had hard luck, making no scores worth mentioning, but this time they made up for it and gave the home men lots of leather hunting, the innings closing for 122. Absolom 42, Butler (prof) 25, Smith 13 and Shippen 12. All played well and deserved every run they got.

Peterborough again went to the bat with 61 runs to make to tie and 62 to win. Stratton and Montgomery proved themselves able for the task, the former scoring 44 and the latter 17, which with two extras gave the game to Peterborough, who thus won with ten wickets to spare.

Of the playing it is not necessary to say much, as the score tells the tale fully. Suffice it to say that the visitors were outplayed at every point. A most remarkable improvement was noticeable in the Peterborough fielding and nearly all the chances given were promptly accepted.

AROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD.

The Seabright Cricketers Entertained at a Banquet by the Peterboroughs.

The Seabright cricketers, who played with the Peterboroughs on Friday, were entertained that evening at a banquet held in the Parlor roller rink. The visitors and a number of members of the local club sat down to an excellent spread. The room and tables were decorated, and the British and United States flags were conspicuous among the decorations.

After doing justice to the dinner, the toast list was taken up. Dr. Burnham occupied the chair, and Mr. H. T. Strickland the vice chair.

The first toast announced by the chairman was "The Queen," and it was duly honored.

MR. J. H. BURNHAM gave "the President of the United States." He said that when they thought of the vast extent, the immense population and the vast resources of that country, they were thunderstruck with the prospects for a great future it possessed.

The toast was heartily honored, and could not have been received with more enthusiasm if the whole party had been Democrats.

The VICE-CHAIRMAN said they all joined in welcoming to Peterborough those who had given them the pleasure of a match that afternoon and the privilege of their presence this evening. The fortune of war had been against them, but everyone admired the splendid exhibition of cricket they had given. He proposed that they drink to "Cricket."

The toast was honored and cheers were given for the Seabrights.

MR. ANSOLOM, after a few humorous observations, thanked the Peterboroughs, on behalf of the Seabrights, for their hospitality. They had received hospitable entertainment in every place they had been, but in no place had they been received with such open hospitality as here, as this was the only place in which they had been entertained as cricketers by cricketers as a body. He eulogized cricket as an exercise and as a means for social enjoyment. It was one of the best games a father could teach his son.

MR. CLARK said they felt deeply indebted to the Peterboroughs for their good cricket and for the way they entertained them. He hoped they would have an opportunity to return the kindness shown them.

MR. LAMONTAGNE also responded briefly and pleasantly, and closed by proposing "The Captain and Team of Peterborough."

MR. S. RAY, captain of the Peterboroughs, responded in a neat speech.

MR. G. S. Shaw sang "I Like It," a song that was loudly applauded.

The toast of "The Army, Navy and Militia," and the "Medical and Legal Professions," were honored.

MR. BEASLY made a pleasant speech, during the course of which he alluded to the colony of United States bankers in Canada, and the fisheries. He heartily thanked the Peterboroughs for the way they had been entertained.

DR. KINCAID complimented the Seabrights on their playing and for being gentlemenly representatives of the Republic. He referred to his experience with the American people when he was a surgeon in the army and medical examiner for a State. He was a British subject, but if he could not be that he would be a United States citizen. Such visits as the Seabrights had paid them would do much to spread good feeling among the two peoples. No one at this day dare express sentiments calculated to disturb the friendliness existing between the two countries. There was room enough on the continent for all. He was pleased that the home club had received the honor of a visit from the Seabrights, and he hoped the friendly interchange of visits would continue.

THE VICE-CHAIRMAN proposed the toast of "The Ladies," and it was received with honors.

MR. W. A. STRATTON eulogized the ladies as the fountain of all that is noble, pure, good and true, and returned thanks in their behalf.

MR. PARKER also responded for the ladies in a few felicitous remarks.

MR. SMITH sang a song "Far, Far Away."

MR. BARTON said they (Seabrights) had a splendid trip. The farther they went through Canada the better they were treated, and he wished they were going all the way through. He concluded by singing "Cock Robin."

Messrs. Budden and Beasley also gave songs, the toast of "Au Revoir" was honored, and the proceedings concluded with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The Fire Brigade Band orchestra was present during the evening, and their music added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Brevities.

—No cases at the Police Court this morning.

—The Toronto bicyclists will arrive this evening.

—The True Blues and Orangemen go to Lindsay on Monday to join the celebration.

—The Forester's excursion from Toronto which comes on Monday, is expected to be a large one.

—Fitzgerald, formally pitcher for the Peterborough baseball club, now twirls the sphere for the barber's team, of Kingston.

—A team of balky horses drew a crowd on Water-st. near the market this morning. After many trials the obstinate animals were made to move.

—A row in a hotel and one on a street corner on Friday night attracted the attention of crowds and also three police officers. No arrests were made.

—It is said that the loss caused by the filling of the scow which carried the baggage from the A.C.A. camp to Orillia amounted to $1,000.

—The Belleville riflemen are debarred from practicing at the butts on account of the work on the double track on the G.T.R. Peterborough riflemen can sympathize with them.

—Officer McGinty shot a large black dog on the market on Friday evening. It took six bullets to finish him. He had bitten a child and the owner thought it best to destroy him.

—The market this morning was not extra large. New potatoes were sold in abundance bringing from 90 cents to $1.25 per bag. The prices of other commodities remain unchanged.

—The members of the Seabright, New York, cricket team unanimously agree that Peterborough is the most go ahead town they have yet visited on their tour and that our cricket club has the best all around players that they have encountered.

—Mr. Wm. Hickey, of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Co., left on Friday night per the C.P.R. for Point Levi, Quebec, where he will erect and put in working order one of the firms celebrated gang saw mills.

—The Cobourg Sentinel-Star says:—"Mr. Jas. Hague, near the old court house, made very good time recently from Peterborough here on his bicycle,—making the trip in four and half hours,—by way of Port Hope."

—The Orillia Packet says:—"The Peterborough Volunteer Band yesterday afternoon favored the people of Orillia with some very fine music on the market square." It also says that the Canton, "attracted much attention."

For removing daudruff, Ayer's Hair Vigor has no equal. It restores faded and gray hair to its original color, stimulates the growth of the hair, and gives a beautiful, glossy and silken appearance.

"Iget your idea," said Mr. Balltop to his wife "Your reasoning is quite correct. Your experience is a safe guide. Quite so, decidedly so. You say that if Mr. Wilson's goods are as good, as for instance this piece of China on the mantle, the other things which he sells are sure to be excellent. That is a very fair supposition and one, I may say, well grounded. We give up the idea of buying our supply of Fruit Jars in Toronto and hand an order to Wilson. Until your hair becomes dry, thin, or gray before giving the attention needed to preserve its beauty and vitality. Keep on your toilet-table a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor—the only dressing you require for the hair—and use a little daily, to preserve the natural color and prevent baldness.

Thomas Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky., writes: "Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best hair-restorer in the world."

"My hair was faded and dry," writes Mabel C. Hardy, of Delavan, Ill.; "but, after using a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, it became black and glossy."

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Swindling Italian in Court—A Novel Christian Institute,

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—At the Police Court yesterday morning Alonzo De Santi, a wierd-looking Italian charged with obtaining money from his gullible countrymen by sending them to work where there was no work, was remanded a week that further inquiries as to the extent of his fraudulent operations might be made.

Esplanade Constable Williams and a party of men have searched the north shore of the Island for the body reported to have been seen yesterday by Captain Armstrong, of the Ella Murton, but without success.

Another phase of the plumbers' strike was developed yesterday, when the plasterers and lathers employed on a building in course of erection on Yonge-street quit work because "scab" plumbers were started to work.

On July 12 a man named William Lee assaulted his wife in Nelson-street west so brutally that she was supposed to be dying, and Justice of the Peace Love took her deposition. She recovered and her husband was found guilty of aggravated assault and sent to jail for two months in default of paying a fine of $50. Yesterday, although his term had not expired, he was removed from the jail to his mother's residence on Claremont-street in a dying condition. He was seized with an apoplectic fit on Thursday night and is still unconscious. His wife is in the hospital.

On Sept. 1 will be opened in this city a novel Christian Institute, the gift to unsectarian Christians of Mr. Wm. Gooderham at a cost to him of $30,000. Nothing secular nor proceeds of bazaars, concerts or other entertainments will ever be associated with it.

A $10 Confederate note was successfully passed on a west end tax gatherer on Thursday.

Parkdalians are having a laugh at the expense of ex-Reve McMath, who accepted a bogus $2 from a young man who wanted a license to marry.

Monday will be Toronto's civic holiday.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, Aug. 10.—Judgment was reserved at the police court this morning until Saturday, in the cases of the farmers accused of obstructing the streets in the neighborhood of the market.

James Thompson, an old man, who said he came from Toronto, was arrested on a charge of vagrancy. A fine of $4 or 30 days in jail was imposed, but Thompson will probably be sent back to Toronto.

Charles McCarthy, the Toronto tough who assaulted Constables Watson and Tuck, was brought up before Judge Sinclair for election this morning. He elected to be tried by the judge. The trial will take place on Tuesday.

John Brown, the 18-year-old boy who was arrested a few days ago, and who acknowledged at the police court that he had stolen $10 from his employer, Mr. Jacob Rymal, of West Flamboro', was sentenced to six months in jail.

The Cotton Manufacturers.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—At the meeting of the grey and colored sections of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association held to-day it was decided that there should be no increase in prices. After discussing some further routine matters the meeting adjourned for ten days, at the expiration of which time it is expected that the Chambly mill will have entered the meeting.

Lynched.

FRANKLIN, Tenn., Aug. 10.—Amos Miller, colored, who outraged Mrs. Scott, was taken from the court room here to-day by fifty armed men and hanged to the balcony of the building.

Sheep Stealer Arrested.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Detectives arrested a man named Malcolm Gillis to-day on a charge of sheep stealing. His last work was done in the vicinity of Centralia where he got off with about a dozen sheep and sold them for $35.

Two Children Burnt to Death.

COLBORNE, Aug. 10.—A fire took place last night in Grafton, about seven miles from here, by which two small children, aged respectively 4 and 6 years were burned to death and a third severely burned. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Death of Registrar McLachlin.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 10.—Mr. A. M. McLachlin, Registrar of Elgin, died this evening at 7.30, after a long illness.

LIGHTS OUT.

The sentry challenged at the open gate
Who passed him by, because the hour was late;
"Halt! Who goes there?" "A friend." "All's well."
"A friend, old chap!"—a friend's farewell,
And I had passed the gate.
And then the long, last notes were shed,
The echoing call's last notes were dead;
And sounded sadly, as I stood without,
Those last sad notes of all: Lights Out!
Lights Out!

Farewell, companions! We have side by side
Watched history's lengthened shadows past us glide.
And worn the scarlet, laughed at, paid,
And buried comrades lowly laid,
And let the long years glide;
And toil and hardship have we known,
And followed where the flag had gone.
But all the echoes answering round about
Have bidden you to sleep; Lights Out!
Lights Out!

And never more for me shall red fire flash
From bright revolvers—Oh, the crumbling ash
Of life is hope's fruition. Fall
The withered friendships; and they all
Are sleeping! Fast away,
The fabrics of our lives decay,
The robes of night about me lay.
And the air whispered, as I stood without,
Those last sad notes of all! Lights Out!
Lights Out!
—The Week.

He Begged Pardon, Publicly.

One day, Beckmann, the comic actor, who died in 1860, was induced to take off a well known newspaper editor, Frankel by name, in one of the characters he was representing in Berlin. He performed his task so cleverly, that at the close the audience broke out into loud calls for Frankel. The journalist brought an action, and Beckmann was condemned to go to the house of the insulted party and there beg his pardon in the presence of witnesses. At the hour appointed Frankel sat in the circle of his family, together with a number of relatives and friends whom he had convened for the occasion, waiting the arrival of the delinquent. He tarried long, and half an hour had passed in weary suspense when at last the door opened, and Beckmann put his head in and asked: "Does Mr. Meir live here?" "Oh, no," answered Frankel, "he lives next door." "Ah, then I beg your pardon," said the actor, and hastily withdrew, having thus acquitted himself of the imposed penance to the great annoyance of Frankel and the intense amusement of the assembled witnesses.—The Argonaut.

A Sensible Old Man.

"I have long loved your daughter, sir," he said, "and I would fain make her my wife."

"You would what make her your wife!" demanded the old man, who has knots on his head.

"I would fain make her my wife, sir."

"Well, I would fain say thee nay," with bitter sarcasm. "A young man who uses such language as you would have to stand his landlord off for the second month's rent."—New York Sun.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

THE CARPENTERS' CODE.

PROGRESS OF THE MEETING OF THE BROTHERHOOD AT DETROIT.

June 1, 1890, Fixed for the Inauguration of the Eight Hour System—Election of Officers—The K. of L. Lecturers.

DETROIT, July 13.—The first business taken up by the national convention of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners at their session Saturday morning was the selection of a place for holding the next biennial convention. The contest was between Cincinnati and Chicago, and resulted at last in a victory for the latter city.

Cincinnati, however, was given the Grand President in the person of D. P. Rowland. Mr. Rowland was president of the Cincinnati local union for 2½ years and is one of the founders of the organization, having joined in 1882. The other officers are: First Vice-President, Henry Lloyd, Toronto, Ont.; Second Vice-President, Joseph S. W. Saunders, San Francisco, Cal.; Grand Secretary, P. J. McGuire, Philadelphia. The National Treasurer is elected by the local unions which exist within a ten-mile radius of the President's residence.

The afternoon and evening sessions were devoted to amendments to the constitution.

A resolution was adopted in this connection pledging the organization to make one concerted movement to establish eight hours as a day's labor, to take effect June 1, 1890, and soliciting the help of the American Federation of Labor to that end. This resolution was carried unanimously and the work of preparing the way for the success of the movement will begin at once.

The important changes in the constitution adopted during the day were all framed with a view to make strikes more effective, and empower the grand officers to extend immediate financial assistance in cases where the strike has been approved by them.

Knights of Labor Lecturers.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—James A. Wright of this city; C. A. Hall of Marshall, Tex.; A. W. Wright of the Labor Reformer, Toronto, Canada; and Morris L. Wheat of Colfax, Ia.; who were selected by General Master Workman Powderly to compose the travelling educational board of the Knights of Labor, have received final instructions from Mr. Powderly at the headquarters of the order in this city. The men were each given a certain territory to cover and will leave this city to-day to begin their labors, which will continue without interruption until November. It is the intention of the lecturers to make addresses to the public as well as to the assemblies. This will, it is thought, strengthen the membership.

THE BIG RAFT ENDS ITS TRIP.

Crowds Watch it from the Shore and Brooklyn Bridge.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—From Hell Gate to the Battery, all the water front was on the watch Saturday morning for the appearance of the great Joggins-Leary raft from Nova Scotia. She lay anchored all night off College Point, and at the break of day her crew and those on the tug prepared for the final trip through Hell Gate. With day break came scores of boats of all descriptions from the surrounding shores, filled with people anxious to inspect the great mass of floating logs.

No such forest of lumber had ever passed through Hell Gate. If the 3,000,000 feet of spruce timber were packed in schooners for shipment it would have loaded a fleet of fifty vessels. By 10 o'clock the tide had risen and three tugs had arrived from the city to lend a hand in steering the big cigar-shaped craft to its haven. The Boatoh tug Underwriter, which helped to bring the raft from Joggins, took a line off the bow and led the fleet, and the Ocean King, the Underwriter's consort, stuck her prow into the stern of the raft, and the procession began.

At first they moved slowly and with great caution, but the affair soon became a triumphant procession, and they steamed with greater confidence. A slight ebb tide pushed against and helped to hold back and steer the big craft.

It was noon when Flood Rock was reached and the craft entered Hell Gate. Two more tugs were at hand and made fast to the floating forest. With this escort she moved easily past the dangerous points, holding well to the west shore. Flags were flying from all the tugs, and a Union Jack and an American flag were floating in the light breeze fore and aft from the spars of the raft itself.

The big chained forest was towed down the East River, under the Brooklyn Bridge, where crowds cheered it, around the Battery toward Bedlow's Island, and then into the Erie Basin, where it was safely moored.

A Wreck on the Erie.

ELMIRA, N.Y., Aug. 13.—A special despatch from Corning gives the details of a wreck on the Erie railway two miles east of that village at two o'clock yesterday morning. The locomotive of the Chicago and St. Louis limited express westbound, running over 40 miles an hour, jumped the track, turned to the left across an empty track and dashed into a Lehigh Valley locomotive standing still. The passenger locomotive overturned and crushed to death John Mercereau of Hornellsville, the engineer in the cab. The fireman escaped. Henry Fisher, the Lehigh engineer, was hurt about the head. Two baggage cars and the smoker were wrecked. Louis F. Demutt of 1709 Wabash avenue, Chicago, was hurt internally, Hans Von Oppen of Cincinnati had one hand slightly hurt. These were the only injuries to passengers. The tracks were cleared this evening.

The Michigan Central and Lake Shore roads have advanced the freight rates on dressed beef and cattle.

Mr. Chamberlain, in a letter cabled to The New York Tribune, repudiates the statement credited to him about leading Americans and Home Rule.

Two hundred persons were drowned at Valparaiso, Chili by the bursting of a reservoir.

SKIPPED WITH HIS CASH.

A MONTREALER MOURNS HIS WIFE AND HIS DUCATS.

Law and Order League—Detective McDiarmid in Custody—The Coughnawaga Murderer Captured—Another Firm Robbed by Their Customs Clerk.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—The wife of a boarding house-keeper in the east end of the the city, was considered by her husband to be too free with one of the boarders and he had her removed to Farnham. From there, however, she has skipped out taking $300 of her husband's money.

Captain John Beckingham of the Salvage corps, has taken an action for $5000 damages against Le Monde, claiming that that paper stated he was an Orangemen.

Constable Hill arrested Law and Order League Detective McDiarmid last night under peculiar circumstances. While he was walking along the platform of the Bonaventure depot, a man who gave the name of Hugh Cameron rushed up to him and pointed at McDiarmid saying: "Arrest that man, he is armed." The constable said: "Go home, you are drunk." The man persisted that McDiarmid should be arrested but both Cameron and McDiarmid went up Windsor-street. A few minutes afterwards two shots were fired and the constable heard cries of "Murder." He rushed a short distance up the street and caught McDiarmid on the top of Cameron. He arrested McDiarmid, and shortly afterwards someone brought a 22-calibre revolver to the constable. When searched, McDiarmid was unarmed. He has a ticket in his pocket for Prescott and $25.53 in American money. To-day McDiarmid pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was given a private hearing by the Recorder. The prisoner's father explained that McDiarmid was leaving the city for the United States to-day and that his son had ceased to be a constable.

After thirty-one years of married life Dame C. Bertheaume, of this city has taken an action for sparation as to bed and board against her husband, Oliver Gerard, and she has been granted leave to plead in forma pauperis. She alleges that at the marriage at St. Eustache in 1857 the only property that was brought into the community belonged to her. Since then her husband has disposed of this and appropriated the proceeds. She also alleges illtreatment, that she has been turned out of his house, and is compelled to seek refuge among strangers.

Benny, Macpherson & Co. of this city have just discovered that they have been the victims of extensive frauds in connection with custom house business and the handling of cash. A few years ago they took into their employ a young lad who quickly worked his way from a very subordinate position to the responsible one of customs clerk. Following the usual practice Benny, Macpherson & Co. in order to save delay were in the habit of giving their customs clerk a check for a round sum in excess of the probable actual amount of duty upon a consignment of imported goods. The firm now find that they have been systematically defrauded by their clerk of large sums of money that should have been returned to them. Later the young man was advanced to the position of cashier which he appears to have inaugurated a regular and most skillful system of falsification of his accounts and an audit just completed shows that during the six or seven years the clerk was in the service of the firm he defrauded them of some thousands of dollars. After the death of the clerk which occurred under unusually painful circumstances, it was made public that the deceased had left considerable property in real estate. Mr. Macpherson was greatly surprised and becoming suspicious ordered a cursory examination of the books. This brought to light sufficient evidence to warrant a strict audit being made, with the result that Mr. Macphersons' suspicions were verified. A settlement has been effected with the friends of the young man.

An unknown man, about 18 years old, was run over to-day by the Canadian Pacific Railway train at Longeuil Ferry and killed.

Word was received from Detective Trempe to-night that he had Angus Jacobs, the Caughnawaga Indian, in custody at Laprairie, having arrested him this evening at La Tortue. He will be brought to Montreal in the morning.

SIR GEORGE'S PLANS.

The Stephens Intend Spending Some Months of Each Year in Canada.

MONTREAL, Aug. 13.—Sir George and Lady Stephen leave Montreal this week for England via New York, not to return until next April. There is no truth in the rumor that they are leaving Canada forever. They intend spending some months of each year on this side and will keep their fishing lodge at Metis and a smaller house in Montreal. It is true, however, that Sir George is willing to sell his mansion here and there is already some talk of buying it as a residence for the Governor-General, who would then spend three months of the year in Montreal.

The Stephens will doubtless make their London house the centre of Canadian influence in England. Sir George is as actively interested as ever in the Canadian Pacific and will continue to devote his energies to its further development.

Canadians need not be surprised to hear of Sir George Stephen entering the British House of Lords at an early date.

After an absence of some thirty years Sir George will, this coming winter, visit his old Speyside home in Scotland.

Bowmanville High School Teachers.

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 11.—The board of Education this morning unanimously appointed Mr. M. M. Fenwick, M. A., principal of the Farmersville High School, to the position of head master of the high school here at a salary of $1300 and Mr. D. H. Coates, B. A., of the Bradford High School to the position of Mathematical master at a salary of $1000. There were thirty-three applicants for the two vacancies created by the resignations of Messrs. Tramblyn and Millar who have been appointed to similar positions at Whitby and Parkdale.

Drowned in a Cistern.

MT. FOREST, Aug. 11.—This morning Denis, the youngest child of Eugene Murphy, was drowned in a cistern belonging to F. McCulloch. Murphy's people had taken a board of the fence between the two yards in order to obtain water. The child had crept through the opening and fell into the cistern and had been in probably ten minutes when found. Life was extinct when found.

Sudden Death at Flesherton.

MARKDALE, Aug. 13.—Mr. T. H. Carr, lumber buyer for McCraney, McCool & Wilson, of Toronto, while assisting to load flat cars at Flesherton station, was suddenly seized with an attack of heart syncope and fell from the car to the ground so violently as to sustain a fracture of the skull. Death was instantaneous. He was unmarried. The body was sent home to Allandale. His age was about 38.

Brantford's Budget.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 13.—Mrs. James Woodyatt, wife of the city clerk, died yesterday morning.

Rev. Dr. Beattie held his farewell services yesterday with large congregations.

While playing, a lad of 13 rubbed unslacked lime in the eyes of a playmate, and the unfortunate victim will lose the sight of one eye at least and it may be both.

FATAL MISTAKE OF A NURSE.

A Toronto Woman Killed by a Dose of Carbolic Acid.

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Fannie Hardy, 21 Tait-street, was the victim last evening of a terrible mistake made by the nurse who was attending her during illness. Mrs. Hardy has been ill during the last few days, and although not dangerously so, required constant attendance. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the nurse, intending to give her a dose of medicine prescribed by the attending physician, administered instead a dose of carbolic acid. Despite the efforts of several doctors who were speedily summoned the poor woman, after suffering intense agony died about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Hardy, who was a sister of Mr. Joseph Davis, assistant chief at the Portland-street Fire Hall, has left five children.

John Reilly was arrested about 8 o'clock on Saturday evening charged with breaking into the house of Mrs. Noverre, 224 Wellington-street. During the afternoon Mrs. Noverre had observed Reilly and two other men hanging around her house, and was suspicious of their movements. She lost sight of them as it grew dark but shortly afterwards was alarmed by a noise in one of the bedrooms. Going out to the street she met and informed P. C. Wilson, and that officer returned with her. A search revealed Reilly under a bed in the room where the noise had been heard.

Judge Morson passed his first criminal sentence Saturday morning, when he sentenced Jacob Hoey to the Central for a year for stealing a horse.

Another batch of imported plumbers reached Toronto Saturday and settled down to work, taking the places of strikers. The union are determined not to give in, but the bosses appear to have the best of the dispute.

The infant son of J. Kendrick died at York-street and on Saturday the door of the father's house was decked with crape. On Saturday night the meanest thief who haunts that section of the city came along and stole the crape off the door.

The Toronto Archbishopric.

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—Dean O'Connor of Barrie, the highest Roman Catholic dignitary north of Toronto, will in all probability be the nominee of the Sacred College of the Propaganda for Toronto's vacant archbishopric. A western priest, who is high in the confidence of the Hierarchy told a reporter on Saturday that Dean O'Connor was the coming man, and of the three names sent to Rome his stood first.

MORE FARMERS COMING OUT.

Large Shipment of Pedigree Stock—Canadian Consul for Liberia.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Ninety adults, consisting of farm laborers and others, selected from the agricultural districts, have left Liverpool for farms at Balgonie, Sir John Lester-Kaye's Northwest colony. Forty more men will follow in a fortnight. The company intends to develop forthwith the Balgonie farm, which consists of 3,000.

The most important shipment of pedigree bulls ever sent to the North-west left Liverpool yesterday by the Lake Ontario, also destined for the Balgonie farm, including fifty Polled Aberdeen Angus, from noted herds; also fifty promising Galloway bulls from noted breeders. The opinion is expressed that the influx of such high-class stock into the North-west must hasten the portant export trade from the North-west to Britain in cattle and dairy products.

The Queen has approved of John Roch Thompson as Consul-General for Canada for the Republic of Liberia.

BOULANGER AND THE STRIKERS.

Warm Despatches Passing Between Italy and France—Socialists Organizing.

LONDON, Aug 12.—It is whispered that Gen. Boulanger, if elected at Charentte, will formally proclaim himself the champion of the strikers in the Chamber of Deputies.

The warmth of the despatches passing between Signor Crispi and M. Goblet is becoming positively dangerous. The movements of Italian troops on the French frontier are also extremely suspicious and may provoke a demand upon the Italian Government for an explanation.

The Socialists in the frontier districts are organizing unskilled laborers in great numbers with as yet no avowed object.

Gen. Boulanger has issued a manifesto to the electors of the Nord and Charette departments.

The glassworkers in two factories at Lyons have struck. A general strike of glassworkers is expected.

Five Pistol Shots Fired at Boulanger.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—While Gen. Boulanger was driving in an open carriage at Saint Jean and Angely to-day Prof. Perrin of the Lycee fired five shots at him from a revolver. M. Ratpan, a friend of the General's, rushed forward and managed to turn the weapon aside. The result was that Ratpan himself received a bullet in the back of his head but his wound is not serious. Two peasants were also wounded. Gen. Boulanger was not touched. Prof. Perrin is a friend of Mayor Lair, the candidate nominated by the Opportunists in opposition to Boulanger. The affair occurred at the height of a pitched battle between the rival political parties, when the gendarmes charging, Count Dillon received a blow on the head from a stick and other Boulangerists were roughly handled. It is not certain that Perrin intended to aim at Boulanger.

Denies the soft Impeachment.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 13.—Hon. M. Bowell, who is spending a few days at the Sand Banks with his daughter, positively denies that he is to be married on the 15th to Mrs. Stevenson, of Napanee. "It is true," he said to a confidential friend, "that I paid the lady some attention on the occasion of my last visit to that town, but the announcement of the wedding day has been made without my consent."

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

The lumber wharf of F. A. Smith on the west side of the Schuylkill river at Philadelphia sank last night, entailing a loss of nearly $10,000.

Carelessness on the part of an engineer caused a collision between two "G" freight trains at Chicago yesterday. Four oil cars and a locomotive were destroyed by fire. Loss $40,000.

The Umbria reached her pier yesterday morning. The delay was caused by the breaking of her high pressure valve spindle.

To-day is civic holiday in both Toronto and Hamilton.

The grasshopper plague in Russell and Carleton is growing worse.

There has been a great improvement in the British shipping trade during the past year.

Lost Their Tickets.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12.—Three young boys, brothers, named Willie Merchant, 11 years, Joseph, 9, and Henry, 7, were found at the Canadian Pacific railway depot. They were on their way from Cote St. Louis, near Three Rivers, to a town in Massachusetts. They lost their tickets and all the money they possessed. The railway authorities refused to convey them further and the conductor had no alternative but to turn them out.

A $350 Blaze at Orillia.

ORILLIA, Aug. 13.—The stables and out buildings of Dr. Beaton, Superintendent of the Idiot Asylum, were discovered to be on fire yesterday afternoon. The flames were confined to the outbuildings. Loss about $350. Insurance not known.

ROYAL CONVERT TO ROME.

RUMORED CHANGE OF FAITH OF A RELATIVE OF THE QUEEN.

Queen Natalie Shadowed by Detectives—The St. James' Gazette on the Presidential Campaign.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A Catholic newspaper announces that a Princess, a near relative of the Queen, has been converted to Romanism. The statement has aroused considerable curiosity as to the identity of the royal lady, and conjecture is pretty evenly divided as between the Princess Louise and the aged Duchess of Cambridge, though the latter is oftenest fixed upon as the person alluded to by the paper.

Queen Natalie of Servia is in Paris. She is constantly shadowed by detectives, presumably in the pay of King Milan, and a daily record of her movements is deposited at the headquarters of the police.

The St. James Gazette, in an article on the American Presidential campaign, sneers at Mr. Harrison as Mr. Blaine's dummy, and declares that the object of the contest so far as the Republicans are concerned is to hoist Blaine into power by false pretences.

Arrestments were served to-day upon The Edinburg News' agents for $20 each at the instance of Mr. Parnell in proceedings against the proprietor and printer of The Times. This action was taken for the purpose of founding jurisdiction in Scotland. The issuance of the arrestments is a practice in Scotch law to enable a foreigner to sue before Scotch tribunals, hence it is obvious that Mr. Parnell intends to prosecute The Times in the Scotch Courts. Mr. Parnell has retained Mr. J. B. Balfour, formerly Lord Advocate of Scotland and Mr. Asher, formerly Solicitor-General for Scotland, both in Mr. Gladstone's administration, to conduct his suit in the Scotch Courts against The Times. Mr. Strachan has been retained as junior counsel.

John Morley and Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt have consented to become Vice-Presidents of the Home Rule Union.

The Economist says that Lord Salisbury's declaration that the European situation seems to be more reassuring, has something to support it. As long as the private relations of Emperor William and the Czar are cordial some sort of guarantee for peace exists.

RUSSIA'S ORIGINAL PROGRAM.

Touching Bulgaria to be Carried out—The Kaiser's Visit to Rome.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—It is stated on reliable authority that Russia adheres to her original program of ousting Prince Ferdinand from Bulgaria, excluding Prince Alexander and sending a Russian commissioner to restore diplomatic relations without interfering with internal affairs, preliminary to allowing the Bulgarians to elect any prince they think fit provided he be legally elected and a member of the Orthodox Church.

Herr Von Schloezer, German representative at the Vatican, has had several long interviews with Prince Bismarck during the week. The result of these conferences has not become known, though there are rumors that they have caused a hesitancy in completing the plans in the Kaiser's visit to Italy. It is stated in some quarters that the Kaiser's proposed visit has been abandoned but this is untrue. The Italian Government is arranging railway excursions from all parts of Italy in order to bring together a large concourse of people at the demonstrations in honor of the royal visitor, and other preparations are being made for his entertainment including public fetes, a naval review, etc. It is stated that the Kaiser's visit will cover six days.

The Empress and the young Prince are progressing favorably.

The Emperor in the autumn will lay the foundation of the new Palace of Justice and Supreme Court of the Empire.

The Duke of Cambridge has arrived at Kissingen where he will remain several weeks to take the waters.

The report that Germany is about to join a conference on Central African affairs is declared to be unfounded.

The King of Portugal arrived here yesterday. He was met at the railway station by Emperor William and a guard of honor and conducted to the castle.

PARIS AND CONSTANTINOPLE.

The First Train on the New Railway Service Arrives at Sofia.

SOFIA, Aug. 13.—The train inaugurating the direct railway service between Paris and Constantinople arrived here yesterday. A grand banquet was given in honor of the occasion at which Prince Ferdinand presided. Among the guests were a large number of prominent persons representing various countries of Europe. Prince Ferdinand in a speech said that the completion of this splendid work concluded solely through the efforts and the resources of Bulgaria in the first year of his reign, filled his heart with legitimate pride and satisfaction and he hoped that the country which had chosen him ruler would henceforth be better appreciated and more clearly judged. He thanked all present and congratulated them upon the success of the enterprise. Great enthusiasm was manifested throughout. A reception at the palace followed the banquet.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, Aug. 12.—Rev. Mr. Belt, of Burlington has met with a painful accident. He was returning from the beach on the 7.30 train, and as it was passing under Barton-street bridge a stone crashed through the coach, and struck him on the face, inflicting a serious wound.

Herbert Smith, proprietor of a temperance hotel at the sulphur springs, pleaded guilty at the police court yesterday morning to selling liquor without a license. The fine and costs amounted to $57.65.

A Brace of Drowning Accidents.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 13.—Mr. J. H. Reed and Miss Fanny Milliken went out in a canoe Saturday night at 9 o'clock with the intention of paddling around the harbor. Failing to return, their friends about midnight started out in all directions. At noon yesterday the canoe was found bottom side up, three miles from here. Hope is abandoned although the searchers are still out.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—A row boat containing eight young men was swamped in the East River yesterday by a swell from a ferry boat, and Solomon Reid, William Lawrence and another man were drowned.

A Californian's Double Crime.

SANTA CRUSE, Cal., Aug. 13.—Zachariah Field aged 55, fatally shot his young wife aged 20, then blew off the top of his own head with a shot from a Winchester rifle. His wife's relatives have been endeavoring to induce her to leave him which was probably the cause of the tragedy.

Faith-Cure Converts Baptized.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 13—Six converts to the Church of the Faith Cure Believers were baptized yesterday afternoon in Newark Bay.

East Northumberland.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 13.—C. A. Mallory, reeve of Percy and warden of the united counties, is spoken of as the probable Reform candidate for the Legislature in East Northumberland.

PEACE PROSPECTS.

It is to be hoped that Lord Salisbury had good grounds for the hopeful words he spoke at the Lord Mayor's banquet regarding the peace of Europe. Men in responsible positions, such as Lord Salisbury occupies, hesitate to use expressions that would alarm unless they have the gravest reasons for doing so. The tendency is rather to keep in the background facts which forbode strife among the nations, unless there are good reasons for making them known. Yet the Premier would scarcely lead the English people to believe that the prospects were peaceful unless they were so. And let us hope, whatever may have brightened the sky, that at least it is clearer.

The visits of Emperors have before brought about important results It is possible, though it was announced that the visit of the German Emperor to the Czar had no political significance, that that visit may have had much to do with clearing away difficulties that threatened to bring about a war. If the Bulgarian question has reached a stage in which it need not be feared that war will arise out of it, why, with quietness on the Afghan and French frontier, should war be feared? One reason that security from a struggle is never felt is on account of the immense armies the nations keep ready to attack each other with. So long as these great military establishments are kept up there will be danger of war, but in the meantime assurances such as Lord Salisbury gave are not unpleasant reading.

THE Globe quoted from a statement said to have been made by the Rev. Mr. McDougall, Methodist missionary, in order to try to make a point against Mr. Dewdney's appointment. But Mr. McDougall, along with Bishop Grandin and other missionaries, signed a petition to the Government asking that Mr. Dewdney be appointed head of the Interior Department.

MR. CLEVELAND recently left home without his wife, and a Republican paper insinuated that there was trouble between them. That paper is of as mean a class as those Liberal papers that drag Lady Macdonald's name in political discussions.

LANGEVIN and Chapleau fraternizing on one platform naturally suggests the question of which of the two feels the meanest about it.—London Advertiser.

It is the Liberal papers that have been spinning the yarns about divisions in the Cabinet that should feel mean.

ENNISMORE.

Correspondence of the Review.

WEATHER NOTES.—July has failed us nothing for heat and drought from its predecessor, although not reaching a 100 degree like June. Still we had some very hot weather. On the 4th at 3 p. m., it reached 96 degrees in the shade, and again twice 92 deg. and 90 deg., and almost steady above the 80. Our coldest morning was on the 15th, the thermometer coming down to 40 deg., leaving the mean temperature of the month at 62 deg. From the 6th to the 13th it was almost one continued gale, blowing a large amount of the fruit off the trees. There were auroral lights on the night of the 1st. We had white frost on three mornings, fog on two mornings and three thunder storms. Rain fell on 6 days to the depth of 91-100 of an inch, being far below the average. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, namely:—north-west, 7 days; south-east, 3 days; south, 2 days; west, 5 days; north, 3 days; south-west, 10 days and north-east, 1 day.

The Rule of Thumb.

When, during the late war, a story was told of a contractor's wife having been seen with a big diamond ring upon her thumb, it was thought to be a malicious invention of the enemy, few people knowing that 300 years ago it was the fashion to wear a ring upon the thumb. Several of Queen Elizabeth's rings that are still extant and well identified are so large that there can be no doubt that they were thumb rings. It was at about the same era the custom, indeed, not only to wear a ring upon the thumb, but to wear the wedding ring there.

The customs in relation to wedding rings have, however, always been as strange as countless, ever since there have been wedding rings at all. Mary Stuart was married to Lord Darnley with four rings, one not being sufficient. Twelve wedding rings were not considered an extravagant number among the early French nobles. The Greek church still uses two in its ceremonial, and in some parts of the peninsula three rings are used, each being put on with an adjuration to a separate member of the Trinity. We do not know that this is any more singular than a practice prevalent anywhere among ourselves for a woman who has been twice married to wear the wedding rings of both husbands, quite regardless of the possibility of the first husband's apparitional return to claim her by means of the sign manual he had once placed on her finger, and by which he might still hold her as bound to himself.—Harper's Bazar.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver a misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happines to the dyspeptic. Asfl your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

NO CHANCE FOR ESCAPE.

The Phonograph as a Third Party at a Popping of the Question.

"Are you in earnest, Mr. Hankinson?"

The lovely girl who asked this question of Marcellus Hankinson sat behind the center table with her hands in her lap and regarded the young man intently.

"In earnest, Irene?" he exclaimed, pale with emotion and chronic dyspepsia, "the whole happiness of my life is wrapped up in your answer to the question I have asked. If you will trust your future in my hands, my life shall be devoted to the task of making you happy. It will be my sole aim to shield you from the rude blasts of all adversity, to smooth your pathway through the world, to interpose my right arm between you and every danger that threatens to disturb your peace, and"——

"If I listen to your suit, Mr. Hankinson," interrupted the young lady, casting her eyes with some timidity and confusion to the floor, "you may regret it some day. You would find me ignorant of the practical duties of housekeeping and without"——

"Practical duties of housekeeping!" broke in the enthusiastic youth; "you will have no practical duties of that kind. As my wife you shall not be a drudge. You shall be the queen of my home. You consent, do you not, my dar"——

"Wait a moment, my dear Mr. Hankinson. I am afraid you would find me thoughtless and extravagant in a great many things."

"Extravagant! Irene, it will be the joy of my life to provide you with whatever may gratify your slightest whim. You can never make a request of me that I would not rejoice to anticipate and grant beforehand."

"And you will be willing to spend all your evenings at home?"

"My angel, I never would want to spend them anywhere else."

"You would never break my heart by joining a club or becoming a drinking man?"

"Hear me, Irene. I promise never to do either!"

"Let me see," said the young lady, meditatively; "I think that is all—Oh! You will agree to have the word 'obey' left out of my part of the marriage service, will you, Mr. Hankinson?"

"Obey! Ha! ha! Why, my own, certainly. I am even willing to promise to obey you!"

"Then, Marcellus," said the lovely girl, as she lifted a full grown phonograph off her lap, locked it carefully in a drawer of the secretary that stood against the wall, turned up the gas, and beamed in a sweet yet business like manner upon the terror stricken young man, "I am yours!"—Chicago Tribune.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little suffer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

SAULT STE. MARIE CANAL.

Notice to Contractors.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tenders for the Sault Ste. Marie Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the eastern and western mails on TUESDAY, the 23rd day of October, next, for the formation and construction of a Canal on the Canadian side of the river, through the Island of St. Mary.

The works will be let in two sections, one of which will embrace the formation of the canal through the Island; the construction of locks, &c. The other, the deepening and widening of the channel-way at both ends of the canal; construction of piers, &c.

A map of the locality, together with plans and specifications of the works, can be seen at this office on and after TUESDAY, the 9th day of October, next, where printed forms of tender can also be obtained. A like class of information, relative to the works, can be seen at the office of the Local Officer in the Town of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Intending contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms and be accompanied by a letter stating that the person or persons tendering have carefully examined the locality and the nature of the material found in the trial pits.

In the case of firms, there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same, and further, a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $20,000 must accompany the tender for the canal and locks; and a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $7,500 must accompany the tender for the deepening and widening of the channel way at both ends, piers, &c.

The respective deposit receipts—cheques will not be accepted—must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works, at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The deposit receipt thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tenders.

By order,
A. P. BRADLEY,
Secretary.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10,00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00

2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Weather Probabilities.

Moderate to fresh north to west winds; clearing weather, stationary or a little higher temperatures.

Toronto Opinions of Peterborough.

Comment was freely made by visitors who came in to-day on the Foresters' excursion from Toronto at the city appearance of the streets and residences. What struck them forcibly was the successful business character of the appearance of shops and the capital window display made at the golden lion of summer dress goods and special lines now in demand.

Music in the Park.

Owing to members of the band having an engagement for to-morrow evening, the usual weekly concert will be given in the Court House park this evening, weather permitting.

The Charlotte-st. Bridge.

The bridge over the creek on Charlotte-st. has been taken away and men are at work on the new structure. Passages have been prepared for vehicles and foot passengers.

A Bountiful Return.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Mr. Owen Weese, of Thurlow, received through Hon. M. Bowell a package of Ladoga wheat from the experimental farm, weighing three pounds, including the package. This he sowed, and has reaped as a result 53½ pounds."

Quarrelled and Fought

Late last night two men met and quarrelled on Hunter-st. Their quarrel led further, blows were exchanged and a fight resulted. After the tussle one of the combatants went to the police and wanted the other arrested, but he apparently changed his mind afterwards, as he did not lay a formal information.

The Relief of Derry.

The members of King William Lodge of True Blues went to Lindsay this morning via the Grand Trunk, to join the Blues and Orangemen of that town and vicinity in a demonstration in honor of the anniversary of the relief of Derry. It was expected that the celebration would be largely attended, but the rain may interfere with it.

The Sale Continues.

The grand clearing sale of bankrupt stock at McNeil's old stand still continues. Grand bargains are given to hundreds of eager purchasers. Look lively if you want to buy, as the goods are going out mighty fast. Splendid tweeds selling ridiculously low. A regular give away on prices. Call while the ball is rolling. 2d35

Cheap Cashmere.

Ladies who wish to buy Cashmere will be well pleased when they see the quality of all wool Cashmeres, yard wide, that are being sold for 30c. per yard at Dawson Bro's old stand, Hunter-st. Also some extra good values in Black. All other Dress Goods at half price until we remove to Griffin's stand, George-st., Sept. 1st. tfd33

Visiting Cyclists.

A number of the Wanderers Bicycle Club, of Toronto, arrived in town Saturday evening and registered at the Oriental. They were met and shown around the town by some of the Peterborough club and took the road for Port Hope yesterday morning. They were accompanied as far as Fraserville by Captain Greatrix and a few of the local wheelmen. The Wanderers will be given an assembly at Whitby this evening.

On the Civic Holiday.

$1.75 Return is the price of tickets for the Forester's (Court Little John) excursion to Toronto on Thursday, 16th, per G.T.R. Children under 12 years, 90c. You can go either by the short route via Port Hope, at 6.40 a.m., or via Lindsay at 8.10 a.m. Return by either line. Many sights to be seen in the city, including the Cyclorama of the battle of Sedan, at reduced rates. Excursions to Grimsby Camp during days of excursion. Tickets good to return on second day. Come along. 1d36

Presentation to a Cadet.

On Saturday evening after the public meeting in the Salvation Army temple, Capt. Howell invited the soldiers to remain for a pleasant event. He then, on behalf of the soldiers and friends of the Army, presented Cadet Ida Hendricks with a handsome watch. The Captain, in the course of his remarks in making the presentation, said to the cadet that they wished her to receive the watch as a token of the respect and love of the people. She had been true to the Army and God through rough and smooth, and he hoped that at any time when difficulties arose she would be reminded by the watch of the time when she started out with confidence and that she had the prayers of the soldiers of this station. He then handed her the watch, and Miss Hendricks made a suitable reply. She has gone as a cadet to the Toronto training home, and when she has graduated will enter the work as an officer.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk. Delicate people improve rapidly upon its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thos. Prim, Ala., says: "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; he gained four pounds in a month." Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

R. T. of T.

Peterborough Council No. 97, Roya Templars of Temperance, meet this evening in the W.C.T.U. Hall, entrance south of A. Clegg's.

Journalistic.

Mr. Frank D. Mackay, of Belleville, a graduate of the Belleville Ontario and latterly with the Toronto Globe, assumed the duties of reporter for the REVIEW to-day.

The Coming Concert.

Separate School grounds—Tuesday evening, August 14th—Doucet's Orchestra—Admission 10 cents—All welcome. 3d34

The Lacrosse Match.

The members of the Ontario Lacrosse Club arrived on the Toronto special at noon to-day to cross sticks with the Peterboroughs this afternoon. They were met by members of the Peterborough club and taken to the Oriental. The ball was faced at 2.30.

A Camp Burned.

The Minden Echo says:—"Last week some very heavy bush fires did much damage in Longford, Lutterworth and Anson The Dickson Company had one of their camps destroyed, as well as a dam and a quantity of hay. Fortunately the recent rain has almost extinguished the fires. There is far too much carelessness about fire in this back country."

Camping Parties.

Must not forget to go to W. J. Morrow's for their supplies, as he has a full stock of canned goods, &c., that must be sold cheap. The rush still continues for our fine teas which we are clearing out. Sugars are steadily increasing in price, but owing to our large stock, are being sold at the old prices. W. J. MORROW, Opera House block.

St. Leon Water

The marvellous results from the use of St. Leon Water in Rheumatism, Constipation and all diseases arising from a torpid liver is testified to by hundreds of grateful drinkers of the water. References are kindly permitted to N. T. Lapiant, Frank Bell, Rev. Father Lynch and many other prominent citizens. Sold by the glass and gallon or aerated by Taylor & Macdonald, Druggists, sole agents. d140-w25

Remember the S.O.E. excursion to Stoney Lake next Thursday, Civic Holiday. Tea, sugar and hot water supplied gratis. Tickets, adults, 80c., children, 50c. 1d36

Notice of Visit.

Mr. P. H. Morris, from the establishment of B. Laurence & Co., the opticians of Montreal, will be at the drug store of Mr. John McKee, Peterborough, for two days only, Wednesday and Thursday, August 15th and 16th. Those requiring his services will remember the date. Mr. P. H. Morris is eminently qualified to adjust spectacles to every case where relief can be afforded, and as his visit is for the convenience of the public, no charge being made for consultation or any extra charge for the spectacles, advantage should be taken of it. 5d34

One Day to Remain.

Richard McBride, a prenologist, who, however, seems to be unable to turn his phrenological knowledge to good account in reading his own disposition, was found lying in a shed on Saturday night by Officer Adams and removed to the cells. This morning he appeared before P.M. Edmison on a charge of vagraney, which he did not deny, and the Magistrate informed him that he would let him go if he would shake the dust of the town from his feet inside of twenty-four hours. Richard thanked the Magistrate, agreed to do so and left. He will probably get a chart of the country and depart on the bumpers.

A horse, harnessed but not attached to any vehicle, ran down George-st. between six and seven o'clock on Sunday evening, and was caught at the corner of Dublin-st. The animal was handed over to Chief Rossel and placed in the Commercial house stables. Soon after a young man came searching for the horse. He, with a lady friend, had been enjoying a drive in the country, when the horse became frightened, jumped a ditch, broke away from the phaeton, and left the couple sitting in the motionless phaeton on the road. The horse received a scratch over his eye on his driverless journey, but was otherwise uninjured, and the driver and lady reached town all right.

An Assault Case.

A charge and a counter-charge of assault were heard at the Police Court this morning that will do the hearts of the paragraphers good. W. H. Lowes charged Sarah Sutherland, his mother-in-law, with assault, and Mrs. Sutherland laid a similar charge at the door of her son-in-law. Mr. Lowes said that his wife was correcting a child when his mother-in-law interfered. He ordered her out of his yard, and, as she refused to go, he shoved her out. His mother-in-law then threw stones at him and he was struck. Mrs. Sutherland, however, said that she was in her own yard, that Lowes ordered her into the house and when she refused to go he struck her. She then used the hard missles. Other witnesses were also examined. The houses of the parties adjoin and they have a yard in common, the latter fact injuring Lowes' case. The charge against Mrs. Sutherland was dismissed and Lowes was fined $2 and costs.

FREEDOM AND TRUTH.

SERMON BY THE REV. S. J. SHOREY TO THE 'PRENTIC BOYS,

Who, with the Orangemen, Attend Divine Service—A Large Procession and an Able Sermon.

The members of Jubilee Lodge of 'Prentice Boys, accompanied by their brethren of the Orange lodges of Peterborough and Nassau and the True Blues of Peterborough, attended divine service in a body on Sunday, which was the anniversary of the relief of the city of Derry. The members of the societies assembled at the Orange hall and shortly before four o'clock marched in procession, headed by the band, to the George-st. Methodist church, where they occupied the centre seats. The pastor, the Rev. M. L. Pearson, assisted in the services and the Rev. S. J. Shorey, of the Charlotte-st. Church, preached the sermon.

The Rev. Mr. SHOREY based his sermon on the following texts:—Proverbs xxiii., 23, "Buy the truth and sell it not," and St. John viii., 32, "And the truth shall make you free." Truth, the speaker said, was that which had the quality of reality. It was a representation to the mind in accordance with facts as they existed. Necessary truth was axioms that could not be questioned, as it was used by the enquirer as implements were employed by the gold digger. It was here that the struggle of life came in. Would men be cowardly, or would they endeavor to discover truth? The importance of truth depended upon the department of life in which they were found. Truth that was important to one might not be of such importance to others. Much depended upon where and what they were. If they had the power and disposition to seek after and follow truth they would be true men. Truth was absolutely essential if they were going to accomplish any high purpose whatever. Truth only had a right, by its own kingly nature, to govern a man's life. There was truth which they had inherited through the faithfulness and heroism of their fathers, and they should be thankful for those men who died that their children might have truth and be free. It was because of the heroism of their fathers that they now had civil and religious liberty. There was a sense in which they valued truth according to what they had paid for it. He was afraid there were people to-day who did not value Christian truths and privileges as much as they would if they had paid more for them. There was a time when men could worship God only as other men dictated, but now they had perfect liberty. Sometimes they would have to give up things they valued for the truth. They would have to give up preconceived opinions and prejudices, as the disciples had to abandon their idea of Christ's kingdom and the position they would occupy in it. If they were to receive the truth they must lay down prejudices and receive it into true and honest hearts. There was in the thought that they had the truth a danger of causing prejudices. If they possessed the truth, they should not only defend it, but should lead others into it, and they could not do that if they were prejudiced. There was nothing he so much feared in religious and political life as narrowness, prejudice and bigotry. His wish for young men was that they would seek the truth and have the truth in every department of life in which they were engaged. Sometimes young people objected to some of the forms or beliefs in the churches and older people feared they were going astray. He thought the trouble was with the way the truth came to them, rather than with the truth itself. It must come to them in a way that it vindicated itself. A student who copied his answers to a question had not mastered the principle and did not possess the truth. Nowadays young people were more anxious to have the principle that led to answers than to simply know the answers. As long as the souls of men cried for the blessings of God, so long would there be religion, just as there would be agriculture so long as men needed to eat. There was, no doubt, danger in the freedom of to-day, but he found that those were shifted about were the unthinking. Seeking the truth brought with it an appetite to appreciate the truth. He was addressing a company of men whose organization arose out of a desire to commemorate an historical event, but while they commemorated that event he wished them to have the truth in every department of life, and then they would be worthy of their manhood and would hand down a valuable heritage. He did not say that the church possessed the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, but as God had made their fathers loyal in pursuit of truth, so he prayed that He might make their sons for all time. All truth had an emancipating quality, as all error was bondage. All truth was not of equal importance, as all error was not equally dangerous. The conflicts of the past arose largely because some men were not willing to have the truth, and others were determined to have it, and peace would reign when all men had the truth. Men would lay down their lives for the existence of their nation—for the defence of material truth, and yet they might not possess the more important truth. If they had not the light and freedom of the sunlight of God they were deceived and in error. This country had possibly a glorious future and it was their duty to live for it. He could tell the country's future if he knew the kind of young men who were growing up around him. Were they of those whom the truth of God had made free? If so he had no fear for the future of the country. It would lead them into safety and into the presence of God. He wanted them to go through life with this one thought in their hearts, "I want truth in every department of life, no matter what it costs." As they saw others deceived, they should stand fast in the liberty wherewith God had made them free. There might be a conflict for them in the future that they knew not of. Those who thought they could read the signs of the times believed the time was coming when Protestants would have to stand fast together in the conflict, not on the field of battle, but in the field of legislation. They should take their stand by the altars of their faith and stand up for the defence of their liberties and for the truth which alone would make them free. He wished them to possess the truth that would make them free from evil habits and passions, free from prejudice and free from error, and that would lead them into and keep them in the service of God.

At the conclusion of the services, the procession was again formed and proceeded back to the hall, where the brethren dispersed.

FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Trip to the Pacific Coast—Letter from Rev. Mr. Thompson.

A friend in Peterborough has received a letter from the Rev. S. J. Thompson, who went from here to British Columbia, in which Mr. Thompson describes his trip to the Pacific coast. He says the voyage on the C.P.R. steamer Athabasca, from Owen Sound to Port Arthur, was the finest possible. A well fitted boat, attentive officers and agreeable company were "all in the bill," while he could not speak to highly of the table. After eulogizing the scenery on the lakes and describing the prairies, he continues:—

"On Wednesday morning at about 4 o'clock we are up to the Rockies. We have passed a few hills on the way, but now we see for the first time a real old everlasting, and the change from the dead level to this is refreshing. On and on, farther and farther up, with the mountains gaining in number and in size until up yonder we get a look at something white shining in the morning sun, making the dark green look darker. It is the snow—the snows of a thousand years probably, from which comes dashing down the mountain torrents, that boil and gurgle and roar and dash, splash and crash on their way to the ocean. The scenery is horrible in its strange fascination. Awful chasms yawn at our side; perpendicular faces of rock shut the view from the other tunnels in which you get an idea of the blackness of darkness; bridges that seem to bend under the weight of the thundering train; curves that seem to be like a double-bow knot in their intricate windings, until you feel as though you had enough scenery to last a life-time. And yet you gaze on until you feel that the variety becomes monotonous and you are glad when night comes to give you rest. We took the rest, and next morning you are still among mountains through they are a milder and quieter type."

He speaks of the fishing in the Fraser river and the Indians and Chinese seen along the line. At North Arm they were cordially received by their present host and hostess, formerly of Napanee. Of the Fraser delta he says:—"Islands are all about, dooting the river with their deep green shrubbery along the shores which completely hides the lovely farms lying within. Fruits of all kinds, berries of enormous size, flowers that would make glad the heart of Mr. Manning or Mr. Frank Mason, and garden stuff raised for the Vancouver city market that beats everything and anything in Canada. The hay crop harvested this year upon these low lying lands is simply enormous. Many farmers have 200, 300 and 400 tons for sale. We turn sadly, rather, to the fact that the only things that are small here are the churches and the interest in religion and things so dear to the Christian heart. I am told I have one of the finest missions in the country. It consists, at present, of three appointments—two churches and a school house. I have about thirty members of the society that are true Methodists." At the first Quarterly meeting it was decided to build and furnish a parsonage as quickly as possible.

Cricket Match.

The team representing the Hamilton cricket club arrived on the 1ath C.P.R. train last night. The match is still going on with the Peterboroughs as we go to press. The Hamiltons went to bat first and scored 140. The Peterboroughs had made 47 for six wickets, of which Stratton made 22 and Ray 14.

Ankle Broken and Dislocated.

On Sunday afternoon George McWilliams, a lad about 18 years of age, son of Mr. Geo. McWilliams, while running down the embankment near the cut on the Chemong Lake railway, stepped on a rail and fell. His ankle was doubled over till his foot touched his leg, and the outer bone was broken and the ankle dislocated. Dr. Fife was called and dressed the injuries sustained by the young sufferer.

COMPLIMENTED.

The public appreciate what is attractive and in keeping with our lovely town. H. S. Griffin & Co. have been highly complimented on their new store. So bright and nicely kept, their friends say. H. S. Griffin & Co. will keep a larger stock and do all in their power to make their place of business first-class in every respect. They invite their customers to 369 George-st. and also hope for a large number of new customers.

The Visiting Foresters.

A large crowd was waiting on the G.T.R. platform as the Toronto special, with the excursion of the Queen City and Homewood Courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters on board, drew in and came to a standstill at noon to day. The Foresters and their friends to the number of about four hundred, came to spend their civic holiday in Peterborough. This afternoon at two o'clock a very extensive programme of games and sports was gone through with at Inverieis Park under the auspices of the visiting Foresters. They will leave for home at 7 o'clock this evening.

Personal.

The Whitby Chronicle says:—"Mr. Fife, of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, and wife, are visiting at Mr. Thomas Gale's."

Mr. John Craig, of the News-Record, Fergus, is in town for a few days reviewing old scenes and looking up friends of years ago.

Mr. Hon. Sidney Smith, of Cobourg, is in town.

Mr. Samuel Allen, of Toronto, is visiting his parents.

Mr. Thos. Matchett, county treasurer, Victoria, is in town for the day, and received many cordial greetings from friends.

Mr. Wm. Wallbrook, formerly of the REVIEW staff, has returned from Ottawa, and purposes attending the Collegiate Institute this winter.

Mr. W. D. Harrison, who has been employed in Hamilton's foundry and who was a teacher in the George-st. Sunday school, left on Saturday to take charge of the Chandos Methodist Mission.

The Port Hope Guide says:—"Mrs. R. Robinson, who has been visiting friends in Peterborough for the past three weeks, has returned home again, after having enjoyed herself very much."

A Cadet's Farewell.

Cadet Minnie Young, of this town, bade farewell to her comrades of the Salvation Army on Sunday evening. She has gone to Port Hope to assist those in command at that station.

Picnic at Keene.

A picnic will be held at McNeil's grove, adjoining the Keene station, on Wednesday, Aug. 29th, under the auspices of St. Mary's (Roman Catholic) church, Keene. An efficient committee has charge of the arrangements, and there will be a programme of sports and music and a platform for dancing. Return tickets will be issued on the Grand Junction at single fare.

WE promise you fair treatment and fair prices at The Pantry store. 32tf.

Brevities.

—Unfavorable weather for field sports.

Mr. J. W. Flavelle, of Toronto, was in town on Saturday.

—A regular meeting of the cheese board will be held to-morrow.

—A large number went north by the Lakefield train this morning.

—While visiting Fenelon Falls last week, Adjutant Bolton, of the Salvation Army, "dedicated" the child of a soldier.

—The Port Hope authorities are in communication with another manufacturing firm and hope to secure a large factory for that town.

—Two men were arrested by Officer McGinty on Saturday night for being drunk, and after spending the night in the cells were allowed to go.

—Last week's War Cry has a picture of the Peterborough Salvation Army's temple and gives the REVIEW'S report of the opening services and demonstration.

—"Success to the Foresters," "Liberty, Benevolence and Concord," "A Forester's Welcome to One and All," and "Success to the Foresters," were mottoes that greeted the visiting Foresters as they strolled down George-st. to-day. They were hung out on a banner from the hall of Court Peterborough.

It is Absurd

for people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL

PROPOSED GEOLOGICAL EXPLORATION OF THE NORTHWEST.

The Indian Trouble on the Skena River Likely to Prove Unimportant—Departmental and Personal—Drowned in the Rideau Canal.

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—Dr. Selwyn, director of the Geological Museum, is at the Soo where he will be joined shortly by a detachment of the American Society for the Advancement of science and together they will go to the Northwest to inspect the formations there. The scientists are going up on an excursion arranged by Prof. Hitchcock of Hanover College.

The Lower Traverse lightship, sunk last fall and raised this spring, is still at St. Joan, Port Jolie, it having been impossible so far on account of the weather to take her to Quebec for repairs.

An officer at Port Essington, B. C., at the mouth of the Skena River, has written an unofficial letter to General Middleton in which he says that the Indian trouble is not likely to amount to anything.

Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance, returned yesterday from a trip to New Brunswick.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, is expected to return on Wednesday from his trip to the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, has gone to Manitoba on business for the department.

George Kinnert, an express driver for T. Martin & Co., flour merchants, was drowned in the Rideau Canal to-night by the accidental upsetting of his boat. He leaves a wife and family.

IN THE WILD WEST.

Three Prominent Citizens of an Iowa Town Killed by a Desperado.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—A special from Omaha, says: Late last night at Shenandoah, Iowa, Frank Gallup, a member of a rather tough family, began beating his aged father. So brutal was he that a number of citizens interfered when young Gallup fired into the crowd killing F. J. Tine. The unexpected shot and the dire consequences following it threw the citizens into confusion but they soon rallied and made an advance to the house whither Gallup had retreated. The young desperado soon appeared with two revolvers and opened a fusillade with deadly effect. The first man to fall was Danl. Campbell, who was shot through the neck and fatally wounded. The next victim was B. O. Rice, shot through the heart and dying instantly. T. H. Winfrey was the last man to drop with a bullet in his leg. In the meantime old man Gallup was shot through the shoulder but it is not known by whom.

Young Gallup returned to the house and began making preparations for an escape, when Mooney Fletcher fired a shot from a rifle which it was subsequently ascertained went through the desperado's body, killing him instantly. This latter fact was not known to the crowd until Gallup's wife cried out to the crowd to stop firing, that her husband was dead. The citizens fearing treachery called her out and giving her a rope told her to fasten it about her husband's neck. This she did and the wholesale murderer's naked body was dragged through the streets until it was fearfully mutilated. It was finally deposited on the floor of the City Hall, where it was viewed by hundreds of people during the day. Old man Gallup and his wife were arrested and lodged in jail. The two dead men, Tine and Rice, as well as the wounded, were prominent citizens.

A Dynamiter's Attempted Revenge.

WILKESBARRE, Pa, Aug. 13.—An attempt was made early yesterday morning to blow up the residence of Mr. Collier of Pittston. While he and his wife were asleep in an upper room a charge of giant powder was placed in a hole bored in a pitch pine log. The bomb thus prepared was placed on the front porch, leaning against the house, and fired with a fuse. The explosion tore away the porch, blew in the front of the house and tore down a fence 18 feet away. Beyond a severe shock the occupants of the house were uninjured. The duties of his position make Mr. Collier unpopular with the miners, and it is believed that some one of them thought to get revenge by killing him in this way.

Shot His Sweetheart and Himself.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 13.—In Plainville, twelve miles west of this city, Saturday afternoon, Geo. Bradley, aged 23, shot his sweetheart, Lillie Potter, aged 17, and then shot himself. The affair occurred at the girl's home on Broad Street. Lillie died early yesterday morning and Bradley cannot recover.

Facts Concerning Inherited Diseases.

In the realm of disease, the facts of inheritance are most numerous, and are daily accumulating. Here they are no longer, alas, curious and amusing, but terrible, fateful, overwhelming. No fact of nature is more pregnant with awful meaning than the fact of the inheritance of disease. It meets the physician on his daily rounds, paralyzing his art, and filling him with sadness. The legend of the ancient Greeks pictured the malignant Furies pursuing families from generation to generation, and rendering them desolate. The Furies still ply their work of terror and death; but we have stripped them of the garb which superstition threw around them, and they now appear to our eyes in the more intelligible but not less awful form of hereditary disease. Modern science, which has cast illumination into so many dark corners of nature, has shed a new and still more lurid light on the words of the Hebrew Scripture: "The sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generation."

Instances of hereditary disease abound on every hand. Fully 50 per cent. of cases of gout are inherited. The proportion is not much less in that fell destroyer of families, our national scourge, consumption. Cancer and scrofula run strongly in families. Insanity is hereditary to a marked degree, but, fortunately, like many other hereditary diseases, tends to wear itself out, the stock becoming extinct. Nearly all defects of sight are occasionally inherited. Sir Henry Holland says truly that "no organ or texture of the body is exempt from the chance of being the subject of hereditary disease." Probably most chronic diseases which permanently modify the structure and functions of the body are more or less liable to be inherited. —Popular Science Monthly.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—"Civil Service Gazette."

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

NEWS FROM LONDON.

The Watch Thief Identified—City Council Proceedings.

LONDON, Ont. Aug. 14.—Detectives visited the jail yesterday and identified Symon, the man arrested with several watches in his possession, as Walters, a notorious Detroit thief, who is said to have stolen $800 worth of jewelery from Steinheroff, of that city. When arrested he claimed to belong to Toronto. The police here to-day received a telegram from Detroit, asking them to hold Walters, as the owner of the watches had been found. The prisoner declares he will not go back without fighting the case in the courts.

At last night's meeting of the city council, a communication was read from the Governor-General's secretary stating that owing to a prior engagement his Excellency was unable to accept the invitation to open the Western fair. He, however, promised to pay London a visit at the earliest opportunity. The council decided to postpone the sale of the Central school property until it is learned whether it will be required for Normal school purposes. The mayor's hotel bill during his recent illness in Toronto, amounting to $86.12, was assumed by the council. H. Pritchard and A. B. Howell were re-appointed members of London Trust.

A HANDSOME BOY

Who Turned Out Not to be a Boy—Running Away from Home.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—A Union depot detective saw a handsome, well-dressed boy of about seventeen years sitting in a particularly awkward position in the station last night. The officer had never seen a boy hold his hands in his trousers' pockets quite so ungracefully as this boy did, so he called him aside and questioned him. By dint of severe interrogation he got the boy to confess that he wasn't a boy at all, but a Grand Crossing girl, who was running away from home. She said her parents were so cruel to her that she could stand it no longer, and was going to try the world in Boston. When she was searched at the station house the matron found a first-class ticket to Boston and $40, all in silver.

It mystified the police a good deal when they discovered that nearly all the money was counterfeit. The girl refused to give any other name than Howard or to tell where her parents lived in Grand Crossing. The police have an idea that she is a member of a counterfeit gang, who has been used to put the bad money in circulation.

THE LIMESTONE CITY.

Success of the Shipments of Cotton to China—General News.

KINGSTON, Aug. 14.—The cotton which was sent from here to China paid well, and not one shipment was made at a loss. Since the mill began to manufacture for China about one half of the total product went to that country.

Some of the Scotch boilermakers quit work in the locomotive works yesterday owing to a difference with the foreman.

Alex. O'Brien, who received a dose of Paris green, while eating cabbage on Friday last, has recovered. He had a narrow escape from losing his life.

Suicided While Drunk.

MONTREAL, Aug. 14.—Yesterday morning shortly before one o'clock the steamer Berthier with an excursion, was returning from Sorel and other down river ports. A sad accident or rather what appears to have been a deliberate case of suicide, threw the many hundreds on board the boat into a state of the wildest excitement Amongst those who had gone down the river to enjoy the sea breeze and fresh country air, were two cousins, named Joseph Pilon and Ernest Gondreau, the latter being 45 years of age, and employed as night watchman at Fortier's cigar factory in this city. Gondreau has for some time past been addicted to an immoderate use of liquor, and when he boarded the Berthier last evening to return home he was noticed to be very full. At the hour above mentioned the drunken man, who was in the forward part of the ship, was seen to make a race to the side and deliberately throw himself into the river. The steamer was immediately brought to and also a boat, manned with four sailors, was in the water in a very short time, but the efforts to find Gondreau proved unavailing. The pilot states that at the time the unfortunate man went over the ship's side he felt a jar, as if some object had struck the paddles of the steamer, and this may account for the fact that the deceased did not come to the surface after first going down.

A Double Disaster on the Erie.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The eastbound freight on the Erie railroad was wrecked yesterday morning near Shohola. The engineer, fireman and conductor were injured. Express train No. 2 from the west crushed into the wreck shortly after, the engine, one car of horser, the baggage and mail cars, smoker and one day coach were thrown down an 50-foot embankment. The cars caught fire and burned, but all the passengers were rescued. Fireman Alex. Newman was caught in the wreck and slowly burned to death. A large number of persons were injured, some fatally. Fourteen horses were cremated. The horses were mainly the property of Fred. Gebhards. Mat. Storms was in the car with the horses and will probably die of his injuries. The horses were valued at $100,000. They were shipped from Long Branch on Saturday.

Fire at Smith's Falls.

SMITH'S FALLS, Aug. 14.—Early yesterday morning a fire was discovered in Mr. Taylor's stable, which is in the rear of one of the principal blocks of the town. The fire had made considerable headway before it was seen, and spread rapidly to the several storehouses which surrounded it. The loss is heavy: Mrs. Taylor, stables and outbuildings, $500; Miskelly & Begley, $600; Percival & Gaig, $600; Alex Allan, $300; Leach Bros., $1000; J. Gile, $700; B. Fitzmaurice, $300; Lockwood & Minor, $200. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Supposed to Have Jumped Overboard.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—On Thursday Aug. 9, about 3.30 p. m., Mr. G. W. Carpenter, a saloon passenger on the steamer Arizona, was found to be missing. He is supposed to have jumped overboard.

CHAMBERLAIN---PARNELL.

REPLY TO THE IRISH LEADER'S RECENT LETTER.

The Birmingham Member's Version of the Matters in Dispute—He Thinks There is Nothing in Parnell's Communications of Which the Latter Need be Ashamed.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Mr. Chamberlain's reply to Mr. Parnell's recent letter is published this morning. Mr. Chamberlain says: "Pressure of work prevented my replying to Mr. Parnell earlier. I find difficulty in ascertaining what is now the issue between us. Previous to the appearance of his letter I understood that he denied that Mr. O'Shea had any authority to represent his views, and that he repudiated all responsibility for the scheme of a National Council submitted to me by Mr. O'Shea. Now I gather that what Mr. Parnell intended to repudiate was all cognizance or approval of what he calls my plan. This plan was really a suggestion contained in a short paragraph of a confidential letter addressed to an old personal acquaintance, and since, with my permission, shown to a few gentlemen in Ireland. The idea was never worked out in detail nor discussed with Mr. O'Shea. I consequently am quite ready to admit Mr. Parnell's disclaimer of any assent to it."

Mr. Chamberlain proceeds to state that "the scheme attributed to Mr. Parnell, appended to this letter, was the subject of conversation with Mr. O'Shea from the end of Nov., 1884. It was brought to me in writing by Mr. O'Shea on Jan. 18, 1885. Mr. Parnell's letters prove his authorship and also that Mr. O'Shea was a confidential expnent of his views at the time. These points, hoowever, are not disputed in Mr. Parnell's lette to The Times. The correspondence also corroborates Mr. Parnell's statement that he did not intend the proposal as a substute for an Irish Parliament.

"I understood the proposal was offered as an acceptable settlement. Though I felt that no statement made even by Mr. Parnell could bind the Irish people in future and though I believed then as now that a large and safe extension of local government would remove all practical grievances. The whole subject was fully discussed with my colleagues and was not finally rejected till May 9, 1885, when a new government was formed. I tried to learn whether Mr. Parnell adhered to his proposal.

"In the middle of July Mr. O'Shea informed me that in view of the altered state of affairs and Lord Carnarvon's speech Mr. Parnell doubted the policy of encumbering the Irish question wi h a larger extension of local government to Ireland than to England. Upon this point I don't think there is any conflict in the testimony of myself and Mr. Parnell. The question of the renewal of the Crimes Act was discussed simultaneously with the foregoing. In the spring of 1885 Mr. O'Shea brought me Mr. Parnell's revised Coercion Act of 1882. I find on an inspection of the document that the following clauses remain as constituting the bill. Mr. Parnell had no serious objection to the then clauses 4 and 5, the first being altered by the transfer from clause 1 of the definition of offence—excluding, however, treason and treason-felony. These are the special jury clauses; clause 6, change of venue; clause 15, alien clause; clauses 15 and 17, private enquiries; clauses 19 and 20, compensation for murder and injuries to be levied on the district in which the offences are committed; clause 24, omitting the first sub-section; clause 29, clause 30, omitting the first 3 sub-sections, clause 31, clause 35 with an inconsequential omission; clause 36, clause 37 with an amendment limiting the duration of the Act to one year."

Mr. Chamberlain says that in the course of subsequent conversations he told Mr. O'Shea he was of the opinion that no Government could dispense with some provision against boycotting and intimidation. This point was much discussed. "I understood that if the Act was limited to a year, Mr. Parnell would consent to more stringent provisions than if extended to three years. I therefore pressed this limitation strongly upon the other members of the Government. In conclusion I may say that neither at this time nor subsequently has it appeared to me that there was anything in these communications of which Mr. Parnell has cause to be ashamed. I believed then that he was sincerely anxious to see the end of the dangerous agitation that had so long distracted Ireland. It was with this object that I understood him to propose a compromise between the views of the separatist party and the existing system and I readily accepted the statement made to me of his attitude as entirely consistent with what I knew of it myself, especially with his offer to Mr. Gladstone after the Phœnix-park murders to return from Parliament and abandon politics. I have always entertained the conviction that one of the most serious difficulties in the government of Ireland has been the isolation of the Castle and the want of a confidential interchange of opinion between the Parnellites and the Government and I must express my great regret that this difficulty has been rather increased than diminished by the experience of myself and others who have in recent years endeavored to overcome it."

More Libel Suits.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Star says that T. P. O'Connor, its editor and a member of Parliament for Liverpool, and Mr. John Redmoud, M.P. for Wexford, have entered actions for libel against The Times in the English Court of Queen's Bench. The Parnellite members of Parliament have determined to apply to the commission of enquiry for the appointment of a special commission to go to America for the purpose of inspecting certain documents.

The Times Profoundly Astonished.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Times says it is profoundly astonished at the step Mr. Parnell has taken in bringing suit against it in the Scotch Courts. It says that whether his action is seriously meant or only designed to waste time and money, the work of the Parliamentary Commission of inquiry will be unaffected.

LIBERALS AT OAKVILLE.

The Picnic of the Young Men's Liberal Club Yesterday.

OAKVILLE, Aug. 14.—A political demonstration and picnic was held here under the auspices of the Young Men's Liberal Club of Toronto. About 600 or 700 people came out from Toronto, and there was also a considerable delegation from Hamilton, so that about 2000 people gathered under the grateful shade of the trees in George's Grove to listen to the speeches.

Mr. John Waldie, the Liberal candidate for Halton, where, by-the-way, there will be an election a week from to-day and political excitement runs high, took advantage of the opportunity to address the picnickers. He was followed by Mr. Rymal, ex-M. P., and Mr. Awrey M. P. in support of Mr. Waldie's candidacy. Hon. Wilfrid Lanrier and Sir Richard Cartwright spoke for about an hour each, devoting their remarks chiefly to advocacy of the policy of Unrestricted Reciprocity with the United States.

Capt. Jack Williams swam from Alton to St. Louis, 25 miles, in 8 hours yesterday with his hands bound to his side and his legs strapped together.

A Scott Act Violator Missing.

NAPANEE, Aug. 13.—Sandford Johnston, proprietor of the Campbell House, was before Police Magistrate Daly charged with violation of the Scott Act. This was the third offence, which means jail. He did not appear but was found guilty, and will be sentenced on Saturday if he turns up, which is not likely.

THE DEADLY VOLCANO.

Destructive Eruptions of Bandai-Tan—176 Bodies Recovered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 14.—The steamer "City of Sydney," which has just arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama, brings Japanese journals containing particulars of a volcanic eruption of Bandai-Tan. On the morning of July 15 the smaller Bandai-Tan trembled and roared violently, almost immediately afterwards ashes began to fall and the sky suddenly grew dark and the rumbling sounds continued, accompanied by a violent earthquake and flare of dazzling flame. The crest of the smaller Bandai-Tan appeared to be lifted bodily upwards and then to fall again with a tremendous noise, then followed showers of red mud mingled with large stones and above the mud fell a few inches of ashes. In the five villages of Iwase, Yosan, Wa-Kamiya, Misato and Hibara, the greater part of the houses were buried to a depth of from seven to twenty feet. The state of the bodies recovered is terrible. It is scarcely possible to distinguish between men and women. A few corpses were found suspended in the branches of trees which had caught them as they fell. Up to July 17, the number of bodies recovered is 476. It is believed that 81 are still entombed, and the wounded number 41. Eighty-seven houses have been destroyed.

A CASE OF THREE BLACK CROWS.

Is What the Alleged Manitoba Conspiracy Turns Out to Be.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 13.—The conspiracy said to exist to upset the Greenway Government appears to be another case of "three black crows." It is said that the report arose out of Beaton's letter to Sefton, M. P. P., for Brandon, which contained playful allusions to current politics.

Four of the persons charged with conspiracy interviewed Premier Greenway today when the Premier denied that the Government made any accusation against them.

The Free Press to-day says that the railway contract must be materially modified before it will be satisfactory. The chief engineer of the Northern Pacific is expected to-morrow to inspect the work done.

It is now alleged that the Government will receive the united French support, and that A. E. Martin will be speaker.

Hon Mr. Dewdney will be banqueted on Sept. 7, at Regina.

Lunatics from the Territories, inmates of the Selkirk Asylum, are being removed to the Stony Mountain Penitentiary.

RUN OVER BY A CARRIAGE.

Fatal Accident to a Canadian at Buffalo—The 13th Band Concert.

BUFFALO, Aug. 13.—Thos. A. Struthers, whose people live in Fort Erie, Ont., was struck and run over by a carriage on Wells-street last night. He died a few minutes after having been conveyed to the hospital.

Henry Krainer, aged 21, was drowned by the capsizing of a boat in which he and two companions were rowing.

An unknown man about 50 years of age fell into the Welland Canal yesterday and was drowned.

Two excursions arrived in the city to-day with a large number of Canadians. The Thirteenth Battalion Band which gave a concert in the Music Hall this evening, was with them and this afternoon marched up Main-street, making a fine appearance.

ST. THOMAS TIDINGS.

Funeral of the Late Registrar—A Suit for Damages.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 14.—A. R. Mill was relieved of his pocketbook, containing $27, by a pickpocket on Saturday evening.

The funeral of the late Archibald McLachlin, which took place yesterday afternoon, was one of the largest ever witnessed in the city.

Crothers & Crothers, solicitors for Jacob Hoffman, yesterday issued a writ against Chas. Small, a resident of Springfield, claiming $1000 damages for assault. The assault is alleged to have taken place in Springfield on the 16th of July last, when Small kicked Hoffman in a brutal manner, breaking a number of ribs and otherwise injuring him, from the effects of which he could not attend to his business and incurred heavy medical expenses, and for which he now claims damages.

Arrested for Carrying a Revolver.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Della Mofiarty, a passenger on the steamer City of Chicago which arrived at Queenstown to-day from New York, was arrested by the Queenstown authorities for concealing and trying to take ashore a revolver and 100 rounds of ammunition. The weapon and ammunition belonged to Edward Fitzgerald, another passenger, who was also arrested. He had given them to the woman to take ashore under the impression that there would be less fear of detection than if he carried them himself.

A Schooner Runs Amuck.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 13.—During the northerly gale prevailing yesterday morning a small schooner rigged boat containing four persons capsized and Arthur Parkes, a boy about 14 years old, was drowned. The large schooner, W. J. Suffel of Port Hope, Ont., was driven into the harbor before the gale with all sail set. She ran into the fleet of the Rochester Yacht Club lying at its regular anchorage, doing serious damage.

Burglary at Blyth.

BLYTH, Aug. 14.—Tuesday night burglars entered the store of Alderson & Elder, of this place effecting an entrance through the cellar window, and taking with them, as far as can be ascertained, goods valued at over $100. They were unsuccessful in opening the safe and only secured a few coppers that were in the till. They must have been disturbed, for they left, leaving their tools behind them.

Burglars at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 13.—The Intelligencer office and Cooper's shop in the same vicinity were entered by burglars between Saturday night and this morning. A small amount of money was taken in each place.

The last cleaning up of ore from the Richardson gold mine shows a yield of over $40 per ton. The prospects are highly favorable, as a vein of 6 feet wide and from 300 to 400 feet long has been developed.

Failure of a Halifax Firm.

HALIFAX, Aug. 14.—One of the best known and oldest wholesale grocery firms in Halifax, has suspended payment. The cause of the suspension is said to be the refusal of the Halifax Banking Company to grant further advances. The firm's liabilities are reported to be between $125,000 and $150,000.

Blaine's Progress.

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—Mr. Blaine's progress through Massachusetts is a great ovation. Speeches were made at several points to immense crowds, in which Mr. Blaine held up as as the dominant issue the question of protection, and contends that the Democrats should be arraigned as conspirators against the welfare of laboring men.

Charles Crocker, the Pacific railroad magnate, is reported to be dying.

Is the "Dark Secret" Lost.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Captain of the yacht Stranger, which has arrived at Queenstown from Boston, says he did not see the dory Dark Secret. He thinks the dory foundered in a gale after speaking a German Lloyd steamer 500 miles from New York.

THE FISHERIES DEBATE.

MR. CALL RESUMES THE DISCUSSION OF THE TREATY.

The Florida Senator Maintains Canada's Right to the Inshore Fisheries—The Senate Adjourns Without a Vote.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Senate resumed consideration of the Fisheries Treaty yesterday and was addressed by Mr. Call (Dem., Fla.) in support of its ratification. He argued that Mr. Sherman's contention that the great bays on the Canadian coast were high seas and public property would apply to the open-sea fisheries of Florida, between Key West and the mainland and to the coasts of Alaska and the Northwest, and would amount to a surrender of territorial possession and jurisdiction over all that vast line. To his mind a treaty which asserted a jurisdictional power and right over these waters was to be commended as establishing a principle more important than the enjoyment of the inshore fisheries of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. He said that the United States was great and powerful but only so long and so far as it conformed to right, to justice, to humanity in its relations with other nations. He declared he would not be willing to grant commercial rights in Florida waters to foreign fishing smacks and he was not willing that Canada should be retaliated against for taking that position. The effect of the proposed retaliation was to make people in the United States pay two prices for the fish they used. He regarded the pending treaty as fair and just and proper.

The presiding officer (Mr. Cockrell) announced the question to be on Mr. Morgan's motion to postpone the consideration of the treaty till December next, and asked if the senate was ready for the question.

Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.): "On that motion I call for the yeas and nays."

Mr. Gray (Dem., Del.) said that before the vote was taken he desired to say something on the matter. It had become evident on the Republican side of the chamber that the treaty was not to be ratified at this session. The Senate had been told in a more or less peremptory tone that it was not only to be rejected, but was to be rejected to-day. The treaty was being discussed in the very midst of an excited political campaign and Democratic senators had been told they were arguing the British side of the case. Why should consideration of the treaty not be postponed? Why should not those influences that come from the sober second thought and from the absence of extraneous influences and excitement be involved? The issues involved were momentous and the consequences that might arise were too grave to be lightly dealt with. The fishermen whose rights were the subject matter of the treaty, were pursuing their avocations now unmolested under the protocol attached to the treaty. The burden was on those who denied that the postponement should be made to give some good, strong and broad reason for their opposition. Mr. Gray then proceeded to criticise a published letter purporting to be from Mr. C. L. Woodbury, which stated that the 12th article of the treaty gave away the rights of the States to control their territorial waters. He declared this was an absolutely fatuous argument, that it was unlawyerlike and nonsensical and he did not believe that Mr. Woodbury had ever risked his high professional reputation by such an argument. He asserted that the claim of Canada over its bays was as absolute as the claim of Maryland to jurisdiction over Chesapeake Bay. These waters were as much a part of the local jurisdiction as the solid ground covered by cornfields and houses. The pending treaty came to the Senate ermined with the justice and magnanimity which should belong to a great people. It surrendered nothing and asked nothing which a proud and free people should not ask.

Mr. Beck (Dem., Ky., referred incidentally to the duty on bessemer steel by which he said Mr. Carnegie had been given a bonus of $1,500,000 so that he could carry on his carriage throughout Scotland the Warwick of the Republican party who had now come back to this country, to belittle all the rest of the Republicans.

Mr. Gray again resuming complimented Mr. Sherman on the statesmanlike exordium of his recent speech, but said that when he got down from the plane of statesmanship to that of partisanship he flounder-ed. Concluding Mr. Gray said that if the treaty should be rejected and the annoyances to American fishermen should be renewed the responsibility would fall on those who voted to reject the treaty.

Mr. George (Dem., Miss.) read from The Boston Herald the report of a meeting of the Deep Sea Assembly Knights of Labor, held at Gloucester, at which resolutions were passed protesting against the fish trust and favoring competition as the only remedy. He asked Mr. Hoar if The Herald report of the meeting might be relied upon.

Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.) said that there were a great many things in that paper that would very much mislead anybody, but tit would not publish a narrative of facts which it did not believe to be entirely true. Continuing, he said the picture which the assemblage of Gloucester Knights of Labor had drawn of the fisheries and the fishery interests and of the laboring men and capitalists of Massachusetts was a slander and devoid of truth. Mr. Hoar then made some pointed allusions to Senator George and the latter rose to reply, but on the motion of Mr. Beck the Senate adjourned.

DESTROYED BY ABYSSINIANS.

A Force of 350 Italians Auxiliaries Cut Off by Treachery.

ROME, Aug. 14.—An official despatch received from Massowah contains the following startling intelligence: 350 auxiliary troops under the command of Italian officers have been destroyed by Abyssinians. The killed included all the officers. An attack was being made by the auxiliaries upon Teganeti. The catastrophe was due to treachery on the part of native allies who joined the enemy during the fighting.

Uncle Sam After Cuba

MADRID, Aug. 14.—The Cuban Government reports that an agitation is being carried on in Cuba with the assistance of influencial American politicians in favor of the annexation of Cuba to the United States. The Cuban situation is becomming extremely difficult owing to the financial troubles and the increase of agitation in favor of home rule.

A Family Row.

HAMILTON, Aug. 14.—Joseph McMahon, living at 310 John-street north, has been arrested on a warrant charging him with assaulting and wounding with intent to kill his wife, Margaret. The circumstances of the case will not, it is thought, bear so serious an interpretation. The parties are in the habit of drinking and quarrelling, and on this occasion during a row on Saturday McMahon hit his spouse on the back of the head with a knife.

Gen. Von Moltke on the Retired List.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Gen. Von Moltke has been placed on the retired list of the army, Gen. Von Waldenze succeeding. Emperor William has written Gen. Von Moltke a gracious and affectionate letter, nominating him as President of the country's defences.

While attempting to ascend the Dent Du Midi, two Englishmen fell over a precipice and one of them was seriously injured. The other has not been found.

THE GAME LAWS.

In order to prevent breaches of the law by and prosecution of parties who might offend through ignorance, says the Belleville Intelligencer, we herewith present Judge Jellett's synopsis corrected in accordance with the act passed last session, and with details which were omitted, supplied. The provisions of the law are now as follow:

The only season during which the following game may be hunted, taken or killed is as follows:

Deer.—15th October to 20th November. Moose, elk, reindeer or caribou may not be killed before Oct. 15th, 1895. The number of deer which may be killed or taken alive in any one season, prior to 1895, is limited as follows: One person, 5; two persons hunting together or from one camp or rendezvous, 8; three persons, as before, 12.

Partridges—1st September to 1st January.

Woodcock—15th August to 1st January.

Snipe, rail and golden plover—1st September to 1st January.

Ducks of all kinds and all other waterfowl—1st September to 1st January.

Geese -1st September to 1st May.

Hare—1st September to 15th March.

The above dates are inclusive.

These may be exposed for sale for fifteen days after expiration of time for killing. No eggs to be taken or destroyed at any time. No traps, nets or snares, baited lines or similar contrivances to be used. These may be destroyed by any person without liability. No contrivances described or known as batteries, swivel-guns, sunken punts or night lights to be used for killing wild fowl.

Fur-bearing animals may be only taken, hunted or killed as follows:—

Beaver, mink, muskrat, sable, martin, otter or fisher—1st November to 1st May. Nor shall any trap or snare or other contrivance be set for them outside this season. Nor shall any muskrat house be cut, speared, broken or destroyed at any time. Any person may destroy such traps, snares, etc., so set, without any liability.

N. B.—No poison to be used in killing the animals named, and no poisoned bait to be exposed in any locality where dogs or cattle may have access to the same.

No deer-dog to run at large from the 15th November until the 15th October.

Foreigners must not hunt, take or kill deer in Ontario, except as follows:—Shareholders in an incorporated company, on the grounds of such company, or who obtain from the Commissioner of Crown Lands a permit at the cost of $10, and under the restrictions above quoted.

Deer may not be exported.

The penalties imposed by the Act are as follows:—In case of deer, elk, moose, reindeer or caribou, not exceeding $50 or less than $5, with costs, for each offence; birds or eggs, $25 to $5; fur-bearing animals, $25 to $5; other branches of the Act, $25 to $5; foreigners $20 to $10; exceeding number of deer, $20 to $10.

In default of immediate payment of fine and costs the defendant may be imprisoned in the county gaol for not more than three months.

The accused shall be competent and compellable to give evidence.

Convictions shall not be quashed for want of form.

The whole of the fine shall be paid to the prosecutor, unless the convicting justice has reason to believe that accuser and accused are in collusion for the purpose of befelitting the latter, in which case the justice may order the disposal of the fine as in ordinary cases.

MASTER OF THE "GUNNERY."

A Schoolmaster and His Novel Methods of Dealing with Refractory Pupils.

Nothing seems to have been more characteristic of Mr. Frederick W. Gunn as a schoolmaster than his punishments. They were so original, so good humored, they never wounded self-respect. They taught their lesson, but they left no sting of humiliation behind. A boy who had been guilty of rudeness was told to put on his best clothes in the evening and make a call upon a family of gentle ladies in the village. They were in the secret and would entertain him graciously, and he would go away, after a delightful evening, feeling the softening influences of good breeding without having been lectured by anybody. A too noisy boy would be sent off to take a five mile walk, ordered to hold a chip in his mouth for an hour, or to run a dozen times around the church on the green, sounding the tin dinner horn at each corner. If two small boys were caught fighting they were made to take turns sitting in each other's laps for one or two hours. If a boy were too lively in the sitting room he was sent out to pound a log with a heavy club.

Once Mr. Gunn caught a boy sprinkling a dog's face with water at the tank behind the "Gunnery." He was very fond of dogs, often having one on his lap and the other at his feet as he sat at the head of his school. He seized the boy and ducked him, just to let him know how the dog felt. A boy's birthday was always a holiday for him. When Mr. Gunn found that one of the scholars had been celebrating three birthdays within a year he kept his counsel, but the next time the genuine anniversary came round the boy celebrated it by hugging a tree for several hours. Once one of the scholars was found hugging a sign post at the fork of two roads, and saying in response to all questions: "I'm a poor, miserable sinner." Everybody knew this was under orders from the "Gunnery."

Some boys who had been robbing the apple trees of the neighbors were compelled to draw up a formal apology, bear it in procession to each owner and read to these astonished people on their knees. A boy who had stoned a cow was made to deliver a penitential oration to the whole herd in the barnyard for half an hour. One day was a very lazy one in school. Finally the laziest boy complained of being sick. "Any boy who's sick hold up his hand." More than half a dozen of them did it "in fun," which ended when the master sent them down to Mrs. Gunn to receive a strong dose of boneset tea. One Sunday morning one of the boys could not go to church because he could not find his shoes. One shrewd glance from the master's eye told him the whole story. "Take off those stockings," said he; "go down stairs and blacken your feet and go to church at once." The boy went to church—in his shoes.—New York Tribune.

New York Doubloon of 1787.

Seating the reporter at a table Mr. Proskey went to a large safe and took out one of the small drawers with which it was fitted. From this he took a little chamois skin bag containing a small brown paper package, inside of which, carefully wrapped up in tissue paper, was a large, thick, irregular gold coin, about the size of one of the largest copper cents.

"There," said Mr. Proskey, throwing it upon the table, "is a coin that is much rarer than the 1804 dollar. It is the New York doubloon, coined in 1787, and intended as a state coin. Only a very few were struck and but five are now known to exist."

On one side of the coin is a picture of the sun rising over a mountain, surmounted by the legend, "Nova Eboraca Columbia. Excelsior." Below the mountain is the word "Brasher," the name of the designer. The other side has the original form of the national motto, "Unum E Pluribus." Inside of this is an heraldic eagle, on one wing of which are the letters E. B., the designer's initials. Brasher was evidently a man who believed in advertising, and didn't intend to let the designer's name be forgotten. It is worth about $500. The last one that was sold, which was not nearly as fine a specimen as this, went for $507, and subsequently for $527. It had been held in an old Maryland family ever since it was coined. If this piece only had the reputation of the 1804 dollar it would be worth a great deal more money."—New York World.

The Musquito Man's Friend.

A lecture was recently delivered at Madras, India, on that interesting and familiar pest, the musquito. The lecturer, Mr. H. Sullivan Thomas, asserts that it is only the female musquito that does the biting. He considers the musquito a most useful pest, seven-eighths of its existence being devoted to the service of men and only one-eighth to their annoyance. It exist in the larval state twenty-one days, and during that period engages in sanitary work with ardor and thoroughness. Wherever there is dirty water, wherever there is a filthy drain, there the musquito larvæ are to be found in hundreds, voraciously devouring the contaminating matter.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

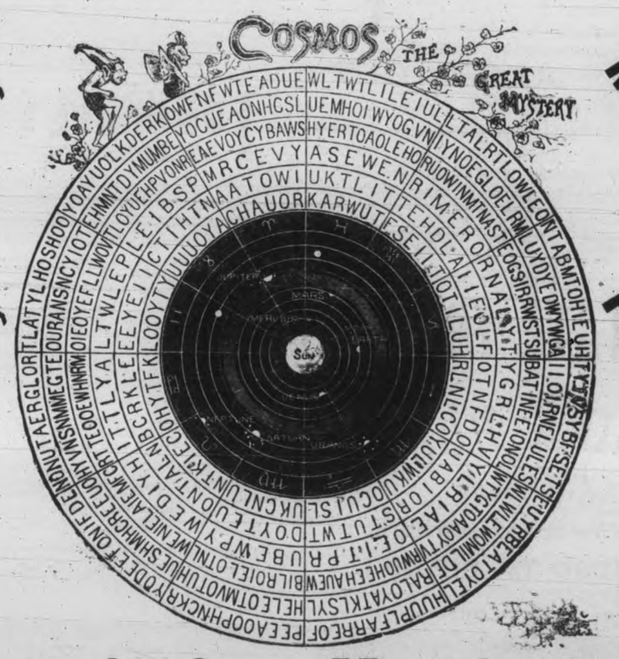
176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10.00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00

2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!



We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

GOUGH BROS.

THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN, 377, GEORGE STREET.

WHAT IS IT?

MARVELOUS, WONDERFUL, MYSTERIOUS, PROFOUND,

It Is One of the Great Marvels of the World

It is called "Cosmos, the Great Oracle of Human Destiny," and something remarkable, and is creating great interest among scientists at the present day. The above cut is a fac-smile of a stone excavated from the Temple of Truth (so called) in Athens Greece, in the year, 1527, and placed in the British Museum in London, Eng.

This stone has been noticed without doubt by many residents of this town who have visited the museum. It stands in the "Corridor of Wonders.

The letters appearing on the cut above are in Hieroglyphics on the original stone, but were translated some years ago by Prof. Bartlett of the Howard University, who discovered that they had a hidden meaning, and there are positive proofs that the stone is thousands of years old, and formed part of the belief of the Chaldeans of Persia who were great astrologists, and from which our present knowledge of astronomy is mostly derived.

This wonderful combination of letters arranged in circles around the solar system will, in connection with the key discovered by Prof. Bartlett to read it by astonish and amaze you with the phenominal accuracy with which it answers questions that anyone may ask in regard to Business Enterprises, Love, Money matters, Destiny, and what every young lady and gentlemen who reads this advertisement is just dying to know about Love and Marriage. It is bound to create a sensation outside of the serious import which the replies of "Cosmos" gives. There is lots of fun and amusement in it, for the home circles, and as a parlor game, it will produce what we will call original fun in abundance. Everybody should have one.

We have been to large expense to obtain the copper plate to print copies of the letters on the wonderful stone for distribution, and although copies of Cosmos on handsome placques are being sold in the large cities for $1.00 each, we purpose as a novel way of advertising and as is our custom when we have anything good and interesting to do it in a liberal way, and to give the entire populace an opportunity to secure one. We shall give one copy with the directions to read it by free to each purchaser of any article in our store for the next 60 days, after which they will not be given free. No doubt thousands of people will avail themselves of this opportunity, but we have enough to supply the demand. Obtain a "Cosmos" and send one to your friends out of town and it will please them as much as though they had found a $10.00 bill. Ask for "Cosmos" at the store of Services Recognized.

At the regular meeting of Peterborough Lodge No. 64, Sons of England, held on Monday evening, the following resolution was unanimously adopted by a standing vote:—"Moved by Bro. F. Brownscombe, W.V.P., seconded by Bro. F. L. Somerville, W. T., and Resolved,—That a most hearty vote of thanks be, and the same are hereby tendered to our Worthy President, Bro. Wm. Brundrette, for his very valuable services connected with our excursion to Orillia and Couchiching on July 21st, and desire to place on record, proof of our due appreciation of his successful efforts."

A Little Unpleasantness.

A man, whose name could not be learned, made himself worse than a nuisance at the Riverside Park yesterday during the progress of the lacrosse match. He was pretty well intoxicated, just enough so to be contrary, and persisted in collecting a crowd, thus interfering with play. The police of Peterborough do not make arrests in Ashburnham and the officer of that village was not to be found. The referee, Mr. H. Phelan, finally forcibly demonstrated to this man that the game was not to be delayed or interfered with. The simplest way to avoid such occurrences is to keep individuals of this character outside the gates.

The Great Contest.

The Toronto Empire says:—"Jake Gaudaur is not only speedy in sculling, but also rapid in his ordinary movements. He rowed at Baltimore on Thursday evening and on Saturday evening arrived in Toronto. His object in coming this way is to take part in the Sturgeon Point regatta, where he will meet O'Conner, Lee and Wise, and have an opportunity of finding out by just how much he 'out classes' the first named. The race at Sturgeon Point will be a great struggle for reputation. If O'Conner wins, Gaudaur will have to acknowledge that the former is somewhere near that exalted class to which he and Teemer belong, while if he (Gaudaur) cross the winning line first he will have maintained his reputation and secured the handsome sum of $250."

The Toronto Excursionists.

Many of those who came to Peterborough on the Foresters excursion from Toronto on Monday went over the river to see the lacrosse match or the cricket match and others spent the time in seeing the town. In Inverlea Park a programme of sports was carried out under the auspices of the visitors. Owing to the other attractions in field sports there was not a large attendance at the Inverlea games, but the programme was a very good one. Races, for young men and old men, young ladies and women, boys and girls found a place on the programme, and many of them were interesting and amusing. Several boys and girls of the town entered the contests and won a place among the prize winners. The sports were concluded at about four o'clock, and those who had witnessed them wended their way down town again. The visitors departed for home at about 7 o'clock after, apparently, having had a pleasant day.

The Brock-st. Bride Tender.

The Street and Bridge Committee met last evening and transacted a little business. The contract for the mason work on the bridge on Brock-st. over the creek was awarded. There were six tenders presented and that of Mr. John Hayes was accepted at $16.75. The lowering of the Hunter-st. bridge was considered and referred to the town engineer and some practical stonemason to be reported upon. No other business of importance came up.

Excursion To-morrow.

To-morrow morning at 8:20 o'clock the excursion under the auspices of the 'Prentice Boys leaves for Hastings. At that village they will be met by their brethren of Belleville and Frankford. A band and orchestra will accompany the excursion from Belleville, and music and dancing will be one of the orders of the day. A baseball match between Peterborough and Belleville 'Prentice Boys will also be played. It will no doubt be a pleasant excursion. 1d37

A Foolish Burglar.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Between Saturday night and Monday morning a burglar entered the business office of the Intelligencer and forced open the cash drawer, but only got a few cents, not half enough to pay for the labor, not to speak of the damage to the marauder's sonscience." A thief who would steal from a printing office could not have a conscience, and he must be a silly thief who would think to find swag in a printing establishment.

A Complimentary Trip.

Mr. T. P. Pearce has invited the Town Councillors and other citizens of Cobourg to take a trip over the Cobourg railway to Harwood before the railway is closed. The trip will be taken, it is expected, on Friday next, and the people of Cobourg will have a last look at the road and its Rice Lake terminus before the railway is dismantled. Mr. Calcutt has placed the steamer Golden Eye at their service, and they will dine at Idyl Wild and take a trip around the lake, visiting Peterborough's summer resort, Jubilee Point.

Notice of Visit.

Mr. P. H. Morris, from the establishment of B. Laurence & Co., the opticians of Montreal, will be at the drug store of Mr. John McKee, Peterborough, for two days only, Wednesday and Thursday, August 15th and 16th. Those requiring his services will remember the date. Mr. P. H. Morris is eminently qualified to adjust spectacles to every case where relief can be afforded, and as his visit is for the convenience of the public, no charge being made for consultation or any extra charge for the spectacles advantage should be taken of it. 5d34

Who Will Score?

Peterborough will not be without some "programme of amusements" at home on Thursday, as dry goods clerks and the druggists of the town have made arrangements to play a match on that day. They promise to show how ball is played and will probably furnish a "programme of amusements" during the nine innings. The game, which will be played on the P. A. A. A. grounds, will undoubtedly be witnessed by the major portion of those remaining in town that day as the boys mean business. The batteries will be:—Druggists, Greatrix and Hoolihan; dry goods, Armstrong and Carter. Play will be called at 2 p. m.

Which Will He Choose?

A case of a husband refusing to support his wife was laid before the police last night. The unfortunate man in the case has been on a prolonged spree, and as a result, has contributed nothing towards the support of his wife and child for some time past. The wife swore out a warrant and the negligent husband spent that night in the cells. At the Police Court this morning Police Magistrate Edmison gave him some advice, which, if followed, will bring peace and happiness to the disturbed household, but which, if unheeded, will prove to be the introductory remarks to a six months' sentence.

Nearly Drowned.

The Port Hope Guide says:—"A gentleman on his way to Lindsay got off the Montreal boat on Monday morning, at about one o'clock, the night being fearfully dark, and when nearly opposite Wright & Co's office he got off the path, walked into the water and came near being drowed. He happened to have a car whistle attached to his vest, which he was able to blow and hold with one hand to a projection on the pier until help came. He was nearly exhausted when rescued and taken to the Royal Hotel, where he was rubbed and put to bed. He lost his valise, money and hat—the hat was recovered. He went north by the eleven o'clock train."

CRICKET.

The Hamilton and Peterborough Teams Meet—The Visitors Win.

A match between the above clubs came off here yesterday and resulted in a win for Hamilton by 39 runs in the first innings, a result due in a great measure to the superiority of their fielding, in which department every one of the team was an adept. The soft state of the ground was against both Logan and Day in the bowling line, but as the wicket dried out they were much more successful, the second innings of Hamilton being much shorter in duration than the first. Taking the teams all through, we think that the home team is a better all round batting team, their bowling is at least equal to that of the strangers, but as said before the fielding of the latter is greatly the superior. Hamilton batted first and Gillespie and McGuerin treated the spectators to a very fine batting display for their scores. Both met the bowling with a very straight bat and kept the balls well down. With the exception of Stinson, who got 28 in good shape, none of the others did much, the tail cutting up very badly.

When the home team went to bat three good wickets fell for less than a dozen runs. Stratton and Ray revived the drooping spirits of the spectators, but Ray was clean bowled at 38, and before many more had been added Stratton had the bad luck to be bowled off his pads. Both men had played good steady cricket for their runs. With the exception of Macdonald, whose score was got in good form, no one else did much till the last two men, Parker and Pearson, came together. These two not only saved the follow on but put on 20 runs besides, their cricket being invaluable just then.

The Hamiltons were not nearly so successful in their second venture, the bowling and fielding of Peterborough being much better. In this innings it will be seen that Logan secured six wickets for 41 runs, Gillespie again showed fine cricket and was well backed up by Martin, Southam and Stinson.

Before the call of time Peterborough lost 2 wickets for 14 runs, Baker's ill-luck pursuing him once more. The following is the score:—

Mr. Bird and Mr. Cook got their selections at 8⅝c., and Mr. Leary the balance, excepting Bobcaygeon, Mariposa, Clear Lake, Minden and Little Britain, at his bid of 8¾c.

The last half of July make was not boarded, but Mr. Cluxton bid 8⅝c. for Peterborough factories and Mr. Leary 8¾c. for Victoria. There were no sales of these cheese, and the Board adjourned for one week.

THE ONTARIOS DEFEATED

The Riversides win from the Toronto Team by Two Goals.

The attendance at Riverside Park yesterday afternoon to witness the game of lacrosse between the Ontarios, of Toronto, and the Peterboroughs was fairly large considering the threatening aspect of the weather up to the time of facing the ball. Those who attended, however, witnessed a fine exhibition of the national game, and during its progress grew quiet enthusiastic over the play.

The men lined up and walked to their positions shortly after three o'clock, and according to agreement were to play until five. When the clock struck five the Peterboroughs had succeeded in putting the ball between their opponents' goal twice, while the latter had not been successful in scoring.

The Ontarios played a good game of lacrosse, but the home team played a better. There were many hot scrimmages which afforded the spectators plenty of opportunities to give vent to their feelings, which were greatly elated after the Peterboroughs had scored their first game. There was comparatively little rough playing, although in the last forty minutes the Toronto men pressed their opponents hard, but the defence of Peterborough's was admirable, and Joe Phelan in goal did splendid work. It was during this last effort that "Brig." Larone received a slash over the arm which disabled him. Otherwise there were no injuries received on either side. Every man on the Peterboroughs played a good game, although the crowd, as usual, had their favorities. Mr. Harry Phelan acted as referee, and filled the bill to the satisfaction of all. The names of the men and their positions were as follows:—

RIVERSIDES.	ONTARIOS.
Joe. Phelan	Goal — Ashenhurst
Joe. Joyal	Point — McCullough
A. Rose	Cover Point — R. Cheyne
A. Butler	1st Def. Field — Wheeler
T. Mugher	2nd " " — Campbell
M. Halpin	3rd " " — Kennedy
F. Larone	Centre — Burns
Joe. Begley	3rd Home Field — G. Cheyne
F. Packenham	2nd " " — Pape
T. Duncan	1st " " — Rose
T. Isbister	Outside — McIlroy
E. Runtsman	Inside Home — Woods
J. Coughlin	Field Captain — R. H. Burns
Rufus Stevenson	Umpire — G. V. Clementi

Upon the face off Larone got the ball and played it down to the Toronto goal. It was soon returned, however, and a short scrimmage took place in front of the home club's goal, but Phelan secured the rubber and sent it flying into the Ontario's territory. The sphere was kept flying between the two goals, neither team playing more of a defence game than the other during the first thirty minutes. The Peterboroughs then forced the Ontarios to play a defence game, Runtzman got a shot on goal, but threw wide, and the ball was sent flying up the field from a Toronto stick, but was again returned and secured by Packenham, who made a high shot on goal, the ball going beyond touch. When it was faced, Duncan secured the ball and played to Runtzman; the latter returned it to Duncan who neatly slipped it between the flags, scoring the first game for Peterborough in twenty minutes.

After a short rest the ball was faced for a second struggle. Some hot scrimmaging took place around both goals. R. Cheyne came out of a hot scrimmage around the Toronto goal with the ball and ran it down the field; he made a shot on goal but threw wild; the ball was returned up the field and captured by Packenham, who played to Begley, and the latter put it past Ashenhurst, scoring the second game in ten minutes.

In facing the third time a hard fight took place, the ball at last being thrown out by Larone, and for a few minutes it was uncomfortably near the Toronto flags, but was finally sent away up into Peterborough territory only to be immediately returned. Packenham did some pretty work, running the ball down the field. McIlroy had a nice shot on goal, but Phelan made a splendid stop and the ball was soon at a safer distance. Packenham got the ball and made a pretty drop on the Ontario flags and a hot engagement followed. The ball was at neither end of the field for any length of time until after time had been called on account of Rose getting struck, when the Ontarios rushed the game and pressed the Peterboroughs pretty hard. The defence, however, played a magnificent game and the Torontonians' efforts to score were futile and time was called without either side scoring after over forty minutes hard fighting.

Three hearty cheers were given for the defeated team. The Ontarios returned to the Queen City on the special at 7 p. m.

Mndoc Cheese Board.

The Review says:—"Fourteen hundred boxes were boarded at the weekly meeting held yesterday, but as usual no sales were made. Buyers offered 8⅝ cents for the board, and 9 cents for selections, but the factorymen decline to sell at these figures. They prefer to ship on consignment, and as a result about 3,000 boxes will be shipped from here this week on this plan."

The Forester's Call

will be heard on morning of civic holiday, August 16th, calling the merry men to join in the excursion to Toronto. The jovial band will leave by the 6.40 a.m. train via. Port Hope or by the 8.10 via Lindsay. Fare only $1.75 good to return within 2 days. Friends are invited to accompany the excursion. A right merry time is expected.

Personal.

Mr. C. G. Cody, general agent for the Midland district for Harris, Son & Co., of Brantford, is in town, looking after matters in connection with the Brantford binders.

The Rev. E. F. Torrance, M. A., of St. Paul's Church, who has been in Chicago for the past six weeks enjoying a rest for the benefit of his health, will be home this week, in time to resume his pastoral duties on Sunday next.

Mr. James Alexander left last evening for his new home, Toronto, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

Mr. J. H. Long, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, returned home this morning from a holiday trip through the Maritime Provinces and Massachusetts.

The Relief of Derry.

The streets of Lindsay were very nicely decorated with bunting and streamers on Monday, the occasion being the celebration of the anniversary of the relief of Derry. The members of King William Lodge of True Blues, of Peterborough, went to Lindsay on the morning train, arriving there about nine o'clock, and were received by their Lindsay brethren. After dinner a procession was formed, led by County Master Hughes, and in which were the officers of Lindsay District Orange Lodge, the True Blue Grand officers, the Toronto True Blue Lodges, Fenelon Falls True Blues, Peterborough True Blues, Fenelon Falls Orangemen, Omemee and Bobcaygeon Young Britons and several Orange lodges. A unique feature of the procession was a lodge of True Blues composed of young lady members, and who rode in carriages. The procession numbered about 1,000 in all, with 14 banners. After parading the principal streets they then proceeded to the Agricultural grounds, where Bro. C. Fairbairn, of Lindsay, was chosen as chairman. After welcoming the various lodges to Lindsay, especially the Ladies' True Blue Lodge, of Toronto, interesting addresses were delivered by Bros. Stinson, Sam. Hughes, H. Comee, Jas. Scott, G. Wurrell and Rev. Messrs Watch and Wilson. The Peterborough lodge returned on the evening train.

Brevities.

—A concert will be given in the Separate school grounds this evening.

—The organist of a Belleville church is absent on his wedding tour and on Sunday the choir sang "Oh Sumer, Come Home."

—Mrs. Geo. Hill, of Port Hope, fell down stairs on Sunday and broke her right arm at the wrist.

—A "wandering minstrel," in the person of a woman operating a hand-organ, was to be seen and heard on the streets to-day.

—A boy attracted considerable attention yesterday afternoon by riding a horse into the river and making it swim to wash it.

—An excursionist who came from Toronto took home with him several bundles of furniture dowls, from Forsyth's, as he said they were better than he could get in Toronto.

—At the bicycle races in Toronto on Monday, Cooper of Belleville, came in third in the half mile dash, and Cooper and Lingham, Belleville, third and fourth in the one mile handicap.

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

AID ASKED FOR AN INTERPROVINCIAL BRIDGE.

The Cornerstone of the New Cayuga Post-office to be Laid This Month—Sir John to Open the Halifax Exhibition.

OTTAWA, Aug. 13.—A deputation from Ottawa County, consisting of Alonzo Wright, M.P., Warden Cormier, Father Beauchamp and J. Conroy waited on Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, to-day with a view to obtaining assistance from the Government for a bridge across the Ottawa River at Deschere, about 3 miles below Aylmer. The idea is to construct an interprovincial bridge similar to the one built by the Government at Les Joachims rapids on the Ottawa and towards which the Local Government, of Ontario and Quebec contributed. Sir Hector promised that the matter should receive consideration, and it is probable that an engineer will be sent to make asurvey of the locality.

The date for laying the corner stone of the public building at Aylmer by Sir Hector Langevin has not yet been fixed. Sir Hector will probably lay the corner stone of the new post office at Cayuga some time this month.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell returned to the city to-day and will leave for Manitoba, the Northwest and British Columbia on Wednesday.

Hon. J. H. Pope, and Sir Adolphe Caron will probably visit the Maritime Provinces shortly.

It is expected that Sir John Macdonald will arrive in Halifax about Aug. 20 and will formally open the exhibition there. He will not return to Ottawa until early next month, very likely only a few days before the arrival of the Newfoundland delegates.

The secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association has received an intimation that British Columbia will be represented by a team at next month's matches.

A young resident of Hull named Albert Legault while playing with some companions in rear of the Eddy mills this morning accidentally fell into the water and was swept over the Chaudiere Falls. Up to a late hour last night the body had not been recovered.

Interesting Type-Writing Contest — A Family Fracas.

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—The Canadian Shorthand Society held its annual meeting yesterday. Thomas McGillicuddy was elected president; N. S. Dunlop, first vice-president; Miss M. Quinn, of Stratford, second vice-president; C. E. Stanbury, secretary. Hon. G. W. Ross spoke at the evening session. The feature of the meeting was the type-writer speed test. There were twenty entries but only ten competed.

Five operators used the caligraph, and five the Remington. The contest was witnessed by a large number of interested spectators. The gold medal was won by Miss Mae Orr, of New York. This lady operated a Remington. She averaged over 98 words a minute and her copy was remarkably clean. The next on the list was F. E. McGurrin of Salt Lake City, who up to yesterday had been the champion of the continent. He also wrote on a Remington machine and averaged 95 words a minute. The best caligraph writer was Mr. F. W. Osborne of Rochester, whose rating would have been higher had not his caligraph got out of order by which he lost time. There were three Canadians in the contest, Mrs. A. T. Henderson, Toronto; Miss M. Berry, Toronto; and G. McBride, Ottawa. The official record gives Miss Orr 987 words in ten minutes, and Mr. McGurrin 951 words in the same time. Mr. Osborne won the silver medal for speed in writing a given sentence continuously for 5 minutes.

An alarm from box 32 about 9.50 last night called the brigade to the house of Mrs. Kelly, 67 Victoria-street, where fire had broken out originating in the basement cupboard through causes unknown. The damage is estimated at $150.

The Connors family, residing on Brown's lane, celebrated the civic holiday by indulging in a fight among themselves. The result of the fracas was the arrest of Mary Connors, the wife, and her son John, and the conveyance to the Hospital of Timothy Connors, the head of the household. Timothy's condition is such as to preclude the possibility of his attendance at court to-day, his body being one mass of bruises caused by his wife and sons' affectionate attention. The police are looking for Michael, a second son of the injured man, who is credited with being as active in the assault as his brother John.

Yesterday afternoon the friends of Duncan McDougall residing at 28 Richmond-street west, reported to the police that he had not been home since August 9, and they were afraid that something untoward had happened him. After they had gone the Sergeant put on his thinking cap, and came to the conclusion that he had met Mr. McDougall somewhere recently. He turned up the Police record, and found that the missing man was in jail for drunkenness, having been sent down on the very day of his disappearance.

Mr. C. H. Forbes, grocer, corner of Murray and Caer-Howell-streets, locked up his store, yesterday afternoon, and took his family down to Balmy Beach for a drive. In his absence three young men broke into the place, but their entry being observed by a neighbor, she quickly called a passing policeman. He assisted by a cloud of residents proceeded to the store to arrest the intruders. Some he posted in the lane in rear, while others were ranged in front to cut off all escape. Just as every preparation had been made to effect the arrest, the three burglars made a dash out; broke through the cordon and made their escape with an inconsiderable booty.

The Fort Elgin Saengerfest.

PORT ELGIN, Aug. 13.—The great three days' Saengerfest began here to-day under the most favorable circumstances. The afternoon train brought 125 musicians from Berlin and Waterloo, comprising the Berlin Philharmonic Society, Berlin Academy of Music Orchestra, Waterloo Orpheus Maennerchor and leading soloist and artists, all under the leadership of Prof. Zoellner, principal of the Berlin Academy of Music. An entertainment was given to-night in the roller skating rink, which seats about 1000.

Foreign Population of Massachusetts.

Professor Munroe Smith tells us in Political Science Quarterly some most astonishing facts. Of all the population of Massachusetts only 855,491 were born of native parents, while 919,969 had foreign parents and 119,741 were born of mixed parents. That is, Massachusetts is in fact a foreign state, for 53.58 per cent. of her blood is foreign. "There are sixty-eight cities and towns in the commonwealth in which there is an excess of persons of foreign parentage. These towns have 58 per cent. of the population, while the remaining 280 towns, which contain a majority of native born parentage, represent only 41 per cent of the whole." That is, our foreign influx gravitates into towns and cities, and is largely possessed of the herd instinct. Although in Massachusetts there is the additional attraction of great factories, which open to vast numbers of foreign operatives, what is true of Massachusetts is equally true of one or two of the northwestern states. They are essentially foreign in population.—Globe-Democrat.

To Bridge the English Channel.

Beside the long mooted project of a submarine tunnel between France and England, which has been postponed to an indefinite future, there has been for several years a scheme agitated for bridging the channel between France and England by a structure of fabulous extent. This proposed railway bridge will begin at Cape Gris-nez, near Calais, and end at Folkestone. It will be nearly twenty-five miles long, and rest on seventy piers with lighthouse towers. Four railway tracks will be laid on this bridge at a height of 1,500 feet above the sea level, which will thus give direct railway communication between England and the continent, and the dreaded channel passage, which is the bugbear of sensitive travelers, will be a thing of the past. The cost of this gigantic piece of engineering, which, when completed, will be without precedent or parallel, will exceed a millard of francs.—Demorest's Monthly.

Cured by the Thermometer

The importance attached to a clinical thermometer by those in ignorance of its office approaches a superstition. They close their lips tightly upon it. Their eyes roll wildly around the room. They believe that the tube contains some mighty gas or a metal of mysterious power. "There ain't much taste to it, docther," said one of these credulous fellows, "but I s'pose it's turrible strhong." Dr. ——, who is something of a wag, encouraged the man's faith in the occult virtues of the thing, and with remarkable results. After the first "dose" the fever abated. The "treatment" was continued and the patient actually recovered, cured by thermometer, administered ter in die, without further drugging.—A. B. Ward in Scribner's.

ST. LAWRENCE CANALS.

Notice to Contractors.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for the St. Lawrence Canals," will be received at this office until the arrival of the eastern and western mails on Tuesday, the 25th day of September next, for the construction of two locks and the deepening and enlargement of the upper entrance of the Galops Canal. And for the deepening and enlargement of the summit level of the Cornwall Canal. The construction of a new lock at each of the three interior lock stations on the Cornwall Canal between the Town of Cornwall and Maple Grove; the deepening and widening the channel way of the canal; construction of bridges, &c.

A map of each of the localities, together with plans and specifications of the respective works, can be seen on and after Tuesday the 11th day of September next, at this office for all the works, and for the respective works at the following mentioned places:—

For the works at Galops, at the Lockkeeper's House, Galops. For deepening the summit level of the Cornwall Canal, at Dickenson's Landing; and for the new locks, &c., at lock-stations Nos. 18, 19 and 20, at the town of Cornwall. Printed forms of tender can be obtained for the respective works at the places mentioned.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same and further a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $5,000 must accompany the tenders for the Galops Canal Works, and a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $2,000 for each section of the works on the summit level of the Cornwall Canal; and for each of the lock sections on the Cornwall Canal a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $1,000.

The respective deposit receipts—cheques will not be accepted—must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted. The deposit receipts thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,

A. P. BRADLEY, Secretary.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15 1888.

SENATOR MORGAN TALKS.

HE FAVORS RATIFICATION OF THE FISHERIES TREATY.

And Says That the Senate is Not Wont to Make Such an Exhibition of Itself in Executive Session as It Has During This Public Discussion.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Senate resumed consideration of the Fisheries Treaty to-day, and was addressed by Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.). He expressed himself more and more impressed with the belief that the attitude in which the Government would be placed at the conclusion of these proceedings would be very embarrassing, and probably one of the greatest danger so far as the peace of the country is concerned, or at least so far as the quietness and proper progress of commercial affairs was concerned. He believed that after the treaty had been rejected by the Senate the country would again be abroad on that sea of turmoil that had so long agitated it on the Fisheries question, that renewed difficulties would be found in the way, that the American people would be found hardly in a state of preparation to receive with composure, and arguing along the line of experience he confessed that he had very serious apprehensions as to what the situation would be.

He proceeded to quote from the speeches of Republican Senators disparaging remarks on the President, the Secretary of State, the Treaty itself and Senators who advocated its ratification. Mr. Morgan spoke of Mr. Bayard as a man of splendid bearing and immaculate honor, in whose presence some American citizens esteemed themselves very highly honored. The tongue of scandal, Mr. Morgan said, had been let loose in this debate in a way which might convince the world that when the Senate sat with closed doors, nothing but the scorpion's whip was applied to the backs of American citizens who had been nominated for office or who had taken a part in negotiating treaties. He would say, however, that this open and public exhibition, induced and compelled by the necessities of the political situation, was the very first occasion that he had known such things to be said and done. He prayed God that senators would be sent back to the seclusion in which their fathers had put them a hundred years ago, when they might have an opportunity of affecting each others mind in debate by logic and argument and reasoning, instead of being forced into the dirty condition where politics led them to scatter their filth among the mobs that howl around the stump.

Much time was occupied by Mr. Morgan in reading from diplomatic correspondence on the subject of the seizure of American fishing vessels during the last half century.

In the discussion of the question of fresh fish Mr. Beck (Dem., Ky.) suggested to Mr. Morgan the fact that while the tariff bill was pending in the House no New England member had ventured to offer an amendment imposing a tax on fresh fish, and that therefore the President could not, under the retaliatory law, place an embargo on fresh fish but would have, if he intended with Canadian trade at all, to stop the subsidies paid by the Canadian railroad companies to railroad companies in Maine and Vermont.

Mr. Morgan assented to this proposition, and remarked that the New England senators and owners of fishing vessels thought that they were putting up the smartest kind of a job in trying to take the treaty-making power and the President's power to issue proclamations of non-intercourse as a means of prohibiting the introduction of free fish. It was a case of mere artifice and finesse.

When Mr. Morgan had reached in his argument the question of the protocol of 1885, arranging a modus vivendi, he said he would reserve the discussion of that and other questions till to-morrow.

The Senate then resumed consideration of legislative business.

The National League Meeting.

DUBLIN, Aug. 15.—At the regular meeting of the National League yesterday, Mr. Counsil who was chairman said that before the commission of inquiry had proceeded far in its work a decision will be obtained in the law courts to settle the fact that The Time's letters were forgerie. It would be perfectly immaterial what the result of the investigation of the Commission might be when Parnell had proved the letters forgeries.

Mr. Kenny, M.P., declared that Mr. Balfour stood at the bar of public opinion as the legal murderer of Mandeville and he was now using his tyrannous power to injure Mr. Dillon and Mr. O'Kelly. The latter, he said, had been imprisoned for telling the people to refuse to answer questions under an infamous act. If the people had not refused they would have been cowards. The last triumph of the Parnellites was the exposure of Joseph Chamberlain who by his own letter had proved up to the hilt the truth of Parnell's accusation.

An Important Question.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The mystery how the Parnell letters came into the possession of The Times, says Edmund Yates, will probably never be solved. The danger to the persons implicated, should their names be divulged, would be supreme. One may dismiss as untrue the stories current on the subject, though one of them is again revived, namely, that they were stolen from Sir William Harcourt while he was Home Secretary, and that £100 was paid for them. They probably came from different sources, for a peculiarity of nearly all Irish conspiracies has been the ease with which information can be procured after matters have got to a certain point. There are distinct statements now to the effect that the Irish party is in possession of information which leaves no doubt that the Parnell letters are forgeries, and when the time comes there will be no difficulty in proving it. It is hardly possible that The Times can be taken in, though it may prove so. They on their side are equally confident that they can prove their case. Everything must turn on the question whether they can give the names of the informants.

THE WORLD OF LONDON.

PLANS FOR THE QUEEN'S VISIT TO SCOTLAND.

The Glasgow Exhibition—Pearls and Diamonds at the Mansion House Banquet—A Bit of Gossip About Canon Liddon to be Taken with a Grain of Salt.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Queen has finally decided to travel to Scotland next week by land, although, as I have already stated, the royal yacht Victoria and Albert is going round from the Solent to the Clyde, and several members of the royal party will be conveyed to her and remain on board during Her Majesty's stay at Blythswood. The Queen will pay a state visit to Glasgow on Wednesday afternoon, travelling by rail from Renfrew to St. Enoch's station. Her Majesty will first inaugurate the new municipal buildings, when she will receive an address from the corporation, enclosed in a gold casket. Then the royal party will proceed to the exhibition, where the ceremonies are to be of a very elaborate character, beginning with a procession to the grand hall, where the Queen, standing on a dais, is to receive an address from the Executive Council, of which Sir Archibald Campbell, her host at Blythswood, is president, and the jeweled badge from the Lord Provost as a souvenir of the day. The Glasgow Choral Union will sing the national anthem and a special ode of welcome. Her Majesty will afterward visit several of the galleries and then return in procession to the principal entrance.

Half a million more visits have been paid to the Glasgow exhibition already than to the highly successful Manchester exhibition of last year during the same period—the first three months. Nevertheless, considerable less money has been taken. The receipts are over £20,000 short of the Manchester standard. The reason is that the canny Scot provides himself freely with season tickets and uses them early and often. Naturally the half-crown days have been a complete failure and have been abolished.

The accuracy of my statements about the voluminous diaries of Emperor Frederick is confirmed. All the volumes devoted to political and military comments have been given up by the Dowager Empress to the Government. She retains all those which relate to private affairs as well as the whole of her husband's correspondence, and designs at a future time to publish what she pleases, there being an implied understanding that nothing shall appear to which the Emperor or his ministers could reasonably take exception. Prince Bismarck has acted as the honest broker in bringing about this arrrangement, and has been untiring in his efforts to arrange a modus vivendi with the Empress.

The session, which has been productive of only one large measure and singularly barren of interest, has not brought forward among the rank and file of the House of Commons any man of more than average ability. None of the young members distinguished themselves, though they have had opportunities. This year the muzzled Cicero, as the Chancellor of the Exchequer called them at the Guildhall banquet last August, have been unmuzzled, but have not distinguished themselves. Only two men have increased their reputation; both Cabinet Ministers.

The suspension of the usual rule as to the duration of the Wednesday sitting at Westminster somewhat interfered with the success of the ministerial banquet at the Mansion House. Although Lord Salisbury arrived so early as almost to escape observation, Mr. Goschen and Mr. Balfour did not come till long after dinner was begun. The gathering, nevertheless, was very successful. The mistress of the robes in black velvet wore quite enough diamonds to console the city for the absence of Baroness Henry de Worms. Lady Ermintrude Malet's strings of pearls were almost as magnificent as Lady Knutsford's blue gold brocade. The Lord Chancellor gazed in rapt admiration at a bust of the Premier enthroned on the high altar among palms and lilies; Lord Granby, in excellent spirits, was accompanied by his wife in black and diamonds; George Curson, in scarlet, communicated the latest political news to Lady Brooke, and during the long wait before dinner Mr. Buckle held a whispered conference with Lord Cranbourne.

It is curious that the greatest of living English preachers has not been raised to the Episcopal bench. Though a high churchman, he is not so strongly pronounced a ritualist as to disqualify him, but, indeed, possesses nearly all the qualities of intellect and learning to single him out for such a position. He is beloved and revered by his many friends in all kinds of life. The bishopric of Salisbury was said to have been offered him by Lord Salisbury and refused, but I have good reason to know it never was. The difficulty in proposing the appointment of Canon Liddon to the bishopric has always arisen with the Queen, with whom he is not popular. The reason assigned for his not being liked by Her Majesty is that on one occasion when he preached before her she was very much displeased at his style. Canon Liddon framed his style on that of the great French preacher, and as Massillon when preaching before Louis XIV. addressed the king as "sir," so Canon Liddon in his sermon addressed the Queen as "madam." The Queen, either from ignorance or forgetfulness of the authority on which he based his sermon, was very much shocked and annoyed, and expressed herself in no measured terms. Canon Liddon never since has been commanded to preach before her.

The election to the vacant full membership of the Royal Academy will not take place till shortly after Christmas. The choice is generally supposed to lie between Messrs. Herkomer, Burgess and Gow. The election of an associate will not be held till spring.

No settlement has been arrived at of the case in which Phyllis Broughton is plaintiff and Lord Dangan defendant. Sir Edward Clarke leads for the plaintiff, and the case will be heard at the end of the long vacation. EDMUND YATES.

The Saganeti Massacre.

ROME, Aug. 14.—A despatch from Massowah says a French missionary who has arrived from the scene of the massacre at Saganeti reports that four of the Italian officers who were in command of the auxiliaries were killed. He does not know the fate of the fifth. He says that DeBebe, the Abyssinian chief, whose troops overcame the Italian command, had a force of 730 men, of whom 350 were armed with muskets. The report that the Assaortin allies proved treacherous is denied. Four hundred stragglers from the defeated column have arrived at Massowah.

The Alaska Fur Seal Fisheries.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries today commenced its investigation into the fur seal fisheries of Alaska, authorized by the House.

The Thibetan Revolt.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—A despatch from India says that there are 3,000 reinforced Thibetans in Jelopla Pass. A British force 1,800 strong, with four mountain guns is marching against them.

Chicago's New Pipe Line in Operation.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—The stream of crude petroleum, which was started from Lima, O. three weeks ago to fill the two great tanks at South Chicago, began pouring into their reservoirs shortly after midnight. The oil is now flowing at the rate of 8000 barrels per day. Each tank has a capacity of 35,000 barrels.

ONTARIO TEACHERS.

Proceedings at the 28th Annual Convention at Toronto Yesterday.

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—The twenty-eighth annual convention of the Ontario Teachers' Association was opened yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. In the temporary absence of the President, Vice-President John Miller took the chair. Mr. A. Campbell, of Kincardine, was appointed secretary to the convention. When the minutes of the last annual meeting had been read and confirmed, the president, Mr. J. H. Smith, of Ancaster, entered and relieved Mr. Miller from the duties of chairman.

The treasurer's report was presented by Mr. Wm. J. Hendry. It showed that the receipts for the year ending Aug. 13, amounted to $914. The total expenditure was $415, leaving a balance of $499.

At the afternoon session a class of little girls attended to assist Mr. A. T. Cringan, of Toronto, in his illustration of the merits of the Tonic Solfa System.

Mr. T. Arnold Haultain, M.A., Peterboro, read an essay on "The Preparation of Candidates for Teachers' Certificates." He complained that the educational system at present in vogue in Ontario was too literary in its character. The education received by pupils in the High Schools, was not, he contended, of a sufficiently practical nature. In fact, they were trained for the intellectual professions, which were overcrowded. He advocated the increase of fees in the High Schools and Colleges and the institution of more Agricultural Colleges. He believed something should be done to counteract drawing young men from the farm.

Mr. W. F. Merchant, M.A., Owen Sound spoke at some length on the "Necessity of Changes in the Constitution of the Ontario Teachers' Association, with a View to Make it a Representative Body." He recommended the adoption of the following clauses: 1 That it shall consist of the officers. 2. Of one representative for every 25 members of each Teachers' Institute. 3. All Public Model and High School Inspectors. 4. One representative from each High School, Collegiate Institute and University, and one additional representative for every four teachers over three on the staff.

Mr. Woods, London Collegiate Institute, gave notice that at the next session of the association he would move, "That in the opinion of this association additional Normal School accommodation for Ontario is urgently required."

Mr. J. W. Garvin gave notice of motion that at a subsequent session he will move, "That in view of the rapid advance in this Province of the Tonic Solfa system of vocal music, there being not less than 30,000 pupils taught daily by this method, the association holds the opinion that Tonic Solfa should be placed on the same basis in our Public and High Schools as the staff notation, and would recommend that a Tonic Solfa Reader, or series of readers, be authorized at an early date by the Education Department.

At the evening session Mr. Garrison opened the discussion on the merits of the Tonic Solfa system. He moved a resolution to the effect that the system be placed on the same footing in the curriculum of public schools as all other styles of notation. The motion was carried.

CANADIANS COMING HOME.

Britain's Trade With the Colonies—To Look into Canada's Products.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The Parisian sails on Thursday with a heavy passenger list. Sir Alexander Campbell and Hon. Mr. Mowat both return then. The other passengers include Dr. Fream, Professor of the London College of Agriculture; Henry Moore, editor of Bell's Weekly Messenger and agricultural correspondent of The Times; and Mr. Macdonald, special correspondent of The Mark Lane Express. Messrs. Fream and Moore will report upon the status of agriculture in Ontario and the North-west with a view to the rapid growth and future prospects of trade with Great Britain. Mr. Macdonald is deputed to attend all the leading fairs and pay special attention to the recent remarkable developments of the live stock trade. The reports of these eminent agriculturists will be awaited with much interest.

The Board of Trade returns show that the exports from Britain to Canada decreased 11½ per cent. during July and 15¼ per cent. during the seven months. The decrease is largely in railroad iron and worsted fabrics; the increase in horses, pig iron and bars. The imports from Canada decreased 20 1-8 per cent. during the month and 18 1-8 per cent. during the seven months. The decrease was largely in oxen, bulls, wheat, flour and lumber.

The total British exports to the colonies increased from £36,000,000 in 1887 to £40,000,000 in 1888. Imports from the colonies increased from £43,000,000 to £46,000,000.

FOR THEIR MUTUAL BENEFIT.

The Sixth Biennial Convention of the C. M. B. A. at Toronto.

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—The sixth biennial convention of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association commenced its three days' annual session in Union Hall yesterday morning. Before proceeding to business the delegates marched to St. Michael's Cathedral, where they assisted at a solemn high mass.

The sermon, which was an eloquent discourse, was preached by Rev. Father Tiernan of London. On the conclusion of the services, the delegates formed in file of two, and marched to the Union Hall, and at once entered into executive session. Mr. D. J. O'Connor, Grand President of the Grand Council, presided.

The committee on credentials reported, after which the Grand President gave his biennial address. It was listened to with profound attention, and dealt with the past history and future prospects of the association. The organization was shown to be in a most prosperous condition. The reports of the Grand Secretary, S. R. Brown of London; and Grand Treasurer, W. J. McKie of Windsor, followed, and proving satisfactory, were adopted without discussion.

In the afternoon the delegates reassembled, and listened to the reports of the representatives of the last convention to the Supreme Grand Council. The Chairman of the Grievance Committee announced that he had no grievance to report upon.

Another Dynamite Find at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—What the police think was an attempt at the wholesale destruction of property on the Burlington road was discovered yesterday morning. While traveling his beat a policeman's attention was attracted to an object on the "Q" tracks on 16th street near the viaduct. On picking it up he found that it was a gas pipe bomb containing enough dynamite to blow up an entire train. The bomb was 6 inches long and 1¼ inches in diameter, one of the largest size made by the anarchists. The police have no clue as to who placed the bomb on the track. The dynamite was almost under the viadact, and had it exploded it would have resulted in heavy loss of property if not in the destruction of life.

Mr. Parnell Thinks it will Recompense Him for the Injury Done Him by the Times

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The amount of damages which Mr. Parnell asks for in his suit against The Times is £50,000. It is surmised that when Parnell is asked to testify before the Commission he will refuse on the ground that if he gave evidence before the Commission he would prejudice his suit against The Times. The latter suit will not come up before November.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1888.

MR. LAURIER IN HALTON.

The speech of the leader of the Liberal party at Oakville was a long one. It was more; it was an eloquent speech, and we have no doubt that it was well delivered in Mr. Laurier's deliberate, polished, persuasive style. But it was not an argumentative effort. It did little to elucidate the Liberal policy or to place on a solid foundation of reasoning that portion of the policy he made known.

"What I say now," said Mr. Laurier, "I will not advance any statistics to prove." And in that he kept his word. He made the gravest statements without the shadow of proof, and built upon the unsupported assertions elaborate arguments. What graver statement could a politician, the leader of a party, make than that since confederation Canada had not advanced a single iota towards the united Dominion that had been hoped for? And this statement was bolstered up by another assertion, that Canada had not found the prosperity it had set out to obtain. Since Confederation the Northwest has been acquired, the new province of Manitoba created, the Territories prepared for settlement and large numbers of settlers received there, the Canadian Pacific railway and other railways constructed and waterways improved. The inhabited portion of the Dominion has increased. Settlements have been made in uninhabited territories, and new Provinces are following and being added to the Dominion. In nine years, since 1878, the number of post offices has increased by 2,150, and the number of letters passing through them by 30,000,000. The number of miles of railway has increased since 1875 from 4,826 to 11,691, the train mileage from seventeen million to thirty-three million, and the tons of freight carried from 5,000,000 to 16,500,000. The freight carried per head of population has increased in that time from 1.46 to 3.35 tons. The foreign trade of Canada—which Sir Richard Cartwright takes as a test of prosperity, though it is not always that—amounted last year to $41.52 per head, against $23.47 in the United States. If Canada is not prosperous, in what condition, taking Sir Richard's test as a guide, must be the United States, to which he and Mr. Laurier wish to have this country commercially united? Mr. Laurier's statement was not supported by facts, for a very good reason. Traffic returns on the Intercolonial show that an interprovincial trade has grown up and is increasing, and while this trade with ourselves has been augmented—and it is the best kind of commerce—the foreign trade of the country has also increased.

Having stated that union and prosperity was not ours, and having enlarged upon that, Mr. Laurier proposed his remedy. That is, he told us the name of it. It is unrestricted reciprocity. But he did not enlighten his hearers or the country as to the particulars of that scheme or how it was to be carried out, and neither did Sir Richard Cartwright. It would give free trade between Canada and the United States, we were told, but would we also have free trade with Great Britain? Mr. Laurier did not tell us how the free trade was to be arranged. He, however, said that Mr. Hitt, Mr. Butterworth and Senator Sherman were in favor of the free trade scheme. The two former voted against the Democratic proposals for freer trade, and Senator Sherman has told us that he favored the annexation of Canada or continental free trade to bring about that annexation. These are the United States friends of the Liberal policy.

Mr. Laurier advanced one reason why he thought unrestricted reciprocity would be beneficial to Canada, and that was because the old reciprocity treaty was beneficial. It was, but what reason is there for believing that continental free trade would make produce as scarce across the lines as it was when the men of that country were fighting instead of producing? Or how would it procure for farmers the war prices that prevailed during the Crimean war and the civil strife in the States? Besides, a plethora of United States manufactures were not admitted then to injure the Canadian home market and trade with Great Britain was not injured by discrimination against her manufactures or a combination with the United States against her, as is now proposed by the Liberals.

As a polished and eloquent speech, Mr. Laurier's effort may be called a success. As an important deliverance by a statesman it was a failure. His party and its policy can scarcely be any better for it.

A London contemporary thinks the idea, advanced by the Week, that in some districts physicians should receive a subsidy is not a Utopian one. It is not. In the rear municipalities of this county the township council has made a yearly grant to a physician. The people may, in most cases at any rate, be able to pay the physician when they need his aid, but the population being small and scattered it would not pay him to remain. By acting together through the municipal council the people retain his services. That was the practice, and it may be still, but at anyrate it shows that the idea is not impracticable.

A United States paper calls upon the French-Canadians to vote against Cleveland because he did not interfere to save the American citizen, Louis Riel. It would be poetic justice if those people of the United States who showed sympathy with the rebellion should have the "Riel question" in their politics.

Long letters are appearing in Toronto papers regarding the use of the lash as a punishment for criminals convicted of having assaulted girls. The publication of many of the letters will do no good. And public sympathy will not be aroused to any great degree for such criminals if they are lashed even more severely than was the one whose case gave rise to the discussion. One good man objects to the publication of accounts of such punishments, but if they were not published the punishment would not act as a deterrent on other brutes.

Having made up their minds to reject the Chamberlain treaty why do not the United States senators take a vote upon the question, and cease talking nonsence? —Ottawa Free Press.

No doubt the Liberals would have been as well pleased if Senator Sherman had not spoken favorably of continental free trade because he wished for annexation.

The kingdom of Hawaii has set a good example to larger and more powerful nations. It has reduced its army to a peace footing—and the army now consists of sixty-five men and a band.

The United States free trade papers are arguing in favor of free raw material, but not manufactured products, and are thus preaching good protectionist sermons.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little suffer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, it soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Everywhere one enquires in Toronto as to who is in reality the producer of the best Art Stained Glass in that city. The reply is unanimously in favor of Jos. McCausland & Son. All of the finest residences in Toronto, and most of those throughout Canada, have delightful examples in some form or other from this firm.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5

508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8

238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10,00 worth $18.00

327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00

2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

WHAT IS IT?

It is called "Cosmos, the Great Oracle of Human Destiny," and something remarkable, and is creating great interest among scientists at the present day. The above cut is a fac-smile of a stone excavated from the Temple of Truth (so called) in Athens Greece, in the year, 1527, and placed in the British Museum in London, Eng.

This stone has been noticed without doubt by many residents of this town who have visited the museum. It stands in the "Corridor of Wonders.

The letters appearing on the cut above are in Hieroglyphics on the original stone, but were translated some years ago by Prof. Bartlett of the Howard University, who discovered that they had a hidden meaning, and there are positive proofs that the stone is thousands of years old, and formed part of the belief of the Chaldeans of Persia who were great astrologists, and from which our present knowledge of astronomy is mostly derived.

This wonderful combination of letters arranged in circles around the solar system will, in connection with the key discovered by Prof. Bartlett to read it by astonish and amaze you with the phenominal accuracy with which it answers questions that anyone may ask in regard to Business Enterprises, Love, Money matters, Destiny, and what every young lady and gentlemen who reads this advertisement is just dying to know about Love and Marriage. It is bound to create a sensation outside of the serious import which the replies of "Cosmos" gives. There is lots of fun and amusement in it, for the home circles, and as a parlor game, it will produce what we will call original fun in abundance. Everybody should have one.

We have been to large expense to obtain the copper plate to print copies of the letters on the wonderful stone for distribution, and although copies of Cosmos on handsome placques are being sold in the large cities for $1.00 each, we purpose as a novel way of advertising and as is our custom when we have anything good and interesting to do it in a liberal way, and to give the entire populace an opportunity to secure one. We shall give one copy with the directions to read it by free to each purchaser of any article in our store for the next 60 days, after which they will not be given free. No doubt thousands of people will avail themselves of this opportunity, but we have enough to supply the demand. Obtain a "Cosmos" and send one to your friends out of town and it will please them as much as though they had found a $10.00 bill. Ask for "Cosmos" at the store of

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1888.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Weather Probabilities.

Moderate winds; partly cloudy and warm, with showers.

The Civic Holiday.

To-morrow is civic holiday. The golden lion hopes that all friends and customers, white or colored, Grit or Tory, young or old, will enjoy the holiday and get to work on Thursday refreshed and rejuvinated. The golden lion will be ready to serve your wants for the balance of the week as usual.

Cantonment.

The regular cantonment of Canton No. 10, P. M., will be held in the Peterborough Lodge room this evening. 1d38

Baking Powder.

On our fourth page to-day will be found a striking and instructive illustration of the comparative worth of the various kinds of baking powders now in the market.

Stoney Lake Excursion.

Those going to the Baptist excursion picnic will have the priviledge of remaining on the boat and going for an all day sail instead of landing at Ivenhoe Island, without extra charge. We are working to have every person who may accompany us enjoy themselves. Tickets 55c. Excursionists will have about 5 hours on the Island. 1d38

A Fine Animal.

Messrs. F. J. Daly and F. Potvin lately made a valuable addition to the trotting horses of Peterborough by the purchase of the trotting horse "Puzzler," at Sutton. The animal is of Henry Clay stock and stands about fifteen hands high. Local horsemen pronounce him one of the most handsome and prettiest outlined horses that has struck here, and will undoubtedly be heard from before long. He did not go to the Lindsay races.

Shots Fired.

On Tuesday evening Mr. John McClure, market gardener, who lives about a mile out of town in North Monaghan, saw several boys in his field. He went out to drive them away, but they would not go, neither commands nor threats moving them. Mr. McClure went into the house and brought out his gun. He fired two charges over their heads, and they all ran but one boy who held his ground. Mr. McClure went towards him to put him out, when the lad turned, pulled a revolver and fired three shots from it at him. Fortunately, however, he was not hurt. The lad then followed his companions. Mr. McClure will keep a watch for the boys and they may have reason to regret their adventure.

Things Worth Knowing.

That Court Little John Foresters is a popular body.

That when they undertake to run an excursion it is invariably a success.

That they desire the public to share in their enjoyment.

That they fix the fare for the trip at a price that the public can't grumble at.

That the excursion on Civic Holiday (to-morrow), will be the last cheap trip of the season.

That the fare is only $1.75.

That you can see the city lights and sites, return same day or day after, by either by 6.40 a. m. train or 8.10 and return via. Port Hope or Lindsay

That if you don't go you will miss it.

Young, old, and middle aged, all experience the wonderful benefical effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young children, suffering from sore eyes, sore ears, scald heads, or with any scrofulous taint, become healthy and strong by the use of this medicine. Six bottles, $5.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use taller each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk. Delicate people improve rapidly upon its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thos. NOTICE.—Sheppard has no interest, directly, indirectly, nor in any sense whatever with any other Clothing House in Peterborough. Look up the Great Cheapside, his only place of business, town clock overhead.

SHEPPARD, THE GREAT CHEAPSIDE.

336, GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

Acknowledgment.

The committee of the Peterborough Protestant Home thankfully acknowledge $12.62 from the 'Prentice Boys, the proceeds of last Sunday's collection in the George-st. Methodist Church. Also flowers from the Horticultural Gardens.

Come Again.

Speaking of the Wanderers' tour the Empire says:—"Arriving at Peterborough, they were met by a deputation of the club there headed by Captain Greatrix and Lieut. Stratton, and escorted to the Oriental. The evening was spent under guidance of the club members, who proved first-class entertainers and gave every visitor a good time."

His Enjoyment Ceased.

George Burns struck town on Saturday last from the country, where he hae been employed as a farm hand. He only intended to stay until Monday, but when Monday came George was enjoying himself too well to return to the peace and quiet of the country. The enjoyment lasted until yesterday afternoon when he was arrested near the South Ward school. At the Police Court this morning Police Magistrate Edmison gave him twenty-fours hours to make himself scarce, failing which he will receive ten day's board at the county's expence.

A Pleasant Evening.

Every preparation had been made at the Separate School grounds for the holding of a successful open air concert last evening. The grounds were brilliantly lighted, a dancing platform and refreshment booth had been erected and the Fire Brigade Orchestra engaged for the occasion. Shortly after eight o'clock the sounds of music came invitingly to the ear of the passers by, and by 9 o'clock a large number were on the grounds enjoying themselves to their utmost. The music furnished was first class, while Mr. James Coughlin superintended the dancing arrangements. The lovers of the light fantastic indulged until a late hour. The receipts went towards paying for the organ which has been purchased for the school.

Personal.

Mr. F. J. Daly, of the Grand Central, left for Rochester to-day to attend the races there.

Mr. H. S. Griffin and Mrs. Griffin leave town to-morrow and will spend a fortnight among the Muskoka lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wyatt returned home from Stoney Lake last evening.

Mr. J. A. Turner, of the firm of Wyatt & Turner, left for Montreal this morning.

Miss. M. J. Sanderson is at Hamilton, attending the annual meeting of the Dominion Council of Royal Templars.

Messrs. John O'Meara, Second Vice-President, and M. J. Sullivan are in Toronto attending the biennial session Catholic Mutual Benevolent Association.

A Bad Half Dozen.

There was a promising looking row perched on the prisoner's bench at the Police Court this morning. It consisted of six boys, ranging in age from nine to twelve years, whose names are D. Hoolihan, M. Daly, F. Turcotte, E. Lynch, W. Strain and F. Appleyard. They were summoned on the complaint of Rose Little, the wife of an emigrant lately settled in town. Mrs. Little and her husband said that these boys made her life miserable by continually annoying her, calling names, throwing stones, etc. The boys, several of whom have been up before, all wore six-inch grins and seemed not to mind their position in the least. The Magistrate gave them a long lecture and laid the charge over, threatening if further complaints were made to send them to the reformatory. These lads are undoubtedly led by older ones, who will receive some attention from the police. The parties all live on Elm and Cedar-sts.

To Paddle at Lachine.

The annual regatta of the Lake St. Louis Canoe Club, Montreal, takes place on Saturday, August 25th, at Lachine. Among the events on the programme, which is very full and varied, is the "Tandem" paddling race, what is known here as double canoe race. This event has been won twice by Mr. Chas. S. Shaw, now of the bank of Toronto here, and Mr. A. W. Shearwood, of Montreal. The race has been won once by Messrs. Jacques and Leys of the Toronto Canoe Club. Mr. Shaw, during the time he was in Montreal, was an active and successful member of the St. Louis club and also of other athletic organizations. He goes to Montreal next Saturday and will put in a few days practice before the race, which he will paddle tandem with Mr. Shearwood. Eight crews, or pairs, have entered for the contest, which is expected to be one of the most spirited ever run off at the annual regatta. Mr. Shaw's many friends who admire his prowess with the paddle and oar will heartily wish that he may prove successful and capture for the third and Practice at the Range.

Members of the Rifle Association will remember that the usual practice shoot will take place at the range to-morrow afternoon at 1.30 sharp.

The P. B's Excursion.

The number of 'Prentice Boys who took in the excursion to Hastings this morning was not large. The wet weather and the fact that to-morrow will be a holiday tended to cause this.

Another Camping Party.

Mr. R. Pope and family and Messrs. Jos. Bennet and Brownscombe composed the only camping party which left town this morning. They have gone to spend a week or ten days at Stoney Lake.

The Street and Bridge Committee will meet this evening and on Friday next the Charity and Fire, Water and Light Committees will meet. It is probable that the City Fathers will assemble on Monday evening next.

Something Worth Knowing.

Buy 4 large boxes of good matches for 25 cents, at W. J. Morrow's. He continues to sell all goods cheap. Preserving sugar very cheap, 18 pounds for $1.00. As I am now receiving my new importations of tea all my old lines must be sacrificed.

at 8:35 a.m.

A Quartette for Lindsay.

There were four horses taken from here yesterday afternoon to Lindsay, to enter the races which are to come off there to-morrow and Friday. They were:—A. P. Morgan's "Grey Ned," F. J. Daly's "Willie W," W. Clancey's "Royal Jim" and Ned Brown's "Lady B."

Brock-st. Bridge.

Mr. John Hayes, who was awarded the contract of the masonry work of the Brock-st. bridge, for $1675, has notified Chairman Langford of the Street and Bridge Committee, that he will not accept the contract at the figure named. The committee will meet to-night to discuss the matter and it is thought that the job can be done by day work cheaper than by contract.

To-morrow.

Notice of Visit.

Mr. P. H. Morris, from the establishment of B. Laurence & Co., the opticians of Montreal, will be at the drug store of Mr. John McKee, Peterborough, for two days only, Wednesday and Thursday, August 15th and 16th. Those requiring his services will remember the date. Mr. P. H. Morris is eminently qualified to adjust spectacles to every case where relief can be afforded, and as his visit is for the convenience of the public, no charge being made for consultation or any extra charge for the spectacles, advantage should be taken of it. 5d34

A Pleasant Sail,

An Invention for Drivers.

Mr. S. Mirfield, of Hastings, has invented a hold-back contrivance to be attached to buggy shafts. It consists of a notched malleable iron bar which is fixed to the under side of the shaft. A yoke, carrying at one end a rounded bar one side of which is flattened, to freely enter the notches in the bar, the other end of the yoke is formed into a peculiar shaped hook to receive the hold back strap, which is without buckles or snaps. The hold-back can be made short or long in a second by simply moving the yoke forward or back, while the strap can be detached more readily than a tug from a whiffletree.

Stoney Lake.

Central Exhibition Notes.

There was inadvertently omitted from the list of contributions the to Central Exhibition a Blanchard churn No. 4, value $15, given by Mr. Geo. Stethem. It will be given as the first prize in the butter department.

Messrs. J. Feury's Sons, Aurora, Ont., by their agent in Peterborough, Mr. T. Cochrane, give a plough valued at $16 for a prize, and Messrs. Daly, Grange & Co., Peterborough, give 10 lbs. of tea, value, $5.

The proprietors of a Will West Show are in communication with the Secretary, with a view of giving an exhibition here during the days of the fair.

Tickets: 80 & 50c.

THE CIVIC HOLIDAY.

A Day of Excursions out of Town in Various Directions.

To-morrow will be Peterborough's civic holiday. It will probably be a quiet day in town, as nearly all the arrangements made for spending the day are in the way of excursions to some point of interest. It is not probable that many will object to this. The summer holidays this season have been days of sport in town, and one day of quietness, given up to excursions, is not amiss. And the people will have an opportunity to make a choice as to where they will go.

TO STURGEON POINT.

Canton No. 10, Patriarchs Militant, and the 57th Battalion band have charge of an excursion to the celebrated resort, Sturgeon Point. The train will leave the Grand Trunk station at 7.45 a.m. At Lindsay the steamer Beaubocage and palace scow Paloma will be boarded at 9 o'clock, and after a sail down the Scugog and Sturgeon Lake the Point will be reached at 10.15, where the excursionists will remain until 4 p.m. This will be a pleasant excursion. No doubt many will go on it to Lindsay, where there are horse races and sports, band competition, etc. The Fire Brigade orchestra will furnish music on the scow and at the Point for dancing and reduced rates have been arranged for at the Point hotel.

TO STONEY LAKE.

An excursion to Stoney Lake will be run under the auspices of Lansdowne Lodge, Sons of England. Stoney Lake is a popular resort for citizens of Peterborough, and rightly so, as a sail on the northern waters is pleasant and the scenery well worth travelling a long distance to see and enjoy. The train will leave the Grand Trunk station at 8.25 o'clock for Lakefield. At that village the steamers Cruiser, Mary Ellen and Dawn will take the excursionists up through the waters to Stoney Lake. This will no doubt be a popular route to-morrow.

TO THE PROVINCIAL CAPITAL.

Court Little John, Canadian Order of Foresters, will run an excursion to Toronto. Excursionists may go by Port Hope on the 6.40 a. m. train or by the 8.20 train by way of Lindsay. The lake shore route is a cool and pleasant one and will probably be the most popular. Those who go will also have the privilege of returning by either route. Eight hours can be spent in the Queen City before returning, and reduced rates have been secured for the cyclorama. The tickets for this excursion are good for two days. This is a fine opportunity for paying a visit to Toronto.

DOWN THE RIVER.

There will also be an excursion down the Otonabee river on the steamer Golden Eye. This route has been a favorite one this summer and the objective point of the excursion, Jubilee Point, is very popular. The excursion is under the auspices of Peterborough Branch No. 21, of the Emerald Benevolent Association. Over a popular route under popular auspices, it will no doubt be largely attended.

IN THE TOWN.

A baseball match will be played in the afternoon on the P. A. A. A. grounds. Representatives of the dry goods and drugs businesses will meet on the diamond field and contest for supremacy.

The regular weekly practice of the Peterborough Rifle Association will be held at the rifle range during the day.

THE RAILWAYS.

The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways issue tickets at reduced rates, and thus any place on the lines can be visited cheaply.

Don't fill the system with quinine, to prevent or cure Fever and Ague. Ayer's Ague Cure is the specific for this disease, and leaves no poisons to produce dizziness, deafness, headache, or other disorders.

Brevities.

—Where will you spend to-morrow?

—A drunk had the cells to himself last night.

—A large flock of pigeons were seen flying south last evening.

—Mr. G. W. Hatton left town this morning to spend a portion of the summer at Oak Orchard.

—The DAILY EVENING REVIEW will not be issued to-morrow evening, as to-morrow will be a public holiday.

—A teacher is wanted for the Separate school at Hastings to fill the position lately held by Miss Hattie O'Donohue.

—The collection last Sunday on the occasion of the sermon to the 'Prentice Boys amounted to $12.62. It was handed over to the Protestant Home.

—A woman returning from the Salvation Army temple fainted at the corner of Aylmer-st. last night. Restoratives were applied and she was taken home and soon recovered.

—One of the river men of Gilmore's saw log drive, ran the Hastings slide in a punt on Wednesday, the Star says. This feat has not been attempted since the days when the square timber, which was cut on the back lakes, was taken to market by the river route.

While correspondents will be allowed space to discuss questions of public interest, the Review does not hold itself responsible for the opinions expressed.

Lacrosse.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—It is well known that the Riverside Lacrosse Club have before long to go to Bradford to play for the championship with the club of that place. Now, the members of the team are all young and most of them can ill afford the expense, including loss of time, the trip will involve. Peterborough at one time took the lead in lacrosse matters in this district, and the Riversides, by their capital playing this season, shown in several matches as well as in the magnificent exhibition they gave on the Riverside Park on Monday, have made a long stride towards restoring the town to that pre-eminence in lacrosse which it formerly enjoyed. I think the Riversides, by their record and the promises of future good work, are worthy of the confidence, sympathy and support of all lovers of this noble game, and I am sure if occasion offers they will receive it. Now, I have a proposal to make. I would suggest that the secretary of the Riversides call a meeting to make arrangements for an excursion to Bradford on the occasion of the match, Aug. 29th, in that place, the profits from the excursion to be handed over to the club to assist in defraying their expenses. I am sure the friends of the game would turn out largely to recognize the plucky playing of the Riversides, and their worthinesss of being supported.

Yours, etc.,

"I get your idea," said Mr. Balltop to his wife "Your reasoning is quite correct. Your experience is a safe guide. Quite so, decidedly so. You say that if Mr. Wilson's goods are so good, as for instance this piece of China on the mantle, the other things which he sells are sure to be excellent. That is a very fair supposition and one, I may say, well grounded. We give up the idea of buying our supply of Fruit Jars in Toronto and hand an order to Wilson. I'll attend to it after Canton drill, this afternoon."

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL.

THE REPORTS TOUCHING MR. BURGESS' HEALTH UNTRUE.

Crops, Horses and Cattle in the Northwest in Splendid Condition—Fined Under the Early Closing By-law.

OTTAWA, Aug. 15.—Mr. Hall, Acting Deputy Minister of the Interior, contradicts the statement which appeared in The Mail and other papers that Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister, had been struck with paralysis in Victoria. He says Mr. Burgess was slightly indisposed in Victoria but is now attending to departmental matters at Winnipeg and will be home next week.

The Department of Agriculture is in receipt of advices from Manitoba and the Northwest which indicate that the root crop will be almost marvellous. The alternations of warm rains and fine weather have had a magnificent effect on the crops.

Major-General Cameron, the new commandant of Kingston Military College, wired Adjutant-General Powell from Montreal yesterday that he would go to Kingston to-day. The term commences Sept 1.

Dr. McEachran, Dominion Veterinary Inspector, has just returned from an inspection of the cattle and horse ranches in the Northwest. He reports to the Department of Agriculture that the stock is in splendid condition.

The Regina Rifle Association wants to be represented at the Dominion Rifle Association matches, and is making enquiries as to how it is to become affiliated with the association.

The Public Works Department will call for tenders in a few days for the new bridge across the Ottawa at Hull, to take the place of the present suspension bridge, which has been in use over 45 years.

Next Thursday being civic holiday, Council yesterday decided that it should be observed as a departmental holiday.

Tenders for elevators in the new Departmental Buildings here will be called for by the Public Works Department in a few days.

S. L. Teskey, a boot and shoe dealer, was fined $2 and costs in the police court yesterday under the early closing bylaw, for selling a pair of slippers at 8.30, the hour for closing under the by-law being 7. Teskey signed the petition to the Council for the by-law, but has been twice summoned for breaking it, the first case being dismissed because the acting magistrate had some doubts about the hour of sale, which was only a few minutes after 7. The plea was raised that the passing of the bylaw was informal, and notice of appeal given.

Over 1000 pilgrims for the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre left here by the C. P. R. to-day. This is the largest body of pilgrims which has ever left Ottawa.

THE SANITARY CONVENTION.

Proceedings of Yesterday's Session at Lindsay—Interesting Papers Read.

LINDSAY, Aug. 14.—The Sanitary Convention of the Executive Health Officers of Ontario met here this afternoon, President P. P. Burrows in the chair. Mayor Walker delivered an address of welcome to which P. H. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, made an appropriate reply. A paper entitled "Retrospect of the Progress of Medicine Curative and Preventive from 1828 to ——, Close of a Lifetime" was delivered by DR. A. W. Covernton of Toronto. Dr. H. P. Yeomans of Mt. Forest read a paper on "Sanitary Supervision of Schools."

At the evening session David B. Dick, architect, sent his paper to be read as he was unable to be present himself. The subject was "Points to be Observed in Constructing a Healthy House."

Chas. N. Hearit, M. D., of Minnesota spoke for some time on "Practical Suggestions on International and Interstate Corporation for the Prevention of Disease and for Stamping out Epidemics."

Dr. J. J. Cassiday of Toronto read a paper on "How to Prevent Consumption" after which discussion followed on all the foregoing subjects and also "Sanitary Supervision of Schools."

DOMINION COUNCIL, R. T. OF T.

Seventh Annual Session of the Order at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 14.—The seventh annual session of the Dominion Council, Royal Templars of Temperance, convened in this city to-day, Dominion Councillor Buchanan, of Hamilton, presiding. All the members of the council were present except Rev. W. Kettlewell, of Oakville, and Rev. T. R. McNair, of London.

The council received the reports of the various officers. The report of the Dominion Councillor was exceedingly encouraging, showing that the order had made wonderful progress during the year, the increase in the various provinces ranging from 65 per cent in Manitoba to over 300 per cent in Quebec.

He advised extension of investment in the publication department with a view to increasing the quantity of temperance literature. He recommended that the constitution be altered so as to make members who could not pass the medical examination for the second or select degree, eligible as honorary members. In the beneficiary department the death rate has been only 4 per 1,000, statistics that show that temperance is conducive to longevity. During the year $21,000 has been paid out for benefits, leaving a net surplus gained during the year of $14,000, making a total surplus in the beneficiary fund of $25,000.

TERRIBLE MURDER.

A Hotel Keeper at Coteau Landing Shot by an Unknown Commercial Traveler.

MONTREAL, Aug. 14.—News has just reached here of a terrible murder which occurred at Coteau Landing.

An unknown commercial traveler entered Pilon's hotel and soon engaged in an altercation with young Pilon, son of the landlord.

The old man came to the rescue when the traveler drew his revolver and shot him dead.

The murderer then disappeared and cannot be found.

Detectives have been telegraphed for.

Winnipeg Wireless.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 14.—Premier Greenway has written a letter to the press stating that so far as the Government is concerned they do not believe a conspiracy to overthrow them exists.

The Ontario Farmers' excursion has been welcomed by brass bands and leading men in the west, and are delighted with the country and crops. Only a few have yet returned from the West.

Two hundred dollars has been voted by the City Council towards the exhibit of Manitoba products in Ontario.

The Hatfield McCoy Feud.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., Aug. 14.—There is trouble again in Pike County between the Hatfields and McCoys. A skirmish has occured between them, in which three of the Hatfields were killed and two wounded, while three of the McCoys were slightly wounded. The end is not yet.

Half a Loaf Better than no Bread.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Mr. Higgins' carpet manufactory resumed operations yesterday with 1400 hands who will work for two weeks, when 1400 others will take their places. This system, the 1400 alternating at work, will be continued while the present dulness in trade continues.

COMPARATIVE WORTH OF BAKING POWDERS.

REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. E. G. LOVE, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. "H. A. MOTT, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. HENRY MORTON, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE—The above DIAGRAM illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

BANKERS.—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce
SOLICITORS.—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITERS.—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS.—The five and ten years five per cent debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS.—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be paid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amount paid on account of the sum borrowed. TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

JACOBS' SORROWFUL "NO!"

THE MURDERER HAS NOTHING TO SAY IN HIS OWN DEFENCE.

Van Dosch Asks for a Jury—Le Monde Sued for $25,000 by Senator Trudel—Assignment of a Dry Goods Firm.

MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—Maximilien Van Dosch, who is accused of abduction of a minor for the purpose of marriage, to-day at the Court of Special Sessions, asked for a jury trial.

Senator Trudel has taken out an action for $25,000 damages against Le Monde, which he charges with having repeatedly stated that he had sold himself to the Rouges, that he was in open revolt against the ecclesiastical authorities, etc.

The proprietors of the dry goods establishment at the corner of St. Catharine and Amherst-streets known as "Le Syndicat Canadien" assigned to-day with about $60,000 liabilities.

Chief of Police Hughes telegraphed to-day to the Attorney-General that henceforth Montreal City Detectives will not be sent out of the city limits unless their expenses are guaranteed by the province, but that he prepared to have the Coteau Landing murderer followed if this is done. A reply was received guaranteeing the expenses, and accordingly Detective Trempe was sent to Lancaster this afternoon and another Detective may be sent to-night. It was reported this afternoon that Caza had been arrested near Ottawa with $13,000 in bills on him, but at police headquarters it was denied that any information had been received to that effect.

The wife murderer, Angus Jacobs of Caughnawaga, was brought up from jail to-day and taken before Coroner Jones who ordered that all the evidence taken at the inquest be read over to him. He listened attentively as the clerk read the documents and when he was asked if he had any questions to put or anything to say he replied with a sorrowful "no." The prisoner will be committed on Saturday.

WINNIPEG WIRELETS.

The Northern Pacific Agreement—Contracts Let for the Portage Extension.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 17.—While The Sun asserts that Premier Greenway promised to secure if possible some modifications and a clearer interpretation of the agreement with the Northern Pacific, The Free Press asserts that the contract is not satisfactory, and it is sincerely to be hoped that the Government will weigh the matter most carefully. The paper demands that not only should the contract be changed in minor details but it requires radical alterations or the people will be more incensed than they have been over the Canadian Pacific monopoly. It claims the Government could make a much better bargain.

It is doubtful if any criminal proceedings will be taken against The Sun over the conspiracy sensation.

Contracts were awarded for the grading of the Portage extension last night. The work is to be finished Oct. 7.

Wheat cutting commenced on Tuesday in the vicinity of Gretna.

Live Stock Rates Modified.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—The Michigan Central, Lake Shore and Nickel Plate roads have modified the live stock tariff announced to take effect Aug. 20. The original tariff advanced the cattle rate 15½ cents to New York, but the Pennsylvania in giving notice of an advance to take effect Aug. 25 fixed the rate at 10 cents per 100 pounds to New York. The Vanderbilt lines, unwilling to allow the Pennsylvania a differential on this traffic, modified cattle rates as follows: New York 10c., Boston 15, Philadelphia 23, Buffalo 7½, Albany and all points between Albany and Buffalo 10.

A Brace of Accidents.

MONCTON, Aug. 17.—Fred, the 6-year old son of A. A. Tuttle, undertaker, met with a serious and, perhaps, fatal accident. Tuttle's horse was frightened by a shunting engine and ran away, knocking the lad down and inflicting two gashes in his head with his hoofs. The cuts required 14 or 15 stitches. Tuttle's hired man, named Chandler, went for the doctor on horseback and while returning was thrown from the horse while turning a corner, injuring his hips and receiving serious internal injuries.

FARMER SOMERS EVICTED.

An All Day Battle Between 200 Police and the Tenant.

DUBLIN, Aug. 16.—Eleven persons were arrested to-day in connection with the eviction of Farmer Somers of Cooleroe who offered strenuous resistance all day. Two hundred police armed with a battering ram attacked the house which was fortified with earthworks and surrounded by trenches.

After three hours' hard fighting an American gentleman who was present offered to pay half of Farmer Somers' rent if the police would cease their attack. This offer was, however, refused. The attack was resumed and an unsuccessful battle was waged by the constables until 6 o'clock, when the gable of the house caught on fire. Mr. Redmond, M. P. and Canon Doyle who were present then advised the defenders of the place to leave the burning building. This they did and all who had been in the house were arrested.

At Lurgan, County Down, a girl was shot dead to-day.

Struck by Lightning.

GALT, Aug. 16.—During a severe thunderstorm last night the residence of Cornelius Wilson, traveler for Goldie & McCulloch, was struck by lightning. Beyond slight damage to the building no injury was done.

SHAKESPEARE, Aug. 18.—The barn of Jas. Stewart, North Easthope, was struck by lightning this morning and burned to the ground, with all the crop.

A Typhoid Fever Epidemic.

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 17.—Typhoid fever is alarmingly on the increase here, six cases being reported on Steadman-street. No cases have yet proved fatal.

THE SLAVES AT KHARTOUM

LATEST INTELLIGENCE FROM THE MAHDI'S VICTIMS.

No Hope at Present for the Sufferers—The Terrible Tyranny of Khalifa Abdullah—The People Ripe for Revolt.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—On July 5 a messenger arrived at Cairo from Khartoum with some little scraps of paper, which, during his long journey to the civilized north, he had carefully concealed. These papers were very brief notes from Lupton Bey and Missionary Urwalder, two of the white prisoners at Khartoum, simply representing that the bearer was a reliable person, and requesting the English consul-general to pay him a certain sum of money. His messages were delivered by word of mouth.

The messenger is described as a very intelligent resident of Berber who is well known at Omdurman, the present residence of the Mahdi's successor, opposite Khartoum, on the west bank of the Nile. Some of his relatives are at the headquarters of the pretended Mahdi, Khalifa Adbullah, and are in the service of this potenate. According to his statement the condition of the white prisoners is even worse than has hitherto been represented. Slatin Bey, formerly governor of the Egyptian province of Sennaar, is posted under guard every morning in front of Khalifa's residence where he is kept all day long simply as a butt for any insults and indignities the populace may choose to offer him. He does not even escape corporal maltreatment. At night he sleeps under guard in a neighboring hut. He is not permitted to leave this neighborhood where the pretended Mahdi lives, nor to speak with any European.

Lupton Bey, the former governor of the Egyptian province, works under guard in the arsenal and sleeps in the same building, which he is not permitted to leave, and he never comes into contact with any of his fellow-prisoners. Mr. Neufeld, who was hated by the people as a spy, was kept in jail until his escape a few months ago, which was followed by his speedy capture and death on the gallows. The Greek merchants and also the Romish missionaries and nuns enjoy the freedom of the town, but are not permitted to go outside the gates. They earn a scanty living by making things to sell, but they are compelled to conduct their operations very secretly, as they have been forbidden to engage in any trade or money-making art.

In the opinion of this messenger there is no hope at present that these sufferers can be ransomed and restored to their homes. A while ago a faction in Khartoum agitated the question of exchanging the white prisoners for certain dervishes who had been taken captive by the British during the late war. When the Mahdi's successor heard of the movement he had all the Europeans brought before him. Behind each prisoner he stationed a stalwart negro, who stood there with uplifted lance. Then the pretended Mahdi blandly inquired of each unfortunate if he was anxious to leave Khartoum. Under the circumstances every person in the company was quite sure he was very well content to remain where he was.

The messenger added many details to the previous reports concerning the terrible tyranny of Khalifa Abdullah and the increasing bitterness of the Soudanese toward the pretender and his adherents. He is not honored by the people as the Mahdi, but is feared as a hard master and a tyrant. Recently he put to death Shiek Saleh, the chief of the Kababish Arabs. In Darfur, a while ago, a member of the old ruling family proclaimed himself Sultan. His forces were promptly defeated by the Khartoum potentate, and he, his relations and adherents were all put to death. In Kordofan, where there were strong symptoms of a rebellion under the leadership of the most prominent men in the country, the pretended Mahdi has put to death every person whom he regarded as a menace to his power.

"It is only fear," says the messenger from Omdurman, "that prevents the people from throwing off the yoke which weighs far more heavily upon them than the former oppressive, unjust rule of Egypt. It would not require an army of 5,000 or 1,000 men to put an end to the rule of Khalifa Abdullah. If a well-equipped force of 300 men came up the Nile into the Soudan against him the force would grow to 10,000 men before it reached Khartoum. Between Wady Haifa and Berber the pretender has no trained armed troops, but only a few bands made up of the rabble, who, in his name, oppress the native and attack traders, whether Christian or Arab. The only point along the entire route to Khartoum at which resistance would perhaps be offered is Berber, which is garrisoned by Mahdist troops and defended by cannon. If, however, the advancing force had the slightest prestige of victory and pushed on earnestly toward Khartoum, the disaffected garrison of Berber would go over to the invaders. As for the people, they would nowhere give the rescuing force any trouble, but, on the contrary, they would hail them as deliverers and assist them by every means in their power."

The messenger left Omdurman early in May and arrived in Berber on May 25. He was a witness of the preparations the Mahdi had been making since the middle of March for a great expedition to the south for the purpose of conquering the white pasha who had established himself there, and of taking possession of his territory. The Mahdi's expedition finally started on board of four steamers and several vessels in tow. It consisted of thirteen bands of various strength, and the entire force numbered 4,000 men. Petermanns Mittheilungen is of the opinion that Emin Pasha is the enemy the pretended Mahdi hopes to conquer. Among the reasons given for this belief is the fact that Emin Pasha has held on to the equatorial provinces with a considerable force of trained troops and with important allies among the natives whom he could at any time call to his aid. This fact must appear to Khalifa Abdullah as a perpetual menace to the perpetuity of his own government. The fact is also mentioned that at Omdurman the White Pasha is known as Mudir, a title which would apply to Emin, but not to Stanley.

This great geographical magazine thinks the time is now ripe for action, and that by sending an army from Egypt it may either effectively co-operate with the White Pasha or greatly diminish the danger that threatens him by diverting the attention of the hostile troops. "The possibility is now given," it says in conclusion, "of restoring order in the Soudan, of releasing the European prisoners, of restraining the slave trade just springing into new life, and restoring again to civilization an important country. If this opportunity is neglected it is to be feared that either Emin Pasha or Stanley will share the fate of the noble Gordon as a new victim of the English policy, and that the people of the Soudan will go on tearing each other to pieces until after long years of warfare they nearly destroy themselves and finally, without opposition, come again under Egyptian rule.

GUELPH, Aug. 17.—On Wednesday Inspector Cowan made application to Chief Randall for four men to assist him in searching a number of hotels for intoxicating liquor. The Chief gave his consent and three men were notified to assist the Inspector. About 5 o'clock the police and Inspector sallied forth armed with authority and visited M. French, Dr. Hefferman, John Coghlin and R. Reinhart's hotels and searched for the contraband article. Intoxicating liquor was found in all of them but the ever vigilant Coghlin's.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The C. M. B. A. Convention Closes With a Banquet—A Priest in the Police Court.

TORONTO, Aug 17.—The Catholic Mutual Beneficial Association devoted yesterday morning to consideration of the report of the Committee on Laws. One clause, proposing that the assessments of those over 40 years of age be increased from $1 to $1.50, was rejected. These amendments to the constitution were adopted: To grant the Grand Council of Canada power to invest its reserve funds; that the Committee on Returns, Grievances, Credentials and Appeals be merged into a board of trustees; that no member of the other committees be entitled to vote in Grand Council meetings; that all standing committees be abolished, their powers to pass to the Executive Committee. It was further ordered that all printing required by the association in Canada, be done in Canada, and by tender. The question of choosing the next place of meeting gave rise to a rather lively discussion. Peterboro, Ottawa, Hamilton and Montreal were named, but Montreal won by a large majority. The convention closed last evening, with a complimentary banquet tendered the delegates by the local branches.

Father O'Reilly appeared at the Police Court yesterday morning in answer to a charge of assaulting John Hopkins, a member of the Derry Orange Brass Band. It has been stated that two or three members of the band had made a noise when passing the priest's house, which provoked an attack. The assault was denied and the case was dismissed without costs, the magistrate reflecting severely on the prosecution for bringing so trifling a charge to court.

Wm. Kelly, charged with feloniously wounding T. H. Nixon, a fellow-workman in Massey's paint shops and causing serious injury, was remanded for evidence at the Police Court yesterday morning.

The case of Joseph Colberry, charged with participation in the attack on St. Nicholas Home, was taken up at the afternoon session of the Police Court yesterday. The evidence was somewhat conflicting and the case was adjourned to Aug. 30, a detective being placed at the disposal of Colberry in the meantime to assist him in discovering the guilty parties.

There was a ripple of excitement at the Island last night when Police Constable McDonald took a squad of small boys into custody and provided for their safe conduct to police headquarters. They were charged with stealing 216 Doty ferry tickets from the Brock-street office.

Alex. McInnes is a prisoner at the Wilton-avenue police station. He was arrested on the strength of a despatch from Woodstock.

The Wentworth Farmers' Institute purpose having a big celebration on Aug. 29 at the Oaklands Jersey Farm, the residence of Mr. Valancy E. Fuller. Excursion trains will run from Toronto and Hamilton. Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture; Mr. Fuller, Prof. Fletcher, of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa; Prof. Robertson, of the Guelph Model Farm, and the M. P.'s and M. P. P's. of Hamilton district will address the assembly on agriculture and political topics.

The office of the Mayor, yesterday, was visited by a man who gave his name as John P. Hunter, who had a check of $4,000,000 on the Bank of Montreal, which he wished His Worship to get cashed for him. Not having the necessary amount around his clothes, the Mayor had to refuse the visitor.

"DON'T HIT ME TOO HARD."

So Said the Minister of Education to the Ontario Teachers' Association.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—The Ontario Teachers' Association assembled for its last session at 2 p.m., yesterday, the president in the chair. The Executive Committee presented their annual report. It advised the setting apart of a room in the Department Buildings to be known as the "reception room," which would be at the service of teachers when in the city, and that their successors should consider the propriety of dispensing with evening addresses at future conventions.

The directors submitted the following as officers for the ensuing year: Recording secretary, R. W. Doan, Toronto; corresponding secretary, D. H. Hunter, Woodstock; treasurer, W. J. Hendry, Mimico. A ballot was taken for the presidency and Mr. Robt. McQueen of Kirkwald was elected.

Mr. Thomas Shaw read an interesting paper on "Agricultural Education in Rural Public Schools." He drew attention to the fact that though Canada is an agricultural country no serious endeavor had yet been made to impart school trainining on the subject and made an earnest plea for its introduction.

Hon. Chas. Drury, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, followed with the speech of the day. He said that the man who would devise a system of schools which while imparting sound culture would also instil a love for agricultural pursuits would confer a grand and lasting boon on Canada. The present state of affairs apparently gave the youth of the land a distaste for the occupation of his fathers, the occupation that had made and must sustain our land.

Rev. Professor MacVicar, of Knox College, followed with a paper on "The Proper Functions of Normal Schools."

Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, was introduced and expressed his desire to faithfully discharge his duties and his wish that when any innovation seemed for the benefit of the profession the teachers of the province would speak out manfully, and considering the difficulties of his position not "hit him too hard."

A resolution was then carried that all matters befor the association be deferred to the next annual convention, and this closed the business for this year.

A CONFIDENCE GAME.

Samuel Fairman, of Collinsby, Done out of a Considerable Sum of Money.

KINGSTON, Aug. 16.—Last night Samuel Fairman, aged 26, was the victim of a confidence game at Collinsby. He stepped on the mixed train en route to Belleville, near which place his father lives. He met an affable person and soon they chatted pleasantly. The stranger said he was a merchant in Belleville, knew his Fairman's father well, having often sold him goods. Presently another man appeared, and, addressing the stranger in the old chestnuty fashion, said he wanted pay for the goods he had delivered to him on the train.

"No you don't," replied the pseudo merchant; "I bought the goods to be paid for on delivery in Belleville."

"No, sir," came the reply, "you said you would pay at once. Now if you don't, I will have to take back the goods. The fact is I want the money now." And so the conversation went on until finally the merchant pulled out his purse, counted over the contents and found himself $26 short. "Could you lend me that amount until we get to Belleville, so that I can get rid of the fellow," said the dealer to Fairman, and the youth, with alacrity, accommodated his new found friend. The train started; the sharpers jumped off and disappeared in the darkness. The Kingston authorities were notified, but too late, for persons answering the description of the sharpers went over to Cape Vincent this morning.

The Belleville Cheese Market.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 17.—The buyers and sellers were as far apart as ever at the cheese board yesterday. 2738 boxes were offered, 1740 white, 998 colored, 8¾c and 8¾c were offered. No sales. One salesman, who thinks the buyers are combining to keep prices down, announced that he intended to move soon that salesmen be sent to Liverpool to sell the cheese for them.

DEATH WAS AT THE HELM.

TERRIBLE COLLISION OF THE GEISER AND THINGVALLA.

The Former Sinks in Five Minutes and 119 of the Passengers and Crew Perish in the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The steamship Wieland, Capt. Albert, from Hamburg Aug. 5, via Havre Aug. 7, with merchandise and 113 cabin and 455 steerage passengers, reports Aug. 14, 30 miles south of Sable Island at noon, that she saw the Danish steamer Thingvalla, Copenhagan to New York, with signals of distress. The Thingvalla had collided on Aug. 14 at 4 a.m. with the steamer Geiser of the same line, from New York Aug. 11, for Copenhagen. The Geiser sank in about five minutes. Fourteen passengers and seventeen of the crew and among them Capt. Waller are saved. Seventy-two passengers and thirty-three of the crew were lost. The steamer Wieland brought 455 passengers from the Thingvalla and those saved from the Geiser to New York. The Thirgvalla will endeavor to reach Halifax. The Wieland is at Hoboken.

The Geiser left this port on Aug. 11, bound for Hettin. The Thingvalla was on her way to this city and was advertised to leave here on Aug. 25. A very heavy sea and a dense fog were experienced through the night and early morning of Aug. 14. It is said an object could not be distinguished 50 feet away.

The Thingvalla struck the Geiser on the starboard side amidships, the ships then parted and within five minutes the Geiser sank. The crew of the Thingvalla did all they could to save the Geiser's crew and passengers, while still in doubt whether the Thingvalla was not dangerously disabled, but owing to the heavy sea only 31 were saved. No other vessel was near at the time.

The Wieland, on her way to this port, was 100 miles away; at 11.30 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 14 the Wieland was sighted. Signals of distress were made and a transfer of passengers began. The sea was heavy but no mishap occurred in the transfer. The officers of the company were unable to-night to give a list of the lost. Capt. A. Albers of the Wieland tells the following story:

At 1 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 14, we passed some wreckage floating in the sea and suspected that an accident had happened near us. A little later we sailed through a sea of oil and sighted a broken boat of the Geiser's. About 11.30 we sighted a steamer to the northward about 8 miles off, and seeing she had a flag of distress up we ran down to her. It proved to be the Thingvalla. Capt. Lamb of that vessel came to us in a small boat and begged us to take off his passengers and those he had saved from the Geiser. He said his own vessel was so badly injured he expected her to sink at any moment. Her forward compartment had been carried away from halfway above the deck to below the water line. I sent the boats and the Thingvalla lowered two boats, and in five hours we had the saved passengers and crew of the Geiser on board. The sea was very rough and the work of transferring the passengers was very difficult. The immense hole in the Thingvalla's bow was patched up as well as possible and she started for Halifax. The collision so far as known was caused by the fog. The chief officer of each vessel was on deck at the time of the collision. Third officer Peterson told much the same story of the occurrence. He said the fog was very dense. Through the night rain had fallen at intervals. The first we knew of the Geiser's approach, he said, was when she appeared on the starboard side right upon us. The Geiser was struck opposite the engine-room amidship. The Geiser being heavily loaded was low in the water so that the Thirgvalla carried away her own compartment. The upper part of her bow ran over the decks of the Geiser, the Geiser's deck houses were carried away and the state-room smashed in and the occupants killed. He first heard a bell ring in the Geiser's engine room but could not tell what the order was. He was on deck at the time. He then heard the bell again, this time to back, and the steamer had commenced to reverse when the Thingvalla struck her. The Geiser's whistle was blowing at the time. One of the Geiser's passengers was picked up with a broken leg.

As soon as the Weiland arrived in the lower bay Capt. Moller of the Geiser left the steamer on a revenue cutter. He went to the office of the Company, where he was closeted a few moments with the agents. He only left word that the accident was due to the weather adn went away without stating where he was going.

The rescued crew of the Geser were taken to the Hôtel Denmark on the arrival of the Wieland.

The revised official list of saved and lost from the Geiser is as follows:

Lost—Passengers 80, crew 37, officers 6; total 119.

Saved—Passengers 14, crew 17, officers 4; total 35.

ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION.

Postmaster-General Haggart Returned for South Lanark without Opposition.

PERTH, Aug. 15.—Hon. John Haggart, Postmaster-General, was re-elected for South Lanark by acclamation to-day. A very complimentary address was presented to him by the Perth Town Council, of which town he was formerly Mayor.

The Halton Nominations.

MILTON, Aug. 15.—Mr John Waldie of Burlington and Mr. David Henderson of Acton were nominated to-day to contest Halton in the Liberal and Conservative interests respectively. After the nomination a meeting was held in the Town Hall, which was crowded to the doors. Henderson signed the alliance platform, Waldie taking an independent stand, holding to his forty-year record. The election takes place one week from to-day.

Conservative Victory in Colchester.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 15.—The election for the Commons, to fill the vacancy caused by Hon. A. W. McLean's appointment to the Senatorship of Nova Scotia, took place in Colchester to-day. It resulted in the election of Sir Adams Archibald (Con.). The returns as far as received are: Archibald 1495, Eaton (Lib.) 1036, Fulton (Pro.) 257.

The Grand Trunk's Acquisition.

DETROIT, Aug. 15.—The gentlemen who were in Detroit a few weeks ago to perfect arrangements for the transfer of the Toledo, Saginaw and Muskegon railroad to the Grand Trunk system yesterday came to Detroit to wind up its old management and to elect new directors. Joseph Hickson, the general manager of the Grand Trunk road and president of the lines in its system that lie in the United States, was made president of the Toledo, Saginaw and Muskegon line, and W. J. Spicer, general manager of the Grand Trunk roads in the States, was made vice-president and general manager. J. H. Muir, of Detroit, was chosen secretary and treasurer. Eleven directors were elected to succeed the same number resigned. President Hickson and Vice-President Spicer were two of these.

A Family Jar.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 17.—Some differences of opinion have recently existed between Mr. and Mrs. Goggin. Yesterday morning Mrs. Goggin and her two children were about stepping into a coach to be driven to the steamer Secret. Mr. Goggin saw this movement, and being very fond of the eldest child, a little girl, determined to have her. The mother refused to let the father take the child, and upon the latter insisting on his right, Mrs. Goggin's brother put in an appearance and arrayed himself against Mr. Goggin. After quite a war of words and a tussle, Mr. Goggin was compelled to draw his revolver on his brother-in-law and this resulted in the latter standing back. Mr. Goggin, much to the delight of the persons who witnessed the scene, then marched off with the little girl.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1888.

TWO VICTORIES.

A SHORT time ago it was claimed that the election of a Conservative to the House of Commons was not a defeat of the Opposition because they had not nominated a candidate. By the same reasoning the re-election by acclamation of the Hon. John Haggart, Postmaster General, in South Lanark might be said to not be a rebuff for the Liberals. But elections by acclamation are victories quite satisfactory to the Conservative party and the Government. Mr. Haggart, having accepted a position in the Cabinet, had to go back to his constituents for their endorsation of the step he had taken. This gave the Liberals an opportunity to demonstrate the "popularity" of unrestricted reciprocity, but they failed to take advantage of it. They did not even put a candidate in the field, and Mr. Haggart was returned without opposition.

In Colchester, N.S., on the same day an election was held, Mr. McLelan, the former member, having become Lieutenant-Governor of the Province. Nova Scotia was, a short time ago, said to be burning for a chance to overthrow the Conservatives and to declare for commercial union, but recent elections there have quieted that sort of talk somewhat. The Colchester election resulted in the return of Sir Adams Archibald, Conservative, by a large majority over the votes received by his two opponents.

The administration of Sir John Macdonald retains the confidence of the people and the new departure of the Liberal party has not increased its popularity.

MR. GOLDWIN SMITH delivered a speech in Calgary, on August 7th, in which he said that if the people of Ontario were informed "that they were no longer a Province, but a State there would not be a voice raised against it," and that the C. P. R. monopoly had been "bought off with fifteen million of the people's money." Mr. Smith probably means well, but he doesn't know. Both statements were wide of the truth.

BOULANGER has ill-luck. When Floquet wounded him with a sword his popularity as well as his neck was injured. Then the report came that he had been fired at. If a would-be assassin had injured him, sympathy might have brought back some of his popularity, but he was not touched and it now turns out that he was not even fired at.

THE Montreal Herald wants to know where the protection to labor comes in. The answer is, at the same time and in the same way as the protection to the manufacturers.

THE appearance of the Ottawa Free Press has been greatly improved by a new dress of type.

Correspondence of the Review.

THE HARVEST.—The harvest is pretty well through in this vicinity, with the exception of a few late oats. This week will about finish it up.

THRESHING.—The hum of the threshing machine is again heard sounding in the neighborhood, threshing out the golden grain.

BENEFICIAL.—The late rains are making the farmers smile, freshening up the pastures and putting the land in good condition for ploughing.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—A little son of Mr. J. Kerr met with a serious accident one day last week. A heavy iron staft accidentally fell upon him, breaking his leg below the knee and at the same time dislocating his ankle joint. The break is of a very painful nature and will disable the little fellow for a considerable time.

SOME EXCITEMENT.—There has been but very little excitement in this part lately, with the exception of a mad dog sensation and a wild cat scare, which occurred a short time ago, but happily no causualties resulted from either source, as the canine died a natural death and the felines left for parts unknown.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The Council met on the 13th of August. All the members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. The following by-laws passed their several readings and were signed and sealed, namely:—A by-law to prevent damage by ferocious or unruly dogs; a by-law to levy 3 mills in the dollar for county purposes and 1½ mills in the dollar for township purposes, and a by-law to make provisions for levying certain sums of money on the property situated in the several school sections therein mentioned. The Clerk was instructed to erase the tax charged against Village Lot No. 5, S. E. ¼ 26, Con. 8, for 1885, as said lot was assessed on both rolls for said year. The following claims were ordered to be paid, namely:—M. E. Sanderson, for road scraper and stone hammers, $13.21; J. S. Branch, work on road, $15.00; R. White, do., $3.00; Wm. Brown, do., $7.00; John Hall, do., $1.00; P. C. Kearney, do., $2.75. The Clerk was instructed to notify the Collector to have notices inserted in the tax bills for the current year that 5 per cent will be added to all taxes unpaid on the 15th December next. The Council then adjourned.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, it soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether rising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. An All Night Session Concludes the Grand Lodge Business.

HAMILTON, Aug. 16.—The grand lodge of the Y. M. P. B. A. convened at 7.30 last evening and sat until 5 a.m., when the business of the session was concluded and the delegates left for home to-day.

The reception of reports from the various committees occupied several hours. The finance report showed a balance in the treasurer's hands of $97. There were no appeals presented for the adjudication of the grand lodge, which shows that the order is working harmoniously. There are now 63 lodges in the association, and the order is progressing rapidly.

The most important conclusion arrived at was the decision to establish a mutual benefit scheme in connection with the association, and the following committee was appointed to perfect the arrangements: Wm. Caldwell, Wm. Lee, W. J. Livingston, Wm. Derby and A. W. Kemp.

Every member who opens a new lodge in future will receive $10.

Notices of motion were given that at the next meeting an effort will be made to have members of the grand lodge allowed mileage when attending meetings, and also that the past grand masters shall have votes in the grand lodge.

The following officers were elected: Thomas Henry, Meaford, P. G. M.; W. J. Livingston, Gananoque, grand master; Thomas W. Jutten, Hamilton, senior deputy grand master; A. W. Kemp, Oakville, junior deputy grand master; J. W. Morrow, Dunnville, chaplain; Wm. Lee, Toronto, grand secretary; J. M. Judah, Toronto, grand treasurer; Geo. B. Sharpe, grand conductor; W. A. Robinson, Toronto, grand lecturer; Henry Rossiter, Port Credit, senior grand master of ceremonies; Henry Bach, Toronto, junior grand master of ceremonies; Wm. Perry, Port Credit, grand inside sentinel; George Beckett, Toronto, grand outside sentinel; T. H. Wooster, Toronto, deputy grand secretary; J. I. Quinn, Rock Springs, deputy grand lecturer for the east; Wm. Derby, deputy grand lecturer for the west; Erskine Smith, district deputy grand master for Wellington and Wentworth; Thomas Bowerbank, Oakville, district deputy grand master for Halton and Peel; A. W. Roe, Dundalk, district deputy grand master for Grey; E. L. Smith, Ingersoll, district deputy grand master for Oxford; J. H. Lennox, Toronto, district deputy grand master for York; A. J. Seales, Gananoque, district deputy grand master for Leeds and Grenville.

The officers were installed by Bro. Wm. Caldwell, past grand treasurer, assisted by Bro. T. R. Foy, Toronto, district deputy grand master.

The grand lodge will meet in Gananoque next year.

FIREMEN AT SARNIA.

A Successful Tournament—Winners in the Various Competitions.

SARNIA, Aug 16.—The firemen's tournament is the most successful demonstration of any kind that the town has ever had. The attendance of visitors to-day was large, there being probably 4000 in town. The procession was a long and grand one, and took place to the Agricultural Grounds, when addresses of welcome from the Mayor and Chief of the Fire Squadron were given.

In the Canadian hose race, with a run of 300 yards, prizes of $150, $100 and $50 were offered, and the winners were: Kincardine, first, 60½ sec.: Watford, second, 1 min. 3½ sec.; and Seaforth, third, 1 min. 4 sec.

In the hose and ladder race, with a run of 300 yards. Aylmer was first, 48½ sec.; Marine City, second, 49½ sec; and Caledonia third, 50 sec. The prizes were $125, $75 and $25.

The 300 yards foot race was won by Sparks, Westbrook and Roche in the order named. The prizes were $12, $5 and $3.

The Sanitary Convention.

LINDSAY, Aug. 15.—The sanitary convention resumed this morning, President Burrows in the chair. Doctor Griffin of Brantford gave an address on "Public Inspection of Milk Supplies" and an interesting and profitable discussion followed until noon, when the convention adjourned for the purpose of going on an excursion to Sturgeon Point, as guests of the corporation and citizens of Lindsay.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healt and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15.000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5

508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8

238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10.00 worth $18.00

327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00

2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

WHAT IS IT?

It is called "Cosmos, the Great Oracle of Human Destiny," and something remarkable, and is creating great interest among scientists at the present day. The above cut is a fac-smile of a stone excavated from the Temple of Truth (so called) in Athens, Greece, in the year, 1527, and placed in the British Museum in London, Eng.

This stone has been noticed without doubt by many residents of this town who have visited the museum. It stands in the "Corridor of Wonders.

The letters appearing on the cut above are in Hieroglyphics on the original stone, but were translated some years ago by Prof. Bartlett of the Howard University, who discovered that they had a hidden meaning, and there are positive proofs that the stone is thousands of years old, and formed part of the belief of the Chaldeans of Persia who were great astrologists, and from which our present knowledge of astronomy is mostly derived.

This wonderful combination of letters arranged in circles around the solar system will, in connection with the key discovered by Prof. Bartlett to read it by astonish and amaze you with the phenominal accuracy with which it answers questions that anyone may ask in regard to Business Enterprises, Love, Money matters, Destiny, and what every young lady and gentlemen who reads this advertisement is just dying to know about Love and Marriage. It is bound to create a sensation outside of the serious import which the replies of "Cosmos" gives. There is lots of fun and amusement in it, for the home circles, and as a parlor game, it will produce what we will call original fun in abundance. Everybody should have one.

We have been to large expense to obtain the copper plate to print copies of the letters on the wonderful stone for distribution, and although copies of Cosmos on handsome placques are being sold in the large cities for $1.00 each, we purpose as a novel way of advertising and as is our custom when we have anything good and interesting to do it in a liberal way, and to give the entire populace an opportunity to secure one. We shall give one copy with the directions to read it by free to each purchaser of any article in our store for the next 60 days, after which they will not be given free. No doubt thousands of people will avail themselves of this opportunity, but we have enough to supply the demand. Obtain a "Cosmos" and send one to your friends out of town and it will please them as much as though they had found a $10.00 bill. Ask for "Cosmos" at the store of

CRICKET.

The Fortunes of War Against the Peterboroughs at Toronto.

A team representing the Peterborough cricket club met the Torontos at Toronto on Thursday, and the Toronto team won by an innings. Regarding the match the Empire says:—"The chief features of the match were the fine innings of Winslow, on behalf of the home team, who went to the wickets first to bat and carried it out for a very fine innings of 49 (not out). He was at the wickets nearly three hours for his runs, and with the exception of one chance his innings was a fine display of patient and steady cricket. He was loudly applauded on retiring to the pavilion. Fleury and Collins played well for their scores respectively of 29 and 24, the former very steadily till he was bowled by a good one from Logan, whilst the latter, as usual, hit hard for his runs.

"The batting honors for Peterborough were carried off by Stratten (who has very wisely been elected to represent Canada against the Gentlemen of Ireland at Toronto on the 30th and 31st of August and the 1st of September). He made 20 and 16 for the visitors in very good form. He has been making a lot of runs this year, and is a most useful man.

"The bowling honors fell to A. C. Allen for the Torontos. This well-known cricketer uses excellent judgment. Logan also bowled well for the visitors.

"The Peterborough players were entertained by the Toronto club at a luncheon, very nicely served up by Mrs. Leigh, the club professional's wife. There was a number of spectators on the ground to witness the match, including many ladies."

'Prentice Boys at Hastings.

Jubilee Lodge of 'Prentice Boys, No. 7, picnicked at Hastings on Wednesday, Aug. 15th. They went down on the Grand Junction train in the morning. Owing to the morning being wet and the next day being the civic holiday, the excursion was not largely attended, about fifty accompanying them. The 'Prentice Boys of Belleville also ran an excursion to Hastings on that day. Upon the arrival of the Belleville train a procession was formed at the station. The order of procession was, the Foxboro Brass Band, Ashley Carriage Factory baseball club, Jubilee Lodge of 'Prentice Boys, King William Lodge of True Blues, No. 34, (Peterborough), Frankford Lodge of 'Prentice Boys, and Belleville Lodge of 'Prentice Boys. The procession marched through the streets and to Johnston's grove, where the picnic was held. A baseball match was played by teams of Peterborough and Belleville 'Prentice Boys. The batteries were—Peterborough, H. Sanders, pitcher, and Billings, catcher; Belleville, Habbet, pitcher, and Caverly, catcher. The match was a very good one, and the Peterborough boys won by a score of 21 to 4. Dinner was partaken of in the grove, and dancing, swinging and other amusements filled up the time of a very pleasant day. The Belleville train left at 5.30 and the Peterborough train at 6.45, and the Peterborough excursionists arrived home at about 8 o'clock.

THE CIVIC HOLIDAY.

THE TOWN ALMOST DESERTED DURING THE DAY.

Excursions Largely Patronized to Sturgeon Point, Stoney Lake, Toronto and Jubilee Point—An Amateur Baseball Match.

Our civic holiday is over. It was one of those hot, close days on which nobody has ambition enough to do much. Any home celebration would probably have been a torture, or at least a great exertion, and so the many excursions which left town yesterday offered just the proper opportunities for spending the civic holiday in a manner which would about meet the desires of most of our townsmen—a day of listlessness on the water or under the shade of green trees, with no more toilsome exertions than those of eating and keeping one's self cool.

Early in the morning the town was astir. Almost every person had some excursion in view and was up with the sun to complete arrangements, pack the baskets or get the children ready. All the advertised excursions were well patronized. A large number of canoeing parties paddled down the river to spend the day lounging beneath the trees along its banks and return home in the cool evening. They got a little bump in the rain which fell, but such little things are not thought much of under the circumstances—at least it is just as well to say so. In fact, it was almost a Sabbath stillness which prevaded the town, so deserted were the streets.

In the evening back came the excursionists tired and worn out with their day's outing, but all having enjoyed themselves immensely. The Fire Brigade Band played on the march from the station and this with accompanying crowd was the first life that had been visible on the streets since morning.

The Canton and Band Excursion.

The excursion under the joint auspices of Canton Peterborough No. 16, P.M., and the 57th Battalion Band to Sturgeon Point proved a great success. A train of ten coaches carrying 500 people left the Grand Trunk railway station at 8 a.m. and arrived in Lindsay at 9 a.m., where the steamer Beaubocage and Palace Scow Pomona were in waiting to convey the excursionists to Sturgeon Point, which was reached after a pleasant sail of two hours. Shortly after the arrival, there might be seen under the numerous shaded spots snow white spreads containing something to satisfy the inner man, which was done ample justice to. Those who did not take baskets procured an excellent dinner at the hotel. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in racing, swinging, boating, bowling and dancing, the last being kept up in the commodious hall until the departure of the boat, when it was further indulged in to the excellent music of the Fire Brigade Orchestra. Lindsay was reached at 6 p.m. The 57th Band played some excellent selections on Kent-st., which were highly appreciated. The train from Lindsay arrived at Peterborough at 9 p.m., all being well satisfied with the day's outing. The Band and Canton are to be congratulated upon conducting their first joint excursion so successfully.

NOTES.

A sailing race at Sturgeon Point yesterday, won by Mr. S. Britton, of Lindsay, afforded amusement for the excursionists.

A large number of excursionists stopped off at Lindsay and remained there during the day. The sports programme was an excellent one and was well carried out, and was witnessed by an immense crowd of people. The only drawback was that the track for the horse races was not a good one. The people of Lindsay appeared to have acted together to make the celebration a success and they did not fail in doing so.

Mayor Walters and other leading citizens paid great attention to strangers in the town and their considerate acts will do much to cause people to visit Lindsay again on such an occasion. Ned Brown's "Lady B." took first money in the named race and Morgan's "Grey Ned" second money in the free for all.

Our bandmaster found a box of cigars, which he freely distributed to the members of the band.

Great preparations are being made at Sturgeon Point for the regatta to be held there next week. Already a large number of noted scullers have arrived and may be seen on the lake daily practicing for the different events.

The Trip Down the River.

The members of St. Peter's Branch, No. 21, Emerald Benevolent Association, met at their hall on Simcoe-st. about eight o'clock in the morning and marched down to the wharf where they took the Golden Eye and palace scow for Jubilee Point. There was a large crowd on board, upon leaving here, which was augmented by about 75 at Ashburnham and 50 at the locks. The Fire Brigade orchestra accompanied this excursion, and dancing and music enlivened the trip down the river. Mr. James Coughlin acted as floor manager. At Jubilee Point sports, baseball, dancing, etc., made the day pass most enjoyably and about four o'clock the homeward sail was commenced. About six o'clock, while in the river, a severe hail and wind storm was encountered, the most serious damage that was done being the sweeping overboard of a canoe and the frightening of the more nervous passengers. The boat reached town about nine o'clock, all having enjoyed the day's outing immensely. The committee in charge can take no little credit to themselves for the smooth manner in which the excursion was managed, while they are highly satisfied with the financial results themselves.

A Good Day at Stoney Lake.

The Lansdowne Lodge, Sons of England, had a good day on their excursion to Stoney Lake. About three hundred people took the train at 8.35 o'clock for Lakefield, and there embarked on the Cruiser, Mary Ellen and Dawn for Stoney Lake. Their destination was reached about 1.30 o'clock and the day spent in picnic fashion — some lounging beneath the trees, others fishing and rowing and putting in the time as best suited their own inclinations. Some fifty excursionists went as far as Julian's Landing. The excursionists returned in the evening well satisfied with their trip. A little misunderstanding with the captain of the Cruiser caused a few to go hungry, but this did not mar the day's pleasure to any extent. The well-known beautiful scenery on this route and the pleasant sail on the lake were enjoyed, and those who adopted this method of spending the civic holiday had a pleasant day. The excursionists arrived home about 8 o'clock.

The Foresters in the Queen City.

About 200 towns people boarded the excursion train which the Foresters ran to Toronto yesterday morning at 6.40. The run to Toronto on the G. T. R. via. Port Hope, makes a pleasant ride along the lake shore, which was greatly enjoyed by the Peterborough people. Arriving in Toronto a little before ten o'clock the excursionists proceeded to do the Queen City, taking in all the sights, and as the excursionists received reduced rates to the cyclorama the majority of them went to see that masterpiece of the artist's brush. The train left for home at 5.30 o'clock, arriving here about nine. Success attended the excursion, financially and otherwise. The Foresters speak most highly of the courtesy and attention of the train men, who contributed in every possible way to the comfort of the party.

The C. P. R. Excursion.

The C. P. R. reduced rates to Toronto were taken advantage of by about 150 people, yesterday. The trains made good time, arriving in Toronto a few minutes before the advertised hour. Some of the excursionists returned on the 7.30 or 11.30 o'clock trains, while quite a few remained over and will come back to-night.

Some Amusement At Home.

Worse exhibitions of ball playing have been witnessed than the game in the afternoon on the P. A. A. grounds between the dry goods clerks and the druggists, and, considering the fact that many of the players made their first appearance on the diamond, the score of 24 to 23 is not such a bad showing. The spectators, of whom there was quite a number, were, however, afforded plenty of amusement. Carter was in the box for the "rag slingers" and Willis for the "poison-handlers." They each had one "curve" down line—a straight "on shoot," which did not bother the majority of the batters except Begley, who pounded wind every time he went to bat, except once, upon which occasion he was so surprised that he almost forgot to run. However, it was good pitching all round as neither men ever attempted the twisting business before. Mort. Kincaid, who was receiver for the dry goods men, never wore gloves or mask before and his work behind the bat was not bad. K. Kincaid, catcher for the "drugs," seemed more at home. Some of the fielders were pretty funny semi-occasionally when the ball came near them, but the boys enjoyed the sport and so did the onlookers. Some good catches were made, Canning in the sixth innings taking a nice fly on the run. Both the first basemen played well. Greatrix and McMillan each made a home run in the seventh, and will probably be given a corner lot for the feat. It will be seen by the score that the dry goods men were white-washed once, while the "compounders" failed to pound in three innings. Mr. W. J. Minore umpired.

No score of the hits, errors, etc., were kept, but the individual score by innings was as follows:—

GROUNDERS.

Several of the local divines and and M. D's. graced the game with their presence.

Mort Kincaid could demand a couple of thousand a year as "coacher" with a league team. He may be said to have won the game, for his exertions brought in more than one man.

The boys feel pretty stiff to-day after the exercise.

It was a good scheme on the part of the druggists to boom their business—lay a man up and then he must patronize the drug trade.

Picnic or Demonstration.

A meeting of the joint committee of the labor organizations of Peterborough will be held this evening at the Knights' hall on Water-st. to make arrangements for a picnic or demonstration to be held in the near future.

Young, old, and middle aged, all experience the wonderful benefical effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young children, suffering from sore eyes, sore ears, scald heads, or with any scrofulous taint, become healthy and strong by the use of this medicine. Six bottles, $5.

Correspondence of the Review.

HARVESTING.—Most of the farmers are nearly through with their harvest. The rains are coming too late to improve the crops, although it may improve the pasture, and by so doing will prevent any further trouble about skimming milk, as the proprietor of the cheese factory has threatened to impose a fine of twenty dollars for the first offence. Second and third will be jail or pound. There is supposed to be a large number implicated in that mean act. The new rules and regulations of our factory are very strict, that is, every rainy morning you are minus of ten lbs. of milk. Beware of inspectors.

BINDERS.—Self-binders are numerous and save considerable labor, but they come pretty expensive, that is, if you ware one out before being capable of driving it.

THE LATE MRS. LYNN.—The sad news of the death of Mrs. Sarah Lynn, eldest daughter of Mr. Wm. Hunter, of Otonabee, and a recent resident of Toronto, aged thirty-three years, six months and twelve days, will be received with deep regret, by all who had the pleasure and profit of her acquaintance. Mrs. Joseph Lynn was well known throughout Otonabee and other parts, and was deservedly held in high esteem. She leaves a husband and three small children and a large number of friends who have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire population of Peterborough, as well as of many in Toronto, where Mrs. Lynn was well known and highly esteemed.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk. Delicate people improve rapidly upon its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thos. Looked in the Dictionary.

A little girl, 9 years old, was spending the summer in a country boarding house, where she became a great favorite with the other guests. One of them, a young gentleman, was so devoted that his attentions became quite annoying to her.

One day she said to her mother, "Do you think Mr. Brown ought to call me a puny devil?"

"Why, no, my dear," replied her mother, somewhat shocked, "of course not! But are you sure he did? You must be mistaken."

"No, I am not," said the little one, triumphantly. "He called me an 'imp,' and I looked in the dictionary to see what it meant, and it said 'a puny devil.'"—Home Journal.

A Fight to the Death.

A big spider was placed on a rock in the center of an aquarium in a recent experiment and a larva of a water beetle put near. The beetle promptly seized the spider and pulled it into the water, but after a sharp struggle the spider broke away and escaped. The beetle soon afterward renewed the attack, and fastened itself on the spider by its pincers. The spider also got a good hold, and the duel resulted in the death of both. It is said that if two of the larva are placed in the same aquarium they will fight until one or the other is dead, and the victor will decapitate the dead one.—New York Sun.

"Iget your idea," said Mr. Balltop to his wife "Your reasoning is quite correct. Your experience is a safe guide. Quite so, decidedly so. You say that if Mr. Wilson's goods are so good, as for instance this piece of China on the mantle, the other things which he sells are sure to be excellent. That is a very fair supposition and one, I may say, well grounded. We give up the idea of buying our supply of Fruit Jars in Toronto and hand an order to Wilson. I'll attend to it after Canton drill, this afternoon."

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

The Story of a Masterpiece.

By HENRY JAMES, Jr.

IN TWO PARTS.—PART I.

[Copyrighted.]

NO LONGER ago than last summer, during a six weeks' stay at Newport, John Lennox became engaged to Miss Marian Everett, of New-York. Mr. Lennox was a widower, of large estate and without children. He was 35 years old, of a sufficiently distinguished appearance, of excellent manners, of an unusual share of sound information, of irreproachable habits and of a temper which was understood to have suffered a trying and salutary probation during the short term of his wedded life. Miss Everett was, therefore, all things considered, believed to be making a very good match and to be having by no means the worst of the bargain.

And yet Miss Everett, too, was a very marriageable young lady—the pretty Miss Everett, as she was called, to distinguish her from certain plain cousins, with whom, owing to her having no mother and no sisters, she was constrained, for decency's sake, to spend a great deal of her time—rather to her own satisfaction, it may be conjectured, than to that of these excellent young women.

Marian Everett was penniless indeed; but she was richly endowed with all the gifts which make a woman charming. She was, without dispute, the most charming girl in the circle in which she lived and moved. Even certain of her elders, women of a larger experience, of a heavier caliber, as it were, and, thanks to their being married ladies, of greater freedom of action, were practically not so charming as she. And yet, in her emulation of the social graces of these, her more fully licensed sisters, Miss Everett was quite guiltless of any aberration from the strict line of maidenly dignity. She professed an almost religious devotion to good taste, and she looked with horror upon the boisterous graces of many of her companions. Beside being the most entertaining girl in New York, she was, therefore, also the most irreproachable. Her beauty was, perhaps, contestable, but it was certainly uncontested. She was the least bit below the middle height, and her person was marked by a great fullness and roundness of outline; and yet, in spite of this comely ponderosity, her movements were perfectly light and elastic. In complexion, she was a genuine blonde—a warm blonde; with a midsummer bloom upon her cheek, and the light of a midsummer sun wrought into her auburn hair. Her features were not cast upon a classical model, but their expression was in the highest degree pleasing. Her forehead was low and broad, her nose small, and her mouth—well, by the envious her mouth was called enormous. It is certain that it had an immense capacity for smiles, and that when she opened it to sing (which she did with infinite sweetness) it emitted a copious flood of sound. Her face was, perhaps, a trifle too circular, and her shoulders a trifle too high; but, as I say, the general effect left nothing to be desired. I might point out a dozen discords in the character of her face and figure, and yet utterly fail to invalidate the impression they produced. There is something essentially uncivil, and, indeed, unphilosophical, in the attempt to verify or to disprove a woman's beauty in detail, and a man gets no more than he deserves when he finds that, in strictness, the aggregation of the different features fails to make up the total. Stand off, gentlemen, and let her make the addition. Beside her beauty, Miss Everett shone by her good nature, and her lively perceptions. She neither made harsh speeches nor resented them; and, then, on the other hand, she keenly enjoyed intellectual cleverness, and even cultivated it. Her great merit was that she made no claims or pretensions. Just as there was nothing artificial in her beauty, so there was nothing pedantic in her acuteness and nothing sentimental in her amiability. The one was all freshness and the others all bonhommie.

John Lennox saw her, then loved her and offered her his hand. In accepting it Miss Everett acquired, in the world's eye, the one advantage which she lacked—a complete stability and regularity of position. Her friends took no small satisfaction in contrasting her brilliant and comfortable future with her somewhat precarious past. Lennox, nevertheless, was congratulated on the right hand and on the left; but none too often for his faith. That of Miss Everett was not put to so severe a test, although she was frequently reminded by acquaintances of a moralizing turn that she had reason to be very thankful for Mr. Lennox's choice. To these assurances Marian listened with a look of patient humility which was extremely becoming. It was as if for his sake she could consent even to be bored.

Within a fortnight after their engagement had been made known, both parties returned to New York. Lennox lived in a house of his own, which he now busied himself with repairing and refurnishing; for the wedding had been fixed for the end of October. Miss Everett lived in lodgings with her father, a decayed old gentleman, who rubbed his idle hands from morning till night over the prospect of his daughter's marriage.

John Lennox, habitually a man of numerous resources, fond of reading, fond of music, fond of society, and not averse to politics, passed the first weeks of autumn in a restless, fidgety manner. When a man approaches middle age he finds it difficult to wear gracefully the distinction of being engaged. He finds it difficult to discharge with becoming alacrity the various petits soins incidental to the position. There was a certain pathetic gravity, to those who knew him well, in Lennox's attentions. One-third of his time he spent in foraging Broadway, whence he returned half a dozen times a week, laden with trinkets and gimcracks, which he always finished by thinking it puerile and brutal to offer his mistress. Another third he passed in Mr. Everett's drawing room, during which period Marian was denied to visitors. The rest of the time he spent, as he told a friend, God knows how. This was stronger language than his friend expected to hear, for Lennox was neither a man of precipitate utterance, nor, in his friend's belief, of a strongly passionate nature. But it was evident that he was very much in love; or at least very much off his balance.

"When I'm with her it's all very well," he pursued, "but when I'm away from her I feel as if I were thrust out of the ranks of the living."

"Well you must be patient," said his friend; "you're destined to live hard, yet."

Lennox was silent, and his face remained rather more somber than the other liked to see it.

"I hope there is no particular difficulty," the latter resumed; hoping to induce him to relieve himself of whatever weighed upon his consciousness.

"I'm afraid sometimes I—afraid sometimes she doesn't really love me."

"Well, a little doubt does no harm: It's better than to be too sure of it, and to sink into fatuity. Only be sure you love her."

"Yes," said Lennox solemnly, "that's the great point."

One morning, unable to fix his attention on books and papers, he bethought himself of an expedient for passing an hour.

He had made, at Newport, the acquaintance of a young artist named Gilbert, for whose talent and conversation he had conceived a strong relish. The painter, on leaving Newport was to go to the Adirondacks, and to be back in New York on Oct. 1, after which time he begged his friend to come and see him.

FARQUHAR'S BRAG.

The Fortification Bill in the U. S. House—Mr. Nutting's Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The House being in committee on the Fortification Bill to-day, Mr. Nutting (N. Y.) offered an amendment appropriating $500,000 for the erection of a dry dock and proper machinery, buildings and appliances at some point on Lake Ontario for the building and repairing of armed ships. In advocacy of this amendment, Mr. Nutting stated that England and Canada had already prepared a water way from the Atlantic Ocean into the interior of our country, and they could now load a steel ship of 1,000 tons burden in England and sail it to Chicago or Duluth. In case of trouble with England the greatest danger to the United States would be on her northern frontier. At Kingston, almost within a cannon shot of the shores of the United States, Canada was building a dry-dock for the construction of war vessels. This was notice that while the United States might not need a dry-dock or ships, it was wise for her as a great nation to prepare herself for possible difficulty with England in the future. He was in favor of the settlement of difficulties by means of arbitration, but it was too soon for the United States in her dealings with England and Canada to rely on arbitration for the settlement of differences.

Mr. O'Neill (Pa.) regarded the purpose of the amendment as an excellent one and one which he hoped that the House would adopt.

Mr. Farquhar, N. Y., declared that the State of New York, independently of any other State, would take the contract to take care of Canada and her 5,000,000 inside of sixty days. There were 250,000 soldiers ready to march at the tap of the drum. A country that had passed through a war, and who possessed a million veterans who had worn the blue and grey, asked no odds from Canada or her parent Government. [Applause.]

Mr. O'Neill expressed the hope that every member of the New York delegation would take measures to bring the Canadian Pacific railway under the provisions of the Interstate Commerce Law.

Mr. Nutting's amendment was ruled out of order.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't think they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

INCREASING CONFIDENCE

AS TO THE PROSPECT FOR THE AUTUMN'S TRADE.

Unfavorable Wheat Advices From the United States, England and France—Money in Good Supply.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's this week furnish evidence of increased confidence east and west as to the prospect for the autumn's trade.

Reports concerning the wheat crop at the Northwest are less favorable as are wheat advices from England and France. It is more than likely that the United States, Russian and Indian reserve stocks of wheat will be drawn upon to the extent of 65,000,000 to 75,000,000 bushels this year. Other domestic grain crops promise favorably, particularly Indian corn, which will prove very heavy unless damaged by frost prior to Sept. 12.

The New York stock market is unsettled and lower on less favorable prospects, though early in the week a rise in the coal stocks partially maintained the bullish feeling. Bonds are steady under a large foreign demand. Money at New York is in good supply, but a shade firmer. Call loans 1½ to 2 per cent.

The exports of wheat, and of flour as wheat, from both coasts during the week aggregate 1,569,580 bushels, against 2,271,529 bushels last week. One year ago the average weekly exports of wheat, and flour as wheat, was about 4,000,000 bushels, more than twice as much as the weekly average since July 1 last.

DR. RIDLEY'S SUICIDE.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury—An Expression of Sympathy.

DUBLIN, Aug. 18.—The coroner's jury, in the case of Dr. James Ridley, late medical officer of Tullamore Jail, rendered a verdict yesterday to the effect that Dr. Ridley committed suicide while suffering from temporary insanity produced by apprehension of disclosures with reference to the treatment of the late John Mandeville in Tullamore Jail. The jury expressed great sympathy with Mrs. Ridley and Mrs. Mandeville. The charges against Visiting Justice Moorhead are declared by the jury to be unfounded.

Aluminum and Cast Iron.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18.—At yesterday's session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, W. J. Keep, C.E., superintendent of the Michigan Stove Company of Detroit, read a paper on "The Influence of Aluminum upon Cast Iron." He said he had made a large number of tests with white and gray irons by adding aluminum by the Electric Smelting and Aluminum Company of Cleveland. He proved that aluminum caused cast iron to turn gray, that it prevented flow holes, increased the strength, took away all tendency to chill, lessened the thickness of scale, softened the iron, increased elasticity and with white iron increased fluidity. Mr. Keep proved that substantially all the aluminum added remained in the metal to exert an influence when smelted.

The Universal Peace Union.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 18.—The convention of the Universal Peace Union closed a three days' session at Mystic yesterday. A resolution was adopted appealing to Governor Hill to commute the death sentence of David Lyons to life imprisonment. During the afternoon Mrs. Parnell made an eloquent address in favor of equal rights everywhere. She expressed the opinion that the new German Emperor would like a fight but would not get one while Bismark lived. Three cheers were given for Mrs. Parnell, Charles Stewart Parnell and the cause of Ireland.

The Daily Collision.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 18.—Yesterday morning a freight train on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad ran into the rear end of the northbound passenger train south of Nichols, S. C. Two tramps on the freight train were killed and one seriously hurt.

Coal Will Go Up.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—An advance of 25 cents per ton on anthracite coal is announced from Buffalo to Chicago, on and after Sept. 1. This will make the through rates $2.50.

The Fisheries Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Senate yesterday afternoon took up the Fisheries Treaty in open executive session, discussion being on the motion submitted by Mr. Gibson. Mr. Frye asked unanimous consent for an order of the Senate that at 1 o'clock each day the debate on the treaty shall proceed, and shall close on Monday next at 8 o'clock, the friends of the treaty having the last two hours, and that on Tuesday next at 12 o'clock the final votes shall be taken on all amendments, motions and the resolution of ratification. Mr. Morgan then proceeded to address the Senate in favor of ratification of the treaty.

THE LOSS OF THE GEISER.

CAPTAIN LAMB'S STORY OF THE TERRIBLE COLLISION.

The Air Rent With Agonizing Shrieks and Prayers When the Ship Went Down—Captain Moller's Wonderful Escape.

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 18.—The Danish steamer Thingvalla, which was in the collision with her sister ship, the Geiser, off Sable Island Tuesday morning, arrived in port yesterday morning. She presents a strange spectacle with nearly the whole of her bow torn away leaving an immense hole exposed to view. A long piece of bow hangs over the hole which reaches back into the sides of the ship over fifteen feet. The only account of the disaster to be obtained is the statement of Captain Lamb, which is as follows:

It was just about 4 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, Aug. 14, a few minutes before the watch had been changed and my second officer who was on deck came down and I asked him how the weather was. He said it was rainy but not foggy. He returned a few minutes later. I heard the telegraph signal for the engines to reverse. This was the first intimation I had of any trouble. Leaping from my berth I ran for the deck. As I was hurrying up a collision ocurred. It was a terrific shock, the steamers coming together with a frightful crash. Rushing forward I found the Thingvalla locked with another steamer which I did not then know. As I approached I saw a man whom I afterwards found to be the Geizer's second officer jump on to our deck. My steamer had cut right through his room where he was sound asleep and he leaped out of his bunk on to the Thingvalla's deck.

It may have been two or it may have been four minutes before the engines were reversed and backed off without delaying a moment. I went to quiet my excited passengers who were crowded on the deck and shouting and crying with fear. At the same time I looked after the safety of my ship, having no knowledge as to what was the extent of our damage. The officers were already engaged cutting away and launching the life boats. One of the Thingvalla's boats had just been lowered when the other steamer went down shem first.

The scene was a frightful one. I cannot attempt to describe it. Some of her passengers were rushing madly about her deck, while others were crowded in several boats on the water. It turned out afterwards that three of the ship's boats foundered. A number of the passengers must have been killed in their bunks by the force of the collision, and never knew what happened. As the steamer plunged beneath the water, carrying down those on board, she capsized the boats that had got away. The air was rent with agonizing shrieks and prayers. Most of the people, probably, went down with the Geizer and were followed soon after by the illfated souls in the boats, who must have been sucked under as the ship sank. The cries of the dying still ring in my ears.

Three of our boats were already launched and trying to save as many as they could from the doomed Geizer but it was slow work as comparatively few managed to keep afloat after the steamer's disappearance. Three boats was all I could get out in the time we had and I did not know but what we might want the remaining ones for ourselves. The two vessels were not more than 100 or 150 feet apart when the Geiser went down. The screams of the drowning lasted for perhaps two minutes, then suddenly all became quiet. Our three boats returned loaded with the saved who had been picked up in the water and from off the bottoms of the capsized boats. I sent the boats back to continue their search for the survivors but they returned with only the corpse of a woman.

Day was just beginning to break when the collision occurred. It was raining, as the second officer told me, just before; it was not foggy. I heard men around me say it was 8 or 10 minutes between the collision and the sinking of the Geiser, but I could not pay any attention to the time.

Capt. Moller told a most wonderful story of his escape. He was standing on the Geizer's bridge as the steamer settled down and he jumped into the sea. He felt himself being sucked under by the ship and while struggling to keep afloat got his legs entangled in a piece of wreckage. This turned him around in the water three or four times and for some moments he was helpless but finally succeeded in disengaging himself and managed to reach the surface again breathless and almost exhausted. Then he got on top of an upturned boat and held on till rescued by men from the Thingvalla.

In my opinion nearly all the people on the Geizer's deck and in the boats sank with the steamer. Everything that we could possibly do to save them was done. After the Geizer disappeared we began jettisioning our cargo to keep the Thingvalla afloat. The crew and passengers worked side by side throwing overboard what was brought out of the hold. What was jettisioned consisted solely of wood pulp and provisions. There was not much wind but a heavy swell. Between 9 and 10 o'clock we reached the forward bulkhead then stopped throwing the cargo over and got to work shoving up the compartment. We were leaking badly in the forehold and kept the pumps going all the time so that the water had not time to gain on us.

At 11 o'clock the steamer Wieland for New York hove in sight and we transferred all the rescued passengers as well as our own 450 passengers to her. The Wieland proceeded about 3 o'clock in the afternoon leaving us also steering for New York. We continued the work of shoving up the compartment but after awhile on account of the wind and sea increasing we found it impossible to keep on for New York and decided to head for Halifax. At this time it still looked very much as if we might sink and some of the crew had refused to work, wanting to be transferred to the Wieland before she left us. We went as slow as two knots an hour and sometimes found that too much. We just had to crawl, that was all.

On Wednesday afternoon a fishing vessel hove in sight and we bore down for her. She proved to be the schooner Capis of Lahore, Capt. Cleversey and I engaged her to stand by and accompany the steamer to Halifax so as to be able to help us in case she should go down. Last night the sea was so heavy I had to turn the steamer around running stern foremost and steering by the schooner which was connected by a hawser with the steamer's bow. We ran against the wind this way all night.

Captain Moller was still in his underclothing when he was taken off the capsized boat. He was also in his berth when the collision occurred and ran on deck without dressing himself. I did not have time to ask him for any particulars before the Wieland came along and took him off. We did not know on the Thingvalla what steamer we struck till the second officer of the Geizer jumped on our deck. When I reached the deck immediately after the shock, the lights on both steamers were burning all right, of that I am certain. The Geizer had been seen by our first officer several minutes before the collision. She was nearly straight ahead of us but a little bit on the port bow. She starboarded to get out of the way and we ported. She should have ported likewise. Our whistle was not blowing at the time as there was no need for it.

Corrected List of the Dead.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The corrected list of the lost is 105, as given by Capt. Moller, of the ill-fated steamship Geizer. The Geizer carried 93 passengers and a crew of 43. Of the passengers 14 were saved, and of the crew 17. This makes the list of lost 79 passengers and 26 crew. Peter Julius Jorgensen, the second officer of the Geizer, says: "The only explanation that I can give is that it was raining like h——ll." The first officer was on the bridge and the third officer was down on the deck taking soundings when the crash came. There is no excitement at the office in this city, as most of the passengers were from the west.

Cut in Two by the Cars.

SOUTH QUEBEC, Aug. 17.—While the Intercolonial way freight from Riviere du Loup was leaving off her west bound cars at Chaudiere Junction this evening, Arthur Camier, a brakeman, accidentally fell under the wheels and was cut in two. He died a couple of hours after.

THE CROFTER SETTLEMENT.

A Parliamentary Committee to Consider the Matter—Grand Trunk Statement.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Scotch Secretary has informed Mr. Begg, the B. C. delegate, that the scheme proposed for a crofter settlement in Vancover Island will be fully considered by a Parliamentary Committee during the autumn session, and recommends him to lay the project in detail before the committee.

Sir Charles Tupper is now inspecting the country districts from which emigration to Canada is proposed. The visit is very opportune, in view of the Parliamentary enquiry.

The Grand Trunk statement for the half year, issued yesterday, is considered unfavorable and the stocks have fallen. The gross receipts were £1,700,000; working expenses, £1,224,200; leaving a balance of £39,990 for available dividend. This is sufficent to pay a dividend of 15s per cent. for the half year on the four per cent. guaranteed stock, carrying forward a balance of £840, and £750,000 is carried forward on renewal of permanent way account. The Chicago and Grand Trunk shows a surplus of £150 as compared with a deficiency of £2,915 last year. The Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee shows a deficiency of £14,000 as compared with a deficiency of £9,644 last year.

The first cargo of Canadian store cattle, consisting of 400 head, has arrived at Aberdeen. A fair market is expected.

WINNIPEG EXCITED.

By the Announcement that the Northern Pacific Deal is Off.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 17.—The announcement in The Free Press this morning that the deal with the Northern Pacific has been declared off has caused intense excitement. Reports were conflicting as to its truthfulness but it is now generally admitted to be true. Premier Greenway says so, and Attney-General Martin and Hon. Mr. Smart assert that the Government has nothing to say in the matter.

The Sun publishes a despatch from St. Paul to the effect that while the report is not believed by the Northern Pacific officials they say it might be true.

Mr. Luxton has returned from St. Paul and states that the Manitoba road will make an offer to step into the shoes of the Northern Pacific, accepting the terms of agreement as to a maximum rate to Duluth, whatever it may be, but in addition allow all other roads running power over the provincial lines on a fair basis, or it will lease the line from the Government when built, and pay a rental sufficient to recoup interest charges on bonds.

The Sun claims that this is a "put up" job by Hudson Bay officials to block the Northern Pacific deal and secure aid from the Government under the Aid Act to enable them to construct their road, but President Sutherland denies this.

A DASTARD'S CRIME.

Brutal Assault Upon a Young Lady in Ottawa County.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—The village of Maniwaki, in Ottawa County, Que., is in a rage of indignation over a brutal outrage committed on a young lady named Miss Fournier, the daughter of Mr. Louis Fournier, a well known and highly respected resident of that locality. The perpetrator of the atrocious crime is a middle-aged man named Patrias, who lives near Baskatong, some distance from Maniwaki. Miss Fournier's injuries are so serious that she can scarcely recover and if Patrias is captured he will doubtless be lynched.

The outrage was committed yesterday and the perpetrator has not yet been found. The Ottawa County authorities have sent the county constable up to look for Patrias and Warden Cormier has advised that Montreal detectives be sent for to conduct the search. The woods are being scoured for the scoundrel.

DECOYED ACROSS THE LINE.

A Qu'Appelle Defaulter Cleverly Captured at Prescott.

MONTREAL, Aug. 18.—Some months ago Geo. Davis ran away from Qu'Appelle, N. W. T., with $3,000 not his own. About four weeks ago he was located at Utica, N.Y. Last week Detective Carpenter was given the case and succeeded in decoying Davis to Ogdensburg. He was induced to cross on the ferryboat running between Ogdensburg and Prescott yesterday afternoon and was nabbed at the proper time by the Canadian detective. The arrest is considered an important one and the culprit and detective are expected to arrive here tomorrow.

BLENHEIM'S BIG BLAZE.

Fire From an Unknown Cause Does Damage to the Extent of $13,000.

BLENHEIM, Aug. 18.—Between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning Blenheim was aroused by the fire bell to find Ford & Son's furniture rooms in flames. The fire had made considerable headway before being noticed and soon spread to Von Gunten's brick on the west and Bisnett's brick on the east side. Losses—Ford & Son's stock a total loss $3000; insured in the British Fire Assurance for $1300. The building owned by L. Bently, a total loss, $3000; insured in the British American for $1,500. C. L. Von Gunten, on stock and building, $2000; insured in the Western for $1500. C. A. Wedge, stock, loss about $400; covered by insurance in the Western. A. L. Bisnett, loss on building, $3200, insured in $2250. Charles Mallory's billard-rooms, loss $800, covered by insurance, T. B. Shillington & Co., stock damaged by removal, covered by insurance in the Western and City of London. W. Q. Drinty, stock damaged by removal, covered by insurance in the Citizens' and Ætna, loss on furniture about $300, no insurance. Mr. Shaver, stock damaged by removal, covered by insurance in the Royal. The fire started in the Ford workshop. Cause unknown.

A Hotel Burnt.

LOUISVILLE, Que., Aug. 18.—The Richelieu Hotel in this village, which has been closed since the month of May, was destroyed by fire last night with all its contents. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, as a man was seen issuing from the premises about 11 o'clock, and twenty minutes after the building was in flames.

Montreal's Daily Fire.

MONTREAL, Aug. 18.—A fire in the building on Cameron-street occupied by James McPherson, of D. M. McPherson & Co., of Allan Grove fame, and Major Bros. & Co., grain merchants, yesterday did several thousand dollars' worth of damage, mostly by smoke and water. The loss is covered by insurance.

Struck by Lightning.

CENTRAL ONTARIO JUNCTION, Aug. 18.—During a heavy thunderstorm which passed over this section about 11 o'clock Thursday night, the barns belonging to George Simpson, near the village of Springbank, were struck by lightning and totally consumed, together with all the season's crop. Loss $2000, no insurance.

Slight Frost in Manitoba.

MANITOBA, Aug. 18.—Thursday night was chilly and fears were entertained that frost would damage the growing crops. The Government meteorological office at St. Johns reports that the temperature fell only to 35½° and telegrams received from different parts of the province show that no damage whatever was done to grain except slightly in one or two places. The weather is milder to-night.

Grain took a rise of 3 cents to-day and it is said will open at 75 cents at Gretna.

SUMMER RESORTS.

DURING the summer months it is the aim of almost everyone who can do so to take a few weeks recreation away from business and its attendant cares. The advantages of such a course have been amply demonstrated. The popularity of camping out, as an invigorating pastime, has increased to such an extent that it has become recognized as one of the best ways of spending a pleasant holiday.

There was a time when it was thought that little benefit could be derived from a summer holiday unless it was spent at some distant fashionable resort. But Canadians need not leave their country for such a purpose. If sea breezes are desired they can be obtained as well in Canada—at such places as Murray Bay and Inch Arran and other less known localities—as well as at Saratoga or Orchard Beach. If medical waters are required there are several places in the Dominion where they can be procured, while there are the already celebrated hot springs at the national park at Banff. For a good, quiet, pleasant and wholesome holiday, however, the people of Peterborough have found that they need not go far from home. Almost at their doors are places that not only they, but many from long distances, have found admirably adapted for such a purpose. To the north there is Stoney Lake, one of the best camping grounds to be found anywhere. The facilities for reaching the islands are adequate and very little inconvenience is experienced in reaching them, while the scenery is very enticing. Then to the south there are the waters of the Otonabee river and Rice lake, which have long been popular with the people of this section, and the resorts at Idyl Wild and at Jubilee Point. The Muskoka lakes and Georgian Bay waters are favorite resorts, but this district can boast of unsurpassed privileges for enjoying the summer weather.

These privileges are being more appreciated, and a Canadian feels a proper pride in recognizing the beauties and advantages of his country and in knowing that they are appreciated.

THERE is no doubt that trade reciprocity would be of the highest mutual advantage to the people of all the vast region west and northwest of the great lakes in Canada and the United States.—Philadelphia Record.

The Record is the paper that not long ago explained that the manufacturers of the United States needed new markets, that they had combinations to break down weaker competitors and that those combinations were anxious for the removal of the tariff so as to get to work in Canada. But the combination with the United States has not yet been made.

MR. J. F. CUMMINGS, of Mariposa, is mentioned as a probable Liberal candidate at the next election for the representation of West Victoria in the Legislature.—Toronto Globe.

It is possible that we may be mistaken in the gentleman referred to, whom the Globe thinks a coming man, but our impression is that he is cunning(s).

OMEMEE.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday of last week Ethel, three years of age, eldest daughter of Mr. Raymond Carey, of Omemee, had a narrow escape from instant death. She by some means found her way to the well which is only covered by boards, having a hole in for drawing water, and it is supposed that while she was looking down she lost her balance and fell to the bottom a distance of about fourteen feet. As there was two and a half feet of water she ran the double chance of either being drowned or killed. Mrs. Carey, on being told what had happened, made all possible speed to the well and without a moment's hesitation descended the stone wall and rescued the child whom she brought up and put out on the platform after which she had to be assisted out herself, the excitement having overcome her. The child's hair was filled with clay from the bottom of the well which showed that she must have gone in head first. There was also a slight cut on the head. The escape was indeed a miraculous one.—Herald.

NORWOOD.

OBITUARY.—On Friday there passed away to her rest, at the residence of her son, Mr. Wm. Elliott, Margarrt Elliott, relict of the late Thos. Elliott, sr., in the 86 year of her age. Deceased was born in County Cavan, Ireland, in the year 1802, and in 1851 emigrated to Canada, settling with her son William in the township of Belmont, where she has since resided continuously. Mrs. Elliott leaves behind her five sons and one daughter, and forty grandchildren. She was widely known and highly respected and her funeral which took place on Saturday afternoon was largely attended. We extend our sympathies to the bereaved relatives.—Register.

ENNISMORE.

Correspondence of the Review.

On Tuesday last while Daniel Crough was cutting a field of oats belonging to Thomas Tellford, one acre was measured off which he reaped in 35 minutes with one of Peter Hamilton's self binders of 1884. The crop was a good one and although the field was rough in the bottom, the cutting and binding was done in first class style, which speaks well for a machine being in use 4 years and not costing five dollars of repairs. Mr. Crough is confident in a field with a good bottom he could cut the acre in less then 30 minutes.

Young, old, and middle aged, all experience the wonderful beneficial effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young children, suffering from sore eyes, sore ears, scald heads, or with any scrofulous taint, become healthy and strong by the use of this medicine. Six bottles, $5.

WESTWOOD.

A CURIOSITY.—Mr. W. G. Reid, postmaster at Westwood, has a real curiosity in his poultry yard, says the Register, in shape of a gobbler, which has hatched out a brood of chickens. The gobbler still persists in keeping the nest, taking no notice of his young family. This is rather a rare case and the only one ever occurring in Canada.

Peterborough Monumental Works.

Mr. J. Coughlin & Bro., who have until recently done business in the stand opposite the old post office, have removed to Hunter-st., next the creek, where they have more commodious premises and increased capacity for work. Coughlin Bros. have for the past twelve years done business with complete success at Belleville, and last year bought out Burgess, of Peterborough. They still do business in the Bay City, while conducting the branch here. One of the firm will in future constantly reside here and give the business his whole attention. Their specialty is monumental work, of which at present there is very little done in town. It has been a custom in years past for dealers in Bowmanville, Toronto, Guelph and other outside places to send agents to Peterborough to solicit orders for the finer quality of work, with the result that the home dealers got only small jobs. Coughlin Bros. intend to make a strong bid for home patronage. They can do the work just as well and far cheaper than those outsiders, as their work in the past will show. On Tuesday they placed a handsome monument, for Mr. Nevin, in the R. C Cemetery here, and have orders for others for the Little Lake Cemetery, which when completed will be specimens of their workmanship whereby the public can judge. They are prepared to do the finest quality of work, and always give their customers a chance to see their work before it is delivered. Coughlin Bros. pay particular attention to getting the very latest designs, and the public can rely upon getting the best styles in the market. They import direct, Scotch, English and Irish Granite, and Dark Grey Quincy (American Granite), which is the handsomest stone in the market. Patrons should call at their warerooms and see the work executed.

Suicide in Enniskillen.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Some parties passing through the woods of Geo. Davis, lot 24, 9th concession of Enniskillen, found the body of James Martin hanging from the limb of a tree by a rope attached about his neck. He must have been dead over 24 hours when discovered. No cause is known why he should have committed the rash act. For some time past he has been suffering from blood poisoning, having got it by coming in contact with poison ivy while handling hoops.

The Tilbury Center Murder.

WINDSOR, Aug. 18.—Provincial Detectives McKee and Rogers have returned to Windsor from Tilbury Center. While absent they discovered that the horse and buggy seen near the farm of Wilson Holton on the evening of his murder belonged to one Drummond, livery stable keeper at Harrow, who is now in Sandwich jail for killing Dan. Brault at Essex Centre.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings best and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10.00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00
2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

WHAT IS IT?

MARVELOUS, WONDERFUL, MYSTERIOUS, PROFOUND,

It Is One of the Great Marvels of the World

It is called "Cosmos, the Great Oracle of Human Destiny," and something remarkable, and is creating great interest among scientists at the present day. The above cut is a fac-smile of a stone excavated from the Temple of Truth (so called) in Athens Greece, in the year, 1527, and placed in the British Museum in London, Eng.

This stone has been noticed without doubt by many residents of this town who have visited the museum. It stands in the "Corridor of Wonders."

The letters appearing on the cut above are in Hieroglyphics on the original stone, but were translated some years ago by Prof. Bartlett of the Howard University, who discovered that they had a hidden meaning, and there are positive proofs that the stone is thousands of years old, and formed part of the belief of the Chaldeans of Persia who were great astrologists, and from which our present knowledge of astronomy is mostly derived.

This wonderful combination of letters arranged in circles around the solar system will, in connection with the key discovered by Prof. Bartlett to read it by astonish and amaze you with the phenominal accuracy with which it answers questions that anyone may ask in regard to Business Enterprises, Love, Money matters, Destiny, and what every young lady and gentlemen who reads this advertisement is just dying to know about Love and Marriage. It is bound to create a sensation outside of the serious import which the replies of "Cosmos" gives. There is lots of fun and amusement in it, for the home circles, and as a parlor game, it will produce what we will call original fun in abundance. Everybody should have one.

We have been to large expense to obtain the copper plate to print copies of the letters on the wonderful stone for distribution, and although copies of Cosmos on handsome placques are being sold in the large cities for $1.00 each, we purpose as a novel way of advertising and as is our custom when we have anything good and interesting to do it in a liberal way, and to give the entire populace an opportunity to secure one. We shall give one copy with the directions to read it by free to each purchaser of any article in our store for the next 60 days, after which they will not be given free. No doubt thousands of people will avail themselves of this opportunity, but we have enough to supply the demand. Obtain a "Cosmos" and send one to your friends out of town and it will please them as much as though they had found a $10.00 bill. Ask for "Cosmos" at the store of Drives.

The river between Young's Point and Lakefield is full of logs. Mr. Frank Brabant, Messrs. Strickland's popular foreman, is bringing down his third drive. Mr. Brabant's drives contained respectively 44,000, 52,000 and 54,000. On Monday Mr. Brabant ran 32,000 logs over the Point dam in twelve hours.

Off for Two Weeks Camp.

A camping party will leave on the Lakefield train this evening to spend a couple of weeks on Syndicate Island. Mr. and Mrs. A. Stewart will chaperone the party, which will consist of the Misses Robinson, of Cleveland; the Misses Patterson, Miss Rutherford and Messrs. J. Connal, T. Connal, C. Brown, M. Kincaid and E. Carter.

Almost Drowned.

There was a report in circulation to-day that a lady had been drowned at Stoney Lake. It probably arose from an accident that occurred on Thursday evening. A gentleman from Peterborough and lady were out in a canoe and their craft was upset by running on a rock. The gentleman supported his companion until her cries brought assitance and they were rescued.

The Bankrupt Sale

Continues with new attractions. On Saturday will be sold, as fast as they can be handed out, many lines of Gent's Furnishings, just arrived. These are new and stylish goods, and cheap at the small prices we are asking. You'll find no better value—in fact you can't. When you are looking for bargains on Saturday night drop in at McNeil's old stand and view the assortment. 2d39

Scott Act in Victoria.

In Victoria also steps are being taken to submit to a vote the repeal of the Scott Act. At a public meeting held in Lindsay the following resolution was adopted:—

"Whereas: The partly prohibition measure, known as the Scott Act, has been in force in this county for over two years, and the time has arrived for bringing before the people the question of its continuance or abrogation; and

"Whereas: The act has not met with the success hoped for as a restrictive measure by its advocates and those who felt the Act should receive a fair trial:

"Be it resolved:—That a general committee be now formed to work for its repeal, and the substitution of a strict and equitably enforced license law, and for the promotion of temperance by that means.

"And be it further resolved, that the ministers of religion, and all others charged with the oversight or care of the moral and physical well-being of the people, be asked to co-operate with the committee for the furtherance of these objects."

Asking Cosmos.

It is a popular thing to do these days to enquire of cosmos regarding business and other affairs. On Friday a clergymen who was in Messrs. Wyatt & Turner's wished to see how cosmos answered questions. He said he had thought of a text from which to preach on Sunday and asked whether he should use it. Cosmos was applied to, and the answer came, "Preach as thou art directed." The clergyman said he would not look for another text.

East Riding Exhibition.

The exhibition at Norwood last year was a very successful one, but the prospects are that this year's fair will surpass even that one. The accommodation has been improved and the prize list revised and extended, and the increased interest points to larger exhibit. At a recent meeting of the Directors the following committees were appointed:—Horses.—Messrs. J. Knox, C. O'Reilly and W. Patterson. Cattle.—Messrs. T. Blezard, M.P.P., L. Lonergan and F. Birdsall. Sheep and Pigs.—Messrs. H. Nelson, A. Cameron and H. Humphries. Roots, Vegetables, Poultry, &c.—Messrs. Wm. Burgess, Chas. Nicoll and C. O'Reilly. Fruit.—Messrs. T. Biezard, M.P.P., and Hugh Nelson. Grain and Dairy Produce.—Messrs. J. Knox, H. Humphries and A. Cameron. Implements.—Mr. F. Birdsall. Ladies Work, Domestic Manufactures, &c.—Messrs. L. Lonergan and W. Patterson. General Superintendent.—Mr. John Brackenridge, President.

A Drawn Game of Lacrosse.

The Shamrocks and Y. M. C. A. lacrosse clubs played a game last evening on the P. A. A. A. grounds which resulted in a tie, each scoring a goal. The game was to have been started at six o'clock, but it was after seven before the face off took place. The play was hot and exciting, neither team outplaying the other to any extent, and after about five minutes playing the ball was forced between the Shamrock's flags during a scrimmage in front of that goal, A. McMillan scoring. The second game lasted only about ten minutes. The Shamrocks pressed their opponents pretty hard from the face off until W. McNamara made a pretty shot that went between the Y. M. C. A's. poles. Play was continued until darkness caused the referee to call time, but neither club scored. The players were as follows, only eleven men being on each team:—

LABOR DEMONSTRATION.

The Mayor to be Waited Upon re a Public Holiday on Sept. 3rd.

The joint labor committee in connection with the proposed labor demonstration met in the Knights of Labor hall last evening. It was decided to hold the first annual trades and labor demonstration on September 3rd. This is labor day throughout the United States and Canada, and there is no doubt but that the workingmen of Peterborough will turn out and make the demonstration one worthy of the Order.

The programme for the day will be a grand parade of the various trades and labor organizations through the principal streets of the town in the morning, after which a monster excursion and picnic will be run to Hastings. Arriving at that village an extensive programme of sports will be gone through, with prizes being offered in the different events. Arrangements will be made for dancing, and all lovers of the light fantastic will be afforded every facility for satisfying their desires.

It is expected that a similar excursion will be run from Belleville to Hastings, in which case the interchange of fraternal greetings will be the most pleasing nature. The Fire Brigade Band will be engaged for the day and the committee of management will spare no effort to make the demonstration a grand success.

A committee was appointed to wait on the Mayor to ask him to proclaim the 3rd of September a public holiday.

Another meeting of the committee will be held on Monday night, when all who are interested should make it a point to be present. The full particulars will be published next week.

THE PROVINCIAL FAIR.

Special Exhibits to be Made—Arrangements in Regard to the Fares.

Hon. Charles Drury, minister of agriculture for Ontario, will attend the opening of the provincial exhibition.

A large and varied exhibit of the products of Manitoulin and Algoma will be brought to the provincial fair. The committee is asking for valuable space.

The Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railways will issue single fare tickets to Kingston from 10th to 15th Sept., good to return to the 17th. There will also be special excursions run to the city.

Prof. Saunders, of the Central experimental farm, is preparing a collection of about 200 varieties of cereals, grown on the farm this season, for exhibition. As these were all grown as single plants, under similar and uniform condition, it ought to prove a very instructive exhibit. There will be besides, from 100 to 150 varieties of potatoes, and a few other miscellaneous products not entered for competition but for exhibition only.

Photos.

The cheapest photographs in Peterborough may be had at Sproule's.

Something Worth Knowing.

Buy 4 large boxes of good matches for 25 cents, at W. J. Morrow's. He continues to sell all goods cheap. Preserving sugar very cheap, 18 pounds for $1.00. As I am now receiving my new importations of tea all my old lines must be sacrificed.

Iron Ore Found.

A despatch from Belleville says:—"The largest bed of iron ore ever found in North Hastings has been discovered in the Township of Wollaston, at the terminus of the Central Ontario railway. The lode, which is on a lot owned by Mr. Jenkins, is from 60 feet to 200 feet in width and has been traced for a distance of over 300 feet. The owner is taking measures to secure its development. A specimen shows 80 per cent of iron." Wollaston adjoins Chandos in this county.

Good Fishing.

There are about twenty persons camped on Messrs. Brownscombe and McWhinnie's island, near Burleigh, and they having a good time generally, especially in fishing. On Friday evening Mr. McWhinnie came down and brought with him a maskinongs for Mayor Stevenson which was sent down by Mr. Robert Pope. The fish was three feet nine inches long and weighed twenty-one pounds. Mr. Pope seems to be as good good at catching fish as in superintending work on the streets.

Religious Services.

The following is a list of services in the several churches to-morrow:—

MAN FOUND DROWNED.

PALMER PARKINSON'S BODY FOUND IN THE RIVER.

The Circumstances Point to Suicide—No Reason Assigned—Inquest this Afternoon.

This morning as Mr. John Irwin, who is employed at Mr. Stephen Payne's garden, was driving to market he noticed something floating in the water. Upon investigation the something wroved to be the head of a man. The body was in a standing position with the head slightly stooped in a bed of weeds about twelve or fifteen feet from the bank. The place where the unfortunate man was found is above the locks, near Mr. Brownscombe's residence.

Word was sent to the police station, and Chief Roszel immediately started out to find a coroner. Failing in this, he decided to go out to the scene of the drowning alone. The name of the drowned man was not known for certain at this time, but he was supposed to be Palmer Parkinson, who had been reported as missing from his home early in the morning. On his way to the river the Chief called in to see Mrs. Parkinson, but she would not believe it was her husband, the store which she keeps on George-st. being open as usual. However, the fact was soon placed beyond a doubt that the doomed man was her husband. Upon reaching the scene, Chief Roszel found the body had been drawn near the shore. He had it drawn out of the water and sent for Undertaker Belleghem and had the body removed to that undertaker's establishment.

The position in which the body was found would point to suicide, but no reason can be given for such an act. Parkinson was well known around the hotels here, having been night porter at the Oriental, the Commercial House, and latterly hostler at Allen's Temperance house. He was a rather eccentric old man of about 60 years of age. He was married in December last, but owing to ill-health has not been working for the last couple of months.

MRS. PARKINSON'S STORY.

A REVIEW reporter called at Mrs. Parkinson's store, but she was unable to assign any reason for such a rash act on the part of her husband. She said that a few minutes after five this morning she had missed her husband from his bed, but had not heard him go out. She immediately arose and went down stairs and found the doors all locked, except the front hall door, which was closed, but not locked. She went back into the house and dressed herself, feeling very uneasy as her husband was never known to leave the house at such an hour before. She kept watch, making enquiries from every passerby, and went over to Cavanagh's hotel to see if he had been seen there, but could get

NO TRACE OF HIM.

The first she heard of the death of her husband was from Mr. Cavanagh, who met her and asked her if it was true. The poor woman was overcome by the shock, but the other members of the household laughed at the thought of such a thing, and it was not until about ten o'clock that the fact was established.

Mrs. Parkinson said the only trouble she knew of was in reference to the buying of the property where they lived. He had said he would buy the place and she supposed he had money. When he left the house Parkinson did not take his gold watch or his pipe and tobacco, a circumstance his wife had not known to happen before. He was in the best of spirits yesterday, however, and the cause of the act, if it was suicide, was a mystery to all.

Mrs. Parkinson's former husband, John Russell, it will be remembered, poisoned himself by taking Paris green about eight years ago.

THE PROPERTY TRANSACTION.

Mr. T. Hurley, who is agent for the property where Parkinson resided, was also seen by a REVIEW man. He said Parkinson wanted to buy the house and half the lot for $1,200, but he (Mr. Hurley) had offered him the house and whole lot for $1,500. The deceased thought tais too much, and was finally told he could have the whole for $1,475. He decided to take the offer and was to have gone to Mr. Hurley's office on Wednesday to bind the bargain. On Wednesday he promised to be in on Friday morning, but on Friday morning he said his money was in "the loan company," and, as one of the directors was out of town, he could not get his money until to-day. He also wanted particulars of the measurements of the lot, as he said he intended to have part of it deeded to his wife and part to himself. He would not pay down any deposit on the bargain, but promised to have the money this morning at ten o'clock.

Whether Parkinson really had money and intended to buy the property cannot be learned, but his wife seemed to think he had.

Coroner Fife was notified and decided to hold an inquest at three o'clock this afternoon, at D. Belleghem's undertaking establishment.

—Mr. John Leary and Miss Leary, of Peterborough, and Mr. J. Edgar Croly, M.A., and family are with a large camping party at Gull Lake, Haliburton County.

—Mr. Thos. Kirkconnell, of Yankleek Hill, has been appointed Science and English Master, and Miss E. O. Woods, of Kincardine, lady teacher, of the Port Hope High school.

—Cobourg Sentinel-Star:—"The natural gas well at Myersburg has given out. Eli Sager ought to go down and talk to it,—it might recover them." If Eli went there gas would flow hi! hi! hi!

—A party of Peterborough people went north by the morning train to-day, who will spend some time at Newnham, Haliburton, the well known and popular summer resort conducted by Mrs. Stewart.

—A young man of Cobourg, says the Sentinel-Star, who became enamoured with the gay spangles of the circus and its following, decided that he would become an actor. He joined the party here, but returned home on Friday, after going as far as Orillia. He didn't admire the language of the boss canvasman.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

STORY OF A MASTERPIECE.

By HENRY JAMES, Jr.

PART I.

It occurred to Lennox on the morning I speak of that Gilbert must already have returned to town, and would be looking for his visit. So he forthwith repaired to his studio.

Gilbert's card was on the door, but, on entering the room, Lennox found it occupied by a stranger—a young man in painter's garb at work before a large panel. He learned from this gentleman that he was a temporary sharer of Mr. Gilbert's studio, and that the latter had stepped out for a few moments. Lennox accordingly prepared to await his return. He entered into conversation with the young man, and, finding him very intelligent, as well as, apparently, a great friend of Gilbert, he looked at him with some interest. He was of something less than 30, tall and robust, with a strong, joyous, sensitive face, and a thick auburn beard. Lennox was struck with his face, which seemed both to express a great deal of human sagacity and to indicate the essential temperament of a painter.

"A man with that face," he said to himself, "does work at least worth looking at."

He accordingly asked his companion if he might come and look at his picture. The latter readily assented, and Lennox placed himself before the canvas.

It bore a representation of a half length female figure, in a costume and with an expression so ambiguous that Lennox remained uncertain whether it was a portrait or a work of fancy; a fair haired young woman, clad in a rich mediæval dress, and looking like a countess of the Renaissance. Her figure was relieved against a somber tapestry, her arms loosely folded, her head erect and her eyes on the spectator, toward whom she seemed to move—"Dans un flot de velours trainant ses petits pieds."

As Lennox inspected her face it seemed to reveal a hidden likeness to a face he well knew—the face of Marian Everett. He was, of course, anxious to know whether the likeness was accidental or designed.

"I take this to be a portrait," he said to the artist, "a portrait in character."

"No," said the latter, "it's a mere composition; a little from here and a little from there. The picture has been hanging about me for the last two or three years, as a sort of receptacle of waste ideas. It has been the victim of innumerable theories and experiments. But it seems to have survived them all. I suppose it possesses a certain amount of vitality."

"Do you call it anything?"

"I called it originally after something I'd read—Browning's poem, 'My Last Duchess.' Do you know it?"

"Perfectly."

"I am ignorant of whether it's an attempt to embody the poet's impression of a portrait actually existing. But why should I care? This is simply an attempt to embody my own private impression of the poem, which has always had a strong hold on my fancy. I don't know whether it agrees with your own impression and that of most readers. But I don't insist upon the name. The possessor of the picture is free to baptize it afresh."

The longer Lennox looked at the picture the more he liked it, and the deeper seemed to be the correspondence between the lady's expression and that with which he had invested the heroine of Browning's lines. The less accidental, too, seemed that element which Marian's face and the face on the canvas possessed in common. He thought of the great poet's noble lyric and of its exquisite significance, and of the physiognomy of the woman he loved having been chosen as the fittest exponent of that significance.

He turned away his head; his eyes filled with tears. "If I were possessor of the picture," he said finally, answering the artist's last words, "I should feel tempted to call it by the name of a person of whom it very much reminds me."

"Ah!" said Baxter; and then, after a pause—"a person in New York?"

It had happened a week before that, at her lover's request, Miss Everett had gone in his company to a photographer's, and had been photographed in a dozen different attitudes. The proofs of these photographs had been sent home for Marian to choose from. She had made a choice of half a dozen—or rather Lennox had made it, and the latter had put them in his pocket, with the intention of stopping at the establishment and giving his orders. He now took out his pocket book and showed the painter one of the cards.

"I find a great resemblance," said he, "between your Duchess and that young lady."

The artist looked at the photograph. "If I am not mistaken," he said, after a pause, "the young lady is Miss Everett."

Lennox nodded assent.

His companion remained silent a few moments, examining the photograph with considerable interest, but, as Lennox observed, without comparing it with his picture.

"My Duchess very probably bears a certain resemblance to Miss Everett, but a not exactly intentional one," he said at last. "The picture was begun before I ever saw Miss Everett. Miss Everett, as you see—or as you know—has a very charming face, and, during the few weeks in which I saw her, I continued to work upon it. You know how a painter works—how artists of all kinds work: they claim their property wherever they find it. What I found to my purpose in Miss Everett's appearance I didn't hesitate to adopt, especially as I had been feeling about in the dark for a type of countenance which her face effectually realized. The Duchess was an Italian, I take it. Now, there is a decidedly southern depth and warmth of tone in Miss Everett's complexion, as well as that breadth and thickness of feature which is common in Italian women. You see the resemblance is much more a matter of type than of expression. Nevertheless, I'm sorry if the copy betrays the original."

"I doubt," said Lennox, "whether it would betray it to any other perception than mine. I have the honor," he added, after a pause, "to be engaged to Miss Everett. You will, therefore, excuse me if I ask whether you mean to sell your picture."

"It's already sold—to a lady," rejoined the artist, with a smile; "a maiden lady, who is a great admirer of Browning."

At this moment Gilbert returned. The two friends exchanged greetings, and their companion withdrew to a neighboring studio. After they had talked awhile of what had happened to each since they parted, Lennox spoke of the painter of the Duchess and of his remarkable talent, expressing surprise that he shouldn't have heard of him before, and that Gilbert should never have spoken of him.

"His name is Baxter—Stephen Baxter," said Gilbert, "and until his return from Europe, a fortnight ago, I knew little more about him than you. He's a case of improvement. I met him in Paris in '62; at that time he was doing absolutely nothing. He has learned what you see in the interval. On arriving in New York he found it impossible to get a studio big enough to hold him. As, with my little sketches, I need only occupy one corner of mine, I offered him the use of the other three, until he should be able to bestow himself to his satisfaction. When he began to unpack his canvases I found I had been entertaining an angel unawares."

Gilbert then proceeded to uncover, for Lennox's inspection, several of Baxter's portraits, both men and women. Each of these works confirmed Lennox's impression of the painter's power. He returned to the picture on the easel. Marian Everett reappeared at his silent call, and looked out of the eyes with a most penetrating tenderness and melancholy.

"He may say what he pleases," thought Lennox, "the resemblance is, in some degree, also a matter of expression. Gilbert," he added, wishing to measure the force of the likeness, "whom does it remind you of?"

"I know," said Gilbert, "of whom it reminds you."

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

BREAD ENOUGH FOR ALL.

ONTARIO'S FIELDS OF GOLDEN GRAIN UP TO THE AVERAGE.

The August Crop Bulletin of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture—The Weather and its Effect

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—Secretary A. Blue, of the Bureau of Industries, on Saturday issued his crop and weather bulletin for August. This bulletin shows the progress of harvesting operations, condition of the crops and estimated yield of the cereals, based upon the reports of 763 correspondents at date. The acreage of fall wheat is taken from the assessment rolls, while all other areas and statistics of live stock are compiled from returns made by farmers under date of June 25. The total area in all crops enumerated is 7,616,350 acres as compared with 7,429,084 in 1887 and 7,342,435 acres for the year 1882-7. In addition there are 3,335,604 acres of cleared land devoted to pasture in 1888, a slight increase over the 2,528,939 acres reported in 1887. The record of the weather has, as usual, been furnished by the Meteorological Office.

The mean temperature of the province for the months of May, June and July was 61.6°, being less by nearly 6° than the corresponding period in 1887, and less by nearly 6° than the average of the three months in the six years 1882-7. The highest mean temperature for each of the three months was reported in Ottawa. Compared with the average rainfall for the same months in the six years, the precipitation was less in every district in 1888. In the east and northeast district it was only a little more than half the average, and in the northwest and north the decrease was also very great. The rainfall during any single month was least in July, when only 1.05 inches fell in the northwest and north and 1.08 in the east and northeast, compared with an average of 2.57 inches and 3.06 inches respectively in the six years. Sunshine appears to have prevailed to a greater extent in the east than in the west, as out of a possible 1397.7 hours in the three months only 709.1 hours were noted in Woodstock, while further east the record keps advancing, being 761.3 hours in Toronto, 770.5 in Niagara Falls South, 782.2 in Lindsay and 813.8 in Kingston. A close sympathy is observable between the weather records above noted and the condition of the crops as reported by correspondents.

Fall wheat generally came to the harvest considerably injured by the unfavorable weather of April, May and part of June. The spring season was cold, clear and dry, following a very dry autumn and a severe winter, and it was not till after fall wheat was out in head, in the month of June, that it experienced any rainfall and growing, sunny weather worth speaking of. The relief came too late to undo all the damage that had been done, and the crop in most cases grew up thin on the ground and headed out unevenly. Rust is complained of in a good many localities. Harvesting was generally about ten days later than last year. The yield will, on the whole, be below the average, and the grain will be shrunken and under size in proportion as rust and drouth prevailed in each locality. The harvest generally was saved in good condition. 60,869 acres of fall wheat are reported as plowed up, of which 75 per cent was in the Lake Huron, West Midland and Lake Ontario groups of counties.

The reports regarding spring wheat are more favorable than they have been for several years. This crop has not suffered seriously from any cause, the only injury that it received worth mentioning having been from drouth in the districts where there was lack of rain; and this, though it reduced the yield somewhat, did not affect the color of the grain or materially reduce its size and plumpness. Very little injury has been done by insects, only the midge having been mentioned, and that rarely. In the central and eastern portions of Ontario, where the bulk of the spring wheat area of the province is found, and where too, the drouth was severest, the crop is generally reported as having been good, or, at least as having been much better than for many years. Probably 80 per cent of the reports are favorable and the remainder describe the crop as short and very largely a failure. The area sown to spring wheat, however, again shows a decrease from 484,821 acres in 1887 to 367,850 acres for the present year.

Barley ranks fair to good in regard to yield and size of berry, but the sample was more or less discolored by the rains which fell shortly after harvesting began. The reports are very uniform from all parts of the province that there was about an average in yield and quality, and where in early situations the crop was secured before rain came the sample is all that can be desired. Good individual yields are reported where threshing has been done, reaching as high as 50 bushels per acre, and reports of 30 to 40 bushels are not uncommon. The crop was heavier and was better saved in the western peninsula than in the group of counties bordering on Lake Ontario, where the principal barley area is situated, but from all parts there will be a very considerable quantity of barley brought to market in good condition and sample. Some correspondents estimate that as much as one-half will be bright barley, but the indications are that this proportion is rather high for the province over.

Oats have given a satisfactory return in the western lake counties of Ontario and in a large portion of the west midland group. The reports from the nine counties which border on Lakes Erie and Huron are almost without exception to the effect that oats have been an abundant crop throughout that district. The same is true, with an occasional exception, of the reports from Middlesex, Oxford, Brant, Perth, Wellington and Waterloo. In the remainder of the province a large proportion of the crop has been light and quite short of the average. The reports are extremely unfavorable from the east Midland and St. Lawrence districts, indicating that there the crop has been very short and thin on the ground and the yield of straw and grain alarmingly light. The average yield in Michigan is estimated at 33 bushels.

Comparatively little rye is grown in Ontario for the grain, its chief use being for fall and early spring pasturage and to plow under as green manure. Where it has been allowed to ripen this crop seems to have stood the drouth best of any, and the yield was fair.

Peas, of all the crops that come into general cultivation in Ontario, seem to have endured the adversities of the season best. The reports from Western Ontario are the most favorable, but in the central and eastern districts the crop at best is more or less short of an average in yield of straw and grain. Harvesting was only in progress at the time of reporting and it is to be feared that much of the crop has been caught out in the recent rains.

The culture of corn for the grain is confined mainly to the western peninsular counties of Essex and Kent. The condition of the crop in these counties is better than it has been for many years. Correspondents report fields of corn in which the stalks stand from 12 to 14 feet in height, with an average of two or three ears to the stalk.

The most encouraging reports have been received regarding the bean crop. In the county of Kent, where two-thirds of the beans grown in Ontario are raised, an abundant yield is expected. The main crop escaped the early frosts, and favorable showers visited the county, so that, to quote the language of one correspondent, "the oldest man in the county never saw finer growing weather for beans."

Roots are grown to the greatest extent in the western half of the province, and with the exception of the counties of Huron, Bruce, Grey and Simcoe, where the drouth checked the growth and the fly did injury to turnips, the average yield per acre promises to be large. In the counties along Lake Erie, particularly, the yield of potatoes will be the heaviest known for some years.

Turnips in several of the western counties suffered from the fly, and in some places where the turnip fields adjoined old meadows the grasshoppers did damage, while drouth affected the crop to so great an extent in the county of Grey that it is claimed that many acres have been plowed up, and that most of the growing fields will yield but a small percentage of an average crop. Mangels have been so badly affected by the drouth as turnips. Carrots are not doing as well as other roots. In Eastern Ontario the drouth has prevented anything like a fair promise in roots, although the reports regarding potatoes are very hopeful in some sections. The large yield of roots in most of the western counties will bring the average for the province fully up to if not above that of the past six years.

The hay and clover crop will not reach two-thirds the ordinary yield. While mixed grasses did fairly in most counties, clover was a poor crop, owing partly to the trying effects of the steady drouth of the previous summer and fall, and partly to "heaving" in winter, which killed out many plants. The drouth of the present spring and early summer completed the difficulties against which the crop had to contend and it is doubtful if so poor a cut has been the experience of the province for twenty years. The most favorable accounts of the yield of hay and clover and the prospects of clover seed come from Essex and Kent, while the most discouraging reports have been received from those counties bordering on Lake Ontario. Correspondents, however, are almost unanimous in declaring that the crop was cut and placed in the mow in spendid condition. Estimates of the yield per acre run all the way from a quarter of a ton to two tons.

In the Lake Erie group, more particularly in the counties of Essex, Kent and Elgin, and in a few of the West Midland counties, the condition of pasture is most encouraging, but in the Lake Huron and Georgian Bay groups and in the eastern Ontario counties the unpleasant experience of last year has been repeated. From Peel eastward correspondents report brown pastures, and in many instances hand-feeding of stock. Already several farmers in eastern Ontario have had to dispose of their cattle at any price, owing to lack of feed, and sales are reported at from $6 to $15 a head. Owing to the falling off in the flow of milk beginning earlier than ordinarily it is thought that the cheese factories will close several days sooner than usual this season.

The number of horses in Ontario is 596,218, or 20,857 more than in 1887; cattle 1,928,638, nearly 20,000 less than in the previous year, although milch cows have increased by 33,238; sheep 1,349,044, as compared with 1,396,161 in 1887; hogs 819,679, or 15,738 less than last year; and poultry 6,165,114, as against 6,438,361 in 1887. The total wool clip is 4,601,027 lbs., against 4,650,249 lbs. last year.

The dry season has not been without its effect upon orchard and garden. Although summer apples are rather small in size, fall and winter sorts will likely be well up to the average in size as well as quality. The borer and codlin moth have appeared in a few places, and occasional complaint is made of wormy apples, but the crop generally will be a good one. The pear blight is reported in portions of Kent, but the general yield will be an ordinary one. Stone fruits are all light in yield. Only a few correspondents in Lincoln speak hopefully of the peach; the majority report the crop as a failure. Plums and cherries are being steadily destroyed by the black knot, and where the plum has escaped that enemy it has been weakened by the curculio. In some of the Lake Erie counties, however, the cherry is reported as having yielded a big crop of large fruit. In the grape growing counties a magnificent yield is anticipated, but in Oxford and Brant the rose bug attacked the vines as the grapes were budding, and wrought much injury. Other small garden fruits have been about an average, except strawberries, which were hurt by the drouth of last summer and fall. In the county of Grey, where the huckleberry is regarded as a standard fruit, the crop is light.

The season has been an unfavorable one for the apiary. Swarming was light owing to the backward spring and the cold nights of early summer. There was a scarcity of nectar in forest and field, linden and white clover being among the failures of the season. But for the patches of Canada thistles, which presented an inviting and valuable foraging ground, many colonies would have suffered from starvation, and it is a question whether more than five or ten pounds of honey per colony will be netted.

The acreage and estimated yield for 1888 and the actual yield in 1887 are:

* Labor saving machinery has so changed the order of harvest work that extra hands are employed only in special cases. The binder is king of the harvest field now. A man and a boy with the implements of to-day can do the work of a number of men of five or ten years ago, and the laborer who can scientifically swing the scythe or cradle is becoming a tradition in Ontario. There has been an ample supply of male farm labor at about the same rate of wages as last year, and there is every prospect of harvesting being completed without difficulty or loss from lack of manual aid. Female help, as usual, is scarce; the problem how to keep the girl on the farm has not yet been solved.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The official time of the departure on Saturday for Liverpool of the steamships Umbria and City of New York is: Umbria passing out Sandy Hook 4.01 p. m., discharged pilot 4.14, going ahead again on voyage 4.15; City of New York passing out Sandy Hook 5.18, discharged pilot 5.34, going ahead again on voyage 5.35. It is said at the agencies of the respective lines that there is no intention to race the steamers.

LATE LONDON CHRONICLES

THE EQUILIBRIUM OF EUROPEAN TEMPERS DISTURBED.

Collapse of the Paris Strikes—The Parnell Defence Fund—The Ridley Inquest—Eagerness for News From Stanley.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The German Emperor's speech at Frankfort has disturbed the equilibrium of European bourses and tempers. His declaration that Germany means to keep Alsace-Lorraine contains absolutely nothing new. Prince Bismarck has said so a hundred times. It is the rhetorical form in which the young Emperor has expressed this resolve that excites criticism. Berlin, of course, approves. Vienna does not care. London thinks it is bad taste. Paris grinds its teeth over what it deems a fresh insult and fresh humiliation. Insult there is none. If there be humiliation for France, she has herself to thank. Putting aside questions of taste and literary form, political observers are inclined to think it well that France should be told plainly, by the highest authority, that she cannot have Alsace-Lorraine or any part of either without war.

The collapse of the strikes in Paris is due largely to the unexpected firmness of the Floquet Ministry in the presence of the disturbances. M. Floquet's Radicalism, once supposed likely to lead him toward anarchy, is now seen to be perfectly consistent with strong government. Every effort was made to induce him to side with the strikers. He was told Paris would turn against him and turn him out unless he withdrew the police and allowed the navvies to fight it out with their employers. That was a practical issue of anarchy or no anarchy. M. Floquet listened politely to proposals which involved the overthrow of society and order, and contradicted promptly the false reports of interviews set afloat by Anarchist leaders; and everybody in Paris slept as soundly in his bed as if it were Napoleon himself who answered for order.

The starting of the Parnell Defence Fund in Dublin is one more proof of political solidity between the Parnellites and Gladstonians. It was in the Liverpool Reform Club that the first meeting was held. All present were English Liberals. Three Liberal editors are on the committee and many other Liberals of local fame. The first subscription list amounted to several thousand pounds. The Home Rule organ in Dublin hails this as an announcement of unique significance and cheering import, saying: "For the first time in the history of the relations of England and Ireland, a great English party has advanced, spontaneously, munificently and openly to the defence of a leader of the Irish National movement." The verdict of Mr. Coroner Rice's jury in the Ridley case can only be called a political verdict. They say that Dr. Ridley was temporialy insane, attack the prison authorities, censure Dr. Barr and exonerate Dr. Moorehead. The London Ministerial press make no comment on the verdict. The Liberal organ considers that the evidence justifies the finding of the jury.

The latest dispatches from Zanzibar and Cairo tend in the opinion of competent judges to confirm the theory that the White Pacha is none other than Mr. Stanley. There is no certainty. There is only a balance of probabilities, and that is only attainable by minute examination of details. Nothing is more remarkable than the way in which Mr. Stanley's courage and force of character are taken as factors in the difficult problem. So like him to march on to Khartoum! say the English. Every scrap of news about him is eagerly watched for and eagerly scanned.

The naval manœuvres are still proceeding with great activity on paper. Operations by sea are suspended, perhaps ended. The hour of critics has come. Admiral Tyron has won by sea; Admiral Baird is to be avenged by land. No great harm or good will be done by this exchange of broadsides in the press. Effective criticism consists in the demonstration of the more or less complete breakdown of the numerous ships and men concerned in these enterprises. Lord Charles Beresford writes, and there are few better authorities, that the system has failed terribly, failed whenever it has been called on for practical work, he adds. However, the others are perfectly satisfied that the Government are now doing all that could be done to reform the system. Their doings, so far as the public knows, have not yet got beyond appointing two commissioners to inquire what ought to be done. G. W. S.

Bad Indians in Dakota.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—A despatch from Pine Ridge Agency, Dak., says four or five days ago a band of Sioux Indians made a formal request of Agent Gallaghut that they be allowed to attend the Sun Dance of the Cheyennes on the Tongue River. Surmising that they would make an attack on the whites along the Tongue and Powder Rivers the agent refused to allow them to leave the reservation. Yesterday morning it was discovered that a large band of the Sioux had started for the home of the Cheyennes. Yesterday afternoon two companies of the First Cavalry, under Mr. J. N. Hamilton and Lt. Walnwright, were sent in pursuit. The military expect to overtake the Indians today when a desperate battle is likely to ensue because the reds are exceedingly angry and reported armed to the teeth.

Francis Le Vincent of Auburn, N. Y., attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor yesterday and will probably die. Financial difficulties were the cause.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S SPEECHES.

It is Thought That They Import No Immediate Menace.

BERLIN, Aug. 19.—Emperor William lunched yesterday at the headquarters of the First Infantry Guards and made another speech in response to a toast to his health proposed by Col. Plessen. Although the affair was strictly private it has transpired that the Emperor's remarks were mainly a repetition of his speech at Frankfort. He said that Germany would keep what she had gained, and also expressed his conviction that the army was able to meet all comers. A semi-official account says the Emperor, in giving a toast to the regiment, referred to the training he himself had received in its ranks and to the services which the regiment had rendered the country in cultivating old Prussian traditions as an example to the army.

The language of Emperor William, although no immediate menace, is not to be attributed to his habit of expressing himself bluntly. His speech at Frankfort was premeditated, if not verbally prepared. The Emperor's ire has been excited by the Russian Government permitting or inciting the press to raise the Schleswig-Holstein question with the additional contention that the Czar, as a representative of the house of Holstein-Gottop, claims special rights to support the claims of Denmark.

A semi-official communication to the Cologne Gazette says: "Schleswig-Holstein can only be separated from Germany by war, with Russia and France as the attacking nations. We take note that from Russian diplomatic sources it is clearly announced that in the event of a successful campaign Denmark would share in the booty and take part in the conflict."

The North German Gazette also complains that the statement regarding the claims of Denmark should first appear in the Nord, a paper which is at the disposal of the Russian Government in the direction of the quest in which the officials of the Russian Foreign Office are engaged.

An Alleged Case of Leprosy in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—August Johnson, a Dane, age 21, came to the county hospital on Thursday to consult the doctors about a loathsome skin disease from which he was suffering. After careful examination, the physicians decided that the patient was suffering from tubercular leprosy, and he was placed in an isolated compartment of the contagious ward. Johnson came to this country when three years of age and enjoyed the best of health up to eight months ago, when the disease first made its appearance in the form of a small red blotch on his right loin. It spread until it became as large as a man's hand. Similar blotches appeared in different parts of the body until he is now completely covered.

Lyons' Last Hours.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Yesterday afternoon Daniel Lyons, the condemned murderer who is to be hanged on Tuesday morning, had his last parting with his mother and members of the family in the Tombs. Mrs. Lyons fainted when she saw her son and when she revived in a broken voice said she would soon follow him to the grave. It was an affecting scene. Lyons is fast breaking up under the strain.

Banker Henry Taylor Released on Bail.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Henry Taylor, of Ontario Investment Association notoriety, was released from jail yesterday, his wife and son giving bonds for his appearance when wanted. Mr. Taylor had been in jail very nearly a year, having been capiased on the 3rd of last September on a judgment for $15,000, secured against him by Mr. R. S. Meredith.

Killed by a Pitched Ball.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 20.—Michael Murphy, shortstop for the Ontario baseball club, an amateur of this city, was hit by a pitched ball in a game yesterday and was killed. His neck was broken from the force of the blow. The deceased was employed as a brakeman on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Railway, and was 24 years of age.

To be Disposed of on Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—It is probable that the fisheries debate in the Senate will be suspended on Monday for the presentation of the conference report on the navy appropriation bills; but it is not expected this will give rise to extended debate. The treaty is to be disposed of on Tuesday.

TRADE MAKES TRADE.

Those opponents of the Government who advocate a commercial union with the United States profess to do so in the interest of the farmers, and bold attempts have been made to arouse a class feeling—to cause one large section of the people to believe that their interests were being subordinated to those of another—in the hope that such an ill-feeling when aroused would tend to the political advantage of the mischief makers. At Oakville Mr. Laurier said that his "choice was made" and that he would stand "with the more numerous class, with the farmers." It is not at all probable that such tactics will succeed, for, although Sir Richard Cartwright at the same meeting charged that the people of constituencies and of whole Provinces were corrupt, the Canadian electorate have to much sense to be carried away with claptrap.

One of the arguments used by Liberals is that trade makes trade. Noticing a trade report indicating that Canada's trade with Great Britain was not as large during July as it had been, a paper which is opposed to the Government put the argument in this way:—

"The facts furnish illustrations of the truth of the statements so often made, that anything which reduces the purchases of a country abroad also reduces its sales. In the present instance the Canadian farmer suffers from the diminution of trade."

Now, supposing the figures and inference to be correct, what do they prove? They might had some bearing in a discussion of free trade and a free trader might make use of them. But it is here argued that anything which would diminish imports from Great Britain would also decrease our exports to that country, and no policy now advocated by any political party would so check imports from Great Britain as unrestricted reciprocity. By allowing United States manufacturers to send their products into this country free of duty and at the same time maintaining or increasing the tariff on British manufactures, the United States factories would have such an advantage that their European competitors would be driven from these markets. Thus our imports from Great Britain would be greatly decreased.

The consequence of this, according to those who advocate unrestricted reciprocity, would be that we could not sell to Great Britain. That would mean that the Canadian farmers would lose their best outside markets for their produce. Much more Canadian farm produce is sold in Great Britain now than to the United States. Wheat, cattle, butter and cheese are shipped to Great Britain and the trade returns show that the value of the farm produce sent from Canada to those markets is much greater than the value of the produce of the farm exported to the Republic. Not only that, but the United States grow more farm produce than they require and are themselves exporters, while there is an almost unlimited market in Great Britain. If the United States had last year taken from Canada all the agricultural produce imported into that country, our farmers would still have had a large portion of the surplus for export left on their hands, while if Great Britain had taken from this country all its imports there would have been nothing left in this country to eat. Unrestricted reciprocity would open to the farmers a market already full to overflowing, and, if exchange is necessary to trade, it was close to them a market where there is a demand for a great deal more than they are able to supply. How would they gain?

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger airl passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, fill are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you tou may depend upon this fei certain.

Who was the Man?

On the train from Lindsay on Thursday night, says the Port Hope Times, a man from Peterborough, a few minutes after leaving Lindsay station, went into the parlor car. On being asked for his ticket by the parlor-car conductor, the man said he could not find it, and used very abusive language. The conductor lost his temper and struck the drunken fellow on the head with his lantern, the sharp edge of which cut a gash just over the right eye, from which the blood ran over his whole face, giving him a frightful appearance, as he rushed through the cars looking for water to wash the wound. The blow seemed to bring him to his senses, and he was seen to go up to the conductor, shake hands, and go into the wash-room with him.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should as ways be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little suffer at once; it product natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright es a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Everywhere one enquires in Toronto as to who is in reality the producer of the best Art Stained Glass in that city. The reply is unanimously in favor of Jos. McCausland & Son. All of the finest residences in Toronto, and most of those throughout Canada, have delightful examples in some form or other from this firm.

IMMIGRATION FOR JULY.

A LARGE INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF SETTLERS.

A Smuggler's Schooner to be Condemned and Sold—The Plantagenet Postmaster Held Responsible for a Loss.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Immigration returns for July show the number of arrivals during the month to have been 19,621, being an increase of 4290 over the same month last year. The number of settlers in the Dominion during the month was 11,186, being an increase of 3106. During the first seven months of the fiscal year the total arrivals have been 104,164, of whom 51,519 settled in Canada, an increase over last year of 18,068 arrivals and 7283 settlers.

The schooner Marie Erzale, from St. Pierre Miqueton, was seized at Quebec about a month ago on a charge of smuggling, and as the case is a clear one an application to load has been refused and she will be condemned and sold. She belongs to Captain David Bouchard who had a vessel of the same name condemned and sold on the same charge last year. Bouchard is said to be a regular smuggler.

After a careful investigation of the case it has been decided to hold the postmaster at Plantagenet, Ont., responsible for the recent robbery of $700 from that office.

Quite a number of cases of typhoid fever exist in Hull at present but so far no deaths have been reported.

As it will not be possible to have the Lansdowne Cup made in time to present it to the winning team in the forthcoming Dominion Rifle Association matches a drawing of it has been prepared by Mr. J. C. Tache of the Public Works Department which will be photographed and a copy presented to each member of the winning team, The cup itself will probably not be received before January.

These graduates of the Royal Military College have elected to accept commissions in the Imperial Army: Cavalry—Sergt. Edmund Charles Hamilton. Artillery—Cadet Frederick Edward Lloyd Barker, Sergt. Arthur Macauley Cayley, Sergt. George Napier Johnson. Engineers—Lieut. Alexander Adams (graduate of 1887), Company Sergts. Major Alphonze Eugene Panet and Arthur Grant Bramer. Infantry—Cadet William Charles Gifford Heneker.

It is reported here that Mr. De Boucherville, Clerk of the Legislative Council of Quebec, is to be superannuated and Mr. L. H. Frechette appointed in his place.

Sir Adolphe Caron says it is quite correct that the position of professor of artillery is to be abolished at Kingston Military College.

The Militia Department has granted permission for the organization of a junior rifle company at the Jesuits' College, Montreal.

It is understood that Bergin, the Baltimore forger, will be handed over to the United States authorities to-day.

The reports about Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister of Interior, continue favorable. He will probably return here Wednesday or Thursday from Winnipeg.

Major-Gen. Cameron, the new commandant of the Kingston Royal Military College, paid a short visit here Saturday morning, and had a brief interview with the Minister of Militia.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Serious Runaway Accident—A Brakeman Killed on the C. P. R.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—At 11.30 a.m., Saturday, David Moore, coachman to Mr. C. H. Green, was driving down Church-street. In attempting to turn out of the car track his rig tipped partially over, throwing him out. He became tangled in the reins and had a narrow escape, his clothes and flesh being torn on the pavement, The horse dashed along the sidewalk, smashing a baby carriage, the children miraculously escaping injury. At King-street, John Peer, an old man from Port Credit, was knocked over by the horse. He received a dislocation of the right shoulder and serious internal injuries. At last accounts he was in the hospital in a precarious condition.

Early on Saturday morning the body of a man, terribly mangled, was found on the C. P. R. track near Blea's Hotel, West Toronto Junction. The body was afterwards identified as that of Allan Davis, a brakesman on the Canadian Pacific Railway, who had evidently been run over by a train as he was going home. He was 26 years of age, and leaves a widow and two young children.

McArthur, Gouinlock & Co., wholesale hat and fur dealers, Front-street west, suspended on Saturday. The creditors meet on Friday next, when it is expected that matters will be satisfactorily arranged. The firm claim a large surplus over and above all indebtedness.

George Donaldson, aged 16, in the employ of Contractor Richard West, was engaged on Saturday afternoon filling a cart with sand in Bloor-street when the front of the pit caved in, burying Donaldson. He was speedily rescued in an unconscious state and taken to the hospital, where it was found he had a severe scalp wound and serious internal injuries. Three fatal accidents have occurred at the Bloor-street pit within two years.

This evening all the secular priests of the diocese of Toronto will go into semi-annual retreat in St. Michael's College. Rev. Father Connolly will preside.

SAULT STE. MARIE CANAL.

Notice to Contractors.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tenders for the Sault Ste. Marie Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the eastern and western mails on TUESDAY, the 23rd day of October, next, for the formation and construction of a Canal on the Canadian side of the river, through the Island of St. Mary.

The works will be let in two sections, one of which will embrace the formation of the canal through the island; the construction of locks, &c. The other, the deepening and widening of the channel-way at both ends of the canal; construction of piers, &c.

A map of the locality, together with plans and specifications of the works, can be seen at this office on and after TUESDAY, the 9th day of October, next, where printed forms of tender can also be obtained. A like class of information, relative to the works, can be seen at the office of the Local Officer in the Town of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Intending contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms and be accompanied by a letter stating that the person or persons tendering have carefully examined the locality and the nature of the material found in the trial pits.

In the case of firms, there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same, and further, a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $20,000 must accompany the tender for the canal and locks; and a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $7,500 must accompany the tender for the deepening and widening of the channel way at both ends, piers, &c.

The respective deposit receipts—cheques will not be accepted—must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works, at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The deposit receipt thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tenders.

By order.

A. P. BRADLEY,
Secretary.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10.00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00
2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

Female Musicians.

It was reported that the Salvation Army were organizing a brass band composed entirely of ladies. This is a mistake. There are only four or five ladies practicing now who will probably appear with the band next month. They will play the alto instruments.

An Excellent Band.

The Barrie Advance says.—"During the demonstration on Wednesday the following bands were in the procession: The Citizens' Band of Barrie, the Newmarket Band, the 57th Battalion Band from Peterborough, the Beaverton Band, the Stayner Band and the Collingwood Band, all of which did creditable work. The Peterborough Band is a very excellent one and played with taste and expression."

A Trip on the Lake.

The members of the Town Council and a number of citizens of Cobourg, accompanied by ladies, enjoyed a ride to Harwood and a sail on Rice Rake on Friday. The trip was taken on an invitation from Mr. T. P. Pearse, the owner of the Cobourg railway, and the party consisted of about one hundred persons. Mr. H. Calcutt placed the Golden-Eye at the disposal of the party and at Harwood the steamer was boarded. Dinner was had at Idyl Wild, and Jubilee Point and Gore's Landing were visited. Between Gore's Landing and Harwood prominent members of the party delivered speeches on the boat. The day was fine and a very pleasant time was spent on the lake by the Cobourgers.

Steam Plough.

The Canadian Manufacturer says:—"Mr. Romaine, of Ottawa, chief of the Dominion House of Commons stationery office, who left for the Old Country a few weeks ago, has deposited a modle of his steam farmer in the Glasgow exhibition, and the implement seems to have evoked the most favorable comment from the Scotch agriculturists. It is designed to perform all the work at present done on the farm by horse-power, and further to substitute for the time honored custom of ploughing a system of cultivation which without invertion will thoroughly pulverize and aerate the soil, enabling the farmer to procure seed bed superior to what can now be obtained by existing methods, and obviate in this and subsequent operations the serious drawbacks incident to the impaction of the soil produced by ploughing, and the continuous treading of horses over the cultivated land. Mr. Romaine is endeavoring to make arrangements for the purpose of having a machine built and tested on Scotch soil before winter sets in. There ought, however, to be sufficient enterprise among some of our Canadian manufacturers of agricultural implements to build one of the machines and test the value of this important Canadian invention."

A Warning to Young Men.

At the Charlotte-st. Methodist Church last evening Rev. S. J. Shorey, in the course of a very practical and forcible sermon from the words "To what purpose is this waste," Matt. 26, 8, sounded a timely note of warning to the young men of today, many of whom, he said, were wasting their prospects and diminishing their fitness for and powers of application by their evil courses. Intemperance was also dealt with by the rev. gentleman. He also remarked that many Christians go to church and pay so much money for so much preaching, and said he intended to make it uncomfortable for members of his congregation who thought that their duty was done when they had gone to church on Sunday.

The Sturgeon Point Regatta.

Those who are interested in aquatic sports will have the opportunity to gratify their inclinations by going to Sturgeon Point, on Tuesday and Wednesday this week, where a great regatta will be held. The management of the regatta have secured the attendance of many noted oarsmen, among whom O'Connor (Champion of the Pacific Slope), Lee, Wise, Hamm and Ten Eyck have already entered. The programme for first day, Tuesday, includes a sailing canoe race, double scull, inrigged, race and amateur single sculling race, are for valuable prizes. On Wednesday the list will include single canoe race, amateur four-oared race, and the $500 great professional single sculling race. Very favorable arrangements have been made with the Grand Trunk Railway. In fact tickets from Peterborough to Lindsay and return cost only 70 cents. The Point is an admirable place to spend a holiday, while Sturgeon Lake is a magnificent sheet of water well adapted for racing purposes. There should be a good attendance from this town as a number of contestants from Peterborough may take part in the amateur contests.

A Singular Occurrence.

The Belleville Intelligence says:—"It has been the experience of all cheese makers that rennet was required to thicken milk for cheese making, but Mr. A. P. Reid, of the Union Factory, Thurlow, reports that he has an eight pound cheese which was manufactured without its use. It was made separately, in the ordinary way, but how the milk became thickened is the question that is not understood. On June 23rd the milk from Mr. Francis Brenton, president of the factory, was noticed to be thick in the can when dellvered to the factory, and was sent back. Mr. Reid, as he thought the matter over, regretted that he had not tried the experiment of making the milk up. It was too late, however, but when the thick milk came again on Thursday, Aug. 16th, he received it and set it aside. He states that it was to his taste sweeter if anything than ordinary milk, but very thick. He put it through the usual process without using rennet. He says it seems dryer and does not promise to meat down and make a mellow cheese, as when the rennet is used. Mr. Reid has been in cheese making for eighteen years and has never had or heard of such an experience. If any dairymen have had a similar experience it would be interesting if they would make it know."

STONEY LAKE TRIP.

TUESDAY Next; Fare, 65c.

Personal.

The Rev. V. Clementi, Mrs. Clementi and Miss Minnie Rubidge left to-day to spend a month at Avon, N.Y.

Rev. Father McEvay left for Toronto-today, and will not return until Saturday.

Low Water.

The water in the river was very low this morning, having been shut off some place up north. There were about forty passengers ready to go down the river on the Golden Eye, but the steamer was unable to go.

The Remains Interred.

The remains of Palmer Parkinson were removed from D. Belleghem's store to his late residence on George-st on Saturday evening. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at three o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Chandos Silver Mine.

The Belleville Ontario says:—"Constable Johnston has a sample from Mr. Cameron's silver mine in Chandos, discovered a few days ago. The ore is found in square bars and as smooth as glass. Some of them are two feet in length. It is expected that this mine when developed will prove very rich."

Lawn Tennis Postponed.

The lawn tennis team which was to have gone to Toronto this morning to play a match with the Osgoode Hall club did not leave, the date having been changed until to-morrow. The following gentlemen will be the players:—Messrs. J. H. Burnham, J. Carlon, W. D. Parker, E. H. Retallack and H. Boyers.

Average Crops.

Principal Sawyer says that after driving about 90 miles through the counties of Hastings, Northumberland and Prince Edward he believes the crops will be of an average yield. This will likely have a good effect on attendance at the College during the coming season. Students from Hastings, Warkworth, Norham and other places are expected. The College re-opens August 27th.

Death at the Gaol.

Between five and six o'clock this morning Joel Jas. Merriam, an insane inmate of the county gaol, was relieved of his sufferings by the grim monster. Merriam was sent to gaol during last November as insane. At the time of his incarceration he was paralyzed so as to be unable to walk, and was therefore very helpless. His home was in Ashburnham, where his mother still lives, but he was sent to gaol from near Rice Lake, his reason having completely left him. He was about 45 years of age. Coroner Bell was notified and decided to hold an inquest at two o'clock this afternoon.

The solemnization of the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin was observed at the Cathedral yesterday. Solemn high mass was read at 10.30 by Rev. Father McEvay assisted by Rev. Father Connelly, of Montreal, as deacon, and Rev. Father Dube as sub-deacon. The sermon in the morning was preached by Rev. Father Crinon, of Hamilton, and was followed by a sermon in French by Rev. Father Dupe. Vespers were sung in the evening by Father Crinon, and a sermon was delivered by Rev. Father Connelly, who took as his subject "Leprosy as a type of sin." His Lordship the Bishop was present at both services and gave the benediction.

A Public Holiday.

The committee of the workingman appointed to wait upon Mayor Stevenson in reference to having the 3rd of September, labor day, proclaimed a civic holiday visited his Worship on Saturday. The Mayor said that upon a requisition, properly signed by the officers of the various labor organization, being presented the request would be granted. The signatures of these officers, who represent six or seven hundred workingmen, were procured to-day. The proclaiming of the holiday will ensure the success of the demonstration. The joint committee of the different unions meets this evening in the Knights of Labor hall to consider the further arrangements, and an attendance of all workingmen interested in the demonstration is invited.

THE PARKINSON INQUEST.

Dr. Fife and a Jury Enquiring as to the Cause of Death—Evidence Points to Suicide.

The inquest to enquire into the death of the late Palmer Parkinson, found drowned in the river on Saturday morning, was held before Coroner Fife at D. Belleghem's furniture and undertaking establishment Saturday afternoon.

The following jury was empannelled:—Messrs. Thomas Cahill (foreman), T. Giroux, M. Giroux, F. R. Yokome, John Armour, Wm. Trotter, Jas. Noble, Wm. Collins, F. J. Wesley, W. Robinson, John Irwin, H. S. Macdonald, John Nugent, John Clancy, E. B. D. Lafleur, A. Graham, John W. Miller and Isaac Richardson.

The jury proceeded to view the body and found no marks of violence thereon. There was a slight scratch on the eye and cheek, but these appeared of no consequence.

Mr. D. BELLEGHEM was the first witness sworn. He said:—I know the body to be that of Palmer Parkinsan; have known deceased a long time; got the body in the Otonabee River about half a mile below the locks at the extreme end of George-st.; when I first felt him I was in doubt whether he was dead or not, as he was quite warm; he was in the water when I got there; it was about ten o'clock; a boy sent by the Chief of Police informed me of the drowning and requested me to take charge of the body; went immediately; took him out of water and brought him here; I found nothing in his pockets save a few tobacco leaves; my opinion is that he deliberately walked into the water; am of the belief that he was of sound mind.

WM. E. RUSSELL, step-son of the deceased, being sworn said:—I do not live at home; am married and keep house by myself; saw deceased yesterday; was in his company; thought he was more jovial and freer than he had been for some time; seemed in good spirits over some property he had bought; saw him at his own home on George-st.; talked about the property, and he also wanted me to speak to some contractor about having a stable built; it was about eleven or twelve o'clock in the morning; was down at work when I heard that a man by the name of Palmer had been drowned; went to my mother's house and she said she had heard that some man had been drowned; went straight to the river; when I got there it. R. Hamilton was in a punt trying to get in the neighborhood of the body; Hamilton turned the face of the body towards me and asked me if that was Mr. Parkinson; I and Hamilton then pulled him towards the bank until his head was out of water; waited there until undertaker came; we found his hat under the fence across the road from where he was found; he could not have fallen in; I can see no way but that he must have walked in; he was in a standing position when found; he told me he had bought some property on George and Water-sts.; we found out today that he bought property and had not means to pay for it; I had seen the contractors about building his stable; sometimes I thought he was sound and sometimes I thought he wasn't; I thought he could pay for property and not until this morning did I find out he was not worth a cent; Mr. Geo. Rogers inquired but found he had not anything in any of the banks; he had had an account in the bank of Toronto but it was all drawn; he always talked as if he were a man of means and would always have things just so; from the appearance of the way he was found he must have walked in; there were no marks on his face yesterday; he told me he was going to give mother a grand present of the lot facing on Water-st., he went to Rogers' and told him he was going to buy some property and would soon have some work for him; never knew him to make any such visionary speculations before.

There were no more witnesses present and Coroner Fife adjourned the inquest until 7.30 o'clock this evening in the Police Court room. Several witnesses will then be examined.

The Horticultural Exhibition.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I noticed in your issue of Friday last, that the date of the holding of the Horticultural exhibition has been changed from August 30th to September 13th, and although the directors no doubt considered that they had good reasons for the change, yet I am inclined to strongly believe that the change will prove very disastrous to the success of the exhibition, and very disappointing to a number of intending exhibitors, especially so to those desirous of showing flowers, which have always formed the chief feature of the show. In Toronto the annual flower show is held early in August, which no doubt is considered the most favorable time, while in September there is a possibility of frost spoiling a good exhibit in this class, and the season for a large number of the annuals will then have expired. As to vegetables, the display of home grown ones at present to be seen on our market, and in the gardens throughout the town are very good, and certainly should with the favorable weather we are having be extra good by August 30th. Again the change of date is to a time when the Industrial Fair at Toronto and the Provincial Fair at Kingston will be in progress, to either of which no doubt a large number of exhibitors or patrons of the show will be going. Besides several persons have become members of the Society this year (myself among the number) with the expectation of showing in the several classes and have been caring for their exhibit, and forcing it on with a view of having it just right for the date first announced, and who will now be prevented from showing their best specimens because of their having died out or become over ripe. I believe, sir, that it would have been better for all concerned had the Society, once having set a date, stuck to it, even though possibly one class of exhibits might be slightly benefitted by the change.

Respectfully yours,
A LOVER OF FLOWERS.

"Iget your idea," said Mr. Balltop to his wife "Your reasoning is quite correct. Your experience is a safe guide. Quite so, decidedly so. You say that if Mr. Wilson's goods are so good, as for instance this piece of China on the mantle, the other things which he sells are sure to be excellent. That is a very fair supposition and one, I may say, well grounded. We give up the idea of buying our supply of Fruit Jars in Toronto and hand an order to Wilson. Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

STORY OF A MASTERPIECE.

By HENRY JAMES, Jr.

PART I.

"And do you see it yourself?"

"They are both handsome, and both have auburn hair. That's all I can see."

Lennox was somewhat relieved. It was not without a feeling of discomfort—a feeling by no means inconsistent with his first moment of pride and satisfaction—that he thought of Marian's peculiar and individual charms having been subjected to the keen appreciation of another than himself. He was glad to be able to conclude that the painter had merely been struck with what was most superficial in her appearance, and that his own imagination supplied the rest. It occurred to him, as he walked home, that it would be a not unbecoming tribute to the young girl's loveliness on his own part, to cause her portrait to be painted by this clever young man. Their engagement had as yet been an affair of pure sentiment, and he had taken an almost fastidious care not to give himself the vulgar appearance of a mere purveyor of luxuries and pleasures. Practically, he had been as yet for his future wife a poor man—or rather a man, pure and simple, and not a millionaire. He had ridden with her, he had sent her flowers, and he had gone with her to the opera. But he had neither sent her sugar plums, nor made bets with her, nor made her presents of jewelry. Miss Everett's female friends had remarked that he hadn't as yet given her the least little bethrothal ring, either of pearls or of diamonds. Marian, however, was quite content. She was, by nature, a great artist in the mise en scene of emotions, and she felt instinctively that this classical moderation was but the converse presentment of an immense matrimonial abundance. In his attempt to make it impossible that his relations with Miss Everett should be tinged in any degree with the accidental condition of the fortunes of either party, Lennox had thoroughly understood his own instinct. He knew that he should some day feel a strong and irresistible impulse to offer his mistress some visible and artistic token of his affection, and that his gift would convey a greater satisfaction from being sole of its kind. It seemed to him now that his chance had come. What gift could be more delicate than the gift of an opportunity to contribute by her patience and good will to her husband's possession of a perfect likeness of her face?

On that same evening Lennox dined with his future father-in-law, as it was his habit to do once a week.

"Marian," he said, in the course of the dinner, "I saw this morning an old friend of yours."

"Ah," said Marian, "who was that?"

"Mr. Baxter, the painter."

Marian changed color—ever so little; no more, indeed, than was natural to an honest surprise.

Her surprise, however, could not have been great, inasmuch as she now said that she had seen his return to America mentioned in a newspaper, and as she knew that Lennox frequented the society of artists. "He was well, I hope," she added "and prosperous."

"Where did you know this gentleman, my dear?" asked Mr. Everett.

"I knew him in Europe two years ago—first in the summer in Switzerland and afterward in Paris. He is a sort of cousin of Mrs. Denbigh." Mrs. Denbigh was a lady in whose company Marian had recently spent a year in Europe—a widow, rich, childless, an invalid and an old friend of her mother. "Is he always painting?"

"Apparently, and extremely well. He has two or three as good portraits there as one may reasonably expect to see. And he has, moreover, a certain picture which reminds me of you."

"His 'Last Duchess?'" asked Marian, with some curiosity. "I should like to see it. If you think it's like me, John, you ought to buy it up."

"I wanted to buy it, but it's sold. You know it then?"

"Yes, through Mr. Baxter himself. I saw it in its rudimentary state, when it looked like nothing that I should care to look like. I shocked Mrs Denbigh very much by telling him I was glad it was his 'last.' The picture, indeed, led to our acquaintance."

"And not vice versa," said Mr. Everett, facetiously.

"How vice versa?" asked Marian, innocently. "I met Mr. Baxter for the first time at a party in Rome."

"I thought you said you met him in Switzerland," said Lennox.

"No, in Rome. It was only two days before we left. He was introduced to me without knowing I was with Mrs. Denbigh, and indeed without knowing that she had been in the city. He was very shy of Americans. The first thing he said to me was that I looked very much like a picture he had been painting."

"That you realized his ideal, etc."

"Exactly, but not at all in that sentimental tone. I took him to Mrs. Denbigh; they found they were sixth cousins by marriage; he came to see us the next day, and insisted upon us going to his studio. It was a miserable place. I believe he was very poor. At least Mrs. Denbigh offered him some money, and he frankly accepted it. She attempted to spare his sensibilities by telling him that, if he liked, he could paint her a picture in return. He said he would if he had time. Later, he came up into Switzerland, and the following winter we met him in Paris."

If Lennox had had any mistrust of Miss Everett's relations with the painter, the manner in which she told her little story would have effectually blighted it. He forthwith proposed that, in consideration not only of the young man's great talent, but of his actual knowledge of her face, he should be invited to paint her portrait.

Marian assented without reluctance and without alacrity, and Lennox laid his proposition before the artist. The latter requested a day or two to consider, and then replied (by note) that he would be happy to undertake the task.

Miss Everett expected that, in view of the projected renewal of their old acquaintance, Stephen Baxter would call upon her, under the auspices of her lover. He called in effect, alone, but Marian was not at home, and he failed to repeat the visit. The day for the first sitting was therefore appointed through Lennox. The artist had not yet obtained a studio of his own, and the latter cordially offered him the momentary use of a spacious and well lighted apartment in his house, which had been intended as a billiard room, but was not yet fitted up. Lennox expressed no wishes with regard to the portrait, being content to leave the choice of position and costume to the parties immediately interested. He found the painter perfectly well acquainted with Marian's "points," and he had an implicit confidence in her own good taste.

Miss Everett arrived on the morning appointed, under her father's escort, Mr. Everett, who prided himself largely upon doing things in proper form, having caused himself to be introduced before hand to the painter. Between the latter and Marian there was a brief exchange of civilities, after which they addressed themselves to business. Miss Everett professed the most cheerful deference to Baxter's wishes and fancies, at the same time that she made no secret of possessing a number of strong convictions as to what should be attempted and what should be avoided.

It was no surprise to the young man to find her convictions sound and her wishes thoroughly sympathetic. He found himself called upon to make no compromise with stubborn and unnatural prejudices, nor to sacrifice his best intentions to a short sighted vanity.

Whether Miss Everett was vain or not need not here be declared. She had at least the wit to perceive that the interests of an enlightened sagacity would best be served by a painting which should be good from the painter's point of view, inasmuch as these are the painting's chief end. I may add, moreover, to her great credit, that she thoroughly understood how great an artistic merit should properly attach to a picture executed at the behest of a passion, in order that it should be anything more than a mockery—a parody—of the duration of that passion; and that she knew instinctively that there is nothing so chilling to an artist's heat as the interference of illogical self interest, either on his own behalf or that of another.

TURNBULL'S.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Living with a Broken Back—Toronto Youths in Trouble in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 20.—Several weeks ago your correspondent mentioned the case of Pat Mulligan, a recent arrival from Ireland, who fell off the elevator at Bayview and dislocated his spine last June. Mulligan shows no signs of dying as yet and is as well as when brought to the hospital. His body is paralyzed from the waist down and devoid of feeling but he keeps strong and believes himself that he will recover although the physicians say that is impossible.

Mark Simpson, a respectable-looking young fellow from London, was jailed yesterday afternoon for walking off the Pacific express with a fan belonging to the news agent. Simpson claims that he purchased the fan for 25 cents.

The little child, Lilia Parker, who was crushed on Friday morning by a boiler casing falling on her while she was playing in rear of Gartshore's foundry, was better yesterday, and the doctors think she will recover.

Stephen Clarkson of Ancaster, who was committed for trial some days ago on a charge of stealing a quantity of silverware, was arraigned before Judge Sinclair this afternoon. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by the Judge. Trial was set for next Friday.

Mr. W. Towell of Toronto, had one of his shoulders dislocated through falling when competing in the sack race at Dundurn Park on Saturday afternoon.

Two Toronto youths, W. J. Robertson and M. Hecky, were arrested by Constable Campaign on Saturday afternoon, at the corner of King and James-streets, for furious driving. They were each fined $4.

Nothing has yet been heard of the missing boy, Alex. Gibson, whose disappearance was reported to the police on Thursday. He is the 13-year-old son of Conductor Gibson, 143 Robert-street. On Thursday he had eight teeth extracted, and it is thought that the operation has affected his brain.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK.

Good Catches of Mackerel on the Nova Scotia Coast—Prices Ruling High.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has returned from his trip to the maritime provinces during which he visited portions of the fishery grounds and inspected the fisheries protection service. He expressed himself well satisfied both with the vigilance of the protective officers and with the manner in which the American fishermen are complying with the modus vivendi. The fishing in the gulf so far this season has not been up to the average, but on the outer Nova Scotia coast the catches have been very good, 200 barrel fares of mackerel being common. The quality of the fish this year has been exceptionally good and at the prices which have been ruling in Boston, $18 to $20 per barrel for number one, the profit of the season will be excellent.

The minister also investigated the sawdust question as tending to the destruction of fish in the river in Cumberland and other counties, and as a result it is understood that what is known as the Sawdust Act passed about sixteen years ago, but which has been practically a dead letter on the statute book, will be more rigidly enforced in future. Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, will lay the corner stone of the new postoffice at Aylmer on Sept. 1, when there will be a grand picnic, after which Sir Hector will inspect the site of the proposed new interprovincial bridge above Deschene Rapids. On Sept 3 he will leave for Cayuga, where he will lay the corner stone of the new postoffice on the following day.

Yesterday afternoon Sir Adolphe Caron authorized the statement that no increase of the militia force was contemplated. When asked if he could state when the Defence Committee would meet, he said: "No; I am awaiting instructions from England. Until we get word from them we can't move. The British and Canadian Governments are to move jointly in the matter."

Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture, has been sticking very close to work this summer and devoting a good deal of time to the experimental farms. So far he has had no holidays, but expects to attend a number of fall fairs.

Collingwood Schrieber is expected to return on Friday from British Columbia, where he has been engaged on the Onderdonk Contract Commission.

The Public Works Department will receive tenders for elevators for the new Departmental Building here up to Oct. 17.

FRANCE KEEPS COOL.

But Apparently Does Not Relish William's Recent Remarks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The Herald's Paris correspondent says: The defiant shouts of the young German Emperor at Frankfort find no answering echo on this side of the Vosges. The more the Kaiser swells his boyish voice and blusters, the more reserved and guarded grow the French. The experience of the last two years has taught them the wisdom of meeting the calculated menaces of the enemy with coolness. They know their policy at present is to play a waiting game and show no inclination to be drawn into a quarrel. Most of the Paris papers content themselves with publishing the Frankfort speech with little or no comment.

The National says: Our duty is to answer this violent language by coolness, but we may warn this young prince that a countryman of our own once said: "Not one ounce of our sod nor one stone of our fortress." As it happened his hope and trust were disappointed.

The Journal remarks: "Here we have a short haughty defiance of a despot replying 'never' to those who dare even to speak of historic necessity or equitable compacts."

The Intransigeant, usually so intemperate, only says: "This clearly means that conciliation is out of the question. Now, more than ever, we must watch and get ready."

The Liberte: "The imperial declarations are those of all conquerors; but who knows what unforeseen things may come if circumstances and chance arise. No suppression of the irritating speech in the Reichsanzieger is attributed to Bismack. The chancellor seems likely to have his work cut out for him in restraining the impetuosity of this school boy sovereign."

LIKE THE MEN OF GHENT.

ARE CERTAIN OF THE REPUBLICAN SENATORS.

So Says Senator Gray—The Tedious Treaty Debate Nearly Closed—A Vote to Be Taken To-Day.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The Fisheries Treaty was up in the Senate again yesterday. After Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) had spoken for two hours, in support of the treaty he yielded the floor, in accordance with the agreement of Friday, so that the opponents of the treaty might present their views up to 4 o'clock, the two hours up to 6 being reserved for its friends.

Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.) said he had already stated briefly and with care the opinion which he entertained and which the fishermen of Massachusetts entertained in reference to the effect of the proposed treaty on their interests. Nothing which he had heard from Senators on the other side had changed his convictions or made it necessary for him to add to or modify the argument which he had made. He took the floor at this time only to call attention to three or four catch words by which the friends of the treaty sought to fasten on its opponents views which they had never entertained and which they had constantly repudiated. One of these was that there was a proposition for retaliation on the Republican side. Another was that somebody had said that the time for negotiations had passed—in any such sense as the senator from Alabama had put upon it. Another was that the grievances of which American fishermen complained could not occur again if the treaty were ratified. What the opponents of the treaty proposed to say to Canada was this: We do not desire to interfere with your discretion as to the degree or measure of hospitality, but that measure must be equal in the ports of both countries and as somebody must initiate the rule in the first place the opportunity and prerogative would be conceded to Canada. If Canada said it was not fiting that American fishermen should go into her ports with a catch of fish to be transhipped to the United States than no Canadian vessel should come into a port of the United States with a catch of fish which it proposed to sell. He did not understand that was retaliation. He supposed there was not a Republican senator who was not willing to have the claims of American fishermen for damages admitted to negotiation or arbitration.

Mr. Payne, (Dem., O.) inquired whether Mr. Hoar favored the motion submitted by Mr. Gibson (Dem., La.) looking to arbitration.

Mr. Hoar replied that he had not examined the motion enough to wish to be diverted from what he was saying. He did not propose, however, to enter on a question of international arbitration until he was satisfied that it would be entered into on the other side in the same spirit in which the United States entered into it. He did not propose to put this country again to the risk of a Halifax award or of a judgment by Mr. Defosse.

Mr. Evarts (Rep., N. Y.) said it could not be important for him to restate or reargue the positions which he had taken when he addressed the Senate in opposition to the treaty. He had reached a stage in his observations when he should take up the articles in detail, not perhaps with much precision but to express a general and peremptory condemnation of them.

Mr. Blair, (Rep., N. H.) asked Mr. Evarts in connection with the first article whether, as it was substantially an agreement that the treaty of 1818 was therein construed, it was not an abandonment of all American claims for damages and an admission that there was no ground for such claim.

Mr. Evarts: "Undoubtedly, if with our eyes open we sign such an article." Mr. Evarts went on to discuss each of the articles briefly.

At 4 o'clock the presiding officer, Mr. Harris, called the attention to the agreement under which the last two hours were to be given to the friends of the treaty, but as Mr. Evarts had not completed his argument it was agreed that he should continue it and that as much time as he should occupy after 4 o'clock would be allowed to the other side to-morrow in addition to the two closing hours. Mr. Evarts then resumed his argument against the treaty and closed by saying that if the treaty were rejected, as it would be, its rejection would be an opening to quiet and repose.

Mr. Gray (Dem., Del.) said in reference to Mr. Evarts' two days' speeches against the treaty that he felt like the old Scotch lady who was asked by her minister whether she had understood his sermon in which she seemed so much interested. He (Gray) had not the presumption to suppose that he understood the speech of the senator for New York, but he had understood him to say distinctly and categorically that his objection to the treaty was that the eleventh and twelfth articles proposed to give to English and Canadian fishermen complete, full and absolute rights of fishing along the Atlantic coast from Easport to the most southern point of Florida. He (Gray) proceeded to argue against such interpretation of the article. He feared there were some Senators figuring largely in the debate who were like the men of Ghent in the old song who trod on the tail of the lion of Flanders and when the lion growled at the gates of Ghent

"They bounded low when they saw him awake
And said they had trod on his tail by mistake."

Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) took the floor to close the discussion in favor of ratification and had spoken half an hour when the Senate adjourned. He will be allowed half-an-hour to-day and then the vote will be taken.

A Terrible Fall.

AILSA CRAIG, Aug. 21.—A young lad named Andrew McEwan, 14 years of age, while up in a butternut tree picking nuts, fell, injuring himself so severely that the doctor cannot tell for twenty-four hours whether he can live or not. He fell 40 or 50 feet, and would have been killed instantly had he not struck another boy in falling.

A Promising Gold Mine.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—The owners of the Syndicate gold mine, which is situated on the west bank of the Riviere du Lievre, about 6½ miles from the Village of Buckingham, have received very promising reports from Montreal about the examination of ore sent down. It shows a production of $95 to the ton.

A Murder in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—An unknown man was shot and killed this afternoon in a hallway on Park-Row. Bernard Manning of Brooklyn has been arrested on suspicion of having committed the crime. The affair is shrouded in mystery.

A Brutal Crime.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 20.—A man named Keleher was arrested to-night, charged with committing an indecent assault upon a girl 5 years old. The child is in a critical condition.

Fatal Accident Near Newmarket.

NEWMARKET, Aug. 20.—This forenoon William Drury, 12 years old, a son of Joshua Drury, a farmer near this place, was found dead in his father's field. The boy had been finishing some raking. The horse took fright, threw the boy off the sulky and kicked him on the breast, killing him instantly.

PARNELL COMMISSION.

What a Member of Parliament Has to Say About it.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Parnell commission will probably close its investigation in less than a year. It is a great thing for the Parnellites that they have George Lewis on their side. He is not as infallible as some people pretend, but he is the sharpest solicitor in London, and when he is working his hardest he is not likely to miss much. Soames, The Times' solicitor, is a highly respectable gentlemen of the old school—safe and steady, but slow, and by no means up to all the moves on the board.

George Lewis will open Soames' eyes a little before the enquiry is over. The Times will need the half of the Attorney-General and Sir Henry James. The former it is not likely to get, and Sir Henry James is not particularly anxious to accept a retainer; but if he does take it he will perform his task better than any other man in England. He is a man much to be feared by anyone who has strong motives for concealing the truth. His scent for hidden secrets is like that of a bloodhound for its prey.

What sort of a case The Times has is known only to its managers and its legal advisers. That it can legally prove every charge it brought against the Parnellites is simply impossible. If it fails in establishing the authenticity of the famous letters it is done for. Its authority will be completely broken down and the Government which has apparently supported it will have received a heavy, perhaps a fatal, blow.

An eminent Conservative said to me only yesterday: "I very much fear that the Parnell commission will wreck the Ministry. Parnell will undoubtedly swear that he never wrote the letter in question. The Times must then depend upon the evidence of experts, which, in all such cases, can be had either way. Unless some one looked on while Mr. Parnell wrote the letters ascribed to him, what is to disprove his denial?"

Considering these and other things it is not surprising that the Ministry anticipate with some anxiety the issue of the enquiry, and are heartily sorry they took Chamberlain's advice in pressing it upon the Parnellites.

A MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT.

Gladstone's Opinion.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Mr. Gladstone, addressing a deputation of Liberals of Burslein, who had presented him with a vase, said the Government had treated Mr. Parnell with gross inequality, when they refused to allow an enquiry into The Times' charges against him by a select committee of the House of Commons. The charges against Mr. Parnell, he said, would, if proved, destroy everything he valued—political power and position—but he was going to be tried on vague generalities. Mr. Gladstone declared he would never believe Mr. Parnell guilty of personal dishonor. The enquiry, he said, might last for years, which would mean pecuniary ruin for Mr. Parnell.

BEATEN WITH A BLAKE-SNAKE.

A 14-year-old Lad's Story of His Cruel Treatment near St. Catharines.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—A 14-year-old boy named Joseph O'Brien walked into the Charles-street police station last night and asked for a night's lodging. He told the sergeant that his parents died in Liverpool when he was seven years old. He was then placed in the Kirk-dell Orphan Asylum in Liverpool. Soon afterwards the authorities shipped him and fifty others to St. Catharines, Ont. All were put in an asylum there, and afterwards bound out to farmers. He went out to work for a man named Neeson as a cow herder and milker. The lad related a story of fiendish cruelty experienced by him at the hands of Neeson and his wife. He remained with them three years, and frequently his entire body was covered with sores, the results of welts made by a black snake whip. Eventually two lumbermen interfered and placed him in a hospital. When he left that institution he worked for another farmer. When he had earned $32 he asked for it, but was chased off the farm without a cent. He eventually reached Rochester, where he worked until yesterday. He had $18.50 coming to him, and intends to sail at once for home to see a dying sister, his only relative. In Jefferson Market Police Court to-day the boy repeated his story to Justice Patterson. He will sail for home to-morrow, and in the meantime will be well provided for.

Much Elected Boulanger.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Gen. Boulanger was elected to the Chamber of Deputies yesterday from three departments besides Somme, where he received a majority of 34,723 votes. He was successful in Charente and the Nord, receiving in the former a majority of 15,060, and in the latter a majority of 3,585. At Amiens, the capital of the department of the Somme, there was rioting at the polling places during the whole day. The disturbances continued until midnight, when the military were called out and were compelled to charge the people at the point of the bayonet in order to clear the streets. Similar scenes were witnessed at Lille, the capital of the department of Nord, and fourteen arrests were made.

The Republican papers declare that Gen. Boulanger's success in the elections was caused by the Reactionists, who lacked the courage to advance candidates of their own. The Republique Francaise holds the Intransigeant, M. Rochefort's paper, and the Radicals responsible for the result of the elections. The Conservative journals state that the vote which elected Boulanger was directed against the republic.

Probable Murder at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 20.—Thomas C. Miners, a colored porter on the Canadian Pacific Railway, resides at 215 College-street, and John Hamble, who keeps a boarding house at 217. In Hamble's boarding house lives Frank Coupland and he and Mr. Miners had a little row yesterday. To-night Hamble and Miners met and they got into conversation about this matter when Miners called Hamble a liar. Hamble then struck Miners and the latter struck back, whereupon Hamble drew a pistol and shot Miners, the ball entering the left groin. Miners is too weak for the doctors to probe for the bullet. Hamble has been arrested.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Inspector Lackie Reinstated—A Wife-Beater Arrested.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—At last night's meeting of the City Council the Board of Works reorganization scheme was referred back to the Board of Works Committee.

A message from the mayor was read at a special meeting of the Waterworks Committee yesterday in which it was stated that nearly half the water pumped was wasted.

Inspector Wm. Lackie of the Works Department, who was suspended sometime ago in connection with the Board of Works investigation was reinstated at last night's meeting of the City Council.

Samuel Yelland who has been wanted for about a fortnight on a charge of assisting to fleece James Sullivan of $34 in Paddy Rats' boarding house, was arrested yesterday.

Mr. Taylor, jun., of 35 Grosvenor-street, had a bicycle valued at $120 stolen from the back premises of his residence on Sunday afternoon.

P. C. Dixon arrested Robert Cunningham, of Niagara-street, yesterday evening on a charge of assaulting his wife.

QUEBEC'S CONVERSION ACT

AN EXPLICIT STATEMENT BY PREMIER MERCIER.

He Declares that the Government Will Renounce the Scheme if it Cannot be Carried Through With the Consent of the Bondholders.

MONRTEAL, Aug. 20.—In reply to enquiries made by Hanson Bros., financial agents of this city, at the request of their London agents regarding the Conversion measure of the Quebec Government, Hon. Mr. Mercier has sent this reply:

"QUEBEC, Aug. 18, 1888.—Your letter of yesterday received with copies of cables exchanged between you and your London agents, and in answer I am authorized to state that the position which you have taken in your cable of Aug. 16 is correct and you may declare positively that the Government will renounce its conversion scheme if it cannot be carried through. When the measure was introduced in the Legislative Assembly the treasurer and myself made virtually the same declaration and on July 12 when the second reading of the measure was under discussion in the Legislative Council Hon. Mr. Starnes, one of the leaders of the Opposition, submitted in writing the following question to the Government.

"I am opposed to compulsory conversion and before giving a final decision I desire to know whether the Government intends, yes or no, to make such conversion in spite of the bondholders' consent."

"After consultation with me and other members of the Government, our colleague, Hon. Mr. Garneau, leader of the Legislative Council, made in writing in the name of the Government the following official declaration in answer to Mr. Starne's question:

"I am authorized to answer 'no' and to state that the Government will abandon the conversion scheme if it cannot be carried through out with the consent of the bondholders."

After this Ministerial declaration Hon. Messrs. Starnes and Champagne, two opponents of the Government, being satisfied with this engagement, voted for the measure, which was carried. The Government considers itself pledged by that declaration, which as far as it may be necessary I hereby ratify in the name of the Government, and I declare again that my Government will abandon the conversion scheme if it cannot be carried through with the consent of the bondholders. Of course speaking of having the law vetoed or withdrawn is purely ridiculous, as the law is perfectly constitutional and necessary to make a voluntary conversion.

"In conclusion I may add that we are much surprised to see that some first-class business men in London should have been led astray by our political opponents here, and this is all the more singular as other first-class business firms in England, France and Canada have already proposed to us to undertake such conversion.

"Yours truly,
"HONORE MERCIER,
"Prime Minister."

Thereupon Messrs. Hanson sent the following cable to their London agents:

"MONTREAL, Aug. 16, 1888.—Much more than facts justify is being made out of the Quebec Government's conversion scheme. Before passing the Act the Upper House demanded and received from the Government positive written pledges not to force redemption but to leave it to the voluntary consent of the holders."

An Early Fire at London.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Dominion oatmeal mill on Talbot-street, now advertised for sale under a chattel mortage held by the Molsons' Bank, was badly gutted by fire about 3 o'clock this morning. The two upper storeys were completely destroyed, the basement escaping with a slight scorching. There was very little stock on hand. As the mill has been shut down since last Wednesday, all fire being then extinguished, it is a mystery as to how the fire started. The loss cannot at present be estimated, but there is about $15,000 insurance on the building and machinery.

Lyons to Be Hanged To-day.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Gov. Hill through his secretary telegraphed Lawyer Blake of this city this afternoon that after careful consideration he declines to grant any further respite in the Daniel Lyons case. The execution will take place to-morrow morning. Lyons seems utterly unconscious of his impending fate and acts as naturally as if he were going to be free to-go home again in the morning.

A BIG BLAZE AT ST. JOHN, N. B.

Fire Breaks Out in a Dry House and $40,000 Goes Up in Smoke.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 21.—The worst disaster in the shape of fire that this city has experienced since the memorable fire of 1877 occurred yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock. Fire was discovered in the dry house of A. Christie & Co.'s Wood Working Company on Waterloo-street. The shed where the fire started was in the rear of the main building. It was composed of wood and was like a tinder box. Before the firemen could get the apparatus properly at work the fire was roaring like a furnace and had taken complete possession of the main building of the factory. The entire building which covered a large area was burned to the ground. Wm. Farren's three-story wooden dwelling house was destroyed, also the three-story building owned by the Dooley estate, and the four-story wooden building owned by Mrs. Duggan. The Dockrill block, in which is the hall proposed to be turned into an opera house, also caught fire and the block was badly damaged before the fire was subdued.

There was a high wind at the time, but the St. John and Portland firemen, assisted by the citizens, worked shoulder to shoulder and prevented the fire from getting into the adjoining blocks. Several times the flames leaped across Union, Waterloo and Peter-streets, but before they could get a foothold they were subdued.

The losses and insurances are: A. A. Christie & Co., loss $20,000, principally machinery, insured for $1,500 in Commercial Union; Wm. Farren, dwelling, $3000, insurance, $1000, City of London, $1000 Quebec; Scott Bros., grocers, $1500, insurance, $1000 in Citizens; A. & S. L. Garbell, picture frames and fancy goods, $3000, insurance $1000 in City of London; Dabny & Walsh, safe makers, $400, no insurance. There are several others whose loss ranges from $100 up to $200, the aggregate being placed at $40,000.

Mr. Armstrong, M.P.P. for Parry Sound, is seriously ill.

About 500 immigrants arrived at Montreal Sunday and yesterday.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.

Ten More Candidates Passed by the Education Department.

The Principal of the Collegiate Institute has just received word from the Education Department that the following additional candidates have been allowed their entrance examination:—

Bella Davidson, Edith Hall, Dollie Hayes, Rosabelle McGregor, Trixie Stetham, Charles Bradburn, Robert Erskine, Scott Laing, Fletcher Meharrry, John Shehan.

The full list comprises, therefore, the pupils whose names are given above along with the following:—

Martha E. Beattie, Isabella Fairbirn, Vernon C. McGill, Annie L. Wood, Maud Allen, Minnie A. Hamilton. Sixteen in all.

The masters of the Collegiate Institute are very glad that the number of successful candidates has been increased. The action of the Board of Examiners in adhering strictly to their instructions as to the passing of candidates has, however, been supported and commended by the educational authorities.

KETCHECUM.

Correspondence of the Review.

A TRIP OVER TEN LAKES.—Having spent the last two weeks of July very pleasantly in camp, at Birch Point on Sturgeon Lake, with a party of twelve, and the camp at that Point having broken up, I packed my canoe and set sail for the back lakes for two weeks more camping in company with Mr. J.T. Robinson, his two boys, Joe and Willie, and Wesley Wright, all of Bobcaygeon. We landed in Burton's Bay on the north side of Ball Lake, about 7 a. m., after a run of about 11 miles, on the 31st of July, where we were met by a man and a team, to portage us across a distance of nine miles, to Gull Lake, to the depot, at which we landed at 1 p. m. This is a place where W. A. Scott, who ran the large mills at the head of Ball Lake for some years, spent a great amount of money in building and clearing up land for large farms, but all have been abandoned for some years and the buildings present a most desolate appearance, some of them being in a state of decay. As there are no settlers on the banks of the Lake, and it is surrounded mostly by high rocks and does not contain many islands, it presents a rather weird appearance, hence we sailed on north through it till we came to the river that is the outlet to Lake Ketchecum, up which we sailed and were greatly pleased with its scenery, but on entering Ketchecum, there lay before us a most beautiful sheet of water, studded with a number of exceedingly handsome islands, which might in fact be appropriately termed the Lake of the "Fairy Isles." Its romantic looking shores, well wooded islands and sandy beaches, all combine to make it a most delightful place for camping. We landed on one of its nice points and breakfasted most heartily, after our row of about 7 miles, after which we went to Mr. Cochrane's house on the west side of the lake, who was off for a morning cruise, but about twenty minutes after our landing he returned in his birch bark, and was kind enough to give us full instructions as to where the best camping ground and the best trout fishing were. After receiving full instructions, we sailed to a nice breezy point, on the north shore of the lake, pitched our tent, made dinner, and then prepared for taking a trout, in which we were successful in landing a beauty of about three lbs., which made the first and very palatable meal of fresh trout for every one in the party. This was only the omen of success in our trout fishing, for we took two or three nearly every time we tried our luck, till we had more than we could use ourselves. After having admired the scenery on the lake for a day or two, we went for a trip up Pencil Creek to Pencil Lake, which is long, narrow and well wooded on both sides, but has not very beautiful scenery. There are four slides on the creek, one of which is 600 feet long, over which logs are brought during the freshet in the spring. After our trip to Pencil Lake, we felt like taking a good night's rest, consequently we were under the blankets by 9 p. m., and "all the air a solemn stillness held," till about 6 a. m., when a terrible commotion at out tent door awakened us from our peaceful slumbers; then the first question among us was, "What can it be?" "Is it a deer?" or "Is it Mr. Cochrane's stag hound?" But one of the boys had not been idle, and soon had his head out of the tent door, and then followed, "Oh, what a flock of loons!" Then there was hurrying to and fro, till all were out of the tent, then it was discovered that it was a large flock of wild ducks that had paid us a morning visit. The most of them are flappers, and of course two of the boys are going to catch them and are off like a shot in a canoe, and although they go fast, the ducks are faster. However, they follow up in the wake of the ducks till all disappear in the smoky air, and nothing is heard save the dipping of the oars for some time, then comes to us across the still water, the sound wave, "Now we have them." The three of us at the camp sat peering through the smoky atmosphere till at last the two boys were seen emerging from it, and making their way slowly to the camp, where they were interrogated, "how many ducks?" And the answer from the first boy was, "Nary a duck," and the second chimes in, "Oh, how they can dive?" On Friday and Saturday we put in our time in viewing the lovely islands in the lake, and in teasing an odd trout until he would make our lines sing. We succeeded in landing one that would weigh about 10 or 12 pounds. On Monday morning, the 6th inst., we were out early for an exploring cruise. The first lake we arrived at was Gold Lake, after leaving camp, which lies 1½ miles north-east of Gull Lake, and which might be called the lake of bays, as it contains a number of long bays. From Big Gold Lake we sailed through a channel into Little Gold Lake, which lies to the east, thence we portaged for about a quarter of a mile into Eagle Lake, which lies to the north-east of Gold Lake and is about five miles long. We sailed up Eagle Lake till we came to Rathbun's lumber camp where we were met by a solitary guard, who is there to take care of the camp during the summer. After we had viewed the scenery of the three lakes we started for the camp where we landed in time for our tea, and it was not long before we were eating it with a relish. On Tuesday and Wednesday we fished with varying success, and on Thursday morning we turned our sunburnt faces towards Bobcaygeon, where we landed at sundown on Friday evening, all well pleased with the trip, and it is hoped each of the party will be able to take many of such trips to recuperate in midsummer.

MURDER MOST FOUL.

Concealed Cowards Fire Upon a Family Fishing Party.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 20.—Major Howes and family, of Boston, with Indian guides, forming a party of ten persons, while fishing in the Tobique River, about thirty-six miles from Andover, yesterday, were fired upon by a party ambushed in the woods, forty yards distant. Their shot pierced Mrs. Howes' head, killing her instantly. A daughter Helen, who was in the second canoe, only escaped a similar fate by lying down. The major, son and his companion returned the fire, and the cowards took to their heels and fled to the woods. It is supposed the shots were fired by two poachers named Day and Trafton, who had been driven away while spearing salmon and who threatened to shoot at the first opportunity. The sheriff is after these men. The major and his party went to Andover with the body of the murdered woman. They are completely prostrated with grief.

THE MARKETS REVIEWED.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—Monday's usual absence of business prevailed on St. Lawrence market yesterday morning. There were no marked changes in prices, except that eggs were slightly easier at 12 to 14c. Butter was rather scarce for what demand there was.

About 400 bushels of oats changed hands on the grain market at 41c to 42c per bushel. No wheat or barley was offered. A very good sample of 500 bushels of spring wheat, lying at Newmarket, was shown; $1 per bushel was asked, but the price found no takers, in spite of the excellent quality of the sample, the old wheat on the market being of such good quality. Winter wheat is worth 96c to 98c per bushel; spring wheat, 85c to 89c, and wild goose wheat 76c to 78c.

On the hay market five loads of hay sold at $22 to $24 per ton, and two loads of straw at $12 to $13.

On call at the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon the only offer made was 90c for No. 2 spring wheat; none was offered.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

Inquest in the Goal.

On Monday afternoon an inquest was held in the gaol on the body of J. J. Merriam, who had died there that morning. Dr. Bell, Coroner, conducted the enquiry and the following composed the jury:—Messrs. Johnston Carey (foreman), John McKee, E. Tutton, C. B. Smith, R. Jarvis, H. Newton, F. Foote, J. P. Hurley, J. H. Wyatt, T. Giroux, J. J. Turner, H. Robinson, T. Marshall, John Strain, and two prisoners, D. Burgess and S. J. Steele. The evidence of Mr. Nesbitt, gaoler, Dr. Kincaid, gaol surgeon, and of two prisoners, Samuel Steele and A. Dobbin, was heard. The evidence showed that Merriam was brought to the gaol last November, at which time he was insane and partially paralyzed. He was well cared for, but latterly grew weak, and death was caused by acute dysentery. The coroner addressed the jury, and after a brief consultaion the following verdict was rendered:—"That the deceased Joel James Merriam came to his death in a natural way, to wit, from softening of the brain and acute dysentery, and not otherwise did he die."

A Retraction.

The newspaper war that raged in Lindsay and Port Hope is dying out. The Port Hope Guide publishes the following:—"Since we had determined to close the discussion with the Warder in reference to the charge of drunkenness against some of the members of the late Methodist conference, held in Lindsay, we have been assured by Mr. Sam Hughes, editor of the Warder, that the reference and insinuations reflection on his character, published by us in the Guide, are untrue. We therefore hereby unconditionally retract them all, and admit having published them in the heat of discussion, the facts we now have not then being in our possession, and regret their publications." Now let the Guide pay its respects to the editor of its town contemporary in the same way and all will be serene in Port Hope again.

Support the Boys.

At the meeting of the Riversides last evening it was decided to circulate a subscription list to raise a fund to help to defray expenses of the trip to Bradford a week from to-day. The cost of traveling to that place is considerable, being $5.40 a man. The team goes there, as is known, to play a scheduled game which should have been played on July 12th, last, but at which time the Riversides did not show up. Now, if they are not enabled to be at Bradford Wednesday, the 29th inst., the game will be lost in favor of Bradford. The Riversides play good lacrosse, as was evidenced on the 13th when they scored such a brilliant victory over the Ontarios, and nothing can be said against the game or the team, who are all local men and amateurs. Every citizen should certainly assist when called on—every little will help—and support and organization which is an honor to the town, for there is not much doubt that if once landed in Bradford they will give a good account of themselves.

Toronto Conservatory of Music.

The academical year of the Toronto Conservatory of Music will open on Wednesday 5th Sept. next, and the directors of that institution have provided generously for the necessities of pupils, of whom 1,000 are expected to be in attendance in the course of the season. The array of teachers, including those for the piano, voice, organ, violin, orchestra and band instruments, public school music, church music and oratorio harmony, elocution and dramatic action, comprises a faculty of exceptional strength and rivalling those of the most famous schools of music in America. Mr. Edward Fisher, the music director, has been in England during the summer holidays on important matters in connection with the Conservatory, and among others being the engagement of a noted violoncello virtuoso. Those who are interested in matters of musical education in Canada have long desired a place where the benefits peculiar to Conservatory methods could be obtained upon principles similar to those employed abroad. The Toronto Conservatory of Music has been found, upon investigation, to possess every advantage claimed for it. It is reliable and well-managed, and now leads the van of musical education in Canada. Those of our readers desiring fuller information regarding the institution should send for a copy of its calendar, addressing Mr. Edward Fisher, director, Conservatory of Music, Toronto. 1d42-1w34

HE DROWNED HIMSELF

WHILE LABORING UNDER THE IMPULSE OF INSANITY.

The Verdict in the Parkinson Inquest—Evidence of Witnesses Examined on Monday Evening.

The adjourned inquest into the cause of the death of the late Palmer Parkinson was was resumed at 7.30 last evening in the Police Court room before Coroner Fife. Considerable interest has been manifested in this case, and quite a crowd had gathered to hear the evidence.

JOHN IRWIN, the first witness called, sworn, said:—On Saturday morning I was going nown to draw oats for Mr. Payne about half past eight; my wife was with me; she saw something in the water; I thought it was a sack, but she said it was a dog as she saw the hair of the head; she told me to stop and get out and see what it was; could see head and thought it was a boy; was about ten feet from him; did not attempt to rescue him; thought he was dead; did not see any motions; went back and got into the waggon and started toward town to tell the chief; sent up word for the chief and coroner and then drove back to the river and remained until the chief came; one of the Russell boys drove down before the chief; he said it was Palmer Parkinson as he was jumping out of the buggy; I showed him the hat and told him not to touch it until the chief came; Russell picked it up and said he guessed he could not put any more grease spots on it than there were, and laughed; Russell then drove back and brought Mr. Hamilton down; parties came from the other side of the river with a boat; Hamilton jumped into the boat and brought the body to the shore; it remained there till the chief came and I then went on to my work; was made acquainted with Parkinson in the spring, in his own house; went to see Mrs. Parkinson about renting a house; there was the track of a rig which had been backed into the river to within a few feet of where the body was; it was a one horse rig; it was a place where we frequently went to draw water; the water was about four feet and a half deep; he was stooped; if he had raised his head his mouth would have been out of the water; could see no foot marks except the track of bare feet; I cannot see how he could have drowned himself there; there were weeds but not very thick; horses tracks were coming out of water; river cannot be forded here; don't see how Russell could see who was in the water unless he got out of the buggy; Parkinson was facing down stream.

ROBERT HAMILTON being sworn, testified:—On hearing of the drowning accident in the town, I drove drove down in my own rig; on arriving there I saw an object in the water which I thought was a sack; a woman was crossing the river in a punt; when she came across I jumped into the boat and went out to the body and turned it over; as I turned him over a small amount of blood came from his mouth; I then took him to shore; after getting the body ashore and seeing life was extinct I looked around; the place is used for a ferry and for drawing water; there were no tracks more distinct than others; it is my opinion that life had left the body before it went into the water; should think it was about fifteen feet from the bank.

T. HURLEY being sworn, stated that all he knew about Parkinson was his connection with his property transaction, a statement of which appeared in Saturday's REVIEW. He said, however, that about a month ago Parkinson came to his office and wanted to buy a house and lot, worth about $1,000. They drove around together and witness showed deceased several properties, but none of them suited him. Mr. Hurley then showed him a lot on Water-st. north, the price of which was $1,500. Parkinson said he would buy only half the lot, as the amount he wished to pay would leave too large a balance if he took the whole, and he did not want to give too large a mortgage. He wished witness to measure off the lot carefully so that there would be no dispute at any future time. Witness gave Parkinson the key of the house, and when they went down next time the deceased had cleared the yard and pulled up all the weeds; the latter went into the house on this occasion and brought out a spade and dug a small hole so that he would know where to plant his posts. Parkinson wanted witness to see Mr. Moore, owner of the property, and find out his lowest price. The price was finally reduced to $1,475 for the whole lot, but Parkinson did not decide whether he would take the whole lot or not, saying he would call in on Wednesday and say whether he would take the whole or half and on Thursday would pay the money. Parkinson was undecided whether he would pay $800 or $1,000. Thursday being a holiday Mr. Hurley sent his boy up to ask Parkinson to call on Wednesday, but the latter said he could not be in until Friday. On Friday the old gentleman said that a director of the loan company was out of town and he could not get his money until he signed the documents, but said he would be in on Saturday and pay $1,075. Parkinson wanted the property in two parts as it was his intention to deed one portion to his wife and one to himself. When asked to pay a deposit on the bargain he said he would put $1,075 down at once, the $400 mortage being easily paid off from time to time. Deceased acted like a perfectly sane man in his dealings with witness.

JAMES RUSSELL, a lad about 12 years old, sworn, said:—Knew Mr. Parkinson; he was married to my mother in September last; lived in same house with him; he was in good health and seemed to be in right mind; he had not been working; heard that he had bought some property; he said he was going to pay some money; don't know how much; he said he had some money; he said it was in a loan company; it was the loan and trust association; I know, because he said Mr. Cox was out of town and had to sign the paper; Friday night I came in about ten o'clock; he was sitting in the dining room with ma, and told me he wanted to talk some business with ma, so I went to bed; went to sleep and heard none of the conversation; mother came in about five o'clock next morning and asked me if I had seen Parkinson; I said, "no; don't you worry, he'll be back," and went to sleep again; what made mother think it strange was that he had left his watch, pipe and tobacco and put on his old clothes; after a while Mr. Rozsel came down and said that some man had been drowned and asked mother if it was Parkinson that was drowned; mother sent me down to see who it was; when I looked at the hat I knew it was Parkinson; I said to Irwin when I picked it up that I didn't think I could put any more grease spots on it; the only reason I see for his death is that he bought property from Mr. Hurley and had no money to pay for it; he used to pay the rent; it was $12 a month; a few days before being married my mother moved up into this store; don't think he furnished money to stock store; did not say that it was Parkinson before I saw the hat.

MRS. FRANCES PARKINSON, looking very pale, was next sworn. She said:—I don't know of any cause for the death of Mr. Parkinson; he had not been well for two or three months; he told me he had money for his old age, but that he would not touch it until he had to walk with a stick; I always thought he had money until lately; he told me the night before he died that he had £1,500 sterling; he said it had been left to him by his former wife's father; he told me he had gone to the Mayor and asked him where he should place his money; the Mayor at this time was Mr. Lundy; I asked him if he had any papers to show for the money and he said he had placed it all in trust; I think my husband had a mania about money or he would not buy property without any money forthcoming; everything he has ever told I have found to be correct except the money; I first missed him from bed about five minutes past five; he awoke during the night and spoke to me and that was the last I saw of him in life; he said once he had heard some of my former troubles before I was married; I told him he could withdraw from the marriage compact any time; he said, "no, I would do away with myself rather than live without you." He was always happy and has told several persons that I was kind to him; he spoke to me about the property and wanted me to put it in the trust; he told me enough at different times to fill a good sized volume; he said he would buy a phaeton and drive me up and down from the shop and always wanted me to give up work and do nothing but be with him; his last words were that he was going to draw his money and settle with Messrs. Moore and Hurley; he has paid my rent and occasionally sent me some little dainty, and also bought some of the coal last winter; when we were married he gave me $100 and after we came from Toronto he handed me a few dollars more; the rest I have done all myself.

GEORGE DAINTRY on being sworn, stated that he was married to Mr. Parkinson's daughter and said he had known Parkinson for sixteen years. The witness said deceased had been very much altered of late from what he used to be and he sometimes thought him a little childish. When in England deceased had been a farmer, and when he came to this country eight years ago, all the money he brought with was seventeen sovereigns in a little bag. Witness said deceased came to him and asked him to take the money but he told Parkinson to put it in the bank and the old gentleman afterwards told him that he had put it in Mr. Grubbe's bank (bank of Toronto). Witness also said that if Parkinson had been left a legacy from England he would have known it and stated that he did not think there was a man in Peterborough who would have harmed a hair of deceased head. The latter had relatives well off in the Old Country and he sometimes thought himself wealthy.

THOMAS REHILL was called and sworn:—He said that on Saturday morning he had heard footsteps on the sidewalk about ten minutes to 5 o'clock, and on looking out he saw Parkinson walking rapidly down George-st. towards the river talking excitedly to himself.

THE VERDICT.

This ended the evidence and the Coroner left the jury to find a verdict. This they did immediately. It read thus:—"That the said Palmer Parkinson, while laboring under the impulse of insanity, deliberately walked into the river and caused his death by drowning."

THE CHEESE BOARD.

The Board cut up but Pretty Well Cleared.

The Peterborough cheese board met at noon to-day. The following buyers were present:—Messrs. Cluxton, Carton, Flavelle, Wrighton, Warrington, Cook, Bird, Fitzgerald, Stewart and Leary. Twenty-seven factories boarded 3250 cheese as follows:—

In selling the board was pretty well cut up. Mr. Wrighton bid 8⅝c. for a contract, selecting Warminster and North Smith and got his selections. Mr. Warrington bid 8⅝c. for 1,000 boxes; he selected Keene, Shearer, Centre Smith, Warsaw, Westwood, Melrose Abbey, South Dummer and Otonabee Union, all of whom sold. Mr. Bird then bid 8¼ for a carload and selected Cherry Grove, Myrtle and Lily Lake, who accepted the offer. Mr. Wrighton then bid 8⅝c. for the balance of Peterborough section, all of whom sold except Lakefield. The last sale was that of Downeyville, Bobcaygeon, Mariposa and Cambray at 8⅝c. to Mr. Wrighton. The Board adjourned for two weeks.

Station Burned.

The Grand Trunk railway station at Omemee was burned on Saturday night. It was only a small building, almost a shanty, being only a temporary structure. The loss is about $200. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

JAMES BEGG FALLS FROM A THIRD STOREY WINDOW.

Probably Fatally Injured—His Backbone Broken and Severe Internal Injuries Sustained.

About two o'clock this morning a lady who occupies a room in the second story of the City Hotel, directly over the gangway between that hostlery and Mr. Carton's grocery store, was awakened by a noise outside her window. Upon looking out she saw the prostrate form of a man lying on the sidewalk beneath. She at once cried for help and a policeman responded to the call. The man was found to be James Begg who occupied room 24 in the third storey, directly above that of the lady. Tender hands raised the unconscious man and carried him into the hotel and Dr. King and Dr. Halliday were summoned. Upon examination it was found that the backbone had been broken, but was not misplaced, but no other bones were found to have been broken. The fall was about thirty feet, and had he not struck on a heavy cornice which runs above the first storey of the building, which broke his fall, the unfortunate fellow must eneviitably have been killed instantly. It was the thud of the body striking this cornice that awoke the inmate of the room below that occupied by Begg.

Mr. Begg retired to his room about 10.30 last night as usual. He is not a man who was a heavy drinker or the accident could be easily explained. He was able to speak this morning, but could not give any account of how he took his terrible fall. He remembered he was out of bed, and must have gone to sleep near the window and fell out. He is a man about thirty years of age and was well liked by all his fellow employees and acquaintances. He came from Inverness, Stotland, not long ago, and has since been employed as checker at the Canadian Pacific railway station.

About nine o'clock this morning he was carried on a mattress from the hotel, placed on an express waggon and conveyed to the hospital. Dr. King, who was seen by the REVIEW, stated that it was a most terrible fall not to have resulted fatally. There were, he said, severe internal injuries, besides the broken vertebrae, and these seemed to give the poor fellow little chance for recovery. He and Dr. Halliday had considered it best to have the injured man conveyed to the hospital where he could be well attended to.

At 3.30 this afternoon Begg's condition was reported as unchanged. He was suffering a great deal, but no serious change had taken place.

A Boy Preacher.

Under the above heading the Port Hope Times publishes the following, which refers to Mr. J. Ivison Wilson, son of the Rev. J. C. Wilson, formerly of Ashburnham, and nephew of the Rev. A. C. Wilson, of the Mark-st. Church:—"An extremely boyish student from Victoria University, a son of the Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Cobourg, occupied the Methodist pulpit here yesterday morning and evening. He did not look to be fifteen years old, but his discourses indicated a grasp of intellect that will, we venture to predict, carry him to an eminent position in the church. The arrangement of his matter and his delivery were not without defects, but the defects were such as are met in all but a very few long-trained preachers, and will disappear as the boy's evident feeling of modest hesitancy to place Youth as the mentor of Age vanishes before the maturity of a growing manhood. We congratulate Mr. Wilson on the possession of such brilliant talent."

Rifle Shooting.

On Monday next several local marksmen will go to Toronto to take part in the Ontario Rifle Association matches, among whom will be Messrs. D. Cameron, F. Hall, W. H. Hill, Geo. Fitzgerald, W. A. Mason and R. Smith. On the following Monday, Sept. 3rd, a strong team will go to Ottawa for the Dominion Association matches. The riflemen have been doing some good shooting this year, and it is expected that good accounts will be heard of them from Toronto and Ottawa.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Hunter street, west of Orientel.

"It seems to me," said Rev. Mr. Murgatroyd, as he helped himself to muffins, "that you young people are well fixed, not actually wealthy, but, don't you know, rather comfortable. I see that you have many nice comforts about you which I expect you can well afford. The table setting for instance is neat, tasty, inviting and extremely pretty. Real China too as you say, what it cost is quite moderate, and I rather fancy that China Hall must be a regular bonanza to people about here. We can't possibly do better in the way of prices at Montreal, and I doubt very much if the goods are at all better. Its very convenient to have the place so near and where such an admirable line of things are kept."

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

STORY OF A MASTERPIECE.

By HENRY JAMES, Jr.

PART I.

Baxter worked firmed and rapidly, and at the end of a couple of hours he felt that he had begun his picture. Mr. Everett, as he sat by, threatened to be a bore; laboring apparently under the impression that it was his duty to beguile the session with cheap esthetic small talk. But Marian good humoredly took the painter's share of the dialogue, and he was not diverted from his work.

The next sitting was fixed for the morrow. Marian wore the dress which she had agreed upon with the painter, and in which, as in her position, the "picturesque" element had been religiously suppressed. She read in Baxter's eyes that she looked supremely beautiful, and she saw that his fingers tingled to attack his subject. But she caused Lennox to be sent for, under the pretense of obtaining his adhesion to her dress. It was black, and he might object to black. He came and she read in his kindly eyes an augmented edition of the assurance conveyed in Baxter's. He was enthusiastic for the black dress, which, in truth, seemed only to confirm and enrich, like a grave maternal protest, the young girl's look of undiminished youth.

"I expect you," he said to Baxter, "to make a masterpiece."

"Never fear," said the painter, tapping his forehead. "It's made."

On this second occasion, Mr. Everett, exhausted by the intellectual strain of the preceding day, and encouraged by his luxurious chair, sank into a tranquil sleep. His companions remained for some time, listening to his regular breathing; Marian with her eyes patiently fixed on the opposite wall, and the young man with his glance mechanically traveling between his figure and the canvas. At last he fell back several paces to survey his work. Marian moved her eyes, and they met his own.

"Well, Miss Everett," said the painter, in accents which might have been tremulous if he had not exerted a strong effort to make them firm.

"Well, Mr. Baxter," said the young girl.

And the two exchanged a long, firm glance, which at last ended in a smile—a smile which belonged decidedly to the family of the famous laugh of the two angels behind the altar in the temple.

"Well, Miss Everett," said Baxter, going back to his work, "such is life!"

"So it appears," rejoined Marian. And then, after a pause of some moments: "Why didn't you come and see me?" she added.

"I came and you weren't at home."

"Why didn't you come again?"

"What was the use, Miss Everett?"

"It would simply have been more decent. We might have become reconciled."

"We seem to have done that as it is."

"I mean 'in form.'"

"That would have been absurd. Don't you see how true an instinct I had? What could have been easier than our meeting? I assure you that I should have found any talk about the past, and mutual assurances or apologies extremely disagreeable?"

Miss Everett raised her eyes from the floor and fixed them on her companion with a deep, half reproachful glance. "'Is the past, then,' she asked, "so utterly disagreeable?"

Baxter stared, half amazed. "Good heavens!" he cried, "of course it is."

Miss Everett dropped her eyes and remained silent.

I may as well take advantage of the moment, rapidly to make plain to the reader the events to which the above conversation refers.

Miss Everett had found it expedient, all things considered, not to tell her intended husband the whole story of her acquaintance with Stephen Baxter; and when I have repaired her omissions, the reader will probably justify her discretion.

She had, as she said, met this young man for the first time at Rome, and there in the course of two interviews had made a deep impression upon his heart. He had felt that he would give a great deal to meet Miss Everett again. Their reunion in Switzerland was therefore not entirely fortuitous; and it had been the more easy for Baxter to make it possible, for the reason that he was able to claim a kind of roundabout relationship with Mrs. Denbigh, Marian's companion. With this lady's permission he had attached himself to their party. He had made their route of travel his own, he had stopped when they stopped and been prodigal of attentions and civilities. Before a week was over Mrs. Denbigh, who was the soul of confiding good nature, exulted in the discovery of an invaluable kinsman. Thanks not only to her naturally unexacting disposition, but to the apathetic and inactive habits induced by constant physical suffering, she proved a very insignificant third in her companions' spending of the hours. How delightfully these hours were spent it requires no great effort to imagine. A suit conducted in the midst of the most romantic scenery in Europe is already half won. Marian's social graces were largely enhanced by the satisfaction which her innate intelligence of natural beauty enabled her to take in the magnificent scenery of the Alps. She had never appeared to such advantage; she had never known such perfect freedom and frankness and gayety. For the first time in her life she had made a captive without suspecting it. She had surrendered her heart to the mountains and the lakes, the eternal snows and the pastoral valleys, and Baxter, standing by, had intercepted it. He felt his long projected Swiss tour vastly magnified and beautified by Miss Everett's part in it—by the constant feminine sympathy which gushed within earshot, with the coolness and clearness of a mountain spring. Oh! if only it too had not been fed by the eternal snows! And then her beauty—her indefatigable beauty—was a continual enchantment. Miss Everett looked so thoroughly in her place in a drawing room that it was almost logical to suppose that she looked well nowhere else. But in fact, as Baxter learned, she looked quite well enough in the character of what ladies call a "fright"—that is, sunburned, travel-stained, over heated, exhilarated and hungry—to elude all invidious comparisons.

At the end of three weeks, one morning as they stood together on the edge of a falling torrent, high above the green concavities of the hills, Baxter felt himself irresistibly urged to make a declaration. The thunderous noise of the cataract covered all vocal utterance; so, taking out his sketch book, he wrote three short words on a blank leaf. He handed her the book. She read his message with a beautiful change of color and a single rapid glance at his face. She then tore out the leaf.

"Don't tear it up!" cried the young man.

She understood him by the movement of his lips and shook her head with a smile. But she stooped, picked up a little stone, and wrapping it in the bit of paper, prepared to toss it into the torrent.

Baxter, uncertain, put out his hand to take it from her. She passed it into the other hand and gave him the one he had attempted to take.

She threw away the paper, but she let him him keep her hand.

Baxter had still a week at his disposal, and Marian made it a very happy one. Mrs. Denbigh was tired; they had come to a halt, and there was no interruption to their being together. They talked a great deal of the long future, which, on getting beyond the sound of the cataract, they had expeditiously agreed to pursue in common.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please ourcustomers. The stylesof pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

BY A STRICT PARTY VOTE

RATIFICATION OF THE FISHERIES TREATY DEFEATED.

Requiring a Two-Thirds Vote of the United States Senate for Confirmation the Resolution is Defeated, 30 to 27.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The Senate this morning immediately went into open executive session on the Fisheries Treaty and Mr. Morgan proceeded with his speech in favor of its ratification. He said: "The gentlemen can fumilate their idle bolts against the President and against the policy involved in this treaty. They can accept darkness in place of light, insecurity in place of the firm rock on which this treaty would place the rights of the American people, but the people are revolting against the idea that the Senate of the United States, which cannot declare war on its own motion and by its own resolve, should put this country into a category where war is one of the dismal prospects of the near future in the contemplation of many men who are as firm in their integrity, as bold in their defence of right, as the Senators on that side, and who are perhaps just as fearless in the waging of battle as any who have declared against this treaty. It does not shame us to look the truth in the face and to be willing to admit what we know to be true, that the Senate of the United States to day places the people of the United States in rough and immediate contact with the most dangerous question that can possibly be stated, and that it does so under the influence and shadow of the report brought in here by the Committee on Foreign relations, which is intended and well calculated to prevent the British Government from doing anything more in the way of negotiations with us, except merely to find out what we mean by these declarations."

The Senate then proceeded to vote on the Fisheries Treaty, the first vote being taken on Mr. Gibson's motion, looking either to an amendment of the treaty or arbitration. It was rejected by a strict party vote: Yeas—29, nays—31.

The next vote taken was on an amendment offered to Mr. Gray to Article XI, providing that on all occasions facilities shall be accorded to the United States fishing vessels in Canadian ports for the purchase of casual or needed provisions and supplies. It was rejected by a party vote: Yeas—28, nays—30.

The next vote was on the resolution of ratification—requiring a two-third majority. The resolution was rejected by a like party vote: Yeas—27, nays—30.

Hon. Mr. Tupper Interviewed.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Being interviewed, Hon. Mr. Tupper, Minister of Fisheries, said that the action of the Government, now that the Fishery Treaty was defeated would be a matter for serious consideration. He could not say what their ultimate action might be, but he had no doubt that for some time to come fishery matters on the Atlantic seaboard would be regulated by the provisions of the modus vivendi. Such would be the case at least until a Council meeting of the entire cabinet could be held.

"Would you not have to carry out its provisions for this season, in respect to those American fishermen who have taken out licenses and paid for them?" your correspondent asked.

"Well," replied the Minister, "the license contains a clause that it may be cancelled whenever the Dominion Government see fit."

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Colored Clergyman Refused Accommodation at a Leading Hotel.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—Early yesterday afternoon Rev. C. O. Johnson, the colored proprietor of The British Lion newspaper, Hamilton, registered at the Queen's hotel and asked for a room. The clerk told him that the last room had been taken. Then Mr. Johnson asked for dinner, and was told that dinner was not quite ready. Mr. Johnson said he would order dinner for two, himself and Mr. William R. Bracken, of 150 Centre-street. This brought matters to a climax. A conversation took place between Mr. Richmond and one of the other clerks, and Mr. Johnson was told dinner could not be had. Mr. Johnson has instructed Messrs. Blake, Kerr, Lash & Cassels, to sue the proprietors of the Queen's hotel for refusing hotel accommodation.

Owing to the strong breeze blowing from the north, the water carnival arranged by the Island Campers' Association for last night was postponed till Thursday.

The sixth annual athletic tournament of the Police Amateur Athletic Association will take place to-day at the Toronto Baseball Grounds.

At a meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans last nights Brother Thomas Taylor was presented with an address and an 8-day clock.

The old man John Peers, who was so seriously injured in the runaway accident on Church-street Saturday last, died in the hospital yesterday morning. No inquest was held.

A movement is on foot to reorganize the defunct Caithness Society, affiliate it with the old country societies in Glasgow and London, and make Toronto the centre for the Dominion.

Mr. Walter S. Lee's residence, at 304 Jarvis-street, was burglarised during the family's two weeks' absence at Kew and a silver watch and some old coins stolen.

West Toronto Junction will vote on a by-law granting $75,000 for a suitable water supply about Sept. 20.

The Spreckles Contract Renewed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The New Zealand Parliament has voted to renew the contract for a year with the Spreckles line between San Francisco, New Zealand and Australia.

The Bold Knobber Chief Killed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 22.—Capt. N. Kinney, the chief of the Bold Knobbers organization, was shot and killed at Ozark to-day by Bill Miles.

THE WORLD OF LONDON

LORD LANSDOWNE CORDIALLY RECEIVED BY HIS TENANTS.

The Story About Princess Christian Becoming a Roman Catholic Ridiculously Untrue—Celebrities at Homburg.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The story in circulation about Princess Christian becoming a Roman Catholic is so ridiculously untrue that it seems hardly worth noticing. Yet such rumors when they go abroad are largely credited, and ultimately accepted as facts. The princess is one of the strongest of Protestants, a devoted adherent of the national church, and one of its most earnest and tried friends. None of our royal family is more interested in all work appertaining to the church. She is practical and zealous in her assistance in the east end of London and is always known as "Our Princess." Her frequent public visits there on occasions of ceremonial when she goes to open bazaars and inaugurate any work in which she takes an interest, made her appearance familiar to the poorer classes in Whitechapel and Bethel Green. But where she is best known and beloved is at the London hospital, where she goes regularly when in England to visit the wards and read to the patients. Her kind smile and gentle voice have soothed many a sufferer independently of the more practical help with which she follows up the fortunes of those who on leaving the hospital need assistance.

Homburg is dull this year. Although full to overflowing, there is not a bed to be had in the hotels and scarcely any lodging vacant, although many a lodging house still bears in front the deceptive announcement, "floor to let," which is no indication of the state of affairs within. The Prince of Wales arrived on Wednesday and was at once dined by Mackenzie of Kirktaff at the Park Hotel. His royal highness is living on a flat in the outer promenade, attended by the Hon. H. Tyrwhitt Wilson. None of his usual entourage, either English or American, has yet arrived. There is a growing fear that his doings will in no way add to the scanty materials for amusement already existing in the place. Among the well-known people now taking the cure are Princess Christian, Princess Amelie of Schleswig-Holstein, Princess Carl of Hohenzollern, Lord and Lady Spencer, Prince Malcolm Kahn, Capt. Shaw, Chauncey Depew, and Miss Ethel Mortlock, the popular portrait painter. The American colony is very numerous, including 47 first-class beauties, of whom Miss Virginia Coudert of New York is admitted to be the most fascinating.

Lord and Lady Lansdowne have been paying a visit to Derrin, their place in Kerry. I am pleased to hear that Lord Lansdowne's tenants have given him a most cordial reception. Mr. O'Brien's mission to Canada to damage Lord Lansdowne was hardly a greater failure than the working of the plan of campaign on the Gladstone estates in Kerry. The well-to-do tenants, who were perfectly able to pay rents, but who allowed themselves to be evicted because of their terror of the National League, would rejoice if they could get back to their excellent farms on this liberally managed property.

Next to Balfour, the member of the government who has raised himself most is the popular solicitor-general for Scotland—Robertson. He has delivered several admirable speeches, and is rapidly becoming one of the most ready and effective debaters in the House of Commons.

CANADIAN STORE CATTLE.

Good Prices Paid at Aberdeen—Thoroughbred Stock for New Brunswick.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The New Brunswick Government have shipped twenty-two valuable pedigreed stock to the province through Hon. Mr. McLelan, including prize Clydesdales, French, Percherons, Shropshire sheep and Berkshire pigs.

Mr. John Millar of Markham, has also shipped an excellent selection of Shropshire Down sheep.

The sale of the first Canadian store cattle of the season at Aberdeen realized good prices. The animals numbered 386, in excellent condition. The total proceeds were £6,101, giving an average of £15 16 shillings per head. The previous cargoes realized £14. Four cargoes are following. The company are well satisfied and the Scotch farmers appreciate the stock.

Drowning at St. Kitts.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 21.—While walking along the tow path of the canal between here and Pt. Dalhousie, Albert England, the 10-year-old son of Tailor Charles England of this city, stubbed his toe and fell into the water and was drowned. The body has been recovered.

ANOTHER AT CHATHAM.

CHATHAM, Aug. 21.—The 2-year-old son of Richard Vosper was drowned to-day by falling into an open cistern containing only a few inches of water. He fell in head first and was stunned by the fall.

SCHOOLS AND SCHOLARS.

Meeting at Toronto of Inspectors for the Province of Ontario.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—The Public School Inspectors of Ontario met in the theatre of the Normal School yesterday morning, and opened a convention that will not, probably, be closed before Thursday evening. There were over 60 gentlemen present, including Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education; J. E. Hodgins, M. A., and John Seath, B. A., Toronto, High School Inspectors; John S. Tilley, County Model School Inspector, and James S. White, Toronto, Separate School Inspector.

Hon. G. W. Ross occupied the chair, and when the meeting had been called to order, delivered an opening address of considerable length, at the close of which he stated that he would lead in the discussion upon the several subjects indicated in the program, and the results of these discussions would be dictated to his secretary. The opinions thus recorded would be printed and distributed among the educationists of the province.

The following is a list of the subjects selected: (1) Time required for a proper inspection of a school; (2) Distribution of Inspector's time between teaching and examining; (3) Should Inspectors take a list of the pupils in each class; (4) How to judge and record the discipline of a school; (5) How to judge accurately of the standing or skill of the teacher; (6) How to deal with negligent teachers; (7) Treatment of young teachers; (8) Reports to trustees.

Interesting discussions were had upon these subjects and the convention then adjourned to meet again this morning.

DAN. LYONS HANGED.

The Murderer of Athletic Quinn Expiates His Crime on the Gallows.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Dan Lyons, the murderer of Quinn, the athlete, expiated his crime this morning upon the scaffold in the Tombs. Lyons passed his last night upon earth in a peaceful, calm, collected way. His indifference was not bravado, neither was it religious enthusiasm. It was due to the fact that he either did not or could not realize his position. The drop fell at 7.13, and at 7.19 Lyons was pronounced dead.

The crime for which Lyons was executed was the murder of Joseph F. Quinn, on July 5, 1887. Quinn was 25 years old, a clerk in the Coffee Exchange, a prominent member of the Pastime Athletic Club and an all-round athlete.

MANITOBA AND THE RAILROADS.

Northern Pacific Officials at Winnipeg—The Hudson Bay Rumor Confirmed.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21.—Messrs. McNaught and Kendrick of the Northern Pacific arrived to-night but refused to be entertained. Their presence here is sufficient evidence that the contract is not off and it appears that the Free Press was in error in making the asscrtion, although it received its information from a prominent member of the Government.

A number of Liberals and Independent Conservatives intend waiting on Premier Greenway to-morrow to assure him that he has the confidence of the public. Notwithstanding this it is an open secret that several prominent members of the Legislature are opposed to the contract in its present form.

The report that the Hudson Bay Railway scheme has been floated in the old country is confirmed by advices to the Local Government.

McLean, charged with indecent assault, was dismissed, having proved an alibi.

Behan, charged with the murder of Gingras, was committed for manslaughter.

The election of Thompson of Emerson has been protested.

The weather is very sultry.

Reports from all over show very little damage done by the cold nip last week.

An Absconding Contractor.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21.—H. Sincoss, a contractor who came here from Montreal several years ago, has absconded leaving numerous creditors. A large force of men employed by him are back in their wages and he owes big sums for material. The Union Bank is said to be stuck for $2000 for which it holds security.

A FEMALE HIGHWAY ROBBER.

Sent to Jail for Six Months—The St. Henri Sewer Bylaw Carried.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—A female highway robber in the person of Delima Dumas was sent to jail for six months by the Police Magistrate to-day. She met an old gentleman named Verroneau on the street last night, asked him to change a dollar bill, and when he took out his purse, snatched it out of his hand and also tore out of his vest pocket his watch and then ran away.

Humble, who shot the colored man Miners last night, was to-day remanded for a week. Miners is hanging between life and death.

The bylaw authorizing the town of St. Henri to borrow $100,000 for the construction of sewers, was carried to-day by an overwhelming majority of proprietors, both in number and value of property.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

Three Men in Custody Charged With the Killing of Mrs. Howes.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 21.—Wm. Day, Frank Trafton and Henry Phillipine have been arrested and taken to Andover Jail, charged with the murderer of Mrs. Howes, of Boston. The circumstantial evidence is very strong against them. The arrests were made Sunday night. The body has been taken to Boston for interment, but the inhas not yet been concluded.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, Aug. 21.—Capt. Zealand, of C company, Thirteenth battalion, arrived home last evening from Wimbledon, where he did some good shooting and won several prizes. C company turned out in full force to welcome him.

Four young men, upset a yacht off Bay View wharf last night, and one of them narrowly escaped being drowned, through falling under the sail, Liquor

Mr. A. H. Wingfield, one of Hamilton's poets, has received a very flattering invitation to attend the ceremony of the unveiling of the Burns statue, which is to take place at Albany, N. Y., on Aug. 30.

William Harris, a respectable-looking young fellow, who has hitherto borne a good reputation, was a prisoner at the police court this morning charged with stealing a watch from William Scott. Harris pleaded guilty. As this was his first offense, and a number of people had spoken of his previous good character, the magistrate allowed him to go on deferred sentence.

The Dominion and the Island.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Aug. 21.—From the blue book just issued it appears that Canada takes the foremost place as the source of Newfoundland's import trade, leading the United Kingdom by nearly $40,000 and the United States by $650,000. It was also the only country whose exports to the colony increased during 1887, both of its leading rivals showing a decrease. Imports from Newfoundland into Canada also increased during 1887 by $121,570, or to a total of $311,064. To this should be added a considerable sum representing fish from Labrador, of which Newfoundland customs officials take no notice. It will be seen that Newfoundland is a much better customer of Canada than Canada is of the island.

The Hagersville Picnic.

DUNVILLE, Aug. 21.—It was erroneously announced in the Toronto papers, yesterday, that Sir Hector Langevin would be in Haldimand to lay the corner stone of the new postoffice at Cayuga, on Sept. 3. This is a mistake. The Cayuga postoffice is nearly completed. The Minister of Public Works will be at the Hagersville demonstration in Haldimand on Wednesday, Aug. 29. Hon. Mr. Thompson, Hon. J. A. Chapleau and possibly Hon. John Haggart, will also be present. Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., M.P., and other members of the House will deliver addresses.

The Grand Trunk Reaching Out.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—In view of the proposed extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway to Detroit, it is announced that the Grand Trunk Railway Co. have made arrangements to extend their Michigan Air Line in order to form a short line between Detroit and Chicago, independent of the Wabash, and are also making arrangements to at once make a connection between its system of lines and the Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas City Road, reaching St. Louis and the southwest by a route equal to that of the Wabash.

Picton Votes for Waterworks.

PICTON, Aug. 21.—A by-law to raise $30,000 to put waterworks in Picton was voted on to-day and carried by 92 majority, the vote being 220 for and 118 against.

Rondout's $100,000 Fire.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Aug. 21.—At an early hour this morning a large malt house, con. 30,000 bushels of malt owned by Neidlinger, Schmidt & Co., of New York, two large ice houses owned the Brewers' Ice Co., of New York, and a portion of a boat yard were destroyed by fire at South Rondont. Total loss over $100,000.

A Slight Blaze at Alliston.

ALLISTON, Aug. 21.—A large frame building, the property of Mr. John Fletcher, opposite the Dominion Hotel, was burned down last night. The loss is small, and there is no insurance. George Watson had a number of barrels stored in it. His loss is in the neighborhood of $50.

The Wild Western Way.

GUIDE ROCK, Neb., Aug. 21.—Billy Cole, who shot Wm. Montgomery and Chas. Groute at a dance on Aug. 17, was taken from jail this morning and hanged. Both of his victims are still alive.

Locci's Fate.

CAYUGA, Aug. 22.—Joseph Locci, the Italian who was arrested about a year ago on suspicion of having murdered Mrs. Daly and her two children and then burning down the house to conceal his crime, has become hopelessly insane and will be removed to the Toronto Insane Asylum.

AMONG THE SMUGGLERS.

AN ENORMOUS AMOUNT OF ILLICIT IMPORTATION.

Captains of Coasting Vessels and Quebec Tobacco Manufacturers Evading the Payment of Duty.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Mr. W. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, left to-day for a trip to British Columbia and Lower California.

Mr. Cimon, M. P. for Charlevoix, had an interview with the Commissioner of Customs in regard to the seizure of a vessel at Quebec for smuggling. The case is held for consideration.

Mr. A. M. Burgess is detained in the west on urgent business. It it also understood he has been advised by his physicians to rest from official duty.

Mr. Small of the department of Agriculture is the recipient of a portrait group arranged on the Joggins raft while it was at Cottage City, Mass.

A Cabinet council was held this afternoon.

Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine, has been invited to take part in a political picnic to be held at Beaverton early in September.

It is understood there is no intention on the part of the Government to abandon the appeal of the Ayer customs case.

The Department of Justice has issued the warrant of extradition in the case of Max Hoppe, arrested at Lethbridge, N. W. T., on the charge of murdering W. Adams in Montana territory in May last.

Mr. Sedwick, Deputy Minister of Justice, is expected here Thursday.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau has returned.

Mr. Patterson, M. P. for North Essex, is here.

It is stated that Lieut.-Col. Ouinet, Speaker of the House of Commons, has handed in his resignation as commander of the 65th Battalion.

The registrar of the Exchecker Court is preparing notices of further expropriations for the Cape Breton Railway in Cumberland County.

Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, is expected back on Monday.

Revenue Inspector J. A. Gravelle, after an absence of two months, returned here to-day. He was on a successful tour through Eastern Quebec, searching for illicit whisky stills and contraband tobacco. He reports that an enormous amount of smuggling is going on. He thinks it can never be completely suppressed unless the Government locates an agent at the French Islands this side of Newfoundland. The smuggling is principally carried on by captains of coasting vessels, with the collusion of Quebec tobacco manufacturers. The latter escape payment of Inland Revenue duty by declaring the tobacco for export. A portion of the tobacco may reach the Islands, but the bulk is sold at big profits at points in the gulf as far east as Gaspe. An official at the French Islands by examining the invoices could soon detect the smugglers. The Inspector visited all ports as far as the Saguenay and came back via Riviere du Loup.

There is considerable smuggling of liquors carried on. Seizures included whisky stills as well as illicit smuggled tobacco. Mr. Jas. Tremblay of Old Lorette had three whiskey stills in full blast when the inspector called. One still was destroyed while the other two were removed. The owners have deposited $100 with the Department of Inland Revenue pending an investigation.

Mr. F. N. Gisborne, Superintendent of Government Telegraph, leaves in a few days for British Columbia.

Governor Royal has gone to Vandreuil, Que.

Sir Fred. Middleton leaves next week on a tour of inspection in Ontario.

CANADIAN HOME CIRCLES.

Annual Meeting of the Supreme Circle at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 23.—The fifth annual session of the Supreme Circle of the Order of Canadian Home Circles opened in Caledonian Hall, Alexandra Arcade, this afternoon. The Supreme Leader, Rev. John Kay, formerly of this city, presided, and there were about 120 delegates present from all parts of Ontario. Rev. J. Kay, in his annual address said:

The number of circles organized during the year is 25, and the members added to our ranks are 1287. The number of deaths in our ranks during the year has been 22, and we have paid for the benefit of widows and orphans during the year $36,600 and hold $4000 for the completion of claim papers. During the year letters were received from Manitoba and Quebec respecting the establishment of Circles, but we have not yet been able to take any definite action regarding the formation of circles in these provinces.

Mr. A. J. Pattison, of Toronto, Supreme Secretary, in his annual report gives the following interesting facts: From July 1, 1887, to June 30, of the present year, 23 new circles were instituted, in Markham, Niagara Falls, Port Perry, Uxbridge, Nelles' Corners, Binbrook, Niagara, Crowland, Cainsville, New Durham, Teeterville, Burford, Vandecar, Shedden, Lawrence, Toronto, Wingham, Toronto, Stoney Creek, St. Catharines, Dutton, Sheffield, Kingston, Napanee, Orillia. These circles have a charter membership of 460. At the close of the Supreme Circle year, June 30, 1887—the total membership was 4080 belonging to 108 circles. Since the close of the year three new circles have been instituted and the total membership has been increased up to date to 4300. The Order was instituted in Hamilton in 1884 and its growth has been steady and sure. In the few years of its existence the Order has paid $75,000 in benefits to the widows and orphans of deceased members.

Mr. D. R. Foster, of Waterford, Supreme Treasurer, in his annual report shows the receipts for the year ending June 30 to have been $7201, and the payments $7197, leaving a balance of $4. The receipts of the beneficiary fund were $40,650 and the payments $36,000, leaving a balance in the bank of $4650. During the year $2270 was received towards the sick benefit fund, and $2019 was the amount paid out, leaving a balance of $251.

Dr. Albert D. Watson, Supreme Medical Examiner, in his report states that 1533 examinations were supervised in his office during the year ending June 30, 1888, 1434 of which were recommended for acceptance and 99 rejected. Twenty-two deaths or about 6 per 1000 members occurred during the year.

Thomas Paradine, representative of Hamilton Circle, extended an invitation to the Supreme Circle to a complimentary moonlight excursion on the steamer Macassa, which was appropriately acknowledged and accepted.

The Supreme Trustees presented their annual report recommending that the Bonds of the Supreme Secretary and Supreme Treasurer be fixed at $7000 for the ensuing year. The report was adopted.

The Supreme Circle then went into committee of the whole upon the amendments to the constitution, after which a resolution was adopted fixing the per diem of members at $1 per day, and the Supreme Circle took a recess at 6 p.m. until 9 to-morrow morning.

Mr. Laurier to Practice Law in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—A rumor is current in political and legal circles to the effect than Hon. Wilfrid Laurier will commence practice in Montreal in September. A political friend of the Liberal leader when asked to-day if there was anything in the rumor replied that he believed it to be true.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1888.

THE QUEBEC DEBT.

By an Act passed at the last session of the Quebec Legislature the Government of that Province took power to convert the existing Government bonds into a new issue at a lower rate of interest. The proposed conversion has caused considerable excitement among the holders of the bonds in London. The proposed action, if forced against the wishes of the bondholders, would be looked upon as a repudiation of a contract and would be unjust. It may be true that the Province could borrow money now at the lower rate, but that does not effect the contract the Province entered into with those from whom it had borrowed. When money was borrowed by the Province the interest was stated, and also the term of years that was to elapse before the money would be repaid. Tenders were asked, as is usually done in such cases. Investors tendered with the understanding that the investment was for that term of years, and to lower the interest on the bonds or even to convert them into new ones bearing a lower rate of interest, would be a breach of faith that would amount to confiscation. Such an action would injure the credit of the Province and would probably also have an injurious effect on the credit of other Provinces of the Dominion.

Happily, however, Mr. Mercier has announced that the Government has no intention of forcing the conversion against the wishes of those who hold the bonds. If they are change it will be done voluntarily. The storm raised has forced a declaration from the Quebec Premier to this effect. Mr. Mercier now says that the Government never intended to force the conversion, but if that is true why did he not make it known in monetary circles in London before the agitation for the veto of the Act arose? Already there is reason to fear that injury has been done to the credit of the Province by the injudicious course of the Quebec Government.

BOULANGER AGAIN.

GEN. BOULANGER has not been making much stir since his duel with Premier Floquet, but his popularity in the departments has not diminished to any great extent. The dispute in the Chamber of Deputies, which led to the duel, also caused the general to resign his seat in order to receive anew the assurance that his constituents would support him, and he has been elected to the Chamber by three departments. The Nord, which he previously represented, has returned him by a majority of 3,885, and he was the choice in Charente by a majority of 15,060 and in Somme he received the large majority of 34,723. It is evident that, whether, as alleged, Gen. Boulanger is being used by enemies of the republic or not, a large number of people have confidence in him, and his popularity rather than any ability he has himself shown makes him formidable. He will now return to the Chamber. That body has shown itself hostile to him and his plans, and although a Ministry fell on a vote for a revision of the constitution, which was carried, the Deputies are opposed to Boulanger's plans for revision. It remains to be seen what new move the general will make and whether his endorsation in the departments will have any more effect in making him influential in the Chamber than his former election had.

STEWART'S—OTONABEE.

Correspondence of the Review.

HARVESTING.—Were it not for the frequent showers, the harvesting would be nearly all done. However, a large number have finished, and several more are nearly through. The rain will be a great benefit to the grass, and root crops generally.

CAMPING.—During the past few weeks several camps have dotted the banks of the picturesque Otonabee. Some of the campers were from Millbrook, and some from Peterborough. It is reported that one Peterborough camp was the centre of attraction to some of the young gentlemen of the neighborhood. One young man on hearing of a certain camping party, was suddenly seized with sickness, and went to the river to "fish." It must have been a case of "see-sickness."

ON DIT.—Reports say that the number of those keeping bachelor's hall will soon be decreased—by two at least.

FARM SOLD.—The farm at present occupied by Mr. James Kenneally has been sold to Mr. James Hutchison, of Cavan, for $5,000.

PICNIC.—Cold Springs' and Stewart's Sunday schools intend holding a union picnic to Jubilee Point. As this is a very popular picnic ground, it is hoped there will be a large attendance and favorable weather on Tuesday, August 28th, when the picnic is to be held.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Richard Stewart is still under the care of Dr. Boucher, but it is hoped he will soon be entirely convalescent.

FOOTBALL.—"Crystal Springs" have commenced practice again, after their harvest holidays.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger airl passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

DISASTROUS FLOODS.

West Virginia Again Suffers From the Angry Waters—Storms and Cyclones.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 22.—A storm, which in its disastrous effects equals that of July 19 last, has been in progress here since 8 a.m. yesterday and shows no signs of abating. Wheeling Creek, in the narrow valley east of Wheeling, is a foot higher than ever before, roads being flooded from two to six feet deep and bridges destroyed. The valley is one angry flood and the damage can only be estimated by the wreckage that dashes through the city into the river. A piece of the Baltimore and Ohio wooden bridge from out the Pittsburg division struck the Baltimore and Ohio bridge at Main and 16th streets which was destroyed in July and rebuilt and it was carried away with great rapidity. Warned by former experience there was no person on it.

At 5.50 yesterday afternoon while 1000 or more people were massed on the substantial stone bridge over Wheeling Creek a man on the creek bank 100 feet above shouted a warning and the panic stricken crowd rushed over and into each other in their efforts to reach terra firma After the bridge was cleared those nearest seeing it still apparently safe turned back laughing at their fears but before they reached it, the bridge, 140 feet in length, fell with one awful crash and the water leaped 60 feet into the air. Water, gas and natural gas mains, sewers, telegraph and telephone wires, electric light and power conductors were thrown down. The Baltimore and Ohio bridge built over the creek it is feared will go. The losses will reach $250,000.

A Big Storm in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 21.—Great damage was done by severe winds throughout this region, and by rains which prevailed from 6.30 p. m. Friday, until 7 a. m. Monday. Great damage was done in this city and in the sugar belt from Baton Rouge to the Gulf. Much cane and rice were blown flat and many sugar houses and dwellings were badly damaged. In the city houses were unroofed, fences prostrated and trees uprooted. The heavy rain flooded the entire city damaging goods in several stores. The W. G. Little, Laura and Baratoria, small steamers, were sunk. The steamboat Ed. Richardson went adrift, lost her chimnies and sustained other damages. A portion of the wall of the Terrell cotton press was blown down, killing a 13-year-old colored girl and injuring her mother. The incoming Queen and Crescent train yesterday rescued four women and two men from fishing and hunting club houses near the north shore of Lake Pontchartrain.

The storm was general along the Gulf coast. The waters of the Gulf were driven over the Louisville and Nashville Red River embankment a distance of twenty miles and many washouts occurred. News at a late hour last night shows damage done to the rice crop all along the river. The Gulf water driven by the wind covered the rice fields in many places to a depth of several feet causing almost total destruction of the crop for twenty miles. Several steamers are due and some anxiety is expressed for their safety.

At Morgan City fully fifty buildings are off their foundations. At 4 p.m. when the last news was received from different places 60 loaded coal barges and boats and one boat of coke had sunk and a number of others were reported sinking. The total loss is $240,000. The steamer Keokuk was wrecked last night. Friday Mr. Caffrey accompanied by three sons and a number of their young companions left Belle Isle for Lost Island on a pleasure trip. Up to the time of filing no trace has been found of them.

ST. LAWRENCE CANALS.

Notice to Contractors.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for the St. Lawrence Canals," will be received at this office until the arrival of the eastern and western mails on Tuesday, the 25th day of September next, for the construction of two locks and the deepening and enlargement of the upper entrance of the Galops Canal. And for the deepening and enlargement of the summit level of the Cornwall Canal. The construction of a new lock at each of the three interior lock stations on the Cornwall Canal between the Town of Cornwall and Maple Grove; the deepening and widening the channel way of the canal; construction of bridges, &c.

A map of each of the localities, together with plans and specifications of the respective works, can be seen on and after Tuesday the 11th day of September next, at this office for all the works, and for the respective works at the following mentioned places:—

For the works at Galops, at the Lockkeeper's House, Galops. For deepening the summit level of the Cornwall Canal, at Dickenson's Landing; and for the new locks, &c., at lock-stations Nos. 18, 19 and 20, at the town of Cornwall. Printed forms of tender can be obtained for the respective works at the places mentioned.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same and further a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $6,000 must accompany the tenders for the Galops Canal Works, and a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $2,000 for each section of the works on the summit level of the Cornwall Canal; and for each of the lock sections on the Cornwall Canal a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $4,000.

The respective deposit receipts—cheques will not be accepted—must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forefeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted. The deposit receipts thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10.00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00
2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

What People Love.

Mankind dearly loves a bargain. The idea of getting something of good value for little, very little, money is captivating. It is in this particular that the golden lion excels. Just now is the time to buy. Money is scarce. Its purchasing power was never greater. At fair's you can secure rattling bargains in the course of every day trade. So look up the place and invest.

The Chemong Lake Road.

The rails on the Chemong Lake railway are laid as far as the "junction," where the road turns into Bridenorth if it is decided to make that village the terminus. If it is built to the lake on the old road there will be three or four miles more to lay, and at any rate it will be carried on a mile to a gravel pit the Grand Trunk has bought.

Christian Workers' Convention.

A convention of Christian workers under the auspices of the Young People's Christian Association of Beaverton, will be held in the cedar grove on the shore of Lake Simcoe, commencing on August 27th and closing on August 31st. The grove is a lovely place on high and dry land overlooking Lake Simcoe, which affords attractions in fishing, boating and bathing, and in beautiful scenery. A number of clergymen and laymen are on the programme to conduct services.

Only Until Saturday Night.

The bankrupt sale of Tweeds, suit goods and gent's furnishings, at McNeil's old stand, will positively close on Saturday night. Not much time left for you to secure bargains, and such bargains too. It is the chance of a life time. You can buy winter underclothing for a mere song. Shirts, both white and colored, at almost nothing. The goods must be cleared out so don't delay. Call at McNeil's old stand, before Saturday.

St. Joseph's Hospital.

When the property in Ashburnham known as St. Leonard's was purchased by the Roman Catholic people some time ago it was understood that it was their intention to erect upon it a building for a hospital, and that intention will now be carried out. The property is valuable. It was the site of the residence of Dr. H. C. Burritt, which was burned, and is well adapted for a site for a hospital. Tenders are asked for the excavating and quarry stone for the foundation, and they will be received up to next Saturday. The plans and specifications for the building are being prepared by Mr. J. E. Belcher, C. E., and it is understood that it will be a substantial and commodious structure.

Luxury for Travellers.

A new passenger coach has been placed on the Grand Trunk service between here and Toronto, via Port Hope. The car is 58 feet long, will carry 64 passengers and is furnished with the Forney patent revolving seats. At one end of the car is a ladies' toilet, and at the other a gentleman's. It is upholstered in blue rep and altogether is finely finished and an elegant coach. This service is becoming a favorite route and this car will add to its popularity.

Preparations Progressing.

The committees of the labor men are all hard at work making preparations and arranging the programme for their demonstration on the 3rd. A committee went down to Hastings yesterday and secured the grounds for that day. The Hastings Council have proclaimed September 3rd as their civic holiday, and so the village will have on its holiday attire and the villagers will be able to participate in the celebration. The Fire Brigade band and orchestra were also engaged last night, and everything points to a good day and a successful demonstration. Speeches will be delivered during the day by Mr. W. C. Garson, M.P.P. of St. Catharines, and Mr. R. R. Elliott, District Master Workman, of Uxbridge.

Russian Wheat.

Mr. Chas. O'Reilly, of Asphodel, received from the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, last April, a three pound bag of "Ladoga" wheat, a Russian variety, says the Hastings Star. Last week Mr. O'Reilly sent in a report of the test as follows:—"The soil was clay loam, high land, fall ploughed, pea stubble; the ground occupied being one twentieth of an acre. The seed was sown broadcast on the 23rd of April, harvested on August 6th, and yielded 70 pounds. Straw, soft, no smut, slightly rusted. Colorado wheat sown adjacent to the above plot, and harvested 30th July, yielded 12 bushels to the acre. The comparison between the two varieties was in favor of the Russian wheat."

A Boom in Ashburnham.

Ashburnham is looking up as a suburb. The tendency seems to be to go across the river and live, it being assumed that the distance from the business part of the town is no greater than to localities back of Smithtown hill or in the direction of the locks. On Tuesday Mr. J. Carlisle concluded the purchase from Mrs. Jno. Erskine of a large block containing 26 acres and proposes to throw it on the market at once. Several lots have already been sold and a number of new houses are arranged for, to be erected on the property at once. The opportunity is an admirable one for mechanics and working men to secure the property on which to build a home and favorable arrangements can be made with Mr. Carlisle in the way of building.

The Life Boat.

The Methodist Life Boat is the name of a new venture in journalism, the first number of which has just been issued. It is published in the interest of the Methodist Churches in Peterborough and Ashburnham. The paper has a handsome heading, the letters being neat and having as a background a life saving crew going out in a life boat to the aid of a vessel in distress. The Life Boat is intended to furnish news and announcements of interest to the Methodist people of the town, and, though of a good size and supplying a creditable amount of reading, does not pretend to take the place of the church organ, the Christian Guardian. The editor-in-chief and business manager is Mr. F. Mason, and the staff of editors includes, for the George-st. Church, the Rev. M. L. Pearson, Church Work department; Mr. A. E. Scott, Sunday School department; Mr. Geo. S. Bean, B.A., Young People's Association department; Mrs. James Kendry, Ladies' Aid department, and Mr. F. Mason, Life Boat Crew department. The paper will be issued on or about the 15th of each month and the subscription price is 35 cents a year. The typographical execution is excellent, and is from the press of the REVIEW Job Department.

You take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and purifies the blood, and removes blotches and pimples, making the skin smooth and clear, and giving it a bright and healthy appearance. Take it this month.

LAMBS AND DUFFERS.

The Lambs Victorious by 111 to 77—Cricket Notes.

A match was played under the above title yesterday, which resulted in favor of the "Lambs." The latter batted first. Green and Hartley hit hard for their scores, as did Macdonald and Pearson, while Stirling played steady cricket for his score, but the rest did not do so much. The feature of the innings (which amounted to 111) was the bowling of the veteran Strickland, who got 7 wickets for 63 runs, Hamilton having 2 for 26.

The "Duffers" managed to get only 73. Yokome, who has not touched a bat for ten years, ran up 32 mostly in threes. He was unfortunately run out, else there is no saying what his score might have been. Hamilton, who played steadily for nine, was the only other who did much, Stirling getting 7 wickets for 25 runs, and Pearson 1 for 15 runs.

BREAKS.

A match is on for to-morrow between the colts and the second eleven. The game will probably be an interesting one.

The executive committee of the club announce that it is their intention to have a number of "scrub" matches through the month of September. If possible they will have at leatt one match every week.

The Toronto Empire, in giving a list of the Canadian players who will meet the Irish gentlemen at Toronto, says:—"W. A. Stratton (Peterborough), has a very strong defence and a most useful bat, hitting well all round. Has scored well this year in every match he has played in. Is a good field and change bowler."

ACCIDENT ON THE RAILS.

Brakeman Bradshaw Loses an Arm on the Grand Junction.

As a special freight train on the Grand Junction line was passing through Hastings village yesterday afternoon Brakemen Bradshaw met with an accident which resulted in the loss of his right arm. Bradshaw was running over some flat cars when he slipped and fell between two of them, and seven cars passed over his arm. The arm was smashed and mutilated in such a manner that amputation was necessary quite close to the shoulder.

The unfortunate man lives in Belleville, where he has a wife and family. He is said to have been one of the Nile voyageurs who left this district. The injured man is reported to be doing as well as could be expected.

The best medical authorities acknowledge the value of Ayer's Pills, and prescribe them with the utmost confidence, as the most effectual remedy for diseases caused by derangements of the stomach, liver, and bowels.

Stock Sold.

Mr. Bayeur's stock of boot and shoes was sold by auction this afternoon, Mr. C. Stapleton conducting the sale. Messrs. Gough Bros. bought the stock at 57 cents and Mr. John O'Meara the book debts at 13 cents.

Personal.

Mr. Stephen O'Brien, barrister, of Belleville, formerly of the law firm of Leonard & O'Brien, was in town to-day.

Miss Minnie Hurley has returned home from Napanee and Kingston, where she has been enjoying her vacation.

Miss Davern, of Napanee, is in town, the guest of Mrs. T. Hurley.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown is in Toronto attending a conference of school inspectors of Ontario.

A Day at Ivanhoe Island.

The Baptist Choir excursion which left hear at 8.30 o'clock yesterday morning proved to be a most enjoyable outing for the two hundred persons who boarded the train. Arriving at Lakefield the steamers Mary Ellen and Dawn were in waiting to convey the party up the lake. Ivanhoe Island was reached about twelve o'clock. Here Mr. Grundy, who owns the island and whose family are now living there, had made preparations to receive the excursionists. Tables had been prepared and tea was supplied to all who landed at this pleasant spot. The island contains about eight acres, is beautifully wooded all through, and has been underbrushed and cleared in the vicinity of the house. The tables had been scattered beneath the shade of the trees and the scene was indeed a pretty one when the party sat down to lunch. The day was spent in picnic fashion, fishing, rowing and rambling through the woods. Some few remained on the steamer and sailed up as far as Burleigh locks and Mount Julian, returning to the island at about 4.30 in the afternoon. The island was left by the excursionists about five and Lakefield was reached in good time to catch the train. Several of the excursionists captured some fine strings of fish. Messrs. H. Matthews and Geo. Fitzgerald being especially lucky. Rev. Mr. Peer, and Mr. Fuller, of Norwood, are camped near the island, and Mr. Fuller photographed Mr. Grundy's residence and the party as they picnicked. A most enjoyable day was spent by everyone and home was reached in safety without any mishap.

A Dog's Sagacity.

The other day a dog belonging to Mr. A. D. Russell, of Ashburnham, came to the house, whining, barking and making considerable fuss. Mrs. Russell drove him away two or three times, but the animal would not remain away or become quiet. Getting into the house, he seemed trying to induce Mrs. Russell to go to the door, and she did so. He ran out and down the street, and his mistress followed him until they came to a high board fence. Then the reason of the dog's strange actions was discovered, for Mrs. Russell found her little boy, two and a half years old, hanging by his foot on the fence. He had tried to climb up, and, his foot catching in a knot hole, he fell back and hung there, and would have been seriously injured in a few minutes longer. The lad was at once relieved, and the dog manifested his pleasure and satisfaction at the success of his endeavors.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

STORY OF A MASTERPIECE.

By HENRY JAMES, Jr.

PART I.

It was their misfortune to be poor. They determined, in view of this circumstance, to say nothing of their engagement until Baxter, by dint of hard work, should have at least quadrupled his income. This was cruel, but it was imperative, and Marian made no complaint. Her residence in Europe had enlarged her conception of the material needs of a pretty woman, and it was quite natural that she should not, close upon the heels of this experience, desire to rush into marriage with a poor artist. At the end of some days Baxter started for Germany and Holland, portions of which he wished to visit for purposes of study. Mrs. Denbigh and her young friend repaired to Paris for the winter. Here, in the middle of February, they were rejoined by Baxter, who had achieved his German tour. He had received, while absent, five little letters from Marian, full of affection. The number was small, but the young man detected in the very temperance of his mistress a certain delicious flavor of implicit constancy. She received him with all the frankness and sweetness that he had a right to expect, and listened with great interest to his account of the improvement in his prospects. He had sold three of his Italian pictures and had made an invaluable collection of sketches. He was on the high road to wealth and fame, and there was no reason their engagement should not be announced. But to this latter proposition Marian demurred—demurred so strongly, and yet on grounds so arbitrary, that a somewhat painful scene ensued. Stephen left her, irritated and perplexed. The next day when he called, she was unwell and unable to see him; and the next, and the next. On the evening of the day that he had made his third fruitless call at Mrs. Denbigh's, he overheard Marian's name mentioned at a large party. The interlocutors were two elderly women. On giving his attention to their talk, which they were taking no pains to keep private, he found that his mistress was under accusal of having trifled with the affections of an unhappy young man, the only son of one of the ladies. There was apparently no lack of evidence or of facts which might be construed as evidence. Baxter went home, la mort dans l'ame, and on the following day called again on Mrs. Denbigh. Marian was still in her room, but the former lady received him. Stephen was in a great trouble, but his mind was lucid, and he addressed himself to the task of interrogating his hostess. Mrs. Denbigh, with her habitual indolence, had remained unsuspicious of the terms on which the young people stood.

"I'm sorry to say," Baxter began, "that I heard Miss Everett accused last evening of very sad conduct."

"Ah, for heaven's sake, Stephen," returned his kinswoman, "don't go back to that. I've done nothing all winter but defend and palliate her conduct. It's hard work. Don't make me do it for you. You know her as well as I do. She was indiscreet, but I know she is penitent, and for that matter she is well out of it. He was by no means a desirable young man."

"The lady whom I heard talking about the matter," said Stephen, "spoke of him in the highest terms. To be sure, as it turned out, she was his mother."

"His mother! You're mistaken. His mother died ten years ago."

Baxter folded his arms with a feeling that he needed to sit firm. "Allons," said he, "of whom do you speak?"

"Of young Mr. King."

"Good heavens," cried Stephen. "So there are two of them?"

"Pray, of whom do you speak?"

"Of a certain Mr. Young. The mother is a handsome old woman, with white curls."

"You don't mean to say that there has been anything between Marian and Frederic Young?"

"Voila! I only repeat what I hear. It seems to me, my dear Mrs. Denbigh, that you ought to know."

Mrs. Denbigh shook her head with a melancholy movement. "I'm sure I don't," she said. "I give it up. I don't pretend to judge. The manners of young people to each other are very different to what they were in my day. One doesn't know whether they mean nothing or everything."

"You know, at least, whether Mr. Young has been in your drawing room?"

"Oh, yes, frequently. I am very sorry that Marian is talked about. It's very unpleasant for me. But what can a sick woman do?"

"Well," said Stephen, "so much for Mr. Young. And now for Mr. King."

"Mr. King is gone home. It's a pity he ever came away."

"In what sense."

"Oh, he's a silly fellow. He doesn't understand young girls?"

"Upon my word," said Stephen, "with expression," as the music sheets say, "he might be very wise and not do that."

"Not but that Marian was injudicious. She meant only to be amiable, but she went too far. She became adorable. The first thing she knew he was holding her to an account."

"Is he good looking?"

"Well enough."

"And rich?"

"Very rich, I believe."

"And the other?"

"What other—Marian?"

"No, no; your friend Young."

"Yes, he's quite handsome."

"And rich, too?"

"Yes, I believe he's also rich."

Baxter was silent a moment. "And there's no doubt," he resumed, "that they were both far gone?"

"I can only answer for Mr. King."

"Well, I'll answer for Mr. Young. His mother wouldn't have talked as she did unless she'd seen her son suffer. After all, then, it's perhaps not so much to Marian's discredit. Here are two handsome young millionaires, madly smitten. She refuses them both. She doesn't care for good looks and money."

"I don't say that," said Mrs. Denbigh, sagaciously. "She doesn't care for those things alone. She wants talent, and all the rest of it. Now, if you were only rich, Stephen"—added the good lady, innocently.

Baxter took up his hat. "When you wish to marry Miss Everett," he said, "you must take good care not to say too much about Mr. King and Mr. Young.

Two days after this interview he had a conversation with the young girl in person. The reader may like him less for his easily shaken confidence, but it is a fact that he had been unable to make light of these lightly made revelations. For him his love had been a passion; for her, he was compelled to believe, it had been a vulgar pastime. He was a man of violent temper; he went straight to the point.

"Marian," he said, "you have been deceiving me."

Marian knew very well what he meant; she knew very well that she had grown weary of her engagement and that, however little of a fault her conduct had been to Messrs. Young and King, it had been an act of grave disloyalty to Baxter. She felt that the blow was struck and that their engagement was clean broken. She knew that Stephen would be satisfied with no half excuses or half denials; and she had none others to give. A hundred such would not make a perfect confession. Making no attempt, therefore, to save her "prospects," for which she had ceased to care, she merely attempted to save her dignity. Her dignity for the moment was well enough secured by her natural half cynical coolness of temper. But this same vulgar placidity left in Stephen's memory an impression of heartlessness and shallowness, which in that particular quarter, at least, was destined to be forever fatal to her claims to real weight and worth. She denied the young man's right to call her to account and to interfere with her conduct; and she almost anticipated his proposal that they should consider their engagement at an end. She even declined the use of the simple logic of tears. Under these circumstances, of course, the interview was not of long duration.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL

SIR ADOLPHE CARON TO SETTLE THE GUARDS' DISPUTE.

A Mammoth Cotton Mill to be Erected in Hull—Seizure of Oddfellows Uniform—The Quebec Conversion Bill.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Mr. Cimon, M. P. had an interview with the Postmaster-General yesterday.

Mr. James McLaren, Buckingham, a wealthy lumberman, has purchased from Gilmour & Co. a mill site within the eastern limits of Hull. It is said that it is the intention of Mr. McLaren to erect a mammoth cotton mill which will give employment to a large number of operators.

It is understood that the Canadian Pacific Railway commission has concluded it labors at Vancouver, B.C.

Sir John leaves Dalhousie to-day for Cape Breton.

The Manitoba Government have decided to make an exhibit at the Ottawa Exhibition and prizes aggregating $100 have been offered.

A seizure of Oddfellows uniform has been made by Special Customs Officer Drouillard. The articles were addressed to a party at the port of Toronto and look as if invoiced at undervaluation. The case has been taken under consideration here.

Two Public Works civil engineers yesterday visited different sites in Hull to select a suitable place for the erection of a wharf.

The young girl Fournier, outraged at Madiwaski by Shantyman Pochas, is not dead as reported, but recovered. The perpetrator of the outrage has gone to the States.

The Quebec Debt Conversion Bill will not be considered by the Dominion Cabinet till after the holidays.

Sir Adolphe Caron is said to have taken upon himself the settlement of the Guards dispute. It is understood that the Militia Department feel that if the resignations of the officers are accepted the regiment must be disbanded, as it will be impossible to fill their places. The only solution appears to be in asking Col. Macpherson to resign, but the Col. is Sir John's nephew and there lies the difficulty.

The contract for the erection of the experimental farm building at Napan has been awarded to Roche & Co.

Typhoid and diphtheria are prevalent here. Several cases are reported.

THE HALTON ELECTION.

John Waldie (Lib.) Returned by 27 Majority over David Henderson (Con.)

MILTON, Aug. 22.—John Waldie (Lib.) was elected to-day to fill the vacancy for Halton in the Dominion House, caused by the unseating of Mr. Henderson, by 27 majority over Mr. David Henderson (Con.) The result from the different polling places is as follows:

Board of Past Supreme Leaders—J. J. Sidney, Welland.

Commercial Bank Stock.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Formal applications made yesterday to Messrs. McLean, the bankers, to learn whether the Commercial Bank of Winnipeg would issue a given allotment of shares. They replied that they were not able to answer without consulting the solicitors. This is regarded as tantamount to a reply in the negative.

Canadian Notes.

Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Ayr, is lying seriously ill at Chesterfield, Perth county.

The Stratford Board has decided to charge non resident pupils $20 and resident pupils $ a year, for attendance at the Collegiate Institute.

THE WRONGS OF IBELAND.

GLADSTONE APPARENTLY MORE IRISH THAN THE IRISH.

Gen. Boulanger's Three Electoral Victories a Sudden Menace to the Peace of Europe—Admiral Bird's Official Explanation of His Defeat.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—General Boulanger's three electoral victories make him once more formidable, even if only for the moment. The effect throughout Europe is that of a sudden menace to peace. The Berlin, Vienna and London press take no pains to conceal their contempt for a nation which can find material for a hero or a leader in a man of Gen. Boulanger's calibre. They admit, however, that his success, if continued, might set France on the road to war. French Republicans admit the greatness of the ministerial defeat, but the Opportunists and Radicals, instead of uniting against the common enemy, are exchanging taunts and accusing each other in the usual style of being responsible for this misadventure. The Monarchists, who disown Gen. Boulanger but vote for him, are jubilant over what they hail as a disaster to the republic.

Gladstone has devoted another long speech to the task of impressing on the English public the wrongs of Ireland. He can find but two parallels for what is going on in that island—Poland and Naples. Nor does he think even the case of Poland quite so discreditable to Russia as that of Ireland to England. Ireland never gave England the provocation which Poland gave Russia. As for Naples and her prisons, they are bad enough. But even King Bomba treated his political prisoners better than Balfour does his. He did not make them keep company with felons.

It is remarkable that the ablest Gladstonian organ in the kingdom, The Manchester Guardian, protests against this comparison of Ireland with Poland in its leading editorial. That powerful journal challenges the accuracy of Gladstone's historical narrative, disputes the conclusions he draws and denies the justness of the comparison between the methods of Mouravieff and the methods of Balfour. Mouravieff would have hanged or shot where Balfour only inflicts hardships and indignities. But, adds this writer, repentantly, it is in both cases a naked assertion of arbitrary force. Balfour exasperates quite as much, and disorganizes society quite as much, but does not terrify.

Gladstone discourses freely on the Times-Parnell controversy and denounces the commission as unfair and the contest between the two parties as unequal. He handles the Mandeville-Ridley inquest in the same spirit and is, in fact, throughout more Irish than the Irish. No Parnellite can complain that Gladstone does not adopt to the full all their contentions on those subjects. The Times replies by describing this as a political harangue, conspicuous even among the performances of its author at once for its verbosity and recklessness. One point The Times clearly makes at Gladstone's expense. The expenses of that journal, he thought would be recouped by the extra sales of papers containing reports of the trial. The circulation of The Times is, in fact, hardly affected by the causes which send other papers up and down. He knows nothing, cries the journal which he attacks, of managing a newspaper. Another Tory organ sums up its criticism on this speech in the headline "Gladstone Gas"—the same paper which sometimes complains of the bad language in the American press.

Admiral Bird has published an official explanation of his defeat by Admiral Tryon. His defeat was, it appears, a victory. He maintained the Channel squadron and defended the Thames and London against attacks which were not made. Seriously read, this apology but repeats what lesser authorities have asserted, that his ships were neither seaworthy nor sufficient for the task they were appointed to perform. G. W. S

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Chapter of Accidents—The School Inspectors' Convention.

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—The careless arrangement of the gangway between the wharf and a ferry steamer at the Island yesterday occasioned Mr. Stewart, of the Dominion Bank, a bath that he never contemplated. He had hardly stepped on the plank when he fell between the landing and the vessel, and was with difficulty rescued, being nearly ten minutes in the water. He received in addition a bad cut on the face.

Last evening an old gentleman boarding the Cibola at Niagara missed his footing in the dark and fell into the water. A golf club in the hands of Mr. Scott assisted to fish him out, more frightened than hurt.

Wm. Hellwell, a milk dealer, while harnessing his horse in the stable yesterday morning, was kicked in the leg by the vicious brute so badly that a gaping wound in the calf had to be stitched up at the hospital.

Mrs. W. J. Cooke, of 475 King-street west, tripped on a defective sidewalk near her own residence yesterday morning, and in the fall broke her left arm.

The corporation officials have netted up to date 815 vagrant curs, of which a very small per centage were claimed.

The school inspectors at their session yesterday morning numbered, with others interested, a good three score and ten. Hon. G. W. Ross took the chair in the airy room of the Normal School set apart for the convention at 10 o'clock. The discussions were all informal, and yet conducted in a manner which enabled the chairman to embody results in a compact and intelligible form. These results are to be published. Among the subjects discussed were sites, recreation grounds, ventilation, furniture, temperance, manners of pupils, school games, lectures, etc. The methods of conducting the inspection of reading were carefully considered, and it was agreed that the prevalence of the monotonous style was injurious, and other branches of study are to be analyzed in a similar way.

Wood, the "Memory" Professor, was in court yesterday morning, and was remanded pending the arrival of the officer from Cobourg. He claimed to have a system by which the memory could be much improved. At Cobourg he organized a class for instruction, and collected a fee, but did not appear after the first lesson, hence his arrest.

The following law students have passed the first intermediate examination for honors: W. Wright, J. A. Fergusson, A. J. Mackay, A. J. Anderson, D. O'Brien, E. Hedley, A. J. McLean, W. E. S. Hunter, A. S. Northy, W. F. Smith, A. S. Boyce, S. F. Lindsay, R. C. Gillett and W. McBrady.

The following passed without oral examination: G. F. Carr, A. Crozier, H. S. Huxley, D. T. Hurteau, D. McKenzie, G. F. Daew, F. C. McDonald, J. W. Matthew, J. Armour, M. B. Mills, W. T. Kidd, H. Carpenter, W. H. Nesbitt and H. B. Travers.

While the express train from Montreal was passing along the Esplanade towards the Union Depot about 11 o'clock last night, Geo. Robinson, Front-street east, attempted to leap on the platform of one of the cars at the foot of George-street. He slipped and fell. Before the train could be stopped two wheels had passed over his right leg, breaking his ankle and cutting through his thigh. The police ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the hospital. Robinson is 26 years of age.

STEAMSHIP DISASTER.

Terrible Collision at the Golden Gate—Over 30 Lives Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—One of the most terrible marine disasters that have occurred upon the Pacific coast was that about 10 o'clock yesterday in the Bay of San Francisco at a short distance from Golden Gate. The City of Chester left her dock at 9.30 and started on her regular trip to Eureka on the northern coast of California. An unusually large number of passengers stood on the decks and waved adieus to friends. The Chester steamed slowly down the bay and when within two miles of the heads encountered a thick fog. Capt. Wallace began to blow his whistle to warn all vessels of his approach. The Chester proceeded cautiously on her course till off Port Hoint when the hoarse sound of another whistle floated across the water. Capt. Wallace answered the signal. This warning was evidently misunderstood, for in a moment those forward saw the huge prow of the Occidental and Oriental steamer Oceanic emerge from the fog. She had just arrived from Hong Kong and was proceeding up the bay to her docks. She was so close to the Chester that there was no possibility for the latter to escape. The cabin passengers were nearly all on deck, and the captain seeing the danger called to them to prepare for the shock. A panic ensued, particularly among the women and children, of whom there were a large number. The Oceanic struck the Chester on the port side at the gangway, and the shock was terrific. Her prow cut into the Chester's upper works and then crushed down to the bulwarks, tearing the great timbers and breaking into the state rooms and cabin.

The wildest confusion ensued. The bow of the Oceanic crushed into the middle section of the Chester cutting her almost in half. When the vessels were locked several of the Chester's passengers were passed up over the Oceanic's bow. As soon as the large steamer could clear herself she swung around and began to lower boats. The officers and crew of the Chester seemed to lose their senses, and the passengers stated afterward that some of the crew clambered aboard the Oceanic leaving the passengers to cut away the boats. One of these was lowered as soon as possible and several passengers taken off. Others provided themselves with life preservers and jumped overboard. The greater portion were compelled to remain on the steamer which began to settle soon after the collision.

Torrents of water rushed into her hold and in five minutes after the collision the Chester had disappeared. She sank in 50 fathoms of water. Those of the passengers and crew who came to the surface were picked up but the greater number went down in the rushing water and never appeared again. As soon as it was known that the collision had occurred tugs and other boats went to the scene and rendered what service they could in picking up the living and dead floating among the wreck.

The greatest loss of life is believed to have been among the steerage passengers, of whom there were 23 on board, and only 2 of these were accounted for. The others are regarded as lost. The cabin passengers numbered 70, and of these 10 are lost. Three of the crew are lost. None of the survivors were landed until after 1 o'clock and at a late hour there was still much doubt as to the number lost. The City of Chester was an iron steamer valued at $150,000.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC DEAL.

Probability that the Contract Will Be Ratified by the Manitoba Legislature.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23.—There is no doubt now but that the agreement with the Northern Pacific will be ratified by the Legislature. The Free Press maintains there should be free trade in railways and the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitaba allowed in, but it is doubtful if the Government will accept the suggestion.

The Sun is offering warm opposition to the Hudson Bay scheme, the promoters of which will arrive to-day.

The weather continues very hot.

The inspectors of loan companies report the crop to be ⅓ heavier than last year. Harvesting will be pretty general on Monday. Wheat opens at 75 cents.

Hon. Mr. Dewdney may be opposed in East Assiniboia by Mr. Henderson, formerly a clerk in the Public Works Department of the Northwest Territories.

The Red River Valley Railway is within nine miles of the city.

The bar in the parliament buildings will be abolished at the coming session of the Legislature.

Grand Plans.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Gazette, commenting on the Manitoba Government's agreement with the Northern Pacific, says: "These are grand plans. They involve serious financial responsibilities. The Northern Pacific appears to agree to only such freight and passenger charges as the Lieutenant-Governor ordains, yet the Northern Pacific president, in assuring his constituents that they are risking nothing, evidently believes that all the outlay and subsequent risk are securely saddled upon the people of Manitoba. If that proves true we feel sure the finances of Manitoba will break down under the load."

THE SCOTT ACT IN GUELPH.

Over $1000 in Fines Inflicted as an Outcome of the Recent Raids.

GUELPH, Aug. 22.—The feeling is intense in this city over the Scott Act prosecutions which have been carried on for some time by the two detectives imported from London. Eleven hotel-keepers in the city have been fined, and in the Police Court to-day five of them pleaded guilty and were taxed $70 and costs each. They were Daniel Heffernan, John McAteer, John Hagan, Chas. Schmuck and William Sleeman at Johnston's. The cases against James Hawkins and J. R. Hewer, bartenders, were dismissed by consent As a result of the inspector's recent raids, $1020 has been inflicted in fines, eleven convictions in the city and nine in the riding outside.

But it may be mentioned that liquor is being dispensed to-day in all the hotels just as openly as it is in Toronto or Hamilton.

Canadian Store Cattle.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The operations of the Canadian Cattle Company in importing Canadian stores has aroused much feeling in the Aberdeen district. Col. Innes, chairman of the company, has resigned his seat on the local board and has written an open letter declaring that it is perfectly consistent with local patriotism to be associated with the importation of Canadian healthy and safe store cattle, which is as much in the best interests of the country as the restrictions upon Irish and other cattle farmers. Influential residents express much regret at the bitter attacks upon the company. Mr. Innes will be asked to reconsider his decision to resign. The Canadian store cattle previously imported have been highly spoken of by farmers.

John Miller and John Brown, indicted for picking Miss Sarah Dooley's pocket at Hamilton on Civic Holiday, were acquitted yesterday.

Fatal Accident at Sarnia.

SARNIA, Aug. 23.—Joseph Scanlan, a boy about 12 years old, was instantly killed here yesterday by having his head crushed between a pile and the fender of a boat lying at Hughson's dock. His hat had fallen in the water and he was trying to rescue it.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

DOMINION OFFICIALS NOT SURPRISED AT ITS REJECTION.

The Annual Licenses Already Granted American Fishing Vessels Not Likely to be Cancelled—English Opinion.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Little surprise is expressed in official circles over the rejection of the fisheries treaty by the United States Senate. The majority still feel confident of a satisfactory settlement. Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine said:

"The Americans according to the existing arrangements are allowed to buy bait and transhipcargoes. I don't think it likely that the annual licenses already granted American fishermen under the modus vivendi will be cancelled, but when they expire it will be a matter then for the Cabinet to consider the advisability or non-advisability of renewing them. In a word matters will remain unchanged until the order-in-council bringing the modus vivendi into operation is revoked. This, of course, is a question for the Cabinet to decide."

The Feeling in England.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—No surprise is felt here at the Senate's rejection of the Fisheries Treaty. The result was fully expected ever since the question was allowed to degenerate into the arena of party politics in the States. It is generally felt that British action must await a Canadian initiative. Every sympathy is felt with Canada under the trying circumstances, but one frequently hears confidence expressed in well-informed circles that while stoutly maintaining her admitted rights Canada will take no action likely to provoke a breach of peace. The agreement come to by the Commission and admitted among non-partisans of each country to mete out justice in the case, must, it is argued, form the basis of a permanent settlement. When the fever of the Presidential contest is over the people of the States will be left free to consider the question on its merits.

CAZA CAST DOWN.

To be Committed To-morrow—Missing Montreal Grocers.

MONTREAL, Aug. 22.—The Canadian Pacific Railway line was not cleared at Mile End until noon to-day, owing to the collision of a freight train with a mixed train last night. The collision damaged five of the freight cars which were thrown off the track, and also damaged the engine. One of the cars was filled with cattle, but these escaped uninjured, and no personal injury of any kind was sustained.

A fruit dealer of amorous tendencies on St. Catharine-street east is being prosecuted for having exhibited too much affection for the youthful and charming wife of one of his customers.

Quite a crowd gathered around the court-house entrance this afternoon on the arrival of Caza from jail, to hear the evidence taken at the coroner's inquest. Caza seemed very much affected and broken down, and kept his eyes cast down during the whole proceedings. His brother-in-law and a few personal friends were present. The prisoner said that he had no questions to put and signed a declaration to that effect. He was then at once taken back to jail, whence he will again be brought on Friday to be fully committed to the Court of Queen's Bench.

The detectives here have been asked to look out for John Stephen Scott, a young man who has for the past seven months been stealing money letters from Melbourne P. Q.) post office where he was employed and who skipped last night. He was caught by a decoy letter and arrested but afterwards managed to escape.

To-day the attorney for Street-car Conductor McKeen, now committed to the Court of Queen's Bench on a charge of abducting the minor daughter of Mrs. Vogl, presented a petition before Judge Tait in chambers for a writ of habaes corpus on behalf of his client with a view to have him admitted to bail. The petition was granted and the prisoner was brought up this afternoon when he was formally released on $1000 bail.

Antoine and Gilbert Dragon, grocers of this city, have suddenly disappeared leaving a number of creditors to mourn their absence. Their exact liabilities have not yet been ascertained.

BELLEVILLE BRIEFS.

A Midland Brakeman Loses His Arm—A Convict's Escape.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 22.—Albert Bradshaw, a Midland brakeman, had one of his arms cut off above the elbow by falling under a moving train, near Hastings, yesterday. The injured man lives in this city.

The Beekeepers' Association of the Bay of Quinte will meet here on Aug. 29.

Sixteen maskinonge, weighing from 15 to 33 pounds, were taken by trollers at Mosquito Bay yesterday.

Henry Kyser has pleaded guilty to attempting to ravish his brother's wife and will be sentenced on Monday next.

The notorious Babcock gang have returned to the city from Watertown, N.Y., whither they went a few weeks ago.

A lunatic named Whitley was sent to the Toronto asylum from this city to-day.

Crossley and Hunter, the revivalists, will hold a meeting here on the night of Aug. 31.

A prisoner, who was being taken from Cayuga to the Kingston Penitentiary, escaped from the train here last night and has not yet been captured. He is an old man named Gibson and was seen near Shannonville to-day.

THE CYCLONE'S VICTIMS.

Terribly Fatal Storm in Maryland and Delaware—Many Lives Lost.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 23.—A special from Stillpond, Kent County, gives particulars of the cyclone that wrought such destruction in that neighborhood. The large frame building used as a canning establishment by Black & Krebs of Baltimore, was struck about 4.30 o'clock and completely demolished. About 100 men, women and children were at work and in their efforts to escape from the wreck nine were killed outright, three were dangerously hurt and a number slightly injured by the falling timbers.

Terrible Havoc in Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 23.—A terrific cyclone or water spout, or combination of both, wrought terrible havoc in this vicinity about 5.45 Tuesday evening. At least $50,000 worth of property must have been destroyed in this vicinity and five persons are known to have been killed and seriously hurt, while a number were more or less wounded.

A Muskoka Drowning Tragedy.

SUNDRIDGE, Aug. 23.—Wm. Woods and Wm. Cunningham attempted to cross Stoney Lake, about two miles, in a flat bottomed boat. The water becoming rough, the boat capsized. Woods being a swimmer, succeeded in reaching land by hanging to the boat. Cunningham hung to the boat for a while, but finally went down. His body has not yet been found.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 23.—The Grand Trunk employes' picnicked here yesterday at the Whirlpool Park grounds. The party numbered about 4000 and was principally from Hamilton including Toronto branch and stations east of London on the Great Western main line. The day was spent in athletic games, dancing, etc.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

THE rejection of the Fisheries treaty by the United States Senate has been expected since the Republican Senators decided to oppose its ratification. To ratify the treaty a two-thirds vote was required, but there was a majority of three against it, the majority being Republicans and opponents of the Cleveland administration.

The United States Government has been attacked for making a bad bargain and proposing to concede rights of that country, while the Canadian Government has been assailed on this side of the line, by its political opponents, for giving away Canadian rights. The truth is that partisans on both sides of the line have made use of the treaty for political purposes, but in the Republic it has happened that the opponents of the administration had a majority in that branch of the government which had the power of ratifying or rejecting the bargain. The Presidential campaign is in progress across the lines, and this very probably had much to do with deciding the attitude of the Republican party. It will give them material for the campaign—not because the treaty was unjust, but because it can be made use of in certain sections and among the Anglophobiacs for whose benefit the twail-twisting speeches are periodically made in Congress.

The modus vivendi by which the Canadian authorities issued licenses to United States fishing vessels is in force and will in all probability continue in force at least during the remainder of this season. Much will depend upon the result of the election in the United States. President Cleveland and his government could scarcely insist upon securing privileges for their fishermen which they have acknowledged by signing the treaty the fishermen have not a right to. At any rate, the people of Canada can depend upon their Government, which has firmly upheld the rights of Canada all through the dispute, to continue to protect the rights of this country.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

THE Toronto News does not take kindly to the suggestion of Mr. Thos. Shaw that agriculture should be taught in the public schools. It believes that the best way to induce boys to remain on the farm is to show them the deceptive character of the glamor of city life. Yet Mr. Shaw's suggestion is one that has been frequently made and has much to commend it. A boy who is engaged or expects to be engaged in farming should be taught with special reference to his work, and the system could be so developed that an examination in agricultural subjects would be passed to secure an entrance to the Agricultural College, as examinations are conducted to test applicants for admission into other educational institutions. The subjects taught in the public schools are suited for persons engaged in agriculture. Not one of them could well be called unsuitable or superfluous. It is well that everyone should be acquained with history and with literature, as well as with the more practical studies, so long as they have time to devote to those subjects. An educated citizen is a better citizen, whatever his employment may be. And the teaching of agriculture should tend to keep boys on the farm. Study of literature creates a taste for literature, and and a scientific study of agriculture should create renewed interest in farming. Many young men have left the public schools with a meagre education, but by applying their minds to study have succeeded in aquiring a large fund of knowledge. They are termed self-educated or self-made men. And when a student has made a beginning in the study of scientific agriculture in a public school, why should he not, if he is intelligent and industrious, as a large proportion of the young men on Canadian farms are, pursue his studies after leaving school and master his subject, even if he did not secure the privilege of attending the Agricultural College? Introducing agriculture as a regular subject in the schools might lead to other technical subjects being taught, but as agriculture is the most important industry in Ontario it is entitled to consideration. A young man who engaged in farming with scientific knowledge as well as practical training would be better equipped for his work, and boys whose tastes for agriculture had been developed by study would be less likely to drift into other callings.

THE restricted trade organs use the alleged insignificance of our trade with the United States as an argument against unrestricted reciprocity. Let us have reciprocity and they would not be able to speak of the insignificance of our trade long.—Brockville Recorder.

With free trade between this country and the United States, and a high tariff on British and all other imported goods, it is very likely that our trade with the United States would increase, to the very great advantage of the United States.

Down in St. John the newspapers are calling upon each other to promulgate some scheme for reforming the Senate. What's the matter with abolishing it?—London Advertiser.

Ask Mr. Laurier, the leader of your party, or the Provincial leaders of the Liberal party who in conference at Quebec proposed "reforming" the Senate.

A TORONTO contemporary remarks that vacations are a fraud. The paper evidently knows nothing about enjoying a vacation on the Otonabee or at Stoney Lake.

FIRES OF A DAY.

A Spark from a Sawmill Engine Causes a Serious Loss at Ilecillewalt.

DONALD, B. C., Aug. 23.—Fire broke out at 2 p. m. at Ilecillewalt Station. The losses are as follows: G. O. Buchanan, store and private house, $2000; S. Ferland, store, $3500; J. Richardson, hotel and house, $1500; Mrs. Warren, private house, $5000; J. Grant, house, $2000, and a Chinese laundry, no insurance. The fire is supposed to have ignited from sparks from a saw mill engine.

A Farmhouse Burnt.

NEWMARKET, Aug. 23.—About midnight yesterday the house of Daniel Phillips, a farmer in the township of King on Yonge-street, two miles south of this town, was discovered to be on fire between the roof and ceiling. The house was a large frame building and was completely destroyed, some furniture in the lower rooms being saved. A valuable library belonging to the late Dr. Hollingshead, which was stored in the house, was consumed. The building and contents valued at $2800 was insured in the Grange for $1000.

A Church Choir Suspended for Misconduct.

GRAND VALLEY, Wellington Co., Aug. 23.—A somewhat unpleasant duty fell to the lot of the Rev. R. T. W. Webb on Sunday evening, which he discharged conscientiously. The choir—composed of about 20 of all ages—paid a visit to Farmington on the Sunday previous to assist at a special service. All went in a bus, and assisted ably at the service, but on the return journey so misbehaved themselves that the rev. gentleman felt it to be his duty to suspend the choir of St. Alban's for a month.

The Carrying Place Tragedy.

PICTON, Aug. 23.—Peter and Wellington Loveless, father and son, were committed yesterday for trial for killing Churchat Carrying Place on Saturday last. They were brought to Picton yesterday morning in charge of Constable Morrison and lodged in jail. Wellington Loveless, the son, was committed for wilful murder, Peter Loveless, the father, for counselling and advising murder.

Terrible Accident to a Chatham Lad.

CHATHAM, Aug. 23.—A young boy about 11 years old, son of John Robson, blacksmith in the Harvester works, got one foot taken off and the other badly mangled by the cars in the Grand Trunk yard last evening. He was riding on the cars and evidently fell while shunting. He will probably recover.

Grip at Grimsby.

GRIMSBY PARK, Aug. 23. — Yesterday afternoon Mr. J. W. Bengough held the rostrum for two full hours in one of his inimitable lectures. Rev. A. M. Phillips, B. D., in the evening preached to a full audience. On Friday Dr. C. N. Sims will lecture on "A Pair of Humorists, English and American Cousins," and in the evening Rev. Dr. Burns, principal of the Ladies' College at Hamilton, preaches.

Fined for Stoning his Father.

KINGSTON, Aug. 23.—Thomas Arneil, a worthless young man, was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Thompson yesterday morning for stoning his father on Tuesday. One rock hit the parent in the side and wounded him. Some time ago the offender was fined $25 and costs in the hope that it would benefit him, but the lesson counted for nothing.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15.000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10,00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00

2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During Augustgoods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

Probabilities.

Light to moderate winds, fine and a little warmer; fine and warm to-morrow.

Coming Home in Crowds.

The cooler weather has hurried home the campers. Those who went up equipped with golden lion camping blankets now bless the hint that prompted them to buy so good and so useful an article. Just a few left. Fall hunting parties will do well to secure a pair for each hunter. None so durable and cheap.

The Lindsay Central.

We have received a copy of the neatly printed prize list of the Lindsay Central exhibition, to be held on Oct. 2nd, 3rd and 4th. The premiums offered aggregate $3,000. The prize list was printed at the Warder office and is a creditable piece of work.

Scalded by Escaping Steam.

A son of Mr. Vance, village clerk of Millbrook, was on the excursion that went from that village to Lakefield yesterday. While standing at the side of the locomotive at Lakefield the engine suddenly began to let off steam. The jet of escaping steam struck young Vance in the leg and badly scalded him.

Death at Idyl Wild.

We regret to learn of the death of the youngest child of Mr. Duncan Cameron, which occurred at Idyl Wild on Wednesday. Mrs. Cameron with a party of friends has been staying at that resort, and under medical advice remained there with the child, but the little one passed away on Friday. The funeral took place from Mr. Cameron's residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The G. T. R. Viaduct.

The Port Hope Guide says:—"The rebuilding and widening of the Grand Trunk Viaduct for double track is progresing at a rather tardy pace, there being no special hurry for its completion this season, as the whole line could be doubled and the bridge used in its present capacity. Several of the new piers are finished, and are built of large blocks of stone, presenting a substantial appearance."

A Shipyard in Ashburnham.

Under a temporary building adjoining the factory of the Ontario Canoe Company in Ashburnham, half a score of workmen are putting the finishing touches to as stout and staunch a propeller as will float on the Trent Valley waters for many a year to come. The boat has been built to order and with a special eye to strength for in addition to other duties she will be used as a tug. The dimensions are 50ft. in length by 10ft. beam and 5½ hold, and very strongly constructed of oak and the model designed by Col. J. Z. Rogers is good and one that promises a fine turn of speed. The engine and boiler are from the Robson Iron Works, Toronto, and will develop over 25 h. p. The work will be completed in a few days when the boat will be taken on cars to Lindsay or Lakefield and shipped into the water. In undertaking the contract the Ontario Canoe Co'y have added another branch to their business and one which will do them much credit.

A Fine Bird Shot.

Charles Craig, of Belleville, shot a beautiful, large loon in Stoney Lake, near Eel's Creek, on Tuesday morning. It is a fine bird and his friends congratulate him on his success as a marksman. The bird may be seen at Mr. Elcome's, texidermist's.

Something Worth Knowing.

Buy 4 large boxes of good matches for 25 cents, at W. J. Morrow's. He continues to sell all goods cheap. Preserving sugar very cheap, 18 pounds for $1.00. As I am now receiving my new importations of tea all my old lines must be sacrificed.

Journalistic.

We have received a copy of the Methodist, an eight page journal published in Montreal and devoted to the interests of the Methodist Church. It is a clearly and neatly printed paper and replete with news of interest to members of that denomination.

Only Until Saturday Night.

The bankrupt sale of Tweeds, suit goods and gent's furnishings, at McNeil's old stand, will positively close on Saturday night. Not much time left for you to secure bargains, and such bargains too. It is the chance of a life time. You can buy winter underclothing for a mere song. Shirts, both white and colored, at almost nothing. The goods must be cleared out so don't delay. Call at McNeil's old stand, before Saturday.

Breach of the Scott Act.

Six Scott Act cases came up at the Police Court this morning and as a result the town treasury will be $300 wealthier within the next ten days, that being the time allowed the offender in which to pay their fines of $50 and costs. The charges against Geo. Henry, T. Giroux, Geo. Mitchell, M. Halpin and R. N. Roddy were met with the plea of "guilty" and they were fined $50 and costs each. The case of F. J. Daly was enlarged for a week.

Personal.

Mr. A. P. Choate, of the Toronto World, formerly of the REVIEW, who has been in town during the past few days, left last night to spend the remainder of his vacation at Dalhousie, N.B.

Chief of Police Douglas, of Port Hope, was in town last night on his way home from Lindsay.

Mrs. G. W. Morgan, jr., and daughter, of St. Thomas, who have been visiting friends in Peterborough and at the lakes during the last fortnight, left for home this morning.

Accused of Poisoning Cattle.

Constable Bell, of Campbellford, on Tuesday arrested one John Blakely, of Percy township, on a charge preferred by James R. Perry, of putting Paris green in a field with intent to poison cattle. He was brought before J. M. Ferris, J. P., at Campbellford yesterday. The evidence went strongly against him, and the magistrate gave him the option of appearing before the county judge at Cobourg, at once, or giving bail for $1,000 in two surieties of $500 each and an additional $400 in two sureties to keep the peace and appear at the fall term. He was given time to choose.

Six New Cars.

Six new postal cars for service between Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver, are being built, says an exchange, by the Canadian Pacific Railway company. When finished they will be very handsome. One has been completed and is now doing service, while five others are soon to receive their finishing touches. There will be sixteen postal cars altogether, ten of which are being reconstructed out of old coaches. The new cars will be cherry finished inside and out and highly polished. They will be fitted up with the Harrison system of mail racks and letter cases, with bunks and combined hoppers for the convenience of the postal clerks. The letter table which is on the left of the car looking towards the working end, has two nests of drawers underneath, and a letter case on top with three sections forming a semi-circle. On the right is the mail bag rack, and passing along the upper part of the car, from the letter case to the mail bag rack, is a paper case with three tiers of pigeon-holes. Each car is 56 feet in length, running on a six-wheel truck. There are sixteen deck lights in each car for ventilating purposes. Four windows, 20x36, fitted each with a full pane of what is known as double diamond glass, are on the right of each car, thus affording a supply of light not usually obtained in existing postal cars. Each window has a damask curtain, and the floor is covered with matting. There are two centre lamps in each car depending from the ceiling and several side lamps so arranged that they can be worked to advantage in any direction. There are two doors to each car with drop letter boxes. It is expected that all the cars will be in running order early in autumn. In addition to these postal cars, the C.P.R., are building 3 new refrigator cars and 20 conductors' cabooses or vans, commonly used at the rear end of freight cars.

ion take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and purifies the blood, and removes blotches and pimples, making the skin smooth and clear, and giving it a bright and healthy appearance. Take it this month.

EARLY CLOSING.

The Movement for the Shortening of the Hours of Clerks Started.

At the regular meeting of the Peterborough Assembly of the Knights of Labor last evening a discussion took place regarding the hours which clerks in stores of all kinds were required to work. There is no doubt that a good deal of time is spent in some of the stores by the clerks after the ordinary business hours which could be utilized in outdoor exercise or some way that would be beneficial to their health. The clerks and employees in many of the cities and towns have recognized this fact and have taken steps to have the hours shortened, and in many instances have been successful. The Knights have started the early closing movement here by passing the following resolution:—

"Resolved by this Assembly, that the hours of labor performed by the dry goods and other clerks are too long, and we would suggest to the merchants in general the propriety of closing every night, except Saturday, at seven o'clock, and no later than half past nine on Saturday, and also of paying their employees on Friday, thereby avoiding the necessity of shopping on Saturday night."

The election of officers of the Assembly for the ensuing term also took place at the same meeting.

THE MARKET REPORTS,

REVIEW OFFICE, Aug. 23rd, 1888.

The frequent rains of late have proved of benefit to the root crops and will assist in redeeming some varieties from a total failure. The harvest is progressing and will soon close. A review of opinions expressed by many practical farmers as to the quality of the crops would show that the harvest of 1888, in this section at all events, will reckon up about two-thirds of an average crop. Wheat, what there is, is good and up to last years' in quantity, but last year's crop was not a full average one. Peas are much cried up, oats a comparative failure. Barley on the other hand is splendid in quality and color though short in the head and straw.

Prices are stationery just now with prospects for improvement, as it is understood that bottom has been touched in the wheat market. Buyers this year will buy on a rising market, which will put confidence into the trade.

The English harvest is turning out poorly. The weather has been extremely wet, rain having fallen every day from 4th June to 31st July, with the exception of some seven days.

The Cheese Markets.

Late Montreal advices report the cheese market as very dull with not much business doing. It is stated in the city that stocks are estimated as high as 100,000 boxes, with an enormous supply held back in the country and the weather favorable for a big fall make. Judging from the action of exporters, the acknowledged heavy supplies, the character of the cable news, the continued weakness in New York and Liverpool, the deterioration of the quality of much of the stock, the outlook undoubtedly favors a weak market, especially as there is none of the old time speculative vigor apparent.

At the Utica, N. Y. market early this week there was another decline in prices. The advices from New York were not encouraging and buyers held off. The Little Falls, N.Y. market is reported as very flat. Buffalo markets is very dull and no demand whatever. Prices have dropped ½ to ¼c on Saturday's quotations.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 22.—This week 23 factories offered 7,212 boxes of July cheese. Sales as follows:—230 boxes at 9c., 748 at 8 7-16c., 729 at 8 5-8c., part August.

British Live Stock Trade.

The Montreal Gazette's cables of Tuesday state that the English live stock market is pretty well crowded. At Liverpool, Tuesday, the market was quiet with demand slow, with quotations the same as cabled a week ago. Prime Canadian steers went at 12½c., good to choice 12c., poor to medium 11c. and inferior and bulls 8c.@10c. A fair supply of sheep has been offering and trade has ruled steady. With regard to the proposed shipments of cattle over the rough from Canada to Britain, where it is proposed to fat the animals for the meat markets, the London Canadian Gazette says:—"With respect to the stockers for Aberdeen we are informed that the contract for insuring them has been secured by the Dominion Live Stock Insurance company. The number to be shipped is between 2,000 and 3,000, and all of them will go on Thompson line steamers direct from Montreal to Aberdeen. In this connection we regret to hear that the refusal of certain local authorities in Scotland to admit Canadian cattle into their burgs caused both loss and annoyance to the owners. Efforts will probably be made to overcome the too exacting nature of the regulations now in force, as much in the interest of our shippers as in the interest of native feeders, who are very anxious to secure stock suitable for short keep."

Montreal Live Stock Market.

At the Montreal Stock yards at Point St. Charles Tuesday morning the offerings of cattle were large but the demand was slow, owing to the fact that the bulk of the stock was poor quality, and butchers only took enough for actual wants. In export cattle business was dull, in fact there were none offered on the market.

Peterborough Markets.

The markets are very dull here, and most of the quotations remain unchanged. Very little grain is offering. A load of oats sold on Saturday at 35 cents, but this is explained by the fact that new oats are not wanted by buyers now, and the seller did not want to carry his load off the market. Nothing doing in hides, and sheep skins and wool remain unchanged.

O'Connor Wins the Big Event at the Sturgeon Point Regatta.

STURGEON POINT, Aug. 23.—The amateur four-oared race yesterday was won by the Toronto seniors in 9.37, the Toronto juniors a few lengths behind. In the paddling race, in which there were seven starters, F. McHendrick won, Knowleson second, Strickland third. O'Connor captured the event of the day, the three mile single scull race, in 19.43, Gaudaur second, Lee third and Wise last.

A Victory for the Irish Cricketers.

KINGSTON, Aug. 23.—Play was resumed yesterday morning by the Irish cricketers, who scored 180 runs before they were retired. The Canadians were then sent under cover for 78. The Irish team then proceeded to rattle out 40 runs to win, which Dunn and E. Fitzgerald did without trouble. The bowling and fielding of the Irish gentlemen was superb. They left for Ottawa to-day, where they play to-morrow.

Cricket.

The colts and the second eleven of the cricket club are having a "scrub" match.

Diamond Dust.

No definite action has been taken in reference to the challenge received by the Peterborough baseball club from the Campbellford nine, although it is probable that a game will be arranged. It is possible that the same club may be brought here to play on September 3rd, which will be a holiday.

Lacrosse Notes.

The Shamrock and Aetna lacrosse clubs are playing a match game on the Riverside Park this afternoon. Ball was faced at 2.30.

The Y.M.C.A. lacrosse men are to practice at 6 a.m. to-morrow at the P.A.A.A. grounds. Every member should be on hand, as the club has several match games yet to play.

The Bradford club defeated Orillia on Wednesday by two goals to nothing.

Baseball at Havelock.

The Ashburnham baseball club went down to Havelock on Tuesday afternoon and succeeded in vanquishing the balltossers of that village by a score of 20 to 18. The batteries for the two were:—Ashburnham, Tighe and O'Brien; Havelock, Weatherliey and Chambers. Up to the fifth innings the Havelock's failed to score, Tighe's curves being too much for them. He struck out 17 men in the nine innings. After the fifth his arm failed him and the Havelocks were enabled to run up their score.

Sleepy Dan at Toronto.

Mr. H. Winch's horse, Sleepy Dan, started in the three-minute trot at the Woodbine meeting in Toronto on Wednesday. In the first heat Confidence was made the favorite at even money, while 3 to 1 was laid against Pan Handle, 4 to 1 Sleepy Dan, 8 to 1 Fame, and 10 to 1 Wanda. Sleepy Dan showed the way most of the journey and finished in front, but was set back for running, the heat being given to Confidence, with Pan Handle third, and Fame fourth. Wanda threw a shoe and dropped her toe weight and was distanced. Time 2 31¾. Second heat—4 to 5 against Confidence, 8 to 5 Sleepy Dan, 10 to 5 Pan Handle and 25 to 5 Fame were the quotations. The favorite shot to the front, with Sleepy Dan second, Pan Handle third and Fame fourth in Indian file. These positions were unchanged, Confidence winning easily. Time 2 35. Third heat.—The betting was 3 to 8 against Confidence, 10 to 5 Sleepy Dan, 11 to 5 Pan Handle and 39 to 5 Fame. Confidence again went away in front, with Sleepy Dan second, Fame third and Pan Handle fourth. This order was maintained to the finish. Confidence again coming home an easy winner. Time 2 37. Sleepy Dan thus took second place in 2, 2, 2, order. He enters in the 2 37 class to-day.

Correspondence of the Review.

POOR MILK.—We wish to correct the false report going the rounds about patrons of the Keene cheese factory, as only two or three were caught fixing their milk. Some people in Otonabee have very poor cows.

CROPS.—The harvest is nearly over and the crops are much better than was expected. In fact, some have better than they have had for years.

PICNIC.—Be sure and attend the grand Catholic picnic in McNeil's grove, near the G. T. R. station. All may safely look for a good time.

CHOIR PICNIC.—The second annual picnic of the Keene Presbyterian church choir was held on Wednesday last and was a grand success in every way. The committee, Messrs. S. Laing, R. McIntyre and R. English, were everywhere and were very attentive to everyone. We left Keene wharf a little late per steamer Beaver and barge, Capt. Harris in command. After a very pleasant sail up the lake, with the wind on our starboard side, and passing the Golden Eye, we arrived at the new resort, Jubilee Point, where mine host Mickey and his better half had a fine spread. During the two hours here some enjoyed themselves in dancing, others swinging and of course some few courting. After leaving the Point we called at Gore's Landing, where the party again enjoyed themselves, some calling on the Rev. Jno. McCamus. At 4 o'clock we left for Idyl-Wild, arriving at that beautiful spot at 5 o'clock. Here mine hoste Chester did all he could to entertain us and of course himself. Tea was partaken of and then dancing. Rifle shooting and dancing were the order of the day. We might here remark that Idyl-Wyld is the finest place on the lake and is well looked after by Mr. H. Chester, who is very popular. We arrived safely in Keene at 8 p.m.

ADIEU.—Messrs. D. Armstrong, jr. and Thos. O'Grady, two who are not in the ranks of the benedict class, have bid adieu to home and country and gone to seek good health, good fortune, and last but not least unlikely, a life partner, in a serener clime. Their many friends wish them success in all three undertakings.

RECOVERY.—Mr. A. Shearer's daughter, who has been dangerously ill, is slowly recovering under Dr. Fife's treatment.

PURE MILK.—At last the milk inspector has been here. He was so kind and obliging as to give all the patrons an honest name, which speaks well for Otonabee.

The First Symptoms

of all Lung diseases are much the same feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

STORY OF A MASTERPIECE.

By HENRY JAMES, Jr.

"I regard you," said Baxter, as he stood on the threshold, "as the most superficial, most heartless of women."

He immediately left Paris and went down into Spain, where he remained till the opening of the summer. In the month of May Mrs. Denbigh and her protege went to England, where the former, through her husband, possessed a number of connections, and where Marian's thoroughly un-English beauty was vastly admired. In September they sailed for America. About a year and a half, therefore, had elapsed between Baxter's separation from Miss Everett and their meeting in New York.

During this interval the young man's wounds had had time to heal. His sorrow, although violent, had been short lived, and when he finally recovered his equanimity he was very glad to have purchased exemption at the price of a simple heartache. Reviewing his impressions of Miss Everett in a calmer mood, he made up his mind that she was very far from being the woman of his desire, and that she had not really been the woman of his choice. "Thank God," he said to himself, "it's over. She's irreclaimably light. She's hollow, trivial, vulgar." There had been in his addresses something hasty and feverish, something factitious and unreal in his fancied passion. Half of it had been the work of the scenery, of the weather, of mere juxtaposition, and, above all, of the young girl's picturesque beauty; to say nothing of the almost suggestive tolerance and indolence of poor Mrs. Denbigh. And finding himself very much interested in Velasquez, at Madrid, he dismissed Miss Everett from his thoughts. I do not mean to offer his judgment of Miss Everett as final, but it was at least conscientious. The ample justice, moreover, which, under the illusion of sentiment, he had rendered to her charms and graces, gave him a right, when free from that illusion, to register his estimate of the arid spaces of her nature. Miss Everett might easily have accused him of injustice and brutality; but this fact would still stand to plead in his favor, that he cared with all his strength for truth. Marian, on the contrary, was quite indifferent to it. Stephen's angry sentence on her conduct had awakened no echo in her contracted soul.

The reader has now an adequate conception of the feelings with which these two old friends found themselves face to face. It is needful to add, however, that the lapse of time had very much diminished the force of those feelings. A woman, it seems to me, ought to desire no easier company, none less embarrassed or embarrassing, than a disenchanted lover; premising, of course, that the process of disenchantment is thoroughly complete, and that some time has elapsed since its completion.

Marian herself was perfectly at her ease. She had not retained her equanimity—her philosophy, one might almost call it—during that painful last interview to go and lose it now. She had no ill feeling toward her old lover. His last words had been—like all words in Marian's estimation—a mere facon a parler. Miss Everett was in so perfect a good humor during these last days of her maidenhood that there was nothing in the past that she could not have forgiven.

She blushed a little at the emphasis of her companion's remark; but she was not discountenanced. She summoned up her good humor. "The truth is, Mr. Baxter," she said, "I feel at the present moment on perfect good terms with the world; I see everything en rose, the past as well as the future."

"I, too, am on very good terms with the world," said Baxter, "and my heart is quite reconciled to what you call the past. But, nevertheless, it's very disagreeable to me to think about it."

"Ah then," said Miss Everett, with great sweetness, "I'm afraid you're not reconciled."

Baxter laughed—so loud that Miss Everett looked about at her father. But Mr. Everett still slept the sleep of gentility. "I've no doubt," said the painter, "that I'm far from being so good a Christian as you. But I assure you I'm very glad to see you again."

"You've but to say the word and we're friends," said Marian.

"We were very foolish to have attempted to be anything else."

"Foolish," yes. But it was a pretty folly."

"Ah no, Miss Everett. I'm an artist, and I claim the right of property in the word 'pretty.' You mustn't stick it in there. Nothing could be pretty which had such an ugly termination. It was all false."

"Well—as you will. What have you been doing since we parted?"

"Traveling and working. I've made great progress in my trade. Shortly before I came home I became engaged."

"Engaged!—a la bonne heure. Is she good?—is she pretty?"

"She's not nearly so pretty as you."

"In other words, she's infinitely more good. I'm sure I hope she is. But why did you leave her behind you?"

"She's with a sister, a sad invalid, who is drinking mineral waters on the Rhine. They wished to remain there to the cold weather. They're to be home in a couple of weeks, and we are straightway to be married."

"I congratulate you with all my heart," said Marian.

"Allow me to do as much, sir," said Mr. Everett, waking up; which he did by instinct whenever the conversation took a ceremonious turn.

Miss Everett gave her companion but three more sittings, a large part of his work being executed with the assistance of photographs. At these interviews also, Mr. Everett was present, and still delicately sensitive to the soporific influences of his position. But both parties had the good taste to abstain from further reference to their old relations, and to confine their talk to less personal themes.

PART II.

One afternoon, when the picture was nearly finished, John Lennox went into the empty painting room to ascertain the degree of its progress. Both Baxter and Marian had expressed a wish that he should not see it in its early stages, and this, accordingly, was his first view. Half an hour after he had entered the room, Baxter came in, unannounced, and found him sitting before the canvas, deep in thought. Baxter had been furnished with a house key, so that he might have immediate and easy access to his work whenever the humor came upon him.

"I was passing," he said, "and I couldn't resist the impulse to come in and correct an error which I made this morning, now that a sense of its enormity is fresh in my mind." He sat down to work, and the other stood watching him.

"Well," said the painter, finally, "how does it satisfy you?"

"Not altogether."

"Pray develop 'your objections. It's in your power materially to assist me."

"I hardly know how to formulate my objections. Let me, at all events, in the first place, say that I admire your work immensely. I'm sure it's the best picture you've painted."

"I honestly believe it is. Some parts of it," said Baxter, frankly, "are excellent."

"It's obvious. But either those very parts or others are singularly disagreeable. That word isn't criticism, I know; but I pay you for the right to be arbitrary. They are too hard, too strong, of too frank a reality. In a word, your picture frightens me, and if I were Marian I should feel as if you'd done me a certain violence."

"I'm sorry for what's disagreeable; but I meant it all to be real. I go in for reality; you must have seen that."

"I approve you; I can't too much admire the broad and firm methods you've taken for reaching this same reality. But you can be real without being brutal—without attempting, as one may say, to be actual."

"I deny that I'm brutal. I'm afraid, Mr. Lennox, I haven't taken quite the right road to please you. I've taken the picture too much au serieux. I've striven too much for completeness. But if it doesn't please you it will please others."

"I've no doubt of it. But that isn't the question. The picture is good enough to be a thousand times better."

"That the picture leaves room for infinite improvement, I, of course, don't deny; and, in several particulars, I see my way to make it better. But, substantially, the portrait is there. I'll tell you what you miss. My work isn't 'classical;' in fine, I'm not a man of genius."

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

RETALIATION WITH A BIG R.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND SENDS A MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

The Fisheries Treaty Being Rejected He Recommends Retaliation — Extensive Powers Asked For.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The President, in connection with the rejection of the fishery treaty by the Senate, sent a long message to Congress yesterday afternoon containing a survey from his point of view of the condition to which the pending question is remitted. The message refers to the various alleged vexations, interferences and annoyances to which American citizens have been subjected while engaged in fishing in Canadian waters, stating that the disagreement as to the meaning of the terms of the treaty of 1818 was the cause of the friction and gave rise to the American Government's negotiations resulting in the rejected treaty which the President believes was well-suited to the exigency and its provisions adequate for security in the future from vexatious questions and for the promotion of friendly intimacy without sacrificing national pride or dignity. The message proceeds:

"The co-operation necessary for the adjustment of the long standing national differences with which we have to deal, by methods of conference and agreement, having thus been declined, I am by no means disposed to abandon the interests and rights of our people in the premises or to neglect their grievance, and therefore turn to the contemplation of a plan of retaliation as a mode which still remains of treating the situation. I am not unmindful of the gravity of the responsibility assumed in adopting this line of conduct, nor do I fail in the least to appreciate its serious consequences. It will be impossible to injure our Canadian neighbors by retaliation without inflicting some damage on ourselves. This results from our proximity, our community of interests and the inevitable commingling of business enterprises which have been developed by mtuual activity.

"Plainly stated thepolicy of national retaliation manifestly embraces the infliction of the greatest harm upon those who have injured with the least possible damage to ourselves. There is also an evident propriety as well as an evident support found in visiting upon the offending party the same measure of treatment of which we complain, and as far as possible within the same lines, and above all things the plan of retaliation if entered upon should be thorough and vigorous.

"These considerations lead me to invoke the aid and counsel of Congress and its support in such a further grant of power as seems to me necessary and desirable to render effective the policy I have indicated.

"Congress has passed a law which received Executive assent on the third day of March, 1887, providing that in case American fishing vessels being or visiting in the waters or at any of the ports of British North America should be, or lately have been, deprived of the rights which they are entitled to by treaty or law, or if they were denied of other privileges therein specified and harassed in the enjoyment of the same, the President might deny to masters and crews of the British Dominions of North America any entrance into the waters, ports or harbors of the United States and also deny entry into any port or place of the United States of any product of said Dominion or other goods coming from said Dominion to the United States.

"While I shall not hesitate upon proper occasion to execute this act, it would seem to be unnecessary to suggest that if such enforcement is limited in such a manner as shall result in the least possibly injury to our own people the effect would probably be entirely inadequate to the accomplishment of the purpose desired. I deem it my duty, therefore, to call the attention of Congress to certain particulars in the acts of the authorities of the Dominion of Canada, in addition to the general allegations already made, which appear to be in such marked contrast to the liberal and friendly disposition of our country as in my opinion to call for such legislation as will upon the principles already stated properly supplement the power to inaugurate relations already vested in the Executive."

The message then refers to the provisions of Article XXIX of the treaty of Washington providing for the transit in bond through the territory of the United States of merchandise destined for the Dominion of Canada, and the reciprocal privilege extended to goods arriving at any of the ports of the Dominion destined for the United States, and continues:

"In the year 1886 notice was received by the representatives of our Government that our fishermen would no longer be allowed to ship their fish in bond and free of duty through Canada to this country, and ever since that time such shipment has been denied. The privilege of such shipment which had been extended to our fishermen was most important, allowing them to spend the time upon the fishing grounds and doubling their opportunity for profitably prosecuting their vocation. In forbidding the transit of the catch of our fishermen over their territory in bond free of duty, the Canadian authorities deprived us of the only facility dependent upon their concession, and for which we could supply no substitute.

"During the last six years the imports and exports of the British Canadian provinces carried across our territory under the privileges granted by our laws amounted in value to about $1,070,000,000, nearly all of which were goods dutiable under our tariff laws, by far the larger part of this traffic consisting of exchanges of goods between Great Britain and her American provinces, brought to and carried from our ports in their own vessels. The treaty stipulation entered into by our Government was in harmony with laws which were then on our statute books and are still in force.

"I recommend immediate legislative action conferring upon the Executive the power to suspend by proclamation the operation of all laws and regulations permitting the transit of goods, wares and merchandise in bond across or over the territory of the United States to or from Canada."

A long argument follows in the attempt to prove that there need be no hesitation in suspending the laws permitting transit in bond, arising from the supposition that their continuation is secured by treaty obligations, the President's contention being that the "term of years" mentioned in Article XXXIII and referred to in Article XXIX, as the limit of its duration, means the period during which Articles XVIII to XXV inclusive and Article XXX, commonly called the "Fishery Articles," should continue in force under the language of said Article XXXIII and therefore that Article XXIX terminated with the proceedings taken by the American Government in 1883 to terminate Articles XVIII to XXV inclusive and Article XXX. The President then says:

"The history of events connected with the subject makes it manifest that Canada can, if so disposed, administer its laws and protect the interests of its people without the manifestation of unfriendliness and without unneighborly treatment of our fishing vessels, and whatever is done on our part should be done in the hope that the disposition of the Canadian Government may remove the occasion of a resort to executive power. I am satisfied upon the principles which should govern retaliation our intercourse and relations with the Dominion furnish as better application than is suggested by the conditions herein presented, and that it could not be more effectively inaugurated than under the power of the suspension recommended."

The message next refers to Article XXVII of the treaty of Washington by which provision was made to secure to the citizens of the United States the use of the Welland, St. Lawrence and other canals in the Dominion of Canada on terms of equality with the inhabitants of Canada and to also secure to the subjects of Great Britain the use of the St. Clair Flats Canal on terms of equality with the inhabitants of the United States and continues:

"All our citizens, producers and consumers as well as vessel owners, were to enjoy the equality promised, and yet evidence has for some time been before the Congress, furnished by the Secretary of the Treasury, showing that while the tolls charged in the first instance are the same, all such vessels and cargoes as are destined to Canadian ports are allowed a refund of nearly the entire tolls, while those bound for American ports are not allowed any such advantage. To promise equality and then in practice make it conditional upon our vessels doing Canadian business instead of their own, is to fulfil a promise with the shadow of a performance.

"I recommend that such legislative action be taken as will give Canadian vessels navigating our canals and their cargoes precisely the advantages granted to our vessels and cargoes on Canadian canals and the same be measured by the same rule of discrimination.

"The course which I have outlined and the recommendations made relate to the honor and dignity of our country and the protection and preservation of the rights and interests of our people. A government does but half its duty when it protects its citizens and permits them to be imposed upon by the unfair and over-reaching disposition of other countries. If we invite our people to rely upon arrangements made for their benefit abroad we should see to it that they are not deceived and if we are generous and liberal to a neighboring country our people should reap the advantage of it by a return of liberality. Let us survey the ground calmly and, having put aside other means of settlement, if we enter upon a policy of retaliation let us pursue it firmly with a determination only to subserve the interests of our people and maintain the high standard and becoming pride of American citizenship.

"GROVER CLEVELAND.

"Executive Mansion, Aug. 23, 1888."

THE MESSAGE IN THE HOUSE.

How it was Received—A Retaliation Bill Immediately Offered.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—In the House the Speaker rose and laid before the House the President's message. The reading of the paper was listened to with profound attention. The Speaker referred the document to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, Mr. McCreary of Kentucky securing unanimous consent to report from that committee on the subject at any time.

Mr. Hill of Illinois moved that 15,000 copies be printed. Referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Wilson (Minn.) immediately offered the following bill, which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs:

An act to empower the President more effectually to carry out the purposes of an act entitled "An Act to authorize the President to protect and defend the rights of American fishermen, American trading and other vessels in certain cases, and other purposes," approved March 3, 1887, and to authorize the President to protect American interests against unjust discrimination in the use of canals in the British dominions of North America.

"Be it enacted: That whenever the President may deem it his duty to exercise any of the powers given him by an act entitled An act to protect and defend the rights of American fishing vessels, etc., it shall be lawful for the President, in his discretion, by proclamation to that effect, to suspend in whole or in part the transportation of goods, wares or merchandise imported or exported from any foreign country except Canada in bond across the territory of the United States.

"Section 2. Whenever the President shall be satisfied that there is any discrimination whatever in the use of the Welland Canal, the St. Lawrence River Canals, or either of them, either by tolls, draw backs or otherwise which is or may be detrimental to the interests of the United States or its citizens, it shall be lawful for the President to issue a proclamation to that effect, whereupon there shall be collected a toll of 20 cents per ton upon every foreign vessel and her cargo passing through the Sault Ste. Marie Canal, and the Secretary of the Treasury may authorize and direct any of the customs officers to collect the tolls. The President, when satisfied that such discrimination has ceased, may issue his proclamation to that effect in his discretion, whereupon the tolls authorised by this act shall no longer be collected.

"Section 3. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to make any regulations needful, to carry this act into effect."

The tellers then resumed their places but no qurum appearing, the committee rose and the House at 5 o'clock adjourned.

The Senate Wouldn't Wait.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—In the Senate Mr. Edmunds moved an adjournment.

Mr. Morgan suggested that the President intended to send an important message to the Senate.

The Presiding Officer: "The message has already been received."

Mr. Morgan: "I hope it will be submitted to the Senate before adjournment."

Mr. Edmunds: "The message can wait."

Mr. Morgan: "I ask for the yeas and nays on the motion to adjourn."

The motion was agreed to, yeas 28, nays 20, a strict party vote.

So the Senate at 4.15 adjourned till to-

No Natural Gas Struck at Whitby as Yet.

WHITBY, Aug. 23.—It is officially announced that the despatches from here respecting the finding of natural gas are inaccurate in several particulars. The finding of the gas as reported is untrue. The boring of the test well is being continued and the indications thus far are considered good. While boring in, the shale small veins or pockets containing gas have been struck, but this is merely surface gas, usually to be met with in the Utica formation.

THE DISASTER EPIDEMIC.

TERRIBLE BOILER EXPLOSION AT MENASHA-NEENAH, WIS.

Eighteen Persons Killed Outright—Seven Fatally Injured and a Number of Others Expected to Die.

NEENAH, Wis., Aug. 23.—At 11.30 last evening the large paper mill owned by Geo. Whiting, situated on the island between this city and Menasha, was destroyed by fire. While the burning structure was surrounded by a crowd of spectators the battery of boilers exploded. The roof and the walls were thrown outward, sending a shower of bricks and timbers among the spectators. Eighteen persons were killed, seven fatally injured and a number less severely hurt, several of whom will die. The mill was a three-story structure, built four years ago at a cost of $100,000, and was operated day and night.

A corrected list of the dead is as follows: Gilbert Mericle, leaves a wife and five small children. Louis Resch, leaves a wife and three children. Jacob Vetter, leaves a wife and three children. John Hoffman, leaves a wife and three children. H. Knelke, leaves a wife and three children. M. Muntfer, leaves a wife and six children. John Moore, single. F. Sandover, leaves a wife and one child. John Weaver, leaves a wife and four children. All the above were employes of a cooper shop. Wm. Bubsitze, jr., F. Schiffer, J. Neil, Jos. Bruegg, L. Brueggen, S. Liebhauser, all single men.

Those badly injured and who may probably die are; M. Fisher, Carl Schiffer, Thomas Jourdain, August Heckner, John Schmitzer, Michael Zemolecki, F. Helback.

A number of men, women and boys were also injured by being hit by missiles from the explosion but none except those whose names are mentioned are seriously wounded. All of the killed will be buried at the city's expense, as they are all in poor circumstances and some of the families of the killed are destitute. Mayor Lawson has appointed a committee to solicit aid for the families of the killed. Every factory in the city is closed and will remain so until after the funerals. Flags are at half mast on all the public buildings.

Killed While Compounding Colored Fire.

BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 23.—During a celebration last night in honor of Gov. Beaver and the Northwestern Pennsylvania G. A. R. Association, while Edward Duell, of the Manufacturers' Gas Company, was compounding colored fire in a gas pipe, it exploded and killed him instantly. Robert Hurley, who was sitting on a piazza near him, and W. H. Curtis, who was on the other side of the street, were also killed. Half a dozen other persons were badly hurt.

A Wreck on the Pennsylvania.

ASBURY PARK, N.J., Aug. 23.—A passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad this morning ran into and totally wrecked a freight train near here. The passenger engine was wrecked. None of the passengers were killed, but several were bruised.

Drowned by Their Boat Upsetting.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 23.—Rev. E. B. C. Commins, a Presbyterian minister, and Edward C. Orth, a civil engineer, members of the American Canoe Association, were drowned on Tuesday in the Conemaugh River by the upsetting of their boat.

Another Drowning Accident.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—Word was received here to-day of the drowning of two young Montrealers at Knowlton Landing on Lake Memphremagog yesterday. They were Miss Ella Archibald, daughter of Mr. Archibald, baker of this city, and W. Hilton. The young people, who were engaged to be married, were out in a canoe in which a sail was hoisted, when some other parties noticed it capsize, and although help was at once sent, they could not be found. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

Accident on the Grand Trunk.

PORT HURON, Mich., Aug. 23.—Last night as freight engine No. 116, on the Grand Trunk Railway, was being switched at the yard it was accidentally pushed off into Black River. The bridge was turned at the time. The engineer and fireman saw the danger and jumped off. The engine now lies at the bottom of the river, with the cab and tender all right, but the bridge cannot be turned until the obstruction is removed, and trains accordingly, will be obliged to go round the city.

A Fatal Cave-In.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—While Richard Rushley was making a joint in the St. Catharine-street drain to night the earth caved in and he and a laborer named James O'Neill where buried under 2 feet of earth. They were rescued as soon as possible. O'Neill is slightly injured but Rushly died while being removed to the hospital.

Serious Accident at Guelph.

GUELPH, Aug. 23.—While Mr. James Philpotts was engaged in moving a load of furniture this afternoon his team became frightened and ran away. In his endeavor to hold them he was drawn off the load on to the horses, the wagon passing over him. His skull was laid bare for five inches and he sustained some severe bruises. His condition is critical.

Accident to a Bicycler.

YORK STATION, Ont., Aug. 24.—Between 7 and 8 o'clock last evening, Charles Doherty, of Toronto, was found lying unconscious beside his bicycle on the highway near Norway, he evidently having struck, while going at a good speed, a stone which in the twilight is hard to be seen. Dr. Britton was at once called, and on examination found that the young man had sustained fractures of the skull and right arm. Although great efforts have been made to restore him to consciousness, they have so far been unsuccessful and it is feared the injuries will prove fatal. It is thought that he must have been on the road for nearly an hour before being discovered. A conveyance is being got ready now to remove the patient to the city.

ENGLISH AFFAIRS.

The Queen's Glasgow Visit—The Parnell-Times Case.

GLASGOW, Aug. 23.—The Queen in a landau, accompanied by the Grand Duke of Hesse and his daughter, Princess Alice, yesterday opened the new municipal buildings and afterwards visited the Exhibition. In replying to the addresses presented to her, she expressed much pleasure at her visit to Glasgow. The city was illuminated in the evening.

Parnell v. The Times.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Scotch lawyers report that it will be easy to delay the trial of Mr. Parnell's action against The Times until after the commission of enquiry has made its report, which it is expected will be submitted to Parliament in the early part of the season of 1889.

France Fitting Out Ironclads.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—Admiral Krantz, Minister of Marine, has given orders for the equipment of eight ironclads to reinforce the French squadron in the Mediterranean.

The "Q" Manager to "Retire."

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 23.—It is stated that the directors of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Railroad Company have asked for the resignation of General Manager Stone, and that he will retire about Sept. 14.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Inspectors' Convention—A Missing Clerk.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Minister Ross again presided at the Convention of School Inspectors yesterday morning. A motion that the inspection of schools be so arranged as to be brought within the limit of the year was voted down. The teachers' reading course was a fruitful topic of discussion. The deficiency of many teachers in reading and literature was deplored, and many suggestions offered in order to bring up their average reading ability and general literary knowledge. Special examinations, however, were not favored. The discussion of entrance examinations elicited a variety of opinion, but of the seventy gentlemen present only five voted for the yearly examination, the remainder inclining to the semi-annual. The question, should third class certificates be limited to the county or continue provincial? showed that a majority favored the limitation, but the school law will not be opened for the amendment for probably two years. In the matter of the inspectors' relation to model schools, it was unanimously voted that these schools are of inestimable value to the cause of public school education. Inspectors' relation to teachers' institutes brought out strong evidence of their sympathy with them. The convention adjourned sine die at 1 o'clock.

The report of the Bureau of Industries shows an increase in the acreage of barley in Ontario of about 130,000 acres, and in yield an increase of nearly 4,000,000 bushels. While many in the trade dispute the correctness of these figures, there appears to be a pretty general opinion that the crop is somewhat larger than in 1887, and that although some of the barley is somewhat discolored, the general quality is decidedly superior to last year.

Alex. Hamilton, employed as clerk in the warehouse of Livingstone, Johnston & Co., has been missing from his home since Aug. 15. It is feared that he has met with an accident. He was known as an abstainer, and it is believed that he was not indebted to any one. He was married, and 61 years of age.

It is said that $400 are missing from the funds of the Turn-Verein, a German society of this city.

The Governor-General will arrive in Toronto by the Canadian Pacific Railway from Ottawa at 8 o'clock on Sept. 10.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION.

A Better Class of Settlers This Year from Great Britain.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Enquiries in reliable quarters of England, Scotland and Ireland regarding the season's emigration to Canada show that the volume largely exceeds last year's. Some put the excess at 25 per cent. All agree that in no previous year have there been fewer worthless emigrants. The great body of emigrants have been those going directly to the land either as proprietors or laborers. Agents in all parts of the Kingdom received, early in the season, official intimation regarding undesirable emigration. The result seems to show that they have succeeded as far as possible. Under present circumstances cessation of assisted passages is not generally regarded with disfavor. It is believed it will assist to discourage incompetent emigrants. The great mass of emigrants have gone to the Northwest. Ontario appears to come next, followed by British Columbia, the Eastern Townships, and the Maritime provinces. The Crofter settlement in Manitoba is the chief feature of Scotch emigration. Favorable reports coming from the Crofters are now having an excellent influence. All correspondents agree that if active, practical measures are continued, there is every reason to expect an excellent season next year.

Colored Knights Templar.

KALAMAZOO, Aug. 24.—The last session of the annual Commandery of Colored Knights Templar of Michigan and Ontario was held yesterday morning. Officers were appointed, resolutions recommending the purchase of suitable banners, etc., for the asylum adopted, and the Grand Commandery then closed to meet again in August, 1889, at Chatham, Ont. In the afternoon there was a street parade and 200 Knights marched through the city with two bands to the fair grounds where D. A. Straker of Detroit and others made addresses. In the evening the Knights had a banquet, concert and ball.

Still Missing.

HAMILTON, Aug. 23.—Conductor Gibson spent the whole of yesterday searching for his lost boy in the neighborhood of Grimsby. There is no doubt the lad was at the park, but is not there now. It is said that he was seen the other day at Niagara Falls, Ont. Gibson is 16 years of age. He had no reason to go away from home, and it is thought he would send word concerning his whereabouts if his mind was all right.

A Strike at St. Kitts.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 23.—Thirty-four out of the thirty-six employes of the Woodburn-Sarven Wheel Co. in this city went out on strike this morning against a reduction in wages ranging from 30 to 75 cents per day on a full day's pay. The men have the endorsement of the Executive Board of the District Assembly Knights of Labor and unless a settlement is effected soon the struggle promises to be a protracted one.

A Cheese Factory Burned.

NORWICH, Aug. 23.—William Morris' cheese factory, South Norwich, was burned down yesterday noon. The building and contents, together with 220 cheese, were destroyed. Loss $2500; insured in the Gore Mutual.

A Hard Fighter or a Big Liar.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—At Antigua, China, recently, a Spanish priest and another Spaniard were attacked by a horde of natives who attempted to kill the priest. His companions fought the mob until 50 of them were killed.

C. H. C. Supreme Council.

HAMILTON, Aug. 23.—The supreme council of the order of Canadian Home Circles was in session until 6 a.m. to-day working on the revision of the constitution, after which the delegates departed for their homes.

EXCITEMENT IN BERLIN.

An Extremely Hot Political Campaign in The German Capital.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The published dispatches from Berlin and the local papers do not fairly represent the excitement which prevails there over the approaching elections. Berlin, although immediately under the eye of the Government, has always sent Liberal or Opposition members to the Reichstag and Landtag. Extraordinary efforts are being made through official influence to reverse this. The new Emperor wishes to see his capital, what his adulators call a loyal city, and its representatives in the legislative bodies in range with the conservative forces, which are the main support of the empire. The military party consider it a scandal that the city of Berlin should be constantly in opposition to the policy of the Government. In the meantime the Liberals and Radicals are as determined as ever to push the canvass with all their accustomed vigor. Electoral meetings are held nightly, at which calls are made upon the voters to remain firm in their allegiance to their party. While the Emperor and the constituted authorities are always mentioned with respect by the speakers the Liberal principles of government and policy are freely and firmly advocated. The Socialists are extremely active, but their agitation does not help the Liberals, who do not openly countenance it. All this adds to the excitement, which is bound to increase to fever heat as the campaign advances.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1888.

AN "ILLUSTRATION."

WHEN a commercial unionist begins to quote figures he has a peculiar way of useing them. He can prove almost anything by them if people would not look into the way they are manipulated. For instance some financial genius who supports Mr. Wiman's scheme and wants to see the Liberals in office stated in the Napanee Express a "demonstration" of the effects of the tariffs upon the farmer. To make it clearer, and probably also as an indication of the dismal state of this Conservative ridden country, he adorned it with heavy black rules. The "demonstration" was this: A farmer took $100 worth of cattle to the United States to sell, and paid 20 per cent. on the cattle for duty. He purchased oats with the proceeds, but had to pay 10 cents a bushel on bringing the oats into Canada, which left him only $48 worth remaining when he got back to Canada.

This is the old story of a man taking a horse to the United States, paying the duty and selling it, and buying the horse again, paying the duty and bringing it back. As an illustration one supposion is is as good, or as useless, as the other. It rests on the absurd presumption that upon everything sent to the United States the exporter pays the duty, and upon everything brought from that country the importer pays the duty. Until this absurd argument is shown to have solid basis it cannot have any effect in the discussion of unrestricted reciprocity. Why should a Canadian go to the United States to purchase oats? Last year Canada exported over 2,000,000 bushels of oats, and would anyone be foolish enough to import oats, paying the duty if he had to pay it, when he could buy them at home without any duty being charged? Or do our Liberal friends say that, even if not imported, the amount of the duty is added to the price of the home grown grain and paid to the farmer? If that is what they mean, by all means tell us and the farmers of Canada that they believe that to be the case. Unless it is the case why should the duty be considered in a transaction on oats, when Canada has a surplus of the grain?

To this alleged illustration, why did not the farmer, instead of taking his cattle across the lines, sell them to some dealer and let him pay the duty? Perhaps the commercial unionists will answer that the dealer, knowing the duty would have to be paid, would deduct it from the value of the cattle, so as to save himself. Very good, if that were true, why would not this farmer who bought oats in the United States do the same thing regarding the oats? It is scarcely conceivable that even the author of this "illustration" believed that it was a correct or reasonable demonstration of the effects of the tariffs.

There is another thing that the Liberals conveniently ignore—the Canadian Government cannot remove the United States tariff.

THE HALTON ELECTION.

HALTON has again elected a Liberal, and a victory is claimed for commercial union. The Liberals have had so many reverses that little harm could be done in allowing this election to be put down as a success for their policy. At the same time it must be admitted that the Scott Act—which has from the first been used by the Ontario Government as a machine for making votes—has had much to do with Mr. Waldie's election, and if the reports are true which come from the constituency that gentleman will again be unseated.

The election of Mr. Waldie leaves the constituency (supposing he is not unseated) the same as it was after the general election. Mr. Waldie secured a majority in the general election, was unseated and Mr. Henderson, Conservative, was elected. Now Mr. Waldie has again been successful. The Liberals have lost several seats since they adopted free trade with the United States as their policy, and have won none, as this election has only resulted in securing a seat they formerly held.

Since the general election, and since the Liberals began to advocate commercial union, Sir John Macdonald's majority in the House has been increased. The unpopularity of the proposal to unite with the United States has been shown.

THE Belleville Intelligencer says: "Lacking material for reply to a paragraph which recently appeared in this journal to the effect that Canada is ripe for reciprocity in iron ore, the Mail says:—'Here is an advance towards common sense. Only the other day it was argued officially that it would be unpatriotic to sell our fine ore to the horrid Americans.' This is another of those false assertions for which Mr. Wiman's organ is notorious. Canada has plenty of iron ore to sell, besides an ample supply for home use, and no argument, 'official' or otherwise, has ever, to our knowledge, been used by any person or newspaper—certainly not the Intelligencer. We do hold, however, and have always held, that it is unpatriotic to sell our fine ores to the Yankees and buy from them the products in the shape of pig iron or manufactures of iron or steel. Canada ought to manufacture her own iron and steel and will, we believe, do so before the lapse of many years, under the influence of the tariff, as recently revised."

THE feeling in England against Mr. Mercier's scheme for converting the Quebec debt, has not weakened since the Provincial Premier announced that the Government would not make use of the clause in the Act empowering it to force the conversion. The London Financial News says:—"When a boy clamors for a loaded pistol and asserts that he does not intend to fire it, his friends naturally ask, Why then want it?" Mr. Mercier's practical acknowledgement that to use the power given in the Act would be unjust has strengthened the demand for its repeal or the exercise of the veto.

THE discovery of natural gas in different parts of Ontario leads to the horrible suspicion that the long lost Hon. M. D. Mills is entombed alive some place in the Province.

THE United States will not have the fisheries treaty. Canada will not have its fish pirated.

CAPITAL TOPICS.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—New militia regulations have been issued and now if a man enlisted wants his leave he will be permitted to do so on payment of $30. This is supposed to cover the value of clothing and kit issued him for use as a soldier. The object of the change is to enable a man to fill a better position if successful in securing it after enlisting.

It is understood the Royal Military College opens for work on Sept. 1. A batch of cadets, numbering 24, will join that day.

Messrs. Vanasse and Daoust, M. P.'s are here on departmental business.

Tenders will be called for the construction of a new drill-shed at Regina, to replace that destroyed by fire last winter. It will cost $30,000.

Sir Hector will attend the ball His Excellency the Governor-General gives at Quebec on Sept. 4. He will afterwards attend political picnics at Nicollet and La Prairie.

The Seizures of clapboards at St. Stephens, N.B., and jewelery at Hamilton have been reported to the Customs Department.

Mr. Sedgewick, Deputy Minister of Justice, has returned from the Pacific Coast.

Major-General Cameron is in town.

The report of the Loan Companies and Building Societies in Canada, for 1887, has been issued. It opens with a review of the figures of the Canadian Loan and Investment Companies since Confederation. The assets and liabilities in 1867 amounted to $3,233,985; in 1887 they were each over $100,000,000. In 1867 the paid-up capital stock was $2,110,403; last year it was $32,125,009. The blue-book gives a detailed statement of the financial affairs of the 63 loan societies in Ontario, the nine in Quebec, one each in Nova Scotia and Manitoba; in all, 74 companies.

Dr. Wm. Loux, of Russell, who recently obtained an appointment in the Inland Revenue Department, is shortly to be transferred to the Parliamentary Library, at a salary of $1100 a year.

A petition has been received at the Department of Justice from friends of George C. Bennett who was sentenced for stealing furs. It is claimed that Bennett is suffering from a severe attack of bronchitis, and his confinement may prove fatal to him. A petition has been filed for consideration.

R. J. McMillan, emigration commissioner to Ontario for the Manitoba Government, has gone west. It is proposed to close the office in London.

SULTRY WINNIPEG.

Not Only the Material but the Political Atmosphere Very Hot.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23:—Luxton of The Free Press charges the Government in an open letter with concocting the rumor that the Northern Pacific deal was off to arouse public apprehension and secure a recoil in favor of the agreement, and so arranged it that if the lie failed to effect its object, the responsibility would fall upon The Free Press.

He intimates that the Government had him shadowed in St. Paul when he was handed a telegram to send to The Free Press that the deal was off, and when that failed a member of the Government told The Free Press reporter the same story.

It is believed an understanding has been arrived at between the Government and the Northern Pacific, which will enable the latter to go on with the work immediately.

The weather is sultry; 94o in the shade.

A Remarkable Spring at Sundridge.

SUNDRIDGE, Aug. 23.—Dr. Toole, in sinking a shaft for water, when down about 50 feet, struck a spring. The water is forced to the surface of the ground, carrying with it sand in such quantities that his house, which is in course of erection, and also the Orange Hall close by, are in danger of being undermined. It is estimated there has been sufficient sand thrown out in 24 hours to cover half an acre, 3 inches in depth. All efforts to stop the flow of water have been futile.

A Quebec Political Rumor.

QUEBEC, Aug. 23.—The latest political rumor is that Premier Mercier is to become President of the Executive Council, under the law passed last session providing for the appointment of a President of the Council of Ministers, and that Charles Langelier will enter the Cabinet. The latter portion is not generally credited.

The Floods Receding.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 23.—The water reached the highest point yesterday afternoon, and is now receding. The loss to railroads and property owners is estimated at $1,000,000. Four deaths are reported.

Chestnuts of Negro Minstrelsy.

A great deal has been said and written about the chestnutiness of negro minstrelsy. Old jokes have been mercilessly lampooned, and the men who deal in them have come in for a large share of the abuse. It is not generally known by the public that there are not a half dozen men in the United States capable of furnishing gags or other end material to minstrels, and of these half dozen probably not one makes a really successful gag in six months. They can all write songs or fake up afterpieces or sketches, but they cannot give that delightful ring of spontaneity to a gag which makes it a "go." Minstrels often try the work of these professional joke makers, but it falls so flat that invariably a return to the old material is necessary. Most of the gags you hear are made by the end men themselves. Sometimes a newspaper friend furnishes them a local suggestion, but it requires the end man's experience with public taste to put it in proper shape. Since I have been in minstrelsy, which is many years, I cannot recall many new jokes that have survived their birth.—Globe-Democrat.

Scarlet fever is at its minimum from January to May, and at its maximum in October and November. Diphtheria is more evenly distributed through the year, and is most dangerous a little later than scarlet fever. Measles and whooping cough seem to be somewhat aggravated by cold weather, but are most fatal in May and June. Hot weather is averse to smallpox and favorable to disorders of the bowels, particularly in children.

It is called "Cosmos, the Great Oracle of Human Destiny," and something remarkable, and is creating great interest among scientists at the present day. The above cut is a fac-smile of a stone excavated from the Temple of Truth (so called) in Athens Greece, in the year, 1527, and placed in the British Museum in London, Eng.

This stone has been noticed without doubt by many residents of this town who have visited the museum. It stands in the "Corridor of Wonders.

The letters appearing on the cut above are in Hieroglyphics on the original stone, but were translated some years ago by Prof. Bartlett of the Howard University, who discovered that they had a hidden meaning, and there are positive proofs that the stone is thousands of years old, and formed part of the belief of the Chaldeans of Persia who were great astrologists, and from which our present knowledge of astronomy is mostly derived.

This wonderful combination of letters arranged in circles around the solar system will, in connection with the key discovered by Prof. Bartlett to read it by astonish and amaze you with the phenominal accuracy with which it answers questions that anyone may ask in regard to Business Enterprises, Love, Money matters, Destiny, and what every young lady and gentlemen who reads this advertisement is just dying to know about Love and Marriage. It is bound to create a sensation outside of the serious import which the replies of "Cosmos" gives. There is lots of fun and amusement in it, for the home circles, and as a parlor game, it will produce what we will call original fun in abundance. Everybody should have one.

We have been to large expense to obtain the copper plate to print copies of the letters on the wonderful stone for distribution, and although copies of Cosmos on handsome placques are being sold in the large cities for $1.00 each, we purpose as a novel way of advertising and as is our custom when we have anything good and interesting to do it in a liberal way, and to give the entire populace an opportunity to secure one. We shall give one copy with the directions to read it by free to each purchaser of any article in our store for the next 60 days, after which they will not be given free. No doubt thousands of people will avail themselves of this opportunity, but we have enough to supply the demand. Obtain a "Cosmos" and send one to your friends out of town and it will please them as much as though they had found a $10.00 bill. Ask for "Cosmos" at the store of

Is it Gold?

The Norwood Register says:—" The workmen engaged in digging a well on the Rev. Father Conway's property, Peterborough-st., made, on Wednesday, what may perhaps turn out an important discovery. At a depth of 25 feet a strata of rock was discovered, sections of which show gold in considerable quantities. As yet it would be premature to speak too hopefully of the find or of Father Conway as a prospective millionaire, but at all events there are good indications and an essay of the specimens in hand will be made at once. We hope, in the near future, to be able to congratulate Father Conway on his accession to the proprietorship of an inexhaustible gold mine."

An Officer off Duty.

Upon entering the police station on Water-st. a person cannot help but remark the bad odor that seems to hang in the atmosphere. Some days this is more obnoxious than others, but at any time it is bad enough to be looked into and the cause removed. The smell undoubtedly comes from the cells, and a remedy should be found. Last night Officer McGinty was forced to go off duty on account of illness, and it is feared that he is threatened with typhoid fever. Whether the foul atmosphere around the station have contributed towards his sickness cannot be said, but it was remarked this morning that something should be done to purify the cells.

A Factory in Port Hope.

The Port Hope Times of Thursday says:—"Mr. A. W. Morris, of Messrs. A. W. Morris & Bro., manufacturers, Montreal, is in town to-day signing papers by which his firm agrees to establish a binder twine and cord manufactory in Port Hope, for certain considerations from the town of Port Hope. The factory will employ one hundred hands to commence, and of these about a dozen will be girls. Mr. Morris does not promise it, but he says it is very probable that before the end of the first year the number of hands will increase to 150. The details of the arrangement are, at the request of the committee, withheld, until the signatures are on the contract. But this much we may say, that the agreement is more advantageous than the town has hoped for. Messrs. Morris & Bro. is a firm of long and high standing, with a first-class reputation and rating in financial circles. Mr. A. W. Morris is a keen, shrewd business man, and a pleasant conversationalist. To-day is a bright day for Port Hope, and is only the first of an era hoped for. Through many discouragements the committee has toiled, and they have earned the success that has now crowned their efforts."

Moved by Thos. Hilliard, seconded by C. A. Birge,—That this convention recognizes the right of Quarterly Boards to invite and ministers to accept invitations, subject always to the Stationing Committee and the Conference.—Carried.

Moved by Dr. Lowrey, seconded by Wm. Wilkinson.—That while insisting on the right of our official board to invite ministers, we think that the custom of inviting at end of the first or second years should be discouraged.—Carried.

Moved by J. E. Carson, seconded by Jas. Lister,—That this convention recognizes the true spirit of the Methodist Church to be democratic, and that we recommend that it be a recognized right of Quarterly Boards to protest against the appointment of a minister to a circuit when in the opinion of a majority of the board such an appointment be considered injudicious; and that we recommend further that such protests receive proper and just consideration from the Stationing Committee.—Carried.

Moved by Thos. Hilliard, seconded by A. B. Powell,—That Quarterly Boards as well as ministers be accorded by representatives the right of personal appearance before the Stationing Committee in regard to their own case.—Carried.

Moved by John George, seconded by A.W. Smith,—That in the opinion of this convention the laymen should have equal representation on the Stationing Committee and all the courts of the Church.—Carried.

THE COLTS' VICTORIOUS.

The Boys run up 156 While their Opponents make 90 Runs.

The "scrub" cricket match yesterday between the colts and a scratch eleven of the Peterborough club resulted in a victory for the boys.

The colts went to bat first and succeeded in laying up 156 runs, Hodge making top score with 31 runs to his credit.

The scratch eleven went to bat and secured a score of 90 when their last wicket fell. The boys play a great fielding game, and as the score shows they managed to retire their elder opponents on catches.

LACROSSE MATCH.

The Shamrocks and Ætnas fail to Finish their Game.

About five minutes past three yesterday afternoon the ball was faced in the game of lacrosse between the Shamrocks at Ætnas, two junior local clubs. Everything pointed to a good match, and the playing that was witnessed was good, but the result was far from being satisfactory. Each club scored a game, although the Shamrocks claimed that the Ætnas failed to score the one which the umpire gave them credit for. The teams were composed of the following players:—

SHAMROCKS		ÆTNAS
M. Cronan	Goal	K. King
O. Butler	Point	C. Brennan
H. Meagher	Cover Point	S. Weir
F. Cregan	1st Def. Field	J. Samson
J. McDonough	2nd Def. Field	W. Batten
D. Simons	3rd Def. Field	A. Weir
B. Corcoran	Centre	C. Marshall
A. Lipsett	Home Field	E. Hickey
J. McDonough	"	R. Fife
F. Mitchell	"	M. Mayhew
W. McNamara	Outside Home	E. Tighe
J. McNamara	Inside Home	J. Daly
J. Begley	Field Captain	F. Larone
J. Phelan	Umpire	R. Woods

Referee, W. A. Sanderson.

The first game was a hard fight from the face off. The ball was kept pretty well in the centre of the field or flying from goal to goal for about thirty minutes. The shamrocks then pressed their opponents hard, and upon the Ætna's goal keeper throwing the ball up the field Jack McDonough collared the rubber and after some nice dodging managed to slip it between the Ætna's poles. Time, 45 minutes.

The second game was short, but evenly contested. A good shot was made from near the centre of the field, which the umpire claimed passed between the poles of the shamrock's goal. A dispute resulted, as it was claimed the ball was thrown wide, but the game was finally allowed. Time 10 minutes.

The third game had been in progress but a short time when a dispute arose, which grew so hot that the game was brought to a rather untimely finish.

The boys may settle the match more satisfactorily on some other afternoon.

Baseball.

The Millbrook Reporter announces a match to be played in that village to-morrow with the Millbrook baseball team and the Peterboroughs. The baseball club known as the Peterboroughs here have no match on with Millbrook or any other club. It may be some of the junior nines, however.

All Played well.

Referring to the lacrosse game played by the Shamrocks at Lindsay the Post says:—"The game was well contested, the best of good feeling existing throughout the game and no rough playing being indulged in by either side. Frank Cornell and Findlay played a good game for Lindsay, in fact the boys all played well. Begley played a fine game for Peterborough as also did the defence men. The Peterborough men conducted themselves admirably, but there were several young men claiming to hail from Peterborough who would do their town more credit by remaining at home."

New Coaches.

Two new first-class passenger coaches came up for the C. P. R. from Cobourg last night and have been lying at the station here to-day. They came direct from James Crossen's car manufactory and are most elegantly finished. On entering the car from either end you pass through a cosy smoking apartment, the seats of which are against the side of the car and are finished in leather. There is also a toilet at either end, while the coach proper will seat forty-four persons. The seats are patent revolving and are upholstered in peacock blue plush. The car is heated, as are all the C.P.R. coaches, with a steam-heater and are models of workmanship throughout. They will be put on the service between Montreal and Toronto.

He is looking well, and says he never felt so well satisfied with himself."

Fault of American Workmen.

This is one great fault of American workmen, and the reason why there are so many "average men." When the day's work is done, instead of taking a mechanical paper and sitting down at their own homes, to improve their minds and keep posted on what is going on in the great world around them, they reason something after this fashion: "We poor laboring men have no time to ourselves; no time for pleasure or recreation: no time to enjoy ourselves; we can't afford to take the trade papers, and we have no time to read them if we do. When our day's work is done we want to have a little time to ourselves."

What does this mean? It means simply this, that the man who makes such an argument is one who is satisfied with being a slave to his own foolishness, blind to his own interests, and who will spend from one to three or four hours every evening upon the street, in the saloon or out with the boys. He has plenty of time for this, but no time to read; he has plenty of money for such culture, but is very poor when it comes to the subject of mental and moral culture.—A. B. Grimes in Boston Budget.

For musquito or gnat bites an experienced traveler writes that he uses a solution of alum water as strong as it can be made, adding one-fourth of aromatic vinegar and one-fifth of glycerine. Shake well before using. It will instantly cure the bite.

Infants' toys should be systematically cleansed. The child beslavers the implement several times a day, and leaves saliva in the rattle or whatever, as a culture bed of bacteria. This condition of things goes on till the toy is a magazine of animal poisons to contaminate and recontaminate the innocent victim of thoughtless inattention.

A weak solution of salt and water is recommended by good physicians as a remedy for imperfect digestion, and for a cold in the head it is a complete cure snuffed from the hollow of the hand. We have known severe chronic cases of catarrh entirely cured by persistent use of this simple remedy every night and morning for several months, when the best efforts of the best physicians failed to do any good. It should be used milk warm.

It pays to advertise in the REVIEW.

THE CLIMATE OF SIBERIA

Not All a Barren Arctic Waste—Beauty and Profusion of Siberian Flowers.

It is hardly necessary to say that a country which has an area of five and a half million square miles, and which extends in latitude as far as from the southern extremity of Greenland to the island of Cuba, must present great diversities of climate, topography and vegetation, and cannot be everywhere a barren arctic waste. A mere glance at a map is sufficient to show that a considerable part of western Siberia lies farther south than Nice, Venice or Milan, and that the southern boundary of the Siberian province of Semirechinsk is nearer the equator than Naples. In a country which thus stretches from the latitude of Italy to the latitude of central Greenland one would naturally expect to find, and, as a matter of fact, one does find, many varieties of climate and scenery. In some parts of the province of Yakutsk the mean temperature of the month of January is more than 50 degs. below zero Fahr., while in the province of Semipalatinsk the mean temperature of the month of July is 72 degs. above, and such maximum temperature as 95 and 100 degs. in the shade are comparatively common.

On the Taimyr peninsula, east of the Gulf of Ob, the permanently frozen ground thaws out in summer to a depth of only a few inches, and supports but a scanty vegetation of berry bushes and moss, while in the southern part of western Siberia watermelons and cantaloupes are a profitable crop, tobacco is grown upon thousands of plantations, and the peasants harvest annually more than 50,000,000 bushels of grain. The fact which I desire especially to impress upon the mind of the reader is that Siberia is not everywhere uniform and homogeneous. The northern part of the country differs from the southern part quite as much as the Hudson Bay territory differs from Kentucky; and it is as great a mistake to attribute the cold and barrenness of the Lena delta to the whole of Siberia as it would be to attribute the cold and barrenness of King William Land to the whole of North America.

To the traveler who crosses the Urals for the first time in June nothing is more surprising than the fervent heat of Siberian sunshine and the extraordinary beauty and profusion of Siberian flowers. Although we had been partly prepared, by our voyage up the Kama, for the experience which awaited us on the other side of the mountains, we were fairly astonished upon the threshold of western Siberia by the scenery, the weather and the flora. In the fertile, blossoming country presented to us as we rode swiftly eastward into the province of Tobolsk, there was absolutely nothing even remotely to suggest an arctic region. If we had been blindfolded and transported to it suddenly in the middle of a sunny afternoon, we could never have guessed to what part of the world we had been taken. The sky was as clear and blue and the air as soft as the sky and air of California; the trees were all in full leaf; birds were singing over the flowery meadows and in the clumps of birches by the roadside; there were a drowsy hum of bees and a faint fragrance of flowers and verdure in the air; and the sunshine was as warm and bright as that of a June afternoon in the most favored part of the temperate zone.—George Kennan in The Century.

A Good Thing.

"Why, Smith, you look as if you had lost your last friend. What's the matter?"

"Well, to tell you the truth, Jones, I'm completely strapped. I haven't earned a dollar for two months, and I have a notion, once in a while, to jump into the river and end it. But I've got a mighty good thing if I can only make it work."

"What is it? I should be glad to help you."

"I want to find a publisher for a book I've been writing on 'How to be Happy, though Wealthy.' It would go like hot cakes."—Springfield Union.

Two test medical authorities acknowledge the value of Ayer's Pills, and prescribe them with the utmost confidence, as the most effectual remedy for diseases caused by derangements of the stomach, liver, and bowels.

Everywhere one enquires in Toronto as to who is in reality the producer of the best Art Stained Glass in that city. The reply is unanimously in favor of Jos. McCausland & Son. THE WANDERER.

Love comes back to its vacant dwelling—
The old, old love that we knew of yore
We see him stand by the open door,
With his great eyes sad, and his bosom swelling.

He makes as though in our arms repelling,
He fain would lie as he lay before:—
Love comes back to its vacant dwelling—
The old, old love that we knew of yore!

Ah! who shall help us from over-spelling,
That sweet forgotten, forbidden lore!
E'en as we doubt in our hearts once more,
With a rush of tears to our eyelids welling,
Love comes back to its vacant dwelling.

—Austin Dobson.

Adobe Mansions of Santa Fe.

The adobe house, or "doby," as it is called, is familiar to all western tourists, but it is seen at its very best here. The wealthiest people live in structures which from the outside seem scarcely habitable, but within are cozy and, in many instances, luxurious. Judge Thornton, a wealthy mine owner, has a "doby" house near the plaza, or public square. In the center of the building is a square courtyard filled with magnificent flowers, with a fountain in the center. The doors of each apartment in the house open on the wide veranda which runs around the courtyard, and the effect is very charming. The walls of the building are nearly three feet in thickness, giving opportunity for deep, cushioned window seats. These thick walls keep out cold in the winter and heat in the summer, and there are, therefore, but two fireplaces in the whole house—for use in the event of extraordinary severe weather.

The decorations of the dwelling are such as one finds in Atlanta's Peachtree street homes—beautiful pictures and statuary, imported carpets and rugs, rare brio-a-brac and potteries—everything that money can buy. Of course, all this makes the change from the outside atmosphere of squalor the more marked. Judge Thornton's home is but the type of hundreds of others owned by wealthy Spaniards, Mexicans or Americans, who have settled here because of this incomparable climate.—Atlanta Constitution.

"It seems to me," said Rev. Mr. Murgatroyd, as he helped himself to muffins, "that you young people are well fixed, not actually wealthy, but, don't you know, rather comfortable. I see that you have many nice comforts about you which I expect you can well afford. The table setting for instance is neat, tasty, inviting and extremely pretty.—Real China too as you say, what it cost is quite moderate, and I rather fancy that China Hall must be a regular bonanza to people about here. We can't possibly do better in the way of prices at Montreal, and I doubt very much if the goods are at all better. Its very convenient to have the place so near and where such an admirable line of things are kept."

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption and that they could do nothing for him but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1888.

STORY OF A MASTERPIECE.

By HENRY JAMES, Jr.

"No; I rather suspect you are. But, as you say, your work isn't classical. I adhere to my term brutal. Shall I tell you? It's too much of a study. You've given poor Miss Everett the look of a professional model."

"If that's the case I've done very wrong. There never was an easier, a less conscious sitter. It's delightful to look at her."

"Confound it, you've given all her ease, too. Well, I don't know what's the matter. I give up."

"I think," said Baxter, "you had better hold your verdict in abeyance until the picture is finished. The classical element is there, I'm sure; but I've not brought it out. Wait a few days, and it will rise to the surface."

Lennox left the artist alone; and the latter took up his brushes and painted hard till nightfall. He laid them down only when it was too dark to see. As he was going out, Lennox met him in the hall.

"Exegi monumentum," said Baxter; "it's finished. Go and look at your ease. I'll come to-morrow and hear your impressions."

The master of the house, when the other had gone, lit half a dozen lights and returned to the study of the picture. It had grown prodigiously under the painter's recent handling, and whether it was that, as Baxter had said, the classical element had disengaged itself, or that Lennox was in a more sympathetic mood, it now impressed him as an original and powerful work, a genuine portrait, the deliberate image of a human face and figure. It was Marian, in very truth, and Marian most patiently measured and observed. Her beauty was there, her sweetness, and her young loveliness and her aerial grace, imprisoned forever, made inviolable and perpetual. Nothing could be more simple than the conception and composition of the picture. The figure sat peacefully, looking slightly to the right, with the head erect and the hands—the virginal hands, without rings or bracelets—lying idle on its knees. The blonde hair was gathered into a little knot of braids on the top of the head (in the fashion of the moment), and left free the almost childish contour of the ears and cheeks. The eyes were full of color, contentment and light; the lips were faintly parted. Of color in the picture, there was, in strictness, very little; but the dark draperies told of reflected sunshine, and the flesh spaces of human blushes and pallors, of throbbing life and health. The work was strong and simple, the figure was thoroughly void of affectation and stiffness, and yet supremely elegant.

"That's what it is to be an artist," thought Lennox. "All this has been done in the past two hours."

It was his Marian, assuredly, with all that had charmed him—with all that still charmed him when he saw her: her appealing confidence, her exquisite lightness, her feminine enchantments. And yet, as he looked, an expression of pain came into his eyes, and lingered there, and grew into a mortal heaviness.

Lennox had been as truly a lover as a man may be; but he loved with the discretion of fifteen years' experience of human affairs. He had a penetrating glance, and he liked to use it. Many a time when Marian, with eloquent lips and eyes, had poured out the treasures of her nature into his bosom, and he had taken them in his hands and covered them with kisses and passionate vows; he had dropped them all with a sudden shudder and cried out in silence, "But ah! where is the heart?" One day he had said to her (irrelevantly enough, doubtless), "Marian, where is your heart?"

"Where—what do you mean?" Miss Everett had said.

"I think of you from morning till night. I put you together and take you apart, as people do in that game where they make words out of a parcel of given letters. But there's always one letter wanting. I can't put my hand on your heart."

"My heart, John," said Marian, ingeniously, "is the whole word. My heart's everywhere."

This may have been true enough. Miss Everett had distributed her heart impartially throughout her whole organism, so that, as a natural consequence, its native seat was somewhat scantily occupied. As Lennox sat and looked at Baxter's consummate handiwork, the same question rose again to his lips; and if Marian's portrait suggested it, Marian's portrait failed to answer it. It took Marian to do that. It seemed to Lennox that some strangely potent agency had won from his mistress the confession of her inmost soul, and had written it there upon the canvas in firm yet passionate lines. Marian's person was lightness—her charm was lightness; could it be that her soul was levity too? Was she a creature without faith and without conscience? What else was the meaning of that horrible blankness and deadness that quenched the light in her eyes and stole away the smile from her lips? These things were the less to be eluded because in many respects the painter had been profoundly just. He had been as loyal and sympathetic as he had been intelligent. Not a point in the young girl's appearance had been slighted; not a feature but had been forcibly and delicately rendered. Had Baxter been a man of marvelous insight—an unparalleled observer; or had he been a mere patient and unflinching painter, building infinitely better than he knew? Would not a mere painter have been content to paint Miss Everett in the strong, rich, objective manner of which the work was so good an example, and to do nothing more? For it was evident that Baxter had done more. He had painted with something more than knowledge—with imagination, with feeling. He had almost composed; and his composition had embraced the truth. Lennox was unable to satisfy his doubts. He would have been glad to believe that there was no imagination in the picture but what his own mind supplied; and that the unsubstantial sweetness on the eyes and lips of the image was but the smile of youth and innocence. He was in a muddle—he was absurdly suspicious and capricious; he put out the lights and left the portrait in kindly darkness. Then, half as a reparation to his mistress, and half as a satisfaction to himself, he went up to spend an hour with Marian. She, at least, as he found, had no scruples. She thought the portrait altogether a success, and she was very willing to be handed down in that form to posterity. Nevertheless, when Lennox came in he went back into the painting room to take another glance. This time he lit but a single light. Faugh! it was worse than with a dozen. He hastily turned out the gas.

Baxter came the next day, as he had promised. Meanwhile poor Lennox had had twelve hours of uninterrupted reflection, and the expression of distress in his eyes had acquired an intensity which, the painter saw, proved it to be of far other import than a mere tribute to his power.

"Can the man be jealous?" thought Baxter. Stephen had been so innocent of any other design than that of painting a good portrait, that his conscience failed to reveal to him the source of his companion's trouble. Nevertheless, he began to pity him. He had felt tempted, indeed, to pity him from the first. He had liked him and esteemed him; he had taken him for a man of sense and of feeling, and he had thought it a matter of regret that such a man—a creature of strong spiritual needs—should link his destiny with that of Marian Everett. But he had very soon made up his mind that Lennox knew very well what he was about, and that he needed no enlightenment. He was marrying with his eyes open and had weighed the risks against the profits. Every one had his particular taste, and at 35 years of age John Lennox had no need to be told that Miss Everett was not quite all that she might be. Baxter had thus taken for granted that his friend had designedly selected as his second wife a mere pretty woman—a woman with a genius for receiving company, and who would make a picturesque use of his money. He knew nothing of the serious character of the poor man's passion, nor of the extent to which his happiness was bound up in what the painter would have called his delusion. His only concern had been to do his work well; and he had done it better because of his old interest in Marian's bewitching face. It is very certain that he had actually infused into his picture that force of characterization and that depth of reality which had arrested his friends' attention; but he had done so wholly without effort or without malice. The artistic half of Baxter's nature exerted a lusty dominion over the human half—fed upon its disappointments and grew fat upon its joys and tribulations. This, indeed, is simply saying that the young man was a true artist. Deep, then, in the unfathomed recesses of his strong and sensitive nature, his genius had held communion with his heart and had transferred to canvas the burden of its disenchantment and its resignation. Since his little affair with Marian, Baxter had made the acquaintance of a young girl whom he felt that he could love and trust forever; and, sobered and strengthened by this new emotion, he had been able to resume with more distinctness the shortcomings of his earlier love. He had, therefore, painted with feeling. Miss Everett could not have expected him to do otherwise. He had done his honest best, and conviction had come in unbidden and made it better.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

The Forth Bridge.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The directors of the great Forth Bridge met in Edinburgh yesterday and announced that the bridge would be completed sufficiently for railroad purposes by October next. New stock amounting to $1,750,000 was ordered and issued, and a new loan of $750,000 contracted.

Uncles and Aunts, a comedy by W. Lestocq and Walter Everard, was produced a the Comedy Theatre last night. The piece is of no value, having no motive sufficient to build a play on, and being barren of incidents or characterizations. The only valuable feature was the part of Zedekiah Aspen, a superannuated beau, played by Penley, the creator of the part of the Private Secretary. His make-up was funny to grotesqueness and his acting as telling as usual. Though he made a hit, the piece is so weak that it cannot live long.

Port Hope's New Industry.

PORT HOPE, Aug. 23.—Mr. A. W. Morris of the firm of A. W. Morris & Bro. of Montreal with their western traveller have been here all day and arrangements are now complete whereby this firm are to establish a twine factory here employing 100 hands. The works will be located at the Queen's Wharf and preparations will be begun to put the premises in order next week. They are expected to be ready and in full operation by Dec. 1 next.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for a neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 25, 1888.

THE SENATE TAKES TIME.

TO LISTEN TO PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE.

A Tedious Lot of Speeches—Republicans Consider the Retaliation Act of 1887 Adequate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The message from the President on the subject of the rejection of the Fisheries Treaty was laid before the Senate to-day and was read in full. The reading was listened to by Senators on both sides of the chamber with close attention. When it came to a close Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) moved that it be printed and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. Edmunds: "On that I would like to say a word, although I am in favor of it. If I had been five or six years younger than I am I should have been surprised at that message, but I am not and I am only very highly gratified at the patriotic expression of hopes, wishes, almost intentions, of the President of the United States in reference to the protection of American interests and American rights, but the peculiarity of the situation, as it seems to me, is that having a statute providing for self-defence approved by the President of the United States and passed by the substantially unanimous vote of both Houses—if that made any difference to his duty in faithfully executing the laws—and after full consideration of all its points and bearings, the extent to which it should go, the object for which it should be limited and the circumstances under which it should be brought into play, eighteen months in round numbers have gone by and we are now informed by the President of the United States—for I take it that is what he means, although no word of that kind is in the message—that no step of any kind has been taken to carry into execution the plain provisions of that law. It is true that the law did not require the President to put it into effect in the way of self-defence, (as I prefer to call it rather than retaliation,) until a case should have arisen of wrong and in justice which should satisfy him that American rights and interests were being unjustly dealt with. Now what has happened since the passage of that Act? If nothing has happened, if there have been no instances of injustice, of denial of American rights, of unjust treament of American citizens in the provinces of the Dominion, then of course the President is entirely right in taking no step in respect to the matter. However, in his opinion, as he now states it, there have been instances of denial of just rights to American citizens engaged in the business discussed in the Act of 1887. Why is it that the President has not taken any step in the exercise of the powers which the law imposed upon himandinthe exercise of the high duty which the coastitution imposes upon him?

Mr. Edmunds proceeded to inquire why, with the whole power of the law in his hands, the President, having knowledge of infringements upon American rights, had remained silent and inactive. The senator claimed that the Retaliation Act of 1887 was fully adequate to the protection of American rights and interests, and thought it a pity that the act, the force or weakness of which had never been tested by the first step, had been permitted to remain in innocuous desuetude.

Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.) asked how it was that the President in negotiating the treaty had been dumb in regard to Canadian violations of the treaty of 1871. Had the President believed all the time he was urging the treaty as a complete solution of the matter that it was not complete? It was idle for the President at this time to undertake to cover up his surrender by coming to the front in regard to this matter.

Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) said no exhibition of the caucus carcass could lessen the effect of the message on the honest American mind. The purpose of all this opposition had been to entrap the President and force him to do the bidding of the minority of the people represented in the senate by the majority. They had even threatened him with impeachment if he dared disobey their commands. He was gratified that the President was not alarmed at this and the people would like him better for this message. The Act of 1887 was prepared so as to throw all responsibility on the President.

Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) asked Mr. Morgan whether in view of the President's message he did not believe that it would have been better in laying the keel of the present negotiations to have included in them the subject matters which now seemed so grievous in the eyes of the President, would it not have been better to have had an all-embracing treaty?

Mr. Morgan replied that an all-embracing treaty would include the Behring Sea, the Monroe doctrine, the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and quite a number of matters.

Mr. Hale: "And why not if these are involved in our relations with Canada?"

Mr. Morgan: "I could give several answers to your question. The first answer is that they are not kindred subjects." Mr. Morgan went on to say that if the President were given the power to prohibit the passage of goods in bond, the subject would be touched at the core and two sets of people would be convinced—the railroad owners and the Canadians. Then we would have peace.

During Senator Morgan's speech he yielded to Senator Hoar to offer the following resolution, which was laid over:

"Resolved, that the President be requested, if not in his judgement incompatible with public interests, to communicate to the Senate copies of all communications to the Government of Great Britain remonstrating with that Government against the wrongs and unfair treatment of our fishermen in refunding to vessels and cargoes which pass through the Welland and other canals nearly the entire toll if they are destined to Canadian ports while those bound for American ports are not allowed any such advantages, and the breach of the engagement contained in the treaty of 1871, whereby Great Britain promised to the United States equality in the matter of such canal transportation. Also copies of any demand made by his direction on Great Britain for the redress of such wrongs and the replies of Great Britain to such communications and demands."

Mr. Hale characterized the message as a desperate expedient to recover lost ground and a confession of the weakness of the Administration's attitude as to the treaty.

Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) thought the message was a movement to gain ground. He said the discrimination in tolls on Canadian canals ought not to be submitted to. Said the Senator:

"If we deal with the Canadians on principles of justice and right we will win their favor rather than provoke opposition. I believe the result of such a mode of dealing would be the union of the Dominion of Canada and the Republic of the United States, and that would be best for all."

The debate was closed by a controversy between Senators Beck and Sherman about the financial policy of the present administration.

15,000 Copies to be Printed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—In the House today the resolution was adopted for printing 15,000 copies of the President's message.

What They Say in London.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Pall Mall Gazette suspends opinion on the real significance of Mr. Cleveland's message but says it looks ugly.

The Star (T. P. O'Connor's paper) says it has no fear of a war over the matter but is of the opinion that serious friction is certain to result.

The Globe asks if Mr. Cleveland has attempted a bid for the Irish vote.

The St. James Gazette says the position is awkard and unpleasant for both countries. The retaliation threatened is so illogical and unreasonable that it is difficult to understand its precise cause and meaning. Two plausible explanations occur. It may have been intended to influence votes or merely to bluff Canada into granting the American demands. There is no doubt that the matter is a serious one for Canada, not merely local affairs are concerned but Imperial interests are involved. England must and will supply proper safeguards for her Canadian interests. It is difficult to suppose that the matter will be allowed to end otherwise than in a perfectly friendly manner.

At the Capital.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—With reference to the President's message Sir A. P. Caron to-day said: "I do not anticipate any trouble. It is probably a case of the President going the Republicans one better. Cleveland, as I understand it, asks for increased power in regard to a point, which in my judgment it may not be necessary to inaugurate."

Hon. C. H. Tupper was seen, and expressed the opinion that the Republicans are attempting to score in the Presidential campaign because of the favorable attitude President Cleveland assumed in regard to a settlement of the fishery dispute. The result of a retaliatory measure would be to increase the inter-provincial trade, which the canal system would stimulate. He considers that the views of the Government are very well outlined in the budget speech of Sir Charles Tupper in 1887, in which he pointed out that the Canadian Pacific railway, the canal system and the channels of trade are likely to promote a stream of trade throughout the country and console us for whatever loss would result from retaliation.

Mr. George Johnson said: "We have the Intercolonial railway and the Temiscouata railway bringing St. John and Halifax into close all rail communication with the interior provinces. Our merchants should meet the threat of retaliation by at once cabling to Great Britain and other parts of Europe and ordering their goods via Halifax or St. John instead of via United States ports. Last year this was done in several instances when the Retaliatory Bill was threatened, and no doubt the plan will be adopted more generally for this autumn's importations. I understood at the time from several Toronto firms that by changing the route they saved money as well as made protest against the threatened action of the United States authorities. The transit trade over the United States, to and from Canada, has been on the wane for some time. In 1883 it amounted to nearly seventy million dollars of goods transported. Last year it was under thirty-four million dollars and in 1886 it was thirty-one million. An agitation like the President's message ought to bring the whole volume of our trans-United States trade into our channel.

J. R. Black, the lumberman, thought the bill would not come in force, and even if it did the consequences would not be disastrous. "We have the lumber and the Americans must get it. The sword is two edged and will cut both ways. The passage of the bill will kill shipments of lumber to the New York and Boston markets, but it has got to beexported, and the result will be that it will be shipped from Montreal and St. Lawrence River ports during the summer monts and Halifax during the winter. This of course will be Canada's gain.

Mr. E. B. Eddy of the Eddy Manufacturing Company did not think the president's policy was going to do Canadian lumbermen much harm. He added, "I would prefer that you should wait until I have an interview with President Grover Cleveland, as I intend doing, and then I will be able to tell you all about it."

Some agents of American export lumber companies doing business with the Canadian lumbermen were seen. Their impression is that the passage of the bill would be a serious thing for them. It simply meant the removal of the shipping yards from Boston and New York to Montreal and Halifax.

Fishermen's Opinions.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 25.—A crowd of vessel-owners congregated in the Merchants' exchange yesterday, talking over the President's message. It was the general opinion among business men that no one here wanted retaliation as outlined in the message. An embargo on Canadian fish and the same treatment as Americans receive would be all that would be required to settle the difficulty between the two countries. On the other hand the men who man the vessels are unanimous in their opinions that what the President had proposed is just right. Some of the skippers think the treaty should not have been rejected, because it could have been amended so as to make it satisfactory to all concerned.

Scott Act Convictions in Wellington.

PALMERSTON, Aug. 24.—Police Magistrate Lowes of Rothsay held court here to-day when he heard the charges which had been preferred against three hotelkeepers of this town, Alexander, Watt and Leopard for violation of the Scott Act. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Alexander. The constables on going to execute the warrant found the door barred. They secured a fence rail and battered in the door and after arresting the proprietor they took him to the court room where without being allowed time to secure legal advice he was tried and convicted as were the others. Watts and Alexander were fined $100 each, with the option of two months in jail, and Leopard $50.

Caza Pleads Not Guilty.

MONTREAL, Aug 27.—Caza was again brought into court yesterday to appear before the Coroner. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder and was committed for trial.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

THE DUTY COLLECTED ON THE FORMER DURING JULY $2,043,928.

Postoffice Saving Bank Balance $21,558,228—The Writ for Montreal East to be Issued Immediately.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—The Commissioner of Customs has issued a circular to the collectors of the various ports in Canada instructing them that crates, boxes and other inside boxes and packages, containing fruits which have been put on the free list by order-in-council or otherwise, are subjected to a duty of 20 per cent. of their cost under the provisions of section 8 of the tariff now in force. The issuing of the circular was rendered necessary because the matter was not properly understood and many packages have escaped duty.

Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine, left this morning for Halifax.

The writ for the Montreal East election is expected to be issued without delay.

Hon. Mr. Carling, Minister of Agriculture, last evening received a cable from the High Commissioner in London stating that the Queen paid a special visit to the Canadian court in the Glasgow exhibition and made a careful examination of the exhibits of the country, taking great interest in the grain, minerals, timber and natural history. The decorations of the court were greatly admired by the royal party.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, accompanied Mrs. Thompson as far as Montreal to-day on the way to Halifax.

Sir A. P. Caron has gone to Quebec.

The square timbermen of the Ottawa take a different view of the action of sawdust than do the lumber kings. It is said that the bay is so chocked up at Papineauville as to make rafting there almost impracticable and a deputation composed of Alonzo Wright and Mayor Major, of Papineauville have represented to the Government that the dredging operations at that point should be gone on with.

The Gazette to-morrow will contain notice of the expropriation of a lot of land on the line of the Cape Breton Railway.

Letters patent of incorporation have been granted to the Sarnia Towing and Transportation Co.

The statement of goods imported in Canada for July, exclusive of British Columbia, shows as follows:

Dutiable Goods	$6,272,930
Coin and Bullion	213,806
Free Goods	3,119,973
Total	$9,636,709
Duty Collected	$2,013,928

The total exports of goods from the Dominion of Canada during July were:

Produce of Canada	$8,904,222
" of other countries	700,911
Total	$9,605,133

Superintendent Pottinger of the Intercolonial Railway, who has been acting chief engineer of Government railways during the absence of Collingwood Schrieber, leaves next week for Moncton.

The postoffice saving bank account for July shows a credit balance of $21,558,228. The balance in the hand of the Finance Minister June 30 was $20,889,032.

AFFAIRS IN HAMILTON.

Enforcement of the Early Closing By-Law—Doctors in Court.

HAMILTON, Aug. 25—After a good deal of delay the police have decided to prosecute the storekeepers who have failed to comply with the Early Closing By-Laws, and yesterday morning several persons from each of the offending classes of business appeared before the police magistrate charged with breaking the law. As the police were not ready to proceed, the cases were adjourned until next Tuesday.

Judge Muir held a special court yesterday for the trial of Stephen Clarkson, charged with the larceny of a quantity of silver ware, belonging to John Templar, on Aug. 3, 1887. A large number of witnesses were examined and a strong case was made out against the defendant, who was sent to gaol for one month.

Amongst yesterday morning's Police Court cases was one in which Drs. Gaviller, Dillabough and McConachie were charged with a breach of the Health Act in failing to report a case of scarlatina which they attended. As the doctors declared the sickness was not contagious, the magistrate dismissed the case.

Mr. George S. Papps' house, was entered by a burglar last night, who found the effort so wearisome that he lay down on one of the beds and slept. The family were away. The burglar left with nothing but the cheerful recollection of a soft bed and comfortable sleep.

WINNIPEG WIRELETS.

The Northern Pacific Concedes the Modifications Demanded.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—It is announced tonight that the modifications in the Northern Pacific agreement asked by the Government have been conceded by the representatives of the company and a new contract is being prepared. So soon as it is completed the company will commence work.

Neither the company nor the Government will have any trouble about the ratification of the contract.

A caucus of Government supporters will be held Monday when it is said an effort will be made to read The Free Press out of the party. That paper has a bitter attack on the contract again this morning.

The weather continues oppressively warm and is splendid for harvesting.

Nicoll Kingsmill, solicitor for the Hudson Bay Road, left for New York to-day where he will meet Mr. Ross, who floated the scheme in London. Both are expected here next Thursday.

THE TOWER OF LONDON.

Is the Name of Gilbert and Sullivan's Latest Operatic Venture.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The name of Gilbert and Sullivan's new opera, about which so much speculation has been indulged in, is no longer a secret to such as have the inside track in matters theatrical and operatic, though it is still jealously guarded from the general public. Your correspondent is in a position to announce positively that the title of the new work is "The Tower of London," and that the story is woven about that ancient old fortress, which is the pride and glory of the genuine Briton. All the graces which have placed the scene of the opera in Norway, Sweden and a dozen other different places have been utterly wild. In "The Tower of London" Gilbert and Sullivan have produced a satire on the London craze for antiquities, especially for old architectural landmarks, as in "Patience" they satirized the Oscar Wilde craze on æstheticism. The cast embraces 11 principal singers and actors, and the chorus calls for 32 men and 24 women, who will represent the beef-eaters, soldiers and other human attachments of the Tower. The date for the production of "The Tower of London" in New York has been definitely fixed for Monday, Oct. 1. The opera will possibly be presented here on the Saturday night previously, Sept. 29, but the probability is that the two productions will be simultaneous.

Grand Trunk Earnings.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—The traffic returns of the Grand Trunk Railway Company for the week ending Aug. 18th were:

TORONTO TOPICS.

Privileges Extended by Rome to the Priests of the Archdiocese.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—The semi-annual retreat of the priests of the archdiocese of Toronto, which has been in progress all week in St. Michael's College, closed last night. Before the priests dispersed Very Rev. Father Rooney, co-administrator of the archdiocese, announced that he had that day received an answer from the Congregation of the Sacred College of the Propaganda at Rome to the petition of the priests of the United States by the Third Plenary Council held in Baltimore. These privileges consisted in the creation of immovable rectors, that is the appointment of priests to parishes, who after appointment could not be removed except for infringement of canonical law, the granting to these immovable rectors together with the bishops of the diocese the right to nominate candidates for any vacant diocese in their jurisdiction, and that these immovable rectors be selected from those priests who by their zeal, piety and ability had distinguished themselves in the service of the church. Father Rooney stated that the Congregation of the Propaganda had decreed that after the appointment of a successor to the late Archbishop a synod of the bishops of Ontario would be convened, when the privileges petitioned for by the priests would be granted.

At 11.30 o'clock last night James Maloney, aged 37, was marched into Police Headquarters charged with assaulting a street car conductor named Patrick O'Brien by striking him a stinging blow on the face with a whip. There was no row beforehand, and no words either of a kindly or other import had passed between O'Brien and his assailant. Just at this moment, however, a policeman appeared, and Maloney was taken into custody. While the prisoner was being searched at the station a young man named James Black, a brakeman on the G. T. R., entered to make a complaint against Maloney also. He stated that he was riding on a Queen and McCaul-street car when the prisoner drove up alongside, and without the least provocation struck him across the shoulders with a whip. He had seen Maloney in the hands of a policeman, and recognizing him, followed him to the station to make his charge.

On the register at the Queen's Hotel last night were written this galaxy of Grand Trunk magnates: Sir Henry Tyler, M. P., for Great Yarmouth, President of the Grand Trunk Railway Company; Joseph Hickson, General Manager; E. P. Hannaford, Chief Engineer; H. Wallis, Mechanical Superintendent; J. J. Lanning, Mr. Hickson's Secretary. Sir Henry and his party came from the west.

Mr. Simmons, poultry dealer, of North Toronto, is at the hospital suffering from concussion of the brain. He was thrown from his wagon in York-street yesterday.

An Italian calling himself Jim Jakes was brought to the hospital yesterday from Trenton, suffering from injuries to his left foot received last April and which had not been properly attended to.

George Robinson, who was injured on Wednesday night whilst trying to board the G. T. R. cars while in motion, has had his leg amputated at the Hospital.

The Anti-Poverty Society met last evening and perfected their plans for pushing the scheme for an exemption of $600 on all dwelling houses.

The injured bicyclist, Mr. Charles Doherty, son of Mr. C. B. Doherty, Pembroke-street, who was so badly injured by falling off his bicycle near Norway, is progressing favorably.

Patrick Boland was brought to the jail here from Mount Albert to await trial at the Assizes on the charge of criminal assault. It is alleged that the prisoner in company with one Archy Goodwin entered the house of Clara Higgs on the second concession of East Gwillimbury, on the night of Aug. 20, and committed the offence. Goodwin could not be identified, so he was discharged.

A $20,000 Fire.

ST THOMAS, Aug. 25.—On Thursday night the large grocery and hardware store owned and occupied by D. Urlin of Wallacetown was completely destroyed by fire. Loss $20,000, insurance on stock $10,000, building $15,000. The fire was caused by a lamp exploding among some oil and varnish.

SMALLEY'S GOSSIP.

Gladstone Quoted Against Gladstone—About Marriage.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Gladstone's comparison between Balfour and King Bomba has brought out some curious evidence. King Bomba, said Gladstone on Monday, did not put his political prisoners into the company of felons. A correspondent of The Times showed yesterday that Gladstone in his famous letters thirty-seven years ago to Lord Aberdeen quoted a case where he did. Gladstone replies to-day: "My statement was absolutely correct," but admits a single case which he had forgotten. The Times, however, declines to let him off. A single slip of memory would be nothing, but Gladstone wrote in 1851: "I have walked among a crowd of between three and four hundred Neapolitan prisoners—murderers, thieves and all kinds of ordinary criminals, some condemned, some uncondemned, and the politically accused, indiscriminately. The political prisoners could have a separate chamber by paying, but there was no division between them." Again, in answering at the time a critic who alleged that political offenders are kept separate from common felons, Gladstone said: "I might refer to my own ocular testimony, but it is enough to say that here again the Neapolitan government is silent." The Times naturally makes the most of this. What Gladstone's reply will be remains to be seen.

Another American lady, signing herself "A Yankee Matron," sends her opinions of marriage to The Daily Telegraph. She points out the superiority of American husbands in thoughtful attention to their wives. Upon this The St. James' Gazette says "Some time ago a well-known man of letters wrote in these pages to vindicate the superiority of American manners, and said Americans were more polite than Englishmen, which we believe to be true, especially where women are concerned." The Telegraph not content with English estimates of marriage as a failure, has interviewed Zola, but with little result. A letter from Dumas fils is equally wide of the point. "Marriage," says Dumas, "is not compulsory. Why all this fuss? Let those marry who like, and the rest remain single."

A Blaze at Ridgetown.

RIDGETOWN, Aug. 24.—Early this morning a barn owned by Thos. Brown, dentist, was destroyed by fire, and the main building of the Grand Central Hotel was badly scorched. Loss under $1000, covered by insurance. The cook of the hotel was badly burned in escaping from her room.

A Suspension at Almonte.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—Messrs. Cantlie Ewin & Co., of this city, selling agents for Elliott & Son., woollen manufactures, of Almonte have received word that the firm has suspended.

Rifle Shooting at the Capital.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—The annual matches of the Metropolitan Rifle Association were shot off to-day, the Nursery, Alonzo Wright, Gilmour and Patte matches being disposed of. In the latter No. 1 Co., 43rd Battalion carried off the laurels with a score of 115, G. G. F. G., No. 1, Co., being a good second. Private Rogers, of G. G. F. G., took first prize in the Nursery with a score of 29. Private G. Hutcheson, 43rd Battalion won first prize in the Gilmour match, with a score of 33.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 25, 1888.

RETALIATION.

THERE is a menace against Canada in the President's message to Congress—not so much on account of the additional powers he asks for as because, having taken this step as a campaign manœuvre, he may be impelled by the same political interests to carry retaliation into effect. The Republicans have very probably made political capital by their opposition to the fisheries treaty and the language of some of their speakers towards Canada and Great Britain. The President's message is a step forward into the Republican position, and it may retain for the Democratic party votes that it otherwise would have lost. At the same time the President's action is so absurdly inconsistent that he will scarcely fail to alienate from his support many of the more sensible of the people, those who cannot approve of trifling with grave questions for party purposes. That there was a difference of opinion between the Canadian Government and President Cleveland's administration is true, but their representatives met and agreed to a settlement which was approved of by both governments. President Cleveland himself endorsed the treaty as a settlement just to the United States and the Canadian Parliament approved of it; but because the United States Senate refused to ratify the treaty the President asks for further powers to punish Canada! This country agreed to an adjustment of the dispute satisfactory to Mr. Cleveland, and he threatens Canada because the Republican Senate rejected it! The position is a ridiculous one for the head of a great nation to occupy.

Canadians, however, are more interested in the effect the retaliation proposed would have upon this country, than in speculations as to what the Democratic candidate will gain by this piece of political strategy. Briefly stated, the President asks for power to abolish the privilege heretofore allowed Canadians of sending or bringing goods through the United States free of duty and to discriminate against Canadian vessels passing through the Sault Ste. Marie and St. Clair Flats canals by collecting tolls from them.

The request for power to abolish the bonding privilege is not in itself of a character to startle Canadians. The President, by the Retaliation Act of 1887, has larger powers than these he now asks for. That Act authorized him, if he saw fit, to prevent any goods from Canada from entering the United States. The President let that law remain in abeyance and has not used it. He evidently does not intend to use it now, and the chief menace in the new Act seems to be that by asking for it he implies an intention to put it in force. This country has received large quantities of goods from Europe through the United States, and the stoppage of the privilege would cause inconvenience. At the same time it will cause loss to the United States, because its railways will lose a portion of the trade they have had. Should this new power be granted and enforced, Canada would have to bring her imports and send her exports by way of Halifax or St. Johns in winter, but the fact that it does not lie in the power of the United States to isolate us is encouraging. The Atlantic ocean washes our coast, and, although we have found it convenient to do a portion of our trade in winter through the United States, importation would not be shut off by the closing of the United States ports to such merchandise. For the inconvenience caused Canada it would have the compensation of building up its own Atlantic ports and of its own railways doing a business formerly done by foreign roads. The Grand Trunk would be injured by Portland being shut to goods coming to Canada, and if the new law, if passed, would apply to the Canadian Pacific short line through Maine that railway would also suffer. Yet the Intercolonial railway, which is owned by the people, would do the business they lost and the larger business that would be lost to the United States railways. There is nothing in the President's message or in the bill introduced by Mr. Wilson to show that either the President or Congress contemplates preventing goods being carried from one point in the United States to another point in the same country and through Canada. Congress has been urged by railway interests in the United States to do this, and such action would injure Canadian railways more than the action at present threatened would. But the President bases his recommendation on the fact that Canada refuses to allow United States fishermen to transport their catches through this country in bond, and he proposes that the United States refuse to Canada the bonding privilege in reference to all kinds of goods.

If the bonding privilege is abolished, the result will be that the Canadian people will be inconvenienced, especially during one season of the year; that Canadian railways will be injured and United States railways injured still more; that a Canadian railway owned by the people will do the business lost by the other roads, and that the Canadian Atlantic ports will receive trade that now goes to ports in the United States.

The levying of tolls on Canadian vessels would injure the grain trade from the west to St. Lawrence ports. All vessels passing through the Welland canal are charged the same tolls, whether Canadian or foreign, and all those vessels, whether Canadian or not, that carry their cargoes to a Canadian port are allowed a rebate. By levying tolls from Canadian vessels passing through the Sault and St. Clair canals the advantage the St. Lawrence ports have would be taken away, and they would be handicapped if they engaged in the carrying trade to the United States ports. As Canada has no canal route yet from the west the United States is in a better position to hamper our vessel carrying trade than to effect trade done by the railways. However, as the Dominion owns the Welland canal, through which United States vessels must pass, the Canadian Government can meet the Republic in any attempts it may make to injure us in that direction, and an arrangement regarding the canals would probably be made.

It may not be amiss to point out that the powers the President asks for have not yet been given. The House of Representatives will probably comply with his request, but the Senate is Republican, and the Senate may refuse to do so on the ground that the proposed action would injure United States interests by depriving its ports and railways of trade. If the Senate should take that ground, the President would either enforce the retaliation act of 1887 or throw the responsibility upon the Senate for his being unable to retaliate in a way he believed would be effectual. There is, too, the possibility of the President being forced, by the same considerations of party policy that impelled him to take this step, to go farther in the direction of retaliation. The situation is not without gravity, even if the President's message is primarily a campaign dodge, but the United States may rely upon this country not being bulldozed into surrendering her rights. Filibustering may be a successful method of dealing with Mexico, but Canadians come of a different stock. They will maintain their rights, though they are ready to treat fairly and justly with their neighbors. They do not desire a continuance of the dispute with the Republic; they have shown in the most positive way their willingness to amicably and in a reasonable and just way settle the differences, but more they are not ready to do.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10,00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00

2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During August goods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

WHAT IS IT?

It Is One of the Great Marvels of the World

It is called "Cosmos, the Great Oracle of Human Destiny," and something remarkable, and is creating great interest among scientists at the present day. The above cut is a fac-smile of a stone excavated from the Temple of Truth (so called) in Athens Greece, in the year, 1527, and placed in the British Museum in London, Eng.

This stone has been noticed without doubt by many residents of this town who have visited the museum. It stands in the "Corridor of Wonders."

The letters appearing on the cut above are in Hieroglyphics on the original stone, but were translated some years ago by Prof. Bartlett of the Howard University, who discovered that they had a hidden meaning, and there are positive proofs that the stone is thousands of years old, and formed part of the belief of the Chaldeans of Persia who were great astrologists, and from which our present knowledge of astronomy is mostly derived.

This wonderful combination of letters arranged in circles around the solar system will, in connection with the key discovered by Prof. Bartlett to read it by astonish and amaze you with the phenominal accuracy with which it answers questions that anyone may ask in regard to Business Enterprises, Love, Money matters, Destiny, and what every young lady and gentlemen who reads this advertisement is just dying to know about Love and Marriage. It is bound to create a sensation outside of the serious import which the replies of "Cosmos" gives. There is lots of fun and amusement in it, for the home circles, and as a parlor game, it will produce what we will call original fun in abundance. Everybody should have one.

We have been to large expense to obtain the copper plate to print copies of the letters on the wonderful stone for distribution, and although copies of Cosmos on handsome placques are being sold in the large cities for $1.00 each, we purpose as a novel way of advertising and as is our custom when we have anything good and interesting to do it in a liberal way, and to give the entire populace an opportunity to secure one. We shall give one copy with the directions to read it by free to each purchaser of any article in our store for the next 60 days, after which they will not be given free. No doubt thousands of people will avail themselves of this opportunity, but we have enough to supply the demand. Obtain a "Cosmos" and send one to your friends out of town and it will please them as much as though they had found a $10.00 bill. Ask for "Cosmos" at the store of Canadian Commodore and Secretary.

At the annual meeting of the American Canoe Association held on Wednesday evening last at the camp, Lake George, N. Y., Col. H. C. Rogers, of Peterborough, was elected Commodore of the A.C.A. for 1889. The nomination, which was very popular, was made by Mr. Stevens, N.Y. club, and the election was made unanimous and received with applause. Mr. G. W. Hatton was elected Secretary of the A.C.A. and was warmly congratulated. He will do justice to the position.

Sunday School Anniversary.

The anniversary of the Sunday school of the Zion church, Smith, will be celebrated on Wednesday, Sept 5th, by a tea meeting and entertainment. Tea will be served from 5 to 7 p. m., and after tea addresses will be delivered by the Rev. F. J. Johnston and the Rev. C. W. Coon, of Lakefield, and the Rev. S. Ferguson, of Smith. A choice programme of musical and literary selections will also be rendered by the school children. An interesting feature of the evening will be the disposal of an autograph quilt. The Zion people are preparing for an enjoyable time.

Foreign Horses for the States.

The finest lot of horses ever seen, perhaps, in this country passed through this morning on the C.P.R. The train of twenty-three cars and one passenger coach left Montreal last night at six o'clock and passed here shortly after nine this morning. There were about 250 horses in the shipment, 30 or 40 of them being Shetland ponies. The horses were picked up in France, England and Scotland and were destined for the Western States, having been purchased by a syndicate of gentlemen in Iowa and Missouri. There were some of the most handsome and powerfully built Clydesdales among the horses, some of them being large beasts with massive necks and they looked as though they could pull the train itself. No stop was made here only to water the locomotive, the C. P. R. having contracted to run the train straight through on passenger time. The cars in which the horses travelled were the C. P. R. palace horse cars, which are divided into stalls and make the transit much easier. There were about fifty men engaged to attend to the horses on the train.

Mr. W. H. Dingle will resume his classes in music on Monday, Aug. 27th. Intending pupils will please apply as soon as possible. 5d42-1w34

Undergoing Repairs.

Mr. Duff's private school on Brock-st. is undergoing alterations, which will give increased accommodation for pupils. The autumn session will commence on Monday, the 3rd September. 4d43

Send in Your Accounts.

All persons having accounts against the corporation of the town of Peterborough will confer a favor by handing the same to the town clerk as soon as convenient, before Monday evening if possible.

Something Worth Knowing.

Buy 4 large boxes of good matches for 25 cents, at W. J. Morrow's. He continues to sell all goods cheap. Preserving sugar very cheap, 18 pounds for $1.00. As I am now receiving my new importations of tea all my old lines must be sacrificed.

We promise you fair treatment and fair prices at The Pantry store. 32tf.

Town Finances.

The Finance Committee met last night and passed several accounts. The rate of taxation for 1888 was discussed but not fixed, although it will probably be the same as last year. The Separate school demand for this year is $2,500, being $2,000 less than last year.

A Quiet Wedding.

A couple were married here last night by a Methodist clergyman, who had the ceremony performed in a quiet manner. They were Mr. John Johnston, of Toronto, whose calling was given as that of a student, and Miss Adelaide Maybee, of Port Hope. They proceeded to the parsonage, having procured the license, and were made one in the presence of the minister's family only, and departed as quietly as they came.

James Begg's Recovery.

It is now confidently expected that James Begg, the unfortunate fellow who fell from the third storey window of the City Hotel, will recover. His injuries have not proved to be as serious as was at first supposed and there appears to be nothing to prevent him from continuing on the mend until once more convalescent. There was no displacement of the back bone and the internal injuries have not proved to be serious.

To work once More.

To-day is the last day of freedom from study and school discipline that the school children will enjoy, as Monday morning the schools all open and work for another term will be commenced. Some of the children will, perhaps, be only too glad to once more be at the desk, but the majority will with a dejected spirit hunt up the old school books and bags, feeling that the vacation has been only too short. The business college also resumes its session on Monday.

Good Saturday Market.

There was a large market this morning and the attendance was good. Twenty-three and twenty-four cents was asked for butter, and eggs were bringing fifteen and sixteen cent. Green corn sold at 10c. a dozen and potatoes at 20c. a peck or 90c. per bag. Harvest eating apples and crab apples were plentiful at from 20c. to 25c. per peck for the former and 15c. for the latter. Several pails of black currents sold at 7c. per quart, while other small fruit was rather scarce. Chickens were in good supply, and were selling at from 30c. to 50c. per pair, according to quality. A few loads of grain were on the market, oats bringing 39c.

Music in the Park.

Greatly was the open air concert of the Fire Brigade Band enjoyed last evening by the large crowd which promenaded court house park. The music was excellent and much appreciated. After "God Save the Queen" had started everyone on the homeward journey, the departing multitude was halted by the strains of bag-pipes coming from the park. This was explained presently when six or eight of the bandsmen came marching down each playing his instrument in such a manner that the intermingling of sound gave a first-class imitation of the Scotchman's delight. They marched to the hall playing "The Campbell's are Coming."

The Army Anniversary.

Looking at the field now covered in this country by the Salvation Army, the number of stations it has and buildings it owns, and the number of its officers and soldiers, it is hardly conceivable, to one not acquainted with its history, that it is only six years since it first entered Canada. Yet such is the fact, and the sixth anniversary of that event will be celebrated in Peterborough on Thursday and Friday, September 13th and 14th. The following officers will take part:—Commissioner Coombs, of Toronto; Col. and Mrs. Dawdle, England; Major Bailey, C. S., Toronto; Major Musa-Bahi, of Southern India; Staff Captain Jayamani, India; Lieut. Muthabararaumm, a high caste Hindoo lady, and Lieut. Deva-Sepa, of Ceylon, India. The Hindoos will be dressed in their native costume and will speak and sing in their own tongue. Some fifty field and staff officers will be present and hundreds of soldiers, and brass and string bands will be in attendance. Cheap rates have been secured on the railways and the Army is in for a celebration on a big scale.

The best medical authorities acknowledge the value of Ayer's Pills, and prescribe them with the utmost confidence, as the most effectual remedy for diseases caused by derangements of the stomach, liver, and bowels.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

One of Port Hope's Young Ladies Drowned in the Lake.

One of those distressing accidents that casts a gloom over the whole community occurred at Port Hope last night, and which resulted in the death by drowning of one of the brightest and most highly esteemed young ladies of the town, Miss Lillie Holland, daughter of Mr. R. H. Holland, Police Magistrate. About 8 o'clock in the evening the young lady accompanied by Mr. Robinson, American Consul at the port, went out for a sail on the lake in a canoe. The boat was of good size, but not a suitable craft for such an occasion, as there was a stiff wind blowing and quite a sea on. In fact the weather looked so threatening that the captain of the Steamer Norsman lying at the wharf and due to leave on her regular trip across the lake decided not to put out in the face of the gale. Mr. Robinson, it appears, was not venturesome, and rather doubtful as to the wisdom of going canoeing under the circumstances, but the young lady insisted on the trip. Shortly after they left the boat house it grew very dark and the water extremely rough. While rounding the last pier the canoe, as near as can be ascertained, capsized. People about the wharf were very much excited at presently hearing cries for help, but in the stiff breeze blowing could not locate the direction from which the calls proceeded, and the rapidly increasing darkness prevented them seeing for any distance out on the lake. In response to the calls for help and great personal risk Mr. A. Perks and Mr. H. Reid took a boat and went to the rescue. Guided by faint cries they worked out some distance and were shocked to find on reaching the canoe that Miss Holland had disappeared while Mr. Robinson, in an almost completely exhausted condition, was clinging to the upturned boat. The rescuers with difficulty took Mr. Robinson on board and made some search for the unfortunate young lady, but no trace could be found. Mr. Robinson was removed to his residence where he lies in a very low condition with some hopes for his recovery. A large searching party were at work this morning endeavoring to recover the body of Miss Holland, but up to nearly noon had not been successful.

Personal.

Miss Miller, of the Central Church choir, Rochester, who is visiting in town, will sing to-morrow evening in the George-st. Methodist Church.

Mr. Frank Henry, of the firm of Quinn & Henry, barristers, Toronto, was in town today. He has been enjoying a couple of weeks of rest in the north.

Yachting at Old Orchard.

The Sea Shell, of Old Orchard, Maine, in its issue of Aug. 22nd contains an account over a column long of a yacht race that took place there on the previous day. There were four yachts in the race, and each one carried five passengers. On one yacht rode Mr. Harry LeBrun, and whether the genial lacrosse king was the mascot or not, the Duett, upon which he sailed, won the first prize, a silver pitcher, the second yacht, the Amphitrite, getting a cup.

Niagara in 1825.

Three pencil sketches on exhibition in the window of Mr. A. Clegg's furniture establishment are of some little interest. They are sketchings of Niagara Falls and the whirlpool, and the first glance is suffice to tell you that many years have elapsed since the artist's pencil finished its work, as the paper is yellow with age and the penciling has grown dim. They were drawn by Mrs. E. Boulton, wife of the Hon. George Boulton, of Cobourg, in 1825, and are remarkably clean pieces of work. They were sketched from nature and a person can see few changes in the landscape during the last sixty-four years.

Mrs. Nicholls' Illness.

The telegram received by Mr. Richard Hall yesterday afternoon announcing that Mrs. Robert Nicholls was dangerously ill at Ashbury Park, N. Y., caused a feeling of intense sympathy for the suffering lady, and many were the anxious inquiries during the evening and to-day as to whether any further particulars had been received. The telegram was wired by Mrs. Nicholls' physician. Mr. Richard Hall and Mr. C. McGill, of the Ontario Bank, left last evening for Ashbury Park, N. Y. These gentlemen will not arrive in New York until this evening, and will be unable to make connections with Ashbury Park, so that it will probably be Monday morning before any further word is received from Ashbury Park, unless, of course, the worst should happen. Miss Dugan sent a telegraphic message last evening enquiring as to the condition of Mrs. Nicholls, but the same reply was returned, that she was dangerously ill; so that no more is known this afternoon than was told in the telegram of yesterday.

A Peterborough Boy's Success.

We had a call this afternoon from Mr. E. A. Hodgson, an old graduate of the REVIEW who has been pushing his fortunes in the States. Mr. Hodgson left Peterborough some 18 years ago and though a young man comparatively has made good progress and has achieved much success as a specialist in connection with the education of deaf mutes in New York State. He lost his hearing during the Chicago fire, and worked some time at the printing business in connection with newspaper work. By push and ability he soon reached the editorial chair and presently started a newspaper which has proved a great success. It is largely circulated among the deaf mutes in the States and Canada. In the United States at present their are 38,000 deaf mutes. A few years ago they undertook to collect a fund for a statue to commemorate the introduction of the system of educating the deaf and dumb into America by Rev. Thomas Hopkins Gallandet, in 1817. The fund has reached the sum of $12,000, and the statue, which will be of bronze, will be unveiled in Washington, D.C., in June, 1889, under the auspices of the National Association of Deaf-Mutes, of which Mr. Hodgson is President, and at which Mr. Hodgson will deliver the address. He had the honorary degree of M. A. conferred on him by the National College in Washington, D.C., the diploma being signed by President Arthur. Mr. Hodgson is an able scholar and is rapidly making his way in the field of work which he has chosen. While about town to-day Mr. Hodgson met many old friends who knew him as a boy and said he was gratified to find the place looking so prosperous, and that he had looked the town up just to see that it had not collapsed during his absence.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS.

The Irish Gentlemen in the Lead at Ottawa—Games Yesterday.

OTTAWA, Aug. 25.—The cricket match between the Gentlemen of Ireland and Ottawa was fairly attended yesterday. The visitors went to bat first scoring 150 runs in the first innings, the highest scores being Hines 61, E. Fitzgerald 28, D. Cronin 34 and J. Dunn 16. The Ottawas offered but little resistance to the brilliant bowling of the Irishmen, the best batters Little, B. T. A. Bell, J. H. Senkler, J. Brunnell, Turson, Hule and L. Case being put out for 33 runs for nine wickets. The match continues to-day.

Lacrosse Points.

An exhibition match was played yesterday at St. Catharines between the Athletics of that place and the Shamrocks of Montreal resulting in a victory for the visitors by three games to one.

Baseball at Campbellford.

The Peterborough Baseball Club will probably go to Campbellford to play the local nine there on Thursday next. The club is also corresponding with several other clubs with a view to getting on matches.

It will be a Close Match.

The Shamrock and Ætna lacrosse clubs will meet to settle the question of which is the better team a week from Monday. They will play at Hastings in connection with the Labor picnic, and it will no doubt be a good exhibition of lacrosse. It is hoped, however, that the boys will keep cool and not let their anxiety to win run away with heads or allow any pugilistic exhibitions in connection with the game.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger airl passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

Upset into the Raceway.

Yesterday afternoon as Wainwright's ice waggon was driven into their ice house near Riverside Park the horses started and by some means, the waggon, ice and horses were all upset into the raceway. One of the wheels came off the waggon and considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the waggon righted and out of the water.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same—feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

STORY OF A MASTERPIECE.

By HENRY JAMES, Jr.

Lennox had begun to feel very curious about the history of his companion's acquaintance with his destined bride; but he was far from feeling jealous. Somehow he felt that he could never again be jealous. But in ascertaining the terms of their former intercourse, it was of importance that he should not allow the young man to suspect he had discovered in the portrait any radical defect.

"Your old acquaintance with Miss Everett," he said, frankly, "has evidently been of great use to you."

"I suppose it has," said Baxter. "Indeed, as soon as I began to paint, I found her face coming back to me like a half remembered tune. She was wonderfully pretty at that time."

"She was two years younger."

"Yes, and I was two years younger. Decidedly, you are right. I have made use of my old impressions."

Baxter was willing to confess to so much; but he resolved not to betray anything that Marian had herself kept secret. He was not surprised that she had not told her lover of her former engagement; he expected as much. But he would have held it inexcusable to attempt to repair her omission.

Lennox's faculties were acutely sharpened by pain and suspicion, and he could not help detecting in his companion's eyes an intention of reticence. He resolved to baffle it.

"I am curious to know," he said, "whether you were ever in love with Miss Everett?"

"I see no hesitation in saying Yes," rejoined Baxter; fancying that a general confession would help him more than a particular denial. "I am one of a thousand, I fancy. Or on perhaps, of only a hundred. For you see I've got over it. I'm engaged to be married."

Lennox's countenance brightened. "That's it," said he. "Now I know what I didn't like in your picture—the point of view. I'm not jealous," he added. "I should like the picture better if I were. You evidently care nothing for the poor girl. You have got over your love rather too well. You loved her, she was indifferent to you, and now you take your revenge." Distracted with grief, Lennox was taking refuge in irrational anger.

Baxter was puzzled. "You'll admit," said he with a smile, "that is a very handsome revenge." And all his professional self esteem rose to his assistance. "I've painted for Miss Everett the best portrait that has yet been painted in America. She herself is quite satisfied."

"Ah!" said Lennox, with a magnificent dissimulation; "Marian is generous."

"Come, then," said Baxter; "what do you complain of? You accuse me of scandalous conduct, and I'm bound to hold you to an account." Baxter's own temper was rising, and with it his sense of his picture's merits. "How have I perverted Miss Everett's expression? How have I misrepresented her? What does the portrait lack? Is it ill drawn? Is it vulgar? Is it ambiguous? Is it immodest?" Baxter's patience gave out as he recited these various charges. "Fiddlesticks!" he cried; "you know as well as I do that the picture is excellent."

"I don't pretend to deny it. Only I wonder that Marian was willing to come to you."

It is very much to Baxter's credit that he still adhered to his resolution not to betray the young girl, and that rather than do so he was willing to let Lennox suppose that he had been a rejected adorer.

"Ah, as you say," he exclaimed, "Miss Everett is so generous!"

Lennox was foolish enough to take this as an admission. "When I say, Mr. Baxter," he said, "that you have taken your revenge, I don't mean that you've done so wantonly or consciously. My dear fellow, how could you help it? The disappointment was proportionate to the loss and the reaction to the disappointment."

"Yes, that's all very well; but, meanwhile, I wait in vain to learn wherein I've done wrong."

"Lennox looked from Baxter to the picture, and from the picture back to Baxter.

"I defy you to tell me," said Baxter. "I've simply kept Miss Everett as charming as she is in life."

"Oh, damn her charms!" cried Lennox.

"If you were not the gentleman, Mr. Lennox," continued the young man, "which, in spite of your high temper, I believe you to be, I should believe you"——

"Well, you should believe me?"

"I should believe you simply bent on cheapening the portrait."

Lennox made a gesture of vehement impatience. The other burst out laughing and the discussion closed. Baxter instinctively took up his brushes and approached his canvas with a vague desire to detect latent errors, while Lennox prepared to take his departure.

"Stay!" said the painter, as he was leaving the room; "if the picture really offends you, I'll rub it out. Say the word," and he took up a heavy brush, covered with black paint.

But Lennox shook his head with decision and went out. The next moment, however, he reappeared. "You may rub it out," he said. "The picture is, of course, already mine."

But now Baxter shook his head. "Ah! now it's too late," he answered. "Your chance is gone."

Lennox repaired directly to Mr. Everett's apartments. Marian was in the drawing room with some morning callers, and her lover sat by until she had got rid of them. When they were alone together Marian began to laugh at her visitors and to parody certain of their affectations, which she did with infinite grace and spirit. But Lennox cut her short and returned to the portrait. He had thought better of his objections of the preceding evening; he liked it.

"But I wonder, Marian," he said, "that you were willing to go to Mr. Baxter?"

"Why so?" asked Marian, on her guard. She saw that her lover knew something, and she intended not to commit herself until she knew how much he knew.

"An old lover is always dangerous."

"An old lover!" and Marian blushed a good honest blush. But she rapidly recovered herself. "Pray where did you get that charming news?"

"Oh, it slipped out," said Lennox.

Marian hesitated a moment. Then with a smile: "Well, I was brave," she said. "I went."

"How came it," pursued Lennox, "that you didn't tell me?"

"Tell you what, my dear John?"

"Why, about Baxter's little passion. Come, don't be modest."

Modest! Marian breathed freely. "What do you mean, my dear, by telling your wife not to be modest? Pray don't ask me about Mr. Baxter's passions. What do I know about them?"

"Did you know nothing of this one?"

"Ah, my dear, I know a great deal too much for my comfort. But he's got bravely over it. He's engaged."

"Engaged, but not quite disengaged. He's an honest fellow, but he remembers his penchant. It was as much as he could do to keep his picture from turning to the sentimental. He saw you as he fancied you—as he wished you; and he has given you a little look of what he imagines moral loveliness, which comes within an ace of spoiling the picture. Baxter's imagination isn't very strong, and this same look expresses, in point of fact, nothing but inanity. Fortunately he's a man of extraordinary talent, and a real painter, and he's made a good portrait in spite of himself."

To such arguments as these was John Lennox reduced, to stifle the evidence of his senses. But when once a lover begins to doubt he cannot cease at will. In spite of his earnest efforts to believe in Marian as before, to accept her without scruple and without second thought, he was quite unable to repress an impulse of constant mistrust and aversion. The charm was broken, and there is no mending a charm. Lennox stood half aloof, watching the poor girl's countenance, weighing her words, analyzing her thoughts, guessing at her motives.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for aneat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you an get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

THE RETALIATION PUZZLE.

WILL ENGAGE BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS THIS WEEK.

The Plumed Knight Discusses Cleveland's Message as One of the Issues of the Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—It is probable that the President's message and the legislation he has asked for will occupy most of the time of Congress this week. It is understood that several speeches will be delivered in the Senate on the subject and that it will come up immediately after the morning hour to-morrow. The message is now on the desk of the President of the Senate, with a motion by Mr. Sherman to refer it to the Committee on Foreign Relations. The talk will also turn upon the resolution of Mr. Hoar, calling upon the State Department for the correspondence had with Canada relating to the fisheries troubles.

If the Foreign Affairs Committee is able to get a quorum it may report back to the House during the week the Wilson retaliatory bill, with the result of transferring in part to the House the interest which followed the debate last week upon the President's message.

One Benefit of Non-Intercourse.

OTTAWA, Aug. 25.—It is claimed in Government circles that one effect of the policy of non-intercourse on the part of the United States will be to insure the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway giving the Northwest another outlet for the wheat crop.

BLAINE TALKS.

A Reiteration of Familiar Arguments—His View of the Fisheries Controversy.

LEWISTON, Me., Aug. 26.—The second public address of Mr. Blaine on the political issues of the campaign was delivered in the City Hall at Lewiston last night. Mr. Blain said:

"I did not appen to have an opportunity of reading the full text of President Cleveland's message on the fisheries subject until this morning, and, with all due respect to the Chief Executive of the nation, I must say that, considering all the circumstances, it is the most extraordinary document that ever was sent from the White House to the Capitol. Here are the main facts of the issue between Canada and the United States or, perhaps, to speak more exactly, between Great Britain and the United States in respect to the fisheries:

"It was our belief, and still is, that after the articles of the Treaty of Washington relating to the fisheries had expired, the Canadian Government behaved in an unneighborly, unseemly and unjust manner towards our fishermen in refusing them rights which they had enjoyed by long prescription. In order to bring the government of the Dominion to a just appreciation of the subject, Congress authorized the President, in the spring of 1887, to adopt, at his discretion, a policy of suitable retaliation, directing, among other things, that whenever and so long as American vessels were deprived of commercial privileges in the ports of Canada, Canadian vessels should be deprived of like privileges in the ports of the United States. This, if a may indulge in appropriate slang, was I genuine tit-for-tat policy, in which the punishment was admirably fitted to the crime. President Cleveland declined to enforce the policy and allowed outrage after outrage upon our fishing vessels to go unredressed. He was bant upon negotiation of some kind with England, even against the express will and wish of the United States Senate and in defiance of the large share in the treaty-making power which the Constitution assigns to the Senate. Finally, without the consent of the Senate, and practically against its protest, the President organized a commission to frame a treaty that should settle all points of dispute. He thus gave what was never intended by the Constitution, a partisan side to an international discussion. It was never designed by the founders of our government that intercourse with foreign nations should be conducted by Republicans or Democrats, or by Whigs, or by Federalists. It should only be by the nation as a whole.

"Why should the railways of the United States, that annually transport $50,000,000 of Canadian goods in transit, be deprived of their business and endure a large loss on account of a sudden whim of the President? Why should the transit from Detroit to Buffalo and New York over both American and Canadian lines of rail be suspended when it has no relation whatever to the fishery question? Why should the large traffic between Quebec and Montreal on the one hand and Portland on the other by which Portland becomes the winter port of Canada, be summarily stopped at the caprice of the President, because of his chagrin in over the course of an independent, but, as he considers, refractory Senate? Is it the design of the President to make the fishery question odious by embarrassing commercial relations and commercial exchange along 3,000 miles of frontier, and to inflict upon American communities a needless, a vexatious and a perilous confusion of trade?

"If Congress will give him the enactments which he asks, he will give them retaliation until they cry "Hold, enough," and will allow him to settle the fishery question in the precise manner in which the Senate now contemptuously rejects. Or, after all, fellow-citizens, is not the President's position a mere political device to divert the attention of the American people from his free trade message and from the Mills Tariff bill? Is not bluster on the fisheries to be the plan of campaign for the Democratic party? Are not permits for bravado to be issued by the political agents of the administration, marked on the back 'Good till after the first Tuesday of November.'?

"It is plainly apparent from the text of the Constitution itself that the wise men who framed it intended that the ordinary legislative power should be committed to the majority, however small, but that no treaty could be framed without the overwhelming support of public opinion. They provided, therefore, that it should require in all cases two-thirds of the Senate to ratify a treaty, but despite this the national administration went ahead regardless of results and negotiated a treaty so repugnant to the American instinct of national self-respect that, instead of securing a ratification by two-thirds of the Senate, it was absolutely rejected by a majority vote. What then? At the first rebound the President has leaped so far over on the other side that he asks authority to cripple all our commercial relations with Canada, from Passamaquody Bay to Vancouver's Island. Having for three years offered to waive the rights of the fishermen and the national dignity at the same time, the President desires now to cross over to the other side of the question and out Herod Herod in his demands for redress. He seems eager to-day to discharge a whole battery of Krupp guns on the question, when last year a blank cartridge from a pocket pistol would have settled the whole affair. After subjecting the country month after month to the humiliation of an unprecedented surrender, the President's supporters, with the zeal of new converts, rather with the extravagant enthusiasm of pretenders, are now manifesting such renewed and deep and keen sense of the wrongs we have experienced from Great Britain in Canada in the matter of the fisheries, that they second the President's extraordinary somersault and in the slang of the Democratic heelers, they are "thirsting for gore." The Democratic papers were but a short time ago telling Massachusetts and Maine that their contemptible little question over a few codfish on the banks of Newfoundland was not worth consideration in the national Congress, and that if they kept annoying the country about it they would in the end, drive Congress into giving the full markets of the United States to all fishermen of the Dominion."

Mr. Blaine then referred at length to the matter of the Johnson-Clarendon treaty, which was rejected by the Senate, and the subsequent adjustment of the Alabama claims, saying that history would repeat itself. He claimed that the Democrats had never been fortunate in their diplomatic relations with Great Britain and said if it had not been for the blundering of that party the Stars and Stripes would to-day float over the Pacific front from the Gulf of California to Behring Straits.

He concluded as follows:

"President Cleveland is exactly following Presidents of his party in his negotiations with Great Britain, an alternation of bluster and of surrender, both of which are equally inconsistent with the dignity of a nation conscious of its great power. We certainly do not desire a continuance of the diplomacy which, after studying a subject for three years, can radically change the position of the national administration between Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning. On Wednesday the President was still urging the Senate, through the entire body of Democratic Senators, to surrender all our rights in the fisheries by agreeing to the treaty, and on Thursday he put those Senators to shame by directly reversing the position he had strenuously held for three preceding years. I do not believe the American people will submit to such trifling with a great question. I believe, rather, that they will commit the government to the great party which from the first day of Lincoln's administration to the last hour of President Arthur's has maintained the force and prestige and right of the union against rebellion at home and aggression from abroad and did it without bravado or bluster on the one hand and without humiliating surrender on the other."

Candidate Thurman's Speech.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—At the Democratic demonstration at Cheltenham Beach yesterday, Hon. A. G. Thurman, Democratic candidate for Vice-President, spoke as follows:

"You have within the last few days heard not a little about a message of the President to the Congress of the United States—[Hurrahs for Cleveland]—on the subject of the rejection of the fisheries treaty so-called. Now, my friends, allow me to say a word upon that subject. I have no copy of the fisheries treaty in my possession here; I therefore cannot discuss it, for I would not discuss it from mere recollection; and I have no copy of the President's message down here and therefore cannot read or quote from it; but this I want to say to you: Some years ago this country was greatly agitated by a party called the Know-nothing party. It was a party whom the Irishman was an abomination of abominations [laughter], and if he were a Catholic Irishman he was the accursed of the earth [a voice, "We don't want it again"]; but now, strange to say, those men, who, a few years ago were Know-nothings, and the most abusive of men of the Irish, the Germans and of all foreign-born people, but of the Irish especially, are seeking to court what is called the Irish vote, to get the Irishmen to vote against the men who stood firm by them in defence of their right. ["They can't do it,"] in defence of everything that was alleged against them. ["They never will"] No, I hope not. Now they are seeking to get their votes by misrepresenting Cleveland and asserting that he is under British influence. ["They will never get it."] My friends, there never was a more false assertion made by mortal man than that Grover Cleveland is under British influence. You might as well undertake to tell me that Washington was under British influence as that Grover Cleveland is. [Cheers.] If any man thinks for a moment that there is anything in that charge worth investigating, all I have to say to him is, read the President's message sent to Congress this very week, and if you can then say that he is under British influence you can say that white is black and black is white. [Cheers and great applause.] No, my friends, Grover Cleveland knows too well what are the interests of this country. He has too much sympathy with the American people, native and naturalized, to be under any false or improper influence of any country on the face of the globe, or under the influence of any country except his own."

MR. VAN HORNE INTERVIEWED.

He Says American Interests Would Be Damaged Far More than Canadian.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 26.—W. C. Van Horne, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, being interviewed for The Pioneer Press on the proposals contained in the President's message said:

"The policy of non-intercourse between the United States and Canada would damage American railroad interests between two and three dollars where it would injure Canadian interests one. All the Michigan roads would be heavily damaged. New England lines would be hurt, particularly those depending on Canadian lines for an outlet, and the same is true of the lines centering at Niagara, which would have to look to the notoriously illiberal Vanderbilt system for a western connection, or to the Erie, which is a competitor for the very business it would be asked to take west. Roads like the Wabash would also suffer. Roads running north-east from Chicago would only be injured indirectly in the proportion that their business goes on the Grand Trunk. The "Soo" and Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic would of course be heavy losers. However the transfer of flour and breadstuffs for export would not be hindered, as it does not go into Canada.

"Lake interests would be damaged. Since Secretary Manning's order of July, 1886, all the lake business from Duluth, Milwaukee and Chicago to Sarnia, Collingwood and other Canadian railroad ports has gone in American bottoms, and this would be knocked in the head.

"On the Canadian side the blow would fall rather heavily on the Grand Trunk lines but to the Canadian Pacific would be comparatively slight. There is no money for us in American freight anyway, and we could of course hold the passenger business. We would lose the advantages given by the lines to the "Soo" and that is about all. The balance to all this damage is found only in the advantages which would accrue to the New York Central, the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Ohio."

On the question of the general commercial damage to each country, Mr. Van Horne thought that American interests would suffer twenty times more than Canadian.

Dry Goods Assignment.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 27.—Ira W. Ingerton, a dry goods dealer, has made a voluntary assignment. Assets consist of the stock and valuable fixtures, and will amount to about $150,000. Liabilities about $200,000.

Murder and Suicide.

RIDGFIELD, Conn., Aug. 27.—Dr. A. G. Paddock, a leaning citizen of this place and a retired New York dentist, while temporarily insane, shot his son and then took his own life yesterday morning about 11 o'clock.

BROKER COX ARRESTED.

A SUNDAY NIGHT EVENT AT NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE.

The Toronto Ex-Financier Apprehended on a Charge of Embezzling $10,000 of Central Bank Funds.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Aug. 27.—E. S. Cox of Central Bank fame was arrested by Constable Reid on the wharf here at 6.45 this afternoon. When arrested he demanded to see the warrant and the constable could not show one, but he had a telegram saying that there was a warrant out for his arrest. Mr. Cox said it was a lie; there was not a warrant out. He resisted Reid's efforts to take him and he was assisted by a man named Moffatt, of the yacht Vivid, who choked the constable. Several more persons off the yacht whose names are not known also assisted Mr. Cox, but their assistance was of no avail, as Reid demanded assistance from several parties standing around and it was given. As soon as the yachtsmen saw Mr. Cox taken away they immediately hoisted sail and left. Mr. Cox was taken to the Town Hall, where he is held in custody awaiting the arrival of an officer from Toronto.

Cox Charged With Embezzlement.

TORONTO, Aug. 27.—The talk of the town to-day is the arrest of Broker E. S. Cox at Niagara-on-the-Lake yesterday evening. The immediate cause of Mr. Cox's arrest is embezzlement, and Mr. W. H. Howland and Mr. Wm. Gooderham, liquidators of the plundered Central Bank, are his accusers. A warrant has been in Inspector Stark's keeping at headquarters ever since Jan. 20 last for Mr. Cox's arrest. Of the existence of this warrant only half-a-dozen persons in Toronto were aware: Police Magistrate Denison, who issued it, Chief Grasett, Inspector Stark, Detective Sergeant Reburn and the liquidators and their solicitor, Mr. W. A. Foster, Q. C. The warrant recites that "on Nov. 7, 1887, E. Strachan Cox, being a trustee of the sum of $10,000, the property of the Central Bank of Canada, for the use of the said bank, did unlawfully and with intent to defraud, convert and appropriate the same to his own use."

Mr. Cox has been away from Toronto since about Jan. 14 last. At that time he left the city to attend a special meeting of the International Baseball Association at Buffalo and he never returned.

Detective McGrath left by the first boat this morning to bring the prisoner to Toronto.

NOT YET SATISFIED.

The Winnipeg Call and Free Press Assail The Railway Agreement.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—Notwithstanding the concessions made by the Northern Pacific in modification of the agreement with the Government, The Free Press and The Call bitterly attack it and claim they do not meet all the objections to the contract which is now completed and only awaits signatures and ratification, when the work will be commenced. There is no doubt but that the Legislature will ratify it. The railway company has asked for Customs facilities.

Reports from different parts of the country state that grain cutting is now general and the damage done the crops has been insignificent.

About 2500 bottles of Carling's ale, seized by the police at Broadview, have been destroyed.

A man named McArthur is said to have been attacked with hydrophobia at Portage, but he became sane again.

ANOTHER ABSCONDER ARRESTED.

Forger Bergen Sent Back to Baltimore—Burglaries at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 26.—Extradition papers in the case of Bergen, the Baltimore forger, arrived yesterday and Detective Hall left for Baltimore with the prisoner last night.

The seizure against Lawrence Hague has been withdrawn and his seat on the stock exchange can now be sold.

Security to the amount of $34,000 has been found for the release of James Guest, arrested on a capias, and he will now be set at liberty.

W. E. Elliott, the insolvent oil merchant who absconded some months ago leaving his bondsmen in an unenviable position, has just been arrested, he having returned to the city recently to see his brother.

There were a number of small burglaries in the city last night.

A Demented Woman Commits Suicide.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 27.—Mrs. Wm. Soden, aged 57, who lived with her husband in comfortable circumstances here, has had spells of dementia, and after going to bed last night left the house clad only in her chemise without being noticed. She walked five miles down the tow path of the canal and her body was found floating nude in the canal at daylight this morning.

Killed by Being Hit With a Baseball.

GANANOQUE, Aug. 26.—Yesterday afternoon between 12 and 1 o'clock a few of the workshop hands were amusing themselves practising catching ball. A swift throw was made by one of the players, missed by the catcher and struck a young man named Chas. Quinn on the side of the head. The blow was so severe that Quinn was unable to resume his work. He walked to his home and physicians were called but without effect. He died about 5 p. m.

A Railway Employe's Terrible Death.

OLEAN, N. Y., Aug. 26.—George Battles, a Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad employe, was killed and his body terribly mangled yesterday morning by an engine in the yard here. He was a fireman on the road and leaves a wife and five children.

Narrow Escape from Death.

MEADOWVALE, Ont., Aug. 26.—The railway bridge on the Canadian Pacific Railway over the Credit River, near this place, which is being replaced by a new iron structure, collapsed yesterday morning just after the express train going north had passed over it and while a freight train was going across. When the engine was well on the bridge it gave way and the locomotive and two or three freight cars went through the bridge and to the bottom of the river. The engineer and his mate had a miraculous escape from being either crushed to death or drowned. They came up out of the water with a few slight scratches.

Montreal's Mortality.

MONTREAL, Aug. 26.—The annual report of the Medical Health Officer, Dr. Laberge, which has just been issued shows the number of deaths in this city during 1887 to have been 5286 or 27.96 per 1000 of the population. In 1886 the percentage was 25.36. The mortality was greatest among the French Canadians being 32.79 per 1000, other Catholics 25.51 and Protestants 18.63. There were 1743 deaths from zymotic diseases, but none from smallpox while in 1886 there were 70. Of the dead 1422 were under 6 months old, 1692 between 6 months and 5 years, 481 between 5 and 20, 615 between 20 and 40, 462 between 40 and 60, 222 between 60 and 70, 224 between 70 and 80, 136 between 80 and 90 and 29 between 90 and 100.

Fatal Accident at Hull.

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—Yesterday a man named Thomas Roussolle, aged 36, whilst working at a rip saw in the planing mills of the E. B. Eddy Manufacturing Co. at Hull, was struck by a piece of three-feet strip, which flew from the saw on his breast directly over the heart, and he expired in two or three minutes.

A SMALL-SIZED REBELLION.

Colorado Settlers Arm Themselves and Attack Officers of the Law.

TRINIDAD, Col., Aug. 27.—What may prove a long and bloody struggle opened last week on the Maxwell grant at Stonewall, forty miles west of Trinidad. The sheriff's posse sent to keep the peace was met by the armed settlers in numbers estimated at from 200 to 500 men. The settlers demanded the arms of the posse, which were refused. The posse took up quarters in the Pool Hotel, a large frame building. The settlers endeavored to force an entrance, when the posse opened fire. R. D. Russell, one of the oldest settlers, fell dead, and two or three other settlers were wounded. The building was soon riddled with balls. The witnesses who gave this information left while the conflict was still going on. The citizens are greatly excited. The sheriff is gathering men in numbers to go to the relief of the posse. It is believed that the building will be burned and the dozen besieged deputies put to death before morning. The settlers come from the tributaries of the Purgatoire River; from Vermejo, N. M., and also from the Costilla grant in those mountain fastnesses. It seems useless to oppose them with either militia or regular troops. Public sentiment in Trinidad is entirely with the settlers. The settler cavalry is composed of both Americans and Mexicans. The Mexicans are painted as if for war.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

CORRY, Pa., Aug. 26.—A terrible boiler explosion occurred yesterday afternoon on the Frank Stranhan farm, 9 miles southwest of Corry, by which two men lost their lives and two others were seriously injured. It was a threshing machine boiler owned by Samuel Boutwell and had been running but little since last fall. Friday the water got low in the boiler and the crown sheet which was repaired recently and thought to be safe was burned. When the explosion took place Engineer Wm. Clough was standing on the top of the boiler trying to start the engine off the centre. The steam gauge indicated 60 pounds. Clough was blown some distance and instantly killed. Arthur McCreaf, one of the workmen, was thrown 90 feet and injured so that he died last evening. Perry Corry and Jefferson Boutwell were also seriously injured. The boiler was thrown through a barn a distance of 60 feet and the threshing machine completely wrecked. Competent men say there was at least 100 pounds of steam pressure on the boiler at the time of the explosion.

All Was Forgiven.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Miss Fannie Boyington, daughter of the wealthy architect, W. W. Boyington, eloped with the family coachman, and was forgiven by her parents last week. The coachman is Richard Carter, a young Englishman. Some time ago Mrs. Boyington suspected the true state of affairs, and Carter was promptly discharged. The next heard of the coachman was that he had qualified himself for employment as a bookkeeper and had obtained a position in that capacity with a leading firm. Then came the elopement, and the architect's daughter was found to-day by her mother, in a neat home on Indiana-avenue provided by the book-keeper. Copious tears and a reconciliation followed.

Fatal Accident in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The six-storey brick building, 226 west 83rd street, which has been in course of erection for some time and would have been completed in a few days, was the scene of a bad accident yesterday afternoon. Workmen were putting the finishing touches on the fifth floor, when the beams gave way, causing the floor to fall, and five men went down with it. One man, named Flynn, was instantly killed; three others, Durkin, McLane and Flynn, were seriously injured. The fifth man was uninjured. The accident is attributed to the floor being overloaded with timber.

Tramps Run Down by an Express Train.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Aug. 26.—An incoming Pennsylvania express train ran down four tramps on the Hackensack Meadows yesterday morning. One of the tramps, a colored man, was killed outright, his head being crushed. His name is unknown. Charles Brown of Washington was taken to the hospital to be treated for severe injuries about the head and body. Brown is a professional tramp. On an adjoining cot in the hospital lies another of the party who will die. Brown knew him as "Billy." The fourth man escaped unhurt.

Fresh Trouble for an Opium Smuggler.

ITHACA, N.Y., Aug. 26.—E. A. Gardner, was yesterday held in bail by the United States Commissioner for further examination in the opium smuggling matter on an additional warrant sworn out by a special agent. The new charge is that of conspiring with the three men arrested in Ogdensburg to steal 775 pounds of opium from the United States. The special agents say other arrests will be made soon, that two of the men are being watched in this city and that it is known that they had dealings with Gardner.

Fatal Fall of an Indianian at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—W. H. Reid, of Evansville, Ind., a guest at the Palmer House, fell last evening from the sixth floor of that hotel to the first floor and was instantly killed. It is a mystery how the accident occurred, as it is certain that the unfortunate young man was perfectly sober. The shocking occurrence took place in plain view of a number of people in the hotel lobby.

A Fatal Political Quarrel.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 26.—At Nashville, Brown County, yesterday, Frank and Elam Hall became involved in a political dispute with Jacob Peavy, aged 65, a large, powerful man. The quarrel took place in a hardware store. Peavy seized an axe and felled both his antagonists. Frank Hall's skull was crushed and he died instantly. His brother was mortally wounded. The old man escaped.

Preferred Death to Dishonor.

LOGANSPORT, Aug. 27.—Miss Frank Wingard, a rather handsome young woman, swallowed a dose of morphine Saturday evening and died at 12 o'clock yesterday from the effects of the drug. Miss Wingard has been employed at Mrs. Morrow's boarding house, on North-street, since early last spring. Saturday evening she called at Klusick's drug store and after procuring the morphine she went to her room and prepared for the last final act. Seating herself at a table she wrote a note to her sister, saying that she had taken morphine because she had been deceived. She was 17 years of age.

A Sarnia Man Killed in Michigan.

LAPEER, Aug. 27.—Friday night, as a train on the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway was approaching him, Jeremiah Nickerson, of Sarnia, Ont., attempted to cross the track, in the city, ahead of it. He was struck by the locomotive and frightfully mangled, his head being severed from his body. He was only 29 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

The Authorities in the Dark.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The authorities of the postoffice are still at sea regarding what became of the $10,000 that was missed a week ago from a money package that came from Portland, Oregon.

Scott Act Convictions in Wellington.

ROTHSAY, Aug. 25.—There have been 21 Scott Act convictions made by Police Magistrate Lowes during the past week in Wellington and the fines imposed amount to $1200

THE LAMBETH CONFERENCE.

THE conference of Bishops of the Church of England held at Lambeth attracted a great deal of attention. The result of their deliberations was a series of resolutions which were adopted and have been published. Among the resolutions were several of interest in Canada because they dealt with subjects which have been discussed in this country.

The conference condemned the use of unfermented wine at the Holy Communion. It declared that the church could not recognize divorce for any other cause than adultery, and then that under no circumstances was the guilty party to be regarded, during the lifetime of the innocent party, as a fit recipient of the blessing of the church on marriage. It recognized the principle of the religious observance of one day in seven as being of divine obligation and deprecated the growing laxity of the observance of the Lord's Day, which threatened a great change in its sacred and beneficient character. The eleventh resolution is here given in full:—

"That, in the opinion of this conference, the following articles supply a basis on which approach may be by God's blessing made towards home reunion:

"(a) The Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, as 'containing all things necessary to salvation' and as being the rule and ultimate standard of faith.

"(b) The Apostles' Creed as the baptismal symbol; and the Nicene Creed, as the sufficient statement of the Christian faith.

"(c) The two sacraments ordained by Christ Himself—Baptism and the Supper of the Lord—ministered with unfailing use of Christ's words of institution and of the elements ordained by Him.

"(d) The Historic Episcopate locally adopted in the methods of its administration to the varying needs of the nations and peoples called of God into the unity of His Church."

The next resolution, though eminating from a body that did not possess legislative power, is one that may have great influence upon the future of the Christian Church. Is as follows:—

"That this conference earnestly requests the constituted authorities of the various branches of our communion, acting, so far as may be, in concert with one another, to make it known that they hold themselves in readiness to enter into brotherly conference (such as that which has already been proposed by the Church in the United States of America) with the representatives of other Christian communions in the English-speaking races, in order to consider what steps can be taken either towards corporate reunion, or towards such relations as may prepare the way for fuller organic unity hereafter."

The resolution breathes a desire for the complete union of the Christian Churches that cannot be mistaken. There is a spirit of earnestness which shows that the tendency of the times towards union has a strong hold upon the bishops of this great Church. The conference commended, as of great importance in tending to bring about union, the dissemination of information regarding standards of doctrine, formularies, worship and government of the different churches.

SIR JOHN ROSE, at one time a member of the Dominion Government, dropped dead on Saturday while firing at a stag in the Duke of Portland's deer forest in Caithness, Scotland. Sir John was born in Aberdeenshire, Scotland, in 1821. He came to Canada in 1838, and took part in the suppression of the rebellion of 1837. He was called to the bar of Lower Canada in 1842. He was elected to Parliament for Montreal in 1857 and took office as Solicitor General. He served in several important offices, and in 1867 became Finance Minister, which position he held until he retired from public life in 1869. In 1870 he removed to England and became a partner in the London banking house of Morton, Rose & Co. He served on several important commissions. In 1870 he was created a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, in 1872 a Baronet of the United Kingdom and in 1878 a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George. Since removing to London Sir John always took a deep interest in Canadian affairs and has acted as financial agent for the Dominion.

A STRONG restricted trade organ says Canada is far more prosperous than the United States. It must be because our tariff is considerably lower than theirs.—Brockville Recorder.

If so, how would we gain by adopting their tariff? But is it not probable that the advantage is in the better adjustment of the Canadian tariff under the National Policy?

CAMPBELLFORD.

Correspondence of the Review.

REMOVED TO PETERBOROUGH.—Doctor Goldsmith has sold his drug store and residence to Dr. Gallagher, who had charge while he was in England, for the sum of $3,000 and has removed to Peterborough, where I understand he has purchased the residence of Mr. John B. McWilliams. Many are the regrets expressed by the people of this town an vicinity at his departure. He has been a resident here for the last six years and has earned for himself a reputation both as a citizen and physician of which he may well feel proud. As a physician he has been eminently successful, and as a citizen, I may say that by his urbanity, genlaity and liberality he has made friends of all and foes of none. He is liberal in the fullest and highest sense of the term, ever ready to visit the poor and minister to their necessities, even when he had no hope of compensation, as attentively as if they were rich. Having made up his mind to remove to Peterborough, and in order the better to qualify himself for future and extended usefulness in his profession, he went to London, England, in September and returned last June, having spent eight or nine months in the hospitals and colleges of that metropolis. The doctor and his good lady carry with them the esteem and good wishes of the whole community.

BEER PERMITS IN THE NORTHWEST TERRITORIES.

Metis Demanding Compensation for the Destruction of their Property by the Volunteers.

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—Permits are being issued to hotels in the Northwest having a capacity of 12 bedrooms and stabling for 5 horses to import and sell beer containing 4 per cent. of alcohol, the Government to receive a duty of 10 cents per gallon.

Advices have been received by the Government from Mr. Macdowall, M.P. for Saskatchewan, who recently made a tour of his constituency visiting the halfbreeds at Batoche that some of the Metis who took an active part in the rebellion have asked for a compensation for the destruction of their property by the volunteers. They also claim scrip for all children born up to March, 1885.

The Militia Department has refused the application of the Scotts Guards to attend the Burns celebration in Albany, N.Y., owing to the existence of an order-in-Council forbidding militia in Uniform to visit the United States.

Dr. John Thornburn of the geological survey staff has been informed by Prof. Hitchcock of Hanover University that the contemplated trip to the Northwest Territories by members of the American Association for the advancement of science has fallen through, owing to insufficiency of notice. The annual meeting in 1889 is arranged to take place at Toronto and an excursion will then take place.

Mr. John Lowe of the Agricultural Department is expected home on Monday.

Mr. W. Gibbens, who has acted as business manager of The Citizen for the last five years and who is about to assume control of The Cornwall Standard, was given a banquet by The Citizen's employes on Saturday evening at the Grand Union. He was also presented with a costly diamond pin.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau returns to the city to-morrow.

Hon. John Carling has gone to London.

Talmage at Grimsby.

GRIMSBY PARK, Aug. 26.—Rev. Chancellor Sims, D.D., LL.D., of Syracuse preached in the Temple this morning on "Righteousness the Crowning Glory of a Man's Life." In the afternoon Rev. Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage preached on Paul being let down by a rope in a basket. Before the sermon Dr. Talmage said:

"I wish to make an apology. I was announced to preach here last Sunday and lecture here last Monday. I made a memorandum in my diary Grimsby Park Aug. 26 and 27. I was at a loss to know how the mistake occurred until I saw yesterday my own letter to Rev. Manly Benson and I now find the mistake is my own not Rev. Mr. Benson's or President Phelp's. I hope all the newspapers of this country will print what I say here and now on this subject. I suppose some of you have made a mistake in your life, God only makes no mistakes."

SAULT STE. MARIE CANAL.
Notice to Contractors.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tenders for the Sault Ste. Marie Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the eastern and western mails on TUESDAY, the 23rd day of October, next, for the formation and construction of a Canal on the Canadian side of the river, through the Island of St. Mary.

The works will be let in two sections, one of which will embrace the formation of the canal through the island; the construction of locks, &c. The other, the deepening and widening of the channel-way at both ends of the canal; construction of piers, &c.

A map of the locality, together with plans and specifications of the works, can be seen at this office on and after TUESDAY, the 9th day of October, next, where printed forms of tender can also be obtained. A like class of information, relative to the works, can be seen at the office of the Local Officer in the Town of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Intending contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms and be accompanied by a letter stating that the person or persons tendering have carefully examined the locality and the nature of the material found in the trial pits.

In the case of firms, there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same, and further, a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $20,000 must accompany the tender for the canal and locks; and a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $7,500 must accompany the tender for the deepening and widening of the channel way at both ends, piers, &c.

The respective deposit receipts—cheques will not be accepted—must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works, at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The deposit receipt thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tenders.

By order,
A. P. BRADLEY,
Secretary,
Department of Railways and Canals,

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING
EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack whenever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15.000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10,00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00
2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During August goods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

WHAT IS IT?

It is called "Cosmos, the Great Oracle of Human Destiny," and something remarkable, and is creating great interest among scientists at the present day. The above cut is a fac-smilie of a stone excavated from the Temple of Truth (so called) in Athens Greece, in the year, 1527, and placed in the British Museum in London, Eng.

This stone has been noticed without doubt by many residents of this town who have visited the museum. It stands in the "Corridor of Wonders.

The letters appearing on the cut above are in Hieroglyphics on the original stone, but were translated some years ago by Prof. Bartlett of the Howard University, who discovered that they had a hidden meaning, and there are positive proofs that the stone is thousands of years old, and formed part of the belief of the Chaldeans of Persia who were great astrologists, and from which our present knowledge of astronomy is mostly derived.

This wonderful combination of letters arranged in circles around the solar system will, in connection with the key discovered by Prof. Bartlett to read it by astonish and amaze you with the phenominal accuracy with which it answers questions that anyone may ask in regard to Business Enterprises, Love, Money matters, Destiny, and what every young lady and gentlemen who reads this advertisement is just dying to know about Love and Marriage. It is bound to create a sensation outside of the serious import which the replies of "Cosmos" gives. There is lots of fun and amusement in it, for the home circles, and as a parlor game it will produce what we will call original fun in abundance. Everybody should have one.

We have been to large expense to obtain the copper plate to print copies of the letters on the wonderful stone for distribution, and although copies of Cosmos on handsome placques are being sold in the large cities for $1.00 each, we purpose as a novel way of advertising and as is our custom when we have anything good and interesting to do it in a liberal way, and to give the entire populace an opportunity to secure one. We shall give one copy with the directions to read it by free to each purchaser of any article in our store for the next 60 days, after which they will not be given free. No doubt thousands of people will avail themselves of this opportunity, but we have enough to supply the demand. Obtain a "Cosmos" and send one to your friends out of town and it will please them as much as though they had found a $10.00 bill. Ask for "Cosmos" at the store of

A Rather Sudden Death.

Mrs. Douglas, wife of Mr. Andrew Douglas, contractor and builder, succumbed to an attack of malaria fever on Saturday evening. The deceased lady had been ill only a few days and no apprehension was felt for her until Saturday, so that her sudden death was quite a shock to her friends. Mr. Douglas will have universal sympathy for his severe and bitter loss. The funeral to place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence.

Can He Marry?

A despatch from Belleville says that a progressive young Methodist missionary is enquiring into the legal right of a Mormon missionary to perform a marriage ceremony in this country. He states that a man named Smith has taken up his temporary abode at Wilberforce, in the wilds of Haliburton county, and claims to be a Latter Day Saint. He teaches the Mormon doctrine, pure and simple, and is presumably a missionary seeking for recuits. In one instance he married a couple, and the question has arisen, "Was the ceremony legally performed?" He is stirring up considerable of a muss, and unless he is keeping within the law proceedings will be taken.

The Port Hope Drowning Accident.

During Saturday efforts were made to recover the body of Miss Holland who was drowned in the lake on Friday night. Although the work of grappling for the body went on all day efforts were not successful. During Sunday a large number of boats together with a yacht prosecuted the search without practical results. A cannon was discharged in hopes that the concussion in the air over the water would bring up the body. To-day a diver was to be brought from Toronto to search the bottom about the locality where the unfortunate young lady disappeared. Where the canoe upset is almost 600 yards from the east pier and 200 yards from the shore opposite where a cannon belonging to the field battery is placed. The bottom of the lake thereabouts is covered with dredgings taken from the harbour and dropped in the water and it is supposed that the body may be held down by the soft and tenacious character of the bottom. A reward has been offered and many are engaged in the search. The young lady was a good swimmer and by Mr. Robinson's account, they both swam for some time, and it was only after repeated efforts to reach the shore while clinging to the canoe that Miss Holland fainted and sank dispite the efforts made by Mr. Robinson to hold her up. Mr. Robinson is prostrated favorably.

Favorable Telegrams.

A telegram was received yesterday stating that Mrs. Nicholls' condition was much improved. This news, which was announced at the morning service at St. Andrew's Church yesterday, was welcomed by everyone and caused a feeling of relief where there had been one of suspense. Another favorable telegram was received this morning, to the effect that the lady's condition was still more improved. It is hoped that the reports will continue to be of the same nature.

Harry Lindley's Company.

The Lindley Comedy Company, after having been on a tour of six months through the States of Ohio and Pensylvania, will appear in Bradburn's Opera House to-night, in the Western Drama of "Calamity Jane." This well known company needs hardly any comment, they have always given great satisfaction with their entertainments, which have been in the past as are expected at the present, of first-class standing. 1d47

Dishonest Farmers.

Mr. Robert Rollins, milk inspector for the Eastern Dairymen's Association, is in the city, says the Belleville Ontario. He has been visiting factories about Lindsay and Fenelon Falls and found very few dishonest patrons. At the latter place there were only two milk and water farmers. The Inspector ferreted out five patrons of the Cramahe factory who were either diluting or skimming their milk. Two of the Morganston and two of the Keene patrons were trapped. Nearly all of them settled rather than appear in court.

Loafers Beware.

Young men who are in the habit of leading a life of idleness and drunkenness are likely to receive pretty severe treatment at the bar of the Police Court if Police Magistrate Edmison wields the wand of justice for any length of time. Thomas Ritchie was arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly last night, and at the Police Court this morning received a severe lecture from the magistrate about his conduct, it being known that he had not worked for two months and had been living on his mother. The magistrate fined him $10 and costs, giving him twenty days in which to earn the money, failing which he will be sent up for twenty days' hard labor. Another appearance of this young man will elect him for a much severer sentence.

Hon. Senator Vidal.

The Toronto Mail publishes a portrait and the following biographical notice of the Hon. Senator Vidal, a prominent business man, politician and prohibitionist, who is the father of Mrs. D. B. Gardner, of Peterborough:—"Mr. Alex. Vidal, Senator, is a descendant of a family originally from Spain, removing thence to England in the 18th century. He is a son of Capt. Richard Vidal, of the Royal Navy, and was born in Berkshire, England, on the 4th of August, 1819. He was educated at the Royal mathematical school, Christ's Hospital, London; accompanied his father to Upper Canada in 1834; settled in Sarnia in the following year; practiced the profession of a provincial land surveyor from 1843 to 1852; was manager of the Sarnia branch of the Bank of Upper Canada from the latter date until 1866, and held the same position in the service of the Bank of Montreal, from 1866 until 1875, when he resigned. He has held the office of county treasurer since 1853, being the only treasurer that Lambton ever had. He sat for St. Clair Division in the Legislative Council of Canada from September, 1863, until the union in 1867, and was called to the Senate in 1873. He is a Conservative and Prohibitionist, and the leader in the Senate on all measures having reference to the temperance question. was chairman of the Dominion Prohibitionary Convention, held at Montreal in September, 1875, and is president of the Dominion Alliance for the suppression of the liquor traffic, having held that position since the organization of the Alliance. He is vice-president of the Sarnia branch of the Bible Society and of the Tract Society. He is also an elder of the Canada Presbyterian Church, and one of the foremost men in the county in religious and benevolent enterprise. Elsewhere we present a view of 'Oakhurst,' Senator Vidal's residence, which was erected in 1875 from plans designed by the owner. It stands upon the east bank of the River St. Clair, within a stone's throw of the stream, and is surrounded by a wealth of shade, fruit, and ornamental trees, shrubs and flowers."

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk. Delicate people improve rapidly upon its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thos. Prim, Ala., says: "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; and gained four pounds in a month." Put up in 50c and $1 size.

SCHOOLS RE-OPEN.

Scholars and Teachers Once more Meet to Begin Work.

The town schools and Collegiate Institute re-opened this morning after the long summer vacation. The children were to be seen skipping merrily school-wards long before nine o'clock, and they seemingly were as light-hearted as when they joyously left the school buildings six weeks ago, and put away the books and all thoughts of school and its discipline. They were not compelled to go into routine work today. The promotions and some preliminary work was gone through with, and then the scholars were dismissed for the day. To-morrow, however, at nine o'clock pupils and teachers will settle down to regular work.

The scholars and teachers are all, perhaps, a shade darker in complexion after summer outings, picnics, etc., but are all the better for that.

The schools were all well filled and presented a very busy scene for the couple of hours during which the promotions and changes were in progress. Mr. Smith, of the Central, estimated that there were from 600 to 650 children present at that institution this morning, and Mr. McIlmoyle, of the Separate School, had about 170 boys in attendance. Mr. Stirling, of the South Ward School, reported that his rolls showed about 170 this morning.

The different schools have all been renovated during the recess, and a large gymnasium is in course of erection at the Central school. This will be for drilling exercises and for the children to play in.

There is a change in the staff of the Central School, Mrs. Fowler having taken the division formerly presided over by Miss Ellsworth, who is attending the Model School.

No fee will be charged at the Collegiate Institute for the remaining few days of August.

The regular work began this morning.

Picnic Party.

The Beaver brought an excursion party from Harwood and Gore's Landing this afternoon. There were about 150 in the party, who spent the afternoon seeing Peterborough by sunlight.

Harry Appears Once More.

The Lindley Comedy Company arrived here on the noon train to-day and are registered at the Grand Central. They had a procession from the train, the leading features of which was a tame bear and wolf.

Personal.

Dr. G. Herbert Burnham, Toronto, arrived in Peterborough for a visit on Saturday evening.

Mr. W. H. Stevens, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., arrived home on Saturday after spending his holidays pleasantly in Quebec Province.

The Lindsay Warder says:—"It is with pleasure we learn that Mr. Gallon has been appointed to the important position of Inspector of Agencies for Eastern Ontario for the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, for which district Wilson & Morrison, of Peterborough, are managers. We do not doubt that Mr. Gallon will prove a success in his new undertaking, and wish he may prosper."

Sir Henry Tyler, of London, Eng., President of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, is expected to pay a visit of inspection to Peterborough, during the month of September.

Dr. Goldsmith, who has just removed to Peterborough, begins the practice of his profession here at once. Dr. Goldsmith is fully abreast of the times as a medical practitioner. He has had years of experience, and has just returned from London, Eng., where he was awarded several important degrees in medicine. A Campbellford correspondent testifies in another column regarding the esteem in which Dr. Goldsmith was held in that village.

The Rifle.

Capt. W. H. Hill went to Toronto this morning to participate in the Ontario Rifle Association matches.

Aquatics.

Mr. C. Shaw, with Mr. N. Sherwood, paddled in the tandem canoe race in the Lake St. Louis Canoe Club regatta at Lachine on Saturday. This race was for the Lachine challenge cup, which Mr. Shaw had twice won, but on Saturday he was not so fortunate and came in third. In the four-paddle canoe race, in which six crews contested, the crew in which Mr. Shaw paddled took fourth place.

Baseball on Wednesday.

Another baseball match is on for Wednesday between scratch nines picked from the law students and office clerks and the dry-goods and drug clerks, which in all probability will be as great a success in showing Peterborough people how the game of baseball is played as was the late mighty tussle between "callos" and "poison." The P.A.A.A. grounds have been secured and the game will probably be worth witnessing.

Drowning Accident at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 26.—A drowning accident occurred on the bay this afternoon about 4 o'clock. Thomas McManus, his brother James and William and Benjamin Mulvale hired a boat from Morris' boathouse and proceeded to the foot of Wellington-street to bathe. While the young men were undressing the boat drifted into deep water and when they jumped in, Thomas McManus, not being able to swim, sank immediately. One of the Mulvale boys caught him and put him on top of the boat which had upset, but he slipped off and sank to rise no more. The body was recovered about fifteen minutes later, but all efforts to restore him proved unsuccessful. The unfortunate young man was about 23 years old and the principal support of a widowed mother, who resides at 82½ Wellington-street north.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

may do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

STORY OF A MASTERPIECE

By HENRY JAMES, JR.

Marian's conduct under this trying ordeal was truly heroic. She felt that some subtle change had taken place in her future husband's feelings, a change which, although she was powerless to discover its cause, yet obviously imperiled her prospects. Something had snapped between them; she had lost half of her power. She was horribly distressed, and the more so because that superior depth of character which she had all along gladly conceded to Lennox, might now, as she conjectured, cover some bold and portentous design. Could he meditate a direct rupture? Could it be his intention to dash from her lips the sweet, the spiced and odorous cup of being the wife of a good natured millionaire? Marian turned a tremulous glance upon her past, and wondered if he had discovered any dark spot. Indeed, for that matter, might she not defy him to do so? She had done nothing really amiss. There was no visible blot in her history. It was faintly discolored, indeed, by a certain vague moral dinginess; but it compared well enough with that of other girls. She had cared for nothing but pleasure; but to what else were girls brought up? On the whole, might she not feel at ease? She assured herself that she might; but she nevertheless felt that if John wished to break off his engagement, he would do it on high abstract grounds, and not because she had committed a naughtiness the more or the less. It would be simply because he had ceased to love her. It would avail her but little to assure him that she would kindly overlook this circumstance and remit the obligations of the heart. But, in spite of her hideous apprehensions, she continued to smile and smile.

The days passed by, and John consented to be still engaged. Their marriage was only a week off—six days, five days, four. Miss Everett's smile became less mechanical. John had apparently been passing through a crisis—a moral and intellectual crisis, inevitable in a man of his constitution, and with which she had nothing to do. On the eve of marriage he had questioned his heart; he had found that it was no longer young and capable of the vagaries of passion, and he had made up his mind to call things by their proper names, and to admit to himself that he was marrying not for love, but for friendship, and a little, perhaps, for prudence. It was only out of regard for what he supposed Marian's own more exalted theory of the matter, that he abstained from revealing to her this common sense view of it. Such was Marian's hypothesis.

Lennox had fixed his wedding day for the last Thursday in October. On the preceding Friday, as he was passing up Broadway, he stopped at Goupil's to see if his order for the framing of the portrait had been fulfilled. The picture had been transferred to the shop, and, when duly framed had been, at Baxter's request and with Lennox's consent, placed for a few days in the exhibition room. Lennox went up to look at it.

The portrait stood on an easel at the end of the hall, with three spectators before it—a gentleman and two ladies. The room was otherwise empty. As Lennox went toward the picture, the gentleman turned out to be Baxter. He proceeded to introduce his friend to his two companions, the younger of whom Lennox recognized as the artist's betrothed. The other, her sister, was a plain, pale woman, with the look of ill health, who had been provided with a seat and made no attempt to talk. Baxter explained that these ladies had arrived from Europe but the day before, and that his first care had been to show them his masterpiece.

"Sarah," said he, "has been praising the model very much to the prejudice of the copy."

Sarah was a tall, black haired girl of 30, with irregular features, a pair of luminous dark eyes, and a smile radiant of white teeth—evidently an excellent person. She turned to Lennox with a look of frank sympathy, and said in a deep, rich voice:

"She must be very beautiful."

"Yes, she's very beautiful," said Lennox, with his eyes lingering on her own pleasant face. "You must know her—she must know you."

"I'm sure I should like very much to see her," said Sarah.

"This is very nearly as good," said Lennox. "Mr. Baxter is a great genius."

"I know Mr. Baxter is a genius. But what is a picture, at the best? I've seen nothing but pictures for the last two years, and I haven't seen a single pretty girl."

The young girl stood looking at the portrait in very evident admiration, and while Baxter talked to the elder lady Lennox bestowed a long, covert glance upon his fiancee. She had brought her head into almost immediate juxtaposition with that of Marian's image, and for a moment the freshness and the strong animation which bloomed upon her features seemed to obliterate the lines and colors on the canvas. But the next moment, as Lennox looked, the roseate circle of Marian's face blazed into remorseless distinctness, and her careless blue eye looked with cynical familiarity into his own.

He bade an abrupt good morning to his companions, and went toward the door. But beside it he stopped. Suspended on the wall was Baxter's picture, "My Last Duchess." He stood amazed. Was this the face and figure that, a month ago, had reminded him of his mistress? Where was the likeness now? It was as utterly absent as if it had never existed. The picture, moreover, was a very inferior work to the new portrait. He looked back at Baxter, half tempted to demand an explanation, or at least to express his perplexity. But Baxter and his sweetheart had stooped down to examine a minute sketch near the floor, with their heads in delicious contiguity.

How the week elapsed, it were hard to say. There were moments when Lennox felt as if death were preferable to the heartless union which now stared him in the face, and as if the only possible course was to transfer his property to Marian and to put an end to his existence. There were others, again, when he was fairly reconciled to his fate. He had but to gather his old dreams and fancies into a faggot and break them across his knee, and the thing were done. Could he not collect in their stead a comely cluster of moderate and rational expectations, and bind them about with a wedding favor? His love was dead, his youth was dead; that was all. There was no need of making a tragedy of it. His love's vitality had been but small, and since it was to be but short lived it was better that it should expire before marriage than after. As for marriage, that should stand, for that was not of necessity a matter of love. He lacked the brutal consistency necessary for taking away Marian's future. If he had mistaken her and overrated her, the fault was his own, and it was a hard thing that she should pay the penalty. Whatever were her failings, they were profoundly involuntary, and it was plain that with regard to himself her intentions were good. She would be no companion, but she would be at least a faithful wife.

With the help of this grim logic Lennox reached the eve of his wedding day. His manner toward Miss Everett during the preceding week had been inveterately tender and kind. He felt that in losing his love she had lost a heavy treasure, and he offered her instead the most unfailing devotion. Marian had questioned him about his lassitude and his preoccupied air, and he had replied that he was not very well. On the Wednesday afternoon he mounted his horse and took a long ride. He came home toward sunset, and was met in the hall by his old housekeeper.

"Miss Everett's portrait, sir," she said, "has just been sent home in the most beautiful frame. You gave no directions, and I took the liberty of having it carried into the library. I thought," and the old woman smiled deferentially, "you'd like best to have it in your own room."

Lennox went into the library. The picture was standing on the floor, back to back with a high armchair, and catching, through the window, the last horizontal rays of the sun. He stood before it a moment, gazing at it with a haggard face.

"Come!" said he, at last, "Marian may be what God has made her; but this detestable creature I can neither love nor respect!"

He looked about him with an angry despair, and his eye fell on a long, keen poniard, given him by a friend who had bought it in the east, and which lay as an ornament on the mantel shelf. He seized it and thrust it, with barbarous glee, straight into the lovely face of the image. He dragged it downward, and made a long fissure in the living canvas. Then, with half a dozen strokes, he wantonly hacked it across. The act afforded him an immense relief.

I need hardly add that on the following day Lennox was married. He had locked the library door on coming out the evening before, and he had the key in his waistcoat pocket as he stood at the altar. As he left town, therefore, immediately after the ceremony, it was not until his return, a fortnight later, that the fate of the picture became known. It was not necessary to relate how he explained his exploit to Marian and how he disclosed it to Baxter. He at least put on a brave face. There is a rumor current of his having paid the painter an enormous sum of money. The amount is probably exaggerated, but there can be no doubt that the sum was very large. How he has fared—how he is destined to fare—in matrimony, it is rather too early to determine. He has been married scarcely three months.

TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for neat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you can get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

A MONTREALER FOUND DROWNED.

Another Crossing Accident—Gabriel Dumont to be Presented With a Purse.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—The body of Joseph Archambault, the contractor, who had been missing since Thursday, was found last night in the Lachine Canal.

A farmer named Bartholemy Dufresne was struck by a Canadian Pacific Railway locomotive while he was driving across the railway track yesterday and is now in a precarious condition.

Gabriel Dumont returns to the Northwest in a fortnight. Before leaving he will be presented with a well-filled purse by his numerous admirers in this city.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of an American named George Van Leer, who has been running an employment agency here and who has been swindling a large number of people out of their 50 cents, $1 or $2 which they paid him for the prospect of future employment. Van Leer has skipped.

James Guest, the insolvent wine merchant who was arrested on a capias, is still in jail, not having been able to procure bail as yet.

Desormeaux & Co. of this city have just purchased the water power at St. Jerome and will establish a glove and mitt factroy there.

Found Drowned at Quebec.

QUEBEC, Aug. 28.—J. Harvey of St. Johns, Island of Orleans, a schooner captain, was found drowned at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the new sewer way between the Custom House and the East India Wharf. He leaves a widow and six children. An inquest will be held to-day.

Accidents at Ancaster.

ANCASTER, Aug. 27.—On Saturday morning Mr. W. H. Shaver lost a valuable horse, the animal dropping dead in front of Mr. Bristol's place.

On Friday morning the barns, sheds and outbuildings belonging to Mr. Robarts, about one mile east of Ancaster village, were entirely consumed by fire, together with all this year's crop, excepting two small loads of oats. The fiendish deed was done by a tramp, who sat up in an adjoining apple-tree enjoying the sight. He admitted the act and was taken to jail.

Yesterday as Mrs. William Woodley was driving to church the back seat of the conveyance was suddenly jerked backwards, throwing the occupants violently on the ground, causing ugly scalp wounds and severe fracture of her ribs.

As Mrs. Urquart and three of the family were driving up the Ancaster mountain near the lime kiln yesterday, the reins became entangled, causing the conveyance, occupants and animal to topple over the embankment, resulting in serious injuries to the passengers, particularly one lad.

JOINED THE BANKERS' COLONY.

A Michigan Financier's Elopement—Supposed to be in Canada.

HILLSDALE, Mich., Aug. 28.—Charles W. Waldron of this city, who, with B. Northrup owns a savings bank at Reading and with Hon. Ezra L. Koon a private bank in this city, disappeared from here Wednesday morning. Yesterday afternoon the fact leaked out that he had gone to Canada with Mrs. Bidwell of Quiney. He took some of the assets of both banks and disposed of most of his personal property. Mr. Koon is abundantly able to satisfy depositors and all deposits will be paid. There was little or no run on the bank yesterday morning and all is quiet now. Mr. Northrup will meet all the obligations on the Reading Bank. Waldron leaves a wife and two children and before going away he deeded his wife a small portion of his property.

ANOTHER HORROR.

A Man Falls Between Two Cars and is Cut Into Pieces.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 27.—A fatal accident occurred near here Saturday afternoon. William Ryan, a laborer employed on the W. O. P. Railway, fell between two cars and was cut in two. The deceased only came here last Tuesday, from where nobody knows. The railway authorities have been unable to find out anything about the man, who seems to be an entire stranger. He was a man of about 45 years of age, about 5 feet 7 inches in height, dark complexion with side whiskers. It is reported that he was a pensioner in the British or American army. The remains were taken to Woodstock and buried yesterday.

The Quebec Crops.

RICHMOND, Que., Aug. 27.—The weather throughout the Eastern Townships is most unfavorable for harvesting. For the past two weeks the rain has been almost incessent, with very frequent thunder storms, and it still looks very unsettled. A good deal of grain is cut and is lying sprouting in the fields, and the standing crop badly lodged, while in many places fine looking potatoe patches are emitting a strong odor of rust. The prospects therefore are that there will be a great failure in the crops which a few weeks ago looked so fine and promising.

Gets Twenty-Three Months.

WINDSOR, Aug. 27.—The trial of George Woods, a young Detroit lad, for robbing the jewelry store of R. E. Smith at Tilbury Centre, was concluded Saturday. On August 3rd Woods broke into Smith's store and robbed it of $500 worth of jewelery. S. S. Macdonald acted as prosecuting attorney and Mr. Hanna for the defence, with Judge Horne on the bench. Short work was made of Woods, and he was found guilty and sentenced to 23 months in the Central Prison at hard labor. About $150 worth of the stolen property was recovered.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Robert Garrett was taken up on the Erie road quietly yesterday, and domiciled in the Miller homestead, which is located near Mayor Hewitt's house. The physicians are compelled, according to current stories, to use opiates to keep him at all calm. He has moments of quiet and rest, but not so many as to give his physcians much ground for hope.

CONGRESSIONAL SNARES

SET FOR PRESIDENT CLEVELAND YESTERDAY.

Both Houses Engaged with the Retaliation Muddle—Interesting Discussion in the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Senator Edmunds (Rep., Vt.) to-day proposed the following as an amendment intended to be added to the resolution of Senator Hoar (Rep., Mass.) calling on the President to communicate to Congress all remonstrances, if any, which he has addressed to Canada in regard to discrimination against American vessels passing through Canadian canals.:

"That there be communicated to the senate copies of all papers, correspondence and information touching the matter of the refusal of the British Government, or that of any of her North American dominions to allow entry at Dominion seaports of American fish or other cargoes for transportation in bond to the United States, since July 1, 1885, and also that he communicate to the Senate what instances have occurred since March 3, 1887, of wrongs against American vessels in the portsor waters of British North America and what steps, if any, have been taken in respect thereto."

Proceedings in the House.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—In the House today Mr. Davis (Rep. Mass.) introduced a resolution requesting the President to communicate to the House copies of all communications addressed by his direction to the Government of Great Britain, remonstrating with that Government against the wrongs and unfair treatment of our citizens by the action of the Canadian Government in refunding to vessels and cargoes which pass through the Welland and other Canadian canlas nearly the entire tolls if they are destined to Canadian ports, while those bound to American ports are not allowed any such advantage, and against the breach of the treaty of 1871, whereby Great Britain promised to the United States equality in the matter of canal transportation. The President is also called upon for copies of any demand made by his direction upon Great Britain for redress of such wrongs and the replies of Great Britain to such communications or demands.

No Quorum.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The House Committee on Foreign Affairs attempted to meet to-day, according to order, to consider the President's message on the Fisheries Treaty. Only six members responded to the roll call. As a quorum did not apear no effort was made to transact any business, and the proceedings were confined to an informal discussion which was mainly interesting from the fact that it revealed a strong disposition on the part of the three Democratic and three Republican members present to divide on party lines. This discussion related to Article XXIX of the Treaty of Washington with legislation that has been enacted touching entries of goods in bond at United States ports for Canadian consumption. The President's message and accompanying documents were not at hand when the committee met, and it is probable that several days will be consumed in preliminary disoussion before the point of action is reached. Chairman Belmont sent this telegram from Bar Harbor which was read to the committeemen present. "I will certainly return to take part in the consideration by the committee of the Retaliation Bill. I cannot reach Washington Monday, but if there is an adjourned meeting I will be present."

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs will meet again to-morrow, when it is believed a quorum can be obtained. A large part of to-day's session was consumed in a discussion as to how far Congress might go in the matter of retaliatory legislation while observing existing stipulations of the Treaty of Washington, Acting Chairman McCreary expounded the President's position and endorsed his recommendations as proposing legislation strictly within the power of Congress.

Mr. Hitt (Rep., Ill.), who enjoys the distinction of having been a member of the committee in 1883 when it recommended and secured the passage of the joint resolutions terminating the fishery articles of the Treaty of Washington, explained at length the understanding of the members at that time of the effect of the resolution. He said that they were unanimously of the opinion that their action did not in any way affect the articles relating to railway transportation. Citing the records he pointed out that when Mr. Rice reported the resolution in the House Mr. Ashbadne had inquired particularly upon that point, and had been assured by Mr. Rice, speaking for the committee, that the railroad articles were in no way affected. Following up his argument, which was intended to demonstrate that Congress could not without violating the treaty, unless it first gave the requisite four years' notice of termination, put in operation the retaliatory legislation directed against Canadian goods imported in bond, recommended by the President. Mr. Hitt endeavored to show that the same question had been in the Senate. To avoid any misunderstanding on the subject he said Mr. Edmunds had then proposed an amendment to the resolution expressly declaring that it did not apply to any other than the fishery articles of the treaty.

A flaw in the Wilson-Morgan Bill was brought to light during the discussion. It appears that the terms "British possessions in North America" and "Canada" are used synonymously in the text. It was suggested that the effect would be, if enacted into law, to except Newfoundland, which is one of the possessions but not a part of Canada, from the operations of the law.

A Legal Question.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—The opinion in well informed legal circles here is that President Cleveland's proposed abolition of the bonding system cannot be legally effected without two years' notice being given of such intention. In the notice given for the termination of the fishery articles of the Treaty of Washington, Article XXIX, referring to bonding was not included. In the proclamation issued by President Arthur, dated Jan. 31, 1885, he specifies the various articles which are terminated, but the twenty-ninth is not one of them.

Merely a Political Manoeuvre.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—Goldwin Smith says that he does not attach any significance to Cleveland's message, it being merely a political manoeuvre.

Mr. Chamberlain Silent.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain on being questioned by a press correspondent at in relation to the rejection of the Fisheries Treaty by the United States Senate, said he did not propose to comment upon the Senate's action, which had long been foreseen.

An Unfortunate Excursion.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28.—The steamer Annie P. Silver left St. Louis at 8 o'clock Sunday night with 625 excursionists, women and children predominating. When opposite Madison, 12 miles north of St. Louis, she ran on a bar. All efforts to back off were fruitless and the densely crowded packet was at the mercy of the elements. The excursionists put in a miserable and anxious night. At 9 a. m. the steamer Spread-Eagle went to the rescue and by noon had transferred all the passengers to shore safely.

Forest Fires in Michigan.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Specials from Negaunee, Mich., and other points in the neighborhood tell of disastrous fires which have been raging for over 24 hours. Families are fleeing to the towns in large numbers with such effects as could be saved. One family is missing and it is supposed to have been overtaken by the flames and burned to death. People are panic-stricken, and it is feared many lives will be lost.

DaKota's Serious Frosts.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 27.—Sam Vinton, a grain dealer, just from North Dakota, says he found thousands of acres of wheat uncut, and a large proportion never will be cut on account of damage by frost. The yield will be largely reduced according to the estimates of the farmers and dealers, and not more than 20 per cent. of the crop will grade No. 1 hard.

SEVERE THUNDER STORMS.

A Number of Barns in Oxford and Middlesex Struck by Lightning.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 28.—A series of severe thunder storms passed over Ingersoll and the country to the south Sunday afternoon. It is reported that six barns were struck by lightning, but as yet the particulars of only three have been received. The first barn was that of M. McGee, on the town line between Deerham and Dorchester. The barn contained the season's crop. The next was Stephen Halphin's barn, on the town line between West Oxford and Deerham. The barn was also full of grain and was totally destroyed. The third was a new barn owned by Wm. Shelton, on the first concession of Deerham. It was valued at $600, and was insured in the Western for $200 on the barn and $300 on the contents. This barn was also full and was totally destroyed. A good deal of hail accompanied the downpour, and it is reported that it was much more severe and did considerable damage to fruit to the south of this point.

Lost the Season's Crop.

RIDGETOWN, Aug. 28.—Last night during a severe thunder storm a barn belonging to Benjamin Weaver, a farmer living about a mile from this place, was struck by lightning and totally consumed, together with a large quantity of hay and grain. The dwelling house, which was close to the barn, narrowly escaped destruction. The loss is about $1,400, no insurance.

Disastrous Results Near Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—A number of barns were struck by lightning and destroyed in the immediate vicinity of Montreal during Saturday night and Sunday's thunder storm.

AGAINST RAILROAD MONOPOLY.

A Resolution Passed by the Municipal Board of Trade.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—A largely attended meeting of the Board of Trade to-day passed a resolution to the effect that the control of the provincial railways should not be abandoned by the Government without arranging for ample facilities being given, on reasonable terms, to everyroad wishing to enter the province to compete for trade. The vote was 35 to 5, prominent Reformers and Conservatives supporting the resolution in strong speeches.

The Government declares that the modified contract sweeps away all opposition and anticipates its ratification by a very large majority.

The Free Press continues to oppose it strongly, pointing out numerous alleged defects and claiming that it is a complete giveaway to the Northern Pacific.

GALLAGHEL LET 'ER GO.

And His Wagon was Smashed—Stabbing Affray at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 27.—A team belonging to Gallagher was coming down the mountain with a load of brick on Saturday afternoon when the tongue of the wagon broke and the horses ran away. The wagon came down the John-street hill at a terrible rate and upset near the Church of the Ascension. The driver jumped off, and the horses broke away from the wagon and were not injured, but the outfit was entirely smashed.

About 8 o'clock on Saturday night James Laing, a rolling mill employe, was attacked on Stuart-street by a gang of fellow-workmen who were drunk and ugly and stabbed in the shoulder and head. At the Police Court this morning Pat Dowse was charged with the assault and William Dowse with aiding. Laing not being able to appear, the prisoners were remanded until Thursday.

On Saturday Sydney Grant fell into the canal while attempting to jump ashore from his steam yacht. He was unable to swim and as the current was running strong at the time would probably have drowned had it not been for a young lady aboard the yacht who threw him a rope.

On the night of Aug. 22 a boy named Thomas Edwards was knocked down by two men at the corner of Bay and Mulberry-streets and robbed of $2.65. To-day Wm. Ringer, was arrested, charged with assault and robbery, and admitted his guilt. The other party is a young bootblack named Alfred Goff, who was one of a gang of disorderly lads arrested by constable Blakely last week and is now doing time in jail.

The toll road arbitration opened to-day. The session was taken up with arguments on the question whether the road company shall be allowed to collect tolls pending the investigation.

TALE OF THE BARK GYFIE

TOLD BY TWELVE OF HER CREW AT NEW YORK.

A Villainous Captain and First Mate Accused of Repeated Attempts to Scuttle the Ship.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Twelve sailors of the bark Gyfie, who were brought to thfs city by the steamer Persian Monarch, appeared before the British consul yesterday morning and told a strange tale of the villainy of the captain of the Gyfie which ended in his scuttling the bark with the help of the first mate. The story is as follows:

We left Quebec for Greenock, Scotland, and when in the Gulf of St. Lawrence the bark sprung a leak. It was not of much importance and we were willing to man the pumps and keep on our course but Captain Tait insisted on changing our course and we headed for St. John's, Nfld, arriving there on July 19. An immediate survey was ordered by Captain Tait and after being repaired we resumed our voyage on Aug. 16.

On the night of Aug. 19 we again sprung a leak. The pumps were manned and worked until daylight, when they suddenly gave out. Several of the men investigated and found that the pumps had been tampered with and rendered useless. This aroused the suspicion of the forecastle and Steward Brown was ordered to watch Captain Tait. Brown says he did so and shortly before noon on Aug. 20, saw the captain and first mate go into the hold through the fore hatch. The steward crent forward and getting down saw the mate on his knees close to the skin of the vessel with an augur in his hand and the captain standing over him. All this time there were four feet of water in the hold. The steward started aft and reported what he had seen to the men and it was determined to watch the captain and mate still longer. Their patience was soon rewarded, as od that afternoon the captain and mate again entered the hold, this time through the after hatch. What they did in the hold no one knows but the men believe that additional holes were bored in the side in the after part of the ship.

On the night of Aug. 20 a sailor named Lyons sighted the Persian Monarch and on reporting it to the deck was ordered by the captain to tell all hands to prepare to leave the ship. There was then ten feet of water in the hold. When the men got on deck with their dunnage the captain called them aft into the cabin and made them all sign a paper to the effect that the vessel was unseaworthy. "There is now ten feet in the hold," said the captain, "but when you get aboard the steamer I want you to say that there are fifteen feet of water in the hold."

When all hands got on deck the captain sent Boatswain Bergaust and six men to saturate the deck, upper woodwork and cordage with paraffine, which was done. He said he wanted to fire the ship before leaving her. When the steamer's boat came up the officer in charge came aboard and saw the paraffine. He asked why the stuff had been scattered about and the captain explained. All hands with the exception of Second Mate Robinson took to the boats, the latter saying he would stick to the ship as long as a plank of her floated. He did not consider her unseaworthy, he said, and though the chances were poor he would try to take the vessel into some port. The officer of the Persian Monarch knowing nothing then of the story of the scuttling, thought Robinson crazy and tried to persuade him to leave the bark but he persisted and remained on the vessel.

When the boats reached the steamer the captain, evidently becoming frightened, decided to return to his ship and called upon the men to return with him. All refused but the first mate. Immediately after the captain and mate had returned to their ship the steamer sailed on her course, leaving the ship about 500 miles south by east of Newfoundland.

The men also claim that it was common talk in St. Johns that the bark would never reach port. They say that was also their own opinion and consequently they refused to sail on her. The St. Johns police, however, compelled them to return to the vessel.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Broker Cox Lodged in the Cells—Fatal Accident to a Workman.

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—Nearly 3000 persons gathered at the Cibola's wharf yesterday afternoon to catch a glimpse of Broker E. S. Cox upon his arrival from Niagara. He was at once hustled into a carriage between Detective McGrath and Sergeant Detective Reburn and taken to police headquarters, where he was lodged in the cage. He will be arraigned in the Police Court to-day.

The remains of the late Alfred Medcalf was interred yesterday afternoon in St. James' Cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of people. The District and private Orange lodges sent large contingents. Rev. E. A. Stafford conducted the service. It was one of the largest funerals seen in Toronto for years.

LIGHTING THE TOWN.

ELECTRIC LAMPS FOR THE OUTSKIRTS PROPOSED AT THE COUNCIL

The School Board's Demand Discussed—The Simcoe-st. Bridge Grade—After the Whistling Nuisance Again—Drinking Fountains—The Town Clock and Other Matters.

The Town Council met last night in the Council Chamber, His Worship Mayor Stevenson presiding. There were present:—Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Kelly, A. Hall, Yelland, Moore, Douglas, Langford and Hartley.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications and petitions were read:—

From the directors of the Mechanics' Institute re annual grant.—Finance Committee.

From Mr. E. Phelan, stating that his solicitors had written the town that the Simcoe-st. bridge, as built, injured his property and asking that it be lowered.

From Wm. O'Brien re dog tax—Court of Revision.

From Peter Henry, applying for position of Police Court Clerk.—Appointment Committee.

From Joseph Griffin, asking for an auctioneer's license for remainder of the year to be paid for pro rata.—On motion of Councillor Davidson a rebate was allowed, to be deducted from next year's license fee.

From property owners on Weller-st. asking to have the water works extending on Weller-st. and the placing of two hydrants on that street.—Fire, Water and Light.

From a number of ratepayers asking for a sidewalk on east side of Stewart-st. north of Murray.—Street and Bridges.

From R. W. Errett applying for position of treasurer and town clerk or for either position if they were separated.—Committee on Appointments.

From W. H. Wrighton applying for the clerk and treasurership—Committee on Appointments.

Re embankment on Murry-st.—Street and Bridges.

From W. B. Ferguson tending for supply of necessary coal for town for ensuing year at $6.25.—Property Committee.

THE SCHOOL GRANT.

From the Secretary of the School Board making a demand of $4,269 for public schools and $7,249 for Collegiate Institute; also $1,600 for a building site, to be placed on rolls of 1888, and $4,000 for repairs in Collegiate Institute to be placed on rolls of 1889.

It was proposed to refer the report to the Finance Committee.

Councillor DAVIDSON objected to referring this to the Finance Committee. The Board had not consulted the Council in reference to this expenditure. If this was necessary he favored the submitting of it to the ratepayers and have the Board issue debentures for the $1,600 and $4,000.

Councillor MOORE asked if the School Board had power to buy a lot worth $1,600 and call upon the Council to pay that amount, would it not be the same if it was $10,000? He thought the Board ought to consult the Council in any extraordinary expenditure, and thought they would find that they had no power to authorize this expenditure.

The MAYOR said they could strike a rate for themselves whether it was an ordinary or extraordinary expenditure. He was of the opinion that this item of $4,000 should not have been placed on this report at all as it was for 1889. The Government had refused to give their grant to the institute unless the improvement we made, and in that case the council would have to pay the amount of the grant. It was for the council to say whether these improvements were to be made or not.

Councillor MOORE thought it would be proper to do as Councillor Davidson proposed and issue debentures.

The MAYOR said the committee appointed to select a site for a school building had to bind the bargain in purchasing this lot within three days and asked for a grant this year, but the $4,000 was not asked for this year and would be submitted next spring. The Board had written the Government asking it not to press its requests for improvements this year and he hoped the answer would be favorable. Three years ago the same inspector had pronounced the Institute as satisfactory, and now he had turned around and condemned it.

Councillor LANGFORD objected to the Board buying a lot without consulting the Council or the people.

Councillor HARTLEY said all the wards had a school but No. 4. This ward had paid to support a school in other wards for many years, and it should have a school now.

Councillor DAVIDSON said no one objected to Mr. Hartley having a school in his ward, but it was the way the money was proposed to be raised. He moved, seconded by Councillor MOORE, the following resolution:—"That the demand of the school board be granted for the running expenses, and that the items for school site and building improvements be referred back to the School Board and would advise a by-law be submitted to the people to raise the necessary amount and any other expectant expenditure."—Carried, only Councillor Hartley opposing.

THE COUNCIL INVITED.

An invitation was read from the Committee of the Trades and Labor unions asking His Worship and Councillors to attend the demonstration to be held at Hastings on Monday next. The invitation was accepted on motion of Councillor Cahill.

ACCOUNTS PRESENTED.

The following accounts were presented:—

Geo. A. Cox, insurance	$ 15 00
J. W. Flavelle, charity	12 45
P. Connal, charity	15 00
C. Brown, charity	26 37
T. H. Denne, charity	3 51

Chief Rossal	2 45
Thos. Parrington	1 50
Ringan & Co	21 41
REVIEW Printing Co	18 50
Stethem & Co	57 14

Councillor DAVIDSON moved that the accounts of Messrs. Cox, Sailsbury & Co., and Detcher be paid at once and that remainder be referred to Finance Committee.—Carried.

THE SIMCOE-ST. BRIDGE.

The MAYOR asked Councillor Langford to explain regarding the Phelan petition and regarding the offer of Mr. H. Sherwood to lower the Simcoe-st. bridge for $75.

Councillor LANGFORD said he and Mr. Sherwood had examined the bridge and Mr. Sherwood had said he could lower the bridge about ten inches for the amount named, but whether he could lower it further or not he did not know.

Mr. E. PHELAN, on motion, was allowed to address the Council. He stated that when the bridge was being built he had distinctly told the engineer and had notified the Council that they were not to make it higher. It had been made higher and he would now like it lowered. It was a great inconvenience to his house and injured his property. He wanted it lowered level with the street, about twenty inches.

The matter was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee for immediate report of engineer.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Your Committee beg leave to report and recommend the payment of the following accounts—

B. Shortly	$ 5 35

Dickson & Co	654 40
Geo. Hilliard	414 60

All of which is respectfully submitted,
R. S. DAVIDSON,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

CHARITY COMMITTEE.

Councillor A. HALL presented a report of the Charity Committee, showing the expenses for July and August to have been as follows:—No. 1 Ward, $15 25; No. 2, $16; No. 3, $10; No. 4, $13; total, $54.25. The report further recommended that Wm. Course be allowed to remain in the gaol where he now is, as the attending physician deemed it would not be advisable to remove him in his condition and as he was comfortable where he was.

The report was adopted.

LIGHTING OF THE OUTSKIRTS?

The report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee was read as follows:—

To the Mayor and Corporation of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend the petition of Meldrum & Davidson, A. W. Brodie and others be granted to have three hydrants placed on Race-st. or one on London st. east and two on Race-st. as your committee may see best to place them.

Your committe have considered the matter of lighting the outlying streets with electric light and would recommend the council to take the number required at the reduced rate of $60 per annum and cancel the gas lamps where not required, and that the committee be authorized to have them put up as soon as possible and that the gas lamps not required to terminate on December 1st, 1888.

A. HALL,
Chairman.

Councillor CAHILL asked if Mr. Hall knew where the lights would be placed.

Councillor HALL said the committee had thought of distributing of them as follows:—One in Auburn and one at the corner of the following streets:—Cemetery and Water, Edinburg and Reid, Reid and London, Brock and Reid, Brock and Stewart, Hunter and Downey, Charlotte and Rubidge, Sherbrooke and Park, Albert and Park, Aylmer and Townsend, George and Perry, Lake and Water, Aylmer and Lake. Councillor Hall further stated that on a rough estimate they thought the increased expense would be about $95 when the gas lamps were cancelled. This was only a proposed distribution and was not complete, and he expected they would have any number of applications for lights before next meeting.

Councillor DOUGLAS complained that the committee had not got west of Park-st.

Councillor KELLY said the object of the scheme was to light the outskirts and he thought the circuit did not go out far enough. He made several suggestions as to where lights were required.

Councillor DAVIDSON thought the lights had been placed as well as could be.

Councillor KELLY wanted the lights to burn all night, especially in the centre of the town.

Councillor DAVIDSON supported this opinion.

Councillor CAHILL wanted the lights equally divided. He thought the matter should be fully and fairly considered and a distribution made satisfactory and just to ratepayers.

Councillor HARTLEY put in a claim for a light at the corner of Smith and Stewart-sts.

The report was received and laid over for further consideration.

THE TOWN CLOCK.

Councillor KELLY moved, seconded by Councillor HALL,—That the Chairman of the Property Committee be instructed to have the hands on the east side of the town clock repaired.—Carried DRINKING FOUNTAINS.

Councillor LANGFORD stated that the building of the Charlotte-st. bridge and other bridges had done away with the watering places for horses and he moved, seconded by Councillor HARTLEY,—That two drinking fountains be placed in central parts of the town for the use of watering horses.

The motion was allowed to stand as notice of motion.

THE TREASURER'S BOOKS.

Councillor MOORE stated that he believed that the books of the late treasurer were not posted up to the time of his death and he thought it would be advisable to have them closed and audited. He therefore moved, seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS,—That it be referred to the Finance Committee to look into the official books of the late treasurer, and if it be found that they are in an incomplete state and not fully posted up until time of his death, that said committee make arrangements to have such work done by a competent accountant and employ auditors to audit said books and committee have power to act.—Carried.

STOP THE WHISTLING.

It was moved by Councillor MOORE, seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS,—That the clerk be directed to communicate with the Secretary of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council of Canada, and enquire if any action has been taken with respect to the resolution of this Council regarding the excessive use of the steam whistle on locomotives passing through the town and urge upon the railway committee early action in the matter, as the railways entering here have not abated the nuisance.—Carried.

WIDER SIDEWALKS.

Moved by Councillor CAHILL, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON, and resolved,—That the advisability of making the new sidewalks now being put down or about to be put down on George-st. being made two or more feet wider be referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

The Council adjourned to meet on the evening of Wednesday, Sept. 5.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN,

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15.000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10.00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00
2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During August goods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

An Indication.

The new sidewalk being laid down on George-st. is wider than the walk it replaces, and yet the opinion was expressed by a resolution in the Council that it should be made still wider. This is an indication of the increasing traffic on the streets and the growth of business in the town. To make the walks any wider than the new one the telephone and light poles would have to be moved farther out.

A Midnight Visitor.

At about 12 o'clock on Sunday night Mr. R. McFadden, who lives in Ashburnh m, was awakened by someone raising the kitchen window of his house. He lit a lamp and hurried descended the stairs, but the disturber of his peace had departed, a dog's bark up the street indicating the direction he had gone. Mr. McFadden has procured ammunition for his preserver, and unwelcome midnight visitors will do well to avoid his house.

Burglary of a Clothing Store.

Some time last night burglars entered the tailoring establishment of Mr. George Ball, George-st., and this morning when Mr. Ball came down to business he found that five suits of ordered clothing which were all made up, had departed with the noctural visitors. The thieves, however, did not take the pants of two of the suits, probably wanting to have the coat and vest as a change with the three complete suits. Several webs of cloth are also missing. An entrance was gained through a window in the rear, the glass in which was broken. The loss will be about $150. There is no clue as to who the depredators are.

Educational News.

By a regulation just issued from the Department of Education, candidates for third-class certificates, at the recent examinations, who obtained a total of 600 marks, may, notwithstanding failures in individual subjects, proceed with the work prescribed for a second-class certificate. No fee will be exacted at the Collegiate Institute for the few days of August.

Jewellery Recovered.

Chief Roszel received word a few days ago that a gold watch and chain had been stolen at Stirling and has been on the look out for the jewellery. Yesterday he recovered the watch and chain from an hotel man here, who had lent a young man $10 on them to enable him to go to Chicago. The watch and chain was valued at $125, and belonged to Chas. Empey, of Stirling.

Domestic Infilicity.

Trouble has again visited the domicile of Joe Valois. He and his wife are both members of the Salvation Army, but last night the even tenor of their way was slightly disturbed and quite a fracas resulted. Mrs. Valois came down to the police station in the evening with an exclamation mark on her nose and her face covered with blood and wanted an officer to go home with her. Officer Stewart accompanied her home, and this morning Mrs. Valois appeared at the police court and got out a summons charging her husband with assault, and the case will come up to-morrow morning.

The Durham Battery Again Second.

The result of the shifting ordnance competition, carried on by the different field batteries in camp, for the Gzowski cup and and prizes offered by the Dominion Artillery Association, has been announced. The Durham Field Battery took second place and won a $20 prize, being two seconds behind the Gananoque Field Battery, which will hold the cup this year, and ahead of ten other batteries. The cup will become the property of any battery winning it twice in succession, and although the Durham Battery has not succeeded in securing permanent ownership of it, it has made an unequalled record in the competition. In 1886 the battery won the cup, breaking the time record, and in 1887 it was second, being only one-fifth of a second behind the Ottawa Battery, the winner of that year, and again this year it is a close second. No other battery has taken the first position and the second place twice in three consecutive years. The record is one that Major McLean, Capt. Sanderson and the men have reason to be proud of, and we hope they will yet become the owners of the trophy.

Mr. Arthur White, of Toronto, Traffic Manager of the Eastern Division of the Grand Trunk, is in town to day.

Mr. C. Croft, of Ingoldsby, formerly storekeeper of the Midland Railway, is in town.

A telegram received from Ashbury Park this morning stated that Mrs. Nicholls was about the same as yesterday.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Mrs. Chambers, of Montreal, a celebrated vocalist of that city, sang, to the delight of all, the solo, 'I know that my Redeemer liveth' at the close of the sermon in Bridge-st. Church on Sunday night. Mrs. Chambers, who has been a guest of Mrs. T. P Pearce since Saturday, left for Montreal on Monday morning per Alexandria." Mrs. Chambers formerly lived in Peterborough and was a favorite vocalist here.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette says:—"Mr. John Kennedy' Deputy-Registrar of Winnipeg, Man., and his eldest daughter have been at the falls since Friday of last week visiting their numerous relatives, and will remain until Monday morning. Very few of our local readers need to be told that Mr. Kennedy was for a long time a resident of this village, and a somewhat distinguished one too, as he was first appointed assessor and collector, then elected reeve, and was also captain of our company of volunteers. About seven years ago he moved to Winnipeg to assist his brother, the late lamented Col. Kennedy, who was then registrar; and upon the colonel's death in England, of smallpox, on his way home from Egypt, the registrarship was conferred his widow and Mr. Kennedy was appointed deputy at a very satisfactory salary. He certainly looks, and no doubt feels, a somewhat bigger man than when we got acquainted with him nearly twenty years ago."

Messrs. John and Edward Sheridan, of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly of this town, are here renewing acquaintances and are the guests of Mr. Thomas Henry, Sherbrooke-st.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Mr. Cavanagh, of the Balmoral, Thrown from his Carriage and Badly Injured.

A serious runaway accident occurred yesterday evening shortly after five o'clock, in which Mr. T. Cavanagh, of the Balmoral Hotel, had a most miraculous escape from being instantly dashed into eternity. Mr. Cavanagh had taken his handsome team of iron greys for a short spin around the block and was just pulling up in front of his hotel on Charlotte-st. to take his wife into the buggy when the horses began to play and rear a little. The term are a very powerful pair of animals, and must have been noticed on the streets as being of great mettle. Mr. Cavanagh had often been told that if ever they got the start of him they would lead a wild race, and so when they became a little boisterous he stood up in the buggy to take a turn of the lines around his hands, this giving the animals a little slack line and away they dashed. At the corner of George and Charlotte-sts. Mr. Cavanagh managed to turn them and they ran straight on to the sidewalk in front of Mr. Thos. Mooore's marble shop. The sudden shock of the buggy striking the sidewalk sent Mr. Cavanagh straight into the air and through the window of the marble shop. One of the horses very luckily fell, thus saving their driver's life, for, having the lines twisted around his wrists and hands, Mr. Cavanagh must inevitably have been dragged to pieces had the mad career of the team not been stopped by this fall.

The eye witnesses who had stood terror-stricken watching the short but wild runaway, rushed and secured the horses and lifted Mr. Cavanagh, who was bleeding from bad wounds in his head, arm and leg. He walked as far as his hotel and medical assistance was summoned. Great excitement prevailed and the hotel was very soon crowded. Dr. King, Dr. Halliday and Dr. Collins were soon with the injured man. It was found that he had received a painful scalp wound about five inches in length, extending from the front of the head down to the eyebrow, a bad cut on the right side, cuts on both his arms and internal injuries, the severity of which cannot be estimated, although they are not thought to be of a serious nature.

The blood from the wounds could be traced from the scene of the accident to the hotel, and the news spread that he had received fatal injuries. Dr. King, who has the case in charge, dressed the wounds again this morning and stated that his patient was doing nicely, and that no serious danger was at present apprehended.

There were two occurrences in connection with the runaway which may be called fortunate, if such a word can be used in writing of this deplorable accident, and they are that the horses did not continue on down Charlotte-st. and and that the one horse fell when they struck the sidewalk. If they had gone one hundred yards further on Charlotte-st. both horses and driver would in all probability have deen dashed to a terrible death at the new bridge over the creek, and if the horse had not fallen the driver would have undoubtedly been dragged to death. It is also a most fortunate circumstance that Mrs. Cavanagh had not got into the buggy.

The buggy and horses were not injured in the least. The team of greys were to be seen to-day attached to a hack, where they will have their spirit somewhat tamed.

House Numbering.

The work of painting the numbers for the houses has been completed by Mr. W. S. Cocks, who had the contract for the work. There are 2,100 numbers and the highest used is 1,073, on the north part of Water-st. The work has been well done, the figures being clear and uniform. They have also been well put up by Mr. Brown, and the convenience of having the work done is already appreciated. The cost of the painting, the tin and the work of putting them up will be $200. The numbers will be all in position next week.

An Assault Case in Court.

The assault case of Wheeler vs. Wainwright at the Police Court this morning, created considerable amusement for those who heard the case. George Wheeler alleged that on Saturday, the 11th of August, he had received three kicks from Mr. Wainwright when that gentleman was ejecting him from his shop. Mr. Moore appeared for Mr. Wainwright, while George pleaded his own case, and, as he was a little exuberant, he waxed eloquent in his pleadings. A couple of witnesses were examined on behalf of the plaintiff, but their evidence went to show that Mr. Wheeler had given provocation by remaining in the shop and talking in an insulting manner before customers on several occasions, while he could not prove that he had been kicked when ejected from the shop. The Magistrate, therefore, dismissed the charge, remarking to Wheeler that he would avoid such occurrences in future by not carrying quite so much liquor concealed about his person. George still seeks justice and may be heard again.

Colts Again Victorious.

The Colts and Veterans played cricket yesterday and again were the Colts victorious. This time they vanquished their opponents more than before. The Veterans went to bat first and their twelve wickets fell for 70 runs. The Colts succeeded in making some pretty good scores, Pearson's 85, Hodge's 23 and Hamilton's 36 being all creditable. The score of 188 of the Colts was made while only nine wickets fell, and they are greatly elated over their second victory. The score was. Veterans, 70; Colts, 188, with four wickets to fall. Following is the score:—

Lacrosse To-Morrow.

The Riversides leave for Bradford tomorrow morning. They were quite successful in their canvassing for subscriptions, having raised about forty dollars, and they will make up the balance themselves. The boys are going to Bradford to win the game if there is any win to it, and they will undoubtedly make a gigantic struggle which will bring them out of the fight on the upper side. The team with the positions, will be as follows:—Joe. Phelan, goal; Joe. Joyal, point; F. Stephenson, cover point; A. Butler, 1st defence; T. Meagher, 2nd defence; M. Halpin, 3rd, defence; P. Larone, centre; Joe. Begley; J. Packenham, and F. Burnon, home field T. Duncan, outside home; A. Rose, inside home; J. Coughlin, field captain.

Baseball on Monday.

The Port Hope club are to play the Peterborough baseball nine a match here on Monday next on the P.A.A.A. grounds. Both clubs will make a great effort to win and the game will be of much interest. The Port Hope team are pretty strong and our local nine will have to get their curves working to come out best.

Flowers that Bloom in the Fall.

The annual exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society on Thursday and Thursday evening promises to be a most succesful one—the best in the history of the Society. It will be held in the Charlotte-st. rink. The band will be in attendance in the evening, and a promenade concert will add to the attractiveness of the show. The Secretary, Mr. P. Henry, will be at the rink from 3 to 6 o'clock on Wednesday, and positively no entries will be taken on Thursday.

—The cells were empty last night.

—The Baird Dramatic Company is again on the road through Canada.

—Five young men who spent Sunday at Stoney Lake claim to have sailed five miles in 20 minutes.

—The Coldesprings and Stewarts Sunday schools, of Otonabee, went down to Jubilee Point on the Golden Eye for their annual excursion this morning. A number boarded the steamer at the wharf here.

—Several who have been camping a Idyl Wild came up last evening. There are still a number at Idyl Wild and Jubilee Point. These resorts have increased in popularity and consequently in population this year.

—Port Hope Times:—"Mr. E. J. W. Burton, collector of customs, has returned from his three weeks outing at the lodge of Mr. Adam Hudspeth, M.P., at a point between Pigeon Lake and Buckhorn. Mr. Burton speaks in the highest terms of the hospitality of the host, and his appearance speaks well for the healthfulness of the country back there."

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

"It seems to me," said Rev. Mr. Murgatroyd, as he helped himself to muffins, "that you young people are well fixed, not actually wealthy, but, don't you know, rather comfortable. I see that you have many nice comforts about you which I expect you can well afford. The table setting for instance is neat, tasty, inviting and extremely pretty. Real China too as you say, what it cost is quite moderate, and I rather fancy that China Hall must be a regular bonanza to people about here. We can't possibly do better in the way of prices at Montreal, and I doubt very much if the goods are at all better. ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

Any do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

CHAPTER I.

BY THE DYING MOUNTEBANE.

They had sent for the doctor from Bourron before 6. About 8 some villagers came round for the performance, and were told how matters stood. It seemed a liberty for a mountebank to fall ill like real people, and they made off again in dudgeon. By 10 Mme. Tentaillon was gravely alarmed, and had sent down the street for Dr. Desprez.

The doctor was at work over his manuscripts in one corner of the little dining room, and his wife was asleep over the fire in another, when the messenger arrived.

"Sapristi!" said the doctor, "you should have sent for me before. It was a case for hurry." And he followed the messenger as he was, in his slippers and skull cap.

The inn was not thirty yards away, but the messenger did not stop there; he went in at one door and out by another into the court, and then led the way by a flight of steps beside the stable to the loft where the mountebank lay sick. If Dr. Desprez were to live 1,000 years he would never forget his arrival in that room, for not only was the scene picturesque, but the moment made a date in his existence. We reckon our lives, I hardly know why, from the date of our first sorry appearance in society, as if from a first humiliation, for no actor can come upon the stage with a worse grace. Not to go further back, which would be judged too curious, there are subsequently many moving and decisive accidents in the lives of all, which would make as logical a period as this of birth. And here, for instance, Dr. Desprez, a man past 40, who had made what is called a failure in life, and was moreover married, found himself at a new point of departure when he opened the door of the loft above Tentaillon's stable.

It was a large place, lighted only by a single candle set upon the floor. The mountebank lay on his back upon a pallet, a large man, with a quixotic nose inflamed with drinking. Mme. Tentaillon stooped over him, applying a hot water and mustard embrocation to his feet; and on a chair close by sat a little fellow of 11 or 12, with his feet dangling. These three were the only occupants, except the shadows. But the shadows were a company in themselves; the extent of the room exaggerated them to a gigantic size, and from the low position of the candle the light struck upward and produced deformed foreshortenings. The mountebank's profile was enlarged upon the wall in caricature, and it was strange to see his nose shorten and lengthen as the flame was blown about by draughts. As for Mme Tentaillon, her shadow was no more than a gross hump of shoulders, with now and again a hemisphere of head. The chair legs were spindled out as long as stilts, and the boy sat perched atop of them, like a cloud, in the corner of the roof.

It was the boy who took the doctor's fancy. He had a great arched skull, the forehead and the hands of a musician, and a pair of haunting eyes. It was not merely that these eyes were large, or steady, or the softest ruddy brown. There was a look in them besides, which thrilled the doctor, and made him half uneasy. He was sure he had seen such a look before, and yet he could not remember how or where. It was as if this boy, who was quite a stranger to him, had the eyes of an old friend or an old enemy. And the boy would give him no peace; he seemed profoundly indifferent to what was going on, or rather abstracted from it in a superior contemplation, beating gently with his feet against the bars of the chair, and holding his hands folded on his lap. But, for all that, his eyes kept following the doctor about the room with a thoughtful fixity of gaze. Desprez could not tell whether he was fascinating the boy, or the boy was fascinating him. He busied himself over the sick man; he put questions, he felt the pulse, he jested, he grew a little hot and swore; and still, whenever he looked round, there were the brown eyes waiting for his with the same inquiring, melancholy gaze.

At last the doctor hit on the solution at a leap. He remembered the look now. The little fellow, although he was as straight as a dart, had the eyes that go usually with a crooked back; he was not at all deformed, and yet a deformed person seemed to be looking at you from below his brows. The doctor drew a long breath, he was so much relieved to find a theory (for he loved theories) and to explain away his interest.

For all that, he dispatched the invalid with unusual haste, and, still kneeling with one knee on the floor, turned a little round and looked the boy over at his leisure. The boy was not in the least put out, but looked placidly back at the doctor.

"Is this your father?" asked Desprez.

"Oh, no," returned the boy; "my master."

"Are you fond of him?" continued the doctor

"No, sir," said the boy.

Mme. Tentaillon and Desprez exchanged expressive glances.

"That is bad, my man," resumed the latter, with a shade of sternness. "Every one should be fond of the dying, or conceal their sentiments; and your master here is dying. If I have watched a bird a little while stealing my cherries, I have a thought of disappointment when he flies away over my garden wall, and I see him steer for the forest and vanish. How much more a creature such as this, so strong, so astute, so richly endowed with faculties! When I think that, in a few hours, the speech will be silenced, the breath extinct, and even the shadow vanished from the wall, I who never saw him, this lady who knew him only as a guest, are touched with some affection."

The boy was silent for a little, and appeared to be reflecting.

"You did not know him," he replied at last. "He was a bad man.

"He is a little pagan," said the landlady. "For that matter, they are all the same, these mountebanks, tumblers, artists, and what not. They have no interior."

But the doctor was still scrutinizing the little page; his eyebrows knotted and uplifted.

"What is your name?" he asked.

"Jean-Marie," said the lad.

Desprez leaped upon him with one of his sudden flashes of excitement, and felt his head all over from an ethnological point of view.

"Celtic, Celtic!" he said.

"Celtic!" cried Mme. Tentaillon, who had perhaps confounded the word with hydrocephalous. "Poor lad! is it dangerous?"

"That depends," returned the doctor, grimly. And then once more addressing the boy: "And what do you do for your living, Jean-Marie?" he inquired.

"I tumble," was the answer.

"So! Tumble?" repeated Desprez. "Probably healthful. I hazard the guess, Mme. Tentaillon, that tumbling is a healthful way of life. And have you never done anything else but tumble?"

"Before I learned that I used to steal," answered Jean-Marie gravely.

"Upon my word!" cried the doctor. "You are a nice little man for your age. Madame, when my confrere comes from Bourron, you will communicate my unfavorable opinion. I leave the case in his hands; but, of course, on any alarming symptom, above all if there should be a sign of a rally, do not hesitate to knock me up. I am a doctor no longer, I thank God; but I have been one. Good night madame. Good sleep to you, Jean-Marie."

CHAPTER II.

MORNING TALK.

Dr. Desprez always rose early. Before the smoke arose, before the first cart rattled over the bridge to the day's labor in the fields, he was to be found wandering in his garden. Now he would pick a lunch of grapes; now he would eat a big pear under the trellis; now he would draw all sorts of fancies on the path with the end of his cane; now he would go down and watch the river running endlessly past the timber landing place at which he moored his boat. There was no time, he used to say, for making theories like the early morning. "I rise earlier than any one else in the village," he once boasted. "It is a fair consequence that I know more and wish to do less with my knowledge."

The doctor was a connoisseur of sunrises, and loved a good theatrical effect to usher in the day. He had a theory of dew, by which he could predict the weather. Indeed, most things served him to that end; the sound of the bells from all the neighboring villages, the smell of the forest, the visits and the behavior of both birds and fishes, the look of the plants in his garden, the disposition of cloud, the color of the light, and last, though not least, the arsenal of meteorological instruments in a louvre boarded hutch upon the lawn. Ever since he had settled at Gretz he had been growing more and more into the local meteorologist, the unpaid champion of the local climate. He thought at first there was no place so healthful in the arrondissement. By the end of the second year, he protested there was none so wholesome in the whole department. And for some time before he met Jean-Marie he had been prepared to challenge all France and the better part of Europe for a rival to his chosen spot

BELLEVILLE BRIEFS.

A Young Man Fatally Injured—Keyser Remanded Until Friday.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 28.—Henry Keyser, who was to have been sentenced yesterday for attempting to ravish his brother's wife, was further remanded until Friday.

Wesley Cummings, a young man who was acting as substitute for the driver of a horse which hauls dump cars on the double track, was fatally injured yesterday morning. The horse being frightened by a passing train Cummings ran to stop it, but fell in front of the four cars, all of which passed over him, so seriously injuring his right leg and left arm that amputation of both was found to be necessary. The unfortunate man, who is but 21 years of age, and the son of a widowed mother, will probably die, as his internal injuries are serious. Another man named Richard Jones, employed in coupling dump cars, had one of his hands badly crushed.

THE MARKETS REVIEWED.

Leading Features at Home and Abroad—A Scarcity of Good Butter.

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—Business was quiet on the St. Lawrence market yesterday morning. The supply was small and there was no change in prices. Tomatoes still kept up in price. Pickling cucumbers sold at 20c to 30c per hundred. The supply of apples was small and they sold at $1.25 to $1.75 per barrel. Eggs are quoted at 17c and butter 18c to 26c. All the good butter that can be got is wanted.

Buffalo cheese market reports 4750 boxes sold at 8¾c and 300 boxes on commission, the market being weak and the offerings 6850 boxes, including 1800 boxes at Cloverfield, which were not sold. At Little Falls the transactions were 56 lots at 8¾c, 71 lots at 8¼c, 3 lots at private terms and 7 lots on commission, total 8952 boxes. Thirty packages of creamery butter sold at 20c to 21c, with the bulk at 21c, and eighteen packages of farm dairy at 18c to 19c. The Utica market was unexpectedly lively, the transactions being 13,915 boxes and the ruling price 8¾c.

On the hay market a few loads changed hands at $21 per ton. Straw brought $11 to $13. Between 400 and 500 bushels of oats were offered on the grain market and sold at an average of 37c. One load of wild goose wheat brought 78½c per bushel. No barley was offered.

At the Board of Trade call board 98 cents was offered for No. 2 red winter, but no transactions were made.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports: Floating cargoes—wheat quiet, firm. Corn nil, cargoes on passage—wheat and corn quiet and firm. Mark Lane—wheat and flour firm; corn strong. French country markets generally dearer. TURNBULL'S.

We have made extensive preparations in our Tailoring department for an Immense Fall Trade, and judging from the success of our Spring Trade and the way our numerous customers have been bringing in their friends to have a suit made by Mr. Wier, our Tailor, who is well and favorably known in Peterborough for aneat and perfect fit, we feel confident we will do it. Our Fall purchases of Canadian Tweeds have already arrived, which is much earlier than usual. They are exceptionally good value and are sure to please our customers. The styles of pattern are varied, comprising brown and grey mixed, diagonal twills, the old pepper and salt and pin head checks, neat, solid and broken checks; loud stripes are largely shown, but we don't shink they will become very popular. Our Scotch and Irish Tweeds, English Pilot Cloths and Beaver Overcoatings, we are expecting an invoice of daily. These Goods we have imported direct to insure our customers getting the best value and the genuine article, for in these days of imitation we want to be able to positively state that the goods are as represented.

During the past season we purchased small lots of Boys' and Youths' Clothing of each of the manufacturers besides our regular lines and carefully compared them as to style, quality of goods, the way they are cut to fit the neck, the length of sleeves and the proportion of pants to coat and vest and have placed large orders for the best makes in a variety of styles.

As we cannot keep this notice always before you, all would do well to remember that at Turnbull's you an get a first-class suit made to order, a ready-made suit for a youth or boy, a ready-made overcoat for a man or boy guaranteed at a price that is often paid for a very inferior article that does not wear three months.

MANITOBA'S LEGISLATURE

OPENING OF THE SESSION YESTERDAY.

The Speech from the Throne—Debate on the Address in Reply Begun—The Railroad Lobby Gathering.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 29.—The opening of the Legislature by Governor Schultz yesterday afternoon attracted a large crowd.

Mr. Winram, M.P.P. for Manitou, was elected Speaker.

The speech from the Throne was very brief, referring to the long residence of the Governor in the province and his satisfaction at its progress and development. It announced that the Government had made arrangements which, if ratified, will secure competitive railway rates and foreshadowed amendments to the municipal, school and land titles acts.

Notice of appointment was given to investigate the conduct of Provincial Auditor Nursey.

Business will be rushed through, the debate on the speech, commencing last night, and night sessions being held till the close of the session.

Mr. Sefton moved the address endorsing the Northern Pacific contract.

Mr. Lagemadiere seconded in French.

Mr. Norquay denounced the contract and said it was a complete give-away on the part of the province. He taunted the Government with cowardice in not referring in the speech to the Hudson Bay Railway scheme, whose cause he upheld.

Premier Greenway moved the adjournment of the debate.

It is likely that the House will prorogue Saturday. In the meantime the Hudson Bay men are hustling to get the chief promoters here in time to submit a scheme.

The situation is further complicated by the arrival of Vice-President Clough, of the Manitoba road, with an offer to the Government to step into the Northern Pacific's shoes and give running power to all railways, or to lease the lines the Government might build, giving a maximum rate to Duluth.

Doubtless the offer will not be entertained, although the Northern Pacific contract will be warmly opposed by several leading supporters of the Government.

TORONTO TO PICS.

The Bucket Shop Cases to be Reviewed in the High Court of Justice.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—An application was made yesterday to Mr. Justice Falconbridge, sitting in chambers of the High Court of Justice, for a certiorari to bring up for review the conviction under the Bucket Shop Act of the employes of Hanrahan & Co. His lordship granted the writ asked, and the argument to quash the convictions will come up before the full court early next month.

Since the publication on Saturday of the great concessions made to the Church in Ontario by the Holy See, the bishops of the province feel themselves constrained to entirely re-construct the nomintaions to the vacant sees of Hamilton and Toronto made by them at Toronto over a month ago, and accordingly the bishops will meet at Kingston to-day and to-morrow for that purpose. Bishop Walsh, who arrived in Toronto Monday night, spent yesterday at the palace and left for Kingston last night where Bishop Dowling of Peterboro will join him and Bishop Cleary.

Yesterday morning Mr. Michael Basso conveyed fifteen more destitute Italians to the granite quarry near Peterboro, where through his and Consul Gianelli's efforts work has been procured for them. Several of the men formed a part of the gang of 74 deserted in this city by Alphonso Balastini, and in connection with whom Alphonso Del Santo is wanted by the police.

The examination for solicitors was held yesterday. Thirty-eight students wrote. The result will be announced to-day. The examination for barrister takes place to-day. Thirty-three students will write.

A meeting of Lancashire Lads was held yesterday at the office of Ald. John Hallam to draft an address to the Governor-General and make arrangements for its presentation on the occasion of his visit here to open the exhibition. The address will be illuminated and on vellum, with the coat of arms of Lord Stanley) Lancashire, Manchester and Liverpool. The border will be emblematic of the trade and commerce of Lancashire and contain the names of Lancashire worthies,

Hon. Wilfred and Mme. Laurier came to town from St. Thomas yesterday morning and left for their Quebec home on the Montreal express last evening.

Sir Hector Langevin and Sir John S. D. Thompson arrived in the city last night from the capital on their way to the Hagersville picnic.

Hon. Oliver Mowat arrived in the city last night.

Limestone City Chronicles.

KINGSTON, Aug. 28.—The directors of the cotton mill have received orders from three houses in China to take all the cotton the mill here can make up to Jan. 1 next at prices in advance of the former and which are considered satisfactory.

An old Frenchman, who gives his name as Levi Martin and says he is on his way from Prescott to Hamilton, fell out of his skiff in which he is making the trip and but for the timely assistance of A. Hanley would have been drowned.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 28.—Wesley Cummings, was fatally injured on the double track yesterday, died this morning.

Levi McConnell, an old resident of Rawdon, fell dead in the Division Court at Stirling yesterday from apoplexy.

A patron of the Keene cheese factory who was suspected of furnishing watered milk is to be summoned for dumping a can of milk which Inspector Rollins was preparing to test. A patron of the Plum Grove factory at Rawdon was lately detected in sending watered milk to the factory, and confessed and paid the fine.

THE WORLD OF LONDON.

EDMUND YATES' GOSSIP ABOUT MEN AND AFFAIRS.

He Thinks the British Fleet Notoriously Inefficient—The Royal Farm—Queen Victoria's Famous Herd.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Unless the naval manœuvres are simply a mischievous and costly farce, those of this year ought once and for all to drive the Government and the country from the fool's paradise. It used to be held that our navy was under the normal strength if it was weaker than that of any two powers. It may be conjectured that the estimates which would be necessary would scarcely be accepted now without comment and opposition, but while we have a fleet which is notoriously insufficient for the protection of our own islands, to say nothing of our dominions beyond the sea, we cannot rationally expect to retain our own in the councils of the world.

The Queen had another motive in choosing Blythwood as the place of sojourn in Scotland than its proximity to Glasgow. The late Duke of Albany was a very great college friend of Walter Douglas Campbell, Sir Archibald's youngest brother. The visit of the Duke and Duchess of Albany after their marriage was to Blythwood. The friendship between the duke and Mr. Campbell was a very sincere one and lasted from the time they were contemporaries at college. It is a sad pleasure to the Queen, though she thoroughly enjoys revisiting the place connected with some one of her royal family who is dead.

The Queen contemplates erecting new buildings on the royal farm at Abergeldie mains, near Balmoral, where her famous herd of Aberdeen-Angus cattle is kept. The present buildings are very old and defective and most inconveniently arranged, but she merely holds it on lease, with the castle and shootings and fishings of Abergeldie, from H. M. Gordon. The lease was lately renewed. The necessary improvements will be carried out before next spring. The farm extends to 130 acres and is fairly good land, which is judiciously enriched and managed. The Queen has twelve cows with their calves, two yearling heifers and two bulls, one of which is the well-known Squire of Striden, who was bought for Her Majesty a few months ago at the sale of the East Town herd. The best cow is Princess Irene, who was bred on the farm. She is a magnificent beast and took the first prize at the Royal Northern show. Another beauty is her half-sister, Princess Alice, also bred by the Queen.

Lord Dufferin leaves Bombay Dec. 14. He will not pay any visit to England before taking up his residence at Rome, where he is expected to arrive in time for King Humbert's reception on New Year's day.

By the death of Lord Paget I lose a very old friend. One of my earliest recollections in seeing him was, a young man of 24, in my father's sanctum measuring heights against M. Bibin, a Belgian giant, then playing at the Adelphi. He was a kindly, genial creature, familiar with all kinds and conditions of men, a good-humored laugh on his rubicund face, lifting the ends of his ragged, dyed moustache and lighting his weary eyes. He was a great supporter, in a gratis-for-nothing sense, of theatricals, and was known to everyone, from the manager to the humblest extra, and liked by all with whom he came in contact—by the Queen and by the black-faced stokers of the North-western Railway, of which he was a director. He took a great delight in riding on the engine.

"Aven't seen you on the kettle lately, my lord?" said a driver just about to start from Euston to Lord Alfred, to whom I was talking. "Hullo, Bill!" replied his genial lordship, recognizing his friend and heartily grasping his hand. His popularity with the people was frequently of great value to Lord Alfred Paget—never so much so as on the arrival of the Princess Alexandra in London. The enormous crowds surging around the carriages, much pressed and trampled by soldiers and police were kept in good temper by the remarks of the jolly chief marshal. He confessed afterwards that he was seriously alarmed, and never was so glad as when the princess arrived safely at her journey's end.

Prof. Von Angeli has been summoned to Potsdam to paint a life size portrait of Emperor William, as a present from the Kaiser to Queen Victoria, who possesses quite a gallery of portraits by Angeli.

Henry Richard was buried in Abney park cemetery because he expressed a wish that his grave should be near those of Mr. Morley and Sir Hugh Owen. At the funeral of the latter Mr. Richard pronounced a touching eulogy on an old comrade in the very chapel where so many Liberal politicians assembled on Friday.

The house at Tichborne park has been undergoing great alterations to suit the taste of Sir Henry Tichborne and his young wife. It is not a very imposing edifice. The park around it, with the lake and water lilies, which was the scene of a little love story on which the lawyers in the great Tichborne trial laid their rough hands, is beautiful.

The Freeman's Journal announces gayly that the line of evidence with regard to the forged letters is complete. The Times is not likely to shrink from the responsibility, nor will Walter nor Buckle fail to put in an appearance. It is not necessary for either of them to be called as a witness. The people to give evidence are those who were the intermediaries or who carried on the negotiations. EDMUND YATES.

King Milan's Divorce Case.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The proceedings for divorce between the King and Queen of Servia will open Sept. 1. A network of political intrigue enwraps the whole affair. Russian and Austrian diplomats are specially active around Belgrade. A large array of distinguished counsel is engaged on either side. The case takes on the importance of a political event.

A Wallacetown Sensation.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 29.—The village of Wallacetown is greatly excited over a sensation which has developed there. A few months ago a young lady in the village discovered that she was enciente, and appealed to the author of her ruin to marry her. This he failed to do, but a few days ago the girl was spirited away to Detroit, and upon her brother arriving at Wallacetown last week, both the alleged author of her ruin and a relative who is claimed to be mixed up in the case, disappeared from the village. A search is now being made in Detroit for the girl.

East Northumberland Liberals.

WARKWORTH, Aug. 29.—At the Reform convention held here yesterday, Caleb A. Mallory of Warkworth, warden of the united counties, was unanimously chosen as the Reform candidate to contest the riding in the coming election to fill the vacancy in the Local House caused by the death of the late Mr. Richard Clarke.

A Blaze in Orangeville.

ORANGEVILLE, Aug. 29.—About 6 o'clock last evening fire broke out in the dry goods store occupied by William Judge. The flames spread rapidly thence to the confectionery store owned by Mrs. Medley. These buildings were both gutted. The upper stories were used as dressmaking and tailor's establishments. While this fire was raging and the firemen hard at work flames burst forth in the waterworks, having caught from some defect in the flues. After working hard about an hour the fire was extinguished. The total loss is not known, but it is partly covered by insurance. There is no clue yet as to how the fire originated.

BROKER E. S. COX IN COURT.

Bail Refused and the Ex-Financier Lodged in Jail.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—There was a big crowd in the Police Court building when Edward Strachan Cox was arraigned before Ald. Baxter, J. P., on a charge of defrauding the Central Bank, or, as the information reads, that "In this city, in the month of November last, the said Cox did unlawfully defraud the Central Bank of $10,000, and converted the same to his own use." Gaily and smilingly the ex-President of the Baseball Association tripped upstairs from the cells and into the dock, from which vantage point he nodded to his numerous acquaintances in court. Messrs. Howland and Gooderham surveyed the scene from a corner of the room. Mr. Murdoch and Mr. Galt appeared for the captive and Mr. Badgerow for the Crown. The latter asked for a week's ad journment.

"We have no objection to the remand, but I now make application that the defendant be admitted to bail," replied Mr. Murdoch, who then entered into an argument sustaining his application. His argument was based upon the fact that the offence charged is a misdemeanor and not a felony, and is therefore a bailable offence. Law points were quoted to prove this. To this Mr. Baxter replied that this misdemeanor was so near a felony in magnitude that he would decline to grant bail, though Mr. Murdoch might apply to a Superior Court judge for it. "Remanded to Sept. 4," said the Court, and Cox lightly, almost gaily, tripped down the stairway to the cells, and the large crowd diminished.

Later on, Mr. T. P. Galt, one of the counsel for Cox, during a lull in the proceedings arose and asked for permission to address His Worship. He did so as follows: "Before Your Worship finally disposes of the matter of bail in the case of Mr. Cox I desire to call your attention to the serious consequences that may result from a persistance of your refusal. The information laid does not disclose a criminal offence. Any justice, therefore, who refuses bail leaves himself open to action. I therefore ask a reconsideration of your decision, and respectfully request that you consult one or more Superior Court judges at Osgoode Hall." This the Magistrate, after deliberating the points, consented to.

At the afternoon session, after further argument, Justice Baxter said: "I have thought the matter over carefully and cautiously and see no reason to alter my decision. No evidence has been offered and I do not feel justified in accepting bail. The Crown refuses to consent, and the responsibility lies with me and that makes me more guarded. I may say that my own conviction has been strengthened by an interview with Judge McMahon and the Deputy Attorney-General, and I must not hesitate to deny bail."

When the Magistrate made his announcement Mr. Cox for the first time showed trepidation. His face flushed and his fingers twitched nervously as he stroked his moustache in his excitement.

On leaving the Police Court Lawyers Murdoch and Galt drove rapidly to the residence of Mr. Justice McMahon, where a formal application was made for a writ of habeas corpus. Mr. Murdoch argued that there was no offence disclosed in the information cognizable to the law, statutory or otherwise. The charge at most only amounted to a misdemeanor. His Lordship raised the point as to whether or not it was a proper case for habeas corpus, as there was merely a remand and no evidence had been taken. He asked the counsel to produce authority, and allowed them to renew the application before him to-day at Osgoode Hall.

At 5 o'clock Cox was taken to the jail in charge of Detective Davis.

THE EARLY-CLOSING FIASCO.

All the Bylaws Except One Repealed by the Hamilton City Council.

HAMILTON, Aug. 28.—At the meeting of the City Council last night, all the early-closing bylaws, except the one relating to dealers in hats, caps and gentlemen's furnishings, were repealed, and consequently at the Police Court this morning a number of merchants, who were charged with infractions of the bylaws, were discharged.

A picnic will be held at Oaklands tomorrow under the auspices of the Wentworth Farmers' Institute.

Last evening when the Macassa arrived at the beach, Mrs. John Barry of Detroit, a relative of Capt. Campbell, stumbled off the gang plank in the dark and fell between the vessel and the pier. Capt. Campbell immediately climbed down, and bracing himself against the wale of the steamer, caught Mrs. Barry as she rose to the surface and held her until help arrived.

This morning Alfred Goff, a graduate of the Stephenson Industrial Home, Gravesend, Wm. Ringer and Frank Badeau, were charged with assaulting and robbing a small boy named Thos. Edwards and stealing $2.65 from him. After considerable indecision they all pleaded guilty, with the qualification that the amount was only $1.50. They heard that Edwards had the money and they laid for him on Bay-street north. When he arrived they knocked him down and gagged and robbed him in the most approved style. The magistrate gave them six months in the Central Prison.

A man giving his name as Samuel Pearsell was arrested by the police yesterday on suspicion of having stolen a horse and buggy from Mr. Wm. Dixon of Toronto. Pearsell sold the buggy, a fine one, to Mr. Paine, butcher, for $15, and put the horse up at a livery stable. He was arrested at the Stuart-street station as he was about to leave on the express for the Bridge.

The Orange Grand Lodge.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 29.—The fifty-ninth session of the Supreme Orange Grand Lodge of British North America opened in the Oddfellows' Hall yesterday afternoon, Grand Master N. Clark Wallace, M.P. for North York, presiding. There is a large attendance of members, including representatives from all parts of Ontario. John Small, M. P. for East Toronto, and Mayor Clarke arrived this morning. The reading of Grand Master Wallace's address and appointment of committee's occupied nearly all the afternoon session and the Grand lodge adjourned till to-day.

Mrs. Howes' Murderers.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 29.—The examination of the prisoners held for the murder of Mrs. Howes has been postponed until next week. Mr. Whitehead, who came from the scene of the murder yesterday, says Phillippin's sister has made statements to the authorities which fixes the guilt on Trafton and Phillippin.

A Customs Case.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—Some time ago a lumberman operating in Michigan imported into Canada some oak timber of a description covered by the Customs free list, but notwithstanding this, duty was charged on the same. This has been paid under protest, and the case has been referred to the Exchequer Court for a definition of law. The amount involved is $10,000.

C. O. F. Picnic.

SARNIA, Aug. 28.—The courts of the Canadian order of Foresters of Lambton and Middlesex counties held a successful picnic here to-day on the agricultural grounds, at which athletic sports of different kinds were indulged in.

NO ACTION TO BE TAKEN.

IN THE CASE OF THE AILSA CRAIG POSTMASTER.

The Time for the Completion of the New Departmental Building at the Capital Extended to Jan. 1, 1889.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—The Postoffice Department will take no action in regard to the case of Shackelton Hay, postmaster at Ailsa Craig, who assigned recently on account of a banking business which he carried on. The amount due to depositors if said to be $20,000. Hay's accounts with the Government are clear and there are no deficiencies. In addition to this his sureties express their willingness to continue to act.

Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, has returned to the city from Manitoba. He reports that very little damage has been done to the grain crop, and estimates the yield at 20,000,000 bushels. The Canadian Pacific Railway are making every effort possible to move the crop, and among other things are erecting an elevator at Port Arthur, to which reference has already been made, with a capacity of 1,500,000 bushels.

The time for the completion of the new Departmental Building has been extended to Jan. 1.

It is understood that the final evidence in the arbitration case between the Government and the Canadian Pacific respecting the Onderdonk section will be taken in Ottawa.

Mr. Schrieber, Superintendent of Government railways, has resumed his duties here.

Hon. J. H. Pope, Minister of Railways, has returned from the Eastern Townships.

Senator McInnes of Hamilton and Mr. G. R. Pugsley, President of the Regina and Long Lake Railway, are in the city on Government business.

Hon. John Carling has returned to the city.

Great preparations are being made to give Sir Hector Langevin a warm reception at Aylmer on Saturday on the occasion of laying the corner stone of the new postoffice building.

ACCIDENTALLY CREMATED.

The Latest Montreal Combine—Poisoned by Canned Mackerel.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—At a fire which becurred in Charles Bouchard's house on St. Andre-street this morning, the dead remains of a child were nearly cremated. A lighted candle set fire to the light draperies around the coffin and before it could be extinguished the remains were badly burned. There was about $500 damage done to the house.

The latest combine is among the wholesale fruit men.

P. Beaudoin, grocer of Point St. Charles, and three of his assistants were poisoned through eating some canned mackerel a day or two ago. The explanation is that in soldering the ends of tins, acid, which is used instead of resin, got into the fish.

John Humble, charged with attempt to murder the colored man Miners, was to-day again remanded for eight days. Miners is recovering and Humble will be able to get out on bail in a few days.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a man named Power, on the charge of deliberately throwing a man named Davis into the river with the intention of drowning him. Davis' brother, who makes the complaint, states that jealousy was the cause of the act. His brother had been foreman in the same concern of which Power now holds the foremanship. Lately Power was afraid that Davis would again take his place. The accused has not yet been found.

The inquest on the body of Jean Baptiste Rheaume, killed by a horse falling upon him in an excavation off Shearer-street on Saturday, was resumed to-day, when the jury returned this verdict:

"We condemn the corporation of Montreal for negligence for not having erected a strong barrier around the excavation where Rheaume met his death. Further we recommend that the city of Montreal in future protect every excavation in streets made by it with a strong inclosure so as to secure the lives of its employes and to prevent accidents."

At a meeting of the Fire Committee this afternoon the City Clerk was authorized to advertise for applications for Chief of the Fire Brigade. Applicants are to be able to speak the two languages and are not to exceed 45 years of age. Applications are to be received until Sept. 7.

The assessed value of real estate in the city of Montreal, according to the assessors who have just completed their labors, is $109,584,395. Of this $18,460,570 is exempt from taxation.

The Lake Gives up Its Dead.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—The body of Miss Archibald, of Montreal, who, with Wm. Hilton, was drowned in Lake Memphremagog last week, has been recovered.

FIFTEEN SAILORS DROWNED.

Terrible Wreck of a Steamship Near Ste Felicite, Quebec.

STE. FLAVIE, Que., Aug. 29.—It is reported that on Saturday last the steamship Bratsberg, on her way up, struck upon a rock at Cape Chatte. She was considerably damaged and they had to head her to the shore to keep her afloat. She went aground on Saturday night near St. Felicite, 9 miles below Metane, and wired Quebec for assistance.

On account of the fearful storm that prevailed in this part of the province since Sunday night the captain was forced on Monday to abandon the vessel with two lady passengers on board. The crew composed of seventeen men, was left on board until yesterday morning when they commenced to fear the danger. The steamer began to get smashed and they prepared to get off, using two small boats. After they left the steamer both of them upset and fifteen sailors out of seventeen were drowned. Twelve bodies have been recovered so far.

THE STORM IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Several Persons Struck by Lightning—Much Damage Done to Property.

HALIFAX, Aug. 29.—A young hack driver named Fredrick Spain was struck by lightning during the storm Monday night. He was picked up insensible but recovered consciousness in a short time and yesterday was all right. The side of his head and face were badly scarred. The hack suffered some damage, a wheel and shaft being shattered.

Telegraphic reports show the storm was very severe all over the province. At Sydney, C.B., the spire of St. George's Church was shattered and a son of Lancalm McDonald dangerously injured. The dwelling of Dr. Burns was struck but not badly damaged. At Bristol, Queen's County, the house of Capt. J. B. Rees was struck and considerably injured. A barn at West Berlin was destroyed with its contents. Dr. McKay, M. P. P. for Cape Breton, while driving from Bridgeport to Reserve Mines was struck by lightning and severely injured.

Serious Cave-in at Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 28.—About 6 o'clock this evening a laboring man named George Cleaver, who was working on a sewer on Vansittart-avenue, nearly lost his life by its caving in. Although no bones are broken it is feared he will not recover. Another laborer who was with him escaped.

THE CANALS.

CANADIAN journals and public men throughout the Dominion who have discussed President Cleveland's threat to abolish the bonding privilege, have expressed satisfaction because this country not only has Atlantic ports, but also has railway connection between those ports and all other parts of the country. Should the United States ports be closed to Canadian imports and exports, the traffic would be diverted to another channel but could not be stopped. Thus, although the retaliation proposed by President Cleveland, regarding the carrying of goods in bond, would cause inconvenience and some loss, it would not shut us out from the great markets of the world even in winter. In the summer season the St. Lawrence route is open, and in winter the Intercolonial railway would provide a channel for the traffic shut off from Portland, New York and Boston. In this connection it is also pointed out that the volume of Canadian traffic passing through the United States ports is decreasing.

But with regard to the canals Canada is not in such an independent position. While this country owns the Welland Canal, the vessels from the west pass through two canals controlled by the Republic before they reach the Welland—the Sault Ste. Marie and the St. Clair Flat canals. The Canadian Parliament has made an appropriation for constructing a Canadian canal at Sault Ste. Marie, and the wisdom of that step is made plainer in the light of Cleveland's message. But even after that work is completed, there is still another United States canal on the route to the Welland, and discrimination against Canadian vessels is to be applied, if enforced at all, in the St. Clair canal as well as in the Sault Ste. Marie waterway. If Canada had a waterway entirely independent of the United States canals, and removed from their control and influence, it is obvious that this country would be in a better position to meet the Republic in the commercial war with which it threatens us. Such a waterway the system of navigation known as the Trent Valley Canal would be. The Trent Valley route would afford a water channel for the western traffic right through the heart of Ontario. With the Sault canal constructed and the Trent Valley canal completed, Canada would have an independent waterway to the St. Lawrence, and after passing through the Sault the route would diverge from the boundary and would not again touch near United States territory until it reached the St. Lawrence. In addition to the commercial advantages of this route under ordinary circumstances, the Commission and the Government should bear in mind the advantage it would be in case the United States carried into effect President Cleveland's threat.

MR. BUTTERWORTH, the American champion of unrestricted reciprocity, has just been re-nominated for congress by the Republicans of the first district of Ohio. Apparently Mr. Butterworth's advocacy of complete reciprocity of trade between the United States and Canada has not lessened his popularity with his constituents.—Ottawa Free Press.

Neither, apparently, has his vote against the Mills bill, nor the declaration of the Republican Senator from Ohio that continental free trade was desirable because it would lead to annexation. The Liberals have joined hands with friends of Canada of a strange kind.

THE present month is the windiest August on record.—Belleville Intelligencer.

This is accounted for by the amount of blowing done across the lines.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth it relieves the little suffer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

An Otonabee Excursion.

The Sunday schools of Cold Springs and Raven Road, of Otonabee, held an excursion yesterday down the river to Jubilee Point. The steamer Golden-Eye was engaged for the occasion and was loaded to her full capacity, and many more who were ready at different points to board the steamer had to be left behind, as the boat had on all she could safely carry. Some of those who could not go on the Golden-Eye followed later on the beaver. The sail was a very pleasant one and at the Point a very enjoyable time was spent. Those having the excursion in charge did all that could be done to make the day pleasant for the party and met with success in their endeavors. The committee were:—Ladies, Misses Georgina Stewart, Linda Kennedy, Eva Stewart, Jane Ambrose, Susie Matchett and Sarah Welsh; gentlemen, Messrs. W. Kennedy, George Stewart, R.A. Ward, Alex. Matchett, James Rose, R. Hanbridge, and I. Richardson, secretary. Mr. Calcutt regrets very much that he was unable to accommodate all on the Golden-Eye, but the very large attendance was unexpected and the scow was not taken.

Simply on a Visit.

The Kingston Whig says:—"The Bishops of Peterborough and London arrived here on Tuesday afternoon on a visit to the Bishop of Kingston. It was reported that the prelates were to assemble for the purpose of conferring together and selecting the names of suitable persons to fill the vacant archbishopric, but such is not the case. The document containing the names is probably already in the hands of Cardinal Simeoni, as it was transmitted some time ago."

Excursion for Campbellford.

An excursion passed through from Millbrook this morning bound for Campbellford. The train was run under the auspices of the Millbrook firemen, and had on board about 120 excursionists. The Millbrook band was also on the train and played several lively airs at the station here.

Scrofula, in the blood, corrupts and contaminates every tissue and fibre in the whole body; but whether appearing in swellings, erysipelas, or running sores, the malignant poison of this disease are complet eradicated by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healt and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

HARD HITS!

THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.

GOUGH BROTHERS

THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN,

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10,00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00
2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During August goods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. We show piles upon piles of glittering Clothing, oceans of bewildering styles in Furnishing Goods, pyramids of rare and unique designs in all the leading styles in Collars, and Cuffs. In a word if you want to spend a few happy moments step into our Mammoth Clothing House, and wade through our massive aggregations of Bargains. We will show you stacks of goods, enough to make you dizzy, and at figures that knock high prices silly.

Merit in Goods Tells.

For a good article there is always a demand. Merit in goods is sure to win custom. When a low price is combined with quality perfectly satisfactory, the best and the cheapest is the cheapest and best. This is the reason that J. & J. Baldwin's celebrated "Bee Hive" and Saxony Fingering Yarns are so popular with ladies. We sell at the Golden Lion these excellent yarns. Buy these and you get a satisfactory article.

Removed.

W. W. Johnston has removed to the Crystal Block, 410 George-st., (H.S. Griffin's late stand) where he intends keeping a regular assortment of Dry Goods and Millinery.

Mr. Cavanagh's Condition.

Mr. T. Cavanagh, the victim of the runaway accident, passed a very bad night, but is much easier to-day. The greatest cause of pain is the wound between the ribs and thigh on the right side, which is feared may be bleeding inwardly. His condition to-day, however, was not alarming.

Sold by the glass and gallon or aerated by Taylor & Macdonald, Druggists, sole agents. d140-w25

A Deplorable Accident.

A severe and painful accident took place at Stabler & Donell's sash and door factory this morning about eight o'clock. John Lewis, a young man who lives on George-st. north, was engaged operating a jointing machine, when in some unknown manner his right hand was caught in the machine and four fingers on the hand were torn off at the knuckle joints. Dr. Halliday was summoned and dressed the unfortunate young man's hand, after which he was conveyed to his home. The young man suffered great pain, but bore it bravely.

Extending the Shops.

In another column the announcement is made calling for tenders for the erection of an addition to the machine shops of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co. The extention when erected will be an important one. It will be built to the west of the present machine shops, will be of two storeys, and cover a ground space of 166x34 feet. As the shop now in use is crowded some of the machine tools will be transferred to the addition with several new tools to come in. This extention of the works is tangible evidence of the progress that the Company is making and will afford increased facilities to handle the large amount of work which is received. The fine character of the machines turned out from the Company's shops has established a splendid reputation, and the further from home it travels the more highly it is esteemed. Next thing an order will drop in for something needed for the Darien Canal works and the south American market will be open to the Company.

At the Opera House.

Harry Lindley's Comedy Company presented the society drama "Divorce" at the Opera House here last night. There was a very good house, and the play was well put on, the leading ladies and gentlemen appearing well in their several parts, while Harry, as "Mug," created much amusement throughout the whole evening. The drama was followed by the farce entitled the "Grocery Store," which was very laughable. The dancing and singing of the little four year old tot was also a feature of the evening. To-night they will present the western drama "Leppa, the Child of the Mines," to be concluded with a farce.

Husband and Wife.

The assault case of Mrs. Valois vs. Joe. Valois, her husband, was ventilated in the Police Court this morning before Police Magistrate Dumble. From the appearance of man and wife it was quite apparent they had met in no loving embrace, as Mrs. Velois bore the before mentioned scar on her nose, and Joe's face looked as if it had been gone over with a garden rake so scratched was it. After hearing both sides of the case and Joe admitting that he had kicked his spouse several times, the Magistrate fined the male head of the Valois household $5 and cost. Joe did not think this quite right as he was of the opinion he received as much as he administered. May the wholesome influence of the Salvation Army, of which both are or were recently members, be instrumental in causing peace and happiness once more to reign supreme in this disturbed household.

Personal.

The Port Hope Times of Tuesday says:—"Mr. R. H. Holland has been confined to his bed since Saturday. He remained on the lake shore all Friday night after being told of the drowning of his daughter and on Saturday was obliged to take to his bed."

Police Magistrate Dumble has returned home after a three weeks' trip in Manitoba, and occupied the bench at the court this morning.

Mr. T. Sherlock, of the G.T.R. offices, Belleville, formerly of Peterborough, and Mr. D. Gibson, also of Belleville, both members of the Ramblers Wheel Club, arrived in town this morning. They wheeled as far as Hastings, where they remained yesterday, and came in by train this morning. They are off for their holidays and will spend a week here. They intend taking a trip around the river and up the lakes while here and will, it is hoped, manage to enjoy their holidays immensely.

Mr. Alfred Wright, of the G.T.R., Detroit, formerly of Peterborough, is visiting friends in town.

Many friends will be glad to learn that Mr. J. Miller is expected home on Friday evening. It is understood that Mr. Miller after a short time goes to Toronto where he will prosecute the study of law with one of the principal legal firms of the city.

Dr. Massie, formerly of Keene, now of Colborne, is in town to-day. He intended going to Albany to represent the Peterborough St. Andrew's Society at the unveiling of the Burns' statue, but upon his arrival here it was found that he would be unable to reach Albany in time for the ceremony.

A recent letter received from Mr. E.H.D. Hall, of the firm of Hall & Hayes, solicitors, who accompanied Mr. Richard Hall and Mr. C. McGill to Ashbury Park, where Mrs. Nicholls was at the time of her recent illness, says that the esteemed lady on Monday last was very severely ill. The gentlemen return end of the week, and it is expected that Mrs. Nicholls will be so far recovered as to return at the same time. A telegram received to-day from Mr. Hall states that Mrs. Nicholls is much better.

Mr. Gordon J. Smith, of Hall & Hayes law office, leaves shortly for Toronto, to enter the office of a legal firm in that city.

Mr. W. H. Wright, late with Mr. E. B. Stone, is prosecuting his studies with great success. At the recent first intermedia's examinations at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, he took first position, and was entitled to write for a scholarship. He will no doubt secure the advancement

THE STOLEN CLOTHING.

The Goods Recovered and a Suspected Party Arrested.

The goods and clothing stolen from the tailoring establishment of Mr. George Ball on Monday night were recovered in a very peculiar manner yesterday afternoon, and last evening another link was added to the case by the arrest of a young fellow, probably about fourteen years of age, who, it is suspected, was one of the burglars.

Yesterday afternoon a Mr. Taylor, employed at the C. P. R. railway station, was digging in the sawdust that is around the water tank at that station and while doing so his shovel struck on some object buried in the sawdust. Upon being uncovered the object proved to be a bag containing some clothing. Mr. Ball was sent for and when he arrived he identified the goods as those which had been stolen from his premises the night before. He took the clothes away with him, although it was suggested that it would be a good plan to leave the bag and watch the place to see who came after the goods.

Last evening Mr. Ball thought he would take a walk down and see if there were any traces to be found around the tank at the C. P. R. station. The tank stands by itself and it so happened that there were some cars standing on the inside track which hid the tank from Mr. Ball's view as he walked up the other track towards it. Just as he turned around the end of the cars, quite close to the tank where the goods had been found, he saw a young fellow coming from the very spot. He stopped him and asked him what he had been doing and where he came from. The reply of the boy was that he had been doing nothing and had just came in from Toronto. While questioning the boy Mr. Ball saw some person, whom the gathering darkness prevented from being recognized, jump from the tressle work of the tank and run across the track. Mr. Ball then took the lad back to the station, and the station agent suggested that he be arrested for trespass. When the boy saw he was going to be arrested he told a different story, saying that he came from Ottawa and was now on his way to Toronto. He said he had a brother John Roach, who kept a drug store on Arthur-st., in Ottawa, but a gentleman who knows Ottawa well and who has lived there for fifteen years, says he was quite confident there is no such street in Ottawa. The boy was, however, conveyed to the cells on a charge of vagrancy, at the same time being suspected of being a party in the robbery. There was sawdust on his clothes when he was caught and which he said he did not know where he got.

At the Police Court this morning he told another story. His name he said was Wm. Roach, his home was in Toronto and he was on his way from Ottawa. He had come into Peterborough two days ago. When asked where he lived in Toronto he said "over the Don," and stated that he had lived there two years. He was then asked if he knew any of his neighbors or the names of any persons near his home and he answered "No." All attempts to get anything out of the boy failed, and he denied that any person was with him at the station or since he was in town.

There was sawdust still on his on his hat this morning, but he professed not to know where he could have got it.

The youth has evidently lived a rather rough life and has a bad appearance generally. He was not easily confused when being questioned and showed his long-headedness by confining his answers mostly to "no" and "yes." The man whom Mr. Ball saw run from the tank in the dim light of evening was in all probability the robber, if there was only one, or he was the pal of this young fellow, who is now suspected, if that suspicion is correct.

The magistrate remanded him for a week and in the meantime something may be learned of him.

LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY.

Improvements Made and Proposed in this Beautiful Necropolis.

Yesterday afternoon a REVIEW reporter meandered out to the Little Lake Cemetery to see what time and careful attention had done for this beautifully situated and well kept spot since spring. Upon turning into Crescent-st. about the first thing to call forth a remark from the observer is the neat and substantial appearance the cribbing along the shore of the Little Lake has made and what an improvement upon the former beach. A row of willows or some such trees will make this a most pleasant walk leading to a cemetery of which Peterborough has every reason to be proud.

Just at the present time everything at the Cemetery is, perhaps, looking its prettiest, for the showers of the last couple of weeks have freshened the foliage, made the grass lose its brown and sunburnt appearance and the flowers to appear all the more gorgeous in their varied tints. Many of the plots are most beautiful to the observer, being covered with flowers, surrounded with green hedges and ornamental railings—all emblems of the tender memories in which the departed loved ones are held by their friends.

Mr. Kelly, the superintendent, was found busy tending to the flowers, and, upon being asked, stated that considerable improvements had been made in the grounds this year. Many of these improvements, however, will require time so as to appear to be appreciated. The first to be noticed are the beds of flowers immediately at the main enterance. The first of these is a large circular bed on the right hand side of the roadway, which is a credit to the hand that so artistically arranged it, being formed of foliage of different colors, intermingled with bright hued flowers. Then on either hand a short distance further are two very pretty star beds, and the letters "L. L. C." in red foliage on a green background meets the eye of the visitor. Two more new beds of oval shape have been laid out on either side of the path after you pass the first terrace. A hedge of spruce and cedar has been planted running from the main entrance round to what is called Ware Avenue, and another row of cedars from the main entrance round towards Mr. Kelly's residence. There are, of course, as yet not much appearance, but two or three years, Mr. Kelly says, will make a great difference in them. Young trees of all varieties have been set out along the roadways and in the front part of the cemetery, and are all doing nicely, so much so that out of 150 trees planted a year ago only one has died. The saplings are composed of chestnuts, cut-leaf maple, black walnut and cut-leaf birch. They all promise well, and under favorable circumstances what is now a beautiful cemetery will be a Garden of Eden. Perhaps the most extensive piece of work done this year is the clearing of about half an acre in the south-east portion of the cemetery. The trees have all been uprooted, except a few young saplings, the stumps torn up and the ground laid out into lots. This will be used for single burying lots when required. The grove directly back of this has been all underbrushed, the brush and rubbish all removed and burned and Mr. Kelly intends scattering a little grass seed here, which will make it a beautiful little grove. Of course all this work requires a great deal of time and labor, but the results will repay this. Gutters or drains have been laid along the the roadways so that a heavy rain fall will not cause ridges and hollows in the drives by the action of the water. It is the caretaker's intention before next summer to have the water tanks in the tank houses enlarged, as in seasons when there has been no wind a water famine is threatened as the windmill will not pump sufficient water to supply the demand.

The Oddfellows' plot might be mentioned as one of the prettiest—although the majority of the lots bore most marked tokens and signs of remembrance and attention—the flower bed being made in a form of three links of very choices of flowers. The many beautiful plots could not be referred to, they are so numerous and well cared for.

All through the cemetery appeared well attended to, the flowers were all in bloom, the hedges trimmed, the grass well cropped and Mr. Kelly remarked that the roadways were being cleared, he hoped for the last time. It may be remarked that much praise and credit is merited by Mr. Kelly for the careful and admirable way in which he keeps the Little Lake Cemetery.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS.

Another Victory At Cricket for the Irish Gentlemen.

ORILLIA, Aug. 29.—The cricket match between the Irish Gentlemen and Orillia and District was resumed yesterday morning. When stumps were drawn the previous night it looked as if the home team stood a pretty fair chance of knocking the Irishmen's 144 runs in the first innings out, as only three wickets had fallen for 62 runs. But this morning the visitors, did great work, and when the last wicket fell the Northern Counties had only made 121 runs. The Irish Gentlemen made 238 for nine wickets in their second innings, when time was called and the match was therefore decided in favor of the Irishmen by 23 runs on the first innings.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

The Treasure of Franchard.

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

"Doctor," he would say—"doctor is a foul word. It should not be used to ladies. It implies disease. I remark it, as a flaw in our civilization, that we have not the proper horror of disease. Now I, for my part, have washed my hands of it; I have renounced my laureation; I am no doctor; I am only a worshiper of the true goddess Hygeia. Ah, believe me, it is she who has the cestus! And here, in this exiguous hamlet, has she placed her shrine; here she dwells and lavishes her gifts; here I walk with her in the early morning, and she shows me how strong she has made the peasants, how fruitful she has made the fields, how the trees grow up tall and comely under her eyes, and the fishes in the river become clean and agile in her presence. Rheumatism!" he would cry, on some malapert interruption. "Oh, yes, I believe we do have a little rheumatism. That could hardly be avoided, you know, on a river. And of course the place stands a little low; and the meadows are marshy, there's no doubt. But, my dear sir, look at Bourron! Bourron stands high. Bourron is close to the forest; plenty of ozone there, you would say. Well, compared with Gretz, Bourron is a perfect shambles."

The morning after he had been summoned to the dying mountebank the doctor visited the wharf at the tail of his garden and had a long look at the running water. This he called prayer; but whether his adorations were addressed to the goddess Hygeia or some more orthodox deity never plainly appeared. For he had uttered doubtful oracles, sometimes declaring that a river was the type of bodily health, sometimes extolling it as the great moral preacher, continually preaching peace, continuity and diligence to man's tormented spirits. After he had watched a mile or so of the clear water running by before his eyes, seen a fish or two come to the surface with a gleam of silver and sufficiently admired the long shadows of the trees falling half across the river from the opposite bank, with patches of moving sunlight in between, he strolled once more up the garden and through his house into the street, feeling cool and renovated.

The sound of his feet upon the causeway began the business of the day; for the village was still sound asleep. The church tower looked very airy in the sunlight; a few birds that turned about it seemed to swim in an atmosphere of more that usual rarity; and the doctor, walking in long, transparent shadows, filled his lungs amply, and proclaimed himself well contented with the morning.

On one of the posts before Tentaillon's carriage entry he espied a little dark figure perched in a meditative attitude, and immediately recognized Jean-Marie.

"Aha!" he said, stopping before him humorously, with a hand on either knee. "So we rise early in the morning, do we? It appears to me that we have all the vices of a philosopher."

The boy got to his feet and made a grave salutation.

"And how is our patient?" asked Desprez.

It appeared the patient was about the same.

"And why do you rise early in the morning?" he pursued.

Jean-Marie, after a long silence, professed that he hardly knew.

"You hardly know?" repeated Despres. "We hardly know anything, my man, until we try to learn. Interrogate your consciousness. Come, push me this inquiry home. Do you like it?"

"Yes," said the boy slowly; "yes, I like it."

"And why do you like it?" continued the doctor. "(We are now pursuing the Socratic method.) Why do you like it?"

"It is quiet," answered Jean-Marie; "and I have nothing to do; and then I feel as if I were good."

Dr. Desprez took a seat on the post at the opposite side. He was beginning to take an interest in the talk, for the boy plainly thought before he spoke, and tried to answer truly. "It appears you have a taste for feeling good," said the doctor. "Now, there you puzzle me extremely, for I thought you said you were a thief; and the two are incompatible."

"Is it very bad to steal?" asked Jean-Marie.

"Such is the general opinion, little boy," replied the doctor.

"No! but I mean as I stole," exclaimed the other. "For I had no choice. I think it is surely right to have bread; it must be right to have bread, there comes so plain a want of it. And then they beat me cruelly if I returned with nothing," he added. "I was not ignorant of right and wrong; for before that I had been well taught by a priest, who was very kind to me." (The doctor made a horrible grimace at the word "priest.") "But it seemed to me, when one had nothing to eat and was beaten, it was a different affair. I would not have stolen for tartlets, I believe; but any one would steal for baker's bread."

"And so I suppose," said the doctor, with a rising sneer, "you prayed God to forgive you, and explained the case to him at length."

"Why, sir?" asked Jean-Marie. "I do not see."

"Your priest would see, however," retorted Desprez.

"Would he?" asked the boy, troubled for the first time. "I should have thought God would have known."

"Eh!" snarled the doctor.

"I should have thought God would have understood me," replied the other. "You do not, I see; but then it was God that made me think so, was it not?"

"Little boy, little boy," said Dr. Desprez, "I told you already you had the vices of philosophy; if you display the virtues also, I must go. I am a student of the blessed laws of health, an observer of plain and temperate nature in her common walks; and I cannot preserve my equanimity in presence of a monster. Do you understand?"

"No, sir," said the boy.

"I will make my meaning clear to you," replied the doctor. "Look there at the sky—behind the belfry first, where it is so light, and then up and up, turning your chin back, right to the top of the dome, where it is already as blue as at noon. Is not that a beautiful color? Does it not please the heart? We have seen it all our lives, until it has grown in with our familiar thoughts. Now," changing his tone, "suppose that sky to become suddenly of a live and fiery amber, like the color of clear coals, and growing scarlet toward the top—I do not say it would be any the less beautiful, but would you like it as well?"

"I suppose not," answered Jean-Marie.

"Neither do I like you," returned the doctor, roughly. "I hate all odd people, and you are the most curious little boy in all the world."

Jean-Marie seemed to ponder for awhile, and then he raised his head again and looked over at the doctor with an air of candid inquiry.

"But are not you a very curious gentleman?" he asked.

The doctor threw away his stick, bounded on the boy, clasped him to his bosom and kissed him on both cheeks.

"Admirable, admirable imp!" he cried. "What a morning, what an hour for a theorist of 42! No," he continued, apostrophizing heaven, "I did not know that such boys existed; I was ignorant they made them so; I had doubted of my race; and now! It is like," he added, picking up his stick, "like a lovers' meeting. I have bruised my favorite staff in that moment of enthusiasm. The injury, however, is not grave." He caught the boy looking at him in obvious wonder, embarrassment and alarm. "Hullo!" said he, "why do you look at me like that? Egad, I believe the boy despises me. Do you despise me, boy?"

"Oh, no," replied Jean-Marie, seriously; "only I do not understand."

"You must excuse me, sir," returned the doctor, with gravity; "I am still so young. Oh, hang him!" he added to himself. And he took his seat again and observed the boy sardonically. "He has spoiled the quiet of my morning," thought he. "I shall be nervous all day, and have a febricule when I digest. Let me compose myself. And so he dismissed his preoccupations by an effort of the will which he had long practiced, and let his soul roam abroad in the contemplation of the morning. He inhaled the air, tasting it critically as a connoisseur tastes a vintage, and prolonged the expiration with hygienic gusto. He counted the little flocks of cloud along the sky. He followed the movements of the birds round the church tower—making long sweeps, hanging poised, or turning airy somersaults in fancy, and beating the wind with imaginary pinions. And in this way he regained peace of mind and animal composure, conscious of his limbs, conscious of the sight of his eyes, conscious that the air had a cool taste, like a fruit, at the top of his throat; and at last, in complete abstraction, he began to sing. The doctor had but one air—"Malbrouck s'en va-t-en guerre;" even with that he was on terms of mere politeness; and his musical exploits were always reserved for moments when he was alone and entirely happy.

CORSETS!

Every lady purchasing CORSETS and wishing to get the Best Article for the least outlay, should visit TURNBULL'S, as he always keeps in stock the Best Makes from all the leading manufacturers. Some makes are peculiarly adapted to suit a particular style of figure. Below we enumerate a few lines from which you can select in any size from 18 to 30. Larger sizes procured on short notice.

THE YATISI CORSET

is modelled from a design of one of the most celebrated Parisian makers. It gives a lady that easy and grace so much admired in French ladies.

The YATISI CORSET owing to the peculiar diagonal elasticity of the cloth will fit the wearer perfectly the first time worn, no matter what her style of form is, either long or short waisted. To ladies wishing to lace light and not feel uncomfortable at the bust or hips they are indispensible.

The YATISI CORSET does not stretch at the waist; requires no breaking in; fits comfortable the first time worn, as it gives to every motion of the wearer. It will outlast any of the old style rigid Corsets.

The YATISI CORSET can be worn ten days and if not found satisfactory in every respect the money will be refunded at TURNBULL'S.

THE CORALINE CORSET

What is Coraline? Coraline is composed of a bundle of stiff and very elastic fibres like bristles tightly bound with strong thread. Coraline contains no sizing of any kind but its stiffness exists in the natural fibre and is permanent. Look for the Coraline Corset at TURNBULL'S, every pair stamped.

BALL'S CORSETS.

These Corsets need no breaking in—invalids can wear them with ease and comfort, as they do not compress the vital parts of the wearer. They fit a great variety of forms owing to their peculiar construction—they are very durable. They have the endorsement of every physician who has examined them. Every pair warranted—the money refunded if not satisfactory after wearing them three weeks, at TURNBULL'S.

THE PARISENNE.

The PARISENNE is a new make which is becoming very popular. It is something after the style of the old French Corded Corset—is shorter waisted than most of the other makes, which makes it adapted for a stout figure.

Everything desirable in the Corset line always to be found at TURNBULL'S at prices that are never beaten.

SIR CHARLES CREATED A BARONET

More Honors for the Gentlemen Who Promulgated the Fisheries Treaty.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Sir Charles Tupper has been created a baronet, Minister West has had the Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George conferred upon him, and Messrs. Thompson (the Canadian Minister of Justice, as already announced), Winter and Burne, Secretaries of the British plenipotentiaries, have been elected Commanders of the same order. The honors have been conferred in recognition of the services rendered by the recipients as members of the Fisheries Commission.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER, BT.

Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, G.C.M.G., C.B., D.C.L., Bt., High Commisioner at London for the Dominion of Canada, was born at Amherst, N.S., on July 2, 1821. He studied medicine in Edinburgh, Scotland, and received the degree of M.D. in 1843. In 1855 he was chosen to represent Cumberland County, N.S., in the Legislature, and, in 1864, on the retirement of the Hon. Mr. Johnston to the bench, he became Premier. Dr. Tupper took a leading part in the confederation movement, attending the Quebec conference and afterwards going to England, when the question was discussed before the members of the Imperial Government. In 1872 he became Minister of Inland Revenue, and in 1873, Minister of Customs, which office he surrendered soon afterwards, on the defeat of the Conservative ministry. In 1878 Dr. Tupper was appointed Minister of Public Works and was at the head of the department until it was divided; he then took the portfolio of Railways and Canals. In 1879 he was created a Knight of the Order of St. Michael and St. George. In 1883 he was appointed High Commissioner for Canada at the Court of St. James in London, retaining his position as Minister of Railways and Canals. At the last general election he was returned by his old constituency; and was appointed Finance Minister, resigning this position at the close of last session and returning to England as High Commissioner for the Dominion.

HE FELL IN LOVE WITH HIS WIFE.

A Toronto Chinaman's Little Love Affair—How Ching-a-Ling Won His Bride.

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—There is said to be a regular traffic in Chinese women among the traders and Chinese of the Pacific Province, and so openly has the shameless bargaining been carried on that the Christian people of that country started a Rescue Home to abate the evil. The traffic is still, however, indulged in, and reports from Victoria state that scores of these women have been forcibly kidnapped and sold into slavery, or into bondage much worse. For the first time in the history of the city, Toronto is now able to boast of having within her limits a Chinese woman, and she was brought here under somewhat extraordinary circumstances, being discovered finally by Staff-Inspector Archabold. Some months ago a Chinaman of Toronto, who is pretty well-off financially, and whose name is something like Hoof-Poof, made up his mind to secure a Chinese woman, and for this purpose dispatched a Celestial named Ching-a-Ling to Victoria, B. C., to kidnap one for him, handing him over $400 for that purpose.

Ching-a-Ling started for the scene of his exploits at once, and on last Friday returned to Toronto with a pretty little Chinese woman. A jealous acquaintance, however, unfolded the tale to Inspector Archabold, who made the fullest inquiries and learned that when Ching-a-Ling arrived at Victoria he found it impossible to carry out his scheme of abduction, and so in order to carry out his contract with Hoof-Poof married the proposed victim. By the time he reached Toronto, however, he presumably fell in love with his wife and refused to hand her over to the tender mercies of Mr. Hoof-Poof. The latter called a meeting of his friends and made a demand that Ching-a-Ling should either pay him $800, double the amount he had advanced, or hand over the bride. Ching-a-Ling, however, declined to meet the demand in either one way or the other, and still clings to his wife and the $400.

Inspector Archabold has assured Ching-a-Ling that he and his wife will receive the fullest protection from the police so long as he does not attempt to traffic with his bride, and Hoof-Poof who is vowing vengeance, is inconsolable. Those who know the ways of the Chinese are satisfied that the end of this remarkable case has not yet been reached, and that there will probably be a tragedy before the honeymoon is over.

Yesterday morning the Inspector received the following dispatch from Rev. J. E. Starr, of Victoria, formerly of the Berkeley Street Methodist Church in this city:

"To Inspector Archabold:

"Ching-a-Ling, a Chinese man, of Toronto, has kidnapped a Chinese woman and has taken her to your city. Spot him."

The spotting, however, had been done before the receipt of Mr. Starr's message, and the Inspector hopes that the pretty little foreign bride may be allowed to enjoy her peculiarly-won husband in peace.

Forster and Ireland.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Mr. Gladstone has an article in the Nineteenth Century entitled "Mr. Forster and Ireland." He declares that his aim is to place clearly before the world the episode of Mr. Parnell's release from Kilmainham Jail and Mr. Forster's conviction therewith. Mr. Forster he says, imposed the condition upon which he believed the suspects might be released, the condition being that they should not attempt intimidation. The resignation of Mr. Forster remains an unsolved riddle. The Government, he declares, were without option in the matter.

UNDER THE MAPLE TREES.

A BIG CONSERVATIVE DEMONSTRATION AT HAGERSVILLE.

Nearly Five Thousand People Honor Dr. Montague, M.P., and Hear Some Straight Talk from Sir Hector Langevin and Sir John Sparrow Thompson—A Great Day for Haldimand.

HAGERSVILLE, Aug. 29.—Nearly 5000 people assembled in Herkimer's ample, cool and shady grove, on the outskirts of this thriving village, this afternoon and held one of those interesting affairs that are now known as the political picnic. Fully one half of the assemblage were ladies, who, as they gathered under the spreading maples that fill the grove, dressed in the height of rural summer fashion, presented a picture that was encouragement with a vengeance for a politician—if he wanted to talk.

The gathering, while it savored somewhat of a local attraction, filled a treble object: there were Conservatives there from all over the County of Haldimand, it was a grand ovation to the sitting member, Dr. William Humphries Montague, and it was made to duty in extending a welcome to Sir Hector Langevin and Sir John Thompson, Minister of Justice. Sir Hector was a novelty to a large majority of the audience; Sir John Thompson was in the county two years ago, and at that time made himself well known.

The speeches of both Sir Hector and the Minister of Justice are pregnant of significance at this particular time, being the first ministerial utterances from a public platform since President Cleveland made his retaliatory threats against our peaceful people and country. The Ministers spoke with no uncertain sound; nor was equivocation anywhere visible. Your readers will therefore peruse their remarks with something akin to deep interest.

DR. MONTAGUE'S ORATION.

Dr. Montague spoke with pride of the success of the demonstration. He had been sanguine of its success but he did not dream that it would assume such gigantic proportions. Though he would be ungrateful if he did not thank his friends who promoted the demonstration, and the great host of people present for their attendance, he did not vainly think that it was solely in his honor that they were all here to-day. They came also to give a befitting reception to the two Ministers of the Crown. Sir Hector Langevin in order of seniority was the Old Chieftain in Quebec. [Cheers and applause]. His work was well known to many people here to-day; he was known to be true to his party and country in storm and sunshine. When demagogues sought to lead the people astray he entered the lists against them. Refusing alike threats and the prospects of greater political honor he stood true to the integrity of the Dominion. Mr. Thompson, whom Her Majesty had been pleased to honor with the title of Sir John Thompson—[cheers]—was without a superior on the floor of Parliament.

Some time ago when the Liberals were in power and the tea and coffee were taxed, the people burnt crusts and made their beverage from that, but when the Conservative party came into power and removed the tax there was no more use for burnt crusts. Nevertheless some good people of St. Thomas contrived a scheme of providing a new beverage. The stuff was put up in neat packages and the dictionary was ransacked for a name. Finally one was found about an inch long, the meaning of which nobody knew. It was Kaoka, and everybody from St. Thomas to the Pacific in the west and the Atlantic in the east commenced to buy Kaoka. But a chemist analysed the Kaoka and found it to be a good deal like the burnt crusts. It was burnt bread and sugar and so it would be found that this Unrestricted Reciprocity meant just about the same as Commercial Union. The old crust of Commercial Union was rolled and sugared and called Unrestricted Reciprocity. [Cheers and laughter.]

Sir Richard Cartwright, with his aristocratic instincts, has little in common with the people; he called them lazy and shiftless, not of course in these words but in his own aristocratic way. "They have," said he, "a notorious aversion to manual labor." [Laughter.] Sir Richard also called them foolish. "They were foolish in 1878," he said, "but they are wiser now." Yes, they were wiser now. They were wise enough to prevent the Liberal party getting in power again. A friend of his in Manitoba, who was a strong opponent to disallowance, abated his opposition to it rather than run the risk of favoring a return of the Liberals in the management of public affairs. "Why," said he, "I would rather see the grasshoppers come back." [Laughter and cheers.]

The Doctor went on to defend the action of the Government in the fisheries affair. He took the ground that Canada was standing by her just rights. Canada had been friendly towards the United States and had even made concessions to her neighbor in order to get the matter in dispute settled. In the face of this the United States Senate had rejected the Treaty and the President had threatened them with retaliatory measures. There was little prospect then that Canada would get advantageous trading terms from the United States. He would gladly hope that Canada could get free commercial intercourse with her neighbors but it was beneath his dignity as a Canadian to go on his knees and beg for it.

He concluded with appealing especially to the young men present to give their support to that party which developed the resources of their country and at the same time upheld its dignity. [Prolonged cheers.]

SIR HECTOR'S SPEECH.

Sir Hector Langevin was introduced and was received with loud cheers. The chairman read an address from the County of Haldimand Liberal-Conservative Association. The address recognized the Minister's long service to the country, his leadership in Quebec, but more especially looked upon him as an eminent Canadian. Thanks were also returned to him for the prompt way the Public Works Department had recognized the claims of the County of Haldimand.

Sir Hector replied first to an address which had been presented to him by the Mississagua Indians. He thanked them for their kindness and their expressions of good will. He had framed the bill which first enfranchised the Indians. The full enfranchisement which succeeded it proved that he had not been wrong in the first. He was glad to find that the Indians were making good use of the franchise and there was no stronger evidence of that to be found than in this county. [Laughter.] He hoped that their children would follow in their footsteps. [Cheers.]

Referring to his political career he said that for thirty-one years he had been following the Grand Old Man, and for 25 years he had been Sir John's colleague. They had always agreed, had always gone hand in hand, he following Sir John's leading. He had followed Sir John always because in doing so he knew he could not be wrong [Laughter.] The large majority of the people followed the Old Man and surely the majority was not wrong [Laughter.]

He thanked the Liberal-Conservative Association for their address to him. He would tell the Chieftain about this magnificent gathering, and of the people's devotion to him. Referring to their thanks to the head of the Public Works Department he said that whatever he did was done in the interest of the people and when his colleagues had sanctioned the proceeding with the proposed works. When he received the invitation to attend this demonstration he did not know whether to accept it or not. An Opposition paper in Ontario had said that the French were not wanted—[laughter]—that the sooner they would disappear the better—[laughter.] They (the French) who were here a century before the English, Scotch or Irish. [Hear, hear.] But he had visited Ontario before and had been hospitably treated, and he was nowhere more at home than in Ontario, and so he came again. He did not deny that he was a French-Canadian, but it wasn't any fault of his if he was. [Laughter.] He was French at the beginning and had continued to be ever since. He married a French lady and his children were French Canadians, but they were good subjects of the Queen. [Hear, hear.] They were following in the footsteps of their father. They would have to speak English and never waver in their allegiance to their gracious Queen. [Applause.] But he begged to say that after all he was an Ontario man. He owned property in Ottawa and helped by his vote to elect their members.

He spoke then of public questions at issue. He sketched the history of the Fisheries dispute, showing that the United States fell back on the Treaty of 1818 of their own accord and that Canada was maintaining her just rights. After a great deal of labor to adjust differences amicably by treaty the United States Senate had frustrated their efforts. Then President Cleveland follows that up with a threat to punish Canada. What for? Because there was no treaty. It was not Canada's fault. The President wanted to stop Canadian goods coming over American railways in bond because the American fishermen were not permitted to bond their fish over Canadian railways. But that right with others was given up by the Americans long ago in consideration of Labrador fishing advantages. These advantages she had and would not give up, while the right to bond was demanded without any concession. They had made many concessions. The United States could not expect to have all the conceding on Canada's side. He respected the dignity of the United States, and he was sure they all did, but Canada had honor and dignity as a nation—[cheers]—and as part of the British Empire, and no true Canadian was disposed to lower Canada's position.

But Mr. Laurier, it seemed, forgot himself a few days ago at St. Thomas. He forgot that the press of this country and the leading men of the country were standing by Canada's just rights in this time of great moment. The press and people on both sides of politics were saying, "We must, as a people, as a nation, we must stand by the Government at Ottawa." [Hear, hear.] Mr. Laurier took the opposite view, he says that Canada is wrong in its contentions, and that the United States is all right. Mr. Laurier was standing in a position that no other public man ever stood in, trying to gain influence by lowering his country's flag. [Hear, hear.] Mr. Laurier could not expect that the people would support him.

Their party was a national party, true to the country and sustaining its honor. If they were in the situation of the Liberal party to-day they would say "Canada before anything else; Canada before party; Canada before power." [Tremendous cheering.]

He spoke on Unrestricted Reciprocity. He said it was sugar-coated Commercial Union. [Laughter.]

Discussing President Cleveland's message he said that they should be collected and calm. If their neighbors got excited they should consider the time at which their neighbors' excitement existed. They should not resent too much the hard names and hard words that were spoken against Canada. Canada was a great country, territorially as large or larger than the United States. They had different institutions, some of which at least were better in his opinion than those prevailing in the United States. Canada had her Ministers responsible to her people, which was not the case in the United States. There they attacked the President every four years. Was it not much better to have the Ministry directly responsible to the people, so that when wrong-doing and mismanagement prevailed the people could turn the ministers out as they did in 1878. [Cheers, applause and laughter.]

CANADA'S NEW KNIGHT.

Sir John Sparrow Thompson on being introduced was enthusiastically cheered. He was also presented with an address by the chairman on behalf of the County of Haldimand Liberal-Conservative Association.

Mr. Thompson in replying said that the last time he visited the country the Liberal-Conservative party were appealing to the country under circumstances most disadvantageous. The policy of the Liberal party had brought the country to the verge of rebellion, the passions and prejudices of race and creed were appealed to in a frantic effort to gain office. He had visited the country before that to assist his friend, Dr. Montague, but the election went against them. Then when the general election was brought on the Liberals prophesied the downfall of the Government for "Haldimand had spoken." He came and assisted Dr. Montague again, knowing they could win if they worked shoulder to shoulder, and Haldimand spoke again. [Laughter.] Again in the House of Commons when the reply to the address was moved in a masterly speech they had an opportunity to say "Haldimand had spoken," and when taunts were thrown across the floor of the House and the taunter was held up to holy ridicule for an hour-and-a-half they were in a position to whisper once more "Haldimand has spoken." [Cheers and laughter.]

The Liberal leaders had been starring the Province of Ontario but all their efforts were in vain. An evil genius was pursuing them. They had been preaching the new gospel proclaiming that the only salvation for Canadians was the adoption of Unrestricted Reciprocity—a scheme that would involve the transfer of the management of our whole fiscal policy to Washington. Their stomachs were empty for office and they saw a way to appease their hunger—transfer the management of your affairs to Washington, but even while they were preaching about better trade relations the President of the United States and the Senate took counsel together to find out the best way to harass Canada the most with the least injury to their own country. There was little prospect of getting any advantage from the United States when its representatives showed such hostility, but he was sincerely glad at the good the President's message had done in this country. It had evoked a national spirit which speaks through the press and people of both political parties. [Hear, hear.]

The citizens of Canada were in no mood to submit to the dictation of any foreign power. The Liberal press in Toronto and Montreal were very plain in their statements. He admitted that the President of the United States was a great statesman and that he was at the head of a great nation and that the words he uttered were of great responsibility. The policy of this country should be of great prudence and the desire to conciliate rather than to irritate—to be friendly with rather than unfriendly with any power in the world. But this was also a great country, great in forest and mineral resource and agricultural capability. All of our citizens did not labor at developing these resources. Many Canadians looked to the trackless sea for their living, and when the rights of their fishermen were imposed on it was their duty to uphold their rights and the honor of the country. [Hear, hear.] As men of the same country living under the same flag he trusted that the people of Nova Scotia would stand by the people of Ontario if their rights were ever invaded, as the people of Ontario were now standing by their maritime brethren. Canadians should not submit to the coercion of any power on the face of the earth. [Cheers.]

He regretted that Hon. Mr. Laurier had taken such an unpatriotic stand at St. Thomas. The only excuse he could offer for Mr. Laurier was that the hon. gentleman could not have read the Presidents' message. Mr. Laurier spoke of Canada's carrying trade as being about to be hampered. But Canada's carrying trade would be little interfered with. The proposition was to compel goods imported into Canada via American ports to pay duty to the United States. Another reason to suppose that Mr. Laurier had not read the President's message lay in his statement that Canada had not been friendly toward the United States, and this as being a reason for the President's action. The President did not give this as a reason at all. All that was held up as a reason for non-intercourse was Canada's refusal to permit American fishermen to send cases of fish in bond over Canadian railways to the United States.

Mr. Laurier said that Canada had been too unfriendly toward the United States—that with the exception of George Brown no Canadian public man spoke for the North at the time of the war—that the sympathies of Canadians went with the South. Did Mr. Laurier know that for every one Canadian that enlisted in the Southern army there were 500 who fought for the North!

The United States chose themselves to go back to the treaty of 1818, and its provisions were being enforced. There was nothing unfriendly in that. But when they were at first dealing leniently the Liberals declared that instead of granting licenses they should be arming cruisers. That their conduct in seizing American vessels was not harsh was borne out by the support of the British Government on the enquiry in every case. The United States in 1818 gave up the right to fish within the three mile limit. The American fishermen were to have no commercial privileges on the Canadian shores. They could not salt their fish or buy supplies. They could only enter in case of a storm or to make repairs. But the renunciation of this privilege was bought by giving American fishermen the right to fish along the coasts of Labrador and the Magdalen Islands. And now they wish to hold on to the one while they would not give up the old one.

The means of retaliation proposed was the withdrawal of the privilege to "bond" goods through the United States to Canada. This privilege was secured to them by Article XXIX of the Washington Treaty and it required two years' notice, by the terms of that treaty, before any article could be suspended. No notice of that kind had been given and yet President Cleveland, regardless of the sacred obligations of a treaty, proposed to end this privilege without notice and at a single stroke.

Mr. Laurier a few days ago said that the present exigency showed how Canada was closely connected commercially with the United States and asked how much larger would that international trade be and how much closer their commercial relations if they had Unrestricted Reciprocity. Did any one ever hear of a man who, seeing that his house was burning, wished that it was larger that his loss might be heavier? [Laughter.] That was Mr. Laurier's line of argument. Were their trade ten times as great it was liable to be sacrificed at the first political exigency in the United States.

He had said that an evil genius was pursing the starring Liberal leader. A few days ago Mr. Laurier was claiming Senator Sherman as an ardent supporter of Unrestricted Reciprocity. The next morning side by side in the newspapers with Mr. Laurier's speech was the news that Senator Sherman stated that President Cleveland did not know how to deal with Canada. He should prohibit the importation of fresh fish into this country and proclaim non-intercourse in all its strictness. Then he would bring about a union between Canada and the United States, which would be best for all concerned. [Laughter.] After a great deal of labor to adjust differences amicably by treaty the United States Senate had frustrated their efforts. Then President Cleveland follows that up with a threat to punish Canada. What for? Because there was no treaty. It was not Canada's fault. The President wanted to stop Canadian goods coming over American railways in bond because the American fishermen were not permitted to bond their fish over Canadian railways. But that right with others was given up by the Americans long ago in consideration of Labrador fishing advantages. These advantages she had and would not give up, while the right to bond was demanded without any concession. They had made many concessions. The United States could not expect to have all the conceding on Canada's side. He respected the dignity of the United States, and he was sure they all did, but Canada had honor and dignity as a nation—[cheers]—and as part of the British Empire, and no true Canadian was disposed to lower Canada's position.

But Mr. Laurier, it seemed, forgot himself a few days ago at St. Thomas. He forgot that the press of this country and the leading men of the country were standing by Canada's just rights in this time of great moment. The press and people on both sides of politics were saying, "We must, as a people, as a nation, we must stand by the Government at Ottawa." [Hear, hear.] Mr. Laurier took the opposite view, he says that Canada is wrong in its contentions, and that the United States is all right. Mr. Laurier was standing in a position that no other public man ever stood in, trying to gain influence by lowering his country's flag. [Hear, hear.] Mr. Laurier could not expect that the people would support him.

Their party was a national party, true to the country and sustaining its honor. If they were in the situation of the Liberal party to-day they would say "Canada before anything else; Canada before party; Canada before power." [Tremendous cheering.]

He spoke on Unrestricted Reciprocity. He said it was sugar-coated Commercial Union. [Laughter.]

Discussing President Cleveland's message he said that they should be collected and calm. If their neighbors got excited they should consider the time at which their neighbors' excitement existed. They should not resent too much the hard names and hard words that were spoken against Canada. Canada was a great country, territorially as large or larger than the United States. They had different institutions, some of which at least were better in his opinion than those prevailing in the United States. Canada had her Ministers responsible to her people, which was not the case in the United States. There they attacked the President every four years. Was it not much better to have the Ministry directly responsible to the people, so that when wrong-doing and mismanagement prevailed the people could turn the ministers out as they did in 1878. [Cheers, applause and laughter.]

CANADA'S NEW KNIGHT.

Sir John Sparrow Thompson on being introduced was enthusiastically cheered. He was also presented with an address by the chairman on behalf of the County of Haldimand Liberal-Conservative Association.

Mr. Thompson in replying said that the last time he visited the country the Liberal-Conservative party were appealing to the country under circumstances most disadvantageous. The policy of the Liberal party had brought the country to the verge of rebellion, the passions and prejudices of race and creed were appealed to in a frantic effort to gain office. He had visited the country before that to assist his friend, Dr. Montague, but the election went against them. Then when the general election was brought on the Liberals prophesied the downfall of the Government for "Haldimand had spoken." He came and assisted Dr. Montague again, knowing they could win if they worked shoulder to shoulder, and Haldimand spoke again. [Laughter.] Again in the House of Commons when the reply to the address was moved in a masterly speech they had an opportunity to say "Haldimand had spoken," and when taunts were thrown across the floor of the House and the taunter was held up to holy ridicule for an hour-and-a-half they were in a position to whisper once more "Haldimand has spoken." [Cheers and laughter.]

The Liberal leaders had been starring the Province of Ontario but all their efforts were in vain. An evil genius was pursuing them. They had been preaching the new gospel proclaiming that the only salvation for Canadians was the adoption of Unrestricted Reciprocity—a scheme that would involve the transfer of the management of our whole fiscal policy to Washington. Their stomachs were empty for office and they saw a way to appease their hunger—transfer the management of your affairs to Washington, but even while they were preaching about better trade relations the President of the United States and the Senate took counsel together to find out the best way to harass Canada the most with the least injury to their own country. There was little prospect of getting any advantage from the United States when its representatives showed such hostility, but he was sincerely glad at the good the President's message had done in this country. It had evoked a national spirit which speaks through the press and people of both political parties. [Hear, hear.]

The citizens of Canada were in no mood to submit to the dictation of any foreign power. The Liberal press in Toronto and Montreal were very plain in their statements. He admitted that the President of the United States was a great statesman and that he was at the head of a great nation and that the words he uttered were of great responsibility. The policy of this country should be of great prudence and the desire to conciliate rather than to irritate—to be friendly with rather than unfriendly with any power in the world. But this was also a great country, great in forest and mineral resource and agricultural capability. All of our citizens did not labor at developing these resources. Many Canadians looked to the trackless sea for their living, and when the rights of their fishermen were imposed on it was their duty to uphold their rights and the honor of the country. [Hear, hear.] As men of the same country living under the same flag he trusted that the people of Nova Scotia would stand by the people of Ontario if their rights were ever invaded, as the people of Ontario were now standing by their maritime brethren. Canadians should not submit to the coercion of any power on the face of the earth. [Cheers.]

He regretted that Hon. Mr. Laurier had taken such an unpatriotic stand at St. Thomas. The only excuse he could offer for Mr. Laurier was that the hon. gentleman could not have read the Presidents' message. Mr. Laurier spoke of Canada's carrying trade as being about to be hampered. But Canada's carrying trade would be little interfered with. The proposition was to compel goods imported into Canada via American ports to pay duty to the United States. Another reason to suppose that Mr. Laurier had not read the President's message lay in his statement that Canada had not been friendly toward the United States, and this as being a reason for the President's action. The President did not give this as a reason at all. All that was held up as a reason for non-intercourse was Canada's refusal to permit American fishermen to send cases of fish in bond over Canadian railways to the United States.

Mr. Laurier said that Canada had been too unfriendly toward the United States—that with the exception of George Brown no Canadian public man spoke for the North at the time of the war—that the sympathies of Canadians went with the South. Did Mr. Laurier know that for every one Canadian that enlisted in the Southern army there were 500 who fought for the North!

The United States chose themselves to go back to the treaty of 1818, and its provisions were being enforced. There was nothing unfriendly in that. But when they were at first dealing leniently the Liberals declared that instead of granting licenses they should be arming cruisers. That their conduct in seizing American vessels was not harsh was borne out by the support of the British Government on the enquiry in every case. The United States in 1818 gave up the right to fish within the three mile limit. The American fishermen were to have no commercial privileges on the Canadian shores. They could not salt their fish or buy supplies. They could only enter in case of a storm or to make repairs. But the renunciation of this privilege was bought by giving American fishermen the right to fish along the coasts of Labrador and the Magdalen Islands. And now they wish to hold on to the one while they would not give up the old one.

The means of retaliation proposed was the withdrawal of the privilege to "bond" goods through the United States to Canada. This privilege was secured to them by Article XXIX of the Washington Treaty and it required two years' notice, by the terms of that treaty, before any article could be suspended. No notice of that kind had been given and yet President Cleveland, regardless of the sacred obligations of a treaty, proposed to end this privilege without notice and at a single stroke.

Mr. Laurier a few days ago said that the present exigency showed how Canada was closely connected commercially with the United States and asked how much larger would that international trade be and how much closer their commercial relations if they had Unrestricted Reciprocity. Did any one ever hear of a man who, seeing that his house was burning, wished that it was larger that his loss might be heavier? [Laughter.] That was Mr. Laurier's line of argument. Were their trade ten times as great it was liable to be sacrificed at the first political exigency in the United States.

He had said that an evil genius was pursing the starring Liberal leader. A few days ago Mr. Laurier was claiming Senator Sherman as an ardent supporter of Unrestricted Reciprocity. The next morning side by side in the newspapers with Mr. Laurier's speech was the news that Senator Sherman stated that President Cleveland did not know how to deal with Canada. He should prohibit the importation of fresh fish into this country and proclaim non-intercourse in all its strictness. Then he would bring about a union between Canada and the United States, which would be best for all concerned. [Laughter.] After a great deal of labor to adjust differences amicably by treaty the United States Senate had frustrated their efforts. Then President Cleveland follows that up with a threat to punish Canada. What for? Because there was no treaty. It was not Canada's fault. The President wanted to stop Canadian goods coming over American railways in bond because the American fishermen were not permitted to bond their fish over Canadian railways. But that right with others was given up by the Americans long ago in consideration of Labrador fishing advantages. These advantages she had and would not give up, while the right to bond was demanded without any concession. They had made many concessions. The United States could not expect to have all the conceding on Canada's side. He respected the dignity of the United States, and he was sure they all did, but Canada had honor and dignity as a nation—[cheers]—and as part of the British Empire, and no true Canadian was disposed to lower Canada's position.

MR. LAIDLAW AND THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—In taking the liberty of making a few strictures on Mr. Laidlaw's letter re Trent Valley Canal, published in the Post of the 24th inst., I would begin at the end. Mr. Laidlaw remarks: "The discussion on the Trent Valley Canal question must needs wait the settlement of it in one way or the other by the commission of investigation appointed by the Government, which is eminently qualified for the purpose." Just so; the case is, as it were, in court, and it was bad taste, to say the least of it, for Mr. Laidlaw to snuff the commission out and dogmatically to settle the question himself, for it amounts to that. For if Mr. Laidlaw's figures were correct, or within a long distance of being correct, the question would be settled in the negative, and for ever. On whatever basis he made his calculations, they cannot claim to be very accurate, with $25,000,000 to go and come upon. Mr. Laidlaw's margin in his estimate of the cost of the T. V. C. is five times the amount of the estimated cost by Mr. Stark, than whom, I venture to say, there is no engineer in Canada better fitted to make a correct and proper estimate of the cost of such a work. If Mr. Laidlaw had simply intended to assist the commission, by an expression of his opinion, in arriving at a just and proper conclusion, he would have answered such of the questions put forth by them as he was able to do, and sent his document to the secretary, whose duty it is to receive such papers and to lay them before the commission at the proper time. Such a course, however, did not suit Mr. Laidlaw's purpose. The commission not only had to be superseded, but the government and the country had to be influenced, and therefore Mr. Laidlaw's letter had to be published in the Globe, and carried far and near. In his calculations, it is a pity that Mr. Laidlaw did not calculate what the effect of such an unwarranted and reckless statement would be on himself. Will it not be to render his expressed opinion on such subjects of no value? The engineers, Messrs. Page and Rubidge, are not treated with any more courtesy by Mr. Laidlaw than the commission. It has cost Mr. Rubidge years of labour, and the country a large expenditure, to get out his report, which Mr. Laidlaw, with one stroke of his pen, has scattered to the winds. Mr. Rubidge, by accurate measurements and careful calculations, can only bring his estimated cost of the T.V.C. up to $10,000,000, and this is on the supposition that the locks on the T.V.C. shall be of the same expensive characters as those on the new Welland Canal. Mr. Laidlaw, without any calculation or measurement at all, to arrive at his conclusions simply multiplies Mr. Rubidge's estimate by 7½ (10,000,000, x 7½ = $75,000,000). Mr. Page has endorsed Mr. Rubidge's report and added something to it for the settlement of riparian rights. When Mr. Laidlaw, in his unexplained desire to destroy the T.V.C. scheme, made his reckless statement, he must have had in his mind, and relying on the truth of it, the remark of Carlyle, namely, that "The world is full of people, mostly fools."

In order to draw away our attention from his estimated cost of the T.V.C., Mr. Laidlaw proposes to smother us with malaria. He remarks: "The little lock at Rosedale, which raised the water only two or three feet in Balsam Lake, has apparently planted the seeds of diphtheria and low fevers at several points on its shores." I would ask what has planted the seeds of diphtheria on the dry prairies of Dakota, where it is raging at the present moment to an alarming extent? The draining of Lake Scugog is not a new question. Some thirty years ago, the bridging of Scugog at an enormous expense, was discussed by the town of Bowmanville. I at that time suggested the draining of the lake, and the recovery of 30,000 acres of the best land in Canada, and the preservation of the navigation from Lindsay to Port Perry, which is rapidly being deteriorated by the silting up of the lake by the deepening of the Nonquon river, which runs down its centre. The deepening river would serve as a drainage to the recovered land. My scheme embraced the payment—from the sale of the lands—to the parties having hydraulic rights at Lindsay, a sum, the interest of which, year by year, would drive their mills by steam. In the draining of Scugog my object was simply the recovery of the land, and the perservation of the navigation, not to get rid of malaria. When Scugog was raised, its bed and the whole surrounding country was an unbroken forest. There was no ventilation to carry off the malarial effluvia arising from the dying timber, and ague and low fever for many years was the order of the day, so to speak, among the first settlers around the lake. That state of things all disappeared on the clearing up of the country. I lived for 21 years in the neighborhood of Scugog, and during that time I only met with one case of ague, and it was not brought on by malaria arising from the lake, but by lying out at night exposed to a heavy dew. I may mention that the chief argument against my scheme for the draining of Scugog was this: namely, that the lowering of the water in the lake would expose the dead timber, from which malaria would arise. The fact of the case, however, is this, that the water of Scugog recedes every summer about one-eighth of a mile, leaving all the dead timber exposed to the heat of the sun. It is when the timber is dying, not when it is dead and its substance all gone, that there is danger from malaria. A dry dead bone, no matter how malignant the subject may have been from which it has been taken, is not the one to communicate contagion. The malarial question, then, in connection with the building of the Trent Valley Canal, seeing that the country is open through which it passes and has plenty of ventilation, is not deserving of consideration.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

GEN. MIDDLETON TRYING TO SETTLE THE G.G.F.G'S TROUBLE.

A Large Number of Entries for the Dominion Rifle Matches—Analysing Adulterated American Lard.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—Sir A. P. Caron has returned to the city. Sir John returns today, it is reported, much improved in health. Hon. Mr. Foster and Hon. C. H. Tupper are expected Saturday.

The following are among the successful tenderers for supplying public buildings with coal: for Ottawa, G. F. Thompson; Toronto, Crane & Co.; Niagara, Carlson & Co.

Hon. J. J. C. Abbott and two daughters, and Hon. G. W. Allan, Speaker of the Senate, passed through the city yesterday, en route to Vancouver, B.C.

The detachment of Mounted Police stationed for some time in the Kootenay (B.C.) District have returned to Fort McLeod, N. W. T.

The chief analyst of the Inland Revenue Department is making an analysis of samples of American lard said to be adulterated with cotton seed oil.

It is understood that the Pacific Railway Claims Commission will hear further evidence on Dec. 3, when it is more than likely Sir John and the Minister of Railways will be examined. Sir Charles Tupper's testimony will probably be taken in England.

Major-General Sir Frederick Middleton is making an effort to settle the trouble in the G. G. F. G's. He declares no breach of discipline has been committed.

Sir Hector has sent Mr. Hamel, C.E., and a party of engineers to survey and report upon the site of the proposed bridge across the Ottawa River at Deschenes, two miles below Aylmer.

The Canadian lumbermen are complaining that the new regulation just enforced by the Department of Customs is giving them a great deal of unnecessary trouble in the shipment of export lumber to the United States. It appears that up to the present time a "train load" of lumber, whatever the number of cars, was entered as one entry to the Canadian Customs outward and also in the American Customs. So far as Canadian outward entry is concerned the entry does not cost anything, being made simply for statistical purposes. With American entry it is different. These entries are made at the office of the American Consul and are paid for. The Canadian Customs Department have now issued an order that an outward entry shall in future be made for every carload of lumber exported. The lumbermen intend waiting on the Minister of Customs with reference to the matter.

The entries for the Dominion rifle matches opened to day. Already a very large number have been made, Teams from British Columbia, Manitoba and the Northwest Territories will compete.

Professor Fream of The Mark Lane Express and Mr. Henry Moore of Bell's Messenger expressed themselves as delighted with what they saw during their inspection of the experimental farm yesterday. They admitted that there was nothing like it to be seen in England, commented upon the extensive character of the operations and thought the results would be a very important matter for the farmers of this country.

STAYNER'S SENSATION.

An Aged Lothario of Caucasian Descent Elopes With a Negress.

STAYNER, Aug. 30.—The citizens of this usually quiet village are in a ferment over the elopement of a white man named Gourlay with a colored woman named Bush. Gourlay is a tall, rather good-looking man, about 60 years old, with a long grey beard, dresses well and is possessed of considerable of this world's goods. He also has a family, and some of his children have children of their own. He is a weaver by trade, and when he married he and his wife started with only their four hands to earn a living. Their fortunes prospered and he now owns a valuable house and some land in Stayner, and also considerable property in the vicinity of Holland Landing. Mrs. Bush is as black as the ace of spades and, for a colored woman, is considered handsome. She leaves behind a hard-working husband and two children.

For about a year past there has been considerable talk amongst the villagers about the suspicious actions of the pair, and early in the summer Mrs. Gourlay determined to separate from her husband and asked him to settle on her a share of the property which she had helped to earn and to which she thought she was entitled. Her worthy spouse agreed to separate, but was willing to give her only the house in which they lived. Mrs. Gourlay could not live upon this and refused, and the idea of a separation was given up. It is said that Mr. Gourlay loaned Mr. Bush some money about a year ago and, becoming enamored of the dusky wife of his debtor, made use of the power he held to establish improper relations with her.

During the past month the actions of the pair have become so pronounced that they became a topic of conversation to every resident of Stayner, and they concluded that the atmosphere was becoming too warm to be pleasant. So Mr. Gourlay packed his valise and the woman her trunk, and yesterday morning they met at Allandale and boarded the train for Toronto, arriving there at 9.40. Leaving the train they repaired to the Crosby House, on the bay front opposite the Union Station, where they did not register, but remained quietly hidden there. They had dinner and Mr. Gourlay made inquiries as to the time when the next train left for the Falls. He told one of the employes of the hotel that they were on their way to Pittsburg, but were going to stop over a day at Niagara to take in the beauties of America's great wonder. They left on the 12.20 train and are now probably enjoying life in "the land of the free and the home of the retaliators."

A great deal of sympathy is felt for Mrs. Gourlay and family, who are liked and respected by all who know them.

HARD HITS!
THE GREAT CLOTHIERS STILL POUNDING DOWN THE PRICES.
GOUGH BROTHERS
THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN,

with both heels on the high priced sharks who are under the thumb of the wholesale shoddy houses. We are going to fire a tirade of prices at them this month that will besiege our place of business with anxious buyers, and break them all up. Regardless of price we have decided to slaughter $15,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishing Goods.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE PRICES.

176 Serge Suits, warranted indigo dye, $2.90, former price $5
508 All wool Waterloo Tweed Suits $3.75, sold elsewhere for $8
238 Scotch Tweed Suits - - - - $10,00 worth $18.00
327 Fancy Worsted Suits - - - - 6.90 do 13.00
2,200 pairs of Pants ranging in price from 17c. to 4.00.

We defy competition! we go farther, we challenge any wholesale house in Canada, taking cost into consideration, to duplicate our prices.

Gentle reader, do not get alarmed, our prices may knock you full of belief that Goughs are going to fail. One would naturally suppose that no legitimate dealer could sell goods at the prices we are selling without a bust. Rest assured, the Tireless, Sleepless, Wide-awake Goughs are looking for some big haul. They are not going to fail as you might suggest, although they candidly admit they want $15,000.

THE SECRET IS THIS!

We are on the trail of a tottering wholesale house who wants money. We made them a bid of 37½ cts. on the dollar, cash down, for 2500 Overcoats, and 1200 Suits; our offer, after hard fighting has been accepted, and as the money must be raised we have decided to run the greatest slaughter sale that was ever inaugurated. During August goods will be sold at half-price, and buyers of Clothing can save 100 per cent on every purchase. Step in, and see our Men's Pants, all wool, for $1.05, the most brilliant sun-bright pageant in the bargain line that ever delighted human vision. A Winter Comfort.

Woman's best gift to man—says an excellent authority—is a clean shirt. The manufacturers best gift to all is flannel, Canada claims flannel as her own. Winter weather without flannel would be simply killing. Stock up with flannels. They are sure to be needed. We make, at the golden lion, a big drive in flannels, especially military and navy. Selling these at 25 p.c. below regular prices.

A Jolly Day Promised.

The ample bill of fare of amusements arranged for at Rev. Father Sweeney's picnic at Jubilee Point, on Tuesday, Sept. 11, will fill up a jolly day. The Golden Eye will carry down a large number from Peterborough, and the steamers Beaver and Dora will bring parties from Rice Lake, and from Harwood. Among the special things promised is a contest for a splendid oil painting of His Lordship Bishop Dowling. Special prizes will be given for the best step dancer, lady or gentleman. A contest for or against the Scott Act will take place. Local and foreign athletes will give exhibitions in various sports. Taken altogether the day will be a phenomenal one and the picnic the grandest success of the year.

From the Sudbury Mines.

Mr. Thos. Thornton, who has been engaged on a contract building shops at the Canadian Copper Company's mine near Sudbury, is in town on a holiday. He left at the Review office several specimens of the copper ore from a shaft 300 feet deep. The specimens are average ones and not selected, and they contain about 60 per cent of copper. There are three shafts at the mines and about 400 men are employed there. The company is building a nine mile railway between the shafts and are erecting smelting works. They have built a large rock and shaft house nine storeys high—an immence frame structure. There are acres of ground covered with the ore taken from the shafts, which will be smelted in the works being built. The specimens of ore may be seen at this office.

At the Opera House.

The Lindly combination put "Leppa, the Child of the Mines," on the boards at the Opera House last evening before a good audience. The play is a western drama, the plot being laid in a mining camp, west of the Rockies. The audience seemed to enjoy it thoroughly, and Lindley as "The Judge" created his usual amout of amusement. Miss Adelaide Flint as "Leppa" was a favorite. The singing and dancing of La Petite Marie continues to be a popular feature of the evenings' programme. The play concluded with the laughable farce "Family Jars." The company will present the negro monstrosity "The Lime Kiln Club" to-night. This will undoubtedly be very funny as Lindley's colored characters are always such.

From the Knights of Labor.

To the working men of Peterborough:—We hereby extend an invitation to all the working men to join us in celebrating Labor Day by turning out on the morning of September 3rd, at 7.30 a.m. at the K. of L. Hall, Water-st., where the procession will be formed and march through the principal streets.

Offenders of the Law.

Wm. Flannery was found drunk about one o'clock this morning by constable Stewart, and locked up. He was discharged at the Police Court this morning.

A charge of obstructing the sidewalk by allowing a dry goods case to be left standing thereon, was preferred against Wm. Sailsbury at the court this morning. It was found that Mr. Sailsbury had been out of town and the boy had neglected to remove the box. The case was dismissed.

Mr. F. J. Daly's enlarged case for breach of the Scott Act, came up this morning. The plea of guilty was entered and the offender fined $50 and costs.

Street Loitering to be Stopped.

The Police Court this morning was crowded with young men who had come to hear the "move on" cases. Constable Stewart charged eight young men with loitering on the street corners on Sunday night. Their names were:—R. Russell, Jno. Wilson, jr., Jas. Shannon, H. Thompson, Geo. Spencely, Geo. Trotter, J. Teefor and Geo. Fady. The evidence went to show that the habit of this street loafing was becoming a nuisance, Constable Stewart saying that oftentimes the language used by some of the young men was unfit for any ears. The Magistrate fined them all one dollar, with the exception of Geo. Fady, whose charge was dismissed. Three of the accused failed to appear but will nevertheless have to contribute to the town coffers. Police Magistrate Dumble instructed the constables to arrest any man hereafter who was seen obstructing the streets on Sunday evening or using any obscene language.

Baseball Unprecedented.

A phenomenal game of baseball was played yesterday afternoon. The office clerks and the dry goods and drug clerks were to have played a match, but, the latter failed to get nine men on the field so the match was postponed, to be played some time in the sweet subsequently. The two nines that combated for supremacy on the diamond and played the phenomenal game above mentioned are known by the cognomens of "Corkers" and "Slashers." The two teams, which had some good baseball men on them—leaving out the umpire—wrestled with each other for an hour or an hour and five minutes, but finally after a great number of innings the the game was declared finished. Upon adding up the score it was found that after all the assistance received from the umpire and a pitcher who throws a double-back-action ball the "Corkers" had only been defeated by 4 runs, the score being 11 to 7. The batteries, whose fame and names are now established in the baseball world were: "Corkers," Stevenson and Kincaid; "Slashers," Giroux and Pierson and Cameron. It is rumored on good authority that the "Slashers" "played off."

HORTICULTURAL SHOW.

The Best Exhibition ever held in Peterborough.

The Horticultural Society are holding their annual exhibition in the Charlotte-st. rink this afternoon and evening. This year's show is far ahead of any previous year, both in point of the number and the quality of the exhibits. Last year there were some three hundred entries in all classes, while this year the number runs up to over four hundred. The citizens should patronize this show as it is well worthy of the most liberal, and an interest should be taken in a society whose object is so unselfish.

A REVIEW reporter dropped into the rink about noon to-day to see how things were progressing, and a busy scene was being enacted on the floor of the rink. This commodious building is well suited to the purposes of such a show, and the galleries will afford a pleasant promenade for the evening show at which the Fire Brigade Band will be present and discourse sweet melodies throughout the evening. The exhibitors were busy arranging the tables according to the classification of the different exhibits, and a most delightful perfume from the sweet-scented flowers and plants prevaded the atmosphere. The obliging and genial secretary, Mr. Peter Henry, was busy preparing the judges' books for the prize list, a preparation for which the press will be put under great obligation to him as it will greatly facilitate the procuring of the list for publication.

The collections of plants and flowers on exhibition are very fine. The plants consist of all varieties of hot house plants as well as some rare specimens from window and garden. The cut flowers and boquets are most beautiful, and this will be a table around which many will linger long, feasting their eyes on the beauty of color and delicacy of tint, and drinking in the delicious odors arising from the well arranged collections.

Fruits and vegetables are also a very good exhibit, as is the ladies' needle and fancy work.

In fact any person with a taste for flowers or plants should not allow the exhibition to close without seeing the collections there arranged.

The entrance fee of ten cents is almost too small, considering that the society may be said to be about the same as a public body, as any surplus above expenses is spent on the flowers and grounds in the Court House Park, which are public property and a public benefit.

Doors open this evening at 7 o'clock, close at 10.

SPORTING NEWS.

Rifle.

A team of local riflemen go to Ottawa on Saturday night to take part in the Dominion Rifle Association match there next week. They were practicing at the butts to-day.

Turf.

H. C. Winch's "Sleepy Dan" secured third place in the three minute race at St. Catharines yesterday, coming in third, third, first, second and third in the five respective heats.

Cricket.

The Colts and Veterans will play a another match game of cricket to-morrow afternoon. Surely the Colts will not be victorious this time, although they do expect such a result.

Mr. W. Stratton went up to Toronto last night and plays cricket to-day with the Canadian gentlemen against the Irish gentlemen.

The Colts have received a challenge from the Bankers to play a game of cricket, but no date has been fixed for the match.

Lacrosse at Bradford.

The Riversides were defeated at Bradford yesterday three straight games, and arrived home about 11 o'clock last night. One of the boys who was seen by the REVIEW to-day said that Bradford has a dandy team. They are no heavier men than the Peterborough boys, but they play well together. The home team, he said, made a pretty good fight, the defence especially being admirable. The home team should now go in, practice hard and when Bradford come down to Peterborough on the 9th of next month try and give them a reception that will send them home defeated. The Empire's report of the game says;—"As all the clubs in the series were on an equal footing before to-day's match the result was viewed with great interest. The home team played a grand team game, winning three straights in 32, 58 and 9 minutes respectively. The games were scored by Driffill, Boddy and Campbell. The play by the Bradford team was so generally good that it was hard to individualise, but the two Campbells, Booth, Smith, Manning and Wilkinson played grandly. For the Peterboroughs, Joyal, Stephenson, Phelan and Butler played a grand game. There was a large crowd of spectaters on the ground and a good play on either side was roundly cheered. Mr. Watson, of Beeton, acted as referee, and gave good satisfaction to both teams."

Personal.

Warden Walsh is in town to-day.

Mrs. T. Ambrose, of Port Hope, arrived home from England on the Parisian.

Mr. A. F. Wood, of Madoc, M.P.P. for North Hastings, was in town to-day.

Mr. J. E. Atkinson, of the Port Hope Times, has joined the staff of the Toronto World.

The Stratford Herald says:—"Rev. Wm. Smyth leaves for Peterborough this week for a two weeks holiday."

Mr. T. Cavanagh's condition remains unchanged. He did not have a very good night but he was resting nicely to-day.

Mr. K. G. Lech left town this morning for London, Ont., where he enters the examinations at the military school, with fair prospects of success.

The Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, of St. Luke's Church, intends conducting a mission in Christ's Church, Campbellford, commencing on Sept. 18th and ending on Sept. 28th. On Sunday, Sept. 23rd, Mr. Bradshaw will preach morning and evening.

The Christian Guardian says:—"The Rev. Charles Fish has returned after a brief visit to England. During his stay in England he was nearly all the time actively engaged in evangelistic services, which were eminently successful. Brother Fish returns greatly improved in health, and expects to engage in evangelistic work in this country."

KEENE.

Correspondence of the Review.

R. C. PICNIC.—The Roman Catholic picnic at Keene in aid of St. Mary's church here passed off very well on Wednesday last. The day was all that could be wished for. Mr. McNeil's fine grove accommodated the crowd of 500 very well. The Rev. Father Lynch very kindly graced the proceedings with his presence. The large platform was fully patronized during the day, as well as the booth and rifle gallery. Miss Maggie Carey was elected to wear a very fine ring. Mr. Alexander Campbell, jr., drew the quilt and Miss Katie Powers the magnificent picture of Father Lynch. Mr. John Greer, (uncle) favorfd the party with a hornpipe and did it will in spite of his years and infirmities. There were nearly 100 from Peterborough. The receipts amounted to about $500.00. The dinner was got up in fine style and too much thanks can not be given to the ladies as well as to the very efficient committee who had charge. The picnic ended with a dance in Keene Town Hall in the evening.

ZION.

Correspondence of the Review.

EXCURSION.—Now since the harvest is finished, the Zion foot ball club require something to exert themselves and they intend having an excursion to Idyl Wild on Friday, 31st of August, where no doubt a very pleasant time will be spent, as they have chartered the Beaver for the occasion. Those attending our picnic will get sufficient dancing to do them at least three months, as able musicians have been employed.

RETURNED.—Mr. W. Whittington has returned to Zion, after having spent a few weeks' holidays with his friends. He will take charge of the Zion school as usual.

LACROSSE.—The Paralyzers are getting themselves in ship shape, to tackle the Ashburnhams on the 3rd of Sept.

ILLNESS.—Mr. W. J. Dickson, who has been ill for the past few weeks, is very low at present, but we wish him a speedy recovery.

ROAD OBSTRUCTIONS.—A notice is published by our Township Clerk that no obstructions should be placed on the road. This agreement has not been accomplished as one of our northern gentlemen carted a number of loads of light oats, chaff and other rubbish on to the road. A neighbor's cow came along and thinking this a good chance helped herself, and shortly after died. The cow was valued at about forty-five dollars.

THRESHING.—We hear the hum of threshers daily, and far beyond the rest, the whistle of the steamer with the London man at the throttle and a couple of heavy men taking charge of the Advance. An ordinary sized barn will keep them going a while of an afternoon.

Malarial poisons can be entirely removed from the system by the use of Ayer's Ague Cure. This remedy contains a specific, in the form of a vegetable product, used in no other Ague preparation. Warranted.

PORT HOPE.

A BAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. Samuel D. Robinson, of Welcome, is building a new house on his farm at Quay's Crossing, and at about five o'clock on Tuesday evening as he and Mr. John Walters were working at the building the scaffolding gave way, and they both fell some twelve feet. Mr. Robinson was badly cut on his head, the doctor fears the skull is fractured; he was also injured on the spine. As he is an aged man the result of the accident may prove very serious. Mr. Walters had his right leg badly bruised, but his injuries are not so serious as Mr. Robinson's, but as he also is quite aged, it will be sometime before he recovers from the effects of the fall.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

A Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for "Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. I. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use."

The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr. A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert matter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination."

Ayer's Pills,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 30, 1888.

The Treasure of Franchard.

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

He was recalled to the earth rudely by a pained expression on the boy's face. "What do you think of my singing?" he inquired, stopping in the middle of the note; and then, after he had waited some little and received no answer: "What do you think of my singing?" he repeated, imperiously.

"I do not like it," faltered Jean-Marie.

"Oh, come!" cried the doctor. "Possibly you are a performer yourself?"

"I sing better than that," replied the boy.

The doctor eyed him for some seconds in stupefaction. He was aware that he was angry, and blushed for himself in consequence, which made him angrier. "If this is how you address your master!" he said at last, with a shrug and a flourish of his arms.

"I do not speak to him at all," returned the boy. "I do not like him."

"Then you like me!" snapped Dr. Desprez, with unusual eagerness.

"I do not know," answered Jean-Marie.

The doctor rose. "I shall wish you a good morning," he said. "You are too much for me. Perhaps you have blood in your veins, perhaps celestial ichor, or perhaps you circulate nothing more gross than respirable air; but of one thing I am inexpugnably assured—that you are no human being. No boy"—shaking his stick at him—"you are not a human being. Write, write it in your memory—'I am not a human being—I have no pretension to be a human being—I am a dive, a dream, an angel, an acrostic, an illusion—what you please, but not a human being.' And so accept my humble salutations and farewell!"

And with that the doctor made off along the street in some emotion, and the boy stood, mentally gaping, where he left him.

CHAPTER III.

THE ADOPTION.

Mme. Desprez, who answered to the Christian name of Anastasie, presented an agreeable type of her sex; exceedingly wholesome to look upon, a stout brune, with cool smooth cheeks, steady, dark eyes and hands that neither art nor nature could improve. She was the sort of a person over whom adversity passes like a summer cloud; she might, in the worst of conjunctions, knit her brows into one vertical furrow for a moment, but the next it would be gone. She had much of the placidity of a contented nun; with little of her piety, however; for Anastasie was of a very mundane nature, fond of oysters and old wine, and somewhat bold pleasantries, and devoted to her husband for her own sake rather than for his. She was imperturbably good natured, but had no idea of self sacrifice. To live in that pleasant old house, with a green garden behind and bright flowers about the window, to eat and drink of the best, to gossip with a neighbor for a quarter of an hour, never to wear stays or a dress except when she went to Fontainebleau shopping, to be kept in a continual supply of racy novels, and to be married to Dr. Desprez and have no ground of jealousy, filled the cup of her nature to the brim. Those who had known the doctor in bachelor days, when he had aired quite as many theories, but of a different order, attributed his present philosophy to the study of Anastasie. It was her brute enjoyment that he rationalized and perhaps vainly imitated.

Mme. Desprez was an artist in the kitchen, and made coffee to a nicety. She had a knack of tidiness, with which she had infected the doctor; everything was in its place; everything capable of polish shone gloriously; and dust was a thing banished from her empire. Aline, their single servant, had no other business in the world but to scour and burnish. So Dr. Desprez lived in his house like a fatted calf, warmed and cosseted to his heart's content.

The midday meal was excellent. There was a ripe melon, a fish from the river in a memorable Bearnaise sauce, a fat fowl in a fricassee, and a dish of asparagus, followed by some fruit. The doctor drank half a bottle plus one glass, the wife half a bottle minus the same quantity, which was a marital privilege, of an excellent Cote Rotie, seven years old. Then the coffee was brought, and a flask of Chartreuse for madame, for the doctor despised and distrusted such decoctions; and then Aline left the wedded pair to the pleasures of memory and digestion.

"It is a very fortunate circumstance, my cherished one," observed the doctor—"this coffee is adorable—a very fortunate circumstance on the whole—Anastasie, I beseech you, go without that poison for today, only one day, and you will feel the benefit, I pledge my reputation."

"What is this fortunate circumstance, my friend?" inquired Anastasie, not heeding his protest, which was of daily recurrence.

"That we have no children, my beautiful," replied the doctor. "I think of it more as the years go on, and with more and more gratitude toward the power that dispenses such afflictions. Your health, my darling, my studious quiet, our little kitchen delicacies, how they would all have suffered, how they would all have been sacrificed! And for what? Children are the last word of human imperfection. Health flees before their face. They cry, my dear; they put vexatious questions; they demand to be fed, to be washed, to be educated, to have their noses blown; and then, when the time comes, they break our hearts, as I break this piece of sugar. A pair of professed egotists, like you and me, should avoid offspring like an infidelity."

"Indeed!" said she, and she laughed. "Now, that is like you—to take credit for the thing you could not help."

"My dear," returned the doctor, solemnly, "we might have adopted."

"Never!" cried madame. "Never, doctor, with my consent. If the child were my own flesh and blood, I would not say no. But to take another person's indiscretion on my shoulders, my dear friend, I have too much sense."

"Precisely," replied the doctor. "We both had. And I am all the better pleased with our wisdom, because—because"— He looked

"Because what?" she asked, with a faint premonition of danger.

"Because I have found the right person," said the doctor, firmly, "and shall adopt him this afternoon."

Anastasie looked at him out of a mist. "You have lost your reason," she said; and there was a clang in her voice that seemed to threaten trouble.

"Not so, my dear," he replied; "I retain its complete exercise. To the proof: instead of attempting to cloak my inconsistency I have, by way of preparing you, thrown it into strong relief. You will there, I think, recognize the philosopher who has the ecstasy to call you wife. The fact is, I have been reckoning all this while without an accident. I never thought to find a son of my own. Now, last night I found one. Do not, unnecessarily alarm yourself, my dear; he is not a drop of blood to me that I know. It is his mind, darling, his mind that calls me father."

"His mind!" she repeated, with a titter between scorn and hysterics. "His mind, indeed! Henri, is this an idiotic pleasantry, or are you mad? His mind! And what of my mind?"

"Truly," replied the doctor, with a shrug, "you have your finger on the hitch. He will be strikingly antipathetic to my beautiful Anastasie. She will never understand him; he will never understand her. You married the animal side of my nature, dear; and it is on the spiritual side that I find my affinity for Jean-Marie. So much so, that, to be perfectly frank, I stand in some awe of him myself. You will easily perceive that I am announcing a calamity for you. Do not," he broke out in tones of real solicitude, "do not give way to tears after a meal, Anastasie. You will certainly give yourself a false digestion."

Anastasie controlled herself. "You know how willing I am to humor you," she said, "in all reasonable matters. But on this point"—

"My dear love," interrupted the doctor, eager to prevent a refusal, "who wished to leave Paris? Who made me give up cards, and the opera, and the boulevard, and my social relations, and all that was my life before I knew you? Have I been faithful? Have I been obedient?—Have I not borne my doom with cheerfulness? In all honesty, Anastasie, have I not a right to a stipulation on my side? I have, and you know it. I stipulate my son."

Anastasie was aware of defeat; she struck her colors instantly. "You will break my heart," she sighed.

"Not in the least," said he. "You will feel a trifling inconvenience for a month, just as I did when I was first brought to this vile hamlet; then your admirable sense and temper will prevail, and I see you already as content as ever, and making your husband the happiest of men."

"You know I can refuse you nothing," she said, with a last flicker of resistance; "nothing that will make you truly happier. But will this? Are you sure, my husband? Last night, you say, you found him! He may be the worst of humbugs."

BANKERS.—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce
SOLICITORS.—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITORS.—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS.—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to Depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS.—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be paid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. CORSETS!

Every lady purchasing CORSETS and wishing to get the Best Article for the least outlay, should visit TURNBULL'S, as he always keeps in stock the Best Makes from all the leading manufacturers. Some makes are peculiarly adapted to suit a particular style of figure. Below we enumerate a few lines from which you can select in any size from 18 to 30. Larger sizes procured on short notice.

THE YATISI CORSET

is modelled from a design of one of the most celebrated Parisian makers. It gives a lady that easy and grace so much admired in French ladies.

The YATISI CORSET owing to the peculiar diagonal elasticity of the cloth will fit the wearer perfectly the first time worn, no matter what her stye of form is, either long or short waisted. To ladies wishing to lace light and not feel uncomfortable at the bust or hips they are indispensible.

The YATISI CORSET does not stretch at the waist; requires no breaking in; fits comfortable the first time worn, as it gives to every motion of the wearer. It will outlast any of the old style rigid Corsets.

The YATISI CORSET can be worn ten days and if not found satisfactory in every respect the money will be refunded at TURNBULL'S.

THE CORALINE CORSET

What is Coraline? Coraline is composed of a bundle of stiff and very elastic fibres like bristles tightly bound with strong thread. Coraline contains no sizing of any kind but its stiffness exists in the natural fibre and is permanent. Look for the Coraline Corset at TURNBULL'S, every pair stamped.

BALL'S CORSETS.

These Corsets need no breaking in—invalids can wear them with ease and comfort, as they do not compress the vital parts of the wearer. They fit a great variety of forms owing to their peculiar construction—they are very durable. They have the endorsement of every physician who has examined them. Every pair warranted—the money refunded if not satisfactory after wearing them three weeks, at TURNBULL'S.

THE PARISENNE.

The PARISENNE is a new make which is becoming very popular. It is something after the style of the old French Corded Corset—is shorter waisted than most of the other makes, which makes it adapted for a stout figure.

Everything desirable in the Corset line always to be found at TURNBULL'S at prices that are never beaten.

"C" BATTERY AT VICTORIA

A REPORT OF THE SKEENA TRIP EXPECTED NEXT WEEK.

The Newfoundland Delegates to be at the Capital about the Middle of September —The D. R. A. Meeting.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—The Newfoundland delegates will probably leave the Island during the first week of September, and be in Ottawa about the middle of the month.

Adjt.-General Powell has received a telegram from Colonel Holmes, Commandant of "C" Battery, stating that the battery returned to Victoria from the Skeena River on Saturday. The men are all well. The official report of the trip will probably reach here early next week.

Pending the return of the Minister of Customs Lieutenant Chamberlain of the 43rd Battalion has paid $25 duty on the cup won at Wimbledon and got the cup. On the return of the Minister he will apply for a refund, which may be made by order-in-council. It is possible that the raising of the point whether or not duty should be levied on trophies will lead to an amendment of the act next session admitting all such articles free.

Present indications are that the Dominion Rifle Association meeting which opens here on Monday will be the largest ever known. Teams will be present from every province and from the territories and entries are now pouring in to the secretary from all quarters.

Commissioner of Customs Johnson has written the Secretary of the Canada Central Exhibition to say that arrangements will be made for the admission in bond of goods from the United States intended for exhibition only. In cases of sales duty will be charged.

J. R. Booth & Co. have purchased for $46,000 the Moore timber limits comprising about ninety square miles on Lake Nipissing adjoining the Booth reserve on Sturgeon River.

Deputy Grand Treasurer—F. D. Stewart, Manitoba.
Deputy Grand Lecturers—Capt. S. Wetmore, Burford; O. W. J. McCarthy, Cobourg.

The visiting brethren were entertained by the local brethern to an excursion to Fraser's grove and a visit to Lieut.-Governor Schultz.

Due to Land Legislation.

DUBLIN, Aug. 31.—Cardinal Moran, Archbishop of Sydney, who is visiting Tuam, in reply to an address contrasted the condition of self-governed, loyal and prosperous Australia with the abject state of Ireland. The difference he said was due to the Irish land legislation of the past three centuries.

The Ontario Cabinet.

TORONTO, Aug. 31.—Premier Mowat gathered his ministers around him yesterday afternoon and they took counsel together for the first time since their chief's departure for England.

MORE RETALIATION TALK.

U. S. SENATORS STILL DEBATING CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE.

Mr. Interstate Cullom Deludes Himself With the Belief That Canada is Pretty Nearly Ripe for Absorption.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—In the Senate yesterday, replying to the assertion made by Mr. Edmunds in his speech last week that the President had a right to suspend the operation of Section 3006 of the revised statutes, which allows the transit of goods between the United States and Canada without the payment of duty, Mr. George (Dem., Miss.) argued that if the President were to undertake to suspend the operation of that section he would be assuming an autocratic power, such as is possessed only by some potentates in Europe and Asia. The President could not abrogate a solemn enactment of Congress, absolute in its terms, without any contingency whatever.

Mr. Cullom (Rep., Ill.) addressed the Senate on the same subject. In his opening remarks he spoke of the United States being destined to dominate the American continent and expressed the opinion that in the not far distant future the Canadian provinces would become part of the United States. The rejection of the Fisheries Treaty by the Senate had met, he said, with the approval of a large majority of the people of the country. The retaliation message might be fairly taken as evidence that even the President has become satisfied that the treaty was a mistake. To retrieve what he had lost by that mistake, the President had launched out into a broader sea and would find himself in deeper water than before and with greater dangers. Mr. Cullom then addressed himself to the details of the subject, going extensively into the question as to whether the Secretary of the Treasury had not the power to prohibit shipment from Canada to United States ports for exportation. He argued that the Secretary of the Treasury had the power practically to prohibit such transit by establishing such rules and regulations as would make it inconvenient.

As to the discrimination against American vessels on Canadian canals, that difficulty, if it existed, might have been remedied by a remonstrance addressed to the British Government. It would be time enough when such remonstrance proved unavailing for the President to apply to Congress for additional legislation. When he (Cullom) applied the message to the situation and saw how little the excuses there was for it, it became more and more apparent that it has been inspired by political necessity. It might be regarded as Mr. Cleveland's long delayed letter of acceptance, because it betrayed clearly his anxiety for another term of office and his fear that he would not be elected. His change of front on the fisheries question showed that Mr. Cleveland and his party were in desperate straits politically, they saw defeat staring them in the face and were seeking to divert attention. The whole movement was a political movement.

Mr. Cullom offered a resolution which was laid over, desiring the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the Senate whether the transit in bond over or across the territory of the United States without payment of duties on goods, etc., coming from Canadian ports has been permitted since July 1, 1865, as Article XXIX of the Treaty of 1818 and section 3 of the act of March 1, 1873, are said to have ceased to be in force, if so by what authority of law.

THE RETALIATION BILL.

A Substitute Unanimously Adopted by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The Committee on Foreign Affairs to-day received the report of the sub-committee on the Retaliation Bill. The chairman, Mr. Belmont, said that in these questions the committee had always acted without regard to partisanship, and he hoped it would continue to do so. He referred to the fact that a bill introduced by himself two years ago, containing a restrictive railroad provision, had been adopted by the House almost unanimously, though the railroad section was subsequently stricken out in the Senate. The committee unanimously adopted the amended bill reported by the sub-committee. Mr. Belmont having been absent when the consideration of the subject was begun, expressed the opinion that it would be proper for Mr. McCreary to report the bill to the House. It is understood to be the intention to call it up for action on Saturday. The following is the text of the substitute bill:

Sec. 1. Be it enacted, etc.: That whenever the President may deem it his duty to exercise any of the powers given to him by an act entitled, "An act to authorise the President of the United States to protect and defend the rights of American fishing vessels, American fishermen, American trading and other vessels in certain cases, and for other purposes," approved March 3, 1887, it shall be lawful for the President, in his discretion, by proclamation to that effect, to suspend, in whole or in part, the transportation across the territory of the United States, in bond or without the payment of duty of goods, wares and merchandise imported or exported from any foreign country from or to the British dominions in North America.

Sec. 2. That whenever the President shall be satisfied that there is any discrimination whatever in the use of the Welland Canal, the St. Lawerence River Canal, the Chambly Canal or either of them, whether by tolls, drawbacks, re-fund of tolls or otherwise, which is or may be detrimental to the interests of the United States or any of its citizens, it shall be lawful for the President in his discretion to issue a proclamation to that effect, whereupon there shall be collected a toll of 20 cents a ton upon every foreign vessel and her cargo passing through either the Sault Ste. Marie Canal or the St. Clair Flats Canal, and the Secretary of the Treasury may authorize and direct any of the Customs officers to collect the tolls levied under this act, or the President may in his discretion, when he is satisfied there is any such discrimination, prohibit the use of said canals to any such foreign vessel. The President when satisfied that such discrimination has ceased may issue his proclamation to that effect in his discretion, whereupon the tolls authorised by this act shall no longer be collected and said prohibition, if ordered, shall cease.

Sec. 2. That the Secretary of the Treasury is authorised to make any regulations needful to carry this act into effect.

At only one point was there anything like a difference between the Democrat and Republican members. This was upon a proposition coming from the Republicans that courtesy to Great Britain required that it should be notified that Article XXIX of the Treaty of Washington has been practically nullified and abrogated upon the refusal or denial of the rights of American citizens in Canadian ports. Upon this proposition there was a division on party lines, resulting in its defeat by a vote of 50 to 6.

When the question came on ordering a favorable report on the substitute bill, there was not a negative vote. The Republican members do not expect that the bill will meet with any opposition from their side of the House when it is called up, although the proposition which was rejected to-day may be renewed and serve as the basis of some speeches, in which the position will be taken that the President already has sufficient power to do what he desires in the way of retaliation.

It Got a Boom.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The President's recent message to Congress, recommending retaliation in the matter of the Canadian fishery dispute, received a big boom at the meeting under the auspices of the New York Democracy at the Cooper Union last night. More than 30,000 people crowded into the hall. Senator Gray, of Delaware, was the principal speaker.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Justice MacMahon Refuses to Grant Bail to Broker Cox.

TORONTO, Aug. 31.—Mr. Justice MacMahon yesterday refused the writ of habeas corpus applied for on behalf of Broker E. S. Cox and declined to admit the ex-financier to bail. A warrant which had been sent up from Oakville at the instance of Mrs. H. B. Graham, charging Cox with defrauding her out of $700, was withdrawn yesterday, the matter having been settled. Mr. W. R. Bingham, of the Hub, says he is going to take criminal proceedings against Cox.

The chair in the Ontario Agricultural College, made vacant by the resignation of Prof. Brown a short time ago, was filled yesterday, Mr. Thomas Shaw, of Hamilton, being appointed Professor of Agriculture and Farm Manager.

Emma Lucas, the 7-year-old daughter of Mr. T. Lucas, died early yesterday morning and the physicians say she had been poisoned by a dose of belladonna. Where the child got hold of the bottle is a mystery.

Wm. Anderson, Herbert Stone and John Henry were up for stealing handkerchiefs, a silver watch and some money from the residence of G. H. Forbes, 24 Caer-Howell-street, on civic holiday. There was much evidence for the prosecution, but it was very contradictory. A witness for Henry said he went to Niagara with him that day and they were at Niagara all day, thus flatly contradicting all former evidence. This evidence brought consternation to the prosecution, but Detective Burrows relieved it by swearing that he saw Henry after the Cibola left that morning. William Graham was the witness who swore to the Niagara trip, and he was arrested for perjury after he left the stand. Henry and Stone were sent to the Penitentiary for two and a half years, and Anderson to the Central for six months.

William Brown and Robt. Davis were tried for breaking into the houses of Walter S. Lee and Arthur W. Godson. Davis was also tried for stealing a bicycle from Arthur Taylor. They pleaded guilty in every case. Brown was reminded of prior convictions and was sentenced to the Kingston Penitentiary for six years and Davis for three.

The Dominion Wholesale Grocers' Guild have decided that no compromise shall be made with any retail grocer who asks for one on account of having been burned out, unless his stock to the value of 60 per cent. of his liabilities was covered by insurance.

THE COTTON COMBINES

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—The Dominion Cotton Manufacturers' Association, which has been in session here this week, has passed this resolution:

"Owing to the withdrawal of the St. Croix mill from the Association without any satisfactory reasons being given for refusing to continue longer in it, and the Chambly cotton mill declining to join, while regretting the course adopted by these as injurious to the general interests of the Cotton Association and also likely to cause general annoyance to the general trade, it is decided that for the present the question of prices be left open for all mills to deal with as they think best." The great object of the Association has been to fix a minimum price at which the first quality of goods could be produced especially suited to the wants of the general trade of the Dominion, and during the continuance of the Association, the quality and variety of the goods manufactured, have been of a superior character to many classes produced immediately before the formation of the Association."

THE PREMIER AT THE CAPITAL.

Notes of Politicians and Politics—A Contested Election.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—Sir John MacDonald returned to the city yesterday from Dalhousie, apparently improved in health. He was met at the depot by several friends and driven at once to his temporary residence in Daly street where he will live until the alterations at Earnscliffe are completed. Sir John declined to say anything about retaliation.

Sir Hector Langevin and Sir John Sparrow Thompson reached the capital last evening from Toronto. Nearly all the members are now in town. The Cabinet will meet on Saturday.

DAYTON AT MONTREAL.

The Pseudo Wild West Advance Agent Working His Old Racket.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—Charles Dayton, whose exploits in Toronto while representing himself as advance agent of Buffalo Bill's Wild West show were chronicled yesterday, was in the city yesterday and endeavored to make contracts for supplies. He then tried to borrow money from people with whom he contracted, but they were too wise for him, as he had been here before about two months ago, playing the same game, only that a circus then took the place of Buffalo Bill's show.

BRONZE JOHN.

New Cases Springing Up on Every Hand at Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 30.—The situation is no better to-day but rather worse. A jump in the number of new cases causes dismay among the people left in town and the trains out were crowded. Health certificates are now issued daily by the Board of Health. It has been decided by the Auxilliary Association to try and get people to move out to camp so as to depopulate the place more and by this means check the fever's course. The poor who are unable to go will be assisted. New cases to-day spring up right and left. All that could possibly be done has been done upon the Grand Union Hotel and adjoining premises but infection still appears to crop out in that neighborhood with alarming frequency and violence. One gratifying feature of the situation is the mild form of many of the new cases. There are striking exceptions to the rule however.

Twenty-three new cases were reported for the twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock. There were three deaths during the same time.

A Projected K. of L. Move.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 31.—Prominent Knights of Labor of this city are considering the advisability of introducing a resolution at the next general assembly prohibiting any but American citizens from becoming members of the organization.

Fatal Accident at Brantford.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 31.—A little after 7 o'clock yesterday morning as the street-watering carts were crossing Wentworth-street in West Brantford the train, which was backing up, ran into the first cart, smashing it to pieces and killing Driver Ned Woods, aged about 20. The horses had the harness stripped off them but escaped uninjured.

MANITOBA'S BIG CHANCE.

THE OLD WORLD SHORT OF WHEAT THIS YEAR.

A Deficiency of from 70,000,000 to 80,000,000 Bushels—The United States not in a Position to Supply the Demand.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—It now seems to be a fact that the old world needs from 70,000,000 to 80,000,000 bushels of wheat more than the harvest of the year will produce. To put it in another way, the countries which always have to buy wheat must this year buy some 370,000,000 bushels, while the countries raising more than they consume will have about 295,000,000 bushels to sell. The annual international grain market, held in Vienna on Monday, gave estimates of the yield of the world, which varied only in a few particulars from those already given, the chief differences being in unimportant countries. On the other hand, the real state of the French harvest seems much worse than reported at Vienna, and the same is even more obviously true of England. Tuesday's terrific storm of wind and rain ended whatever chance remained of decent crops in Great Britain, and the English must now import at least 170,000,000 bushels. France, which, next to the United States, is the greatest wheat producer in the world, has one of the worst wheat crops ever reaped. A week ago it was estimated that she would need to import 68,000,000 bushels. Now, since the fresh storm and the discovery by the threshings of the bad quality of the grain, the shortage is put at 80,000,000 by the Mercuriale des Halles, and at 96,000,000 by Bollack, Sarassin & Co. What makes the matter worse is that very little, if any, of this can be made good by Algiers, where the grasshopper has decimated the crop. Germany, Italy and the Netherlands must buy more wheat than usual this year from the great exporting countries.

The wheat market in England is still a curiously parochial affair, dependent upon all sorts of local conditions and influences. Liverpool generally follows New York and San Francisco, but London is more concerned in the Baltic trade and not so easily moved by American quotations, and, like Leeds, Rochester and Newcastle-on-Tyne, thinks most of the local crops and demand. Hence prices for the past week have been much affected by the capricious weather, a bright day frightening buyers, a heavy rain stiffening sellers; but yesterday's storm has so knocked out what remained of the English crop that this can no longer be the case. Already we catch a glimpse of what the wheat shortage means by the discovery that bread has gone up a penny on a quartern loaf in many parts of London since Monday.

The northern workhouse authorities have their hands full with an army of Irish laborers who are accustomed to come to England for the harvest. This year they find no work for them to do, and the laborers have no means with which to get home. What adds to the sinister aspect of the outlook is the sad failure of the potato crop in many parts of England and all along the west coast of Ireland. This alone would have made a hard winter here. Combined with dear bread it is a gloomy enough outlook. One of the first results of the shortage will be a vigorous demand in France for a remission of the import duty on wheat on the part of big towns and a strenuous resistance by the wheat-raising districts where the farmers see no reason why the tariff should not enable them to profit by the distress of their brethren in the towns. In yesterday's London market wheat ruled firm without much selling, but holders were asking an advance of 3 cents a bushel on white and 2 cents on red winter, which latter is said over here to be of an inferior quality.

Little to Spare in the United States.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Times says editorially: Judging from our special reports from the wheat producing states published this morning, the United States will not be in a position to furnish very much of the 70,000,000 or 80,000,000 bushels of wheat which will be required to meet the deficiency caused by the poor crops in the old world. The weather has been unfavorable here as in Europe to large harvests of the principal food cereal, but so far as can be learned we shall have ample wheat for home consumption, with possibly some, if not a great deal, to spare, to supply a portion of the demand across the ocean. If we cannot feed the world it is pleasant to know we can feed ourselves.

FIRES OF A DAY.

A Spark From a Steam Thresher Causes a $700 Blaze Near Stevensville.

STEVENSVILLE, Ont., Aug. 31.—The barns belonging to W. L. Spalding, of Bertie township were burnt Wednesday afternoon. The fire is supposed to have caught from a spark from a steam thresher. About 1000 bushels of threshed grain, some stock, and almost the whole of the agricultural implements, including a separator, belonging to John Dennahower, were destroyed. Loss about $700; insured in the London Mutual.

The Seaforth Foundry Burnt.

SEAFORTH, Aug. 31.—The Seaforth Foundry owned by Thomas Hendrie, was burned yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss, $7000; insurance, $1500.

A $10,000 Loss at Chatham.

CHATHAM, Aug. 31.—The saw mill and two dwellings at Chatham Centre, owned by Wm. Flater were burned Monday night. Loss about $10,000. Insured in the British American for $1000 and the Mercantile for $500.

A Nova Scotia Blaze.

HALIFAX, Aug. 31.—F. W. Beckman's extensive lumber mill at Beaverbank was destroyed by fire Monday afternoon, together with a large quantity of lumber piled near the building. The mill was insured for $2000 and the lumber for $3000, both in the Commercial Union, but whether this covers the loss is not known.

Two Bad Hamiltonians.

HAMILTON, Aug. 31.—At the Police Court yesterday Patrick Dowse was convicted of stabbing James Laing on the street last Saturday night. The magistrate produced the prisoner's unenviable record as follows: 1883, drunk and disorderly and trespass; 1885, frequenting disorderly house; 1886, larceny, drunk and disorderly, drunk and assaulting police; 1888, obscene language, drunk, two assaults and one threatening. Dowse was sentenced to a year in the Central.

Ann Martin was sent to the Mercier for a year on a charge of vagrancy. Her record parallels Dowse's: In 1884 she went down for vagrancy; in 1885, larceny, vagrancy, drunkenness; in 1886, vagrancy, trespass, drunkenness; in 1887 she served four terms for drunkenness and this year she has been in jail for vagrancy and drunkenness.

A Berlin Socialist Elected.

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—In the election in this city, in the sixth district, Herr Liebknecht (socialist) was successful, receiving 20,067 votes out of a total of 41,791.

The Cumberland Election Protested.

HALIFAX, Aug. 31.—Russell & Congdon, barristers of this city, yesterday filed a petition against the return of Arthur R. Dickey as member of the House of Commons for Cumberland County. Charles R. Casey, the Prohibition candidate, is the petitioner.

FLOWERS AND PLANTS.

The Horticultural Exhibition—List of the Prize Winners.

The Horticultural Exhibition closed last evening at 10 o'clock. At the afternoon show there was not a great number who took advantage of viewing the finest collection of flowers, plants, vegetables, &c., that was ever exhibited in Peterborough, but those who did were delighted with what they saw.

In the evening the Fire Brigade band was in attendance and quite a crowd of spectators were present, and a most pleasant evening was spent breathing the fragrant air so sweetly scented by the flowers and plants, and listening to the tuneful strains of the band. It would be invidious to try and mention the particular exhibits which were deserving of it, but there were a few exhibits apart from the horticultural department which were remarkably fine. The colored crayon drawing of Miss K. Hurley entitled "Dawn," representing the sweet, pretty face of a young girl, was a beautiful picture and a clever piece of work. Mr. R. M. Roy also showed a fine pen and ink drawing, and Mr. B. Sawyer a fine specimen of penmanship. In the other exhibits we will allow the prize list to speak for itself. The show was not patronized as its merit deserved or as its object calls for. The cultivating and rearing of rare and beautiful flowers is stimulated, while market gardeners and others strive in a beneficial rivalry to produce the best vegetables possible, so that such a show is attended always with good results. The prize list was as follows:—

ENNISMORE.

Correspondence of the Review.

CONGRATULATIONS IN ORDER.—Mrs. John K. Galvin, of Ennismore, is the happy mother of twins—a boy and girl. They were born on Sunday last. Dr. McGrath was the attending physician. Mother and children are doing well.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healt and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A Phenomenal Yield of Peas.

Peas are not a prodigious crop this season. In fact if there is anything remarkable about the crop it is that it is remarkably small. A farmer near Peterborough relates that he sowed 12 bushels of peas on 4½ acres of land and fairly well prepared. He harvested and thrashed, by actual weight, 13 bushels and 50 lbs.

Advice to Mankind.

What constitutes stylish clothing? Is it the material? Is it the cut, fit and finish? Is it the carriage of the wearer? Certainly all three points combined go to make up a stylish appearance in man. At the golden lion you can get the newest patterns in clothing goods, have the best attention in fit and finish and it is your own fault if your walk and carriage do not create a favorable impression. Get your fall suit at the golden lion.

A Neat Workman.

The Belleville Ontario of Thursday says:—"Mr. D. D. Dawe and wife were in the city to-day on their way home from the Thousand Islands. Mr. Dawe is formen of the Peterborough REVIEW job department and is now rated one of the neatest printers in Ontario."

Opera House.

To-night Lindley's Co. present the ever welcome Colleen Bawn. To-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, one will expect to see a big crowd of the juveniles to worship the little phenomenon, as Eva, in Uncle Tom's Cabin, a part which she has played hundreds of times and on this occasion Mr. Lindley puts price of admission for children to five cents.

Fell Down a Well.

Yesterday evening Messrs. Wm. Eastland and Wm. Hopkins were working in a well on the farm of Mr. Robert Eastland, the father of the first named, in North Monaghan. Wm. Eastland started to come out of the well, which was about sixteen feet deep, by holding to a rope and bracing his feet against the wall. When he got almost to the top the staple that held the rope came out, and he fell to the bottom. He broke the ankle bone of one leg and dislocated the ankle joint by the fall, and was besides badly shaken up. Dr. King and Dr. Bell were summoned and attended to the injuries.

The "Empire" Launched.

The new government tug, built by the Ontario Canoe Co., was taken to Lakefield yesterday afternoon on a special Grand Trunk train. She rode on the flat car, firmly held up in cradles, and reached Lakefield without a mishap. At the village the car was run down to the wharf. It took some time to raise the vessel on to the ways, but she slid down smoothly. Considerably time was consumed in righting her in the water, but once placed in the lake she road like a duck. The steamer was christened just before being lowered. Miss Helen Burnham, daughter of Mr. John Burnham, performed the ceremony, and with the usual formalities gave the staunch vessel the name of "the Empire." The steamer is powerfully constructed and will be useful on the northern waters.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use nothing but Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk. Delicate people improve rapidly upon its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thos. Prim, Ala., says "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; he gained four pounds in a month." Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

From the Knights of Labor.

To the working men of Peterborough:—We hereby extend an invitation to all the working men to join us in celebrating Labor Day by turning out on the morning of September 3rd, at 7.30 a.m. at the K. of L. Hall, Water-st., where the procession will be formed and march through the principal streets.

Bovines Cause Trouble.

The cows must be kept off the street. There was a case at the Police Court this morning charging M. McFadden with allowing his cow to run at large, and upon Mr. McFadden refusing to swear that the cow was pastured the Magistrate fined him $2. Two other cow cases were dismissed, it appearing that the bovines had escaped from the children who were minding them.

A Trip to Koshkabogamog.

The northeastern end of Stoney Lake is not much frequented by campers or excursionists. The scenery comprises some of the best views on the Stoney Lake waters. There is the Koshkaboganmog (Blue Mountains) and a little further north the mica mines. The locality is well worth a visit. In fact one cannot say that he is conversant with the geography of the lake unless the trip has been made. Here is the opportunity. The steamer Cruiser will extend her regular trip as far as the head of the Lake on Thursday next, Sept. 6, to enable parties who may wish to visit the Koshkabogamog and the mine. It will be necessary for parties to take tent and provisions and convenience to remain all night. The boat will return for excursionists on the following day. Fare for the round trip from Lakefield 60 cents, children half-price. Tickets can be procured at J. J. Turner's, at Menzies' bookstore and at the boat. MURDEROUS BURGLAR

FIGHTS A RUNNING DUEL WITH CONSTABLE STEWART.

The Thief Surprised in Gough Bros' Store—A Hot Pursuit—Twelve Shots Fired—Stethem's Store and Hamilton's Foundry Entered—The Burglar Wounded—Searching for Him.

The sharp reports of revolvers fired in quick succession broke the stillness and startled the residents in the vicinity of George-st. this morning at about twenty minutes to four and were followed by the sound of heavy foot falls on the plank walk. The cause of this disturbance was not surmised by the majority of those who heard it, but great excitement prevailed on the streets this morning when the news spread that a constable had caught a burglar in the very act of ransacking the store of Gough Bros., and that the burglar, being taken completely unawares, had drawn his revolver and opened fire on the officer, who in turn proceeded to use his "pop," and that after each emptying the chambers of his revolver the robber has succeeded in making his escape.

THE CONSTABLE'S STORY.

Constable Stewart related to a REVIEW reporter the circumstances of the encounter. He said that as usual before leaving his beat in the morning he made a tour in rear of the stores to see that everything was undisturbed. This morning when he was passing Mr. Gough's clothing store he noticed the iron shutter on one of the windows standing open and upon seeing a chisel lying on a box which was drawn under the window he at once concluded that there had been but had no idea that the burglar was in the store at the time. The midnight visitor had pried open the iron shutters and then had only to remove a stick that propped up the upper sash to gain admittance. Constable Stewart got up on the box, and upon moving to one side the curtain, which had fallen down, saw a man run in a stooped position along behind the goods. The officer had no time to call for assistance so he jumped into the store, whereupon the burglar at him, which whizzed past his head and struck the window behind him. The undaunted policeman immediately returned the fire and started towards his man. The latter seeing that it would be a hand to hand fight, as the constable was the wrong kind of stuff to be frightened off, kept dodging among the piles of goods, and then running to the front door jumped straight through the large pane of glass on to George-st. The man struck the glass first with his shoulder and the constable does not think he could have cut his head. He fell and rolled to the edge of the board walk. When Stewart came through the hole he also slipped on the broken glass and fell. The man was just getting up and ran like a "sprinter" down George-st., and having no shoes on was enabled to make pretty good time. Stewart, as soon as soon as he picked himself up, fired a shot after the running man, which that individual returned, and they both at each other while on the run. The man ran down the street as far a Simcoe, when he made a circle in the road and then turned down that street. The officer followed him as far as the corner of Aylmer-st. where he lost track of this man owing to the darkness. He listened, but as the robber was in his stocking feet he could hear no footsteps. Stewart then returned to the store, thinking that there might possibly have been more than one man on the job and that the others would get away with the "swag."

TURNED AND FIRED A SHOT

All this did not take many minutes, and by the time the five firemen in the station who had heard the shooting got on the street the pliferer had escaped. The firemen, Constable Adams, and several others prosecuted a search but failed to locate the daring robber.

ANOTHER ROBBERY.

It was found upon examining the yard in rear of Gough's that Stethem's hardware store had been visited by the bold depredator, prior to his entering the clothing establishment, as a package of revolvers, some razors and knives were found lying near the window ready to be carried away. Entrance had been effected into Mr. Stethem's store by forcing open a side door in the back part of the shop. The man showed very poor, judgment in selecting his wares in the hardware store as the revolvers were of an inferior make. The bundle of goods received now lie in the police office, while there are a few articles still missing.

WHAT HE WAS TAKING FROM GOUGH.

In Gough Bros. store the burglar had taken a pair of pants, and, tieing the bottoms with socks, filled them with silk handkerchiefs, jewellery, ties, etc. He also had a web of cloth under his arm, and a second pair of pants out as though going to put more goods in them. Altogether he was preparing to carry off goods to the value of between $300 and $400.

ARMED AND WELL PREPARED.

When he jumped out through the door and fell on the street the burglar dropped two revolvers both of which were loaded, and another "shooter" was found in the road at Simcoe and George-sts., where he made the circle before turning, also loaded.

WOUNDED AND BLEEDING.

When daylight came the tracks of blood were to be found along the street the flying man had travelled. It is supposed that instead of going into Mayor Stevenson's grounds, as Stewart thought, the man made a short cut through the livery stable yard, and came out on Hunter-st., near the Oriental, and went up that street, quite a pool of blood being found near Mr. Walton's residence. He was tracked out the road to the quarry, where he turned east along Smith-st. and continued straight north near the residence of Mr. John Carnegie. Here he took the side road and went west.

ON THE TRACK.

Chief Roszel telegraphed to all neighboring stations to stop the man if he took the train, and Constable Adams went scouring the outlying country while the Chief went to Omemee.

About nine o'clock Constable Stewart, who was in the charge of the police station, received a message from Mr. Wm. Millburn stating that there was a man lying in the corner of the fence near his house, about a mile from town on the Bridgenorth road. The constable immediately procured a rig and drove out, but upon arriving at the spot it was found that the man had gone into the swamp. This was most probably the murderous robber, for Mr. McNavin, who also saw him, gives a description which tallies exactly with Stewart's.

Constable Stewart finding the man had again escaped him returned to town, and a searching party was organized to go out to scour the woods in this vicinity. A large double rig was procured and Constable Stewart, County Constable Cochrane and Special Constables. Dart and Foster left for the place where the man took to the woods.

THE CHISEL WAS STOLEN.

The Chisel or tool which was used to force open the thin shutters of the windows in Gough's store was stolen from the moulding shop of Peter Hamilton's Agricultural machinery works. Mr. R. D. Hamilton was going through the foundry as usual before leaving last night, and upon entering the moulding shop he saw a man jump out a window which he had proped up with a stick upon entering. When making his exit the long-headed individual pulled the stick after him so that the window came down with a crash and cut off any pursuit. He had evidently entered the foundry with the intention of supplying himself with the necessary "kit" with which to do his jobs. The police were notified of this last night.

The excitement on the streets was intense and a crowd was lingering around the police station all morning waiting to see the would be murderer brought. The comments of the crowd on the affair were laughable, every man having a little story of his own. The general question asked was why did not Stewart when he saw the light in the store go at once and call Adams and capture the man for certain. Stewart explains this himself, as he says he thought that the burglar had flown until he looked in the window and then the man had seen him and there was nothing else to be done but go in and take him.

The searching party returned about three o'clock this afternoon and Constable Stewart states that they were unable to find any further traces of the burglar than he found on his first trip to Milburn's.

Chief Roszel returned from Omemee a little later with no information about the man. He is said to be a young man clean shaved and about the height of Constable Stewart. He must be weak from loss of blood and cannot be far away.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

Meeting of the Directors—Special Trains to the Grounds.

The directors of the Central Exhibition met in the Town Council committee room yesterday afternoon and transacted a little business in connection with the arrrangements for holding the exhibition on September 25th, 26th and 27th.

MR. W. Rutherford, president, occupied the chair, and there were present Messrs. Hollins (secretary), Fair, Stevenson, Fitzgerald, McClelland and Tully. Letters which had been received by the secretary were read. There was one from Chas. and H. Simcoe, of Toronto, who claimed to be acrobats of the most suple and daring character, asking for an engagement to give performances during fair days. Another was from Ryan and Holden, of Toronto, who have a cowboy combination which they would like to bring here for the exhibition. The directors took no definite action in reference to these.

A communication was received from Messrs. Wilson & Morrison, managers of the Eastern Ontario Department of the Manufacturers' Life and Accident Assurance Company, offering a prize of $5 as a first prize for the best crock of butter made and exhibited by any farmer's daughter under 17 years of age, the butter to be donated by all exhibitors to the Protestant Home, on condition that a second prize of $3 be awarded by the directors.

Mayor Stevenson signified his willingness to give the $3 required as a second prize, and both of the generous offers were accepted.

In order to have some direct and competent means of travel to and from the grounds and for the convenience of outside exhibitors the following resolution was moved by Mr. McClelland, seconded by Mr. Fair, and carried:—"That Mayor Stevenson be requested to wait on the authorities of the Grand Trunk Railway at Peterborough, and on behalf of the directors request that a suitable platform be erected at the crossing on Lock-st. near the show grounds, that all regular trains should stop at the platform and that a local train service be put on to and from the show grounds during the days of the fair." The secretary was ordered to advertise for tenders for two refreshment booths on the grounds during the exhibition.

The meeting adjourned to meet on Saturday, 13th September.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

A Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for "Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. I. B. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use."

The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr. A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert matter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination."

FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1888.

The Treasure of Franchard.

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

"I think not," replied the doctor. "But do not suppose me so unwary as to adopt him-out of hand. I am, I flatter myself, a finished man of the world; I have had all possibilities in view; my plan is contrived to meet them all. I take the lad as stable boy. If he pilfer, if he grumble, if he desire to change, I shall see I was mistaken; I shall recognise him for no son of mine, and send him tramping."

"You will never do so when the time comes," said his wife; "I know your good heart."

She reached out her hand to him, with a sigh; the doctor smiled as he took it and carried it to his lips; he had gained his point with greater ease than he had dared to hope; for perhaps the twentieth time he had proved the efficacy of his trusty argument, his Excalibur, the hint of a return to Paris. Six months in the capital, for a man of the doctor's antecedents and relations, implied no less a calamity than total ruin. Anastasie had saved the remainder of his fortune by keeping him strictly in the country. The very name of Paris put her in a blue fear; and she would have allowed her husband to keep a menagerie in the back garden, let alone adopting a stable boy, rather than permit the question of return to be discussed.

About 4 of the afternoon the mountebank rendered up his ghost; he had never been conscious since his seizure. Dr. Desprez was present at his last passage, and declared the farce over. Then he took Jean-Marie by the shoulder, and led him out into the inn garden, where there was a convenient bench beside the river. Here he sat him down and made the boy place himself on his left.

"Jean-Marie," he said very gravely, "this world is exceedingly vast, and even France, which is only a small corner of it, is a great place for a little lad like you. Unfortunately it is full of eager, shouldering people moving on, and there are very few bakers' shops for so many eaters. Your master is dead; you are not fit to gain a living by yourself; you do not wish to steal? No. Your situation, then, is undesirable; it is, for the moment, critical. On the other hand, you behold in me a man not old, though elderly, still enjoying the youth of the heart and the intelligence; a man of instruction; easily situated in this world's affairs; keeping a good table; a man, neither as friend nor host, to be despised. I offer you your food and clothes, and to teach you lessons in the evening, which will be infinitely more to the purpose for a lad of your stamp than those of all the priests in Europe. I propose no wages, but if ever you take a thought to leave me the door shall be open, and I will give you 100 francs to start the world upon. In return, I have an old horse and chaise, which you would very speedily learn to clean and keep in order. Do not hurry yourself to answer, and take it or leave it as you judge aright. Only remember this, that I am no sentimentalist or charitable person, but a man who lives rigorously to himself; and that if I make the proposal it is for my own ends—it is because I perceive clearly an advantage to myself. And now reflect."

"I shall be very glad. I do not see what else I can do. I thank you, sir, most kindly, and I will try to be useful," said the boy.

"Thank you," said the doctor, warmly, rising at the same time and wiping his brow, for he had suffered agonies while the thing hung in the wind. A refusal, after the scene at noon, would have placed him in a ridiculous light before Anastasie. "How hot and heavy is the evening, to be sure! I have always had a fancy to be a fish in summer, Jean-Marie, here in the Loing beside Gretz. I should lie under a water lily and listen to the bells, which must sound most delicately down below. That would be a life—do you not think so, too?"

"Yes," said Jean-Marie.

"Thank God, you have imagination!" cried the doctor, embracing the boy with his usual effusive warmth, though it was a proceeding that seemed to disconcert the sufferer almost as much as if he had been an English school boy of the same age. "And now," he added, "I will take you to my wife."

Mme. Desprez sat in the dining room in a cool wrapper. All the blinds were down, and the tile floor had been recently sprinkled with water; her eyes were half shut, but she affected to be reading a novel as they entered. Though she was a bustling woman, she enjoyed repose between whiles and had a remarkable appetite for sleep.

The doctor went through a solemn form of introduction, adding, for the benefit of both parties, "You must try to like each other for my sake."

"He is very pretty," said Anastasie. "Will you kiss me, my pretty little fellow?"

The doctor was furious, and dragged her into the passage. "Are you a fool, Anastasie?" he said. "What is all this I hear about the tact of women? Heavens knows, I have not met with it in my experience. You address my little philosopher as if he were an infant. He must be spoken to with more respect, I tell you; he must not be kissed and Georgy-porgy'd like an ordinary child."

"I only did it to please you, I am sure," replied Anastasie; "but I will try to do better."

The doctor apologized for his warmth. "But I do wish him," he continued, "to feel at home among us. And really your conduct was so idiotic, my cherished one, and so utterly and distantly out of place, that a saint might have been pardoned a little vehemence in disapproval. Do, do try—if it is possible for a woman to understand young people—but of course it is not, and I waste my breath. Hold your tongue as much as possible at least, and observe my conduct narrowly; it will serve you for a model."

Anatasie did as she was bidden, and considered the doctor's behavior. She observed that he embraced the boy three times in the course of the evening, and managed generally to confound and abash the little fellow out of speech and appetite. But she had the true womanly heroism in little affairs. Not only did she refrain from the cheap revenge of exposing the doctor's errors to himself, but she did her best to remove their ill effect on Jean-Marie. When Desprez went out for his last breath of air before retiring for the night, she came over to the boy's side and took his hand.

"You must not be surprised nor frightened by my husband's manners," she said. "He is the kindest of men, but so clever that he is sometimes difficult to understand. You will soon grow used to him, and then you will love him, for that nobody can help. As for me, you may be sure, I shall try to make you happy, and will not bother you at all. I think we should be excellent friends, you and I. I am not clever, but I am very good natured. Will you give me a kiss?"

He held up his face, and she took him in her arms and then began to cry. The woman had spoken in complaisance; but she had warmed to her own words, and tenderness followed. The doctor, entering, found them enlaced: he concluded that his wife was in fault; and he was just beginning, in an awful voice, "Anastasie," when she looked up at him, smiling, with an upraised finger; and he held his peace, wondering, while she led the boy to his attic.

CHAPTER IV.

THE EDUCATION OF A PHILOSOPHER.

The installation of the adopted stable boy was thus happily effected, and the wheels of life continued to run smoothly in the doctor's house. Jean-Marie did his horse and carriage duty in the morning; sometimes helped in the housework; sometimes walked abroad with the doctor, to drink wisdom from the fountain head; and was introduced at night to the sciences and the dead tongues. He retained his singular placidity of mind and manner; he was rarely in fault; but he made only a very partial progress in his studies, and remained much of a stranger in the family.

The doctor was a pattern of regularity. All forenoon he worked on his great book, the "Comparative Pharmacopœia, or Historical Dictionary of all Medicines," which as yet consisted principally of slips of paper and pins. When finished, it was to fill many personable volumes and to combine antiquarian interest with professional utility. But the doctor was studious of literary graces and the picturesque: an anecdote, a touch of manners, a moral qualification, or a sounding epithet was sure to be preferred before a piece of science; a little more, and he would have written the "Comparative Pharmacopœia" in verse! The article "Mummia," for instance, was already complete, though the remainder of the work had not progressed beyond the letter A. It was exceedingly copious and entertaining, written with quaintness and color, exact, erudite, a literary article; but it would hardly have afforded guidance to a practicing physician of today. The feminine good sense of his wife had led her to point this out with uncompromising sincerity; for the dictionary was duly read aloud to her, betwixt sleep and waking, as it proceeded toward an infinitely distant completion; and the doctor was a little sore on the subject of mummies, and sometimes resented an allusion with asperity.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING

EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack whenever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette

WHAT CAN I AFFORD ?

Every day of the week this query is the preliminary part of nearly every purchase made. People will not have what requires a large outlay of money. Everybody seems to be at the mercy of an unaccommodating pocketbook.

What Are We Going to Do About It ?

In the very nature of things we have to do just what you want us to do. We are at your dictation in all matters that are regulated by the proportions of supply and demand. In short we will take for our goods which means our regular and low ~~prices for~~ every line in the shop.

Just What You Can Afford to Pay,

CORSETS!

Every lady purchasing CORSETS and wishing to get the Best Article for the least outlay, should visit TURNBULL'S, as he always keeps in stock the Best Makes from all the leading manufacturers. Some makes are peculiarly adapted to suit a particular style of figure. Below we enumerate a few lines from which you can select in any size from 18 to 30. Larger sizes procured on short notice.

THE YATISI CORSET

is modelled from a design of one of the most celebrated Parisian makers. It gives a lady that easy and grace so much admired in French ladies.

The YATISI CORSET owing to the peculiar diagonal elasticity of the cloth will fit the wearer perfectly the first time worn, no matter what her style of form is, either long or short waisted. To ladies wishing to lace light and not feel uncomfortable at the bust or hips they are indispensible.

The YATISI CORSET does not stretch at the waist; requires no breaking in; fits comfortable the first time worn, as it gives to every motion of the wearer. It will outlast any of the old style rigid Corsets.

The YATISI CORSET can be worn ten days and if not found satisfactory in every respect the money will be refunded at TURNBULL'S.

THE CORALINE CORSET

What is Coraline? Coraline is composed of a bundle of stiff and very elastic fibres like bristles tightly bound with strong thread. Coraline contains no sizing of any kind but its stiffness exists in the natural fibre and is permanent. Look for the Coraline Corset at TURNBULL'S, every pair stamped.

BALL'S CORSETS.

These Corsets need no breaking in—invalids can wear them with ease and comfort, as they do not compress the vital parts of the wearer. They fit a great variety of forms owing to their peculiar construction—they are very durable. They have the endorsement of every physician who has examined them. Every pair warranted—the money refunded if not satisfactory after wearing them three weeks, at TURNBULL'S.

THE PARISENNE.

The PARISENNE is a new make which is becoming very popular. It is something after the style of the old French Corded Corset—is shorter waisted than most of the other makes, which makes it adapted for a stout figure.

Everything desirable in the Corset line always to be found at TURNBULL'S at prices that are never beaten.

WORLD'S WHEAT SUPPLY.

BRADSTREET'S DOES NOT TAKE ALARM AT THE SITUATION.

No Good Reason for a Deficiency of More Than 26,000,000 Bushels — Advancing Coffee—Sugar Strong.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The movement of general merchandise and staple goods continues quite active for the season with less pronounced characteristics observable at Pittsburg, Detroit, Cincinnati, Savannah, and New Orleans, at which points trade remains fairly active and there are favorable indications for the autumn. Eastern shoemakers are receiving many duplicate orders and eastern wholesale houses generally report favorable advices from manufacturers and jobbers at the west. The late storm in Louisiana is found to have done less damage to the crops than supposed, but it and later storms cut into the Kentucky corn and tobacco crops some. Oats at Iowa too have suffered from too much rain. There have been good rains throughout Texas, helping the crops and trade there greatly. California hops are quoted at 12½c and are very firm. The market for foreign and domestic hops has improved since the reported damage to the English crop and prices tend upward. There is a moderate improvement in mercantile collections at Detroit, St. Joseph, and a few other points.

The stock market is advancing on the crop prospects, and there are expectations of a speculative revival in the autumn. Bonds are strong and investments in demands. Money at New York is in good supply, but rates are firmer. Call loans are quoted at 1½ @ 2 per cent. Foreign exchange is steady at last week's advance on the scarcity of commercial bills; demand sterling, 487½ @ 488.

The reported continuance of stormy weather in the United Kingdom and France, the heavy wheat deficiency reported by the Vienna Congress, and alleged damage to spring wheat in Dakota and Minnesota by frosts together with advancing ocean freights, have caused very variable prices. Cash No. 2 red wheat last Friday closed at $1.02½ delivered. It has since been $1.03½, but closed yesterday at $1 00½. Higher freights and scanty room checked the export demand. Bradstreet's finds at this time no good reason for an apparent deficiency in the world's supply of wheat of more than 26,000,000 bushels. Exports of wheat and flour this week, both coasts, aggregate 2,985,711 bushels against 2,336,620 bushels last week; July 1 to date, 19,427,019 bushels against 36,960,849 bushels exported in the like period last year.

The slight improvement in the iron trade, first fell in the west, has extended east, and there is now more activity all over the country. The increase in the volume of business has been slight, but it has encouraged makers of both crude and finished iron to check the downward tendency. Old rails are wanted throughout the west and stocks are light. An upward tendency is the result. The iron ore market at Cleveland is in better shape.

Anthracite coal is exceptionally active and many dealers find it difficult to keep apace with orders. Prices are advanced today at all points from Boston to Chicago as previously announced.

Wool has continued generally active, less so at Philadelphia than elsewhere, owing to higher prices and depleted stocks of better qualities, and prices have been sustained all along the line. Some manufacturers have been encouraged to stock up to some extent in anticipation of contracts. Considerable stocks are held at seaboards waiting an advance. The advices received by jobbers from all parts of the country are gratifying, and a large autumn trade appears to be assured. Ginghams and prints are in very good demand. Woollen manufacturers report increasing orders for goods and enough business in sight to last for some weeks. Numerous woollen mills recently idle are starting up.

Speculative activity in coffee, with reduced stocks and increased consumptive demand, advanced prices during the week on the continent. Here the demand was less active and the trend of prices was downward until Thursday, when there was an advance of ¼ to ⅜c on increased request.

The expected sharp revival in the demand for refined sugars has come, absorbing supplies rapidly—well up to production in some instances. This has sent prices up ⅛c here, and ⅜c at San Francisco. Raws have not been correspondingly affected. Refiners have contented themselves with drawing freely on reserve stocks and buying sparingly in the open market.

EDITOR BRADSTREET'S.

Business Disasters.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The business failures occurring throughout the country the last week number for the United States 202 and for Canada 24, or a total of 226 as compared with the total of 214 last week and 219 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 199, made up of 175 in the United States and 24 in Canada. In August the failures reported in the United States numbered 972 against 777 last year.

The Guelph Junction Railway.

GUELPH, Aug. 31.—The contractors are again at work on the Guelph Junction Railway, the right of way over the Grand Trunk Railway having been at last secured and the road will soon be finished to the terminus at Goldie's Mill. It is said that the Canadian Pacific Railway are to commence running a train on Monday to connect with all trains on the main line at Campbellville.

Nova Scotia's New Loan Taken at 105½.

HALIFAX, Aug. 31.—The Provincial Secretary to-day opened tenders for a loan to the province of $123,000. The sum offered was large and the whole issue was taken at an average of about 105½, plus accrued interest.

Scott Act in Uxbridge.

UXBRIDGE, Aug. 31.—Hotelkeeper Simon Allcock of this town was found guilty to-day of two infractions of the Scott Act, and fines of $50 and $100 were imposed by Magistrate Horn.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION

SENATOR CULLOM'S RESOLUTION GOES OVER UNTIL TO-DAY.

An Impression at the Dominion Capital That Canada will Not Retaliate Against the Retaliators.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The resolution offered yesterday by Senator Cullom calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to whether the transmission, without payment of duty, of goods, wares and merchandise to and from Canada has been permitted since July, 1885, when Article XXIX of the treaty of Washington and section 3 of the Act of March 1, 1873, are said to have ceased to be in force, and if so, to what extent and by what authority of law, was taken up for consideration in the Senate to-day.
